Dance Plan Is Debated

By RALPH TURNER
Staff Reporter

Verbal debate stole the scene at last week's Student Senate meeting when student spokesman Larry Matthews, Huntington senior, rapped the proposed all-campus May day dance.

Matthews' argument was contradicted by Senior Senator Bobby Nelson of Whitesville, dance promoter.

Matthews said, "There is no social problem at Marshall. There are 650 Greeks on campus, we're not worried about them. They provide their own social activity. About 30 per cent of the students are married and they're pretty well taken care of socially.

"The college provides the Student Union, an excellent place for everyone to meet and mix. The dorms have dances and parties. Marshall has the largest intramural program in the nation and the city offers many activities.

"The school isn't a 'Dear Abby' to take care of our little social problems or a nursemaid for students.

"Another fact is that some students are just not attractive to the opposite sex and there is nothing we can do about that.

"Plato said all men are not equal and I'll go along with that. This is not only academic but social. This is natural. The survival of the fittest.

"The Student Government isn't a welfare organization.

"I say a $500 dance that lasts four hours won't alleviate the 'so-called' social problem. My appeal is not to spend $500 for one evening. We always need money for other things.

"Have a dance on the Science Hall driveway with records but don't obligate yourself."

Nelson countered, declaring "I can't see just because students are married why they should be exempted from social life. Just because a person has an ugly mug—should we forget them? We should help them!

"Because students lack social activity they sit in the dorms on weekends with nothing to do. Sometimes developing a complex.

"As for intramurals, they're good but can't be regarded as social life.

"There is a great need for an all-campus social function."

Matthews commented on an editorial by Nelson in the "Campus Chimes", publication of the Campus Christian Fellowship, as being an exaggeration of the social problem. Nelson proclaimed, "Everything in the editorial is authentic and I can back it up."

Placement Sought By Lonely Heart

This is a story of a bashful freshman co-ed who went to the Placement Office.

Co-ed: "Is this the Placement Office?"

Director Robert Alexander: "Yes, it is."

Co-ed: "The office where you place students?"

Mr. Alexander: "Yes."

Co-ed: "Well, I would like to be placed on a date with a handsome student Saturday night."

Her Homemade Dress In Contest

ROSALEE BACHELOR, PENNSBORO sophomore, models a dress she has made and will enter in a contest sponsored by Simplicity Patterns and Sears, Roebuck and Co. The five first-place winners will receive $1,000 each.

Committee Will Review Court Contempt Cases

A special faculty-student committee has been organized to deal with contempt of court cases resulting from violation of the Student Monitor System law.

The committee consisting of Harold Willey, Dean of Men, and Lillian Buskirk, Dean of Women and Student Court Chief Justice George Knox, Huntington senior, will handle contempt of court cases only.

Knox said the need for such a committee was seen after a student gave an assumed name while being issued a ticket for line-jumping in the cafeteria.

"This is deliberate libel," said Knox. "This committee consisting of the social deans will have power to issue more severe punishment than the Student Court. It will act similar to a higher court.

According to the new plan, punishment will be decided by the deans, varying with each individual case. The court will reserve the right to commit students to this committee.

Knox said violators' ID cards will be checked by monitors to stop any further occurrences of this nature.

Judicial Interpretation Ruled
At the last court session an ultimatum was issued to the Student Senate demanding revisions to the Student Monitor System law. Revisions requested were:

(1) That an adequate definition of line-cutting be established; (2) The clause 'intent to cut line' taken out; (3) A violator must go all the way through the line (getting his meal), before he is given a ticket.

The parliamentary committee of the Senate has recommended that the definition of line-cutting and the time of ticket issuance be decided by judicial interpretation of the court.

Bill Wortham, junior class president from Huntington, added, "It is the court's duty to interpret this law not the senate."

L. D. Egnor, Huntington junior and chairman of the parliamentary committee, said, "Intent to cut line is not in the law but was the presence in the first case of line-cutting handled by the court."

No action was deemed necessary by the legislative branch. It was decided by the committee that interpretation of the law should be handled by the Student Court.

Knox replied, "We will take it upon ourselves to interpret the law. We are just waiting for legislative approval.

"The reason I confronted the Senate is because there is already enough division in the Student Government and I thought I would give the legislative branch a 'say' in the matter if it was thought necessary.

"We will decide future cases by way of court interpretation."

Phantom Strikes Again

The "phantom" has struck again!

