Student Interviews JFK's Press Aide

By SANDY O'SHEA
Feature Writer

How does one go about getting a personal interview with Pierre Salinger, President Kennedy's press secretary? He borrows a dollar, hitch-hikes to Washington and works his way into a special White House press conference.

Pat McDonald, Huntington sophomore, did exactly that. He said, "I borrowed a dollar from a fraternity brother, polished up my 'trusty' thumb, and at 5:30 P.M. Friday, I walked out in front of the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity house, picked up a ride, and left for Washington." Five rides and 13 hours later, he arrived at his destination.

PAT McDONALD
... Borrowed A Dollar

The trip was made to get information for an oratorical speech contest and a term paper. McDonald's father works for the Associated Press in Miami, Florida, so he first went to the AP office in Washington. There he met Mr. Lee Garrett, who "just happened" to know his father.

WENT TO WHITE HOUSE

Mr. Garrett tried to get McDonald an appointment with Mr. Salinger but was told it "was impossible". "So," McDonald says "I went on over to the White House to take my chances."

At the White House, he telephoned the A. P. room. Arrangements were made for him to be admitted to the press conference.

Once inside, McDonald noticed a group of reporters interviewing the governor of Colorado. He joined them and learned of the resignation of three U. S. ambassadors and of another story not to be released until three days later.

McDonald was admitted to Mr. Salinger's office where the press conference was to be held. Salinger called reporters from 10 U.S. newspapers into his office and McDonald remained there for the conference.

GETS HIS INTERVIEW

After the reporters had gone, McDonald interviewed the press secretary for 15 minutes. During the interview Salinger received a call from the British Embassy requesting a luncheon date for that day. The government official replied, "I'm much too busy right now—maybe tomorrow."

Before leaving Washington, McDonald said he was given a personal tour of the White House by President Kennedy's private secretary, Barbara.

At 2 p.m. Saturday, McDonald went again to the highway; six rides and 14 hours later he found himself in front of the TKE house—his starting point. In his pocket was the same one dollar bill he had borrowed for his trip.

McDonald said of his experience, "I got the information and that's the important thing!"

JUDY CIPOLETTI
... Wins Title

Carnival Queen Is Judy Cipoletti With 260 Votes

Judy Cipoletti, Wellsburg sophomore, sponsored by the Interdorm Council, was voted Spring Carnival Queen in last week's election by a total of 260 votes. Joyce Jarrett, Nitro junior, sponsored by Alpha Xi Delta, was the runner-up with 233 votes. Miss Cipoletti is majoring in advertising.

She has been on the Interdorm Council for two years and now holds the office of treasurer.

A big weekend is in store for Miss Cipoletti. Friday night she will reign at the mix held in her honor at the Student Union. The Dynamos, a four-piece band from Salem College, will provide music. Saturday at 1 p.m. she will escort the three judges, who will be faculty members, on a tour of the booths set up in the Women's Gymnasium. At these booths will be caricature drawings, pie throwing, foul-shooting, ringtoss, and a pastry stand. The cost of this carnival is 25 cents, which entitles the person to five tickets. Any additional tickets will be five cents each. There will be 22 booths set up by different organizations. One-fifth of all money received will go to the Student Government, with each organization receiving 4 cents for every 5-cent ticket spent at its booth.

Winding up the Carnival Weekend will be a semi-formal dance at the Riverside Club. Here Miss Cipoletti will be presented with a trophy, flowers, and a charm bracelet by Gary McMillan, the student body president-elect.

The dance will be from 9 a.m. until 1 a.m., and the tickets are now on sale at the Student Government Office at $2 per couple.

This will be the first Spring Carnival Weekend held here at Marshall since 1953. Both students and townspeople are invited to attend this carnival, but only students are allowed to attend the dances.

Dr. Miller, Dyer, Stuart Due Honor On May 27

By JOHNNY HINES
Editor-in-Chief

Three prominent persons will have honorary degrees conferred on them at the Commencement exercises held here on May 27, President Stewart H. Smith announced Monday.

