New Orientation Plan Begins Monday

By TERRI GOTHARD
News Editor

Approximately 230 incoming freshmen will arrive on campus next Monday and Tuesday, July 19-20, for the first of a four session Summer Orientation Program. Dates for the remaining sessions are July 26-27, August 2-3, and August 9-10.

The program, which is under the direction of John E. Shay, Jr., dean of student affairs, is being initiated this summer with Rose Marie Frecka, Ironton, Ohio senior, as student coordinator.

Approximately 1000 students are being invited to participate this summer. The remainder of the class will report to campus on Sept. 7th. Invitation into the summer sessions is based on final admittance by the University in accordance with the final transcript received by the Office of Admissions. The first approximately 1000 students finally admitted are being invited.

A special program is also planned for the parents, to acquaint them with student affairs at Marshall. The program for the conference will feature counseling in academic affairs as well as a look into the social aspect of life here on campus. There will be student panel discussions for parents and students.

Members of the faculty from each academic division of the University and many upperclassmen will be present to help with the registration of the students. The conference is also planned to familiarize them with all phases of life on campus.

Miss Frecka said the change in the program was being made primarily because of the large number of freshmen expected in the fall. Another reason is that this "type of program is used by the majority of larger schools. It has proven quite valuable because it provides more time for individual attention and counseling."

Guides will be given more responsibility than they have been given in the past because the success of the program will depend on the effectiveness and efficiency of the guide. Sunday evening prior to the beginning of the session, will be for training the guides. The students will be required to attend all functions with the guide groups.

Miss Frecka went on to say that "quite a few parents are coming which will be valuable for them as well as the students. The program is designed to acquaint them with all phases of Marshall so that they may fully understand the forces effecting the students' program here."

The hope of the administration is that more underclassmen will become interested in the program in the future. In most schools the entire program is handled by student leaders with only administrative advisers. The majority of this years program was planned and arranged by students under the direction of Dean Shay.

Miss Frecka went on to say that "the activities usually centered around freshman week in the fall are entirely under supervision of student government. Our program is concerned only with counseling and registration." Dean Shay

Full, Varied Program Planned, According To Mr. Alexander

By DANNY WATTS
News Editor

A full and varied program has been planned for our visiting French students which will begin with their arrival Monday. Robert Alexander, director of placement, is coordinator of the group's stay at Marshall.

A private, non-profit making organization, The Experiment in International Living, is sponsoring the students' visit to America. They will be at Marshall from July 19 through August 1 and will live with students while on campus.

According to Mr. Alexander, "Classes will be open to them for audit and they will be encouraged to participate in the full range of campus life while they are here. All university students are urged to cooperate fully to make their visit both enjoyable and enriching."

A letter received by Mr. Alexander from the group leader, Guy Ducreux, said the students are "looking forward to their visit and are very excited about spending two weeks at the university."

The program planned by Mr. Alexander will include a visit to the Rainbow Art Glass Company on July 21; a lecture by Dr.

Charles Moffat, professor of history, on American History, on July 22; a meeting with Governor Hulett Smith and a tour of the capital and the governor's mansion on July 23; lectures by Dr. Norman Simpkins and Dr. James Richardson, professors of sociology, on contemporary American youth, on July 26; a lecture by Dr. Paul Stewart, professor of political science, on American politics, on July 27.

The group will also be the luncheon guests of the Huntington Kiwanis Club on the 27th. The students will tour the Union Carbide Technical Center on either July 28 or 29 and a farewell banquet is planned on July 30. Mr. Alexander said he would like to take the students to Beckley for a tour of a West Virginia coal mine and to see a performance of the state's historical play "Honey in the Rock." However, he has not yet been able to find a financial sponsor for the tour.

The leader of the student group is Guy Ducreux who is a 22 year old electronics student. He speaks German and English in addition to his native French and has traveled to England five times and to Germany three times.

Marianne Guerin is 19 years old and has studied philosophy and classical languages. She has traveled to Spain, England, Switzerland, and Italy. She is interested in sports, literature, languages, and ways of life in foreign countries.

Michel Caron is a 21 year old student in business administration. He has twice worked in

Enrollment Growth Causes Problems

Marshall University is one of the fastest growing colleges the state today.

Marshall University can not keep up with its increasing enrollment.

Marshall University needs the help of every student, alumni, and friend.

