College Heads Report Marshall Capital Needs

The West Virginia Council of State College Presidents set Marshall's capital improvement needs at $11,000,000 in a recent survey report.

The survey termed the present method of financing buildings "grossly inadequate, and at the present rate will require about 27 years to meet today's needs."

Seven New Units Are Organized

The Marshall Alumni Association has organized a total of six alumni chapters throughout West Virginia and one in Ohio. The association has a goal of organizing at least eight chapters by January 1.

The Office of Development and Alumni Affairs, under the direction of John Sayre, has been working actively on this program since early October. The groundwork for chapters has been underway since the office opened on July 1, 1959.

The six chapters which have adopted by-laws, elected officers, and received their charter from the Marshall Alumni Association are: Logan County, Mason County, Wood County, South Charleston, Charleston, and Columbus, Ohio.

Three other chapters have drawn up their by-laws and elected officers but have not yet received their charters. They are: Jackson County, Mingo County and St. Albans. Boone County and Dunbar-Nitro are in the preliminaries of forming chapters.

President Stewart H. Smith has spoken to five chapters and is scheduled to speak at three more between now and January. His principle topic was gaining University status for Marshall.

All students are asked to inform their parents about these chapters since each parent is eligible to have associate membership with these chapters even though they may not be a Marshall graduate.

Senior Recitals Set In Old Main Friday

Three senior music majors will give a recital at 8:15 p.m. Friday in Old Main Auditorium.

Performances will be given by Ruth Sayre, New Haven mezzo soprano, Carl Dayhoff, St. Mary's, pianist, and Annabel Patrick Dayhoff, Huntington pianist. Accompanists will be Frances Madachy, Huntington senior, and Mrs. Dayhoff.

PAY MIX TONIGHT

A benefit in the form of a mix will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. tonight in the Student Union. A 25-cent admission will be charged to raise money for the Intramural Medal Fund.

The College's needs are listed as follows:

Dormitory for women at a total cost of $1,200,000 with state appropriations of $600,000 and the balance to be financed by revenue bonds; classroom and office facilities, $400,000; land acquisitions, $100,000.

Central heating plant and steam distributing system, $2,100,000; Student Union, $1,500,000; library addition, $500,000; Lab School addition, $100,000, and a dormitory for men, $1,100,000.

The following are major repairs and alterations needed by the College:

Completion and insulation of the third floor Library, $50,000; renovation of the engineering building (former Kroger store), $72,000; structural repairs and correction of fire hazards in Old Main, $125,000; replacement of heating and plumbing systems in Old Main, $150,000; and repairs and alterations to the old physical education building, $10,000.

The Council said increased federal funds for college buildings are anticipated, probably on a matching basis. The president warned that "unless the state makes additional money available to match federal grants, West Virginia probably will lose federal funds to other states."

The College has recently started a new $1,200,000 Men's Dormitory. A $1,900,000 Health and Physical Education Building is nearing completion.

Pamphlet Anyone?

MRS. WILLIAM W. McCOMAS, afternoon secretary in the Development and Alumni Affairs office, prepares to send out view pamphlets to high school seniors. Over 18,000 of these have been prepared and sent to approximately 250 schools.

TEX WILLIAMS

... Gives Up Scholarship

Tex Williams, Varsity Team Cager, Quits

Tex Williams, Artie junior, has quit the varsity basketball team, it was learned Monday.

The six-foot Williams, who played 10 minutes during the Marietta game last Saturday, told Coach Jule Rivlin after Sunday's practice session that he was quitting the team "because of studies," Rivlin said.

Rivlin was contacted in Lexington, Ky., Monday afternoon prior to the Eastern Kentucky game. Williams could not be contacted prior to press time, but his wife confirmed that he had quit the team. She said she did not know the reason.

On May 17th Coach Rivlin announced he was recommending that Williams' scholarship be withdrawn. The action later was dropped and Williams returned to the team when practice began earlier this semester.

"His quitting has nothing to do with this earlier incident," the coach said. "Williams told me that he was quitting because of studies. 'You and I are the best of friends,' he told me."

