Canadian Troupe To Appear

Ballet Slated For Artist Series

One of the world's major ballet companies, the National Ballet of Canada, will appear on the Artist Series Monday night.

The company, numbering more than 80 persons, has been acclaimed by critics in three countries.

Now in its 10th anniversary season, the National Ballet of Canada has appeared before two million people in its cross-country tours of Canada, the United States and Mexico.

Headed by prima ballerina Lois Smith, premier danseur David Adams, and a large group of soloists and full scale corps de ballet, the company carries its own orchestra under Conductor George Crum, permanent musical director. Artistic Director Celia Franca, one of Europe's most distinguished artists and choreographers, founded the National Ballet of Canada in 1951 and heads its international tours.

From its extensive repertoire of some of the world's greatest classics, presented in their entirety, and contemporary works by such distinguished choreographers as Antony Tudor, Frederick Ashton, Walter Gore, Andree Howard, John Cranko and original works by Canadian composers and choreographers, the National Ballet of Canada brings ballet that arouses such enthusiastic response as "brilliant success".

A recent comment by the Houston Post is typical: "The Canadian National Ballet . . . is easily the most notable ensemble of its kind now touring the cities of this nation."

Students must pick up their tickets today at the North Parlor in Old Main. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Monday at the Keith-Albee Theatre.

Class Gives Lou Mott Mr. Basketball Trophy

Lou Mott outstanding backcourt ace of Marshall's basketball squad, was given a trophy for outstanding basketball playing by members of one of his classes.

Mott was awarded the trophy because his classmates and friends felt that he was one of the most underrated players on the team and had not received enough publicity.

The trophy stands about 3 feet high and is made of polished walnut and gold. It is inscribed with these words, "Lewis F. Mott, Mr. Basketball of Marshall University. Presented by classmates and friends."

The idea occurred one day during an economics class to Bob Bailey, Charleston junior, to take up a collection in the class to buy a trophy. The class talked it over and decided to do it. After the collection they felt they didn't have enough to buy an appropriate trophy so they talked to some friends who donated the remainder.

"After this," Bailey said, "we had enough money to buy Lou a worthy trophy."

In Bailey's presentation speech, he said to Lou, "For three years we have watched the Marshall University Basketball team grow. Along with the team one of our classmates has also grown. 'Little LuLu' has had his ups and downs—plenty of downs, a great many bruises, and perhaps many broken bones.

"Inasmuch as Lou will not be with us next year a group of his friends have decided to reward him for his many efforts. For the many hours of pleasure that you have given us, for the thrills that an aggressive basketball player can give a crowd, and for outstanding performance, we award you this trophy . . . and we wish you the best of luck wherever you choose to go next year."

The trophy was bought by the class at Spencer's Jewelry Store. Spencer's engraved the trophy free of charge.

After Mott received the trophy, he said, "It is real nice and I am very surprised."

'Little LuLu' Is 'Mr. Basketball'

A WORD OF WELCOME

AFTER A STRENDIOUS VACATION

This memo is directed to all wayfaring young men and women. Realizing, of course, that you have just returned from beautiful, peaceful Ft. Lauderdale after a 6 day holiday consisting of basking in the sun and enjoying the quiet serenity and satisfaction of returning once again to mother Nature for natural, expressive enjoyment, we propose that you now search new and exuberating channels of devilmint.

As you already know, the boys with the Red Vests have devised an omnibus method of securing for the Marshall student body, a well deserved vacation to recuperate from your strenuous Easter Vacation. This plan, however, cannot work without the full co-operation of all our University cohorts. We're sure you'd like to be unquestionably excused from class for a few days, even if you are called a public nuisance, again. Oh yes! the plan. It's relatively simple and extremely inexpensive, why this vacation will cost you only a dollar . . . the price of one ticket to the Sig-Ep Ramp Festival.

RAMPS WILL DO THAT FOR ME?