The three men are Dr. Paul A. Miller, president of West Virginia University and Commencement speaker here, Dr. Newman H. Dyer, director of the West Virginia Board of Health, and Jesse Hilton Stuart, Poet Laureate of Kentucky.

The awarding of the honorary degrees was approved by the Faculty on Honorary Degrees Committee, President Smith and by the West Virginia State Board of Education.

Dr. Miller, who will receive an honorary Doctor of Laws degree, is the fifteenth president of WVU. He was named to the post last Nov. 15 and assumed his duties on Jan. 15. He will be inaugurated at festivities there today.

Dr. Miller took over the post left vacated by now Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr. Prior to this he was provost at Michigan State University.

Dr. Miller is a 1939 graduate of WVU receiving a B.S. in agriculture. He specialized in the fields of animal husbandry and agricultural chemistry.

He received a master's degree in 1943 in anthropology and sociology from Michigan State. In 1953 he received the Ph.D. degree from Michigan State in the same fields.

During World War II Dr. Miller was a first lieutenant in the United States Air Force. He served in air transport in South America, India and Central and North Africa.

His professional affiliations include the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts and Letters, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Society for the History of Technology, and the Society for Applied Anthropology.

Born in East Liverpool, Ohio, Dr. Miller was raised in Newell, W. Va. He is married to the former Cathrine Spiker of Harrisville, W. Va. They have two children.

Dr. Dyer will receive an honorary Doctor of Public Administration degree. He has been State Health Commissioner since September, 1946.

Dr. Dyer was born in Webster County and educated in public schools there. He received a B.S. degree from WVU, an M.D. from the University of Maryland, and the MPH degree from the University of Michigan.

He has been a public school teacher, a practicing physician, a medical director and plant physician in industry, consultant at Charleston Memorial Hospital, Chief of Medical and Health Services Division of West Virginia.

He has been a special consultant to the Surgeon General, Fellow of the American College of

Church Will Give Free Taxi Rides

The Westmoreland Baptist Church has started a program in order to get more students to attend church. Taxi transportation will be provided by the church.

Anyone who wants to attend services must contact Kenneth Lee Pack, JA 2-1665. He will make the necessary arrangements with the cab company and students.

The church also is forming a college Sunday School class.

GERMAN CLUB SET

Miss Christine Deppe of Wolfshagen, Germany, an exchange student at Huntington High, will be made an honorary member of the German Club at 7:15 p.m. tomorrow.

The program is "Austrian Film Evening" and will consist of two films, "Vienna In Summer" and "Meeting In Salzburg". Dr. Walter H. Perl, associate professor of German, will introduce the films.

A general business meeting and election of new officers will precede the program.

State Board OK's Activity Fee Hike

The State Board of Education has given its approval to the recent increases voted by the Student Senate in the Student Activity Fee.

University President Stewart H. Smith has already given his OK to the hike of $2.90.

The increase will make for a total fee of $23.90 per semester.

The new apportionment would include a $7.50 athletic fee, a $1.75 medical fee, $4 for the Student Union, $1.50 for convocations and forums, a $3 Artist Series fee, $2.25 for the Chief Justice, $2 for The Parthenon, 50 cents for University Theatre, 25 cents for the band, 25 cents for WMUL, 15 cents for the debate squad, 50 cents for student government, and a 25 cent I.D. card fee.

Coeds Win Top Spots In Pageant

This year's junior Homecoming Queen Judy Turner, was selected from a field of six Friday night as Miss Huntington of 1962. Sarabeth Grant, Huntington freshman, was named runner-up in the Huntington Jaycee-ett's annual contest.

Miss Turner, a member of Sigma Kappa social sorority, did a Mexican dance as her three minute routine in the contest. The contestants also were judged on swimsuit and evening gown appearance.

