Another Woodrow Wilson Fellow At MU!

BRUCE NELSON

For the third consecutive year a Marshall University student has won a coveted Woodrow Wilson Fellowship in competition with thousands of college students throughout the United States.

Bruce Nelson of Huntington, who graduated summa cum laude in January, 1964, has been awarded the Fellowship one of 1,507 granted this year.

This means that he will be given full tuition and fees for the first year at the graduate school of his choice, as well as a stipend of $1,800 and dependency allowances.

The 26-year-old mathematics major was one of seven nominees from Marshall. During his undergraduate days, he achieved an envious record of straight A's except for one B.

Upon hearing the news, Dr. N. Bayard Green, professor of zoology and campus representative for Woodrow Wilson Fellowship activities, said:

"This is terrific! For the third year in a row we've had Marshall students gain this academic honor. In fact, last year we had two Woodrow Wilson winners. Other top schools in the region do not do any better."

Dr. Green pointed out that each year the competition becomes tougher. He pointed out that the Honors Program at Marshall will become increasingly important in the next few years from the standpoint of finding future nominees.

Aiding Dr. Green in the annual search for top scholars is Dr. J. Frank Bartlett, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, who formerly was the Woodrow Wilson campus representative, plus many members of the faculty who cooperate in recommending outstanding students for consideration.

As for the latest winner of the Fellowship, he is currently working at WSAZ-TV as a TV engineer and is taking one graduate course at Marshall. He plans to attend the University of Colorado next fall, get his Ph.D., and work either for industry or government.

Nelson is the seventh Marshall student to win a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship in the past eight years. The others have been:

James Leslie Davis, geography major, 1957; Joseph Smith, philosophy, 1959; William Moran, English, 1960; Carolyn Davies, psychology, 1962; Joyce Rohr, political science, 1963, and Juliet Willman, English, 1963.

Nominees Picked At Greek Caucus

The Parthenon

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Vol. 63 HUNTINGTON, W. VA. WEDNESDAY, MARCH 11, 1964 No. 47

Field Narrowed Down To Final Choice At Meeting Last Night

By GARY KEARNS
News Editor

The names of five students emerged out of the Greek caucus Sunday as Greek nominees for candidates to the top two positions in the Student Government—the presidency and the vice presidency of the student body, according to reliable sources.

Among this group are three nominees for president and two for vice president.

The nominees for student body president are: Larry Dezio, Wheeling junior senator; Dick Cottrill, Huntington junior and the secretary of Student Government Affairs, and Francis Fabi, Monaca, Pa., junior senator.

The vice presidential nominees are: Brenda Hubbard, Williamson junior senator, and Mike Carroll, Nitro junior senator.

These students were picked as candidate nominees in a meeting Sunday afternoon at the Alpha Xi Delta sorority house. The meeting lasted about two and a half hours.

This caucus was the first of two. The second and final one was held last night (after Parthenon press time) at the same location. But much happened between Sunday afternoon and Tuesday evening.

On Monday night, all of the Greek organizations on campus—the social fraternities and sororities—met in separate active meetings in which each of these groups decided which two candidates—a president and a vice president—they would vote for in the caucus meeting last night.

The decisions of these individual groups in their active meetings were reached by what has been described as a straw vote. Then, at the second caucus last night, representatives from these groups returned and officially picked the students who will represent the Greek organizations as candidates in the upcoming spring election April 8.

The first caucus, Sunday, can be compared to a primary election by a major political party on the national or state level.

The Sunday caucus, also, was for the purpose of showing how much support a prospective candidate had—and where that support was located. And at the second caucus last night each Greek organization was allowed one vote, and just who that one vote would go to had been previously determined in an active meeting the night before.

Altogether, there were 15 votes, nine from the fraternities and six from the sororities. Each of these organizations were represented by two people—their president and one appointed representative picked by that president.

In a statement in The Parthenon last Friday, Lily Wray Naylor, Clendenin senior and president of the Panhellenic Council, the governing body over all campus social sororities, said that the Greek caucus this year would be managed somewhat differently than in the past.

"This year the Interfraternity and the Panhellenic Councils have been in charge of setting up the caucus. This year it is completely in their hands," Miss Naylor said.

