Candidates Engage In Debate; CCF Sponsors Vote Campaign

By DOLLY LOCKE
Staff Reporter

A university first was staged on the campus yesterday. The candidates for Student Body president and vice president participated in a debate in front of the Student Union. Each candidate had four minutes to present his platform and views. Five minutes were allowed for the opposition to ask vital questions.

Candidates for the top offices are Nancy Wood, Moundsville junior; and Tom Ross, Wheeling junior; and opposing candidates, John Andrews, Clendenin junior; and George Wooten, Hollisdaysburg, Pa., junior.

The Drum and Bugle Corps participated in the affair. The Sigma Alpha Epsilon pledge class built the platform and the Alpha Chi Omega pledge class decorated.

The Campus Christian Fellowship sponsored a "Get Out to Vote" campaign. Members of the organization placed 1,000 posters on campus buildings encouraging students to vote.

The polls will be open until 5 p.m. today. Full-time students are eligible to vote. Each voter must show his ID and activity card.

Students going to the polls will vote on six constitutional amendments.

They are:

1. Article I, Section 11, Item e, amended to read, "In event of a vacancy of any Senatorial position, the Alternate Senator of that class shall assume the position. The President of the class in which the vacancy occurs shall appoint a new Alternate Senator subject to Senate approval.

2. Section 10, Article II, amended by deleting, "... except that he may be an officer other than president, of one other student organization, except when he may succeed to the office of President of the Student Body." This amendment, referring to the Student Body vice president, merely strikes out unnecessary words.

3. Article VI, Section 4, "Amending Procedure," amended by deleting Items e and g, "Within three school weeks following Senate approval the amendment shall be submitted to the Student Body for ratification. The Senate shall provide for an election within three school weeks in which the amendment shall be submitted to the Student Body for ratification."

4. Article II, Section 7, Item f, amended by deleting "appointed" and inserted "ratified," to read

"Remove any appointive officer for incompetence, neglect of duty, or malfeasance in office unless otherwise provided. Such removal does not require Senate approval unless the appointments of such officers were ratified by the Senate."

5. Article II, Section 11, amended by deleting "... These officers cannot be removed from office unless impeached or without recommendation of the President with a majority of the Senate concurring," and inserting, "... These officers cannot be removed from office unless impeached or unless the President recommends their removal and a 3/4 majority of the Senate concurs."

6. Article I, Section 10, amended to give alternate Senators the right to introduce legislation.

These amendments have been passed by the Student Senate, but must be approved by the Student Body before going into effect.

The Senate chose Miss Marshall, Jenny Windsor, as princess from this congressional district to the Forest Festival next fall. This was in answer to a request from U.S. Rep. Ken Hechler that the next princess be a coed from Marshall in honor of its new status as a university.

Also passed were the following changes to the general election rules, a modification for the use of voting machines: 1. The registration tables in the polls will be attended to by an affiliated student, an unaffiliated student, and a faculty member who will check roster, stamp activity cards and check identification cards.

2. Students may not enter voting machines until the poll workers check the activity and identification cards.

3. A passing grade of 70 per cent must be achieved on the Senate Candidate Qualifications Test to qualify candidates to run for election. A candidate shall be notified of his test grade on a day prior to the general election, as determined by the Election Commission.

Phys. Ed. Building Site For Greek Sing May 14

By ERNESTINE MONDAY
Staff Reporter

This year's Mother's Day Sing will be held in a new place. Instead of the sing being in front of the Student Union or in Old Main Auditorium, it will be in the new Men's Health and Physical Education building. The sing will be May 14 at 1:30 p.m.

A change has also been made in the rules applying to the men's Greek organizations. They will wear a uniform dress of black suits, white shirts, dark shoes, and bow ties. This was approved by the Inter-Fraternity Council. They will not be allowed to have props either. The sorority girls will wear robes as in previous years.

Twelve of the thirteen Greek organizations will be participating in this competitive sing. The only group not participating is Lambda Chi Alpha. The groups will sing one fraternity song and one other song of their own choosing for the competition. The names of the songs have been turned in and there are no conflicts in the selections. If there is to be any change in the song it must be done before April 14.

There will be five judges again this year. These judges are persons who are prominent in music or are high school music teachers. Anyone who is affiliated with any Greek organization will not be eligible to be a judge. After the judging the winners will be presented trophies by the social deans.

Each group will have a rehearsal on May 13 and will be notified later as to the time.

Dale Lynd and Jim Gallion got the pitching nod from Coach Al Brown.

Dayton scored in the first inning but the Green bounced back in the second for two runs and rounded out the third inning with 4 runs.

Lynd, only a sophomore and making his first college start, gave up only seven hits in six innings, struck out five and walked only two. His hitting brought in three field that was dropped. Williams scored on the error.

They picked up another run in the third. Jim Cook had reached base on a single and Ron Lambert had walked. Williams singled to score Cook.

THE DEAN YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

Now in the waning days of the school year when the hardest heart grows mellow and the very air is charged with memories, let us pause for a moment and pay tribute to that overworked and underappreciated campus figure, your friend and mine, the dean of students.

Policeman and confessor, shepherd and seer, warden and oracle, proconsul and pal, the dean of students is by far the most enigmatic of all academicians. How can we understand him? Well sir, perhaps the best way is to take an average day in the life of an average dean. Here, for example, is what happened last Thursday to Dean Killjoy. N. Damper of Duluth A and M.

At 6 a.m. he woke, dressed, lit a Marlboro, and went up on the roof of his house to remove the statue of the Founder which had been placed there during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 7 a.m. he lit a Marlboro and walked briskly to the campus. (The Dean had not been driving his car since it had been placed on the roof of the girls dormitory by high-spirited undergraduates.)