A Spanish major, Miss Turner won the right to represent the city in the Miss West Virginia contest to be held in Charleston July 11-15. The winner will go to the Miss America Pageant held in Atlantic City, N. J., later in the summer.

Active in student government and community functions, Miss Turner has held various beauty titles. In addition to being the junior queen, she has been Miss Civil Air Patrol, Sigma Alpha Epsilon Queen, W. Va. Tobacco Queen and runner-up to Miss Armed Forces.

She also sings in a professional quartet, "The Coeds," under contract to International Theatrical Agency.

Miss Grant, a freshman, did a flapper routine in her three minute segment. An elementary education major, she was runner-up in the recent Miss CJ contest.

Judges at Friday's contest were Dorothy Jean Schroeder of WSAZ-TV, Ann Connolly of WHTN-TV, Mrs. Mary Elliot, Cabell County Sheriff Harold Frankel and State Senator Lyle Smith.

Interest Increases In AIDE Program

The Huntington Belford Chapter has the largest success thus far in the Alumni Interest for Development of Education (AIDE) campaign, according to John Sayre, director of development and alumni affairs. Of 202 pledges, 89 have given gifts with 113 pledges remaining.

The AIDE campaign has increased the participation from 12 per cent to 28.9 per cent at this date with more gifts to be given.

In the Southside region of Huntington, AIDE has received 67 of 69 possible gifts and an increase in participation of 7.7 per cent to 18.5 per cent. These are just two of the seven Huntington chapters.

The total at this point in the campaign shows that of 888 pledges, 352 have contributed.

Before the AIDE campaign the dollar amount was $2583.29. The total amount is now $4577.09.

5 Initiated In ODK; Smoker Set Today

Five new members have been initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa, junior and senior men's leadership honorary.

They are David Ballard, Ashland, Ky., senior, and four juniors: William Calderwood of Charleston, Joseph Hughes of Moundsville, William Harman of Huntington, and Gary McMillan of Vienna.

A smoker will be held at 4 p.m. today upstairs in the Student Union for the five initiates to meet ODK members.

Meet Miss Huntington, Runner-Up

JUDY TURNER (LEFT) Huntington junior, and Sarabeth Grant, Huntington freshman, were first place and second place winners respectively in the annual Miss Huntington Pageant. Miss Turner won the right to represent Huntington in the Miss West Virginia contest in Charleston this summer. The winner there will go to the Miss America Pageant.

Greek Sing To Be Outdoors; Date For Event Is May 13

The annual Mother's Day Sing, held in conjunction with Parent's Week End, is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. May 13. If the weather is favorable, the Sing will be held on the lawn in front of the Shaw-key Student Union. If not, it will take place in the new gymnasium.

Each greek organization will sing one fraternity song and one non-fraternity song. The first and second place winners of both the sorority and fraternity divisions will receive trophies donated by the Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils.

The Mother's Day Sing Commission has met each Monday during the past several weeks and has been making plans for an improved event this year.

Nancy Wood Deserves Student Body's Thanks

The new officers of the Student Government will take office at tonight's Senate session.

The large margin of votes racked up by the winning presidential and vice presidential candidates should not lead the students to assume that the election was a "snap".

This year's election was a hard-fought one between two sets of capable candidates.

The large margin of victory by the winners is not the only unusual feature of the contest. The new officers won in a campaign that was unique for the large number of candidates running for office and for the enthusiasm of the candidates in their campaign.

It was a colorful campaign with bright signs, talkative politicians and all the rest of the features of that unusual institution, the election.

Spring would not be spring on campus without the annual elections. Despite the light turnout of voters, the level of interest in the elections and in student government itself has reached a new high.

The Parthenon hopes that this enthusiasm will remain with the new officers throughout their coming term. We hope even more that it will remain with the student body as a whole.

With the new Student Government elected, now is the time to view the efforts and the accomplishments of this year's administration under Student Body President Nancy Wood.

