26 Student Acts Slated In Campus Talent Show

Twenty-six student acts are scheduled, thus far, to appear in the Veterans' Club All-Campus Talent Show this Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in Old Main Auditorium.

The extended deadline for entering the show is 3 p.m. today. Application blanks may be obtained in the Dean of Men's office and placed in the Vets' Club mailbox there.

First rehearsal for the show will begin in the auditorium tonight at 6 p.m. A second rehearsal will be held at 6 p.m. tomorrow. All entrants must attend the rehearsals or be declared ineligible.

Tickets for the show were to go on sale in the Union today, and will also be available at the auditorium Friday and Saturday evening. Admission is fifty cents. Four door prizes will be awarded each night.

The talent show this year is really two separate shows. The performers will be divided so that one group will appear on Friday night, the other on Saturday.

During the two shows, the judges will score each entry on a point basis. Then, immediately following Saturday's show, they will compare the scores of all the contestants to determine the winners and runners-up in each of the four divisions.

A 23-inch trophy will be awarded to the first place winner in each division: 1) individual male, 2) individual female, 3) group male, and 4) group female.

Second and third place winners in each of the divisions will also receive trophies.

Contestants will be scored on the basis of timing, poise, audience reaction, originality, and presentation. A total of 50 points will be the maximum score possible.

In order to give Saturday's audience an idea of the caliber of performance shown on Friday night, the judges will pick what they consider to be the top contestant in each division from Friday night's show, and those four acts will appear again on Saturday, but will not be re-judged.

As a special added attraction to this year's second annual All-Campus Talent Show, the renowned "Great Shandoo" has been scheduled to give a command performance for the first time on the Marshall campus, according to producer John Walls, Huntington junior. Shandoo will arrive shortly before showtime Friday evening.

Those removed from competition Tuesday were: Robert Bailey, Pineville junior; Lois Brown, Huntington freshman; and Florine Dooley, Huntington freshman.

Contestants are speaking on the subject: "Challenge for West Virginians." Cash awards of $25, $15, and $10 will be given to the three finalists by the Huntington League of Women Voters after competition Thursday.

Judges for the contest will be: Mr. Arthur J. Smith, of WHTN-TV, Mr. Wendell S. Reynolds of the Huntington Advertiser, and Mr. J. Franklin Comstock of Richwood, editor of the West Virginia Hillbilly.

COLLEGE: THE FOE OF EDUCATION

In your quest for a college degree, are you becoming a narrow specialist, or are you being educated in the broad, classical sense of the word? This question is being asked today by many serious people—including my barber, my podiatrist, and my little dog Spot—and it would be well to seek an answer.

Let us examine our souls. Are we becoming experts only in the confined area of our majors, or does our knowledge range far and wide? Do we, for example, know who fought in the battle of Salamis, or Kant's epistemology, or Planck's constant, or the voyage of the Beagle, or Palestrina's cantatas, or what Wordsworth was doing ten miles above Tintern Abbey?

If we do not, we are turning, alas, into specialists. What, then, can we do to escape this strait jacket, to broaden our vistas, lengthen our horizons, to become, in short, educated?

Well sir, the first thing we must do is throw away our curricula. Tomorrow, instead of going to the same old classes, let us try something new. Let us think of college, not as a rigid discipline, but as a kind of vast smorgasbord, with all kinds of tempting intellectual tidbits to sample and savor. Let us dive in. Let our pent-up appetites roam and snatch where they will.

Let us examine our souls.

We will start the day with a stimulating seminar in Hittite artifacts. Then we will go over to marine biology and spend a happy hour with the mollusks. Then we will open our pores by drilling with the ROTC for a spell. Then we'll go over to journalism and scramble a font of Bodoni. Then we'll go to the medical school and palpate a few spleens. Then we'll go to home economics and have lunch.

And between classes we'll smoke Marlboro Cigarettes. This, let me emphasize, is not an added filip to the broadening of our education; it is an essential. To learn to live richly and well is an important part of education, and Marlboros are an important part of living richly and well. Do you think flavor went out when filters came in? Well, ha-ha, the joke is on you. Marlboro, with its Selectate filter, delivers flavor in full measure, flavor without stint or compromise, flavor that wrinkled care derides, flavor holding both its sides. This triumph of the tobaccoist's art comes to you in soft pack or flip-top box and can be lighted with match, lighter, candle, Welsbach mantle, or by rubbing two small Indians together.

When we have embarked on this new regimen—or, more accurately, lack of regimen—we will soon be studded with culture like a ham with cloves. When strangers accost us on the street and say, "What was Wordsworth doing ten miles above Tintern Abbey?" we will no longer slink away in silent abashment. We will reply loud and clear:

"As any truly educated person knows, Wordsworth, Shelley, and Keats used to go the Widdicombe Fair every year for the poetry-writing contests and three-legged races, both of which they enjoyed wildly. Well sir, imagine their chagrin when they arrived at the Fair in 1776 and learned that Oliver Cromwell, jittery because Guy Fawkes had just invented the spinning jenny, had canceled all public gatherings, including the Widdicombe Fair and Liverpool. Shelley was so upset that he drowned himself in the Bay of Naples, Keats went to London and became Samuel Johnson, and Wordsworth ran blindly into the forest until he collapsed in a heap ten miles above Tintern Abbey. There he lay for several years, sobbing and kicking his little fat legs. At length, peace returned to him. He composed himself and, noticing for the first time the beauty of the forest around him, he wrote Joyce Kilmer's immortal Trees . . . And that, smartypants, is what Wordsworth was doing ten miles above Tintern Abbey."

Poets and peasants alike know that if you like mildness but you don't like filters, you can't do better than Marlboro's companion cigarette—Philip Morris.

Big Green Seeks Second Win Today

By KEITH WALTERS
Assistant Sports Editor

Marshall plays host to the Dayton Flyers today at Inco Park in a doubleheader as the Big Green nine attempt to score its second victory of the season. Game time is three o'clock.

The Big Green's record now stands at 1-3 with its only victory coming over Xavier University in the final game of a twin-bill Saturday.

In that game, Coach Bill Chambers' crew mustered 10 hits while Carl Little pitched five-hit ball as the Big Green rolled to a 10-2 victory.

TEX WILLIAMS
... Belts Homer In Win

Second-baseman Fred Conley collected three hits in four trips to the plate for the Big Green, while Leftfielder Ron Lambert chipped in with three for four and Tex Williams, centerfielder, two for four, including a home run.

Little pitched the complete game, seven innings, striking out six and walking two.

Marshall's initial defeat came in its first tussle of the season. The Big Green dropped a 4-0 decision to West Virginia Tech in the first game of the twin-bill and lost the second also, 3-1.

Lefty Majher was tabbed as the losing pitcher in the first game, while Myers absorbed the loss in the second game.

The Big Green collected nine hits in these two games, three in the first and six in the second. However, Marshall was charged with five errors, four of the miscues coming in the first game and one in the second.

In its third game of the season, the Big Green fell to Xavier Saturday in the first game of a double header, 2-1.

Marshall was held scoreless until the bottom half of the fifth frame when it pushed across its only run of the game. Hugh Reynolds hurled the complete game, giving up three hits and two runs, while striking out 10 and walking three.

After ten practice sessions, Coach Charlie Snyder says Marshall's football squad is "definitely improving and looking better in fundamentals."

This observation was made as the Big Green prepared to enter the final phase of spring football drills. Practice sessions will be capped off by the annual spring intra-squad game.

The intra-squad affair will pit two teams in a final workout. The game, under ordinary game conditions, will probably be played at Vinson Memorial Stadium. The game is tentatively set for a week night before Easter recess.

Several backfield changes have been made by the coaching staff during drills. Dixon Edwards has been shifted to fullback with Millard Fleming and Malcolm Price running at the halfback slots.