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Is Winner In 1st Red Cross Blood Drive

Final figures from the Red Cross show that out of 292 persons volunteering for last week's blood drive, 256 pints of blood were given.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon led the fraternities in the race for the competition trophy, while the Pershing Rifles, headed the ROTC Battle Group. Figures for the leading sorority were not available.

Commenting about the response from the student body during the drive, Bob Scott, Huntington junior and chairman of the Blood Drive Commission said, "the response was good, and the actual amount of blood given would have been larger, if the donor center hadn't closed so soon." He added that this first operation had progressed faster and smoother than similar drives in the past.

Speaking for the Red Cross, Mrs. T. E. Holderby said, "the response was wonderful, and the Red Cross appreciated the help received from the volunteer workers of the student body."

The awarding of the competition trophies will not take place until after the conclusion of the spring blood drive. Winners will be determined by the following categories and standards. First, there is the section for men's social organizations having over 30 members, corresponding to this section is the women's organizations with large memberships. Another section is reserved for clubs having less than 30 members.

Such A Test May Be Set Up As Graduation Requirement

By SUSAN ATKINSON

Editor-In-Chief

The academic deans and department chairmen have recommended that a qualifying English examination be given to upperclassmen as a requirement for graduation.

The proposal, sent to the faculty for consideration, was given to the Committee On Academic Planning And Standards for further study at last week's faculty meeting.

The English Department proposed that a qualifying examination be given "in an effort to demand of all graduates of Marshall College an acceptable standard in the written use of their own language."

The examinations would be given during a two hour period six times each year. It was suggested in the proposal that the tests be given on Saturday morning.

Students in the three-year and four-year programs would take the test after they reached the junior classification, while students in two-year programs would take it after they passed six hours of regular freshman English.

The examination would consist of a 400 word composition on a subject chosen by the student from several provided by the department in which he is majoring. A Teachers College student would choose a subject from an area in which he has a teaching field.

The test would be administered by the English Department and students would be required to turn in both a rough draft and a final composition. Precautions would be taken to insure that no papers are "ghost written." Students would be assigned a number and would not be identified to the readers by name.

The final papers would be read by a member of the English Department to judge competency of expression. The compositions would then be sent to the chairmen of the departments according to the major interests of the student. A reader in each department would judge the paper on competency of expression in relation to subject-matter content. The second reader would not know the judgment of the first.

No marks would be placed on the paper by either reader. The words "passing" or "failing" would be placed on a separate identification list. The reader would be allowed to write a brief comment on the number sheet.

If either department reports a grade of "failing" the student fails the examination. A student may take the test as many times as necessary but must pass it in order to graduate.

The date of the student's passing the examination or a notation of his being excused from it, because of A or B grades in English 102a or 104a, will be entered on his permanent record card. No entry would be made for occasions when he took the test and failed it.

The proposal also states that, when appointment of an additional faculty member to the English Department makes it possible, a Composition Clinic would be established for students failing the examination.

Such students would be required to attend the Clinic for a half semester immediately following the time he failed the test, unless excused because of exceptional circumstances. The clinic would offer no college credit.

Journalist To Appear Tomorrow

Malcolm Muggeridge journalist and television personality, will appear as the convocation speaker at 11 a.m. tomorrow in Old Main Auditorium.

"Making the English Laugh" will be the subject of Mr. Muggeridge's lecture. According to him, "This is the most arduous and depressing occupation in the world."

Mr. Muggeridge was educated at Cambridge. He has appeared as a teacher at universities in Egypt and India, and as a journalist all over the world. He has written for the Calcutta Statesman and the London Daily Telegraph, and is a former editor of Punch, a weekly British humor magazine.

Since 1957, Mr. Muggeridge has been writing for the Sunday Pictorial, has been traveling with Prime Minister MacMillan to the Soviet Union and the United States, has been working in Australia for the Sydney Morning Herald, and has been making frequent television appearances in England.

His work has been published in such American periodicals as The New York Times Magazine, Esquire, Vogue, and Saturday Evening Post.

College Will Hold Summer Institute

By JOHNNY HINES
Managing Editor

A summer institute for High School Physical Science and Mathematics Teachers will be sponsored again this summer by the College, according to Dr. Donald C. Martin, director of the institute and chairman of the physics department.

