Repairs In New Women's Dorm Begin After $1,000 Fire Thursday

By LLOYD D. LEWIS
Staff Reporter

Repairs are now underway in the New Women's Dormitory where a fire caused an estimated $1,000 damage last Thursday morning.

Sparks from a plumber's propane welding torch ignited wrappings on two steam pipes in the north bathroom of the dormitory's first floor. The waterproof wrappings, which are placed on pipes prior to installing the insulation, burned like a fuse from the first to the sixth floor and then died.

Firemen received the alarm at 10:23 a. m. and two pumper trucks and one ladder truck were on the scene in minutes.

At the time of the fire, the plumber was "sweating" the joints together on the copper pipes.

It was originally thought that part of a tile wall would have to be removed on all six floors before the pipe wrappings were replaced, involving a much greater expenditure than $1,000.

However, after a telephone conversation with the architect in Fairmont, Southeastern Construction Co. Building Superintendent George Durden said, "only twelve tile blocks and two cinder blocks are to be removed in each bathroom in order to facilitate repairs."

Dean of Women Lillian Buskirk said she did not expect the fire to hold up progress on the building construction. The dormitory was begun last May and should be completed in the near future. There is already a waiting list for the fall semester.

While at the scene investigating the cause and insurance matters concerning the fire, Deputy Fire Chief Claude Nelson's car was decorated with a $5 double-parking fine. "This'll make a good souvenir," he quipped.

Built-in furniture units for the new dorm rooms were being moved into the building when the fire occurred. Progress was not interrupted.

Construction of the dorm, which is financed by the Federal and state governments, has been routine up to this point, said Durden.

HONOR SHAKESPEARE

The Artists Series will observe the anniversary of Shakespeare's 400th birthday with the presentation of the "Hollow Crown," a royal revue devised by John Barton and starring leading members of the Royal Shakespeare Company, at 8:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Keith-Albee Theatre.

Gullickson Hall Dedication This Afternoon

"SWEDE" GULLICKSON beams proudly as he views Gullickson Hall which was named in his honor. Formal dedication of the hall will be this afternoon at 3:30 p. m. in the main gymnasium. Professor Gullickson served in physical education and as director of the intramural program for 31 years.

Dedication Today At Gullickson Hall

Formal dedication of Gullickson Hall will be held at 3:30 p. m. today.

The name of the former Men's Health and Physical Education Building will be officially changed to Gullickson Hall with the unveiling of a plaque honoring Otto "Swede" Gullickson, former professor of physical education who retired last June.

According to Paul H. Collins, director of adult education in charge of the dedication, there will be two graduates who will speak. They are Miss Hazel Sumpter of Huntington, Class of 1935, and Eugene H. Brown of Charleston, Class of 1936.

Mrs. Jane Shepherd, associate professor of music, will sing.

A reception will be held in the south end of Gullickson Hall sponsored by the Home Economics Department.

Discussion Slated On Book-Of-Year

An informal discussion will be held on William Golding's "Lord of the Flies" at 11 a. m. tomorrow in the Campus Christian Center.

Charles G. Houston, assistant professor of English, will review the Book-of-the-Year from a literary standpoint. Dr. Elizabeth Wolf from the Psychology Department will give the allegorical significance of the book. She will also review the book from a socio-psychological approach.

Following these reviews Carolyn Fleming, a Huntington sophomore and co-ordinator of the Book-of-the-Year Commission, will lead a question-answer session. She will be assisted by Jane McCaskey and Joan Fleckenstein, Huntington sophomores and members of the commission.

Reversal Of Decision 'Unjust'--Chief Justice

The Student Court issued a statement last week in the Student Senate concerning the reversal of its decision by the university administration which had to do with the eligibility of two candidates in the general election two weeks ago.

Paul Wetherall, Huntington senior and chief justice of the court, made known the court's feelings to the student senators.

"The Student Court feels that the decision made in this case was unjust," Chief Justice Wetherall said, "because the administration seems to be guilty for the same reason that they found the court guilty."

"The Student Court," he continued, "also feels that the student's rights were taken from him, but because of this particular case and procedure we had no alternative."

However, before reading this prepared statement, Wetherall pointed out to the senators that the Student Court had heard two cases this year, and that both of them had been reversed by the administration.

