Speech Department Will Confer M A's

By JERRY BOWLES
Staff Reporter

A Master of Arts degree has been approved for the Speech Department. According to Dr. Eugene Hoak, chairman of the Speech Department, the program was approved by Dr. A. E. Harris, dean of the Graduate School, and was implemented at the beginning of this semester.

Dr. Hoak said, "I seriously believe that a need has existed for such a program for some time. Wide inquiry as to the potential for this degree reveals that there are students who will take their Masters of Arts work here in Speech rather than go to other areas and nearby schools."

The present number of Speech majors is 133, with about 44 students listed as minors. Dr. Hoak said he believes this to be a rich potential of students for graduate work.

Thirteen new courses, on the 400-600 level are being offered. They are: Persuasion, Discussion and Conference Leadership, Radio and Television Production, Radio and Television Program Planning, Theatre History, Scene Design, Problems and Methods in Speech Research, Rhetorical Background of Public Address, and Scenery and Graphic Arts For Television.

Also Seminar in Radio and Television, Seminar in Theatre, Leaders and Movements in Speech Education, and Seminar in Public Address and Speech Education. One of these courses, Discussion and Conference Leadership, will be offered for the first time this summer.

The program includes 51 hours on the 400-500 level and 36 on the 600 level. Dr. Hoak continued, in a letter to Dr. Harris, "We believe the program to be sound in its balance and in its emphasis on the 'hard core of values' for a graduate program."

Some courses serving the M.A. requirement will be offered each semester.

Scott Lecture History Cited

The sixth Scott Lecture will be given Monday and Tuesday on campus, but how many students know exactly what the Scott Lectures are or when they began?

The Scott Lectures were initiated by Dr. and Mrs. Francis Scott of Huntington in 1956. They donated a sum of money to promote interest in the humanities through informal and formal lectures. In addition to the public lecture, the speakers lecture to classes and participate in informal discussions with students.

The donation also provides for printing and distributing of the public lectures to selected colleges and universities.

Poet Robert S. Hillyer delivered the first Scott Lecture in the spring of 1957.

Since then, Dr. Dexter Perkins, political historian; Willy Ley, pioneer space scientist; Dr. T. V. Smith, political philosopher and Dr. John S. Brubacher, educational philosopher, have appeared on the series.

This year's lecture will be given by Dr. Walter Blair, chairman of the department of English at the University of Chicago.

Freshman Is Battle Group Queen

MISS JENNIFER ROBINSON, Newburg, N. Y., freshman, was crowned Battle Group Queen at the Military Ball Friday night at the Hotel Prichard. Miss Robinson was crowned by Maj. Gen. Andrew B. Lolli, commander of the United States Army Corps, and she will reign until the Military Ball next year. Miss Robinson, who represented Company B of the Battle Group, is a psychology major. She is a graduate of Newburg Free academy.

Vetoed Measures Come Before Senators Tonight

By JIM CASTO
Staff Reporter

The Student Senate is expected to decide the fate of two vetoed additions to the Student Activity Fee at tonight's session.

Action is scheduled on a measure to establish a Speech Activities Fee to take the place of the present College Theatre Fee. The funds from this fee would be used for the University Theatre, WMUL and the debate squad.

A companion measure would increase the Speech Activities Fee from 50 cents to 75 cents a semester.

Both measures were vetoed by Student Body President Nancy Wood last week.

The Senate voted last week to restore a 25 cent allocation for the University Band also vetoed by President Wood.

A special committee appointed to study the problem is expected to submit its report tonight. The members of this committee are David Ballard, Ashland, Ky., senior; Marvin Bobes, Wheeling senior; Becky Goodwin, St. Albans senior; Barbara Shinn, Mt. Clair, N. J. junior; Dean Thompson, Huntington freshman, and Suzanne Tamplin, Racine senior.

Miss Wood's veto came after the Senate voted to increase the allocation for the Student Union from $2 to $4 a semester, to change the College Theatre Fee to a Speech Activities Fee, to increase the Speech Activities Fee from 50 cents to 75 cents, to increase the allocation for the Chief Justice from $2 to $2.25 a semester, and to add 25 cents for the University Band.

President Wood vetoed those sections establishing the Speech Activities Fee, increasing that fee to 75 cents and adding the 25 cents allocation for the band.

She did not veto the increases for the Student Union and the Chief Justice.

The Senate's actions on the Student Activity Fee are forwarded as recommendations to President Smith who in turn may forward them to the West Virginia Board of Education.

