Major Student Fee Changes Due Senate Airing Tonight

By JAMES CASTO
Staff Reporter

A special committee is expected to recommend a major reapportionment of the Student Activity Fee at tonight's Student Senate session.

Claren Brooks, Pittsburgh, Pa., sophomore and chairman of the committee; Frank Dent, Charleston senior; and Becky Goodwin, St. Albans senior, will report on their study of the fee.

Such a reapportionment would be in line with a resolution passed at last week's Senate meeting. This measure stated that the fee should be recognized as a direct benefit to each individual student and "as a means by which the individual student gains directly more value than he would if the activity fee were not paid."

During its study of the fee the committee consulted with the organizations and departments which benefit from the fee at present.

Formal recommendations to the committee included an increase in the Student Union fee, an increase in the Chief Justice allocation, and the addition of a Speech Activities fee. This Speech Activities fee would help to cover the costs of the annual spring musical.

During its study the committee compared the Marshall Student Activity fee with those of the other state colleges and universities. With a fee of $21 a semester or $42 a year, Marshall ranked below the state average of $45 per year. Over the state the fees range from a low of $23 per year to a high of $56 per year.

Besides comparing the size of the total fee at the various schools, the committee also looked into how the fee was apportioned at the various colleges and universities.

At present the fee per semester includes:

Athletic fee	$ 7.50
Medical fee	1.75
Student Union	2.00
Assemblies-Forums	1.50
Artist Series	3.00
Chief Justice	2.00
The Parthenon	2.00
College Theatre	.50
Student Government	.50
I. D. card	.25
Total	$21.00

Downstairs Cafeteria To Open For Only Two Lunch Periods

By KAREN AMEND
Staff Reporter

Beginning Monday the downstairs dining room in the main cafeteria will be closed except Tuesday and Thursday lunch periods. It is remaining open on these days only because there are no 11 o'clock classes and the overflow of students creates a rush, according to William Spotts, director of food services.

The decision was made in order to cut down expenses resulting from the operation of food services in two buildings. At present only about 100 students eat downstairs on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. This is approximately 200 persons less than in previous years.

Mr. Spotts says this decrease has been caused by freshman who now have their own cafeteria in the men's dormitory. In the past, this number of students would have used the main cafeteria.

Because of the usual second semester decrease in students living on campus and the availability of the cafeteria in the dormitory, the director feels that closing the downstairs service will not inconvenience the students or faculty.

Mr. Spotts was asked if this would cause any delay in service. He replied, "I already stated that there will be no inconvenience."

When asked if the faculty would still be permitted to eat downstairs, he said no.

He was then asked if the downstairs would be used for special occasions. "It will only be opened for lunch on Tuesdays and Thursdays," he said.

Mr. Spotts explained that the downstairs will reopen only if business increases.

$66,897 Is Earmarked For Salary Increases

By LARRY ASCOUGH
Staff Reporter

Only $66,897 will be available for faculty and staff increments in the 1962-63 university budget and another $60,000 has been earmarked for library improvements, according to President Stewart H. Smith.

These two appropriations highlight the West Virginia Legislature's approval of $2,821,450 for Marshall University in 1962-63. This is an increase of $212,774 over the current budget of $2,608,676, President Smith said.

He pointed out, however, that Marshall had received a $224,931 increase last year, so the school had not fared as well as he had hoped. Marshall originally had requested $3,238,732 but the State Board of Education and the Board of Public Works trimmed the request.

FLOOD WALL TAX INCLUDED

Marshall's 1962-63 budget includes appropriations for the annual flood wall tax, four main expense categories and two special projects.

The university pays a $3,200 flood wall tax each year, President Smith said.

The four categories include personal services, current expenses, repairs and alterations, and equipment.

A sum of $2,338,180 was appropriated for personal services, an increase of $108,279. This includes an increase of $66,897 for staff increments and $41,382 for new staff positions. President Smith again pointed out, however, that the increase was only about half of the $224,931 increase in this category last year.

An increase of $4,533 was shown in the $240,433 appropriation for current expenses.

Repairs and alterations took a decrease of $678. There was an allotment of $67,122 in this category.

EQUIPMENT GETS INCREASE

A total of $97,515 will be available for equipment next year, an increase of $25,650. This was the largest increase in this department for many years, according to President Smith.

Next year's budget also provides funds for two special projects—$15,000 for the Mason County Teacher Education Project and $60,000 for a renovation of the third floor of the library. President Smith expressed surprise at the latter appropriation. He said the university had requested additional library funds for the last few years but the allotment had come unexpected at this time.