We feel that this year's administration has been an increasingly active and dedicated group. The Senate has shown a willingness to work hard and has not avoided new ideas, as so often happens with such a group.

This would not have been possible without a spirit of co-operation on the part of everyone working in Student Government.

As Gary McMillan, who will be taking office as the new president tonight, has pointed out, this is a spirit that in past years has been all too lacking.

McMillan has expressed the hope that this co-operation will be continued next year and this is a hope that we heartily second.

Co-operation is essential to the success of any group, but there is another quality that is equally essential. That quality is leadership.

This year's Student Government has been fortunate in having Nancy Wood for a leader.

Barry Cohen, secretary of the Publications and Public Relations Committee, has credited Miss Wood with "a tremendous job of organizing" and "a constant conscientious effort toward a more efficient Student Government."

This is a statement with which The Parthenon is in total agreement. This year's administration has continued a trend of the last few years that has resulted in a Student Government that is more dedicated, more responsible, and more willing to serve all the students.

By all standards this past year has been a successful one for Student Government. This means that in turn it has been successful for the student body as a whole.

The large number of candidates in the spring elections and the enthusiasm of the campaign indicate that there is an increased campus interest in the activities of Student Government. To a large extent this is due to the efforts of Nancy Wood. She deserves a "well done" and the thanks of the entire student body.

'Bombs' Blown From Campus

A NEAR MISS was the result of last Wednesday's "bombing" of the campus by Student Body President Gary McMillan, Parkersburg junior, and Vice President Walt Cosby, White Sulphur Springs junior, as they attempted to drop leaflets from a plane to bolster their campaign for the annual election. However, an ill wind blew no good, and the leaflets instead pelted the neighborhoods adjoining the campus. McMillan, who won the election despite this misfortune, is shown in the plane, although he was not aboard when the leaflets were dropped.

Famed Astronomer Gives Answers To Queries On Life On Other Planets

By MIKE WOODFORD
Staff Reporter

Dr. Harlow Shapley, distinguished American astronomer, presented two lectures on campus last week. The first was on the subject, "Science Ponders Religion," while the second was on "Galaxies and Man's Place in the Universe."

The following questions were asked of Dr. Shapley by students at an informal session at the Student Christian Center Thursday afternoon.

Q. What is the relation between science and religion?

A. All nature is God and all God is nature. Science and religion are both related because they are both seeking the truth. Nature is the supreme being, but this does not tell the whole story. We can never tell where the basis of life came from in the first place. There is no Heaven or Hell except that which we live through on earth. As far as the Bible goes, it is a metaphoric writing full of symbolism and should not be used as a science text.

Q. Why do you think there is life on other planets?

A. Because we have discovered that life is a natural process, and through biochemistry and geo-chemistry have discovered how to go from the inanimate to the animate through the Stanley Miller Process. (Editor's Note: In this process the exact compounds which first were formed on earth were produced in a laboratory and subjected to the same influences as they were millions of years ago. It was found that these compounds, when so treated, formed the amino acids which must be present to support and bring about life.) Life builds up from hydrogen atoms, and the animals on other planets may be very different because of being subjected to such things as radio fields, strong magnetic fields, and ultra-violet and infrared rays. They have probably evolved with sense organs to detect such natural phenomena, and because of this, are probably much farther advanced than us.

Q. What do you think we will find in space?

A. Travel into space is far in the future. We don't really know what we will find on other planets. Right now the idea of man in space is distant because of the many problems he must face once he begins his trip. We can't say what the animals on other planets will be like, although we can get an idea from over one million different species on our own earth. The way it looks now, if we left on a trip today, our great grandchildren would reach the nearest planet with life on it.

Q. Does man have an after-life?

A. I doubt that man has a soul as we understand it. Man lives on after death as a personality or influence.

9 Journalism Majors Expect To Graduate

Some Already Have Lined Up Newspaper And Magazine Jobs

Seven staff members of The Parthenon are expecting to graduate in May or August and two already have graduated. Of the nine, seven journalism majors will receive an A.B. in Journalism. Two others are Advertising-Journalism majors and will get a B.S. in Advertising.