A pamphlet, billed as "Some Selected References Regarding the Honor System in Colleges and Universities," was mailed to the Parthenon. It was unsigned.

Though the attempt to provide references concerning the Honor System is commendable (even though in opposition), we continue to deplore anonymity.

Action Announced In Reorganization

Creation Of College Of Applied Science, Transfer Of Departments Due This Fall

By TOM FOSTER
Managing Editor

The establishment of a College of Applied Science and the transfer of the English and History departments to the College of Arts and Sciences will take place in September, President Stewart H. Smith announced this week.

This action stems from approval of recommendations by the West Virginia Board of Education Feb. 1-2.

President Smith also plans to place Economics and Political Science courses in the College of Arts and Sciences and retain certain departments and courses in Teachers College.

The Board also approved the following recommendations submitted by President Smith to become effective July 1, 1960, or

Honor Plan Vote Hailed

By DON FANNIN
Editor-in-Chief

"I am quite pleased by the motion passed by the faculty concerning the Honor System," said John Karickhoff, student body president. "I particularly like the clause in the motion providing for faculty guidance in the students' work on the system."

Karickhoff said that he would favor direct advice from the faculty, perhaps coming from an official faculty advisory committee, rather than unofficial advice coming from "somewhere out in left field."

Karickhoff's remarks were made following a vote of confidence by the faculty toward student effort to initiate an Honor System here. Prior to the vote, the Honor Commission's effort to install the system in the departments of ROTC and philosophy had been stalled, pending faculty approval.

Now, the Honor Commission is expected to direct its efforts toward further definition and expansion of the Honor System plan, particularly in the area of procedure.

At Tuesday's faculty meeting, one question concerning faculty participation in the Honor System was answered by Karickhoff.

When asked whether or not instructors would be allowed to remain in their classes during tests under the system, Karickhoff replied that they certainly would. He said that instructors could remain in their classes during exams and would still have the same authority that they have now to punish cheaters.

Under the proposed system, he said, the instructor would not report cheating to the Honor Committee, but would handle it through the same procedure that is presently in effect.

as soon thereafter as funds are available and reports on continuing studies are filed and approved by the President.

1. Establish the position of Vice President of Academic Affairs.

President Smith had hoped to establish this position by September, but has decided to postpone it until September, 1961, due largely to financial reasons.

2. Establish the position of Vice President of Student Affairs.

"This position will be deferred until after the position of Vice President for Academic Affairs has been firmly established," President Smith said.

3. Establish and organize a College of Business Administration and a College of Fine Arts.

Creation of a College of Business Administration and a College of Fine Arts will come about as soon as sufficient funds can be secured, President Smith has indicated.

The new College of Applied Science will include the departments of Engineering, Nursing and Military Science. Medical Technology, although not a department, would also be placed in this College.

President Smith said, "Although the steps mentioned fall short of my original hopes and plans, they do represent the most comprehensive changes made at Marshall in many years. As I see it, we should carry on a continuous evaluation of all phases of the college program and organization seeking always to provide our students with superior teaching as well as with effective administration.

Senate Gives 'OK' For Election Plan

The proposed semi-proportional representation election plan has been passed unanimously by the Student Senate.

Under the plan, students will be divided into two voting groups, prior to the general election in April, based on social affiliation. Social "affiliates" will comprise one voting group, "un-affiliates" the other.

Any person who belongs to a social fraternity or sorority, either independent or Greek as defined and recognized by the Student Activities Board, will be considered as "affiliate."

Under this classification, the Cavaliers and Societas independent groups will be placed in the affiliate classification with the Greek social fraternities and sororities.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Dear Sir: I hate to think of our student representatives as "doodling," but as I can see no program which involves the whole student body socially (except Homecoming), I must conclude that either they are "doodling" or something else is very wrong.

I would be all for an honor system if I thought it had a chance, but it definitely does not. Money from the Student Activity Fund has been spent to print pamphlets which outline the "honor system."

Actually I don't suppose that it is entirely the fault of the unaffiliates that they have no more social activity than they do. They are the majority; if they would only join forces, I'm sure our various "elections" would accomplish more for the benefit of the whole campus.

Dear Sir: Some question has been raised since an edition of The Parthenon came out in regard to my opposition to the Honor System.

Several interested individuals have asked why I was for the Honor System at the first of the year and now I am against it. Although I personally may think or believe one way, I must give my views and support the general opinion of the class I represent.