RENOVATION IN 2ND STEP

Harold W. Apel, head librarian, said the renovation was actually the second step in a three or four-stage plan to adapt the entire building for library purposes. He explained that the plan had been submitted to the legislature in 1956 and the first stage, moving the circulation department and offices to the first floor, had been completed in 1957. The third and fourth steps include the remodeling of the ground floor for library use when other suitable quarters are provided for the Journalism Department and installing general air conditioning for the building.

The third floor renovation calls for tentative plans for installing 8,000 linear feet of shelving. The walls and ceiling must be refinished in addition to the installation of required insulation, adequate lighting and suitable ventilation. The renovation might also include study carrels for graduates and advanced undergraduates, Mr. Apel concluded.

ate students and advanced undergraduates, Mr. Apel concluded.

MONEY SET FOR SALARIES

The money appropriated for the Mason County Teacher Education Project will probably pay the salaries of supervisors of the program. An exact breakdown of the appropriation for this project is not yet available but there will be several supervisors from Marshall and several from Mason County, according to Eric V. Core, associate professor of education and one of the supervisors.

Professor Core said the program is an attempt to improve teacher education through the co-operative effort of Marshall University, the State Board of Education and the Mason County Board of Education.

The State Board of Education also received $15,000 to aid in their part of the program.

Illustrious Past For New Flag

A 50-star flag that has flown over the United States capitol building is now flying over the Marshall University campus.

The VFW Post 1064 of Huntington presented the flag to the school. Ralph Honaker, post commander, made the presentation.

In addition to the flag which was flown here for the first time yesterday, President Stewart H. Smith also accepted a letter addressed to Ken Hechler, U. S. Congressman, from J. George Stewart, architect of the capitol, certifying that the flag had been flown there.

Convocation Tomorrow To Feature Dr. Evans

By MARGIE WILLIAMS
Campus Editor

Dr. Bergen Evans will speak on "The Responsibilities of Being Intelligent" at convocation tomorrow.

Dr. Evans is best known to the general public for his appearances as a panelist and master of ceremonies on many television shows. Beginning with "Majority Rules" in 1949, he has appeared on various shows such as "Down You Go" and "The Last Word." He is also known to the radio audience for his talks entitled "Of Many Things."

His talks are a combination of learning and wit. They are serious in content but are light in tone. Dr. Evans is an advocate for what he believes to be the truth, but his advocacy is presented with humor, tolerance and common sense.

Man, according to Dr. Evans, may be living in the atomic age but his mind is still cluttered with superstitions and illogical beliefs that would have shamed a reasonably bright caveman.

Besides writing "The Natural History of Nonsense," he has written for many newspapers and magazines. His articles have appeared in magazines such as the Atlantic Monthly, Harper's, The New Republic, Esquire, Vogue and Life. Recently he has written, in collaboration with his sister, "A Dictionary of Contemporary American Usage," a guide to current correctness in American English. The book has been described by the New York Times as "a linguistic declaration of independence" and selected as a dividend by the Book-of-the-Month Club.

Dr. Evans was born at Franklin, Ohio, and received his B.A. from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, in 1924. He received his M.A. in 1925 and Ph.D. in 1932 from Harvard. He attended Oxford in England as a Rhodes scholar from 1928 to 1931. Here he was awarded the B. Litt. in 1930. Dr. Evans has been a professor of English at Northwestern University since 1932.

First Career Conference Is Slated For March 1-2

By FRAN ALLRED
Assistant Campus Editor

The first Federal Career Conference in the state of West Virginia will be held in the ballroom of the Student Union March 1-2. More than 50 high school guidance counselors, five college and university placement officers, and representatives from 20 federal agencies will be on campus for the two-day meeting.

The conference will begin at 10 a.m. March 1 with a private showing of exhibits to faculty, administration, and guests. A guest from the Civil Service Department in Washington will speak at a luncheon in the university dining hall.

At 1 p.m. the exhibits will be open to students who may talk with the representatives and obtain literature concerning the individual agencies. The displays will remain open until 7:30 p.m. March 1. Students will be able to visit the displays and counsel with the representatives from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. March 2.

Also included in the program will be a coffee hour, prepared by the Home Economics Department and financed by the student Hospitality Commission, for guests at the conference.

Government personnel attending the meeting will be available for classroom lectures and discussions.

Included among the guests will be William T. Kesserlinger, recruiting representative for the Third Region Civil Service office in Philadelphia; R. H. Smith, college relations representative from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base; Mervin Shumate, representing the Food and Drug Administration of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare and Charles T. Dippert, a representative of the Social Security Administration in Baltimore.

Robert P. Alexander, Director of Placement and the originator of the conference, said he hoped that at least 75 per cent of the student body would participate in the conference activities.