Formerly, the Greek caucus had been run by certain individual students on their own, and it is believed that the move to take the caucus out of the hands of these individual students originated within the IFC.

"This year we want the student body to know that the caucus isn't anything mysterious and that it is fair," Miss Naylor continued.

She added, "We want to try to clear up, through The Parthenon, that the caucus this year will be impartial. We want to clear up all of the misconceptions."

In recent years the caucus has been a closed session, closed to the press and to non-Greek students. This year the caucus was also closed to the press and to non-Greek students.

Miss Naylor explained that a special caucus committee was established after the IFC's move to switch the jurisdiction of the caucus to itself and the Panhellenic Council.

The IFC is the ruling group governing all campus Greek social fraternal organizations, serving in the same capacity as does Panhellenic over the sororities.

Joe Robertson, Huntington junior, is IFC president.

This special caucus committee, which Miss Naylor explained would serve in the same functional capacity as does the committee which sets up and manages the annual Greek Week, has eight members.

Sharpshooting Cadet Wins Local Contest

FIRST PLACE winner in the Huntington Pistol League collegiate Division of competition is Cadet Maj. Daniel Nelson, Huntington senior. A member of the Marshall ROTC, Nelson won the competition which was sponsored by the Colonial Gun Club at the Police Range March 3.

Senate Will Debate Tuition Plan

The Student Senate postponed until tonight any action on a motion which, if passed, would provide payment of tuition of five students a year — an upcoming sophomore, junior and senior and the student body president and vice president.

During the past week this motion has been studied by the Parliamentary Affairs Committee.

Ted Wiley, Lewisburg senior senator and senior class president, reported in last week's senate meeting that the Appropriations and Budget Committee had met three times a week before last and had approved of the scholarships.

Repercussions were being felt last week over a statement in The Parthenon two weeks ago by Danie Stewart, Barboursville sophomore.

Attempted To Resign

Stewart, who was at the time attempting to resign his sophomore senatorial post plus his presidency of the sophomore class, said that if he was impeached for his unexcused absences he would be unable to run for a Student Government position again. This was proven incorrect by the Student Government Manual which states that a senator who is impeached may not be reelected until the following academic year.

The actual senate session last week lasted only 15 minutes. But an executive session which followed the meeting and which was barred to the press, lasted over 40 minutes.

It became apparent last week that there is a freshman senate seat that will have to be filled as a result of an extended illness of one of the freshman senators, Janie Cargal of Huntington.

$50 Award To Graduate

DAVID PERKINS, Milton graduate, is the recipient of a $50 award recently presented by the National Society of the Colonial Dames of America, according to Dr. Herschel Heath, professor of history and chairman of that department.

Rotary Fellowship Applicants Sought

Each year Rotary International provides more than 200 Annual Foundation Fellowships for foreign study and travel to college graduates. Since the Rotary District, of which the Huntington Club is a member, may nominate a candidate, President Stewart H. Smith has asked that any Marshall man interested in applying see him immediately.

Any male Marshall graduate between the ages of 20 and 29 is eligible to apply for a Fellowship. This includes May, 1964 graduates. Some requirements of an applicant are that he be an American citizen, have a bachelor's degree, high scholastic ability, and some public speaking ability. He must be able to read, write and speak the language in use in the country of his study. The foreign university chosen by the recipient must be in a country where there are Rotary clubs.

President Smith said, "We are extremely interested in getting a Marshall boy in the running for this award. It is a very worthwhile competition, in that the Fellowship provide a winner's complete tuition, traveling and living expenses, plus seeing that he has necessary extras."

Last year a Marshall graduate, Aubrey King, was selected to represent this Rotary District. He is currently enrolled in the University of New Delhi.

The competition is very keen, according to President Smith, since men from more than 30 schools in this district are eligible to compete.

nari, Wellsburg junior, with Dean Thompson, Huntington junior senator, and Vicki Massey, Beckley sophomore senator, serving as co-coordinators.

The other committee members are: Joe Robertson; Bob Altomare, Weirton senior; Tom Young, St. Marys junior; Connie Barbera, Mt. Hope junior, and Betty Banda, Weirton senior senator.