Only one serious injury has been suffered by the team. Ron Reynolds suffered a broken arm in an early practice session. Center Pat Mahoney injured his ankle last week but is expected to be ready to be at full strength later this week.

In his search for a second unit, Coach Snyder said, "In the line, from end to end, we will be two deep at all positions especially at guards and center."

COACH HOSPITALIZED

Jule Rivlin, head basketball coach, entered Cabell-Huntington Hospital early Monday morning. Rivlin's physician said the coach would be in the hospital anywhere from two days to a week.

Hospital authorities say that Rivlin is resting well after being admitted for a kidney ailment.

Netters Score First Victory

The Big Green tennis team won its first match of the season Saturday, defeating West Virginia State by a score of 7-2.

The Marshall netters won their first four singles matches before Noah Gregory dropped his singles match 6-0, 0-6. Winning for the Marshall men in the singles were Dave Huffman, Joe Shafer, Bill Price, Buddy Duncan and Dave Ellis.

The Big Green salvaged their first two doubles matches before losing the final doubles. Huffman and Shafer won their doubles match with Price and Duncan gaining the other victory in the doubles. Hughes Booher and Bob Leighty dropped the final doubles match 1-6, 4-6.

The Rivlin-coached team will travel to West Liberty on Saturday seeking their second victory. Their record now stands at one win and two losses.

Marshall's base hits in this contest, while Walt Leonhart managed the other.

Play Day Attracts 158

More than 158 coeds from 17 area high schools participated in the 20th annual Play Day on the Marshall campus last Saturday.

Miss Francis J. Smith, instructor of women's physical education, said the affair is sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association. General chairman of the event was Martha Gerber. Other officers of the organization are Pat Joyce, president; Glenna Blankenship, vice president; Movita Elcessor, secretary; Jean Battlo, treasurer.

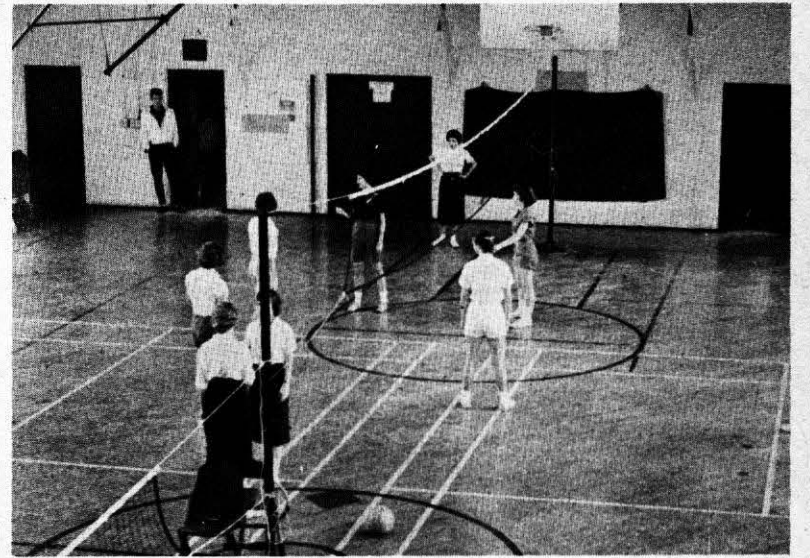

Local high schools represented were Barboursville, Douglas,

Huntington East, Huntington High, Marshall, and St. Joseph.

Each girl in the W.A.A. Play Day was given a certificate and a name tag to show they participated in the event.

Winner of the Play Day activities were the archery team and the skiing team. The skiing team had a total of 64 points against the archery team with 57 points. Each team was awarded a ribbon and favor at the social hour.

Tentative plans for a 1961 play day are under way.

Rampaging Ohio River Invaded This Campus 23 Years Ago

By CAROL NEWMAN
Staff Reporter

Marshall College and Huntington had an anniversary in Feb. although it was not celebrated.

Twenty-three years ago, from Jan. 19 to Feb. 2, 1937, part of the campus was covered with the raging waters of the Ohio River.

The river overflowed its banks with a depth of 69.43 feet of water. The crest was reached at 6 a.m. on Jan. 27, according to the Weather Bureau.

Old Main appeared to be on an island. Some observers reported that a small river ran between Northcott Hall and Old Main.

W. Page Pitt, professor of Journalism who has been here for 32 years, was anxious to check his department which is located in the basement of the library. He found he could row along the main floor in a row boat.

Since the time of the '37 flood, the Ohio River has reached depths nearly as high as that of the big flood but the city has not been swamped. The highest of these floods was in April of 1948, when the river reached a depth of 61.6 feet.

The city now has a flood wall that is three feet higher than the waters of the 1937 flood. The wall protects Huntington and surrounding communities from the floods that may come in the future.

The pledge training program was held over a period of 12 months. The KA's have just finished their formal rushing for this semester.

The Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity held its annual activation ceremonies March 12. Of the 20 who pledged, five went active. Eight were dropped for poor grades and six were holdover pledges.

The five pledges who went active were: Ed Auxier, Coalwood freshman; Allen Howcroft, Moundsville freshman; Fred Grove, Pineville freshman; Aubrey King, and Tom Bailey, Iaeger freshmen.

The activation covered an 11-week pledge training program. The fraternity is now holding formal rush for this semester.

The Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity held its annual activation March 13. Out of the 27 pledges who pledged the "Pikes", 18 completed the pledge training program. Nine were dropped for poor grades, 12 were holdover pledges, and six went active.

The pledge training program covered 10 weeks of training. The Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity has just finished its rush program for the second semester.

Registration Campaign Slated By Democrats

An all-campus registration campaign sponsored by the Young Democrats will be conducted tomorrow on Marshall's campus.

Although primary elections are set for May 10, many of the eligible students on campus have not registered yet. This campaign will be conducted for their convenience.

Transportation to and from the registration headquarters will be provided. All students wanting to participate shall meet in Old Main 204 at 2 p.m. before going to register.

Students eligible are not only those who are 21 now, but also those who will be 21 by November.

CJ NEEDS HELPERS

Applications for positions on the Chief Justice staff now are being accepted, according to Paul H. Collins, Administrative Co-ordinator of the Chief Justice Board.

Previous work of this type is not essential. Applications are available in Main 107 and they must be turned today. The three major positions on the Chief Justice are: editor-in-chief, associate editor and business manager.

Club Hears 2 Cubans Criticize Press, Tell Of Castro Support

Julius Carabia, Huntington freshman, recently told the International Relations Club that 75 per cent of the Cuban people now support Premier Fidel Castro.

In his opinion, 95 per cent supported the bearded revolutionary leader at the time Batista was overthrown.

Another Cuban, Daniel Puerto, Guantanamo junior, said many newspapers publish things about Cuba which are not true. He also alleged that planes from Florida bomb Cuban cane fields, but American newspapers do not publish these stories.

Carabia, who says he fought in the underground against Batista, added that although Castro is not a diplomat—but a working man—he is trying to run the country the only way he sees fit. "There is no one to put in his place," Carabia said.

Puerto added: "We will not have an election until Castro knows he will win." But the Marshall junior hopes that Castro will find his way and everything will run smooth as before.

College Purchases Kroger Store, Lot

Marshall's offer of $132,825 for the former Kroger Store at Fifth Avenue and 19th Street was approved recently. Only the formalities remain for the tract to be made a part of the campus.

The property fronts 210 feet along Fifth Avenue and extends 130 feet north to College Avenue. It includes a parking lot which will materially ease the college parking problem.

The Huntington Board of Realtors carried on negotiations for the college. The land was acquired with money appropriated earlier for the campus expansion, plus a supplementary sum made available by the 1960 Legislature. The building will house the engineering department and ROTC.
