Maria Robbins Awarded Fellowship

"A family yen for education" is being realized by Maria Robbins, a 1960 Marshall graduate who has been awarded a three-year National Defense Graduate Fellowship.

The fellowship will enable her to study Romance languages, with emphasis on Spanish and Latin American studies, at the University of Pittsburgh. Miss Robbins will enter the Pennsylvania school next fall.

The fellowship carries a stipend of $2,000 the first year, $2,200 the second and $2,400 the third. In addition, the institution waves fees and tuition for the recipient of the award.

Miss Robbins describes education as a "wealth which you simply don't lose." She said that her parents and grandparents have always been interested in education. One member of her family had a particular influence in her desire to attend college—that was an uncle who is a professor of music at a college in Jackson, Miss.

The daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Anthony E. Robbins of Huntington, Miss Robbins majored in Spanish as an undergraduate and is now working as a secretary to Prof. Juan C. Fors, chairman of the Spanish Department, and as an assistant to the foreign student advisor, Dr. John L. Martin, professor of Spanish.

She also teaches Spanish conversation on the elementary level at St. Joseph's where her only brother, Tony, attends school.

Miss Robbins credits the members of the Spanish Department and Dr. Alma Noble, chairman of the French Department, with introducing her to the idea of a possible fellowship. She applied in February and received confirmation of the fellowship at the end of March. The fellowship is made on the basis of recommendation letters, potentiality and ability.

She is president of Sigma Delta Phi, Spanish honorary, and worked on the Et Cetera, student literary publication, and the Chief Justice and was a member of the French Club.

Miss Robbins was born in Lima, Ohio, but moved to Omar, W. Va., where her mother's family were. She was graduated from Ironton High School in 1955 and entered Marshall the following fall.

Writing is one of her favorite pastimes and she admits that she is "mad about escapist literature."

Freshmen Week Plans Are Changed

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Vol. 61 HUNTINGTON, W. VA. WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1962 No. 62

New Emphasis To Be Placed On Academic Life, Counseling

The "new look" awaits an anticipated 1,500 freshmen when they appear on Marshall University's campus for Freshmen Orientation Week Sept. 9-14.

President Stewart H. Smith announced four major changes for this annual event:

1. More time will be set aside for academic counseling and orientation to academic life.
2. All campus and downtown tours will be eliminated.
3. More time will be allowed for freshmen to secure textbooks and supplies.
4. Additional leisure time will be permitted in the week-long schedule.

"These changes are being made," President Smith said, "in order that more time can be devoted to academic counseling and orientation to academic life. We also want to reduce the amount of regimentation that has characterized previous Freshmen Orientation Weeks."

A committee was appointed 10 months ago to study Freshmen Week. After Chairman Paul Collins, administrative assistant to the president, reported the recommendations, the Administrative Cabinet and President Smith approved them.

Besides counseling and orientation, in-coming freshmen can take part in two special events planned for them: President's reception on Sept. 13 and a square dance that same day. Freshmen Guides still will be used to greet new enrollees, it was emphasized.

A record total of 1,421 freshmen registered last year and Registrar Luther Bledsoe anticipates 1,500 will be enrolled this fall.

"We may go over that," he said, "but it's pretty much a matter of housing. We'd have had more than 1,500 last year if we could have housed the women."

Dates for freshmen pre-registration and counseling have been set by the registrar, who pointed out that 3,000 graduating high school seniors already have indicated Marshall as first, second or third choice. The dates are June 25-26, July 9-10 and Aug. 13-14. Another ACT examination will be given June 23 at Marshall for those seniors who failed to take it last year.

Invitations will be sent to all seniors who have made application for admission, informing them when to report for advance registration.

If a senior has not filed an application for admission, a health record, high school academic record, and taken an ACT test, he would have to wait until September to enroll. The dates for this registration are Sept. 12-13.