This fall three women will sleep in a room in West Hall, the University's newest women's dormitory.

This fall approximately 60 freshmen men will be housed in a downtown hotel.

This fall another record enrollment is assured.

This fall the number of students per teacher will increase.

This fall Marshall University needs your help more than ever.

In order to keep the progress of the University in high gear, Marshall needs more funds for dormitories, allotments for more teachers and more money for the present teachers.

West Hall, only occupied for a year, will get an extra woman in every room for the fall. The dormitory was built with the intention of housing two women to a room. Kenny Cohen, the housing director, says the rooms are large enough to house the three, but conditions will be crowded. There is a present backlog of students applying for rooms. Plans are underway for new dormitories. Act now so they will be built!

Marshall has been able to acquire competent and able teachers in the past and has been able to hold them. But now increasing pay scales in other schools have drawn some of them away. Act now to provide more money for teachers. Keep Marshall's quality at its peak.

Obviously the answer is to make yourself heard to those people who represent you in the state and who allocate funds to the school. Let people know that you are concerned about Marshall and want something done about the problems. But, this is a comparatively long range solution. The state can not provide more funds for the University immediately. But you can help now!

Help the housing director find more livable off-campus housing. Check your neighborhood for any available rooms for students. Tell your friends of the need for good housing for students. If you have an empty room, make it available for a student.

The Greek system at Marshall can help too. Fraternities and sororities can increase their per room quota, and if they have trouble filling the house with fraternity or sorority members, open the rooms to other students.

The housing problem is here today. Immediate help is needed—your help. Act now to provide students with a desirable place to stay until new facilities are built.

Housing Accord Near For MU Hotel Facilities

By KATHY HATFIELD
Staff Reporter

Negotiations are underway for signing the contract with the Prichard Hotel, concerning the housing of 55 men for the fall term, according to John Shay, Dean of Men.

Dean Shay stated that although all rules have not been drawn up, the floor that will be leased will be run by rules similar to those governing the men's dorms on campus. James Adkins has been hired as resident director and counselor for the dorm floor.

The men staying downtown will be held responsible for transportation to and from

GRE SCORES

Any person who was a senior during the 1964-65 school year and took the Graduate Record Examination, A.R.E.A. TESTS, which were given on campus on Saturday, April 10, 1965, can get a report of his scores now at the Psychological Clinic, Main 307, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. until noon.

Identification (ID card or other) will be required.

PARTHENON FIRST

This is the first time in the more than 30 year history of The Parthenon that students will have had an edition of the campus newspaper on the first day of a school term.

classes as well as their meals.

In addition to the Prichard Hotel, Ken Cohen, Director of housing said that the University is trying to get rooms for students in private homes and apartments that have not been previously open to students.

Dean Shay said that the University is in the process of purchasing homes on Fifth Avenue to be used this fall as housing for men. These homes were previously intended to house women, but since women's housing has been eased by tripling up the women's dorms Dean Shay said they will be used for men's housing. He stated that because the rooms are so small in the men's dorms that they are unable to place more than two men in a room. There are still approximately 94 men on the waiting list for housing.

There will be 821 women in the three women's dormitories according to Mrs. Lillian H. Buskirk, Dean of Women. Some of the applicants have been accommodated by placing three women to a room in West Hall. However, there are still approximately 40 freshmen and 27 upperclassmen on the waiting list for the three dorms.

Ken Cohen said that they have hopes of building a dorm to accommodate 700 women in the fall of 1967.

Progress At MU

THE OLDEST BUILDING ON campus has the newest roof. For those of you who have patiently been dodging falling slate during this summer term while the roofers re-tiled the Old Main roof, here's the proof of the pudding. The roof construction, or perhaps re-construction job is more apt, is complete.

70 Enrolled In CAUSE II

Advisers Receive Training

Approximately 70 persons from various states are currently enrolled in classes being held in the basement of the cafeteria in conjunction with Project CAUSE II.

This program will be held for an eight-week period made possible by a $95,803 grant allotted by the U. S. Department of Labor.

These classes under the Project CAUSE II are designed "to train counselor aides and youth advisers to meet an urgent demand for qualified staff to help disadvantaged young persons," said President Stewart H. Smith.

Second Year

This is part of the second year program of the nationwide "Counselor Advisor University Summer Education" plan of the Labor Department's Manpower Administration Bureau of Employment Security.