The Parthenon contacted a dozen people, many of them on this committee, Sunday evening in an effort to find out what had occurred in the first Greek caucus that afternoon.

TWL Trip Still Scheduled; New Details Are Added

By BOB ROGERS
Staff Reporter

The German Club trip is still go! Dr. Walter Perl, professor of German confirmed this on Monday.

The TWL group (Travel, Work and Learn) learned at a recent meeting that due to a considerable number of dropouts — about 50 since Feb. 1 — they would have to apply for a new and smaller charter.

Since then the charter has been applied for and granted. The carrier will be the United States Overseas Airways — a well known supplementary carrier for the U. S. Army and Air Force, as well as a charter service for commercial and private groups.

At the meeting last Wednesday it was voted to leave from New York on June 3 in order to give graduating seniors ample time for graduation exercises and a short visit home before leaving. It will also give other students time to drive to New York and catch a glimpse of the World's Fair.

The group will leave from Kennedy Airport at 6 p. m. June 3. There are several tentative dates open for return, the best being Sept. 7. leaving enough time for the students to be back on campus for registration on Sept. 12. This date also would leave the students some vacation time in Europe after their three months of work. Other tentative dates were Sept. 3 and Sept. 1. This issue was voted on last night and the result not known before press time.

Participating students learned of a reduction in price due to recent negotiations. If there are 108 people, plus two chaperons, a group rate of $270 is possible. If 98 people go, plus two chaperons, the rate will be $290.

At present approximately 100 people are registered for the trip, leaving room for interested persons to finish filling the charter and to form a new waiting list to replace emergency withdrawals.

Inquiries should be directed to Travel Inc., 409 Ninth Street, or Dr. Perl, project director, phone either 523-6431 (home phone) or 523-0224, ext. 230 (school phone).

Transportation to and from Germany and a job in either Germany, Switzerland or Austria is guaranteed, but participants are advised to take about $50 for living expenses until they get their first pay checks.

There will be a weekly orientation meeting to acquaint students with the customs, language and culture of the country in which they will be working. Notices will be posted on the bulletin board in the Student Union.

Speaker Of House On Campus Today

Julius W. Singleton Jr., speaker of the West Virginia House of Delegates, is scheduled to speak at 1 p.m. today before the Public Opinion and Propaganda Class in Main 204, according to Dr. Simon D. Perry, assistant professor of political science.

The talk by Mr. Singleton will deal with the relationship between the role of public opinion and legislative process.

Mr. Singleton, a member of the House of Delegates since 1956, is on campus by invitation of the Marshall University Young Democrats Club.

Concert Band Sets High School Visits

Marshall University Concert Band will visit six area high schools.

The band, directed by Dr. Wilbur Pursley, associate professor of music, appeared at Huntington Vinson High School today and it will play for Huntington High School students at 9:40 a.m. next Tuesday.

On March 12, the MU concert group will perform at Nitro High School at 9 a.m., and for a Charleston High School audience at 2 p.m. The following day, the campus musicians will visit Herbert Hoover High School for a morning performance and play at DuPont High School during the afternoon.

On April 9, Kenneth Moore of Oberlin, will be guest conductor when members of the Marshall band and area musicians play for the reading session of the WVMEA Conference. The band will finish the spring musical tour with a concert for the WVMEA April 11 and the annual Spring Concert at Old Main on April 22.

Novice Debaters Take 2-Way Meet

A LOGICAL LICKING was the order of the day Feb. 29 as Marshall's novice debaters (from left) Steve Edington, St. Albans; Linda Sanford, Bluefield, both freshmen; Carl Keener, Huntington junior, and Ronald Jarrell, Point Pleasant freshman defeated the Capital University and Ohio University debaters in Columbus. The topic for debate was, "The Federal Government should guarantee an opportunity for high education to all high school graduates."

Winners Named In Et Cetera's Four Divisions Of Competition

Winners in the four divisions of competition for the 1964 Et Cetera, campus literary publication, were announced Monday by Joseph Hughes, Moundsville senior and editor of the magazine.