The case in question was Forth versus Cross and Frost, and the proceedings and consternation which went along with it helped enliven this year's general election.

Wetherall's statement served as the one last rumble after the storm.

Richard Forth, Hurricane freshman, was the plaintiff in this case. He was represented by Virgil W. Jones, Huntington senior.

Forth's charges were originally aimed against the old Election Commission. He felt that the commission had erred in deciding the eligibility of four students to run in the general election.

One of these four candidates dropped out of contention and another one lost in the race. The other two candidates — John Cross, Huntington junior, and David Frost, Huntington freshman — were elected, so the controversy boiled down to them. Cross was elected to the presidency of the senior class and Frost captured a sophomore seat in the campus legislative body.

After this, Forth, who was an unsuccessful candidate for a sophomore senatorial post, dropped his charges against the Student Government, but he still contested Cross and Frost taking the oath of office.

And in a hearing of the Student Court, Forth's charges were upheld.

However, Danie Stewart, Barboursville sophomore who represented Cross, went to Dr. Harold E. Walker, vice president of academic affairs, with an appeal. This appeal was upheld and both Cross and Frost were sworn into office.

And the main reason why Dr. Walker ruled the court's decision illegal was that Frost did not have any defense at the time of the trial.

In other action last week in the senate, Student Body President Dick Cottrill, Huntington junior, formally announced the appointment of Francis Fabi, Monaca, Pa., junior to the position of commissioner of academic affairs.

This is a position in the Cottrill Student Cabinet and it was the first position by the new student body president. The Student Senate ratified this appointment.

The senate also ratified another Cottrill appointment last week, the second of his administration. This involved the reappointment of Tom Young, St. Marys junior, into the position of student prosecutor on the Student Court. Young had resigned this post during the Forth versus Cross and Frost case two weeks ago.

Candidates Can Campaign Here

In accordance with a policy change which now allows candidates for political office to speak on campus at the invitation of recognized campus groups, several candidates are scheduled to speak here.

President Stewart H. Smith said Monday that the former policy restricting campus speeches by candidates had been relaxed and that they could appear on campus programs.

Bonn Brown of Elkins is scheduled to speak to the Young Democrats Club at 4 p.m. today in Main 206 and Hulett Smith of Beckley is scheduled to speak at the same time and place tomorrow. Both are candidates for governor.

Earlier this semester, Harold Cutright and Cecil Underwood spoke to campus groups. Cutright spoke to the Democrat group and Underwood to the Young Republican Club.

In contrast with the earlier policy, presidential candidates John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon could not appear on campus but did talk with students on Third Avenue at 16th Street.

President Smith explained that the university did not invite or sponsor candidates but that they could appear at the invitation of student groups. Earlier this year the Student Government planned to invite all gubernatorial candidates to appear on a program for all students. This was not accomplished, however.

President Smith said he thought it a good idea for students to be able to size up the candidates.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS

Young Republican Club will meet at 4 p. m. today in Science Hall Auditorium. Six Cabell County candidates for Republican nomination to the House of Delegates will be introduced. They are: William Douglas, Robert Stepp, Mae Newman, William Mularkey, William Meachum and Carl Woodrum.

NEW SWIM HOURS

Students and faculty may swim in the pool at Gullickson Hall from 7 to 9 p. m. Wednesdays for the next four weeks instead of the regularly scheduled Monday and Thursday hours.

Speech Department Students Honored

Speech Awards Are Presented

Scholarships totalling $1,000 were awarded to 10 outstanding students last Friday night at the first annual Speech Department dinner held in the Dining Hall.

Danie Stewart, Salt Rock sophomore, and John Cross, Pt. Pleasant junior, were awarded $100 tuition grants in the debate category. Josephine Peck, Logan senior, won a scholarship in the speech correction field.

These scholarships were made possible by the financial success of three musical comedies held in recent years at Marshall by the University Theatre Group.

Three students were awarded plaques for their contributions to WMUL, Marshall's FM radio station. They are Jerry Ashworth, Huntington graduate student; Adrian Gobell, Fairlawn, N. J., senior, and Scott Ward, Spencer freshman.