How will this excuse you from class? Easy! Due to the odious aroma cast by one who partakes of this tempting vegetable, his company will not be desired by those who have not thus indulged. We're sure no further explanation is necessary. As for the particulars . . . The Ramp Festival will be held between the hours of 3 and 6 on Sunday, April the ninth in the back yard of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity House located at 1661 6th Avenue.

We have imported more than a dozen bushels of Ramps from Richwood, W. Va. (the Ramp capital of the world) to insure quality as well as quantity . . . also on the menu will be luscious home cured ham surrounded by delicious fried potatoes, salad, beverage and dessert. But wait, that's not all . . . you will be entertained the entire afternoon by the wonderful singer of songs, Larry T. Ascough, sponsored by Sow-Chow. Yes, it's food aplenty, songs galore and a gala time to be had by all at the Sig-Ep Ramp Festival . . . See you all Sunday and . . . out of class Monday.

Wood-Ross Platform

ELECTIONS—Marshall needs elections based more on quality than on popularity. We will support all proposals toward this end. We propose all presidential and vice-presidential candidates be required to debate their platforms and programs in public.

SPRING CARNIVAL—We will work for a campus carnival planned well in advance and held at a time which would not conflict with planned Greek and/or Independent functions.

CAMPUS-WIDE SOCIAL ACTIVITIES—This campus needs more campus-wide social activity. We will attempt to have Student Government sponsor at least one campus-wide social activity other than Homecoming.

BOOK OF THE SEMESTER—Much prestige for Marshall can result from a strong Book of the Semester Program. We will attempt to strengthen the program by placing it under the executive branch of Student Government.

STUDENT DIRECTORY—The Information Service has been handicapped this year with the printing of the Student Directory added to its regular work. We will study the feasibility of handling the printing of the Student Directory through the Student Government.

NEW STUDENT UNION—Realizing the need for a new Student Union, we will support all efforts by the Administration and the Student Union Corporation to secure funds and approval for a new Student Union.

WHO'S WHO—We plan to carefully study the methods of selecting students for Who's Who. We will take steps to formalize the qualifications.

PUBLIC RELATIONS BOARD—At the present, a Publications and Public Relations Board has jurisdiction over campus publications and handles Marshall public relations. We propose a separate board for the handling of public relations.

UNIVERSITY SPIRIT—We will take steps to build the atmosphere of a university such as encouraging informal clothes at athletic events, strengthening Greenbackers, etc.

Andrews-Wooten Platform

UNIVERSITY ACTIVITIES—The establishment of university status at Marshall demands a more widespread effort for better public relations and publicity for our school not only in West Virginia but throughout the United States as a whole. We will endeavor to do this through the increased activities of the State Awareness Commission and/or the establishment of a new commission if deemed necessary.

PEACE CORPS COMMISSION—In conjunction with the program set up by the President of the United States we will establish a Peace Corps Commission to inform our students as to the qualifications needed and the benefits received as a member.

ABSENCE POLICY—University students are adults and should be treated as such. We therefore advocate a more lenient, standardized absence policy.

LIBRARY FACILITIES—The principal purpose of our students is academic achievement. We therefore advocate that the facilities of the library should be made available to the students Seven Days a Week.

CAMPUS WIDE SOCIAL ACTIVITIES—In comparison with other colleges and universities of our size, Marshall is deficient in the number of social activities for the entire student body. We will strive for the establishment of an adequate number of well dispersed campus wide social activities.

LEGISLATIVE REPRESENTATION—Predictions for Marshall's future indicate a rapid growth in student enrollment. We will strive for better relationship between Marshall and the state legislators in a concentrated effort to aid our school administration in the procurement of these additional funds.

STUDENT COURT—Our student government is modeled from the provisions of the American Constitution, yet the judicial branch at Marshall has descended to almost inert activity through no fault of their own. We will attempt to revitalize the judicial branch through the use of all facilities at our disposal.

Marshall Students Among Fort Lauderdale Visitors

By ARCHIE GLASPELL
Staff Reporter

What caused the unfortunate situation in Ft. Lauderdale this year?