Steve Ewing
Freshman President

Dear Editor: I would like to have an opportunity to express my reason for the motion which I made at the faculty meeting.

(Dr. Josephs' motion last Tuesday urged that the faculty give approval and encouragement to the students in establishing an Honor System and also that the faculty and administration aid the students.)

It is my sincere feeling that an institution of higher learning must continually offer to its students and faculty an atmosphere which is conducive to learning. The scientist in the laboratory experiments with physical materials under controlled conditions.

Outside the laboratory, students and faculty should be given the same opportunity to develop ideas; and with faculty and/or administrative guidance these ideas may or may not bear fruit. If the incidence of failure is as high as it is in the science laboratory, then most of these ideas will pass by.

Michael Josephs
(Associate Professor, Physical Education)

Dear Members of the Sophomore Class:

Since I am one of your representatives to the Student Senate, I request that if any of you have any suggestions or views on the recent developments in the Student Senate such as the lack of social functions, the honor system, proportional representation, etc.,

Dear Sir: Upon the reading of a recent pamphlet regarding "some comments, questions, and criticisms concerning the proposed 'HONOR SYSTEM' at Marshall College," impartiality becomes impossible.

To think the Marshall student so asinine, so naive to accept at face value its arguments is but insult to his integrity! The article becomes guilty of the very "sins" hurled in accusation at advocates of the Honor System: Prejudice. Distortion. Lack of Foundation.

May I propose three possibilities:

(1) A Time-out Period—perhaps there is a need to set aside the present schedule of the voting of this system in order that the Honor Commission may re-examine its system: confronting some of the questions presented in the pamphlet AND to rethink its own motivation for promoting an Honor System at Marshall College.

(2) A Series of Forums be scheduled to present both positive and negative viewpoints. Such presentations would be given perhaps in debate form with both faculty and students participating.

(3) A similar pamphlet be prepared in rebuttal of the recent one of negative viewpoint SPONSORED ALSO BY NEITHER STATE NOR STUDENT GOVERNMENT FUNDS.

Thank you for your consideration.

Matmen On Way To Tournament

By KEITH WALTERS
Assistant Sports Editor

Marshall's wrestling team will depart today for the campus of Kent State University where the grapplers will compete in the Mid-American Conference double-elimination wrestling tournament.

The Big Green, coached by Ed Prelaz, closed out a rather unsuccessful season Saturday with an impressive victory over Fairmont State College by the score of 31-2.

Fairmont's two points came in the 177 pound class when Marshall's Bob Wilson drew with Sam Filler. Four Big Green grapplers racked up decisions via the pin route.

In the 123 pound division, Jim Mattern pinned Fred Flannigan in 2:25 of the first period. Earl Rine pinned Ron Winner in 2:32 of the third period in the 130 pound class.

Ralph May pinned his opponent in the 147 division and Alpha Mayfield pinned his opponent in the unlimited class. May pinned John Parker in 1:15 of the first period and Mayfield's victory came over Moses Gwinn in 2:15 of the first period.

Record Now 4-7

The win was Marshall's second of the year over Fairmont. The Big Green defeated the northern school earlier in the season by the score of 20-13.

Findlay College and the University of Cincinnati have also fallen at the hands of the Prelaz-coached squad. Findlay was defeated, 19-11, and Cincinnati lost, 21-11.

Of the Big Green's seven losses, two were to non-conference foes. Ohio Wesleyan bested the matmen, 16-14, and Baldwin-Wallace handed the grapplers a 19-10 defeat.

Marshall has also lost to all of its Mid-American foes, which in the face of the wrestling tournament, leaves a lot to be desired.

Western Michigan dropped the matmen, 28-8, and Toledo overwhelmed the Big Green, 25-3. Kent State handed the grapplers their worst defeat of the season a 38-0 lashing. Ohio University captured a 23-7 verdict and Miami scored a 19-10 victory.

Mattern Top Winner

The Big Green grapplers have racked up a total of 34 individual match victories, while dropping 42. Captain Bill Gillespie and sophomore Jim Mattern boast the best records of the group.

Gillespie has wrestled in four matches, winning three and drawing in one. Mattern, who wrestles in the 123-pound class, has scored nine wins, while losing two. He has scored four pins this season.

Earl Rine has posted a 6-4 record this year which includes one pin. He has drawn with one opponent this season. Clyde Cyrus has posted a 3-3 record including two pins, while Ralph May has won three and lost eight matches.