Taking first place in the poetry division was Victor M. Depta, Earling junior. Second place went to Linda Hoover, Huntington freshman.

Jerry Bowles, Sandstone junior, won first place in the short story division. Arline Roush, Leartart freshman, came in second place.

Essay division winners were Sharon Kay Rife, Huntington sophomore, first place, and Joseph Hughes, second place.

Michael Woodford, South Charleston senior, took the only award in the division of drama.

Judges for the literary entries were Dr. Ronald Rollins, Marilyn Putz, and Eric Thorne, assistant professors of English.

The graphics division winners were Paige Estler, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., junior, first place, and Ed Hardman, Huntington sophomore. Judges for these entries were Dr. Arthur Carpenter, professor of art, Jack Smith and William Cox, instructors of art.

"Competition was keener this year than ever before," Hughes reported. "There were a greater number of entries, and those of better material than recent years," he added.

All material is now being prepared for publication. The magazine, which should be some 36 pages, is expected to be available to students by April 1. It is loaded with material this year and without advertisements.

NAVY TEAM DUE

The Aviation Officer Procurement Team will be at the Student Union from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. on March 16-18, according to Lt. T. D. Ritter, U. S. Naval Reserve.

Students interested in a commission in naval aviation can learn about four programs. Written examinations will be given to interested students.

Freshman Coed Wins 4-H Scholarship, Trip

By ROGER JENNINGS
Staff Reporter

Six years of hard work in 4-H Club activities has paid off for Karen Isner, Madison freshman, with a national award which included a week-long, all-expenses-paid trip to Chicago and a $500 scholarship.

KAREN ISNER
... 4-H Winner

Miss Isner, an active 4-H member for the past eight years, chose several years ago, to concentrate on the field of health education in her 4-H work. She served as chairman of the Health Committee on the Madison "Live Wires" 4-H Club for three years. During this time she participated in poster projects, proper lighting surveys, lectures and other activities designed to promote health education.

Miss Isner won the trip to Chicago by being named state winner in the field of health. The $500 scholarship was awarded as a result of being named one of the six national winners at Chicago.

The Chicago convention offered the 1,500 delegates a full week of radio and television appearances, lectures, a concert, visits to museums, dances and a livestock show. One of the television films featuring Miss Isner was sent to WCHS-TV, Charleston, where it was aired for the home state audience.

The theme of the convention was "Citizenship in Action." Programs which consisted of panel discussions, lectures, and sketches were presented before the delegates daily. Each of these programs was designed to promote an interest in government and citizenship.

When asked what her impression of the Chicago convention was, Miss Isner said, "The 4-H Club Congress was a challenge to the delegates. It challenged them to go back to their club members with a message toward a stronger 4-H organization, to strive to make the best better and to work toward better citizenship in their club, community and country."

PISTOL MATCH SET

Scabbard and Blade, Company K-12, a national military honor society, will participate in a pistol match to be fired tomorrow at 9 a. m. This match is on a national basis.

DR. ETHEL ALPENFELS
... Expert Anthropologist

Lecturer Due At Convocation

"From Adam to the Atom" is the subject of a lecture which will be given by Dr. Ethel J. Alpenfels at Convocation 11 a.m. tomorrow in Old Main Auditorium.

Dr. Alpenfels, a native of Denver, is a nationally recognized authority on anthropology and social behavior and a professor in the New York University School of Education.

She has directed the N.Y.U. graduate anthropology workshops in the Virgin Islands, Mexico, Canada and Scandinavia. Under a Rockefeller Foundation Grant, she has made a study of the life of the Haida Indians of Queen Charlotte Island and has done research among the Modoc Indians.

Dr. Alpenfels received her bachelor's degree and her doctorate from Colorado State College of Education in Greeley. She has also studied at the university of Denver, California and Chicago.

RING CHANGED

The sale of class rings is progressing rapidly with the majority of orders being placed by boys.

One reason for the lack of interest from the coeds is the size of the girls' ring which many consider to be too big. Changes in the size will be made soon.

Approximately 90% of the orders are for red, blue, and black stones. It has been suggested that people who wish Greek letters engraved on their rings should choose the darker stone so that the letters will show up better.