The first term will begin on June 5, and continue through July 14, and the second term will extend from July 17 until August 19. It is sponsored in co-operation with the National Science Foundation.

High school physical science or mathematics teachers presently teaching in one of these fields, holding a bachelor's degree and in good academic standing may participate in the institute.

A grant of $77,300 has been allocated to Marshall for the institute. Approximately 50 grants will be available to full-time participants from anywhere in the United States. Participation in the institute will not be limited to grant holders, however.

The maximum gift is $75 per week for the participant plus all regular college fees; maximum travel allowance is $80; maximum dependency allowance is $15 per week for maximum of four dependents.

Courses to be offered this summer are: physical science study committee in physics, atomic and nuclear physics, fundamentals of chemistry, physical chemistry, analytical geometry and calculus, advance algebra, elementary statistical analysis, geomorphology,

LETTERMEN TO MEET

A meeting of varsity baseball lettermen will be held at 3 p.m. Monday in the Physical Education Department Meeting Room. This meeting is mandatory for all varsity lettermen.

palenontology and astronomy. The teaching staff will be composed of the Marshall College faculty members and outstanding scientists and guest lecturers.

Last year 34 high school teachers from West Virginia and 30 teachers from 11 other states participated in the institute, concluded Dr. Martin.

Warning Is Issued To Line-Breakers

There has been too much line-crashing in the cafeteria, according to Roger Jones, Parkersburg senior and chief justice of the Student Court.

Jones and Bill Wortham, Huntington senior and president of the Student Body, plan to meet today to discuss what should be done to stop it, although they hope students will take this as a warning and stop it themselves, said Jones.

Last year tickets were given to line-breakers and they were brought before the Student Court.

Book Plan Gets Support Of Senate

The Student Senate passed unanimously a motion that the student government join the faculty to sponsor the Book-of-Semester plan.

Thier work for this plan includes the suggestion box, posters, contacting organizations, making the final selection of the book, making plans for a permanent committee, and arranging seminars.

The Senate also accepted petitions of Societies for a candy sale, ROTC for a pay movie, and the pledge class of Phi Mu Alpha, music honorary, for a candy sale.

Report Shows 280 Married

By ERNESTINE MONDAY
Staff Reporter

Two-hundred and eighty married women now are attending school, according to a recent report compiled by Mrs. Lillian Buskirk, dean of women. Sixty of these women are freshmen.

Data was compiled according to age, college, residence, classification, and full-time or part-time students.

Ranging in ages from 18 to over 40, the largest number of married women are in the age group over 40. The total for this group is 55.

In the younger age groups the 20 and 21-year-olds have more married students with 16 and 18 respectively.

Two-hundred and thirty-six of these are in Teachers College with 35 in the College of Arts and Sciences and nine in the Applied Science College.

The report shows that most married women live in private homes and commute rather than residing in apartments or college residences. A total of 164 married women are part-time students with 135 of them attending evening classes.

In the classification category, seniors rank highest with 95 married women and the junior, sophomore, and freshman classes have 79, 46 and 60 respectively.

Scabbard, Blade Helps Needy With Annual Christmas Drive

Some Huntington children and their parents will have a merrier Christmas this year because of the food, clothing and toy drive sponsored by Co. K-12 Marshall College unit of the National Society of Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary.

Food and clothing were donated to the Salvation Army to distribute, and toys were given to the U. S. Marines' Toys for Tots program.

The goods were picked up Monday outside the Scabbard and Blade office by Major Groves of the Salvation Army and Maj. Paul Riegat of the Marine Corps. Representing the Marshall military department and the ROTC were Lt. Col. Thomas M. Ariail, professor of military science, Capt. Bliss W. Wilder, adviser, Scabbard and Blade; Cadet Lt. Col. Ronald Simonton, president, Scabbard and Blade and Huntington junior; and Cadet Col. Arvin Vaughn, ROTC Battle Group commander and Huntington senior.

Results from this year's collection were far superior to those in the past with larger quantities of food, clothing and toys being donated, according to Capt. Robert T. Zargan, assistant professor of military science and tactics.