At 7:45 a.m. he arrived on campus, lit a Marlboro, and climbed the bell tower to remove his secretary who had been placed there during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 8 a.m. he reached his office, lit a Marlboro, and met with Derther Sigafoos, editor of the student newspaper. Young Sigafoos had been writing a series of editorials urging the United States to annex Canada. When his editorials had evoked no response, he had taken matters into his own hands. Accompanied by his sports editor and two copy readers, he had gone over the border and conquered Manitoba. With great patience and several excellent Marlboro Cigarettes, the Dean persuaded young Sigafoos to give Manitoba back. Young Sigafoos, however, insisted on keeping Winnipeg.

At 9 a.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and met with Erwin J. Bender, president of the local Sigma Chi chapter, who came to report that the Deke house had been put on top of the Sigma Chi house during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

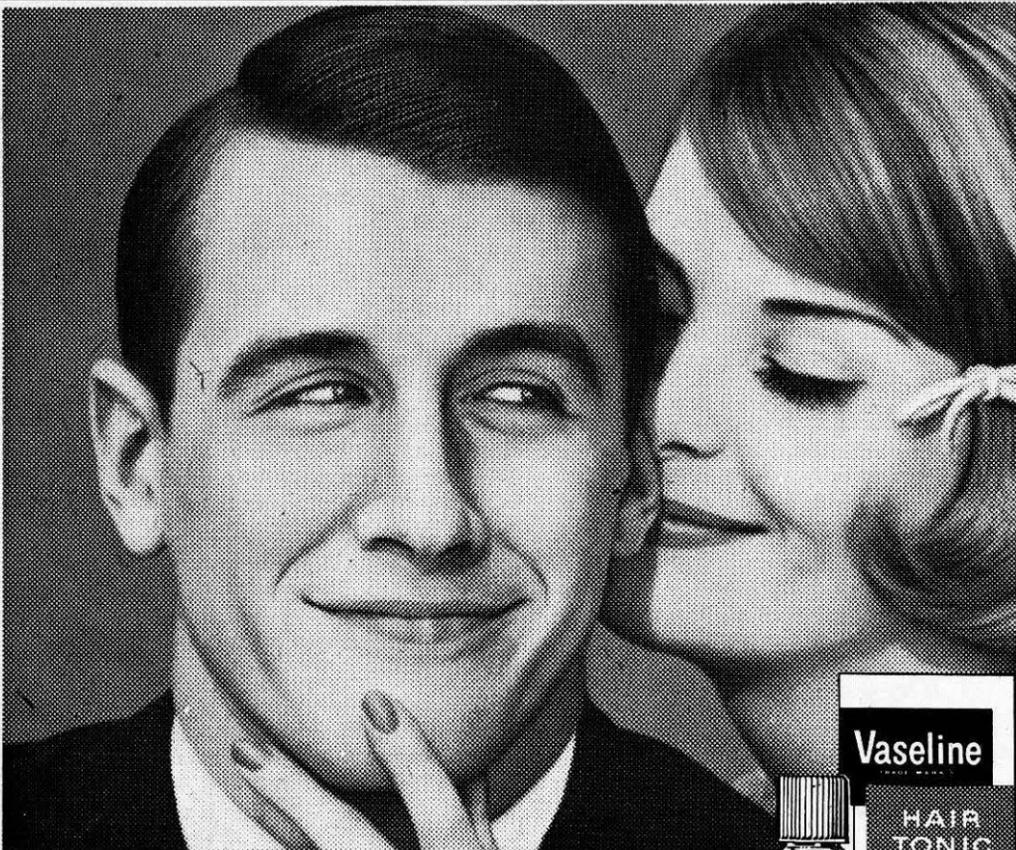

At 10 a.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and went to umpire an intramural softball game on the roof of the law school where the campus baseball diamond had been placed during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 12 noon the Dean had a luncheon meeting with the president of the university, the bursar, the registrar, and the chairman of the English department at the bottom of the campus swimming pool where the faculty dining room had been placed during the night by high-spirited undergraduates. Marlbros were passed after lunch, but not lit owing to the dampness.

At 2 p.m., back in his office, the Dean lit a Marlboro and received the Canadian minister of war who said that unless young Sigafoos gave back Winnipeg, Canada would march. Young Sigafoos was summoned and agreed to give back Winnipeg if he could have Saskatoon. The Canadian minister of war at first refused, but finally agreed after young Sigafoos placed him on the roof of the mining and metallurgy building.

At 3 p.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and met with a delegation from the student council who came to present him with a set of matched luggage in honor of his fifty years' service as dean of students. The Dean promptly packed the luggage with his clothing and Marlbros and fled to Utica, New York, where he is now in the aluminum siding game.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

It is most rewarding after four years at Marshall to see a team of candidates for president and vice president of the student body courageous enough to take a negative stand on the present absence policy. It might be well to take a close look at it.

To the student it means penalties for absences from class regardless of class work and test grades. In other words, the above-average student is penalized not because of inferior work, but because he is capable of missing a class and still keep up with the rest of the students. This penalizing of innate intelligence is not in keeping with our basic philosophy of education.

To the professor it acts as insurance against a half-empty class room. Why should a professor attempt to present an interesting and stimulating lecture when he is already assured of a capacity audience.

I will be the first to admit that most freshmen need close guidance and regulations until they can establish and adjust to a new set of values. However, what of the upperclassmen, many of whom are veterans, married or both, who are constantly threatened with a grade cut solely because they miss a class they pay for the privilege of attending? Perhaps we should have a truant officer too!

We are told that one of the general purposes of a college education is to prepare us to meet and make intelligent judgments concerning life's many decisions. I fail to see how the possession of a degree will automatically qualify us to arrive at sound decisions. We are not allowed to decide for ourselves, whether it is more important to attend a class or spend our time in the library.