Bob Wilson has fought to three draws this season, along with one win and one loss. Alpha Mayfield has won five and lost six decisions in the heavyweight division.

Tony Russell lost five matches while winning none in the 137 class, while Dick Thomas dropped seven, winning none.

SHOTS WITHOUT CHARGE

"Many students are not taking advantage of the polio shots available in the clinic," says Mary P. Summers, registered nurse.

She further expressed her wish for some kind of poll to determine how many students have received polio shots elsewhere.

Typhoid, tetanus, and small pox shots are available without charge.

Frosh Cagers Close Season With 15 Wins

William "Sonny" Allen, head mentor of the freshman basketball squad closed out a successful first year with a 15-4-1 record, the best record since 1956 when the frosh had a 21-2 record.

Coach Allen took over the helm this past season from Dr. Mike Josephs who compiled a neat 67-12-1 record.

Billy Ray Daniels led the team with a 15.3 average followed by Phil Carter with a 14.1 average. Corky Layman averaged 10.6 points; Larry Williams 10.1 points; Fred Burns 10.2; and Jerry Morrison 9.2 points.

Daniels led the netters in total field goals, making 123. Morrison led the squad with a .476 field goal average, while Daniels and Willie Tucker had .473 and .470 averages.

Corky Layman led the squad with a sizzling .896 free throw average. Carter was top rebounder for the cagers bringing down 263. He was followed by Williams who pulled 202 off the boards.

The team field goal average was .432 and its free throw average was .658.

COUNSELORS ELECTED

Why Are Today's Students More Serious, Dedicated, Industrious?

Dear Dr. Frood: In your day, college students were all rah-rah and raccoon coats. Today's student is more responsible, more dedicated, more industrious. What accounts for this big change?
Studious

Dear Stu: Today's world is more complex, more challenging. Ideologies clash. Our planet grows smaller. The cold war strikes fear into our hearts. There is a shortage of raccoons.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am disgusted with my classmates. All they think about is women and parties. How can I get them to talk about important things?
Serious

Dear Serious: Throw a large party. Invite plenty of women. Then, around midnight, say something important, like "We're out of beer."

Dear Dr. Frood: Modern girls go to college for four years. Then they get married and don't even know how to change diapers. What is this leading to?
Old-Fashioned

Dear Old-Fashioned: Self-sufficient babies.

Dear Dr. Frood: Why doesn't everybody smoke Lucky Strike?
Lucky Smoker

Dear Lucky: Why doesn't everybody get straight "A's"?

Dear Dr. Frood: Grandfather's will provided a rather handsome allowance on the stipulation that I showed "the courage and strength of character" to stay in college. Frankly, however, I am tired of college. I have been here 40 years. Is there any way I can quit and still collect?
Senior

Dear Senior: Your question brings up a considerable number of legal problems, with interesting technical ramifications. Having given the matter much thought, I have this suggestion: enter Law School.

Dear Dr. Frood: Here are two portraits of Beethoven. One was done by an old master. The other by a student. Which is the masterpiece?
Art Lover

Dear Art: The one on the left is the master's work. The stroke is deft, clean, authoritative. Every detail is authentic Beethoven, even the gesture of keeping his composing hand warm.

Dear Dr. Frood: Has college ever really helped anyone in business?
Practical

Dear Practical: Of course. Think how college has helped the people who make pennants, footballs, fraternity pins.

Ancient Teays River Subject Of Research

By KEITH MARKINS
Staff Reporter

The Geology Department has a cooperating arrangement with the Geology Department of the University of Illinois in respect to research work being conducted on the ancient Teays River.

For those who are not familiar with it, the Teays River arose in what is now North Carolina and followed a northwesterly course through Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and south to empty into the Gulf of Mexico, which then extended much farther north.

The Mississippi was a tributary of the Teays; the Monongahela and the Allegheny flowed north toward the region now covered by Lake Erie.

The advancing glaciers of the Great Ice Age completely buried the Teays River below Chillicothe, Ohio and dammed its course above that point, forming a long narrow lake from Chillicothe to Nitro, W. Va. When the ice retreated and the lake became drained, the Teays River was replaced by the present Ohio, Kanawha, and the greater Mississippi and other streams. The headwaters of the Teays still remain today as the New River, which is really the oldest river in this part of America and the only one which entirely crosses the Appalachian Mountains.

In connection with the research work, geologists believe that the headwaters of the Teays River began even farther east than the New River does at present. The object of the research is to determine how much farther east the original headwaters of the Teays began by comparison and concentration of various minerals in the stream bed.