Parking Headaches

New Towing System Is Now Being Used

The parking and traffic problem on campus is becoming a bigger headache every day, Stanley A. Shaw, dean of men said early this week.

Dean Shaw emphasized that a new procedure for the towing away of illegally parked cars is now in effect. A "yellow parking sticker" will be placed on the car after the towing company has been called. "After receiving the yellow ticket, the student has any one of three choices," Dean Shaw said.

First, the student can wait for the tow truck to come and pay the driver for the towing charge. Second, the student can wait until the car is towed away and then go to the towing company and pay the towing fee. Third, the student can move his car knowing that the towing truck has been called.

"However, if the student moves his car," Dean Shaw said, "he is subject to more severe disciplinary measures to be taken by the school."

"One other thing the student must bear in mind, is that after the towing truck has been called, the student must pay the $4.11 towing fee whether or not the car is moved."

Traffic infringements for which campus police may give tickets include: parking in a prohibited space, improper parking in permitted areas, parking after 11 p.m., (except by special permission or during a university function) driving the wrong way on driveways, parking or blocking driveways, no parking lot permit, failure to observe traffic signs, and fast or reckless driving. "These rules," Dean Shaw said, "are effective on all university property."

A student is allowed up to three violations of the traffic rules. On the first violation, a warning is given the student and the student must report to the Dean of Men within 24 hours.

On the second violation, the vehicle of the violator will be towed away. The towing fee must be paid by the violator. "Marshall University will not be liable for any damage to the vehicle incurred while towing," Dean Shaw said.

On the third violation, the parking permit will be revoked and the student will be referred to the University Cabinet for disposition and possible suspension or dismissal.

Honorary Formed For Journalism

The Byliners, journalism honorary, officially became the newest organization on campus last week with the recognition of its constitution by the student government.

The Byliners was formed under the guidance of John C. Behrens, instructor in journalism, for the purpose of stimulating interest and enthusiasm for newspaper work among journalism majors and Parthenon staffers.

It will work closely with the Journalism Department on its projects, the first of which will be the showing of the movie, "The Year of Destiny" in early May.

Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism honorary, has expressed an interest in taking the Byliners in as a student affiliate if the group does well in the next year.

Pledges Do Chores At Second Campus

Pi Kappa Alpha pledge class recently spent a Saturday morning improving the grounds at University Heights.

Stanley A. Shaw, dean of men, said the pledge class contacted his office and asked for suggestions for a project. Dean Shaw mentioned that the 140 acres of grounds at the university housing development required a great deal of work to be kept in good condition. The men of the pledge class responded to the call.

Dean Shaw commended the pledge class and said there were other projects he would be glad to recommend to interested pledge classes.

Band To Present Concert Tonight

A flute solo by Mary Lacy Copenhagen, South Charleston senior, will highlight the annual spring concert to be presented by the Marshall University Concert Band in Old Main auditorium at 8:15 p. m. tonight, according to Dr. Wilbur Pursley, associate professor of music and director of the concert band.

The first number of the evening will be "Fantasy in G Major" by J. S. Bach. "Prologue and March" by Walter Hartley will be next, followed by "Symphony for Bands" by Vittorio Gianini. The fourth selection of the evening will be "Fiesta of the Charros" (from Vivi Mexico) by John J. Morrissey. At this point there will be a short intermission.

The second part of the program will begin with "Night Soliloquy" by Kent Kennan. This number which will feature the flute solo. "First Suite for Military Band" by Gustav Holst will precede the final selection, "National Emblem," by E. E. Bagley.

The 54-piece band, under the direction of Dr. Wilbur Pursley, has played several concerts in the region this year including concerts before six area high school audiences. This will be the final performance of the year.

KA's South Weekend Will Begin On April 30

"The South's Gonna Rise Again" May 1 as the rebels of Kappa Alpha Order secede from the Union once again.

In their well laid strategy for the weekend the KA's have plans to take over the Marshall campus, Huntington City Hall and Cabell County.

The formal festivities of Old South Weekend will begin on Thursday, April 30 when the pledges deliver formal written invitations to the KA's southern belles.

On Friday afternoon at 2:30 University officials will turn the campus over to the Confederate-suited KAs. The KA Rose will be announced. She has been chosen from a bevy of five girls to succeed Karen Sue Young, Clendenin senior.