Blood Drive Is On Right Now In Union

Give your blood now while you can spare it; you may have to borrow it back someday! If you are over 18, you can donate blood until 3 p. m. today at the Union. Red Cross blood is available free to immediate families of students, administration and faculty if it is needed.

The ROTC Department challenges all Greeks on campus to match or top them in giving blood today. Last semester the ROTC gave 70 percent of the blood contributed by students. Why don't you go over now and do your share?

Campus Christian Officers Elected

The officers of the Campus Christian Fellowship have been announced by Rev. Lander Beal, campus pastor and adviser of the group. They were installed at a dinner given at the home of Reverend and Mrs. Beal last Saturday.

Let's Go Green . . . At Season Finale

FOR THE LAST TIME senior Butch Clark leads his teammates into battle on the hardcourt. MU dropped its last decision to the Bowling Green Falcons, 106-72 before the home crowd. This loss gave the MU squad its worst record in the history of the school with a 6-17 mark.

Hopes Ride High On Marshall In U. S. Billiard Tournament

By HANK COX
Staff Reporter

Marshall University has recently distinguished itself in one of our country's oldest and fastest growing sports. Jim Marnell entered Region 3 of the Eastern Billiard Tournament for the first time and won it hands down. Region 3 consists of all the colleges and universities in seven eastern states. This notable accomplishment gave Jim a berth in the national finals which will be held in Arizona next June. He stands a good chance of bringing the national championship to Marshall on the first try, a feat seldom if ever accomplished.

Jim Marnell is a graduate of St. Joseph's High in Huntington and is a senior at Marshall. He has a pool table in his home and has been playing for more than 12 years. His modest manner and disarming smile make you think of anything but a pool champion in a game that is traditionally cold-blooded. But he is a champion and he plays with the best.

Jim credits his knowledge of the game to Dr. Gresham Toole, the former head of the Marshall history department who is now at Morris Harvey. Dr. Toole used to give Jim lessons in the game.

Although Jim is a psychology major he claims that does not enter into the game. Those who have watched him smile, grin, and crack jokes while he beats you so bad it isn't even funny could possibly wonder about that.

Grapplers Make Best Showing; Gain 5th In MAC Tournament

By HARRY WILEY

The Big Green grapplers made their best showing in Mid-American Conference tournament wrestling last Saturday when they finished fifth at Athens, Ohio.

Miami won the conference title with 63 points followed by Ohio University with 53, Bowling Green with 45, Toledo with 43, and Marshall with 24. Western Michigan finished sixth with 12 points and Kent State finished in the cellar with 6 points.

Dave Cramp, John Toler and Larry Coyer finished in third place for Marshall. Fourth place

RIFLE TEAM WINS

The freshman rifle team defeated the University of Kentucky freshman team in a rifle match held here last Saturday. The score was tied at the end of the regulation rifle match and was broken by the scores taken from the standing position, giving Marshall the favor. The standing position scores were 377 and 387 for University of Kentucky and Marshall respectively.

Individual scores for Marshall were: Cecil Lewis, 275; Michael White, 265; Bob Taylor, 264; John Frank, 263; and Lance Win John Frank, 263; and Lance Winkler, 233.

finishers for MU were Tom Busbee and Bob Pruett. In regular season matches the Green had a 7-6-1 record.

Next year's tournament will be held at Marshall during the first week of March.

George Daniels is the only man the wrestling team will lose from this year's team.

"Overall we did real well this year," said Ed Prelaz, wrestling coach. However, Prelaz remained cautious about predicting success for next year.

"Miami and Ohio, the conference powers, are each losing five men," said Prelaz, "and so next year's tournament will be more balanced than ever before."

Season records for the individual wrestlers were: Coyer 8-5, Toler 8-4, Daniels 5-5-1, Jim May 8-3-2, Pruett 10-5-1, Busbee 11-5, Cramp 9-5, and Richard Jefferson 4-8.

JOHNSON SIGNS CAGER

Coach Ellis Johnson has signed the second MU prospective basketball player this year. Charlie Hale, a 6-6 basketball star from McArthur, Ohio, signed an MU grant-in-aid last week. The other prospect scheduled to play on the frosh team next season is 6-6 Glen Justice of Gilbert, W. Va.

Freshmen Win; Record Is 10-8

The Little Green finished the season last Saturday with a 100-89 win over the cage squad of Superior Drug.

MU's Bill Whetsell led all players in the scoring column to capture 32 points for the Little Green. Whetsell scored a total of 611 points for the year to become the highest scorer this season for the Little Green.

Bob Redd tied for second place with scoring honors with Superior's Dick Wildt, an MU varsity player last season. Both scored 24.

The Green squad hit on 72 per cent of their free throws, but made only 43 per cent of their field goals. In the rebound department, it was Redd who led with 19. The closest that anyone could come in catching Redd in rebounds was 13.

The frosh led the Superior squad in rebounds 68-50.

The win over Superior gave the Little Green a 10-8 record for the season.

Big Green Ends Worst Season As Falcons Win

By JERRY REED
Sports Editor

"It's been a long season," Coach Ellis Johnson commented before the Bowling Green clash Saturday night. And after the 106-72 defeat at the hands of the Falcons, it was apparent that the MU mentor felt that is had been even longer.

Three factors made this game something other than just an ordinary game.

1. It was the last one of the 1963-64 season.
2. It was the last one for the four seniors on the squad.
3. It marked the appearance of the nation's number one scoring leader in the Field House.

Concerning the last game, the Big Green needed the win over the Falcons in order to keep from having the poorest won-lost record in the history of the school. With the loss MU completed the season with a 6-17 mark, going below that of last year's 7-16 record.

Coach Johnson employed four seniors and a sophomore in his starting lineup for the BG clash. It was the first time this season that all four seniors received a starting berth at the same time. Paul "Butch" Clark, Jerry Roy, Larry Williams and Willie Tucker ended their careers in a Big Green uniform against the Falcons. Clark was the highest scoring senior for the game with eight points, while Williams and Tucker added four apiece, followed by Roy's two.

Bill Francis was the only Big Green cager to go over the double figure mark by scoring 23 points. Tom Langfitt, the team's leading scorer, had a cold night from the floor and only dropped in nine markers.

The big factor in the loss was the sensational scoring by Howie Komives, the Bee Gee's highly-touted performer, since he canned 45 points, 29 of which came in the second half.

Komives iced the Mid-American Conference scoring championship with his scoring display here and he ended the season with a 35.6 average in the MAC. He came out on top, ahead of Western Michigan's Manny Newsome, who had a 34.2 scoring average and who was also the scoring leader for the past two years. Komives also set a new NCAA consecutive free throw record by tossing in 50-50, surpassing the old mark of 48-48.

Coach Johnson was unavailable for comment after the game. This was the first season for the mild-mannered coach who entered this campaign with a high feeling of optimism only to have his hopes shattered because of lack of experience and depth.

Coach Warren Scholler of Bowling Green commented that the game "was a wide open affair and we were just able to take advantage of Marshall's cold hand in the first half."

"Marshall has a scrappy team with a lot of desire," Coach Scholler said, "but it just wasn't their night."

Komives was asked how he felt on becoming the highest scorer in BG history and the first to win the MAC scoring crown.

"I feel great, but actually I can't express in words how I feel," the talented guard, who has hopes of making the pro ranks, remarked.

"Of course I knew how many points I needed to win the championship," Komives commented. "How could I not know with everyone talking about it all the time?"

The series standings between these two schools now stands even with 11 wins apiece.

Season's Finale Has Action, Awards

WILD BILL Francis ended the season in fine style last Saturday. Francis scored 23 of the Green squad's 72 points.

Beavers Grab Two Intramural Championships

The Beavers, that independent intramural team, have done it again. They now own championship trophies in basketball and football.

This time they beat the SAE's No. 1 team in the championship basketball game, 43-41. It was the second time in a row this year that the SAE's have made it into the final round.

The Beavers' record in basketball was a 9-2, being beaten only by the Pi Kappa Alpha and Kappa Alpha Psi fraternities. However, in the tournament semi-finals, the Beavers avenged one of their defeats by knocking off the Pikes 55-41.

Of the four independents that made the intramural all-star team, two were Beavers. They were Marvin and Woody.

The Beavers completed their sweep in basketball last week when Rogers won the free throw contest.

In intramural football the Beavers finished the season with a perfect 10-0 record. Through the first seven games of the pig-skin season the Beavers were unscored upon. They won the football championship in a close decision (7-6) over Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

It was the first time in many years that an independent team has won two major championships in one year according to Robert Dollgener, director of intramurals.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: JESSE YOWELL, JR.

During 1962, The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia assigned Jesse Yowell, Jr. (B.S.E.E., 1959) to the Operating Engineers Training Program at Bell Labs. On finishing his study there, he'll return to his company and the increased opportunities that await him.

Jesse earned this honor by showing what he could do while a Staff Assistant in the General Engineering Department. In that job, he made decisions that involved thousands of dollars. He also established a solid reputation among company engineers for troubleshooting circuit-damaging transmission problems such as corrosion.

Jesse Yowell, Jr., like many young engineers, is impatient to make things happen for his company and himself. There are few places where such restlessness is more welcomed or rewarded than in the fast-growing telephone business.

Play Tryouts Set March 23

Tryouts for "Life With Father" will be held March 23, at 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. in Old Main Auditorium. Eight women, five men, and three boys will be chosen for the cast.

This popular comedy by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse will be presented by the Marshall University Theatre in connection with Parent's Weekend May 7, 8, and 9.

"Life With Father" achieved a longer run than any other play or musical in the history of the New York Theatre by playing 3,224 performances on Broadway. Set in the morning room of a middle class home in New York in the late 1880's, this period comedy recounts the humorous problems of the unique red-haired Day family, which consists of Father, Mother and four sons.

The play will be directed by Dr. Elaine Novak, Associate Professor of speech. The setting will be designed by Dr. Eugene Q. Hoak, professor of speech and chairman of the Speech Department. James A. McCubbin, assistant professor of speech, will be the technical director.

HONORS SEMINAR

"Psychology and the Reinterpretation of Man" was the topic of discussion at the Interdisciplinary Honors Seminar last night. The talk was given by Dr. George Ward, associate professor of psychology.

Instruction Slated In Water Safety

A water safety instructor's course is to be held May 4-15 in the men's pool in Gullickson Hall. The course is an annual offering of the Physical Education department.

To take the course you must be 18 and have achieved your senior life-saving certificate.

You may register any time up to May 4 in the Registrar's Office. Fees may be paid and the course taken for one hour credit or it may be audited.

The course will be offered Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 7 to 10 p.m.

There will also be a senior life-saving course offered April 20-30. The days, time, and credit are the same as in the water safety instructor's course.

Campus Inquirer

QUESTION: Do you use the Campus Christian Center?

Arline Roush, Letart freshman: "Yes, I do. I go to worship service occasionally. I also attend the monthly Lutheran Student Association meeting."

Jack Vogel, So. Charleston senior:

"I don't use it mainly because of three reasons. I'm carrying 19 hours, have a job, and am married. I attend the church closest to my home."

Steve Henry, Wheeling junior: "Yes. I go to worship service and attend Presbyterian and Baptist Movement meetings weekly. The center provides an atmosphere conducive to studying."

Joe Taylor, Delbarton sophomore:

"I've been there twice in the last two years for club meetings. I feel my attitude is similar to that of the student body. I just don't have the desire to use it."

1. I've been giving a lot of thought to the future—career-wise and goal-wise.

I've been pretty busy working on my hook shot.

2. As recipients of a college education, I feel it is incumbent upon us to work in areas which allow us to make a contribution to society.

Watch me dribble right around you.

3. Material reward is important, too—so long as the job is one of profound significance.

I'm a terror off the boards.

4. What's more, the company I work for must be forward-looking and encourage initiative.

Notice the feather touch on the ball.

5. How about you? What are your goals?

I'd like to score 30 against Tech.

6. I mean after graduation.

Oh, I've got a swell job with Equitable. They've got everything you're looking for. And they're a good team to work with.

See your Placement Officer for the date Equitable's employment representative will be on campus. Or write to William E. Blevins, Employment Manager.
