Play Presented At State Festival

SPEECH STUDENTS presented "The Terrible Meek", a one-act Easter play, at the State Speech and Drama Festival, Jackson's Mill, last Monday. The three characters are (from left) William Suplee, Weirton sophomore, as "soldier"; Dick Reed, Charleston senior, as "captain", and Kathy Haddad, Chesapeake, Ohio, senior, as "the woman". The play also has been presented at Johnson's Memorial Church and at last week's Convocation.

Sharrie Tillson, Nursing Student, Gains Hospital School Scholarship

By GLORIA RAHALL

Teachers College Journalist

Sharrie Tillson, Charleston junior and nursing student, has been awarded a full scholarship for graduate study from St. Joseph's Hospital School of Anesthesia in Lancaster, Pa. The scholarship will cover room, board, instruction, books, uniforms, laundry, equipment and a monthly stipend.

Being interested in graduate study, Sharrie investigated several fields and chose anesthesia. It appealed to her because it is a relatively new and highly technical field of nursing. After reading about the Lancaster school in the "American Journal of Nursing", she wrote to the school, listing her qualifications. She was invited to visit the school, which she did during the Christmas holidays. Shortly afterwards she was notified of acceptance.

According to Sharrie, the school accepts only six students each year under this program.

Her training will consist of an 18-month course with only two weeks total vacation. After one month of preliminary work, she will be assisting in the administration of anesthesia in the operating room.

Sharrie will complete her studies at Marshall in August, when she will receive an Associate in Science Degree. An honor student every semester, she has maintained a 3.35 overall average. In October, she will be required to take the State Licensing Board Examination for her registered nurse's certificate.

Following completion of the anesthesia course, she must pass a qualifying examination in order to become a certified nurse anesthetist.

Sharrie said that the hospital will help her in locating a position anywhere she wishes to go, since nursing anesthesia is a wide open field.

At Marshall she is president of the Marshall district Student Nurse's Association; past member of Alpha Lambda Delta, scholastic honorary; chairman of counselors in Prichard Hall; vice president of Little Sister's of Minerva of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and she was selected 1963 Founders Day Queen of SAE.

Student Rescues Drowning Coed

Police, Boy Friend Stand Helpless In Face Of Strong Atlantic Current

By SANDY O'SHEA
Feature Editor

Like thousands of other college students, Jim Hamilton, Williamson junior, went to Daytona Beach, Fla., for Easter vacation. But unlike the other collegiate beachers, Hamilton, who is better known on campus as "Soupbone", returned from the beach a real hero. Some lucky young coed owes her life to this quick thinking Marshall student.

Hamilton, who is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, relates that he and another PKA from the University of Kentucky were strolling down the beach about 5 p.m. when they noticed about five police cars parked near the beach and a crowd of people looking toward the ocean. Hamilton then spotted a girl about 100 to 150 yards out in the water. "She had on a sweat shirt which is naturally hard to swim in," he said, "and the undertow had evidently taken her so far out that she couldn't make her way back."

"I didn't even really stop to think," he continued, "I just stripped down to my bermudas and took off running." Hamilton explained that the ocean was so rough no one else wanted to chance it. He has his Life Saving and Instructors rating in swimming.

"It took me about 15 minutes to get out to her," he said, "and I lost sight of her several times because it was windy and the water was so choppy."

He finally reached her, however, and after he had carried her over 100 yards some of the other students on the beach came to help carry her in.

"The undertow was so swift that when I finally brought her in we were almost a block and a half farther down the beach from the point where I first went after her," related Hamilton. He said it took him another 15 minutes to get her on the shore, so the whole ordeal took approximately a half hour.

Hamilton said the girl was weak but could still walk. "I was exhausted too," he said, "and they almost had to carry me! I never even found out her name," he said.

"All I know is that she was a Kappa Gamma. She gave me a big hug and said thank you and the policemen gave me a pat on the back. Her boyfriend was especially grateful. He told me that when he noticed she was in trouble, he went for help knowing that he too would drown if he tried to go after her. When he got back she was just too far out."