Dean John R. Warren, dean of the Graduate School, is the director of the program.

The trainees are persons holding college degrees.

Three Phases

CAUSE II is one of three phases of this complete program. CAUSE I is for MA degree counselors and CAUSE III is for community workers. There are 35 similar programs being held on university campuses throughout the United States.

Dean Warren said the program will have 36 instructors to conduct these classes. Some are instructors here, while others are specialists in sociology, psychology, and field workers.

The program includes three Marshall graduate courses for which the participants will receive credit and a fourth course for which no University credit will be given Dean Warren said.

Courses Include

The courses include training in counseling techniques, psychology of personnel, social stratification and industrial sociology.

According to Dean Warren, a major part of the training will include 25 or more field trips. In addition to field trips to areas of high unemployment, the trainees will also visit outdoor plays such as "Honey in the Rock" and "From These Hills" in order to learn of the area's historical development.

Two other members of Project CAUSE II are Maynard Boyd, a graduate student working on his master's degree in psychology and Aubrey King, a former Marshall student. They are serving as administrative assistants for the program.

Jerry Moles, who serves as training coordinator of CAUSE II, said "approximately 4,500 get MA degrees in counseling yearly and 30 thousand are needed."

Grant Covers Cost

The $95,803 grant will be used to cover instructors' salaries, trainees' room and board on campus, equipment and overhead costs to Marshall. The federal money will go to Marshall Foundation Inc., a nonprofit corporation which handles gifts and grants for Marshall.

Those who complete the program will be placed as counselors in Youth Opportunity Centers like the one recently opened in Huntington, or in other state employment security agencies. Also certificates will be presented.

Students Getting Younger?

ALTHOUGH IT MAY look as if our summer students are getting younger and younger, this is not the case. The two youngsters above volunteered to help out in a radio class this past semester, Speech 432-532, and were cast in a radio play. 18th Year Is Completed In Americanization Program

By SUE LAWSON
Staff Reporter

Marshall University's Americanization Program completed its 18th year with Cabell County leading the enrollment with a total of 177 students for the 18 year period, according to Dr. Charles P. Harper, professor of political science and director of the program.

The only one of its kind in West Virginia the program has a total enrollment of 1,442.

The immigrants came from 86 different countries and the United States, with the largest numbers from Germany, Italy, and England. The largest number of recent immigrants are "war-brides" and quota immigrants.

Housekeeping and coal mining are the predominate occupations. Other occupations include physicians, priests, farmers, college personnel and students. Their education ranges from no formal training for 56 to one to six years of college for 166. Six of these registering the past year had college or university training. Ten had completed high school and nine with elementary training.

DR. HARPER

... Program Director

The program was organized in 1947 by Dr. J. Frank Bartlett, dean of College of Arts and Science and Dr. Charles P. Harper, in cooperation with the Immigration and Naturalization Service in the Department of Justice. The initial quota set at 50 students was raised to 150 in 1949.

West Virginia immigrants interested in the program are referred to Dr. Harper, director of the program by the Pittsburgh regional office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service or may apply direct.

The training consists of two correspondence or "Home-Study" courses, one in English and government for those who cannot read or write English or have difficulty with the English language.

The courses emphasize the American philosophy of government and teach the immigrants good citizenship in addition to helping them prepare for their naturalization examination. The textbooks are prepared and furnished by the Immigration and Naturalization Service and follow the best education methods and procedures. The average student should finish the first course in six months or a year and both within a year and a half.

Upon completion of the course, a congratulatory letter and certificate showing the grade made, a booklet giving the procedures in securing the final citizenship papers and the American's Creed are sent to the student. A congratulatory letter is also sent by Dr. Stewart H. Smith, president of Marshall University.

The citizenship examination is given by an examiner from the Pittsburgh field office and the citizenship oath is administered by the judge of the Federal District Court or a State Circuit Court.

Dr. Harper has been selected by the past governors to represent West Virginia and the President of Marshall University, at the National Conference on Citizenship in New York and Washington in the last years.

He has been selected by the Judge Carl B. Hyatt, executive director, to be a leader in the Twentieth National Conference to be held in Washington, Sept. 15-18.

