Though the college season did not open until May 13, Marshall played seven practice games with the teams of the Mountain State League (formerly the Virginia Valley League) representing the cities of Huntington, Montgomery, Ashland and Catlettsburg. In all the games Marshall played well and held her own even though pitted against professionals. The greatest interest centered in the games played against the champion Blue Sox of Huntington. The first game Marshall won 2 to 1; the second Marshall lost 5 to 7. Against Amos and Cornwell Huntington had in the box Canepa, Nicholson and Baumgardner, the premier twirlers of the Mountain State.

May 13 Marshall won from Wesleyan. The Buckhannon boys, flushed with victories captured in the series with Marietta College, arrived in town and planned another victory. Marshall got into the game early and won it the first inning as they netted 5 runs. Wesleyan's bunch proved hard hitters. precious hits, but "Cornie" and Fiddler and Bailey and Morrow and the Ollum lads spoiled their base running. They landed on "Cornie" for 12. This together with fine base running and 6 hits by the above boys and Young, Lambert and C. Chambers won the game by a score of 8 to 6.

A good crowd was out. The game was exciting and uncertain. Marshall's lead obtained in the first inning is what determined the outcome. Amos pitched for Marshall the latter part of the ninth inning

The most successful trip ever taken by a Marshall team started at Morgantown, Wednesday, May 17, when the University defeated Marshall 3—1. This game was marred by the work of an incapable umpire whose decisions hurt both clubs, but Marshall in particular since three runs were really taken away from the Green and White. Cornwell's pitching and the fast fielding of the Marshall team was such that the State team concedes us a victory here on June 3rd.

Fairmont was no match for the team and it was only a question of how many runs. Amos, like Cornwell, was in rare form and that means victory. Morrow gave a high class exhibition of base running and fielding. Bailey and

H. Ollum did the stick work. Fiddler's catching was also brilliant.

On Friday Wesleyan was played and defeated 2—0. All Buchannon looked for an easy victory but the Methodists were like children in the big paws of the bear, Cornwell. "Penny" Bailey again cut in with lots of hitting. He first scored on hits by himself and Cush Chambers and again on his own home run. The infield worked with exceptional speed and judgment while the outfield looked after what few chances came their way.

The next day Amos, not to be outdone by Cornwell, made Wesleyan look like children. Fiddler's work as usual was a feature. Capt. Ollom took a hand in the hitting but Amos drove in one run and Cush Chambers got the habit from "Penny" and hit a home run which proved to be the winning one. The fielding of the entire team was fast and accurate.

The following accounts are from the Morgantown New Dominion, Fairmont Times and Parkersburg papers:

MARSHALL IS WORTHY FOE FOR VARSITY

The Normal School Lads Make Diamond Contest Interesting.—Locals Failed to Hit.

Honest, now, we hate to say it—he's a nice fellow and means well, but he simply couldn't see 'em. He didn't mean to be unfair, or to favor anybody. He did the best he knew. In his favor, be it said, a decision was a decision, and there was no chance for an argument.

His opinion, once expressed, went—but in the immortal words of Daniel Winger, does a man's opinion amount to a tinker's tink if he doesn't know what he's talking about? But it's all right, umps. You are square, and positive, and that's something. Even the National has a Finneran.

Incidentally, it might be mentioned that West Virginia defeated Marshall College yesterday afternoon three to one, in what might have been one of the prettiest contests of the season. Marshall played real baseball, especially as exemplified in a long, lank, rangy twirler by the name of Cornwell—and that's a good name in West Virginia. The visiting twirler fanned nine batsmen and allowed but five hits, most of them scratchy. Stratton and Boggess formed the Varsity battery and it was the first time they had worked in a local game. Stratton allowed only six hits, but lacked control at stages, passing four and hitting one man. Cornwell was also wild, issuing six passes.

West Virginia was blanked until the fourth inning, when McMin, first up, singled. Hutchinson moved him to second on a sacrifice. Lively drew a base on balls, and Bachman's grounder to Ollom at second was not handled, allowing McMin to score and everybody safe. Boggess took a free trip on four wide ones, but was caught on Stratton's low one in first base territory. Lively scoring.

In the first of the eighth, Morrow, first up, sent a light boulder to Hutchinson. Lee picked it up, easily, and an assist and put out out had already been chalked up. There was too much slippery elm on the horsehide, however—Stratton is a spitter—and the ball wriggled out of his hands like a Potomac eel. Morrow was safe. He came within a foot of the home plate on Young's two sacker, but the score was counted.