Those in line for the honor are Peggy Edwards, Huntington sophomore; Janet Hall, Charleston freshman; Pat Pierson, Huntington sophomore; Nancy Dejournett, Huntington senior, and Patsy Mitchell, New Town freshman. The requirement for a KA Rose candidate is that she be pinned to a KA active, according to David Howell, Huntington junior and publicity chairman.

After the formalities on campus, the KAs, their full-skirted southern belles, and their rebel yells will parade through downtown Huntington, from the campus to the City Hall. They will be accompanied to the scene of their second conquest by local high school bands.

An evening of victory celebrations will follow these rebel coup d'etats.

Saturday night things will become more formal once again and the Confederate flag will fly over the American Legion Hall where the Old South Ball will be taking place from 8 p. m. till midnight.

CIP Leaders Demonstrate

Four Marshall students, all members of the executive committee of the Civic Interest Progressives, joined a group of approximately 100 demonstrators picketing the Daniel Boone Hotel in Charleston on April 11 where U.S. Sen. Robert C. Byrd was speaking.

Participating in the demonstration were Phil Carter, chairman and Clarksburg senior; Pat Austin, Cedar Grove senior; Gloria Austin, Cedar Grove sophomore, and John Spotts, Huntington senior. The CIP is a student civil rights group.

The West Virginia State College and the Charleston chapters of the Congress of Racial Equality conducted the three-hour demonstration in protest of Byrd's position on the civil rights bill.

Saturday's demonstration was the second against Byrd in a little more than a week. An integrated group of 300 West Virginia State College students demonstrated at the Capitol in Charleston earlier this month.

Following the first demonstration Byrd said that he was not impressed by a handful of people who had probably not read the bill. Saturday a demonstrator carried a sign reading, "We've Read the Bill, Now Pass It."

Campus Briefs

STUDENT INJURED

Steve Goodman, newly elected junior senator, who was recently injured in an automobile accident is now listed in satisfactory condition at Cabell-Huntington Hospital.

Goodman is now "getting along fine" after suffering a skull fracture according to his father, Mr. E. S. Goodman.

The accident occurred in Falls Church, Va. Goodman apparently fell asleep at the wheel and the car swerved and turned over.

Goodman is an active member of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity and the Young Republicans.

SPEECH FINALISTS

Three finalists in the 102 Speech Contest will speak at the 11 a. m. convocation tomorrow in Old Main Auditorium.

They are: Orville Spaulding, Huntington; Michael Engles, Charleston, and Frances Plemons, St. Albans. The three freshmen were chosen from over 25 entrants from the various 102 speech sections.

OFFICERS LISTED

BAM ELECTS OFFICERS

BAM members will continue selling Campus Packs in the Student Union this week.

Key To Student's Problem Turned By Helpful Engineer

By BRENDA FAULKNER
Society Editor

When a student rents a locker from the Business Office he signs a receipt agreeing not to remove the lock from his locker except to return it to the office for a refund at the end of the semester.

Each year there are about 15 or 20 of these locks misplaced. This year the landlords of the locks decided to take action to prevent future losses.

Now when a Business Office lock is found somewhere other than on its assigned locker, such as on chemistry, physics, or gym lockers, measures are taken.

A foreign lock is put on the locker in question, the Business Office lock is removed by the building engineer, and a note is left for the locker owner. This informs him to report to the Business Office regarding his misdemeanor.

One day recently, during lunch hour, the Business Office phone rang. An employee answered it and was greeted by a young man who said he had been informed to report concerning his lock. The employee told him he would have to put in a personal appearance if he wanted his lock back.

The voice on the other end of the phone answered rather dismally that he had just finished a swimming class and had rushed dripping wet to his locker.

But, alas, his lock had been confiscated and one with a note left in its place.

The young man was spared what might have been a daring, dash across campus when a building engineer volunteered to help the wet young man by opening the offensive lock with a master key. Thus the dilemma was resolved.

Fourth Estate Elects Officers

The Fourth Estate, women's journalism honorary, elected officers Thursday for the coming year, according to Kay Sage, Bluefield junior and outgoing president.