"It was quite an experience," says Hamilton, "and I'll never forget it. "And the young coed, whoever she is, probably won't either. . . ."

Thousands Of Students Jam Beach In Florida During Easter 'Break'

By JERRY REED

The Easter Vacation's mass exodus took place this year in Daytona Beach, Fla., as that city's officials estimated that 65,000 college students took part in the activities planned by the town.

Many Marshall students made the trip to the "World's Most Famous Beach" and the opinion was unanimous that the trip was well worth while. Among the fraternities represented were Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Kappa Alpha, along with a number of independents.

The activities ranged from going to see Peter, Paul and Mary (one of the country's top vocal groups) to spending the night in jail. When you are in Daytona Beach this covers a wide territory.

Before most of the Marshall students arrived there was an estimated 50,000 people in Daytona Beach and 10,000 more were expected to arrive the next day. Traffic was bumper to bumper on the streets as well as on the beach and walking was just as crowded.

At various spots there were limbo parties along with many folk singing contests and, of course, the inevitable beer parties.

On Good Friday there was a service held for the college students on the boardwalk where folk singers recorded songs for a radio station and there was a minister to give the atmosphere a more serious tone.

But this was no ordinary minister. He was the "Expresso Priest" and he appealed to the college students as he gave his messages in "hip" talk and explained how he came from Detroit, Mich., to be among such a great number of young people.

The Highwaymen, another popular vocal group, appeared on the entertainment card Friday night. The big night was yet to come, however, as Peter, Paul, and Mary attracted 9,000 students into City Island Ball Park to put on a show.

A big thrill was given to many when this same group came down on the beach Easter Sunday afternoon as a national (Continued on Page 6)

Lambda Chi's Purchase New Frat Quarters

Lambda Chi Alpha's six year search for a fraternity house of their own was ended last week when they purchased a new home at 1440 Fifth Ave.

For the past three years the Lambda Chi house has been located at 1661 Fifth Ave., but according to Nye King, Huntington attorney, and board chairman of the Lambda Chi Housing Corporation, the lease on the present house will expire this summer, so it was imperative that the fraternity find a new home.

The new house will once again place the Lambda Chi's in "fraternity row", although they will not officially occupy the house until after July 1.

According to fraternity president Tom Young, St. Marys sophomore, a great deal of interior and exterior decorating will be done this summer in order to have the house ready for next fall. Young also indicated that the new house would be able to house about 30 men.

Since coming on Marshall's campus in 1946 the Lambda Chi's have owned two homes and today has a membership of about 60 members.

Topic for the next meeting is "Linguistic Principles Applied to Language Arts in the Elementary Grades." Discussion leader is Dr. A. Mervin Tyson, chairman of the Department of English.

At the first meeting of the current series held last Thursday, Mrs. Louise T. Kirby, instructor in English, spoke on "Literature for Children in the Elementary Grades." Approximately 160 teachers were present.

The final meeting on May 2 will feature a panel discussion on "Creativity in the Elementary Grades." Moderator will be Miss Lillian B. Wolfe, art supervisor of Cabell County Schools. Other participants are Mrs. Georgia F. Collins, first grade teacher at Galaher School, and Marshall University faculty members Dr. Miriam Gelvin, professor of music; Mrs. Ruby J. Kilgore, instructor in art, and Mrs. Thelma T. Smith, assistant professor of education.

This is the third year in which the department of English has sponsored the English Institute. The first year it was presented for senior high school teachers, and last year for junior high. Marshall faculty and students are invited to attend.

Campus-Pac Sale Will Aid Intramurals

Campus-pacs, valued at $4 each, will go on sale today at the bookstore and Student Union. The boxes, containing various items, will be sold for 35 cents with the profits going to the Intramural Fund.

According to Otto "Swede" Gullickson, professor of physical education, the Eugene Gilbert Co. of New York distributes 200,000 campus-pacs to various colleges annually to be sold by some organization. He explained that 25 cents of the cost would go to the fund and the additional dime was used for shipping and transportation costs.

Swede said that he had received 4,000 pacs, 2,000 for men and the same number for women. The pacs will be limited to one per student with one exception. Married students may obtain one for his or her spouse. He added that activity cards will be punched when a purchase is made.