In West Virginia's half of the eighth McMinn hit along the left field line for three sacks, and scored on Hutchinson's out, short to first. Lively went out to middle. Bachman and Boggess singled, the former's grounder to second taking a bad bound and hitting Morrow squarely between the eyes. Stratton popped a fly to second, however, ending the inning.

In the ninth, Marshall looked dangerous. H. Ollom, first up, singled. C. Chambers walked. Lambert, who batted for Fiddler, sent a liner to Casto in left and Amick, who took Cornwell's stick, was hit. With the bases full and one down, Vass relieved Stratton, and Wyatt went behind the plate in place of Boggess. Vass retired the side by fanning Morrow and Young.

MARSHALL COLLEGE WON GAME YESTERDAY FROM FAIR- MONT NORMAL

Large Crowd Saw Contest at South Side Park Which Proved Interesting.
—Fay Amos Pitched Excellent Game.
—Locals Made Many Errors and Failed to Hit Ball at Needed Times.

Fay Amos, the Fairmont boy, who is this year captain-manager of the Marshall College baseball team, was largely responsible for the defeat of his old teammates of the Fairmont Normal at South Side Park yesterday afternoon. Costly errors on the part of the locals added much to their defeat. The game resulted in a score of 8 to 3 in favor of the visitors. A big crowd saw the contest, in the audience being a number of the school alumni, who attended the game as the guests of the Normal.

From the start Coach Chambers' team had the best of the game, and in the first inning they scored two runs. Chambers, the old Central league player has his team in good condition and they played a fast game at all stages. Only in the first and sixth innings could the Normal score. Then timely hits, assisted by errors on the part of Marshall netted three runs. In the sixth inning Toothman relieved Wilson, who while pitching good ball, was not getting the support needed.

Marshall lost to West Virginia Wednesday, and will play Wesleyan at Buckhannon Friday and Saturday.

WESLEYAN BLANKED

Marshall College Shut Out the Buckhannon School in Well Played Game

— Buckhannon, May 19.—Wesleyan College suffered the first shut out of the season when Marshall College won a good game 2 to 0. Cornwell for Marshall was in fine form allowing only three hits. Stansbury pitched fine ball, having thirteen strikeouts and the eight hits garnered off him were all scattered. Bailey smashed one over the right field fence for a home run and Marshall's only other tally was scored by Bailey on a walk and two bunched hits. The last game of the series will be played tomorrow. Marietta College has come and gone. The boys from the famous Ohio town and college played baseball with Marshall May 26 and 27. The result is that

Marshall has two more scalps dangling from its belt—Amos carries one and Cornwell the other. The Huntington Herald-Dispatch gave its readers the news as follows:

MARIETTA EASY FOR MARSHALL

Local Team Ran Away With the Game.
—Cornwell Was in Good Form and Ohioans Had No Chance At Any Time.

They may be the best fellows on earth, but they are not ball players. This applies to the members of the Marietta ball team who were the opponents of the Marshall nine at the local college field yesterday afternoon. However the team did not claim that they were the best on earth, only stating that they had a pitcher, and this was true.

With a team to back him up, Baron, the visiting heaver would have little trouble in winning his game but the support accorded him yesterday was of the very worst sort, and Marietta lost, 10 to 4.

Cornwell, who was in the box for Marshall, hand the same line that he has been offering to the rest of the colleges in this part of the country, and they were of such a class that the Ohioans were unable to do much hitting. The only inning in which they were fortunate enough to get any runs was the sixth, when four were put over, most of them coming in because the Marshall men could not stand for an attack of bunting. Hitting had been impossible for the visitors and in this innirg they started to lay them down with the result that four runs were made. Marshall got runs all through the game, starting slow in the first few and ending in a rush at the end. Cornwell, Morrow, F. Ollum and Young were the hitters in the game, each getting two. The one feature of the game was the two minute "skit" put on by the Ollum brothers in the third inning, entitled getting runs. F. Ollum who bats third singled, and was scored by his brother who hit one to deep right, good for the complete circuit. The visitors expect to make a few changes in their line-up before this afternoon, when they play again on the local field.

Yesterday's score:

MARIETTA NEARLY GOT A SHUT-OUT

Managed to Get One Over in Final Innig.—Amos in Good Form and Let the Ohioans Down With Four Hits.