All the students have received practical experience working on the staff of The Parthenon. As a part of the fulfillment of their requirements, they have served as reporters, copy editors, telegraph editors and photographers.

All have worked with tabloid size newspapers and eight-column papers in regular page makeup.

The two who have graduated are Susan Langstaff and Lindsay Smith of Huntington.

Susan Langstaff

Miss Langstaff served as a staff reporter and at one time was society editor for The Parthenon. She is one of the Advertising-Journalism majors.

She has done art and lettering work for the University. Her art work can be seen on journalism certificates, diplomas and honorary degrees. While at Marshall she worked for the J. C. Penny Co. here and currently is employed as a magazine editor in Newark, Ohio.

Miss Langstaff is a member of Alpha Xi Delta social sorority and has held various positions on Student Government Commissions. She was coordinator of the Student Handbook in 1961-62, publicity chairman of Freshman Activities for two years, and a member of the Student Scholarship and Loan Committee.

Lindsay Smith

Mr. Smith is currently living with his parents in Denver, Colo. He was a staff reporter for The Parthenon and contributed humor articles from time to time.

He is a journalism major with a minor in speech. He graduated from East High School at Sioux City, Iowa, in 1958 and is 22 years old. While at Marshall he was employed by Anderson-Newcomb Co. in the advertising department. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

Mr. Smith plans to enter the Air Force.

Lucy Wallen

Lucy Wallen is a native of Huntington, and a senior majoring in journalism and minoring in English and French. She expects to graduate in May. She graduated from Huntington High. In her freshman year of college, she attended Marietta College, where she majored in English.

She is a member of Fourth Estate, and on the staff of WMUL.

She lives with her parents at 111 Eleventh Ave. and can be reached by calling JA 2-1959.

Frank Childers

Also graduating in July is Frank Childers from Peytona, W. Va. Frank has a minor in sociology and has served as campus editor and sports editor of The Parthenon.

He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity and is editor of their newspaper.

Frank prefers to do general news reporting for a newspaper or television station. After graduation he can be reached at his home in Peytona. The telephone is 836-5070.

His Huntington address is 1401 Fifth Avenue. The telephone there is JA 5-7331.

Roger Hutchison

Roger Hutchison, Athens senior expects to graduate in May. He was summer Editor-in-Chief of the Parthenon and has served as staff reporter and sports editor.

Roger is a transfer student from Concord where he majored in English, which is his minor field at Marshall. He is a graduate of Athens High School, Athens, W. Va.

Roger has been a student assistant in the Journalism Department for the past year. He would prefer to do general reporting or sports reporting for a newspaper.

His present telephone number is JA 3-9030.

Dorothy Locke

Expecting to graduate in May is Dorothy Locke from St. Albans. She is the society editor for The Parthenon.

"Dolly" has minor in Spanish and French and was a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary. She is treasurer of Fourth Estate.

Miss Locke expects to work for a church publication upon graduating.

Patricia Poliskey

Also from St. Albans is Patty Poliskey, the current Parthenon managing editor who will graduate in May.

Previously Patty has served as Campus Editor and Society Editor for The Parthenon.

She is a member of Fagus, senior women's honorary, and is listed among Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Patty has served as president of Sigma Kappa social sorority and has a minor in sociology and political science.

She will go to work for the Charleston Daily Mail upon graduating.

John Hines

John Hines, present Editor-in-Chief of The Parthenon, is the other advertising-journalism major graduating in May.

Johnny has served as campus editor and managing editor for The Parthenon. His minors include journalism, speech and business administration.

He is a 1956 graduate of Huntington East High School and is 23 years old. He has served with the Army and is presently employed by the Huntington Herald-Dispatch.

Johnny is married to the former Kay Lincoln of Huntington. They live at 514 Woodland Drive. Telephone 525-8679.

Margaret Williams

Margaret Williams, who expects to graduate in July, is the Campus Editor of The Parthenon. She hails from Sharples, W. Va., and has served as Society Editor and a reporter.

She is a member of Sigma Kappa social sorority and is president of the Fourth Estate, women's journalism honorary.

After graduation "Margie" can be reached at her home in Sharples, phone 484W3.

Dr. Dyer was the motivating person behind the establishing of the State Board of Health. He has been in the forefront as an advocate of cleaning up waste and filth from our streams and communities.

In a statement to the State Board of Education President Smith said, "He has been aggressive, courageous and far-sighted in his professional leadership. We regard him as an outstanding public servant of West Virginia."

Jesse Stuart will receive an honorary Doctor of Letters degree. Mr. Stuart also has honorary degrees from Baylor University, Marietta College, Peabody College, University of Kentucky and Lincoln Memorial University.

His educational career has included teaching in a one-room school, principal of a high school, superintendent of a city school, and college and university teacher and lecturer.

Mr. Stuart was born Aug. 8, 1907, in a one-room log cabin in W-Hollow near Greenup, Ky. He was educated in schools near there. He received an A.B. degree from Lincoln Memorial University in Tennessee.

He has received many honors and awards. In 1954 he was proclaimed Poet Laureate of Kentucky. In 1958 he was honored on the "This Is Your Life" television program.

Some of his works include "The Thread That Runs So True," "Beyond Dark Hills," "Man With The Bull-Tongue Plow," "Taps For Private Tussie," "The Year of My Rebirth," and "Plowshares in Heaven."

Banquet Honors ISA's Graduates

The Independent Students Association honored its graduate senior members at the first annual spring banquet yesterday in the Continental Hall at the Hotel Frederick.

Senior members are Carolyn Reed, Jerry Ashworth, Daniel Beam, and Larry Yeater, all of Huntington; William Price, Hinton, and John Killoran, Lewisburg.

Officers for the coming year were elected last week. They are president, James Rafter, Westernport, Md., junior; vice president, Sue Harwood, Fairlea freshman; secretary, William Hardebeck, Williamson sophomore, and treasurer, David Groves, Summersville freshman.

Coach Snyder Wants To Play Alumni Again

He Tells Of Advantages Despite 13-12 Setback

By GEORGE ARNOLD
Sports Editor

Plans for continuing the varsity-alumni football game on an annual basis drew strong support from Coach Charlie Snyder, even though his Big Green squad lost the first battle, 13-12, last Saturday night.

"I'm highly in favor of continuing the game on an annual basis," Coach Snyder proclaimed. "It's worth more than three intersquad scrimmages because it give our players a chance to play under game condition pressure against a good team," he added.

"And," Snyder continued, "the game brings us closer to our alumni, it helps recruiting, and boosts morale. I was thrilled with the turnout of both fans and alumni."

The game gave Snyder a chance to see both his veteran and younger players in action. The Big Green coach disclosed his impressions of the players by position as follows:

"The pass receivers looked real good; the ends were working out their pass patterns fairly well for this early in the year. The guards and tackles also played fairly well, but we're still looking for defensive linebackers."

Graduates from last season's freshman team, who will be counted on pretty heavily next fall, also drew praise from Snyder.

"I thought our young players looked good," he said.

The 1951-53 passing combination of quarterback John Chmara and end Jim Swierczek paced the alumni victory. Chmara, who is now a backfield coach at Bluefield High School, completed five of 12 passes for 108 yards and one touchdown. Swierczek, now a coach at Canton, Ohio, Central Catholic High, gathered in four tosses for 99 yards and scored one touchdown on a 24-yarder from Chmara.

"That alumni passing combination really looked good," Snyder said.

In fact, it looked so good that Snyder jokingly accused Dr. Sam Clagg, the alumni coach, of working them out for a month.

"Actually we held only two short practices," Dr. Clagg said, "and they only lasted about an hour and a half."

The varsity scored first in the game when halfback Zeke Myers intercepted an Oggie Thomas pass and returned it to the Alumni 20. Myers scored later from the one-yard line. The other Big Green tally came on a 10-yard pass from quarterback John Griffin to Jim Cure, climaxing a 66-yard drive which was sparked by the running of Jimmy Brown. Brown, a promising prospect, will be a sophomore next season.

What was the reaction to the first game of this kind from the alumni? Are they willing to return again next year?

"I don't see how we can keep them away," Dr. Clagg said. "In fact, some that didn't play want to next year after watching the game."

Greater Depth, Strong Team Play Make Golfers Threat To MAC Title

By GEORGE ARNOLD
Sports Editor

"When you have five men shooting in the low 70's, you have a combination that's pretty tough to beat," Big Green golf coach Whitey Wilson said Sunday following his team's impressive weekend sweep of three matches against strong opposition.

Marshall had just breezed through two matches with Mid-American Conference foe, Bowling Green, by scores of 15-3 and 11½-6½, and then topped off its fine performance by overwhelming a fine Guyan Golf and Country Club all-star team, 16-2, for its third victory in three days and eighth without a loss this season.

Just what is it that has made the team perform in a manner that has surpassed the expectations of even the most optimistic Big Green fan?

MORE DEPTH

"We have more depth this year," Wilson explained. "Five men are averaging around one over par and the sixth man is usually around 82, and it's just simply hard to beat that," the coach continued.

"All the players are better than we expected them to be this early in the season. We knew our first three men (co-captains Jim Ward and Pete Byer, and Harry Hoffer) were going to be strong, but Chip Woodring and David Whipkey (the fourth and fifth men) have played surprisingly well, too. And our sixth man, Bill Spensky, has shown great improvement. He's coming along just fine."

Marshall has experienced little difficulty in its eight matches to date. But Wilson, never one to throw caution to the winds, warns that the team will have all it can handle in matches scheduled this week.

PLAY THE CHAMPS

"We play Ohio U. at Guyan Tuesday afternoon," Wilson said. They're the defending conference champs and have a real good golf team. Then we go to Miami Friday afternoon (at Oxford, Ohio.) for another conference match, and wind up the weekend Saturday morning at Kentucky (University of Kentucky at Lexington)."

A glance back at the weekend competition shows quite a combination of significant achievements for the university team.

Ward put together a three-under-par 69 to beat the highly-regarded Bill Campbell by a single stroke, picking up medalist honors for the round against the Guyan All-Stars. Byer carded a 75 to defeat Marshall Hawkins, the club champion, by three strokes, and Hoffer shot an even par 72 to sweep three points from Fred Garnes, who had an 83.

Woodring, with a 76, won over Dr. Lonnie Adkins who had an 82; Whipkey's 74 beat a 79 by Keith Newman; and an 83 by Spensky was good enough for a three-stroke edge over K. J. Heatherman.

Baseball Twin Bill Cancelled By Rain

The university baseball team had two games canceled this weekend with Bowling Green due to wet grounds. It tried again, for the fourth time, yesterday at Morehead, Kentucky after The Parthenon's press time.

The tennis team split two matches last weekend, defeating Xavier, Ohio, University 9-0 and then bowing to Cincinnati by the same score. The loss left the Big Green with a record of 1-2.

The track team took four places in the Ohio University relays. They were Phil Neff, third in the open AAU 220-yard dash and fourth in the 100-yard dash, and Malcolm Price placed fifth in the 100-yard dash. The mile relay team also placed fourth.

Quartet Tunes Up For Convocation

THE EASTMAN STRING QUARTET, will appear on the Convocation tomorrow at 11 a.m. in Old Main Auditorium. The group has toured extensively under the auspices of the Arts Program of the Association of American Colleges and was chosen by the State Department to tour the countries of the Middle East and North Africa.