The organization is open to all women majoring in journalism who have completed at least six hours in their major with a 2. average.

A banquet is planned for Sunday, May 17 when the new officers will be installed and the second semester pledges activated. Awards will be given to the woman who has contributed most consistently to the field of journalism and to the woman who has written the best story of the year for Parthenon use. The recipients of these awards are chosen by Prof. W. Page Pitt, chairman of the Department of Journalism.

Last year's awards were presented to Fran Allred, Huntington senior and present editor-in-chief of the Parthenon, as being the most consistent, and to Sandy O'Shea of Huntington, who is now fashion editor of the Charleston Gazette, as being the author of the best story of the year.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club will meet at 7 p. m. today in Science Hall Auditorium to elect new officers. The meeting will follow the weekly orientation session of the TWL group. The club will also sponsor a meeting for the parents of participating TWL students on May 9 at 5 p. m. in the North Parlor of Old Main.

Big Green Linksmen Down 'Skins' In Conference Clash

By DAVID PEYTON
Assistant Sports Editor

"We're as good as any team in there."

That was the opinion of MU golf Coach Buddy Graham after the Big Green golfers topped the squad from Miami of Ohio 14½-3½ at the Guyan Golf and Country Club last Saturday.

Graham's statement is further evidenced by the fact that the MU went into yesterday's match at Ohio University with a 7-1 record. The OU match was played after Parthenon press time.

In the Miami match, all six Marshall golfers won over their individual opponents. The top score of the day was turned in by MU's Harry Hoffer, a one-under-par 71.

Commenting on Hoffer, Graham said that "He has regained the form that he had as a sophomore." Hoffer has almost continually taken medalist honors in the matches this year.

The only other MU squad member to take all three points was Joe Feaganes. Graham commented on Feaganes by saying that "For a sophomore he is very good. He should be even more valuable to the team as he gets more experience."

Chip Woodring who has been sweeping all three points in some recent matches dropped one of his counters to Miami.

"Woodring is really better than his average is showing, I think," Graham said, "but I'm sure that his average will improve as the season progresses."

Sunday, the MU squad added two more victims to its list defeating two teams from Spring Valley County Club 14½-3½ and 12-6.

Hoffer again took three counters in both matches. Woodring and Feaganes scored 5½ points each for the Big Green with par 70 rounds of 36-34.

The MU freshman golf team lost to both Spring Valley teams 10-8 in the same series of matches.

Commenting on the team as a whole, Graham said that he felt that MU had as good a golf team as any in the Mid-American Conference.

"I feel that we have an above average team this year as teams go," Graham said. "All of the boys on the team this year have proven that they can go out on the course and shoot par anytime. It makes no difference whether it's the No. 1 man or No. 5."

Looking ahead to the MAC spring meet, May 21-23, Graham said that MU should be up near the top in golf competition. "At the spring meet," he said, "I feel that it will be a toss-up between MU, Toledo, and OU. I think that these three teams are so closely matched that the winner will be decided only by which of the three is lucky that day."

The MU squad will play its next home match Saturday against the Eagles of Morehead State College in a non-conference title.

Rockets Top Big Green 81-45; MU Takes Two First Places

By HANK COX
Sports Writer

The Marshall University thinclads suffered a convincing defeat at the hands of the Toledo Rockets at Fairfield Stadium last Saturday, 81-45.

The speedy Rockets swept the track events and three of the field events with a tie in the high jump between George Hicks of Marshall and George Cox of the Rockets.

Although the Rockets swept the field events, Marshall was seldom far behind and captured seven second place positions.

The star for Toledo was Jack Matson who won the two-mile, mile, and half-mile races and came in second in the pole vault capturing 18 points for meet honors. Chuck Friedman turned in two of the most respectable times for the drizzly day, running the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat and the 220-yard dash in 22.3 seconds.

A bright spot in the otherwise dreary day were two Marshall freshmen, Ellis Wiley and Gary Prater. Had freshmen scores counted the score would have been different for both Wiley and Prater outdistanced Matson in the mile run by a large margin.

According to Coach Kautz Marshall was hurt greatly by the lack of good distance runners. He felt Larry Butcher could have performed better had he not been entered in so many events. He plans to use him less in Thursday's meet against West Virginia Wesleyan, which he expects to be tougher than Toledo.