The door-to-door campaign was conducted throughout Huntington last week by the cadets of the Marshall College Battle Group. Each company of the battle group canvassed a particular section of the city.

This airplane is actually a flying classroom. The course taught in it is Air Navigation, under real conditions. The students are young men who have been selected as possible future leaders of the Aerospace Team. Graduation after 32 weeks of training will win each of the students the honored silver wings of an Air Force Navigator and an Officer's Commission.

For certain young men, this training can open the way to a bright career of executive potential. Right now the Air Force is scoring impressive technological advances in the fields of navigation, guidance and tracking, electronics and radar. And here is where its highly trained and experienced Navigators will be expected to take over command positions of increasing responsibility.

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet, you must be between 19 and 26½—single, healthy and intelligent. And you must want to build an exciting, interesting career in the Aerospace Age. If you think you measure up, we'd like to talk to you at the nearest Air Force Recruiting Office. ## Marine Officer Selection Team To Visit Marshall On Dec. 8-9

A Marine Officer Selection Team will visit Marshall on Dec. 8 and 9 to interview undergraduates interested in obtaining a commission in the U. S. Marine Corps.

The team, headed by Capt. J. F. Meyers Jr., and 1st Lt. Carolyn J. Auldridge, will be located in the Student Union.

The Marine Corps offers five basic Officers Training Programs—four for male applicants and one for women. Features of the male programs include:

1. During two summer vacations, freshmen and sophomores enrolled in the Platoon Leaders Class attend six-weeks of training at Quantico, Va.
2. Juniors attend one continuous 12-week training course at Quantico, Va.
3. Seniors and graduates attend a 10-week Officer Candidate Course after graduation.
4. No drills, meetings, or other military activities are planned during the school year.
5. Selective Service exemption applies to the candidates.

6. Pay is received during training.

Additional information can be obtained from the Marine team during their visit.

Service Award Given Sorority

The local chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority recently received a sterling silver bowl for the outstanding social service project of the year.

The award was presented to Delores Inclan, Moundsville senior and president, by Mrs. Chester Kyle, national collegiate secretary of Tri Sig, following a chapter inspection Nov. 26 through the 28.

Outstanding social service project of the chapter included a mix for the Robbie Page Memorial Fund, their national program of social service; a spaghetti dinner; Thanksgiving basket, and books and toys for the Crippled Children's Hospital.

Three Companies Interview On Dec. 8

Three representatives will be on campus this week to interview students for future employment.

Charles H. Snow, personnel manager of the State Farm Insurance Companies, Newark, Ohio, will interview candidates interested in a career with his company on Dec. 8. William E. Wince, representative of Burroughs Corporation will interview liberal arts and business majors the same day.

Men and women for the Officer Selection Program of the United States Marine Corps will be interviewed Dec. 8-9 in the Student Union by Lt. Carolyn J. Auldridge of the United States Marine Corps, Lexington, Ky.

Be perspicacious!

Not this: a student who studies drowsily no matter how much sleep he gets.

This! Perspicacious... sharp! NoDoz keeps you awake and alert—safely!

If you find studying sometimes soporific (and who doesn't?) the word to remember is NoDoz. NoDoz alerts you with a safe and accurate amount of caffeine—the same refreshing stimulant in coffee and tea. Yet non-habit-forming NoDoz is faster, handier, more reliable.

So to keep perspicacious during study and exams—and while driving, too—always keep NoDoz in proximity.

Height, Speed Helpful Assets For Big Green

By BILL TOW
Sports Writer

Lew Mott, one of the smallest members on the Big Green basketball team, shares today's spotlight with the "Bronx Bomber", Bruce Moody.

The 22-year-old Mott hails from Pine Grove. He's a junior majoring in physical education. At 5-9 Lew is the second shortest player on the squad. (Steve Feola, Buchannon sophomore, stands 5-8.) The flashy ball-handler was selected in 1956, when a senior at Pine Grove High School, to play on the West Virginia-Ohio All-Star team. This team consisted of Jerry West, Willie Akers, Butch Goode and Marshall's own John Milhoan. At the end of the game, Mott was selected the most valuable player. In the two-game series with Kentucky All-Stars, he scored 20 points.

Mott possesses one of the quickest pair of hands and can steal the ball with finesse, then put on an amazing exhibition of dribbling.

When bringing the ball down court on the fast break, he is the middleman. When he shoots, he prefers the two-handed set shot. On the foul line, he is one of the team's best shots.

After he graduates, Mott wants to coach basketball or play ball in the Industrial League.

With his speed, adept hands and his shooting eye, Lew will add great spark and drive to the Big Green.

Bruce Moody, besides Jim Gallion is the only non-West Virginian on the squad. Moody hails from New York City.

He is 21 years old and is 6-2, tipping the scales at 167. He, too, is a physical education major. He plays center or forward and is one of the best rebounders on the squad.

While attending Morris High School in the Bronx, he was on many all-city teams—among them the All-Star team selected by the New York Herald Tribune and the New York Post. He captained the Tribune team which played in famous Madison Square Garden. Moody also was selected by Dell Publications as one of the best 500 in the country.

He played frosh ball at Marshall and was one of the top scorers and rebounders.

He likes the fast break and finds that this year's schedule is tougher than last. He likes playing a fast game.

His best-remembered game is last year's Ohio University game when he scored 19 points.

With his speed and ability to leap high for rebounds, the Big Green can count on him for strength under the boards.

EXAMINATION A SUCCESS

Forty-five Marshall students took the first Civil Service Examination given on campus Nov. 19, according to Bob Alexander, director of placement. It seemed to be a success and he is in hopes that they may have it again.

Students who were scheduled to take the test but failed to do so may reapply and take it in January.

Two Linemen Gain Honors

Two Marshall linemen, Wilson Lathan and Rucker Wickline, have been named to the second team all Mid-American Conference football team.

Ohio University, the nation's No. 1 small college football team, gained six berths on the first team and two on the second team. Marshall did not place a man on the first team.

Lathan, Charleston senior, led the offensive blocking this year. The guard and co-captain is touted as an outstanding pro prospect.

Wickline, a junior from Barboursville, was the defensive signal caller and offensive center. A rangy linebacker, Wickline played the entire game in several contests this year and is regarded as a strong two-way man.

Twelve players were named to the first team because of a deadlock vote for a tackle position.

Conference runner-up Bowling Green gained two first team places while Western Michigan, Toledo, Kent State, and Miami each had one. Bowling Green and Kent State each placed three on the second team.

DR. FROOD ON FINE ARTS

In which Lucky Strike's gift to the arts selects "The World's Greatest Masterpieces" and reveals all—in fact, more than all—that is known about each.

Whistlers' Mother: This painting, by an unknown artist, depicts the housemother of a college sorority patiently waiting for a dance to break up in the next room. Note how the artist has captured the anguish and devotion of this lonely woman as she frets over her young charges (who were nicknamed "The Whistlers" because of the way in which they obtained dates).

Early Rembrandt: That Rembrandt was born a genius is conclusively proven by this little-known masterpiece. This, his first known painting, astounded critics and made the name Billy Rembrandt famous throughout Europe. Believe it or not, Rembrandt created this masterpiece when he was two years old!

The Venus de Milo: Sculptured in the second century B.C. on behalf of a Greek pencil manufacturer, this great statue has won fame through the ages as the symbol of beauty parlors, bowling alleys, upholstery firms and reducing pills. Today it is used primarily as a vivid warning to small children who bite their fingernails.

The Thinker: What is The Thinker thinking? This has been as baffling to scholars as the riddle of the sphinx and "Who's on first?" But now it can be revealed that this statue is actually a Roman warrior who had been asked, "Remember how great cigarettes used to taste?" When he failed to answer, "Luckies still do," he was turned to stone.

Woman in Water: Here is the original of a great "lost" masterpiece which I was able to acquire for the ridiculously low price of $8,500. I mention this only to show what great bargains you can find in art if you know your subject. I determined the authenticity of this priceless original by proving that the small stain, upper left, was made by Renoir's favorite coffee.