With Amos in good form Marshall college had but little trouble in winning their last game from the Marietta team yesterday by the score of 9 to 1. Sibley who was pitching for the visitors had very little, and this combined with the fact that he was wild, gave Marshall the game in the first inning, five runs being put over. More runs came at the end of the game, and in the very last Marietta collected their wits and made one, thereby saving themselves from a shut-out. Morrow was the local to get special honor, his hitting being the feature of a slow and uninteresting game. The Marietta boys are now confident that Marshall has a ball team, that is far above their class and they are satisfied to return home. Score:

Charles E. Meyers, 1910, has accepted a position with the Huntington Hardware Co. He is manager of the athletic goods department.

C. C. Casto, 1910, in the West Virginia University game against W. and J. got a three bagger. Casto covered all the deep center of the lot and George Phillips, 1910, did all the necessary stunts around third base.

Wilford McCutcheon, 1908, is playing right field on the Wesleyan College field. He did his best to beat his alma mater on May 13.

A Gift from Koontz

Arthur B. Koontz has given to Miss

Harriet D. Johnson a check for twenty-five dollars to be spent for decoration for the Greek department of which Miss Johnson is the head. This illustrates finely the genuine spirit of love which Mr. Koontz has for his alma mater. Mr. Koontz is a 1907-er. He graduated in law at Yale last year and is now practicing his profession in Charleston.

Class of 1907

The class of 1907 will enjoy a breakfast at 8:30 a. m., June 10 to the college campus. They will be guests of Miss Johnson, Miss Helen Tufts and Mr. A. B. Koontz.

SCHOOL NEWS

The Erosophian Literary Society

If you want to know what the Erosophians are doing just come around any Friday afternoon at 2:30. Our programs have been as good as have ever been rendered in Marshall College. We have the honor of having the first orchestra in any literary society of this school, and have had excellent music throughout the term. With the addition of a corps of about fifty new members, and by the hearty cooperation of the old members, we have made this term one of the best in the history of the Erosophian Literary Society, which is generally recognized as the leading literary society of Marshall College.

The Outlook

There are times when a body of young fellows in a school like this desire to speak their views on the great questions of the day.

Hearken ye, therefore! Ye who are interested in oratory and debate. Within the walls of this old college is a veritable "hotbed of Patrick Henrys." Perchance, you have not heard of us but, some day in the near future when our hardworking members go forth as lawyers, preachers, and statesmen of fame, then you will hear, "He was a member of the Outlook."

Every Friday evening, when the toils of the week are o'er, you may hear reverberating along Marshall halls the echoes from the contests of these youthful giants of oratory and debate as they clash and re-clash on the great questions.

We are a band of Union workers with our hearts in our work, and will permit no drones to occupy a place in our ranks. One who is willing to work is welcome. Come to our door for admission "would-be-orator," the latch string is always out. Here the beginner is as welcome as his more experienced brother.

We have just elected a new corps of officers under whom we expect to have our standards advanced still farther.

These are as follows:

President, Mr. Miller.

Vice-President, Mr. Dowdy.

Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Coffman.

Critic, Mr. Ferguson.

The best is good enough for us.
Come and see.

Classical Association

The Classical Association held their last meeting of the year on Saturday, May 20, in the classical room. Chafing dish delicacies were prepared and served and an excellent address was made by Hon. David E. Mathews, of Huntington. It was decided to order for the room ten Parthenon frieze slabs of reduced size.

Zeta Rho Epsilon

The "Greeks" are planning a good program for their banquet on June 2.

Senior Notes

The Senior girls of the Dormitory gave the Senior Class and the faculty a very delightful reception in the college parlors. The parlors were artistically decorated in college colors and pennants, especially "Blue and Gold."

The 1911 class will soon have passed into history. Many of our number will teach this year in West Virginia and the surrounding states, while some will continue their work in the different Universities and others, perhaps, will go to homes of their own.

It is a well known fact that we have had several sick Seniors and if other classes will take warning we advise them to have "measles," "chickenpox," and all other children's diseases before entering the "Senior class."

Our work is just about completed, and everybody is preparing for commencement. The teachers should take into consideration the number of times the young ladies must visit their dress-makers and pardon them, if they seem negligent concerning their work just now. The boys, some of them at least, seem absent-minded during school hours but we hardly think it is a question of clothes which is bothering them just now. Who will tell us what it is?

The Seniors and Faculty have received the following invitation which all appreciate:
