Fee Hike OK'd To Aid Athletics

Group Further Clarifies Honor System Proposal

By RALPH TURNER
Staff Reporter

The Honor Commission has further clarified the Honor System plan at the request of departmental heads.

Need for such information was seen after the plan was given a faculty vote of confidence.

The explanation concerns procedure in reporting violators, case investigation and trial procedure.

According to the report, a trial will be held only when investigation strongly indicates a breach of the Honor Code. A majority vote of the Honor Committee will decide if trial is justified. A decision of guilty must be by majority vote of the committee. Any decision of guilty will be reported to the president of the College.

Five main sources of information will be considered in investigation of cases. (1) The student who reports the violation. (2) The student who is reported. (3) The examination papers. (4) Conditions in the class during examination. (5) Any apparatus used in the cheating process.

Violators are to be reported by any honor-bound students to any member of the Honor Committee. A reporting form concerning the specifics of the case will be filled out.

John Karickhoff, student body president of Spencer, said an open forum and discussion will be conducted in the Science Hall auditorium to answer any questions concerning the plan. The date has not been set yet.

Seventeen hundred copies of an Honor System pamphlet are to be distributed on campus Monday explaining the plan.

Karickhoff stated, "It is the duty of every student to study this pamphlet carefully."

A vote is to be taken in departments planning to initiate the system. A 75 per cent majority will be required for passage and 50 per cent of the students must sign the Honor Code.

Commission representatives are to meet with classes planning to undertake the system to answer any questions concerning the plan.

In either case you must make application at the Dean of Men's office by April 1.

NO DOUBT it was some thoughtful student that bundled up the statue of John Marshall against the unseasonably cold weather of late. In fact, the earmuffs and scarf seem not to detract from the chief justice's dignity.

BULLETIN

A $5 per semester increase in each student's activity fee for one year was approved by the Student Senate Wednesday night, subject to the approval of President Stewart H. Smith and Comptroller Fred Smith, and the W. Va. Board of Education. The $5 increase would go to the athletic program, which presently gets $5 from each fee. If initiated, the increase would go into effect in Sept. President Smith said it is his policy to approve such recommendations from the Senate and send them on to the state board.

Late yesterday, Neal "Whitey" Wilson, acting athletics director, announced that because of the senate's action there would be no cutback in spring sports. He said approximately $4,000 would be borrowed from a non-college source to finance the program.

By TOM FOSTER and RON HUTCHISON

Spring athletics, with the exception of baseball, are expected to be sharply curtailed this year.

A decline in receipts from Marshall's two major sports, football and basketball, has been cited as the major reason for the cutback in the spring sports program, according to President Stewart H. Smith.

The spring sports are tennis, baseball, track and golf.

"If we ran our normal (sports) program as we had been running it, it would cost us $19,159. (Marshall's athletic budget for the 1959-60 fiscal year was $15,402). We are curtailing expenditures such as personal service, administration, sports and any activities connected with sports", Comptroller Fred R. Smith said.

President Smith said that acting athletic director Neal B. Wilson will contact scheduled opponents in an effort to rearrange the spring sports calendar.

Another reason given by President Smith for the curtailment was that the expanding spring sports program has put extra burdens on the budget of the athletic department.

He added that several sugges-

Who Keeps Sidewalks Free Of Snow?

By JOE WORKMAN
Feature Editor

Have you wondered how campus sidewalks have managed to remain cleared and safe for walking this winter even for victims of 8 o'clock classes?

This is not due to any newly-developed processes for generating heat into sidewalk pavement.

Since Feb. 14 over 550 man-hours of labor have been put forth by members of the Building and Grounds Department toward maintaining safe walkways, according to Thomas A. Bolyard, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds. So far, four tons of rock salt have been used on the estimated three-mile stretch of walks.

Mr. Bolyard said the expenses for equipment and men has made a dip of approximately $2500 in the department's budget.

This work has been distributed between 21 men, some of whom have begun as early as 5:30 a. m. to clear the snow and ice.

In regard to utilization of men, Mr. Bolyard said: "We used all of the available men in the Buildings and Grounds Department for clearing the walks, regardless of their regular jobs."

"This work was voluntary on the part of the men and was done for the safety and convenience of students and faculty. I might add that I have had no reports of any injuries suffered as a result of slippery walks."

AN EDITORIAL

The Parthenon congratulates the Buildings and Grounds Department for its excellent work this winter in keeping Marshall's sidewalks safe.

We have heard many complimentary remarks from both students and faculty members who join with us in saying "thanks".

It Took 14 Years To Write Letter!

Otto "Swede" Gullickson wrote a letter to a Japanese family 14 years ago. It took a new generation to do it, but that letter has finally been answered!