The University of Illinois Geology Department has collected specimens of sediments in Illinois and has requested that this department, as well as others along the route of the ancient Teays River, send them specimens from their respective areas.

Dr. Raymond Janssen, professor of the Marshall Geology Department has collected several specimens from various points along the Teays Valley and forwarded them to the University of Illinois along with the exact location of each specimen.

The University of Illinois Geology Department will make certain tests to determine which minerals occur in specimens found along the route of the former Teays River as compared to those found in the bedrock of its headwater area. In this way, the exact source of the ancient river may be located.

HONORARY TO MEET

The Rev. Robert Lounds of Crozer Seminary will discuss seminary requirements at a meeting of Kappa Delta Chi, religious honorary, at 4 p.m. Tuesday in Northcott Hall.

Want A' Peek? Who's Hands Reach Out To Take Trays?

Have you wondered who the students are who take your trays and have the task of washing the dishes in the cafeteria each evening?

These students who work in the "dish room" have quite a job to perform, but seldom are they seen at work except for a pair of hands eagerly reaching for a tray of dirty dishes. These hands may belong to Adolfus Sims, Scarbo sophomore; Chad Hatcher, Bluefield sophomore; Dallas Kelly, Branchland freshman; Eddie Lich, Oak Hill sophomore; Edward Auxier, Coalwood freshman; Jay Osborne, Kermit sophomore; or Philip Smock, Huntington sophomore.

The various jobs in the "dish room,"—trays, scraps, silverware, and machine watcher—are rotated nightly; the silverware being the choice job. Scraps which is the most undesirable, is responsible for a few arguments which come up over the rotating system.

Often above the clatter of the work, the latest hit song can be heard, since a favorite pastime of the students employed there is singing.

The workers enjoy their jobs; and by combining business with pleasure, the "dish crew," find their jobs more fun than work.

Seven Will Attend Weekend Seminar

A group of students will leave at 6 p.m. today for New York City to attend a weekend Baptist Seminar at the Judson Memorial Church in Greenwich Village.

The trip, sponsored by the Baptist Student movement, will include students from several denominational churches and the Campus Christian Fellowship.

The Rev. Lander Beal, college religious counselor, will accompany them.

3 Students Here Going To Parley

Three delegates representing the Student Government will attend the Mid-American Student Government Conference at Kalamazoo, Mich., March 11-12.

They are Student Body Vice-President Ray Bane of Wheeling, Junior Class President Bill Wortham of Huntington, and Junior Class Senator L. D. Egnor of Huntington.

The purpose of the meeting is to gain new ideas concerning student government work through discussion of mutual problems.

ALL-STARS LOSE

In the first Intramural basketball action of the season, the Marshall All-Stars fell to the Morehead State College All-Stars by a score of 72-58.

The Big Green will meet the Morehead All-Stars again tonight here on the Marshall court at 7:30 p.m.

ART DISPLAY SET

The Art Department will have a collection of original paintings on display at the Huntington Art Galleries during the month of March, it was announced by Joseph S. Jablonski, professor of Art and chairman of the department. The collection contains several recent serigraphs, lithographs, wood cuts, and etchings.

'Young Democrats' Conduct Campaign

The Young Democrats Club has accepted a challenge made by the Young Republicans to conduct a public debate concerning leading issues in the forthcoming election.

This will take place the last of March and is to be heard over the public address system.

They will present the points their party stands for and give the background on major issues and candidates.

This presentation is to be conducted on a two party platform and is in hopes of stimulating student interest. These clubs cannot give party support to a candidate as a whole but can as individuals.

Chemists To Hold Meeting Tonight

Robert C. Schwann of the Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, Ala., will address the Ohio Valley section of the American Chemical Society at 7:30 p.m. tonight in Science Hall Auditorium.

A dinner, preceding Mr. Schwann's talk, will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the downstairs cafeteria dining room.

Two top chemistry students in each of the high schools representing the Ohio Valley section have been invited. They will receive awards and citations and will be taken on a guided tour of the chemistry department from 4 until 6 p.m.

The program is open to all students.

OOPS! TOO FEW A'S

An error was made in a Parthenon story concerning high school students attending Marshall.

In the story, it was stated that the only "A" in Prof. Julius Lieberman's German 101 class was made by a high school student. Professor Lieberman says there were four "A's" made in the two sections of German 101, three of them by college students.