Four Preps Coming For May 4 Show

The Four Preps, one of the nation's leading vocal groups, will appear at the Keith Albee Theatre May 4, at 8:15 p.m., according to Bob Herrema, Rochester, N. Y., junior and president of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, sponsor of the program. The group and their eight musicians, currently maintaining college dates across the country, will present a two hour performance, Herrema said.

Known for their record hits and long play albums, the Preps were chosen in 1958 by the "Cash Box Disk Jockey Poll" as "The Year's Most Promising Vocal Group. This honor was received after their first million selling records, "26 Miles" and "Big Man." Other single records that the group made popular were "Dreamy Eyes", "Down By the Station", "Cinderella", "Lazy Summer Night" and "Summer-time Lies."

Their first album release was entitled "The Four Preps" and subsequent albums include "The Things We Did Last Summer", "Dancing and Dreaming" and "Down By the Station". Their latest albums, "Four Preps On Campus" and "Campus Encores" have become top sellers.

The Four Preps met and originated as a quartet at Hollywood

High School in Los Angeles where they sang together in the school choir.

The group, composed of Marvin Inabnett, Bruce Belland, Glen Larson and Ed Cobb, are in great demand for TV guest shots and personal appearances. They have performed and sung in six episodes of the Ozzie and Harriet TV shows, and toured the country with Ricky Nelson in the summer of 1957. They also have appeared on several other top television shows, including Lawrence Welk, Dick Clark, the Ed Sullivan Show and the Tennessee Ernie Ford Show.

According to Harold Cohen, entertainment writer and former "Critic of the Year", the Four Preps "... can play any place, and time" and possess "... mighty ear-easy" harmony.

Tickets for the concert are $2.75, $2.25 and $1.75 each. They will be on sale for Marshall students tomorrow and Friday in front of the Student Union. Beginning Saturday they will go on sale for the general public at Davidson's Record Shop. Herrema said that Marshall students should get first chance at the tickets since the performance was the weekend of the high school band festival and that a large crowd was expected.

The Eastman String Quartet will present a program of chamber music at Convocation at 11 a.m. tomorrow in Old Main Auditorium. The quartet is composed of Joseph Knitzer and John Celentano, violinists; Francis Bundra, violist, and George Miquelle, cellist.

Knitzer, the first violinist, has toured the United States and Canada and appeared in recitals with leading symphony orchestras. His training began at the age of nine with Leopold Auer. At 14 he made his debut as soloist with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra under Walter Damrosch.

He continued studying under Louis Persinger at the Institute of Musical Art, where he was graduated with highest honors, and at the Julliard Graduate School. In 1934 Mr. Knitzer won the Naumberg Award and the following year the $1,000 prize of the National Federation of Music Clubs, as well as the Schubert Memorial Contest.

John Celentano, violinist, is a native of Montreal. His early studies were with Barbieri of La Scala, Milan. He holds degrees from the Eastman School of Music, is soloist with and former concertmaster of the Rochester Civic Orchestra and teaches chamber music and violin at Eastman. He has been artist-lecturer and head of the string department at Iowa State University.

Francis Bundra, violist with the quartet, is a native of Northampton, Pa., and holds a bachelor of science degree from State Teachers College at West Chester, Pa. He majored in viola with Max Aronoff of the Curtis String Quartet at the New School of Music in Philadelphia, and received his Master of Music degree there in 1955.

Georges Miquelle, cellist, was born in Lille, France, and received his early training there. He was graduated from the Paris Conservatoire, where he received highest honors. He made his first appearance as solo cellist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Two approaches to the "man's deodorant" problem

If a man doesn't mind shaving under his arms, he will probably find a woman's roll-on satisfactory. Most men, however, find it simpler and surer to use Mennen Spray Deodorant. Mennen Spray was made to get through to the skin, where perspiration starts. And made to work all day. More men use Mennen Spray than any other deodorant. How about you?
