Marshall Team To Appear On GE's College Bowl

Marshall University's brainpower will be displayed on a national TV show June 7 when a four-man team will compete on the GE "College Bowl."

Dr. Harold E. Walker, vice president of academic affairs, announced that an invitation has just been received for Marshall to send a team to New York on that weekend, with General Electric Co. paying expenses.

A coach will be named soon, Dr. Walker said, and students are urged to nominate scholars who might do well on the team. These nominations can be made in Dr. Walker's office. Department chairmen also will be asked to nominate top students.

An elimination contest will then be held, followed by intense coaching sessions for the four finalists.

The winning team earns $1,500 for its college scholarship fund, while the losing team's college will receive $500.

Currently the University of Massachusetts is riding the crest of five or six straight victories, having defeated the State University of Iowa last Sunday.

Senators Defeat Stewart's Motion

Proposal Would Have Allowed Junior In Vice President's Post

By GARY KEARNS
News Editor

The Student Senate overwhelmingly defeated a motion last Wednesday night that would have, if passed, enabled a sophomore to run for the vice presidency of the student body.

And maybe even the word "overwhelmingly" is an understatement, for only one person in the entire senate spoke for this motion, and that person was its sponsor, Danie Stewart, Barboursville sophomore senator and sophomore class president.

A lively debate followed the reading of this motion. This was kicked off by a report delivered by Francis Fabi, Monaca, Pa., junior senator. He presented a study of this motion by the Parliamentary Affairs Committee which was unfavorable to the motion.

It stressed the point that the committee did not believe that a junior could have the experience or the maturity to officiate as vice president of the student body, and, mainly, in serving as the speaker of the senate.

And most of the other senators—except Stewart—agreed and made their views public upon the floor of the campus legislative body.

It was thought, silently in most cases, that Stewart, being a sophomore, planned to take full advantage of this motion—if it passed, but he refuted this theory before the other senators.

Also, during the debate, a conflict of public opinion polls came to light. Stewart said that he had polled 100 students, of all classes, and that 64 of these voiced their approval of the amendment.

He added that 78 of these students were upperclassmen.

Another senator, Dean Thompson, Huntington junior, speaking against the motion, claimed that he also had taken a poll, but that he wasn't so sure that he had kept his own opinions quiet to the persons whom he polled, as Stewart said that he had done.

Thompson went on to say that his poll "wasn't nearly so elaborate" as Stewart's, since he had asked only about 25 students. And the views in these two polls didn't coincide, majority-wise, either.

A bit of intrigue was also injected into last Wednesday's senate session. Sam Samworth, Huntington freshman senator, rose and said that he had received several anonymous telephone calls at his home, all asking him how he stood on this particular motion.

In a statement which seemed to be aimed at Stewart, he said, "If this is the type of polls that were being taken, it doesn't say much for the poll takers."

Also at last week's session, Student Body President Kenn Gainer, Charleston senior, announced to the senate that he had received a letter from Peter Kanae, a senior foreign exchange student from Kenya, East Africa.

This letter, termed "very touching" by President Gainer, urged that the Men's Dormitory at the corner of 18th Street and Fifth Avenue be named after the late President John F. Kennedy. Kanae lives in this dormitory.

Gainer told the senate that he intends to write a letter to President Stewart H. Smith, making Kanae's letter known to the university head.

In his letter, Kanae wrote: "The death of our late President Kennedy left us down-spirited. Marshall University, indeed, felt the agony for the loss. I understand, on two occasions, the late President Kennedy visited Huntington, and that he extended his unprecedented presidential visit onto our campus. And when Marshall achieved university status, he was the first to express his congratulations. . . . 'What, then, can we do to instill his image?'"

Also at last week's meeting, the two vacant senior senate seats were filled.

The senate ratified Fred Gumm of Montclair, N. J., and David Todd of Huntington for alternate senior senator.

According to Ted Wiley, Lewisburg senior senator and senior class president, these two names were selected out of a group of six eligibles who were interviewed for the jobs.

Expedition Planned For 'Spelunkers'

Six students will go underground this weekend when they explore caves near Halls Gap, Kentucky.

Making the trip are: Ron Weed, Huntington junior; Roger Craig, Huntington sophomore; Gwen McComas, Spring Hill, senior; Richard Smith, Barboursville junior; Nancy Wright, So. Charleston senior, and Mrs. Corris, wife of George Corrie, associate professor of economics, and group leader.

This spring a trip is being planned for Paint Rock, Alabama, to Fern Cave whose entrance is a drop of 439 feet.