According to two Marshall students who were in the city at the time of the riots, the main contributing factor was a movie called, "Where The Boys Are." The movie dealt with the story of four girls on a holiday in Ft. Lauderdale looking for boyfriends and engaging in the vacation antics of the other collegiates. The film did much to advertise this student vacation spot of the South.

Ft. Lauderdale has always been a mecca for vacationing collegiate tourists around Easter time, but this year the pressures of school seemed to have burst out all at once.

Pat Pinson, Huntington junior, said, "The kids were down there to get some rest and relaxation, a tan, and just get away from their troubles."

Roy Smith, Pt. Pleasant senior, observed, "They went there to get away from the grind of school, get some sun and relaxation, and meet people."

Pinson, who has spent many vacations at Ft. Lauderdale, said that this year while he was staying at a private home, he received a phone call from some girl acquaintances who were staying at a nearby motel to come and stop some rowdy men students from breaking into their room.

Smith said that incidents like these kept the local police working as much as 20 hours a day per man. Rowdy conduct coupled with the treatment given to some of the vacationers caused the flood of vandalism to break over the normal limits of common sense. Neither the Ft. Lauderdale city administration nor the touring students were entirely to blame for the rash of incidents.

Ft. Lauderdale is the chosen meeting ground for the holiday jaunts of college students for many years past. This year appears to be one of those unfortunate situations where the minority causes the majority to be seen in a bad light.

Pinson and Smith encountered different receptions from the local merchants. Smith said that the merchants were disappointed over the city government's actions against the students and were rumored to have sponsored the three dances held for the benefit of the visiting students.

Pinson said that some of the merchants made the most of the situation by selling sweatshirts with "I'm one of the boys," and "I raised hell in Ft. Lauderdale."

Miami papers described the situation as, "Liquor was king, and sex might have been second except that the girls were too scarce." Pinson added that in his opinion the students were "just down there to have a good time."

Due to the number of students and the reception given them by some motel owners, the young tourists slept on the beaches, in motels (sometimes with twelve in one room), in cars, and on park benches if the police didn't catch them.

The Des Moines Register in its March 28 edition carried an editorial which said that one of the reasons for the riots was that "The tremendous strain to which they (the students) are being subjected in the humanities and historical studies, not to mention mathematics and science, causes them to go berserk come spring recess."

On the other hand, the Chicago Daily News labelled the affair in Florida, "mass delinquency", and called on the parents to do "a little soul searching."

Whatever the reasons, both Pinson and Smith said, "I'm going again next year."

Debating Team Meets Harvard

Marshall University debaters Tom Ross, Wheeling Junior, and Sharon Woods, Mullens senior, will meet a team from Harvard University at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Science Auditorium. Harvard will have the affirmative, Marshall the negative, of the national college debate question: Resolved, that the United States should adopt a program of compulsory health insurance for all citizens.

The two Harvard debaters are Alan K. Henrikson, a junior from Emmetsburg, Iowa, specializing in American Diplomatic History, and Lewis A. Burleigh, a junior from West Hartford, Connecticut. Mr. Henrikson is President of the Harvard University Debate Council.

The Harvard debaters will be guests of Phi Kappa Delta "Speakeasy" at 6 p.m. Saturday in the small dining room of the cafeteria.

Marshall's team of Tom Ross and Sharon Woods have a 7-2 record in intercollegiate competition this year. Both are in their first year of debate for Marshall. Tom Ross has represented Marshall for the last two years in the state intercollegiate oratorical contest at Jackson's Mill.

Registration Slated For First Session

Advance counseling and registration dates for the first summer school session have been released by the Registrar's office.

The counseling period will be from April 4 to May 13. Students will follow the usual procedure in getting schedules cleared by their adviser.

Advance registration will be from April 22-29 and May 6-13. Additional information can be found on page one of the summer bulletin which is available in the Registrar's office.

President's Destination Loan Office

President Stewart H. Smith and Don Morris, student union manager, will be in Philadelphia, Pa., early next week to inquire about the possibility of getting loans from the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

President Smith will confer with officials to see if the University is eligible for a loan to be used for the renovation of the two buildings on the grounds of the former West Virginia Home for the Aged and Infirm on U.S. Rt. 60, east of Huntington.

President Smith said that if the University is eligible for a loan, construction and renovation plans must be made before he can apply for such a loan.

Mr. Morris will be inquiring about a possible loan for a new student union. The present union was expanded in 1956 at a cost of $150 thousand with $96 thousand withstanding. Mr. Morris said he hopes this balance can be paid off by May, 1963. Another loan cannot be obtained until the present debt is paid.

In other University action, President Smith said that the budget for the first summer term and for the 1961-62 academic year, and the qualifying English examination will come before the State Board of Education for action at their meeting next Wednesday and Thursday.

President Smith also said, concerning the designation of three bills under the same code number, "I don't see how this could effect our University-status bill because this bill was passed on March 1, 1961, and the other two bills that bear the same code number were passed later on consecutive days. It appears that the solution to the matter is for the next legislature to change the code number of the other two bills."

Occupants of the new men's dormitory this fall will find an array of soothing colors, plus added conveniences like extra-length beds for the tall men.

Rooms on the north side of the building will have a color scheme of creole beige and heather. Rooms on the south side are to be painted robin's egg blue and blue heaven. White acoustic tile will cover the ceilings.

September Slated As Dorm Opening

"The new men's dorm should be finished by September, barring unforeseen incidents," according to Fred R. Smith, comptroller.

The dorm will have its own cafeteria, kitchen and dining room.

The total cost of the building is $1,310,000—$98,000 of this will go for furnishings for the dining room and bed rooms.

Marshall borrowed $1,150,000 from the federal government to finance the building, payable in thirty-year bonds.

example of the growth of Marshall University—and that its men, also, are bigger today than ever before.

This fact became evident this week by plans released through the office of Comptroller Fred R. Smith. Mr. Smith announced that some of the beds in the new dormitory have been especially ordered to be made longer to accommodate, "those long-legged men."

Each of the 122 rooms will have two beds, two desks, two desk chairs, an easy chair and two "built-in" dressers, all of oak.

The dormitory will have a cafeteria accommodating 238 men. Its decor will feature gold glazed tile on the walls, beige floor and white acoustic on the ceiling.

The lounge will have walls of heather, beige tile floors and a white acoustic tile ceiling. The furniture colors will range through persimmon, ivory, mustard, and turquoise. There will be a piano and television set in each room.

The 244-man capacity structure, built at a cost of $1,212,000, is the first of three phases of construction. The second phase will go up four more stories, and the third phase will consist of a wing on the west end.

Dorm Completion Seen

THE NEW MEN'S DORMITORY, a four-story structure, now resembles what it will look like when completed. The building, which will probably be finished in September, will have a modern color scheme of the latest shades.

Five Teams Swept Up In Spring Drills

Tennis, Golf Members Gain Early Victories

By ROGER HUTCHISON
Sports Editor

Spring sports are well under way for the Big Green with the tennis and golf teams each rolling up two victories in the past few weeks.

The tennis team has met and defeated West Virginia State and Kent State.

They met West Virginia State again last Wednesday.

The golf team has been equally successful in its first two matches, defeating Kent State and the Spring Valley All-Stars.

The Big Green tennis team defeated West Virginia State 8 to 1 in the first match of the year, and then defeated Kent State 5 to 4. Three men from Marshall have won both of their singles matches thus far in the season. They are Bill Jefferson, Don Wassum and Jack Fors. Hughes Booher and Jack Fors have won both of their doubles matches this season.

Marshall's golf team, which promises to be one of the best in the conference, won a rousing victory over Kent State in the first match of the year. They rolled up a 32½ to one-half victory over Kent State. They defeated the Spring Valley All-Stars 13 to 11 in the second match.

The three top golfers for the Big Green and their scores for the two matches are as follows; Pete Byers, 71 and 74; Jim Ward, 69 and 75; and Drexel Meade, 75 and 71.