Personnel from many other federal agencies will participate including representatives from the Central Intelligence Agency, Department of State, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Collins Is New Radio Director

Roy Lee Collins, Huntington junior, has been recently appointed to the post of program director of WMUL, Marshall's student-operated radio station. The appointment was announced by Stephen D. Buell, director of educational broadcasting, and Jerry Ashworth, WMUL station manager.

Collins

The post of program director created to meet the expanding needs of WMUL's increasing schedule, according to Ashworth. Formerly both posts were combined.

Collins' duties will include supervision of all station operation and responsibility for planning of all station programming.

Collins is a music major with a minor in speech. His wide musical background has enabled him to plan the programming of classical music which has become WMUL's trademark. He formerly was musical director and Engineering manager of the station. He is also a student assistant in the Speech Department, and assists beginning students in radio broadcasting.

SOCIETAS PARTY TONIGHT

Societas, independent sorority, will have its first rush party to-night from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. upstairs in the Student Union. The theme of the party will be "Dog-patch USA". The second party will be announced later. Pledging ceremonies will be conducted Mar. 3.

QUESTION: What do you think of hazing?

Brenda Evans, Beckley freshman:

I do think it is wrong. I think the people who practice it should think of the law, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Bill Brown, Martins Ferry freshman:

I think hazing should be banned. It destroys all the dignity and principles that man should hold on campus and in life in general.

Steve Quesenberry, Beckley freshman:

I feel that hazing should be banned on all campuses. It goes too far and has a tendency to become too unfair and too rough.

Larry Smith, Huntington sophomore:

I don't think it should be practiced. Hazing isn't fair to the person who has to go through an organizational initiation and can cause injury and humiliation.

Dinner Is Planned To Honor Brewster

Raymond Brewster, executive editor of the Herald-Dispatch, will be honored with a testimonial dinner March 5, at the Hotel Frederick.

A committee has planned the event to commemorate his 21 years of "unselfish service to education, plus his many contributions to our community that have merited city, county, and statewide recognition."

Tickets will be on sale at the Journalism Department and at the Office of Adult Education. The charge is $5 a person.

Scabbard, Blade Initiates 10 Men

The Scabbard and Blade organization of the ROTC Battle Group staged its formal induction of new members recently at the Hotel Frederick.

The new members are: John Cash, Huntington junior; James Crosby, White Sulphur Springs junior; Richard Denison, Vienna junior; Robert Duckworth, Parkersburg junior; Lawrence Gravely, Herndon junior.

Tired MU Falls To Broncos, Plays Morehead Tomorrow

By GEORGE ARNOLD
Sports Editor

Four days of rest! And this time it's in Marshall's favor.

For the first time in almost three weeks the university basketball team will take to the hardwood after enjoying a longer break between games than the opposing team. MU, visibly weak in a 78-74 loss to Western Michigan last Saturday after playing seven games in 15 days, takes on high-scoring Morehead College tomorrow night at 8:15 p.m. at Memorial Field House.

The Eagles, winner in 12 of 17 contests this season, traveled to Western Kentucky Monday night and, consequently, should be a little worse off in the wear-and-tear department than Marshall.

That, however, is the lone advantage the Big Green holds over the visiting cagers from the Ohio Valley Conference.

TALL AND FAST

Morehead boasts a tall, strong and speedy team and it has one of the nation's leading scorers in guard Granville Williams. "Granny," a 5-11 senior and the smallest member of the starting five, has a 26.6 scoring average and has made as many as 48 points in one game this season.

Coach Jule Rivlin wasted no words in summing up his opponents:

"They're the defending OVC champs; they won two games in the NCAA playoffs, and they have four of their first six ball players back from last year's team. Need I say more?"

Joining Williams in Coach Bob Laughlin's starting lineup tomorrow night will be 6-8½ Ed Noe at center, 6-9 Norman Pokley and 6-4 Bob Hoover at forwards, and 6-4 Cecil Clair at guard. Noe has a 13.7 average and a part-time starter, guard William Thompson, is hitting at a 10.3 clip.

WHALE OF A GAME

Coach Rivlin was, of course, disappointed with the Big Green's defeat at Kalamazoo, Mich., over the weekend, but he wasn't dismayed with his team's performance.

"Our boys played real good basketball," Riv said. "We shot 50 per cent and played a whale of a game. It's just that the bounce of the ball went their way."

The tired Big Green had two turnovers with 40 seconds remaining which proved costly. At the time MU was trailing by just four points and managed to get its hands on the ball twice. But it lost possession each time on turnovers and the Broncos ran the clock out.

Marshall led 14-9 early in the game but WMU soon recovered for a 41-39 halftime edge. It was all tied up at 47-47 in the second half but the Broncos' leading scorer swished two 20-footers and the victors soon built the margin back up to eight points, and withstood a late MU rally for the victory.