AT LEFT: "MASTER OF ALL MASTERPIECES"! "Here, in my opinion," says Dr. Frood, "is the greatest work of art. Note the bold, clean strokes in LUCKY STRIKE, conveying the wisdom and pride of the manufacturer. Note the perfect circle, representing, of course, the perfect product inside. And in the product itself we find a truly magnificent expression of quality, good taste, pleasure and contentment. Surely, there is no work of art that, over the years, has brought more aesthetic joy not only to all of us in the art world, but to millions of people in all walks of life."

Maroons Wallop Big Green, 84-67

Top Scorer In Action

UP, UP goes Marshall's Bob Burgess in Saturday's game against Marietta. Watching Burgess is Phil Carter (42). Three Marietta players failed to stop Burgess as he scored. Marshall won 78-59 and Burgess scored 19 points.

Big Green Takes Season's Opener

Big Green players tossed in 12 points in the first three minutes of their opener Saturday night at the Field House then went on to defeat the Marietta Pioneers 78-59.

With the game but a few seconds old, Charlie Moore sank a two handed set shot that put the Big Green in the lead which they never lost.

The game was the debut of two transfer students, Mickey Sydenstricker and Gene Slater, who both did a fine job. Sydenstricker put 14 points through the hoop and Slater contributed 8.

The first half was completely dominated by Marshall as shown by their shooting and rebounding. The Big Green hoopsters scored twelve consecutive points before the Pioneers scored.

The first half ended with the Green ahead by thirteen points at 36-23. The near-capacity crowd gave the team good support and was richly rewarded.

The same team that started the game, was on the floor when the second half began. Marshall played a zone defense a major part of the game then switched over to man-to-man defense.

There were many times when the lid seemed closed on the basket. The Green would shoot and in would go the ball, then pop out.

The second half was somewhat similar to the first, with Marshall scoring and Marietta not hitting. After the final buzzer had sounded Burgess had tallied 19 points; Sydenstricker 14; Carter, Moore and Mott all had 10; Slater had 8 points; Wildt 4; Moody 2; and Gordon 1.

The next home game is tomorrow with the Big Green playing host to Clemson, game time is 8:15.

A veteran Eastern Kentucky team drubbed the Big Green Monday night at Richmond, Ky., by a lopsided 84-67 score.

The Maroons proved a fast, sharp-shooting team as it went to the dressing room at halftime with a 41-34 lead, then started the second half with a hot hand, running the score to 56-41 in the first four minutes. The Big Green closed the gap to 59-54 on some quick baskets by Mickey Sydenstricker and a three-point play by 6-7 Dick Wildt.

But once again the Maroons caught fire and built up a 78-63 lead by the closing minutes of play. The victory made it 26 in a row on the Maroons' home court and evened Marshall's skein at 1-1 for the season.

Bright spot for Coach Jule Rivlin's cagers was the performance turned in by Wildt, who scored 12 points in relief of Charley Moore. Moore had four fouls at halftime.

Top Marshall scorers were Sydenstricker with 17 points (seven baskets and three foul shots), and Bob Burgess with 13 (four buckets and five free throws). Four Maroons were in the double scoring column, led by 6-5 Ronald Wierwille with 21, Phil Estep's 20, and Carl Cole's 18.

The two teams will square off for another game on Marshall's home court in February. Marshall faces Clemson of the Atlantic Coast conference tomorrow night as it goes for its second win.

'TIS THE SEASON TO BE JOLLY

If you have been reading this column—and I hope you have; I mean I genuinely and sincerely hope so; I mean it does not profit me one farthing whether you read this column or not; I mean I am paid every week by the makers of Marlboro and my stipend is not altered in any particular by the number of people who read or fail to read this column—an act of generosity totally typical, you would say, if you knew the makers of Marlboro as I know the makers of Marlboro; I mean here are tobaccoists gray at the temples and full of honors who approach their art as ingenuously, as eagerly, as trustingly as the youngest and most innocent of practitioners; I mean the purpose of the Marlboro makers is simply to put the best of all possible filters behind the best of all possible tobaccos and then go, head high, into the market place with their product; confident that the inborn sense of right and wrong, of good and bad, of shoddy and meritorious, which is the birthright of every American, will result in a modest return to themselves for their long hours and dedicated labors—not, let me hasten to add, that money is of prime consideration to the makers of Marlboro; all these simple men require is plain, nourishing food, plenty of Marlboros, and the knowledge they have scattered a bit of sunshine into the lives of smokers everywhere; if, I say, you have been reading this column, you may remember that last week we started a discussion of what to give our friends for Christmas.