The results are as follows:
120-yard high hurdles — 1. Hurst (T); 2. Miller (M); 3. Odum (M), time 15.5 seconds.
440-yard relay — 1. Toledo (Gray, Finkbeiner, Gaines, Friedman).

Mile run — 1. Matson (T); 2. Butcher (M); 3. Fell (T), time 4:50.2.

440-yard dash — 1. Finkbeiner (T); 2. Tucker (M); 3. Merritt (M), time 51.4 seconds.

100-yard dash — 1. Friedman (T); 2. Gray (T); 3. Mahone (M), time 10.0 seconds.

880-yard run — 1. Matson (T); 2. Butcher (M); 3. Epling (M), time 2:06.5.

220-yard dash — 1. Friedman (T); 2. Mahone (M); 3. Gray (T), time 22.3 seconds.

330-yard hurdles — 1. Hurst (T); 2. Miller (M); 3. Odum (M), time 41.7 seconds.

Two mile run — 1. Matson (T); 2. Fell (T); 3. Hamrick (M), time 11:11.5.

High jump — (Tie) Hicks (M) and Cox (T); 3. Odum (M), height six feet.

Discus — 1. Floreck (T); 2. Berkey (T); 3. Turner (M), distance 127 feet and eight inches.

Broad jump — 1. Miller (M); 2. Bloom (M); 3. Gray (T), distance 21 feet three inches.

Shot put — 1. Berkey (T); 2. Floreck (T); 3. Turner (M), distance 41 feet six inches.

Pole vault — 1. Bentley (M); 2. Matson (T), height 13 feet.

Mile relay — Toledo (Merritt, Finkbeiner, Hurst, Friedman), time 3:37.4.

Redskins Drop Green Netters

The Big Green netters are still seeking win number two in Mid-American Conference play after dropping their third MAC tilt 8-0 at Miami University last weekend.

As the record stands now the MU tennis team, under the direction of Coach John Noble, has won three matches and lost three. Two of the wins came against non-conference foes while the third was over the Ohio University Bobcats. All three losses have come in MAC play.

The results of the Miami contest are:

Singles: Bill Thompson def. Wayne Wookey (MU), 6-2, 6-2; Ray Gates def. Lu Sammons (MU), 6-2, 6-1; Dick Meredith def. Jim Wellman (MU), 6-2, 6-0; Charles Freiburger def. Bob Brown (MU), 8-6, 6-2, and Allen Stone def. Jim Hovey (MU) 6-4, 6-1.

Doubles: Meredith and Gates downed Sammons and Wellman (MU), 6-0, 7-5, and Thompson and Bonsack upset Carroll and Wookey (MU), 6-4, 5-7, 8-6.

Tennis action slated for last Saturday against Morris Harvey was rained out and was postponed indefinitely. Arrangements are being made to reschedule this match.

The next action for the MU netters will be this Saturday when they travel to Kent, Ohio to take part in a triangular meet with Kent State and Western Michigan.

SOFTBALL GAMES SET

Three games are on tap in intramural softball competition tomorrow.

Scheduled on the intramural field tomorrow will be a game between the Jokers and the PKA's at 3:15 p.m. This will be followed at 4:15 with a game between the SPE's No. 4 team and the SAE's No. 3 team.

Also, at 4:15 p.m. on the field adjacent to Gullickson Hall, the SAE No. 1 team will do battle with the PKA's No. 1 team in softball competition.

Sports Calendar

Action gets heavier as the competition gets stronger in the spring sports program this week. Following a not too successful weekend last weekend the Big Green athletes will go at it once more beginning tomorrow.

Tomorrow: The Big Green thinclads will be given the chance to get on the winning trail when the West Virginia Wesleyan track squad makes the trip to MU. The meet will be held at Fairfield Stadium at 3:30 p.m. The MU record now stands at 0-1 after the loss to Toledo.

Friday: Only one contest gets underway today and that is the baseball game against the Western Michigan Broncos at Kalamazoo, Michigan. The MU nine had a 3-3 record before yesterday's game with Rio Grande and will be hoping to improve on this Friday.