Meanwhile track, baseball and football drills also are underway. Several track meets have been scheduled (see schedule below). Spring football will continue for about 10 more sessions. Under college rules, football practice cannot exceed 20 days during the spring.

ONE OF THE SOUNDS of springtime, now heard around Marshall University, is football scrimmage. The varsity team, under Coach Charley Snyder, is being put through its paces for 20 days. About 10 more practice sessions remain.

Scrimmages And Line-Up Changes Highlight Spring Football Practice

By JIM DUFFIELD
Assistant Sports Editor

Spring football practice, nearing the second phase of a 20-day practice schedule, has been highlighted with scrimmages and line-up changes.

Coach Charlie Snyder thinks the biggest problem facing next seasons team will be finding replacements for linemen that graduated.

Coach Snyder said, "It's what's up front that counts," noting that the Big Green's main weakness rests with the front line.

Sophomores Mike Hicks and Doug Long are expected to help the line, but they lack experience according to Coach Snyder.

The varsity mentor is not too worried about the backfield since two switches are expected to bolster the situation there. Malcolm Price, formerly a halfback has been switched to end and Dennie Skeens, an end has been changed to tackle.

Adding to the coach's optimism about the backfield is the fact that eight lettermen will return, headed by quarterback Ralph May and fullback Dixon Edwards—both mainstays last season.

Coach Snyder feels the strongest spot on the team will be the halfback position. Four veterans are returning to this position. Millard Fleming and Jasper Wright will probably handle the offensive and Harper Hill will have one defensive spot. The other defensive spot is undecided.

The tackle position is handicapped by a lack of experience and depth. Both first string tackles graduated. One of the tackle spots will be filled by veteran Everett Vance. The other tackle position is open.

Lack of depth in the fullback position will necessitate the use of some men who lack experience. Edwards will get the offensive role while another veteran, Gary Zickefoose will be on defense.

Overall the team lacks depth and experience.

Coach Snyder will probably have a strong first unit but the bench appears to be weak as in past years. These spots will have to be filled by inexperienced sophomores.

Coach Snyder hopes to improve last season's 2-1-7 record. With 61 candidates out for spring practice Snyder should have some men to fill these vacant spots.

About 10 days of spring practice remain of the 20 days allotted under National Collegiate Athletic Association rules.

Softball Action In Intramurals Is Underway

Intramural softball has been in action for two weeks and five games have been played thus far. Three games were played last week and one game dropped as a forfeit. Two games were played early this week.

Last week saw TKE No. 2 defeat KA No. 2, 15 to 14 in the season opener. Also last week, TKE No. 1 defeated KA No. 1 by a 12 to 6 score and SAE No. 2 defeated the Cavaliers by a 11 to 4 score.

In this week's play, Sig Ep No. 1 rolled by SAE No. 1, 11 to 7, and PKA No. 1 whipped KA No. 1 by the decisive score of 17 to 6 in Tuesday's action.

In intramural individual games, Dick Dorsey of the Sig Eps defeated Dan Wysong, also of the Sig Eps, for the Chess Championship. Dorsey had two checkmates and a stalemate to defeat Wysong's one checkmate.

Fallout Shelter Awaiting Washington OK

By ARCHIE GLASPELL
Staff Reporter

Students are wondering what action has happened concerning the construction of the fallout shelter which has been assigned to the University.

According to James B. Donnelly of Region II Planning and Operations Office of the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization, the reason for the holdup is that all plans and specifications for the shelter have to be studied in detail by the OCDM engineers in Washington and adjudged to be "up to par."

Although there is a delay, Mr. Donnelly said that the capital allotted for the construction by the federal government ($250,000) is waiting for the job to begin when the final "okay" is given to the project by Washington.

This project is one of 200 which the OCDM is conducting throughout the nation. The local project is the only one capable of holding 1100 persons for a survival period of two weeks.