Marshall Packs Cast

Seven Given Parts In Play

By HARRY FISHER
Sports Editor

Marshall University is well represented in "Honey in the Rock," West Virginia's own Civil War story, at Grandview State Park near Beckley.

James (Jim Bob) Kessinger, Beckley senior, who will mark his fourth year in "Honey," is the instrumental director of the drama.

While at Marshall Kessinger wrote and directed his own weekly radio show, "The Story of American Folk Music," appeared in concert with the "Cumberland Singers," and performed in clubs in Beckley, Huntington, and Athens, Ohio.

Phrases from "The Ballad of David Morgan," written for "Honey" by Kessinger will again be used to introduce certain scenes.

Chorus Member

Cyrena Roberta Burnside, Dunbar sophomore, is a new member of the chorus of "Honey." This past year Miss Burnside had a role in "Pajama Game" at Marshall.

Jeffry Lynn Cowden, who received his A.B. degree this spring, is cast as a dancer and actor. While at Marshall Cowden had roles in "Dear Delinquent," "The Firebrand," "South Pacific," "Brigadoon," and "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." He also had dancing parts in "Annie Get Your Gun," and "Pajama Game."

Cowden was a member of the Alpha Psi Omega, National Theater Honorary, and Phi Mu Alpha, National Music Honorary, fraternities.

Contest Winner

Karen Bowen, Huntington junior, is cast as a singer and actress. Miss Bowen was first place winner in the 1963 state forensic contest, oral division, and has sung at clubs in Huntington and over WSAZ-TV. She appeared in "Mrs. McThing," and "Pajama Game" at Marshall, and "Of Thee I Sing," with the Community Theater.

Two former students at Marshall have important parts in "Honey."

Susan Ann Hardwood of Huntington is cast as Marguerite, the female lead. Miss Hardwood attended Marshall in 1963 and while here appeared in "Pygmalion," "Grass Harp," "Missalliance," and "Brigadoon."

Former Student

Jerry Rose of Beckley is another former Marshall student having an important part in the production of "Honey." Rose, starting his fifth season in "Honey," is the choreographer for the Civil War drama.

Susan Lazenby, Beckley junior, is the box office clerk for the outdoor drama this year. Miss Lazenby, who is a transfer student from Beckley College, is a home economics major.

200,000 Shows

"Honey in the Rock" has played to over 200,000 people in its four years of existence. Cliffside Amphitheater is located at Grandview State Park, 14 miles from Beckley.

This year the drama will play nightly, except Mondays, through September 5.

University Purchases Larger Residence For President Smith

The former home of the late president of the First Huntington National Bank, Charles M. Gohen, at 1515 Fifth Avenue will soon become the new home of Marshall's President, Stewart H. Smith. The property was purchased by the West Virginia Board of Education for $40,000.

Joseph S. Soto, vice president of business and finance, said that the President and his family should be in their new home by Thanksgiving.

The kitchen must be remodeled and some general interior decorating will be done before they move in.

The house on 1636 Fifth Avenue, which is now occupied by the President's family, is scheduled to become the new home management house and nursery school.

The lot on the corner of Fifth and Elm Street where the present home management house and nursery school is located is the future sight of Marshall's new student center. It will be at least two years before the house will be torn down. Mr. Soto said that the student center is not expected to be completed until late 1968 or early '69. No architect has been selected as yet for the new student center.

According to Mr. Soto, the new building will be financed by funds from the sale of bonds to be paid off from the income of the center.

HS Miss Studies Chemistry At MU

Miss Linda Powers, a junior at Woodrow Wilson High School in Beckley, is at Marshall this summer taking freshman chemistry.

Recommended by Professor Francis W. Whelpley, she will be research on certain organic dyes. She is going to read all advanced and historical material, in the hope of preparing a science fair project.

She is being assisted by various members of the Chemistry Department in preparing her project.

Meeting Scheduled At Jackson's Mill

A meeting of the West Virginia School Administration Association will be held July 18-21, at Jackson's Mill.

Those from Marshall who will attend are: Dr. Robert B. Haves, dean of Teachers College; Dr. Woodrow Morris, chairman of the education department; Dr. Charles S. Runyon, professor of education; Drs. Neil L. Gibbins and James L. Jordan, associate professors of education; and Dr. Charles C. Ritchie, Marshall University—state department of education co-ordinator.

The theme of the meeting will be: "The changing role of the school administrator."