Sorority Rush Is Underway

Four sororities participating in rush this semester will have open house from 7:30 to 9 p.m. tomorrow. The participating sororities are Delta Zeta, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Sigma Kappa, and Alpha Sigma Alpha.

No invitations will be issued to the open houses and rushees may visit any or all of the houses.

Silence will begin at 9:30 p.m. tomorrow and continue until noon Saturday. Silence applies to both rushees and sorority members and includes members of non-rushing sororities.

Rushees will sign bids in the Dean of Women's office between 8 a.m. and noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Friday. Bids will be delivered by the sororities at noon Saturday.

At a meeting last Wednesday of the delegates to Pan-Hellenic Council, members selected coordinators from the group to work with Intra-Fraternity representatives on the Mother's Day Sing and Greek Week.

Charlotte Parsons of Alpha Chi Omega will work on Greek Week and Ann Eskeridge of Delta Zeta will work on the Mother's Day Sing.

Men's Academic Level Shows Substantial Drop

While the academic averages of coeds are climbing, the men's average showed a drop from 2.366 last spring to 2.253 at the end of the fall semester, 1963-64.

Fraternity averages decreased in all but one instance. Sigma Alpha Epsilon led all fraternities with a 2.508 average compared with its 2.476 average last spring—the only fraternity to register an increase. Sigma Phi Epsilon, which had led last spring with 2.585, slipped to second in the academic derby with an average of 2.353.

The women's academic averages increased from 2.507 in the first semester of 1962-63 to 2.549 last semester. The sorority average went up from 2.637 to 2.691.

The breakdown, as provided by the dean of men's office, shows:

	ACADEMIC AVERAGES
	First Semester 1963-64	Second Semester 1962-63
ALL MEN'S AVERAGE (Grades available for 1,658 male students)	2.253	2.366
ALL FRATERNITY AVERAGE (479 fraternity men)	2.296	2.382
FRATERNITIES
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	2.508	2.476
Sigma Phi Epsilon	2.353	2.585
Lambda Chi Alpha	2.325	2.458
Kappa Alpha Order	2.268	2.282
Pi Kappa Alpha	2.196	2.284
Alpha Sigma Phi	2.135	2.463
Kappa Alpha Psi	2.134	2.225
Beta Tau	2.122	2.326
Tau Kappa Epsilon	2.118	2.287

HOLDING NEW BROCHURES which will be used in fund-raising projects for the university are John Sayre, director of development and alumni affairs and secretary of the Marshall Foundation Inc., (left) and Lake Polan Jr., president of the foundation. 'Invest Your Summer' Topic Replaces Thursday Services

Rev. Lander Beal, campus pastor, has announced that the former Thursday night worship service is going to be replaced with a group-type program called "Invest Your Summer."

This program will begin tomorrow at 7 p. m. in the Campus Christian Center.

Rev. Beal will give a background of the program and will later show slides from the Student Christian Federation.

Small groups will later discuss important topics.

The main topic to be discussed is the Working Seminar. This seminar provides an opportunity for a group to come together to study and learn, while holding summer jobs, about problems of industry, agriculture, or government. The group shares in discussions with well-trained, experienced leaders. The members of the group get their own job and live together co-operatively.

Another topic is the work camp. This involves physical labor on a project of sound signifi-icance.

The Community Service will be another topic. In this, the groups work as a team to meet a social need manifested by a community.

Institutional Service in which a group offers services in institutions, such as mental hospitals or reformatories will also be discussed.

Caravan is another topic to be discussed. In this, the volunteers come together in training centers at the beginning of the summer for a week of preparation and then go in teams of four or six to churches to help with services.

The final topic to be discussed will be Study Seminars. This seminar brings together young men and women to exchange views in an atmosphere of informality and freedom.

Students Finish 6-Week Course

The students of the abnormal psychology class of Dr. John A. Jensen, associate professor of Psychology have concluded a six-week practical application study working with patients at the Huntington State Mental Hospital.

During the course of this study, the students learned that there are other approaches to the study of abnormal behavior than those of the Freudian school. The approach stressed by Prof. Jensen in this study was that abnormal behavior was to be dealt with in terms of the same fundamental laws, and no special approach is necessary to understand or deal with "abnormal" behavior.

The students had an opportunity to observe in a typical hospital environment behavior usually classified as abnormal. They were sent not as curiosity seekers, nor were they to be particularly concerned with diagnosis. Their prime objective was to see that classical analytic or Freudian terms were not necessary in the observation or classification of abnormal behavior.

Prof. Jensen stated when questioned as to the worth of this study: "This course was a success to the extent that they now realize that one best understand human behavior in terms of its determining variables, and to the extent they have become sensitive to meaningless, mythical, nonsense terms which have no basis in impenetrable fact."

KEENAN PROMOTED

Dr. Boyd Keenan, former Marshall professor who now serves as co-ordinator of Big Ten conference research, has recently been named chairman of the Political Science Department of Purdue University, according to Dr. Paul D. Stewart, chairman of the Marshall Political Science Department.

Prof. Keenan, who left Marshall three years ago, will head an entirely new department formed from the separation of the previous history, government, and philosophy department and will supervise a staff of at least 10 people. The new position will become active in July.

Shawkey Portrait Hung In Union

A PORTRAIT of Dr. Morris P. Shawkey has assumed the place of honor over the fireplace in the Student Union. Dr. Shawkey was president of Marshall College when the Student Union was built with funds raised through a local bond drive in 1933. The oil portrait was painted in 1931 by Professor E. E. Myers and was later restored by Mrs. Juan Fors.

Rollins Is Marshall's Expert On Playwright Sean O'Casey

TOM HOWARD
Staff Reporter

Sean O'Casey? Who's he? Well, Sean O'Casey just happens to be the greatest . . . But wait. Why not ask a man who knows Sean O'Casey, a man who can be called an expert on Sean O'Casey? You may say you do not know such a man—and you may be right, but many of you do know him and many of you are in his classes. Marshall's expert on Sean O'Casey is Dr. Ronald G. Rollins, assistant professor of English.

Dr. Rollins has published nine articles on Sean O'Casey, several of which dealt with the expressionism in his plays and compared O'Casey, the Irish playwright, to O'Neill, the American playwright. At the present, Dr. Rollins is writing a book on O'Casey. This book is about half finished, and Dr. Rollins hopes to apply for a grant which, if he gets it, will enable him to concentrate on research and finish the book.

Dr. Rollins began corresponding with O'Casey in 1956. He is still corresponding with him today, though not as much as he would like as O'Casey's eyesight is failing. Since the start of their correspondence, Dr. Rollins has received twenty-two letters from O'Casey and several pamphlets on James Larkin, a labor leader and good friend of O'Casey's.

Dr. Rollins has talked with him several times via transatlantic cable. He intends to visit him this summer at his home in Devon, England and plans to tape conversations with O'Casey about his relationship with Yeats and Shaw, his unfortunate relationship with the Abbey Theater, O'Neill's influence on him, and the way in which he deals with the problems of character, theme, and design in his dramas.

When you ask Dr. Rollins who Sean O'Casey is, he will simply say, "Sean O'Casey is the greatest living Irish playwright." Prejudiced? Maybe. But who is to say he is wrong?

TWL WAITING LIST

Students who wish to add their name to the waiting list for the trip to Germany may do so by contacting Dr. Walter H. Perl, professor of German and director of the project. Applications are accepted until the number of 30. At present, the waiting list contains 12 names in addition to the 130 passengers.

PAINTINGS SHOWN

Five paintings by Dr. Arthur Carpenter, professor of art, and William Cox, instructor in art, are currently on view at the Huntington Galleries. Two pen and ink drawings by Dr. Carpenter and three oil paintings by Mr. Cox were selected for display by Mr. Herbert Olds, formerly of the Carnegie Art Institute, and now on the faculty of Concord College, Athens.

Their paintings are part of the Tri-State Art Exhibition and may be seen in the auditorium room of the Gallery now through February 29.

CADET OF SEMESTER

Announced as Cadet of the Semester by the ROTC Department is David Dean O'Kane, Parkersburg sophomore. O'Kane was graduated from Millboro High School, Millboro, Va., and is a history and German major in Arts and Sciences College. During high school, he received the Social Science Award. He now participates in the Beta Club and the Perishing Rifles. Horseback riding and reading make up his hobbies and interests.

BAM TO MEET

James D. Perry, trust officer for the Guaranty National Bank in Huntington, will speak at the Beta Alpha Mu (BAM) business fraternity meeting today at 3 p. m. in Northcott 303a.

Perry's topic will be "Opportunities in Banking and Financing for College Students and Graduates." All men interested in pledging are welcome to attend.

Assignments Made For ROTC Cadets

An announcement was recently made by the Army concerning the following branch assignments for MU ROTC cadets: Infantry: Ronald Easley, Logan senior; Gary Starcher, South Charleston senior; and Boyd Messenger, Huntington senior. Armor: Glen Bell, Lexington, Kentucky senior. Transportation Corp: James Garrett, Washington senior; Kenneth Perry, Huntington senior. Signal Corp: Charles Alley, Huntington senior; Donald Dolton, Harrisville senior; Harold Dodd, Fayetteville senior; Douglas Pelfrey, Huntington senior; Richard Raines, Huntington senior; James Wiles, New Haven senior.

Army Intelligence and Security: Ted J. Booth, Huntington senior; Charles Walker, Bluefield senior; and Thomas Walker, Huntington senior.

STUDENT PRICES

Marshall students will be admitted to the Community Players' presentation of "Speaking of Murder" for $1 instead of the regular $2.50, to be presented Feb. 20. ID cards will be required for the special price. According to Bill Adkins, publicity manager, auditions for the players next presentation, "Anastasia," will be held March 2, 3, and 4 at the Abbot Theatre. Marshall students are invited.

FILM SCHEDULED

The film, "Operation Abolition," will be presented next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Science Hall Auditorium sponsored by the Young Americans for Freedom (a campus conservative organization). It was scheduled to be presented at an earlier date, but due to the late arrival of the film, the presentation had to be postponed.

TICKETS AVAILABLE

The annual Life Planning Week banquet will be held in the University Dining Hall Feb. 23 at 5:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased for $1 from Dr. Harold E. Walker, vice president of academic affairs, who is faculty adviser for Life Planning Week or from members of the Life Planning Week Committee.

The menu for the banquet is roast beef, mashed potatoes, green beans, tossed salad, apple pie and a beverage.

Featured speaker will be Dr. Richard Hey of the University of Pennsylvania who will discuss "Love, Sex, and Morality."

OPEN HOUSE

Dr. Elmer E. Dierks, Baptist campus pastor, has stated that there will be an informal open house at his home each Sunday evening throughout the second semester.

His home is immediately adjacent to the Campus Christian Center.

Open house will begin about 8:30 p.m. The plans for the evenings will include records, snacks, and sometimes serious conversations among those present or with various guests.

Dr. Dierks also stated that he would be available for conference at his office in the Campus Christian Center or his home, at any time.

French Club Sets Meeting Tomorrow

The French Club will meet tomorrow at 4 p.m. in room 212 of the Music Building. Members of the club will present short talks on "France in the 17th Century."

Patricia Frye, Bluefield freshman, will speak on, "The Court of Louis XIV at Versailles." "The Architecture and Furnishings of the Palace of Versailles" will be discussed by Margaret Shepard, Huntington junior.

Nancy Sellard, Huntington senior, will speak on "Corneille" and His Works." Julia Doak, Parkersburg junior, will discuss "Moliere and His Comedies." Maurice Mayes, Point Pleasant junior, will tell of "La Fontaine and His Fables." "Madame de Sevigne and Her Letters" will be discussed by Veronica Flaherty, Huntington freshman.

A piano solo will be performed by Cathy Call, South Charleston freshman. There will be group singing of modern French songs.

BAPTIST MOVEMENT

"The Basic Areas of Agreement Between Judaism and Christianity" will be discussed by Dr. Joseph Krinsky, tomorrow at a 12 p. m. forum in the Campus Christian Center.

Dr. Krinsky, retired doctor, formerly with the Veteran's Administration, is the author of the well-known book, "A Doctor's Soliloquy." He has written several articles on religion and philosophy as related to medicine.

The program, sponsored by the Baptist Student Movement, is in recognition of Brotherhood Week. All interested students are invited to attend.

COURSE SCHEDULED

A course in Communist Dictatorship is being taught this semester on Tuesday evenings from 6:30 to 9:00 by Dr. Simon Perry. Although the course has been listed in the college catalogue, it has not been taught for two years. Any student who is a junior or senior or who is in graduate school is eligible to enroll in the course. Twenty nine students are now enrolled in the class which deals with the Soviet structure of government and Soviet politics.

COMPOSITION CLINIC

The English Composition Clinic is now in session under the direction of Mrs. Louise S. Bailey, instructor in English, in Main 315. The classes, which are composed of 5 to 7 students, meet once a week for 50 minutes.

The clinic will run for the first half of the semester. All who did not pass the English Qualifying Exam must enroll in the clinic and complete the course before they are eligible to retake the Qualifying Exam. You must pass the Qualifying Exam before you can graduate.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY MEETS

Mr. Rose and Mr. Christion, graduate assistants, will speak at a meeting of the American Chemical Society of Student Affiliates in Room 313 in the Science Building tomorrow at 4 p. m.

Refreshments will be served.

PR'S INSPECTED

Inspection was made of the Pershing Rifles Company Feb. 8 by the Regimental Staff of Ohio State University and the Battalion Staff of Ohio University.

Both staffs make annual inspections which is used to determine the best company in the battalion. The files and each individual man is inspected.

Speech Instructor Holds Ear Clinic

A one-day hearing clinic was held at the Clay County Board of Education last week by R. Scott Johnson, instructor in speech. The clinic was sponsored by the West Virginia Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Tests were administered to 47 elementary and high school students who had failed the preliminary examination given by the visiting health nurse. Of those children tested, 22 had actual hearing defects.

Mr. Johnson conducted these tests to allow in-service training for junior speech correction majors. Josephine Peck, Logan junior, and Jerry Cutlip, Ravenswood junior, also participated in the tests.

SPEECH CONTEST

Students from six area high schools will hold a Conference Speaking Contest from 12:30 to 4 p. m. Friday in the Speech Department, according to Dr. Ben Hope, professor of speech.

There will be two contestants from each of the high schools: Huntington High School, Marshall High School, Barboursville High School, Dunbar High School, Point Pleasant High School, and Logan High School.

Their topic for debate will be, "What should be the Role of the Federal Government in providing Medical Care?"

Members of the Pi Kappa Delta debating fraternity will furnish refreshments for the contestants between rounds.

The students will debate the same question on March 13 when they compete in the regional Forensic Contest. The winners will then go to Morgantown to appear in the state-wide debating contest to be held April 1.

ARF!

Benjamin Franklin (or The Louisville Slugger, as he is better known as) said, "A penny saved is a penny earned," and we, the college population of America, have taken to heart this sage advice. We spend prudently; we budget diligently. Yet, despite our wise precautions, we are always running short. Why? Because there is one item of expense that we consistently underestimate—the cost of travelling home for weekends.

Let us take the typical case of Basil Metabolism, a sophomore at UCLA majoring in avocados. Basil, a resident of Bangor, Maine, loved to go home each weekend to play with his faithful dog, Spot. What joy, what wretched smiles, when Basil and Spot were re-united! Basil would leap into his dogcart, and Spot, a genuine Alaskan husky, would pull Basil all over Bangor, Maine—Basil calling cheery halloos to the townfolk, Spot wagging his curly tail.

The results were not all Basil had hoped

But the cost, alas, of travelling from UCLA to Bangor, Maine, ran to $400 a week, and Basil's father, alas, earned only a meagre salary as a meter-reader for the Bangor water department. So, alas, after six months Basil's father told Basil he could raise no more money; he had already sold everything he owned, including the flashlight he used to read meters.

Basil returned to California to ponder his dilemma. One solution occurred to him—to ship Spot to UCLA and keep him in his room—but Basil had to abandon the notion because of his roommate, G. Fred Sigafos, who was, alas, allergic to dog hair.

Then another idea came to Basil—a stroke of genius, you might call it. He would buy a Mexican hairless chihuahua! Thus he would have a dog to pull him around, and G. Fred's allergy would be undisturbed.

The results, alas, were not all Basil had hoped. The chihuahua, alas, was unable to pull Basil in the dogcart, no matter how energetically he beat the animal.

Defeated again, Basil sat down with G. Fred, his roommate, to smoke a Marlboro Cigarette and seek a new answer to the problem. Together they smoked and thought and—Eureka!—an answer quickly appeared. (I do not suggest, mark you, that Marlboro Cigarettes are an aid to celebration. All I say about Marlboros is that they taste good and are made of fine tobaccos and pure white filters and come in soft pack or Flip Top box.)

Well, sir, Basil and G. Fred got a great idea. Actually, the idea was G. Fred's, who happened to be majoring in genetics. Why not, said G. Fred, cross-breed the chihuahua with a Great Dane and thus produce an animal sturdy enough to pull a dogcart?

It was, alas, another plan doomed to failure. The cross-breeding was done, but the result (this is very difficult to explain) was a raccoon.

But there is, I am pleased to report, a happy ending to this heart-rending tale. It seems that Basil's mother (this is also very difficult to explain) is a glamorous blond aged 19 years. One day she was spotted by a talent scout in Bangor, Maine, and was signed to a fabulous movie contract, and the entire family moved to California and bought Bel Air, and today one of the most endearing sights to be seen on the entire Pacific Coast is Spot pulling Basil down Sunset Boulevard—Basil cheering and Spot wagging. Basil's mother is also happy, making glamorous movies all day long, and Basil's father is likewise content, sitting at home and reading the water meter.

Action Proved Fast And Furious

Frosh Get 3rd Straight Win By 116-96 Margin

Coach Sonny Allen's freshman basketball team has given MU fans much to cheer about in recent weeks. The latest crowd-pleaser was turned in last Saturday night when the Little Green defeated Mountain State Business College by the convincing tally of 116 to 96.

Bill Whetsell was the big gun—as usual—for the frosh. He tallied 36 points, to take game scoring honors.

Bob Redd was the game's leading rebounder with a total of 13 grabs. Bob was his team's second top point-getter with 29.

The main stay of any basketball team — the guards — also turned into top-point makers for the MU frosh. Jim Madison and Keith Blankenship, the Little Green's guards, scored 16 points apiece.

The victory was the third straight for the freshman cagers and it was their sixth win in 14 starts overall.

The frosh will be gunning for victory number seven next Tuesday when they play host to the Ashland Correctional Institute in the Men's Gym. Game time will be 7 p. m.

TOM LANGFITT seems out of place in this pack of Flashes as he and others scramble for a loose ball. Kent finally recovered the ball and went on to score. Langfitt was the second highest scorer for the Big Green in the Kent contest. He shot 50 per cent in field goal competition and four for four at the foul line.

Matmen Trip Glenville, 28-0

By RICHARD EDWARDS
Sports Writer

Marshall University's wrestling team won its third match of the season last Saturday afternoon when it defeated Glenville State College by the score of 28-0.

Coach Ed Prelaz had nothing but praise for his matmen, and he especially wanted to make mention of the fine showing of Tom Busbee, his 147-pounder.

"Busbee has been good all season," Prelaz said. He has won three and lost four in the MAC. He pinned his man at Glenville with all the skill of a polished athlete.

Other wrestlers that Prelaz thought did a good job were: Dave Cramp (123 pound class), Larry Coyer (177), and Jim May (130).

MU won every match in the one-sided contest. The winner, in order of their weight class, were: Cramp, by decision, (123), May, by pin, (130), George Daniels, by decision, (137), Busbee, by pin, (147); Bob Lambert, by decision, (157); Alex Sansosti, by decision, (167); Coyer, by decision, (177); and Bob Pruett, by decision, (heavyweight).

The next match will be against Morehead State College next Saturday in the Men's Gym.

Billiards Champ Named

Jim Marnell, Huntington senior, won the eastern U. S. regional title in 3-rail billiards at last weekend's regional tournament of the International Association of College Unions at Gettysburg College in Pennsylvania.

Marnell was the first representative of Marshall's Student Union to ever attend an association tournament. He will compete in the national finals early this summer.

Also competing in the pocket billiards competition was Ben Rowe, Huntington sophomore.

Varsity Football Team Opens Season Sept. 19

The Athletic Department has announced the MU varsity football schedule for next year.

Only when MU meets Toledo on Oct. 3 and the Falcons of Bowling Green on Nov. 7 will MU play more than a short jaunt away from home base.

Coach Charlie Snyder will go into spring practice with the most experienced group yet. At least one letterman is available for every position.

The Green's homecoming game next season will be with Louisville on Oct. 24. In the 1963 season, Louisville upset the Big Green's winning streak 27-14 at the Fairgrounds in Louisville.

MU opens the season on Sept. 19 against the Morehead group at the annual Shrine game in Ashland, Ky. The closing game of the season for the greenies will be at Ohio U. on Nov. 21.

The schedule is:

Morehead	Sept. 19	8 p.m.	A
Miami	Sept. 26	8 p.m.	H*
Toledo	Oct. 3	8 p.m.	A*
Buffalo	Oct. 10	8 p.m.	H
Kentucky State	Oct. 17	8 p.m.	H
Louisville	Oct. 24	2 p.m.	H
Western Michigan	Oct. 31	2 p.m.	H*
Bowling Green	Nov. 7	2 p.m.	A*
Kent State	Nov. 14	2 p.m.	H*
Ohio University	Nov. 21	2 p.m.	A*

Golf Squad Said 'Much Improved'

This year's golf team should be "much better" according to Coach Buddy Graham. "We have a very good chance of winning the Mid-American Conference," Graham said, "if the boys play up to their potential."

Indeed, prospects do look good in the Big Green Clubhouse. Returning will be the entire squad from '63, including two members of the all-conference team, Chip Woodring and David Whipkey. Others are George Somich, Bill Spensky, Dave Herndon, and captain Harry Hoffer. Graham has high hopes that Hoffer will be able to make a comeback this season. Also expected to help this spring's team are sophomores Larry May and Joe Feaganes.

The divot diggers had an 8-7 record and finished fifth in the MAC last year. A total of approximately 23 matches will be scheduled for the upcoming season.

The squad will play every conference foe. Some of the out-of-league matches have the Green playing Ohio State University, Xavier University, University of Cincinnati, Marietta College, and Morehead State College.

The first match of the season is set for March 26 against Ohio University.

ALL-STARS PICKED

The Volleyball All-Star team has been chosen by the team managers. The eight All-Star coeds are: Joy Ellis, Charleston freshman; Alice Patton, Barboursville junior; Ruth Ware, South Charleston senior; Cheryl Seymour, Dunbar sophomore, and Peggy Kirk, Huntington senior.

Also Kathryn Dilworth, Huntington freshman; Karen Crump, Pt. Pleasant sophomore, and Karen Agee, Huntington sophomore.

The basketball team of Kent State University left the floor of Memorial Field House last Saturday with a slim 76-74 victory over the Big Green.

But before they departed and the game was over, the Golden Flashes and the Green squad had played one of the wildest games of the season—at times resembling a vaudeville act, at times a comedy of errors, and at times leaving the 2,800 fans guessing just who was playing for which team.

Taken together, the Kent Flashes and the Greenies totaled 37 turnovers, almost one a minute, and 49 personal fouls, better than one a minute.

The cagers from MU tried to rectify mistakes of the Kent game last night as they met the squad from Morehead at Memorial Field House. The game was played after Parthenon press time.

But don't think for one minute that the MU-Kent clash wasn't an exciting game! Both Robert Doll, Kent's coach, and Ellis Johnson, MU's mentor, agreed that MU played to the limit.

"I felt that our boys played a good hard ball game," Johnson commented, and Doll chimmed in with, "Those boys from MU fought like heck."

And fight they did, especially when the bouncing ball began to predict a photo finish for the contest. With five seconds remaining in the game, the score was 76-74 with MU in possession of the ball out of bounds under the Flashes' basket. Time was called and, while MU fans bit their fingernails, the teams conferred with their coaches.

"All we were worried about was getting that ball down the floor and in the basket," Johnson said. "We didn't pick a particular boy to shoot. The pass from Roy was a little bad to Francis and we lost it out of bounds to Kent."

When the clock started again, all Kent had to do was step back in bounds and wait for about a second for the final buzzer.

And what was Coach Doll doing during that final time-out?

"Well, I feel that these boys get some good ideas sometimes, and when they have ideas, I listen. So when the boys come in, I asked them, 'What do you think?' After all, they know as well as anyone whether the zone or man-to-man is better against that particular team at that particular time."

The final score tally wasn't the only place where the numbers read nearly the same. Both teams made 45 per cent of their field goals. MU made 25 out of 56 attempts, while Kent completed 27 out of 60. Both teams made 39 points in the second half.

The major difference came in rebounds. Kent snatched 50 rebounds to MU's total of 35.

Doll seemed pleased with the rebounding record of his team as he showed the various members of the Kent basketball staff the box score after the game.

"We worked on rebounds all week long," Doll said. "It was rebounding that beat us at Bowling Green."

Both coaches had good words for a player on their respective teams. For MU, Johnson praised the work of Levi Lauvray. The 6-4 junior was the third highest scorer on the Green squad, but made up for it by taking 14 rebounds to become the highest rebounder in the game. "Levi is getting better all the time and he's going to see a lot more action," Johnson commented.

The surprise for the Flashes came in the form of forward Doug Sims. Sims came on in the second half to score a blistering 16 points, having scored none in the first half.

"Doug shot well in the game," Doll said, adding that Sims joined the team in January and has been developing ever since.

Scoring honors were split between MU's Butch Clark and Kent's Fred Albrecht. Both had 21 counters. Going even further with the car load of similarities, both Clark and Albrecht attempted 11 field goals, both made seven field goals, and both converted seven free throws.

Fans and coaches alike seemed to know what the box score proved — the game could have gone either way. It was just a question of who led when the final buzzer sounded.

After the game was completed, Coach Johnson went through the age-old custom of congratulating the winner.

"It was a good game, Bob," Johnson commented. "Maybe next time you'll be shaking my hand."

"You never know," Doll replied. "After all, that ball is still round—it might bounce the other way next time."

1. I just made a very smart buy. Would you like to hear about it?
You can see I'm all ears.

2. It's an item that will stand me in good stead throughout my life.
You don't say.

3. It guarantees security for the family I expect to have shortly.
Interesting.

4. It can provide money for my children's education.
Is that so?

5. It can pay off the mortgage if I die. Or make money available for emergencies or opportunities. Or provide a lifetime income when I retire.
Look, if anything was that good, a lot of people would have it.

6. Precisely. And over 11 million people do. Because I was telling you about Living Insurance from Equitable.
Tell me more.