792 May Receive Diplomas May 27

A possible total of 792 students may receive diplomas at Commencement exercises here on May 27, Luther E. Bledsoe, registrar and director of admissions, has announced. Mr. Bledsoe pointed out that after final grades are submitted, this number may change. The total includes students who completed their requirements for graduation at the end of either of the two 1961 summer sessions or at the end of the fall semester.

Activities will include the President's reception for graduates, their parents and families, at the President's home, 1636 5th Avenue, from 3 to 5 p.m. May 26.

Plans for alumni dinners and for the class of 1962 buffet dinner are still incomplete.

Gassaway Student, Paul Sergent, Dies

Paul Gordon "Bird" Sergent, Gassaway junior, died early Saturday in a Beckley hospital from complications after undergoing surgery for an ulcer.

Sergent, 25, a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and an advertising-speech major, was a veteran of the Air Force.

He was active in intramural sports and participated in University Theatre productions.

Sergent's fraternity brothers went to Gassaway Monday to attend funeral services there.

Tickets Being Sold For 'Preps' Show

Tickets for the Four Preps concert sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon, social fraternity, are now on sale in the Student Union. The Capitol recording artists will appear Friday at 8:15 p.m. at the Keith-Albee Theater.

Tickets are also available at Davidson's Record Shop and the theater. Prices are $2.75, $2.25 and $1.75.

'The South's Gonna Rise Again'

KA's Will 'Secede' Again Friday

Gray uniforms will flash and the "stars and bars" will wave as the Kappa Alpha Order takes over the city Friday for the entire weekend. The fraternity's annual Old South Weekend will begin Friday at 2 p.m. in front of the Student Union as it "secedes" from the university.

Earlier in the morning the "rebels" will draw a "Mason-Dixon" line running east to west across campus. During the ceremonies at the union the members' dates, dressed Southern style, will be presented, along with the Kappa Alpha Rose, the Fraternity Sweetheart.

Candidates for the queen who will reign over the weekend include:

Ann Clay, Ashland, Ky., junior; Karen Meves, Parkersburg junior; Attie Sowers, Weirton sophomore; Elizabeth Hall, Charleston senior, and Frances Fish, Huntington sophomore.

Following the secession ceremonies, the participants will parade through the city. Several high school bands in town for the regional band festival will join in the parade. This procession will go down Fourth Avenue and continue up Eighth Street to the city hall where they will be met by Mayor John Durkin and several city council members. Here the officials will turn the city over to the KA's for the weekend.

There are no activities scheduled for Friday night but the Old South Ball will be held Saturday from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. at the American Legion hall. The "Solid Senders" from Washington, D.C., will furnish the music. At intermission, the Kappa Alpha Rose will be crowned.

The weekend will be concluded Sunday afternoon with a picnic at Rotary Park.

Special Building Course Offered Ed. Graduates

By MIKE WOODFORD
Feature Writer

In the age of modern education, at least one Marshall course has as its basis the building of adequate and sound school buildings.

Education 603, a graduate course taught by Professor Roy C. Woods, is offered once a year to students who are interested in receiving a degree in school administration.

This semester the group took two field trips. One was to Gallia County, Ohio, where the students observed Kyger District High School, Mercerville High School, and Mercerville Elementary. Both of the high schools were new structures while the grade school had been modernized.

The second field trip was to Kanawha County. Professor Woods said that while the rural Ohio schools were tied to the community, the urban schools had much less tendency to be so. While in Kanawha County they visited Hayes Junior High in St. Albans, DuPont and Dunbar High Schools, and Nitro and Dunbar elementary schools. Both of the Dunbar schools had new additions. The Kanawha tour was guided by Walter Snyder, director of school planning for the county.

Professor Woods had much praise for the Kanawha County schools. He said that they are modern and well equipped and that most of them receive a year's educational planning before blueprints of the structure are even drawn.

He also commented that the trend in school buildings is now toward one story structures. They offer more available space and don't require windows because of skylighting.

All of the students in the buildings and grounds class are from Ohio and West Virginia, with the exception of one from Florida. The class meets on Saturdays and offers three hours credit.