Faculty members may obtain the pacs from John Sayre, director of development and alumni affairs.

Articles in the campus-pacs are: men's pacs — antiseptic cream; stay awake tablets; indigestion tablets; laxatives; aspirin; shampoo; hair tonic; and pipe tobacco. Women's pacs — bubble bath; deodorant pads; cold pills; indigestion tablets; laxatives; mascara wand; shampoo; and aspirin.

Swede explained that the intramural fund was $138 in debt and that medals for intramural champions had to be purchased. He expressed hopes that this sale would put the fund back on its feet.

STATEMENT ENDORSED

The Student Senate passed unanimously a resolution to endorse President Stewart H. Smith's statement condemning racial discrimination during the Senate meeting last Wednesday night. In a letter to Student Body President Ken Gainer, President Smith asked the Senate to consider endorsement of the statement; however, he said that the senators were not obligated to endorse it.

Spring Grid Drills Went Well-Snyder

By JERRY REED
Sports Editor

Spring football practice ended yesterday and according to Coach Charlie Snyder the sessions "went very well." Snyder said, "The boys had a good attitude and I feel we got a lot accomplished this spring.

"We've still got a lot of work ahead of us when we come back for the fall practices in order to get ready for our first game against Morehead, which, according to our reports, will have its strongest team in years," Snyder added.

At the quarterback position, which has been a question mark this spring due to the graduation of Bob Hamlin, Coach Snyder has made no definite decision as of yet.

"The spring game was no indication of what we really have but I do feel that (John) Griffin and (Larry) Coyer did a good job this spring," Snyder said.

The sophomore-to-be candidates who Snyder felt did a good job in the practice sessions are Howard Miller, Alex Sansosti, Gene Gatrell, Ray Henderson in the backfield and Clyde Owens, Mike Little, and Tom Good on the line.

"Don Dixon and Ron Marstaller, juniors-to-be also showed a lot of improvement," Coach Snyder pointed out.

The big problem for next season's varsity squad, according to the coach, is "the tough schedule that we face.

"Of the four teams we beat last year three of them are not on the upcoming schedule and we've added Buffalo and Miami of Ohio," Snyder added.

"We feel that all phases of the game need to be polished up as our passing game isn't what it should be, but both defense and offense must be improved," Snyder remarked.

Last year Snyder tried to employ the two platoon system in order to give his players a rest and it looks like it will be tried again.

"This spring we've had a defensive and offensive team in the backfield and we're going to try to alternate the lines," he said.

Last year Coach Snyder was plagued with not enough experienced players and he was forced to go with many sophomores and now he points out that "the sophomores' experience should make them much better players."

This loss left the MU netters with a 3-2 record with all three of the wins coming out of the conference and both losses inflicted by MAC teams.

MU Drops 2 Games

Kent Pitchers, Defense Chalk Up 9-1, 8-4 Wins

By JOE DRAGOVICH
Sports Writer

"They had a real good defense and their pitching was really great." These are the words used by coach Alvis Brown to describe Marshall's 9-1 and 8-4 losses to Kent State this past weekend on the Kent diamond.

The twin losses now gives the Big Green a 4-7 overall record and a 2-4 Mid-American record.

Kent State, led by pitchers Mike Mowchan and Gary Legg, held Marshall to a total of 10 hits and 5 runs in both games, while the Golden Flashes collected 22 hits and 17 runs.

In the first game Mowchan scattered 5 Big Green hits, while walking one man and striking out 11. Kent knocked Marshall's starter Jim Freeman for 9 hits and seven runs—five earned—in four and one-third innings.

The nightcap of the double-header saw Kent's Gary Legg silence the Big Green bats again as he allowed only 5 hits while walking 2 and fanning 8 in an abbreviated seven inning affair. Larry Tincher was the hurler for Marshall and he was bombed for 8 earned runs and 8 hits.

This weekend Marshall plays host to the Western Michigan Broncos who, as of this week, are rated in the ten top best collegiate teams in the country

Golfers Score Fourth Victory

Marshall's golf team was the only spring sports squad to win over the weekend, defeating Dayton University 24-3.