Professor Barnett To Leave Faculty

Dr. Martin D. Barnett, assistant professor of chemistry, has resigned from the faculty, effective at the end of the current semester.

He has accepted a position on the technical staff of the Weapons Systems Evaluation Division of the Institute for Defense Analysis at The Pentagon in Washington, D. C.

MU Now Owns 3 50-Star Flags

Marshall University now has a "50-star flag", in fact, three flags.

Several weeks ago, the VFW Post 1064 presented a flag to the school which had formerly flown over the nation's capitol, but it was soon discovered that it only had 48 stars.

The VFW apologized and replaced the flag with one having 50 stars.

In addition to the VFW flag, two Huntington residents presented 50-star flags.

February's Cadet Is Ronald Easley

Cadet Ronald Easley, Logan sophomore, has been selected as Cadet of the Month for February, according to Cadet Col. Paul A. Beckett, Huntington senior and Battle Group Commander. Easley is a member of Company N-1, Pershing Rifles.

Easley received the award for his outstanding knowledge of military subjects and proficiency in drill. Competing with Easley were Walker, Bluefield freshman. JEE YOUNG CHOUNG
... Student From Seoul

'Jee,' Korean Girl Attends Marshall

By DOLLY LOCKE
Society Editor

What's it like to go half-way around the world to school in a strange country with a completely different language?

One student who knows is Jee Young Choung, a special student from Seoul, Korea. This small girl with a big smile had not been outside her country until she began her trip to the United States. Traveling by way of Japan and Hawaii, she landed in Los Angeles Jan. 18, visited Hollywood and New York, and finally arrived at Marshall on Jan. 28.

The change from east to west has been made easier for her by the fact that Seoul, as she puts it, is Americanized. Students at Ewha University there, from which she holds a degree in interior decorating, wear tennis shoes to class the same as students here. Western-style clothes are worn by most people, she says, except for married women, who wear the traditional kimono.

Jee, as her friends in Laidley Hall call her, has trouble with her English, but is improving fast.

Three Posts Open On '63 Yearbook; '62 CJ At Printer

Applications are now being taken for the top executive positions on the 1963 Chief Justice.

The three top yearbook positions are editor-in-chief, managing editor, and business manager. Application forms are available in the Office of Information & Publications, Main 112.

Previous experience in publications work is not essential, although it would be helpful, according to Frank E. Spear, CJ editorial advisor. "What we're looking for are people with ideas who are willing to work," he said.

Accounting and business administration majors are particularly urged to apply for the position of business manager, Mr. Spear said.

The last pages for this year's Chief Justice were sent to the printer on Monday. (They had been held for last Friday's Military Ball.) The entire '62 CJ is now in the hands of the printer, and delivery of the book is expected before the beginning of final exams in May.

Any MU Coed Is Eligible For Beauty Pageant

Any Marshall coed or a resident of the Huntington area for the past six months is eligible to enter the annual "Miss Huntington" contest which began Monday.

The selection will be made April 6 at the Appalachian Power Co. auditorium, according to Mrs. William Whisman, director of the event. The local beauty pageant will be sponsored by the Huntington Jaycee-ettes, auxiliary to the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Deadline for entering is Sunday, March 25. The local winner will advance to the state contest at Charleston, July 11-15. The winner of the Miss West Virginia pageant will then compete in the Miss America contest in Atlantic City, N. J.

Entrants must be single and never married, a high school graduate by Sept. 3, 1962, and their age on Sept. 3 must not be less than 18 or more than 28 years. Contestants must not have participated in any other local pageant either in other states or West Virginia.

Mrs. Whisman said entrants will be judged on the basis of good character, poise, personality, intelligence, charm and beauty. Each contestant will present a talent routine during the finals. These may include singing, dancing, dramatic readings, art displays, dress designing or a three-minute talk concerning the career she wishes to pursue.

The winner will receive a trophy, complete wardrobe and trip to the state finals. Trophies will also be presented to three runners-up.

Women desiring to enter the pageant may secure entry blanks by telephoning Mrs. Whisman at JA 3-3210.

PANCAKE BRUNCH SET

Sigma Kappa will have a pancake brunch from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. tomorrow at the sorority house. The cost is 50 cents for students and 75 cents for adults. Plain and blueberry pancakes will be served.

"Slang I never understand," she said with a laugh. Four expressions she has learned are "tough," "junk," "see you later," and "okey-dokey."