May Make History In West Virginia Education

Buell Honored By Radio Staff

Stephen D. Buell, associate professor of speech and director of educational radio and tv, was honored at a surprise banquet Saturday night at the Hotel Frederick.

The banquet was promoted by the staff of WMUL-FM in appreciation of Buell's efforts in getting the 10-watt educational station on the air.

Professor Buell was presented with a scrapbook covering the activities of the station and a plaque on which was inscribed: "To Stephen D. Buell, in appreciation from the members of the WMUL Radio Club, 1961-62."

Since Professor Buell came to Marshall in 1945, he has been instrumental in getting the station on the air.

Professor Buell had been told that he was going to a Peyton School teachers' meeting. (Mrs. Buell is a teacher at that school.)

Approximately 30 persons attended the affair. Guests included Dr. Eugene Hoak, chairman of the Speech Department; Dean J. Frank Bartlett of the College of Arts and Sciences; and Frank Spear, director of Information Service.

8 Hodges Hall Officers Listed

At Stonestreet, Harrisville junior, has been elected president of Hodges Hall for the coming year by the residents of the dorm. Serving as vice president will be Glenn Bell, Lexington, Ky., sophomore.

The officers and six councilmen were sworn in last night by the out-going president, Aubrey King, Jaeger junior.

Since the council terms are staggered, these new officers will work with five other councilmen. They are Clyde Pierce, Clarksburg junior; Scott McDonald, Logan junior; Jim Headley, Pittsburg, Pa., sophomore; Joe Ingerick, Pt. Pleasant junior, and Jim Keatley, Matewan senior.

The duties of the councilmen and officers include governing student affairs of the dorm such as the dances, treat nights, representing the dorm residents in student activities and handling the finances.

MEETING ATTENDED

Ralph Edeburn, professor of zoology, and four students attended the national convention of Alpha Epsilon Delta, international honorary pre-medical society, at the University of Toledo last week. Edward R. Wheatley, Danville sophomore, was the official delegate.

CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Four 'U' Coeds First To Graduate Under Special Education Program

By DOLLY LOCKE
Society Editor

Four coeds will graduate this May in the field of teaching the mentally retarded, the first group to graduate since the program was officially begun here four years ago.

The coeds are Jan Strickland, St. Albans; Diane Burger, Parkersburg; Mary Lou Nicholas, Milton, and Beverly Smith, Milton.

After graduation they will be certified to teach elementary grades, as well as special education classes for the mentally retarded, according to Allen Blumberg, associate professor of education. Teachers, he said, should understand the development of the normal child before working with those who are below normal in mental development.

Students in this program are taught the characteristics and learning abilities of the mentally retarded, observe classes and do an activity at the Cabell County Sheltered Workshop.

Practice teaching is done in Huntington with normal and retarded children. Classes for the mentally retarded are held in the elementary schools. There are about 16 of these classes in Cabell County, according to Mr. Blumberg.

FIELD OPEN

Opportunities in this field are wide open, according to Professor Blumberg, with positions available for teachers and administrators. Scholarships are also available.

Three of the four women are interested in Cabell County after graduation. Three of them want to teach the educable mentally retarded, those who can be educated in academic areas to become useful citizens.

Mrs. Nicholas would like to teach the trainable mentally retarded. These are not capable of becoming competent in academic areas, but can be trained in social and work skills.

FIRST IN STATE

This is the only undergraduate program of its kind in West Virginia, according to Dr. D. Banks Wilburn, dean of Teachers College. Dean Wilburn says he is very proud of this program, and that it gives a valuable professional education.

It was approved by the West Virginia Board of Education in July, 1957, and developed in cooperation with the Department of Education and the State Department of Health. A committee of 12, including six Marshall faculty members, set up such things as courses and course requirements.

ORGANIZERS

Members of this committee were Lawrence Chambers, a Huntington elementary principal; Mrs. Ruth Garrett, assistant professor of speech; Orville Hawes, then executive secretary of the West Virginia Society for Crippled Children; Dean Wilburn; Dr. Arvil Harris, dean of Graduate School; Dr. Clarke Hess, associate professor of education.