One question that arises is, "If the shelter will hold only 1100 people, what will happen to the rest of the student population?"

The answer to this is the time element. Statistics show that to comfortably survive for two weeks, each person needs 15½ square feet of space, but that they can survive for shorter periods of time in only 4½ square feet per person. Since the shelter will contain 15 thousand square feet of floor space, a greater number of people could make use of the facilities if other safety areas were not available.

When the shelter is built it will contain four classrooms plus facilities to accommodate the overflow of students from the cafeteria. A tunnel will be built from the shelter to the cafeteria. This tunnel will be built in the same manner as the underground walkways going to and from the subways of New York.

In return for constructing the shelter, the government will use the shelter during the year for research purposes and to display to the local residents the practicality of such a construction.

The University will also conduct research projects concerning the shelter. Mr. Donnelly said that the projects will be conducted by psychology, sociology, and political science departments. The programs have not been set up yet.

Another question that has been asked by many students is, "Is the shelter just going to be a hole in the ground, or is it going to have anything in it?" To answer this, the shelter will have classroom space, food storage and preparation areas, activities and recreation areas, and air purifying machinery.

The shelter is designed to be used both in normal times and in times of emergency. By emergency, any type of disaster—man-made or natural—is included.

HAPPINESS CAN'T BUY MONEY

With tuition costs spiralling ever upward, more and more undergraduates are investigating the student loan plan. If you are one who is considering the "Learn Now, Pay Later" system, you would do well first to study the case of Leonid Sigafos.

Leonid, the son of an upholsterer in Straitened Circumstances, Idaho, had his heart set on going to college, but his father, alas, could not afford to send him. Leonid applied for a Regents Scholarship, but his reading speed, alas, was not very rapid—two words an hour—and before he could finish the first page of his test the Regents had closed their brief cases crossly and gone home. Leonid then applied for an athletic scholarship, but he had, alas, only a single athletic skill—balancing a stick on his chin—and this, alas, aroused only passing enthusiasm among the coaches.

And then, huzzah, Leonid learned of the student loan plan: he could borrow money for his tuition and repay it in easy monthly installments after he left school!

Happily Leonid enrolled in the Southeastern Idaho College of Woodpulp and Restoration Drama and happily began a college career that grew more happy year by year. Indeed, it became altogether ecstatic in his senior year because Leonid met a coed named Salina T. Nem with hair like beaten gold and eyes like two squirts of Lake Louise. Love gripped them in its big moist palm and they were betrothed on the Eve of St. Agnes.

Happily they made plans to be married the day after commencement—plans, alas, that never were to come to fruition because Leonid, alas, learned that Salina, like himself, was in college on a student loan, which meant that he had not only to repay his own loan when he left school but also Salina's, and the job, alas, that was waiting for Leonid after graduation at the Boise Raccoon Works simply did not pay enough, alas, to cover both their loans, plus rent and food and clothing.

Sick at heart, Leonid and Salina sat down and lit Marlboro Cigarettes and tried to find an answer to their problem—and, sure enough, they did! I do not know whether or not Marlboro Cigarettes helped them find an answer; all I know is that Marlboros taste good and look good, and when things close in and a feller needs a friend and the world is black as the pit from pole to pole, it is a heap of comfort and satisfaction to be sure that Marlboros will always provide the same unflagging pleasure, the same unstinting quality, in all times and climes and conditions. That's all I know.

Leonid and Salina, I say, did find an answer—a very simple one. If their student loans did not come due until they left school, why, then they just wouldn't leave school! So after receiving their bachelor degrees, they re-enrolled and took masters degrees. After that they took doctors degrees, loads and loads of them, until today Leonid and Salina, both aged 78, both still in school, hold doctorates in Philosophy, Humane Letters, Jurisprudence, Veterinary Medicine, Civil Engineering, Optometry, and Dewey Decimals. Their student loans, as of last January 1, amounted to a combined total of eighteen million dollars, a sum which they probably would have found great difficulty in repaying had not the Department of the Interior recently declared them a National Park.