The unusual story began as World War II ended. Gullickson, a professor of physical education, was with the Red Cross when American troops occupied Tokyo. Among the first persons he met was Bunsuke Koyama, then mayor of the Saitama prefect. This came about because Mr. Gullickson's interpreter was a cousin of the mayor.

A friendship resulted. "Quite a few times I was invited to his home for dinner," Professor Gullickson recalls. "On a number of occasions I recall a little Japanese girl playing around the house with some friends. I used to fill their pockets with candy."

The little girl's name was Tomoko Koyama, granddaughter of the mayor.

Not many months after the war was over, Professor Gullickson returned to the States. He wrote a letter to Mayor Koyama. Months turned into years and the unanswered letter was all but forgotten.

Several days ago he received a letter dated Feb. 20. It was postmarked in Tokyo. Here is the letter:

"Dear Mr. Gullickson:

"I am a nineteen years old Japanese girl whose name is Tomoko Koyama. My father is Mr. Takeshi Koyama and my grandfather is Bunsuke Koyama. Do you remember them? I imagine that you will remember them sometimes.

"It was about fourteen years ago when my grandfather received a letter from you. But he and my father couldn't write in English at all. So they did not write a letter to you for a long time. When I graduated high school last Spring my father wanted me to study English more and more. And besides I am much interested in studying English. Then I started to learn English conversation at Japanese American Conversation Institute. I am studying it from nine to two-thirty. And now I have come to be able to speak and write it a little.

"Tonight I talked with my grandfather about my school life. He was very glad to hear about English lesson. And he showed your letter to me. He had been keeping it very carefully. And whenever he has a chance to talk about you with my father, he always remembers you. So I read it to him. But I am very sorry that I can't read it to my grandmother. Because she died of cancer about seven years ago.

"And then I decided to write this letter to you. And if you get this letter, we will be able to correspond with you from that time on. I think that would be splendid. And someday I wish I could go your home in order to see you and some exhibitions in the Marshall College art exhibit.

"I hope you will receive my letter before long. Please give our best regards to Mrs. Gullickson. And let me hear from you soon."

The letter was signed: "Bunsuke's Granddaughter".

Robe Initiates Five Pledges

Pledge class officers are: president, Frank Dent; vice president, Don Martin and secretary-treasurer, Tom Ross. The pledge project is undecided.

Spring Sports Cutback Seen

1. Use least expensive mode of travel. This would include elimination of flying.
2. Better care of athletic equipment.
3. All possible economies to be made by coaching staff.

If the spring athletic program were not curtailed as planned, a deficit of $19,159 would have occurred at the end of the current fiscal year, June 30. Under the revised budget the deficit will not occur.

Comptroller Fred R. Smith and the Athletic Department have made these plans for balancing the sports budget.

A $7,693 debt, consisting of a $4,200 Memorial Field House rental fees and $3,493 personal service payments, will be paid from appropriated funds.

A $10,115 debt, consisting of a $3,000 food bill, $5,700 for new equipment and supplies, and $800 for equipment repairs and $8,000 for athletic tickets will be deferred until the 1960-61 athletic budget.

The remaining $1,366 deficit will be made up by the curtailment of the spring sports program.

President Smith also said, "We are making serious efforts to keep the baseball schedule intact. We do not plan to curtail it as the other three sports.

Shhh!—Concert in progress. "Hey, man! Like I don't hear nothin'." "That's right, man. Like quiet. Real quiet." If you've got a "tin" ear and keep getting bounced out of College Sympony practice sessions, why not start a "silent" symphony? University of Detroit students have done just that—with wacky success. Forming the Hush Record Co., the students recorded "silent" music to quiet the campus jukebox. Recently, they capped their efforts by presenting a giggle-packed program of thunderous "silence" to 1,100 Detroit theatre-goers. LIFE, March 14, reports from the scene.

Stop The Music

On the other hand, if you're averse to silence, you might petition the Student Senate to stage a marathon filibuster. This might replace the "noise" of an all-campus social event, which the Student Government appears unable to finance this semester.

For the inside dope on filibustering tactics, see LIFE's coverage of the record-breaking talkathon that is delaying civil rights legislation in the U. S. Senate.

Musical Chairs

While southern senators stand, southern Negro students sit. Their sit-in "strikes" at southern lunch counters are in opposition to racial discrimination.

Harry Golden, author of the best-selling Only in America and For 2c Plain, talks about the South's racial problem. His story is augmented by LIFE's graphic pictures.

The Gold Bug

Need cash? Don't sell that History 311 textbook to the bookstore. It might come in handy.

Students in Dr. Moffat's 311 class will recall that the Spaniard, Coronado, explored as far north of Mexico as Kansas in search of gold. Well, he didn't find it, but someone else may have.