The golfers won five of six individual matches in their fourth match victory against three losses. This victory gave the Big Green squad a 3-1 record in its three-day tour of Ohio.

Bill Spensky, playing in the number six position, had the best effort of the day by carding a four-over-par 76.

Thinclads Lose By 87-37 Score

After its impressive win over the Concord thinclads last Thursday, the Big Green track team went down to defeat Saturday against Mid-American Conference foe Toledo, 87-37.

Toledo's Chuck Friedman was the high point man of the meet, scoring 18½ points and placing first in three events.

Of the 15 events, Toledo won nine and one was tied when MU's Willie Tucker and TU's Don Cleveland finished the 440-yard dash in a dead heat.

Friedman won the 100-yard dash along with the 220-yard dash and the high jump. In the 220 he nosed out MU's Jack Mahone in what proved to be the highlight of the day. Friedman ran the 220 in 20.9 seconds which is .17 of a second off the MAC mark and .93 of a second off the world record. Mahone finished just over 21 seconds.

There were two double winners in the meet as MU's Mike Hicks won the shot put and discus events and Jim Gerlack of Toledo won the mile and two-mile runs.

"One thing that hurt us was that Phil Jackson was out with a pulled muscle, Harry Parrish represented his fraternity out of town, and Brown was injured in the hurdles," Coach Charlie Kautz remarked.

"I don't think we could have beat them with these boys at their best, but we're coming along," Kautz commented.

Aerial Darts Contests Begin In Intramurals

Aerial darts contest got under way Monday in the spring intramural program with action continuing through this week.

In softball games completed, more teams racked up first round victories. Jokers No. 2 blasted ROTC 12-7, PKA No. 1 shut out SAE No. 1 11-0 and the Faculty topped the Jokers No. 1 18-15.

Thousands Jam Florida Beach

Probably the most unfortunate incident of the whole weekend was that many students had to spend a night in the Daytona Beach Jail, and if you see any sweat shirts on campus saying "I did time in the Daytona Beach Jail" don't be surprised if the persons wearing them really did.

The bonds that many were put under ranged from $1,000 for a student stealing his own motorcycle to $15 for vagrancy. One student was sleeping in a car and the police took him to jail thinking he was drunk. The boy with the motorcycle didn't have the title to his vehicle so he was put in jail. So, as well as making an income from the business district, the city made quite a haul off of the jailing business.

Students came from all over the United States as well as Canada, Hawaii and Maine to have a weekend of fun in the sun, and according to one Marshall student, "It was a real cool vacation."

Cadets Having U.S. Inspection

The inspectors will then visit the Military Science I, II, III, and IV classes to ask questions and observe the cadets. The purpose of this inspection is to determine the quality of instruction by the detachment.

Modern Art Exhibit Featured At Campus Christian Center

An exhibition of modern art by the artist, Arshile Gorky, is being shown in the Campus Christian Center until May 13. Sponsored by CBS Foundation Inc., the exhibition is circulated to educational and cultural institutions by the Museum of Modern Art in New York.

Frank O'Hara, assistant curator at the Museum of Modern Art, chose the 50 drawings from the late artist's estate.

The exhibit includes Gorky's sensitive portraiture of the 1930's, when he pioneered the use of cubism, geometric abstraction and surrealism. Also shown are many examples of his own semi-automatic linear style based on a study of nature. Many of the works are in color.

Gorky was born in 1905 in Hyotz Dzore, Turkish Armenia, a background for many themes in his later art. In 1908 his family fled the Turkish massacres, moving to Russian Transcaucasia where he studied art at the Polytechnic Institute in Tiflis.

In 1925 he moved to New York and taught art until 1931. His imaginative works were recognized early by the Museum of Modern Art in 1930. He lived in Virginia and Connecticut in the 1940's, creating his numerous studies of nature.

Although his fame was spreading rapidly, a fire in his studio which destroyed 27 paintings and subsequent physical and emotional disturbances led to despair that caused him to take his life in 1948.

The exhibition will be free to the public and can be viewed Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon.