SPEAKER SET

Rev. Bill Villards will be the speaker at the 11 a.m. worship service at the Campus Christian Center Sunday. The worship service will be preceded by a class at 10 a.m.

Mastodon americanus

These massive jaw bones, complete with teeth and fragments of other bones, were washed out of a stream bank in Wayne County during a heavy flood in 1938. They were found by a farmer, Owen Marcum, who later exhibited them about the country. The major portion of the skeleton was never found, presumably having been eroded away previously. The American Mastodon Gee medal, 1/4 natural size, on wall, was a large member of the elephant group which inhabited this continent during the Ice Age, ranging from Alaska and Hudson Bay to Florida and Mexico. This great mammal, standing 10 feet high at the shoulders, with tusks up to 9 feet long, became extinct about 20,000 years ago.

Frosh Cagers To Compare To 1964 Squad

4 All-Staters Have Already Signed Marshall Grants-In-Aid

By HARRY FISHER
Sports Editor

Four all-staters from West Virginia and one honorable mention from Kentucky seem to pretty well describe next years freshman basketball squad.

Those that have signed grants-in-aid are John Mallett, Wheeling; Bill Craig, Williamson; Danny D'Antoni, Mullens; Dallas Blankenship, Pineville; and Jess McCarty, Morgan County, Kentucky.

Freshman Coach Jody Sword is well satisfied with the incoming freshman. Sword took over the freshman coaching position from Sonny Allen, who resigned to take the head basketball coaching job at Old Dominion College at Norfolk, Va.

John Mallett, a 6'7", 230 pounder from Wheeling is a class AAA all-stater. In leading his team to a 16-7 record last season, Mallett averaged 22 points a game and was the top rebounder on the team. Sonny Allen, after recruiting Mallett expressed much sorrow about not being able to have John on his team.

Jess McCarty, another 6'7" boy from Kentucky is a strong rebounder and averaged over 14 points a game.

Bill Craig, 6'2" forward on Williamson's class AAA runner-up to Beckley, led his team to 33 straight wins before bowing out in the final game. Craig, who is a class AAA all-stater averaged 20 points a game and is a great all-round player.

From Pineville comes another all-stater, Dallas Blankenship. Blankenship averaged 30 points a game and is a dead shot with his long jumpers from 20-30 feet out.

Danny D'Antoni at 5'11" is the smallest player signed. The Mullens playmaker was named captain of the class AA all-state team and was second in the balloting for the All West Virginia team. D'Antoni averaged almost 26 points a game for the Rebels.

Blankenship and D'Antoni are compared to last years freshman guards Joe Dawson and high scoring Orville Stepp. Dawson and Stepp averaged 19 and 29 points a game respectively.

Head basketball Coach Ellis Johnson has just returned from a trip to Michigan where he has been looking for a "strong 6'5" or 6'6" forward." Johnson said

"If I can get one we'll be as strong as last year."

Coach Sword said of the five signed, "We probably have four of the best boys in West Virginia and one of the best in Kentucky." Coach Johnson echoed him saying that Mallett was the best big man graduating last year.

It is also interesting to note that the scoring average of the five boys totals 112 points a game. This compares favorable with the 108 points a game of last year's undefeated freshman team.

Literary Tour To Europe Plans Due By October

Complete details about a 1966 literary tour of Great Britain will be released by October in a brochure by Dr. Jack R. Brown, professor of English and director of the tour.

Present plans for the trip include a tour of Ireland, Wales, England, and Scotland with visits to Amsterdam, Brussels, and Paris. The tour will begin with a jet flight to Ireland and end with a trip home on an ocean liner.

The tour will be limited to 30 persons. According to Dr. Brown, "Many people have already expressed interest in the trip."

Dr. Brown emphasized that the trip can be taken for six hours of resident credit, but that it is not necessary to enroll for credit.

Team Sports Dropped 2nd Summer Semester

The intramural schedule for the second summer term will feature handball, golf, tennis, and bowling.

Dr. Robert Dollgener, assistant professor of education, and director of the intramural program at Marshall, said that due to the lack of interest in team sports basketball and softball will be dropped from the schedule for the second term.

Bowling will be rotated between several Huntington lanes, and after three games to determine a handicap, participants will be matched against each other in round robin play. Each bowler will have approximately 10 matches.