We agreed, of course, to give cartons of Marlboro to everyone we know or would like to know. Today let us look into some other welcome gifts.

Do you know someone who is interested in American history? If so, he will surely appreciate a statuette of Millard Fillmore with a clock in the stomach. (Mr. Fillmore, incidentally, was the only American president with a clock in his stomach. James K. Polk had a stemwinder in his head and William Henry Harrison chimed the quarter-hour, but only Mr. Fillmore, of all our chief executives, had a clock in his stomach. Franklin Pierce had a sweep second hand and Zachary Taylor had seventeen jewels and Martin Van Buren ticked, but, I repeat, Mr. Fillmore, and Mr. Fillmore alone, had a clock in his stomach. Some say that Mr. Fillmore was also the first president with power steering, but most historians assign this distinction to Chester A. Arthur. However, it has been established beyond a doubt that Mr. Fillmore was the first president with central heating. No wonder they called him Old Hickory!)

But I digress. To get back to welcome and unusual Christmas gifts, here's one that's sure to please—a gift certificate from the American Chiropractic Society. Accompanying each certificate is this fetching little poem:

*Merry Christmas, Happy New Year,
Joyous sacro-iliac!
May your spine forever shine,
Blessings on your aching back.
May your lumbar ne'er grow number,
May your backbone ne'er dislodge,
May your caudal never dawdle,
Joyeux Noël! Heureux massage!*

And greetings of the season from Marlboro's newest partner in pleasure, the unfiltered, all-new, king-size Philip Morris Commander. At Yuletide, at any tide, welcome aboard!

Finance Chief Lops $500,000 From Budget

Just over $500,000 has been slashed from Marshall College's proposed 1961-62 budget by State Finance Commissioner, Henry L. Ash.

Mr. Ash said he will recommend $2,320,110 to the State Board of Public Works—$536,553 below President Stewart S. Smith's request.

Personal services, which include faculty and staff salaries, would be worst hit if the funds are not restored.

"It is a pattern that has been followed for years," Dr. Smith said, adding that any additional funds Marshall might get probably would have to come from the legislature. "All I can say is that I certainly have hopes."

The Board of Public Works may take final action on College budgets at a session this week in Charleston.

ANY WITNESSES?

Will anyone who saw a collision involving a white sports car and two other automobiles at the corner of 16th Street and 6th Avenue on Nov. 17 at about noon contact Phillip Robertson at 74 Donald Court. After 5 p.m. call JA 5-0451.

Speedball Crown Won By Sigma Phi Epsilon

In last week's intramural play, Sigma Phi Epsilon No. 2 won the speedball crown by defeating PKA No. 2 by a score of 17 to 12.

Despite the strong wind which made ballhandling almost impossible, the Sig Eps came through in the last half to claim the championship. The Sig Ep scoring column saw Steve Foster with 1 point, Leroy Angus, 3; Jack Perkins, 3; Bennett, 3; Rusty Wamsley, 2; Roy Smith, 3; Butch Jones, 2.

Scoring for PKA was Jim Lee, 4; Myers Jarrell, 3; Dick Thurston, 1; Dave Hammack, 1; Gene Stafford, 2; Harry Underwood, 1.

In intramural basketball last week nine games were played. The participating teams and their score are as follows: TKE No. 2, 29; KA No. 2, 26; Cavaliers No. 1, 44; LXA No. 1, 22; TKE No. 1, 54; KA No. 1, 45; SAE No. 3, 41; Sig Ep No. 3, 32; TKE No. 3, 34; PKA No. 3, 39; LXA No. 2, 48; Cavaliers No. 2, 17; SAE No. 2, 47; Varsity M No. 2, 52; ROTC No. 1, 42; Varsity M No. 3, 37; Rebels No. 1, 21; Rebels, 52.