Miss Frances Scott, then state Director of Special Education; Dr. Sarah Stevens, Huntington physician; Mr. DeForest Strunk, then psychologist for Cabell County schools; Dr. Woodrow Morris, chairman of the Education Department; Dr. Kenneth Loemker, chairman of the Psychology Department, and Dr. Winifred Graves, psychologist for the State Department of Health.

Varsity Cheering Squad For '62 Named

Past Marshall Student Does Orphan Work

Working sometimes 12 hours a day in rice fields to help 165 Japanese orphans has been an extracurricular activity of a former Marshall student and Army Specialist, Osten Mathisen.

Mathisen, of Huntington, directed military assistance to two orphanages, one Catholic and the other Protestant, on Hokkaido, the northernmost island of Japan.

About 15 American soldiers from Kuma Station worked with the orphans to see that they were taken care of and that they received American aid. They were assisted by the Japanese government and college students in such activities as working two farms and giving a Christmas party for the orphans.

For his service to the mission of Kuma Station, Mathisen was awarded the "Certificate of Achievement." Recently discharged from the Army, he will re-enter Marshall in June and major in political science. After he graduates in about two years, he plans to enter the foreign service to work in the Far East.

Mathisen, a graduate of Huntington East High School, attended Marshall in 1958 and 1959.

Professor's Work Will Be Published

Dr. Ronald G. Rollins, assistant professor of English, has had two articles accepted for publication by journals.

Papers Presented By Faculty, Students At Science Meeting

Papers were presented by Marshall faculty members and graduate students at the meeting of the West Virginia Academy of Science last week in Morgantown.

Included were "A Pollen Profile of Cranberry Glades, W. Va." by James Young, graduate student in biology and a teacher at Cammack Junior High School; "Taxonomic Studies in the Lycopodium Inundatum Complex," by James P. Gillespie, instructor in science; "The X-Ray Powder Pattern of Cesium Azide," by Dr. A. W. Scholl, chairman of the chemistry department, and Lewis A. Walker, instructor in chemistry.

"Death Due to Old Paraldehyde," by Professor Scholl and F. C. Hodges, of the chemistry department;

"Socio-Economic Study of 300 Displaced Coal Miners," by Dr. J. T. Richardson, chairman of the sociology department; and "Environmental Responses of Plethodon R. Richmond: Netting and Mittleman, in Southwestern West Virginia," by Larry W. Yeater, graduate student in biology.

25 Hope To Strengthen Federation At Student Government Conference

By BILL CALDERWOOD
Feature Writer

Twenty-five delegates representing nine colleges and universities attending the annual conference of the West Virginia Federation of Collegiate Student Governments resolved to make the federation a strong voice and instrument of the college and university students through a state-wide project and an all-out membership drive, according to Gary McMillan, student body president.

The delegates at the Alderson-Broadus College conference hope to strengthen the federation so that it can become an effective pressure group that will work possibly toward getting teaching salaries raised, more state funds for colleges and universities, and other issues of state higher education, McMillan continued.

Scheduled activities of the conference held last Friday and Saturday consisted of discussion groups dealing with problems of homecomings, the role of the student union in campus life, successful projects of student governments, freshman orientation, ways student governments can be effective in representing the students to the administration, and ways student leaders can promote the objectives of student activities.

Davis Woodrum of West Virginia University was elected president of the federation. Other officers are Jeff Barnett, West Virginia State College, vice-president; Jerry Morgan, Glenville State College, treasurer and Alice Kast, Alderson-Broadus College, secretary.

Marshall's delegation of McMillan, Bill Calderwood, Charleston junior and senior senator, and Dick Cottrill, Huntington freshman and sophomore senator, felt that even though Marshall's student government did not directly benefit from the conference, many of the future objectives will be of benefit.

According to Senator Cottrill, the discussion groups were dominated by Marshall and West Virginia University. Many of the activities of the student governments at Marshall and West Virginia University offered ideas to some of the smaller colleges attending the conference.