Dormitory life is a new experience which she likes. Her room is decorated with gifts from friends in Korea and new friends here. The gifts include an oriental picture on a scroll, two little wooden oriental dolls, and a very American, orange stuffed dog.

It was through one of her four brothers that 21-year-old Jee heard of Marshall. She graduated from Ewha University only last Dec. 26, too late to start to school in New York. One of two brothers living in New York had friends in Huntington, so she came here. She is carrying a 14-hour load, taking two art courses, home decoration, typing, orientation, and English.

Rainy Day Credited With Opening Door Of Alan Mowbray's Career

By YVETTE STICKMAN
Feature Writer
In Teachers College

A rainy day in London opened the door to a career as actor and playwright for Alan Mowbray who presented a solo performance of "Moments of Greatness" on last week's Convocation program.

During an interview following his presentation of excerpts from literature and history, Mr. Mowbray explained that he was in London when he was released from the Air Force. It was here that he met a war buddy who invited him to lunch. The friend suggested that they meet in front of a theatrical agency, and if it was raining, he was to wait inside.

Typical to the London image, it rained. Mr. Mowbray then found himself in the agency waiting room with several other men. Another man motioned them into a small office and preceded to inquire as to the number of plays that Mr. Mowbray had done. Mr. Mowbray ensued with an account of the plays he had seen and the roles which he believed he could have done better than the actor portraying them.

He ended up signing a year's contract for the road show, "The Cinderella Man." After three months, his fellow actors discovered that he had had no acting experience. In six months, they had taught him the fundamentals of the theatre business. Mr. Mowbray added that even now he is constantly learning.

A large billboard prompted the British actor to come to the United States. "One day when I had finished my tour with the company," he said, "I was walking down a street in London. A large sign saying 'Come to America' caught my glance.

"Since I was open to suggestions that day, I bought a ticket and took the next ship leaving. By this time I was once again without funds, so I spent the next three months sleeping on a bench in Central Park.

"At the end of this time, I was fortunate enough to be cast as the lead in a play opening in Boston. From that time, I found little free time and have been cast in over 300 different roles."

Among his motion picture creaits are "Around the World in 80 Days," "My Man Godfrey," "Topper" and "Hollywood Hotel."

Having played top roles in some 299 motion pictures, and starred in dramatic television programs, Mr. Mowbray said, "It is not all the glory and fun that most people think it is. Each day is filled with general confusion and the time for rest is short."

In recent years Mr. Mowbray has turned from acting to writing, producing and directing. "Flame-out" was his recent play which is the only non-musical original ever produced by the Air Force. Mr. Mowbray toured military bases throughout the world with his cast of military personnel.

When he finishes his lecture series, he intends to cast another play for tour purposes. He now has two other plays which are being made into movies.

Girl Watcher's Guide

Presented by Pall Mall Famous Cigarettes

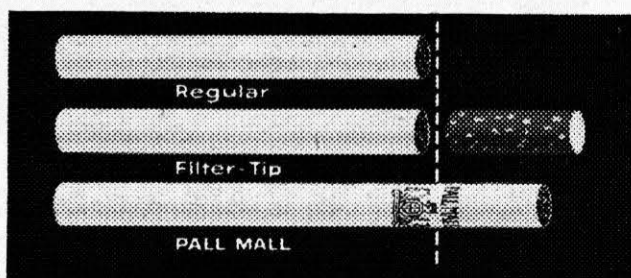

Girl watching is not strenuous

LESSON 9 - Advantages over bird watching

Although girl watching will inevitably be compared with bird watching, it enjoys many obvious advantages. For one thing, it is less strenuous.

The bird watcher usually has to hike out into the woods where there is often a great deal of climbing over rocks and fallen trees and, occasionally, some swimming across rushing streams. Girl watching sites, however, are generally accessible to the watcher's home, school or place of business and can usually be reached without great effort. Perhaps no other hobby is so easy to enjoy. (Pall Mall is easy to enjoy, too. That's because Pall Mall's natural mildness is so good to your taste!)

Compare all three! Smoke "traveled" through fine tobacco tastes best. See the difference! With Pall Mall, you get that famous length of the finest tobaccos money can buy. Pall Mall's famous length travels and gentles the smoke naturally... over, under, around and through Pall Mall's fine, mellow tobaccos. Makes it mild... but does not filter out that satisfying flavor!

Pall Mall's
natural mildness
is so good
to your taste!

So smooth, so satisfying,
so downright smokeable!