Battalion Queen To Be Named At Military Ball On Saturday

The annual Military Ball will be held this Saturday in the Hotel Prichard ballroom and at least one of the six company sponsors will then reign as a battalion queen.

The "B" Company sponsor is Connie Pelfrey, Huntington freshman. She is a biology major with a minor in social studies. She is a pledge of the Alpha Chi Delta sorority.

Miss Pelfrey was named Miss Flame of 1963 and Miss Civil Air Patrol. Her hobbies are sewing and reading.

The Company "C" sponsor is Loretta Ufheil, Huntington junior. She is majoring in elementary education with a minor in psychology.

Miss Ufheil is a cheerleader, and is a member of the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

She lists for her hobbies, swimming, reading and dancing. She is also an avid sports car fan.

About 350 persons, ROTC cadets and their dates are expected to attend the affair at the Hotel Prichard ballroom.

On Friday, the final two pictures and profiles in this series spotlighting the individual company sponsors will appear and on Saturday, the battalion queen will be named.

WVEA Committee Names Dr. Buell

Dr. Stephen D. Buell, Marshall speech professor has been appointed to the West Virginia Education Association Centennial Committee.

Don Crislip, editor of the WVEA School Journal in Charleston, made the announcement last week in a letter to Dr. Buell.

The 12-member Committee will plan activities for the 100th anniversary of WVEA to be held in Charleston in October 1965.

Dr. Buell, research consultant of Marshall's Centennial Cavalcade, will represent an 8 county region of the WVEA.

Tentative celebration plans include a musical play depicting the history of WVEA and its influence on education; a birthday ball; and a parade featuring entries from all West Virginia counties.

The play, written by Kermit Hunter, will be studied by the Committee. Hunter also wrote Unto These Hills, Lost Colony, and Honey in the Rock.

'Swede' Gullickson Encourages Alumni

Retired Professor Otto "Swede" Gullickson, a tireless worker for Marshall, is now working with the Office of Development and Alumni Affairs to encourage alumni to support the university by their contributions and recruiting.

Swede has just returned from Washington, D. C., where he spoke to an alumni group. The Washington branch is beginning a telephone campaign similar to the one conducted recently in West Virginia to gain funds for the school. Swede said he told the group of the expansion taking place on campus and asked them to help.

The Alumni Office is footing the bill for his expenses while traveling to the chapters but he is working without salary. John Sayre, director of development and alumni affairs, arranges the trips and Swede does the talking.

Swede commented that he is happy to contribute to the future of the university and although it owes him nothing, he owes it "an awful lot".

While in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., he spoke to the alumni chapter and he has spoken to the group at Hamlin.

His next speaking trip will be to Columbus, Ohio, March 12.

CIP TO MEET

The Civic Interest Progressives will meet Friday at 6:30 p. m. upstairs in the Student Union. All students are invited to attend the meeting.

Brass Quintet Due Tomorrow

The New York Brass Quintet will appear on the Convocation tomorrow at 11 a.m. in Old Main Auditorium. The Quintet—Robert Nagel, Ted Weis, Raymond Alonge, John Swallow and Harvey Phillips—has just returned from a widely acclaimed tour of Europe.

Their program will feature the following selections: Sonata, Quintet in B flat minor, Scherzo and hied, Brass Quintet, Contrapunctus I, Two Pieces, Impression of a Parade, and Sonatine.

Dr. Wilbur Pursley of the Music Department said: "The most recent recording of the Brass Quintet by Gunther Schuller has attracted considerable attention because of the extreme difficulty of the individual parts. This composition amounts almost to a complete collection of the effects available on brass instruments."

After the Quintet's performance in London, the London Times said, "They have demonstrated what reticent delicacy the bogeymen of the orchestra are capable of once they have attained to self rule."

The new sounds of progressive jazz produced from brass has thrilled audiences the world over.

The members of the Quintet are so good that each one has been called the Heifetz of his instrument. Playing trumpets are Robert Nagel and Theodore Weis. Raymond Alonge plays French horn, John Swallow, trombone; and Harvey Phillips, Tuba.

TEA GIVEN

A tea honoring the Alpha Sigma Alpha alumnae of Huntington and Charleston was given by the actives and pledges of Alpha Sigma Alpha from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday at the sorority house. Guests of the sorority included Mrs. Lillian Helms Buskirk, dean of women; Mrs. Hannah L. Updegraff, former housemother of Alpha Sigma Alpha, and Miss Judy Matthews, national traveling secretary of Alpha Sigma Alpha from Henderson State Teachers' College, Arkadelphia, Ark.