LIFE relates the exciting, yet touching story of a former army private who is certain he discovered a fabulous cache of gold while stationed in Arizona during WW II. P.S. He's still trying to get it.

Money Buys Everything

With the shortage of pocket gold on campus, most of the "she" students will be scouting around for good buys in clothes for the upcoming spring social functions. Greek Week, for example.

Good news! LIFE shows you where to get "inexpensive" reproductions of ultra-chic outfits from Paris. They're styled by Ohrbach's of New York, and can be purchased for as little as $60.

The Roundup

John Milhoan Selected For North-South Game

Basketball team captain John Milhoan has been selected to play in the annual North-South basketball game at Memphis, Tenn. Milhoan will play on the North squad in the contest to be played later this month. The game pits the best players from the North and South in the annual sectional clash.

This was the second honor accorded the slender team leader this week. Tuesday Milhoan was named unanimously to the All Mid-American Conference team. This all-star team is voted by the MAC coaches. Milhoan and Jimmy Darrow of Bowling Green were the only two unanimous team picks. The Marshall captain was selected for honorable mention on the United Press International team announced last week.

Marshall center Bob Burgess, was accorded second team honors on the MAC squad. Burgess, who is only a sophomore, is in his first season as a starter for the Big Green quint.

Coach Jule Rivlin, head mentor of the Big Green cagers, feels that Milhoan's two honors are a "fine tribute to a fine athlete." He added that they were "richly deserved" by the unassuming athlete. He concluded by saying that John is an "inspiration to the rest of the boys."

AN EDITORIAL

Congratulations, John. You have been a credit to the college, during your career, as well as being an exemplary athlete. You are one of the most sincere, unaffected persons we've known, and we extend our best wishes for your future.
—The Parthenon Staff

Milhoan himself commented that he would not like to play professional or industrial basketball. "I am hoping to return to Marshall to get my master's degree in teaching." He continued by saying "I would like to teach history or geography in Ohio, but not my home town."

He concluded stating that "I think that playing with Hal Greer and playing against Oscar Robertson were my biggest thrills."

Milhoan was feted with a surprise dinner last evening at the cafeteria. The cafeteria was decorated with signs proclaiming "John Milhoan Night."

... In North-South Game

Statistics Cited For Big Green

Even though the Big Green did not fare so well this season the team and several members added new records to the books.

In other MAC statistics the netters were third in field goal percentage with a .426 average; third in rebounds percentage with a .502 and third in personal foul average with 17.8 per game.

Marshall's overall record was 10 wins and 13 losses and in MAC play had a 4-8 record, ending up sixth in the conference.

Squad captain, John Milhoan, finished second in the MAC scoring race with a 22.9 points per game average. Bob Burgess was tenth with a 16.0 average and Lew Mott was sixteenth with a 12.3 average.

The Big Green scored over 90 points per game five times this season, ending with a team offense of 77.3 points per game, second in the conference.

In the field goal percentages, Burgess was first with a sizzling .558 average breaking the record of ex-Marshall and now pro basketball player, Hal Greer. Greer had a .549 average. John Milhoan was tenth in the field goal race with .449.

In the free throw department Milhoan was fifth with a .802 per cent. Burgess led the team in rebounds and finished second in the MAC with 15.9 average per game.

3 Marshall Matmen Score At Tournament

Three wrestlers tallied for Marshall in the Mid-American Conference grappling tournament last weekend as the Big Green finished seventh in the annual affair held at Kent State.

Bowling Green narrowly won the championship, scoring 49 points to runners-up Toledo and Kent State's 47 markers. Finishing fourth in the tourney, Miami tallied 39 points, while Ohio University wound up with 30 to finish fifth. Western Michigan placed sixth with 24 and Marshall last with 12.

Jim Mattern of Parkersburg placed fourth in the 123-pound division, while Clyde Cyrus of South Charleston finished third in the 137 division. Bob Wilson of Pomeroy, Ohio, placed fourth in the heavyweight division.

Mattern was pinned in both the semi-finals and finals. He lost to Fleming of Miami in the semi-final bout and then was defeated by Brodbeck of Bowling Green in the finals.

Cyrus gained his third-place berth by defeating Toledo's Oswald in the finals. In the heavyweight division, Wilson lost a decision to Gallat of Miami, giving him a fourth-place finish.

Individual, All-Star Bowlers Selected

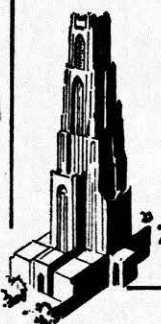

Otto "Swede" Gullickson, director of intramurals, Wednesday announced the winners of the individual bowling medals, along with the winners of the all-star team plaque.