BURGESS TOPS AGAIN

Captain Bob Burgess was the top Big Green performer for the third game in a row. Big Bob led both teams in scoring with 23 points and tied for game rebound honors with 10.

"Burgess is now playing the way we expected him to play all year," Rivlin commented. "He's looking like the great ball player we always knew he was."

Marshall's second top scorer was Mickey Sydenstricker with 23. Phil Carter, who saw limited action due to a recent illness, came off the bench to tally 11, and guard Jody Sword bagged eight before fouling out midway in the second half. Dick Wildt also scored eight in the loss.

Woodruff led four double figure scorers for Western Michigan with 22.

Coach Sonny Allen's freshman team will meet Mountain State College of Parkersburg in a preliminary game tomorrow night at 6:15 p.m.

Golf, Tennis Practice Begins; Wilson Schedules Team Meet

The university track and tennis teams have gotten practice under way for the coming season.

Golf Coach Neal B. (Whitey) Wilson has called a meeting of prospective players for tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the Men's Health and Physical Education Building, and plans to get down to serious training following the organizational meet.

Only two seniors are returning from last year's successful golf squad. The two seniors are co-captains Jim Ward, undefeated through the regular season, and Pete Byer, Mid-American Conference champion and quarter-finalist in the NCAA tournament last year.

Coach Wilson expects little help from junior prospects this year, but a star-studded sophomore field is expected to take up the slack. Leading the promising sophomores is former Huntington High golfer, Harry Hoffer, state champ his senior year.

Other sophomore prospects include Chip Woodring of Hazelton, Pa., Dave Whipkey of Huntington, Bill Spensky of Weirton and Fred Barnes of Huntington.

Tennis practice began last Monday on the courts behind the men's gym. Coach Ray Cumberland has announced a 15-game schedule and hopes to increase it to 20 matches by next month. The net team opens its season March 30 in a home match against Kent State.

All students interested in trying out for either the freshman or varsity golf and tennis teams may do so by contacting the coaches at Athletic Department offices.

Intramural Basketball Playoffs Are Started

The last week of regular season Intramural basketball saw two final games played before the tournament started Monday.

On Feb. 15 the KayVees pulled through a 51-49 victory over the Frosh, and Jokers No. 3 won over Beavers, 68-44, with Tom Davidson pacing the winners with 27.

Fifteen teams are entered in the double elimination tourney which got underway Monday. The first round paired SPE No. 2 vs. SAE No. 3; Frosh No. 1 vs. Jokers No. 1; PKA No. 1 vs. Jokers No. 3; SPE No. 1 vs. Ma's Boys; Jokers No. 2 vs. PKA No. 2; Engineers vs. Beavers; Jokers No. 4 vs. KAY No. 2; and Jokers No. 5 drew a bye.

For those wishing to compete in minor sports there are tournaments being run off in the Student Union. Pocket billiards have just started along with checkers, chess, cribbage, hearts, and bridge. As soon as the results of these contests are available they will be published in the Parthenon.

Practical Joke Misfires As Student Blacks Out

This is a story about a young man, a fraternity, and a practical joke. It happened last Thursday around midnight.

The young man was on the second floor of the fraternity house when some noises were heard outside the house. He and several other fraternity brothers went outside to investigate. They did not find anything.

"When we returned to the house, I got my books and began studying in the dining room on the first floor," the student said.

There was a noise outside the window. A dog barked.

"I ran upstairs and got two fraternity brothers. Again we investigated, but could find nothing. We even checked the basement."

For the third time, the student settled down to do his homework. A fraternity brother came into the room and pulled the drapes open. Another sat down at the dining room table and struck up a conversation.

"I started to get up to close the drapes," the young man recalled. "Suddenly there was this horrible face staring at me."

He screamed and broke a chair as he ran toward the stairs. Halfway up the stairs he collapsed. No one is sure just how long he blacked out. Perhaps a minute. Perhaps two minutes.

"I remember that when I regained consciousness," he says, "there were five or six fraternity brothers crowded around me. For quite a while I couldn't move or speak."

When he was able to stand up, he noticed the front door open and in walked someone wearing the horrible mask.

It was a fraternity brother. And it had been a "practical" joke.

A Prank May Not Be Funny

A practical joke is always good for a laugh—or is it?

A particularly absurd prank furnishes a good story to tell for years to come, as any alumnus will admit.

But what about the "prank" that ends in tragedy? That, too, will be something to remember for years to come, with great regret.

Any practical joke which involves a "victim" provides a laugh at the expense of another person's feelings. In such a situation, there is always one unknown factor—the reaction of the person who is on the receiving end of the prank.

It's no fun to stop and think of possible consequences when a practical joke is being planned. But it's even less enjoyable to be responsible, however unintentionally, for an accident or a death.