The conference also brought about better understanding of the dent governments throughout the state, Cottrill continued.

At a conference next fall at West Virginia State College, a state-wide project will be decided upon. Under consideration is the gearing of all school activities, such as Homecoming and Parent's Weekend, to the 1963 West Virginia Centennial.

In talking to many of the delegates, it was found that the main criticism of this year's conference was the lack of advance publicity and the absence of a federation newsletter. To remedy this, the presidents of the various student bodies were asked to appoint representatives at their schools to send reports of their student government's activities to the state secretary who will prepare a general newsletter.

As additional assistance to member student governments, all schools are planning to send copies of their student government manuals to all member schools.

Student Takes Federal Post

Aubrey C. King, Iaeger junior, has accepted an appointment as student assistant with the Social Security Administration this summer. He plans to begin his assignment in early June in the Roanoke, Va. Social Security office.

As a student assistant, King will receive training in and be exposed to all local-office functions of Social Security. The position will provide him an opportunity to assess career opportunities with that agency and may result in a permanent appointment following his graduation next year.

"This is another example of the student advantage in taking the regularly-held Federal Service Entrance Examination," the Placement Office said. "In addition to paving the way for permanent post-graduate positions, it also affords students 'a trial-run' at no cost and little inconvenience."

Literary Tapes Now Available For School Use

The English Department is giving area high schools reproductions of a tape recorded interview between Congressman Ken Hechler and Louis Untermeyer, consultant in poetry at the Library of Congress in Washington. In the 14--minute conversation, Mr. Untermeyer discusses his work at the library, comments on modern American poetry, reads some of his own poetry and reveals that he wrote the first American review of poet Robert Frost.

The idea of the recording originated after a high school teacher asked Dr. Hechler to send her some information concerning the study of literature, according to Dr. Jack R. Brown, professor of English. Dr. Hechler went to the Library of Congress and obtained the interview from Mr. Untermeyer who has edited several volumes of poetry.

Although the tapes are mainly distributed through student teachers, Dr. Brown pointed out that area high schools may obtain them on request.

About 12 of the tapes have been made under the direction of Eric P. Thorn, assistant professor of English.

ROTC Rifle Team Victor In Match

The ROTC rifle team, competing in a shoulder to shoulder rifle match with West Virginia State College, won the match with a team total of 1,264 points out of a possible perfect score of 1,500 points.

Coach Cites Obstacles To Perfect Golf Record

By GEORGE ARNOLD
Sports Editor

An abundance of depth, the surprising play of Dave Whipkey and sophomore Chip Woodring, and the dedication applied to the task by each member of the team—these, among others, are the reasons listed by Coach Whitey Wilson for the success of his golfers this season.

As of last Monday they had swept through 14 matches without a loss against such highly-regarded opposition as the University of Kentucky, Bowling Green, Cincinnati, Ohio University, and Spring Valley Country Club's fine all-star team. That leaves seven matches, three of them tri-angular meets and all of them on the road, that stand between the Big Green and an undefeated regular season.

If Marshall is destined to fall before entering the Mid-American Conference Tournament later this month, Wilson figures the blow will be dealt by Ohio University's defending conference champions. The Big Green, which defeated the Bobcats 11½-6½ at home earlier this season, met Ohio U. at Athens, Ohio, yesterday after The Parthenon's press time.

"If we can beat Ohio U.," Wilson said Monday, "we should go into the conference tournament as the favorite. We and OU are about even and they have a good chance of beating us on their home course. If they do, then we'll be the top two going into the tournament."

By the time the MAC playoffs begin, Marshall will have met every team in the conference. The team has already defeated Bowling Green, Miami, Ohio U. and Kent State, and will meet Toledo once, Western Michigan twice in tri-angular matches at Toledo and Kent next week.

Marshall plays two Bellefonte Country Club teams at Ashland, Ky., Friday at 1 p.m. and that, plus the upcoming matches at Toledo and Kent, will complete the 21-match regular season schedule. The latest two victories were picked up last weekend when Marshall defeated Kentucky, 11-7, and Miami, 16-2, in its last home match at Guyan Golf and Country Club.