The golf champion will be determined strictly by medal play. Handball and tennis will be single elimination affairs. Handball matches will take place in Gullickson Hall and tennis on the courts behind Gullickson Hall.

The main gymnasium, handball courts and weight room will remain open from 3-5 p.m. Equipment such as tennis rackets, basketballs, footballs, etc. may be checked out in Room 104 of Gullickson Hall by surrendering your Marshall identification card. The card will be returned when the equipment is checked

SUMMIT TO CLOSE

The Summit will be closed second summer term. Rev. William Villards said that the coffee house would reopen this fall.

The swimming pool in Gullickson Hall will be open 2-4 p.m. Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday for men and women students. It will be open 4-5 p.m. Monday and Thursday for the faculty, staff and their families. Tuesday 7-9 p.m. the pool will remain open for students, the faculty, staff and their children.

In commenting on the lack of participation in the first term intramural program, Dr. Dollgener pointed out that in a survey by the University of Illinois, figures show that out of 215 colleges and universities examined, just 25 per cent had summer intramural programs. Realizing the academic load that most summer students carry, he hopes that more will check on the opportunities offered and that there will be better participation the second term.

Sign-up lists will be placed on the bulletin board next to the front door in the Student Union.

West Hall Ready For French Visit

By MARGERY COHEN
Staff Reporter

The girls of West Hall will roll out the red carpet next week for the girls from France when Marshall University participates in the Experiment on International Living Program.

The four visitors have acquired a vast education already and seem eager to add more to their information about other countries. One girl said in her application that she wants "to understand American people and their way of life." Now she will have her chance, for the dormitory residents have some real treats in store.

Mrs. Vanna Hensley, house-mother, said that each girl will have a guide assigned to her. During the time when the visitors are not kept busy by formal occasions, each guide will have her opportunity to show her favorite aspects of Marshall and give her views on American life. Mrs. Hensley also said that she plans to take the girls out to dinner one night in town, and to give all the residents a chance to meet their guests through a reception in the dormitory lounge.

The four guides will be Linda Lacy, Ravenswood junior; Linda Lycan, Ft. Gay sophomore; Barbara Boggs, Rupert sophomore; and Judy Judd, Ashland, Ky., sophomore.

Linda Lacy said, "I am eager for the planned trip to see 'Honey in the Rock' and for the opportunity to show our guests our state."

New Positions Also Get Nod

The resignations of three faculty members were accepted. They were Dr. John B. Minick, chairman of the Department of Business and Economics, who will enter government service; Richard C. Tees, associate professor of psychology, because of prior commitment, and Jack D. Smith, instructor in art, who will teach at Kent State.

MIX TOMORROW

Don Morris, manager of the Union, announced that there would be a mix in the Union tomorrow night from 7:30 p.m. to Midnight.

Law Student Made Delegate's Attache

By CHRISTINE ENCZI
Staff Reporter

Not very many students can boast of serving as attache to a political delegate; however, Larry Bruce, Huntington junior, held just that position last semester.

Larry, who is a pre-law student, was asked by Robert Nelson, a delegate from Cabell County to serve as his attache.

Each delegate is entitled to one attache. Attaches are, in turn, reappointed to other jobs such as secretaries, mail clerks, etc.—this enables the state to put them on its payroll.

Larry's state job was to act as a page master, thus requiring him to be in charge of the other pages. Other duties of his included helping Mr. Nelson with state duties and functions.

While the house was in session, Larry sat on the main floor and watched the pages to see that they carried out their specific duties such as answering calls and running errands.

STUDIES AT NYU

Professor Eric Thorn, associate professor of English, has completed all the requirements for his Ph.D. prior to the writing of his dissertation. Professor Thorn is doing his studies in comparative literature at New York University.

2 NEW BIKES

West Hall has recently acquired two new bicycles for dormitory use. The girls plan to purchase two more in the fall to accommodate the increasing number of residents.

He thinks that West Virginia's exhibit is third as far as states go.

Larry as a future politician thought the West Virginia Pavilion showed a good public image and that it will have a definite future gain for West Virginia.

Larry is making up the hours that he lost last semester by taking summer classes this summer so that he can graduate on time.

Upon graduating from Marshall he plans to enter law school at West Virginia University. After law school, he wants to go into active politics both on a state and nation wide scale.