Clearing the lanes in nine lines or 27 frames, the winners of the medals were Tom McGrath of the ROTC, who had a total of 1636 pins; Gary Poling of the All-Stars, who came up with 1501 pins; Charles Webb and Hartford Conn, also of the All-Stars, who tallied 1497 and 1468 pins, respectively; and Jim Campbell of the Cavaliers, who finished with 1450 pins.

The winners of the spot bowling league all-star team plaque were Charles Webb, Gary Poling, Ivan Grose, Hartford Conn and Sonny Staples.

17 PKA Pledges Visit Other Chapter Houses

Seventeen Pi Kappa Alpha pledges went on a week end tour of other chapter houses in several states.

The local pledges left Huntington Friday afternoon to visit the chapter houses of the University of Virginia, the University of Washington and Lee and Wake Forest College. The Pledges arrived at the different chapter houses late Friday night.

The pledges said that as soon as they got to the different houses they were immediately housed and rested. The next day they were taken on a tour of the different campuses.

Pledges that visited the University of Washington and Lee were Don Chittum, Huntington

Pledges that visited the University of Virginia were: T. A. Stevenson, Huntington sophomore; Guy Castor, Pt. Pleasant sophomore; Joe Hickey, Huntington freshman; Ronnie Wright Beckley junior; and Skip Conley, Lebnon, Virginia freshman.

This was the last step in the annual help week ceremony that concludes the semester pledging. Carl Hickey, Huntington senior and treasurer of the PKA fraternity, said this was a very good pledge group and they should do much to boost the prestige of the PKA fraternity here on the Marshall campus. The purpose of the trip was to make better fraternity relations and to find out about other chapters in the PKA organization. The PKA fraternity plans to hold their activation sometime next week.

Frank G. Clement To Speak At SAE Founder's Banquet

Frank G. Clement, former governor of Tennessee, will be the principal speaker at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity Founder's Day ceremony Saturday. Mr. Clement was the keynote speaker of the 1956 Democratic Convention.

The fraternity was founded March 9, 1956, at the University of Alabama and will be celebrating its 104th year as a national fraternity. Mr. Clement himself was a SAE at the University of Vanderbilt. Dr. Charles Moffet, professor of history and also an SAE, will be the master of ceremonies.

The ceremony will start with open house followed by a cocktail party at the Frederick Hotel. That

Essay Contest Slated On Laws Directed At Alcohol Problems

Alcoholic Beverages—the Problems of Legal Control, Are Present Laws Adequate? This is the subject for the essay contest sponsored by the Intercollegiate Association for study of the alcohol problem.

All students are eligible to enter but should do so in a group because at least 20 must enter from Marshall

Awards are offered to these groups of 20.

Group leaders undertake to submit 20 or more editorials in one lot to the Intercollegiate Association. The offer includes for that college $25 in cash ($15 and $10), and one scholarship for a representative of the group to the International Intercollegiate School of 1960.

Deadline for group entries is April 6. However, students are asked to bring in their essays several days in advance of the deadline.

Additional information is available in the English department. Interested students should contact A. Mervin Tyson, professor of English.

Officers Selected By KOP Group

Officers of the Home Economics honorary, Kappa Omicron Phi, Epsilon Chapter, were elected at a recent meeting.

They are: Sandra Strohmeyer, Ceredo junior, president; Sandra Prince, Beckley senior, first vice-president; Fernia Shrewsbury, Beckley junior, second vice-president; Judy Diehl, Fayetteville junior, recording secretary; Deanne Townsend, Nitro junior, corresponding secretary; Jo Ellen Jack, Huntington junior, treasurer; Linda Patton, Huntington junior, distaff reporter; and Judy Nutter, Huntington junior, guard.

"IT SNOW JOKE" could well be the thoughts of these members of the Buildings and Grounds Department who have been putting in many "before daylight" hours this winter clearing campus walkways.

Forum Slates Noted Author

C. Northcote Parkinson, author of "Parkinson's Law" and professor of history at the University of Malaya, will explain the "Law" at 8 p. m. tonight in Old Main Auditorium.

Although Mr. Parkinson is a scholar and well-known author of many books on economic, naval, and military history, he just recently made his first venture into satirical political economics.

One of his laws states simply that the number of subordinates in any working group increases, regardless of the amount of work to be done. Concluding that "there may be little or no relationship between the work to be done and the size of the staff to which it may be assigned," he then did research in other areas of administration, both private and governmental. His discoveries, he said, pinpoint many ridiculous inefficiencies of spreading bureaucracy in this age of over-management and the organization man.

His latest book, "The Law And The Prophets," was published in January 1960.