Wilson rates Marshall, Ohio U. and Bowling Green as the top three teams for the conference meet, with Western Michigan the darkhorse. "Bowling Green is coming along real well since early season and, quite frankly, I know very little about Western Michigan," Wilson said. "But both should be pretty good by tournament time."

Co-captains Jim Ward and Pete Byer, along with Harry Hoffer, head the players who will be tackling this job between now and May 19.

Wilson sums up these three in a few short sentences. "We knew Ward, Hoffer and Byer were going to be strong this year," he said. "I don't think they're too much improved over last season. They're just simply good golfers and they've been good golfers. It just didn't happen this year. Of course, they all have put in a lot of hard work and practiced harder than ever before, but it's depth that's helped us so much this year."

"Whipkey has been a big surprise. He's won 12 of 14 matches and Woodring (12-0-2) hasn't lost a match and he's just a sophomore. And Bill Spensky is showing a good deal of improvement. He's broken 80 in each of his last four matches."

The MAC tournament, where all of this speculation will turn into statistics, is scheduled for May 17-18-19.

Library Assistants Assembled, Discuss Standards Of Service

The First Regional Conference of Student Library Assistants was held Saturday.

Registration took place from 9:45 until 10:15 a.m. in the library science department of the James E. Morrow Library. The opening session was in Old Main Auditorium with Randy Tatum, president of the Cabell County Student Library Assistants and a student at Huntington East High School, presiding.

Students were welcomed by H. W. Apel, faculty librarian, C. N. Fannin, Cabell County Board of Education, Miss Julia Schwartz, assistant reference librarian, and Miss Jean Meadows of Alpha Beta Alpha, library science honorary.

Following the welcome was a tour of the James E. Morrow Library and lunch at the university cafeteria.

The delegates then attended a general session in the Science Hall Auditorium. The first speaker at this session was Robert McClarren of the Huntington Public Library on subject of "What Makes a Good Librarian." Herbert Bushelman of the Ashland Public Library spoke on "What the Public Library Should Mean to a Community." The third speaker, Miss Olive Lewis, Parkersburg Chairman of the Library Section of the West Virginia Education Association had as her subject, "West Virginia Needs Librarians."

Special guests were authors Charles Ripper and Herbert Witten.

The Cabell County organization was established in order to encourage higher standards of library service, to encourage reading, to share literary experiences and to learn vocational possibilities in the field of library science. The organization has scheduled Cedar Lake Camp for a state-wide conference in October.

Frosh Win Intramural Track

By JERRY REED
Sports Writer

The intramural track meet was held at Fairfield Stadium last week and the Frosh dominated the competition as they scored 55 points.

Seven teams entered the track meet and the closest to the Frosh team was SPE which tallied 32 and five-sixths points. The other teams scored as follows: Huntington Striders, 18 and one-third points; PKA, 17 and one-third points; ROTC, 11 points; KAY, three points; and Tau Kappa Epsilon, one and one-half points.

The leading scorer for the day was Phil Neff, Frosh, who ran away with scoring honors with a total of 15 points. Neff placed first in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

The winners in the 13 divisions were: Ron Bostic, 440-yd. dash; Chappy Walker, 880-yd. dash;

Tom Dennis, mile run; Jim Brown, 120 high hurdles; John Robinson, 120 low hurdles; John Bentley, pole vault; George Hicks, high jump; shot put and discus were won by Scotty Pike, and George Hicks, broad jump. The 440-yd. relays were won by the Frosh team of Connard Phillips, Bill Boyd, Jim May and Phil Neff. Winning the 880-yd. relay was the team from SPE composed of Tom Rodriguez, John Danford, Butch Clark and John Mason.

In other Intramural action, the badminton singles championship was won by Larry Matthews, SPE, as he defeated Max Lewis, PKA. Also in badminton co-ed doubles Joe VanFaussien and Ruth Ware teamed up to defeat Larry Matthews and Pat Chance for the championship.
