Board Approves Plans

Four-Year College Course to be Given Next Year, Standard Degree Will Be Conferred.

The State Board of Regents has formally approved the plans for making Marshall a real college in every sense of the word. Next year the last year of college work will be added to the curriculum, and the degree of A. B. in education conferred upon those finishing the course. The secondary work will gradually be eliminated, so that in the course of a very short time, only college and normal work will be given.

Marshall now offers three courses to prospective teachers, as outlined below:

Four Year Course—A. B. in education.

This course prepares its graduates for high school teachers in the subjects of History, Mathematics, Science, English, Foreign Language, Home Economics and Music. Special suggested curricula will be prepared for each subject. Graduates of this course will also be eminently qualified to fill the positions of principal, supervisor, district superintendent, or to teach in elementary or junior high schools.

Two Year Course—Diploma.

This course prepares teachers for work in elementary or rural schools. Special curricula will be outlined preparing teachers for the various grades. The curriculum has been so arranged that full credit may be secured for all work completed should students later decide to complete the four year course.

One Year—Short Course.

This course prepares for the rural schools, those finishing it receiving a high grade teacher's certificate. The requirements for the degree are as follows:

28 semester hours, including

What Happened to Jones?

At Marshall College.

A clever comedy; just one laugh from start to finish. Its full of mix-ups and tragedies, love, 'n'everything. Everyone will enjoy it. Come and see JONES in his many trials and the trouble he causes the poor BISHOP. How MRS. GOODLEY manages her husband. How ALVINA wins her BISHOP whom she has never seen. How MARJORIE wins her RICHARD and how HELMA wins her money.

Have you noticed how they are remodeling our stage? Unlimited funds are being spent on this production and it is sure to be a success. The date of the play has been set for MARCH 12th, so have your money ready and be sure to get your ticket early, avoid the rush.

After many try-outs the following cast was selected and they are holding daily rehearsals.

JONES, ELLIS RECE — A hymn book and playing card salesman, clever, witty and always getting in trouble.

MR. GOODLEY, "TRUSTY TALLMAN", A professor of anatomy and a hen-pecked husband.

RICHARD HEATHERLY, A model young man (?) and very much in love with Marjorie.

BIGBEE, EVERT WALKER, The man who thinks he's an Indian.

HOLDER, CHARLES WALKER, A true to type policeman.

BISHOP of BALLARAT, MERVIN DUREA, Very much in love with Alvina.

CISSY, ELENA MEADE, Mr. Goodley's ward, clever, witty, full of life.

MARJORIE GOODLEY, HELEN BREWSTER, A bunch of sweetness-so romantic, so much in love with Richard.

MINERVA GOODLEY, LUCILLE MAIER, Very studious and very fond

Miss Sanborne

Replaces Miss Hazlett on Y. W. Program.

Last week we announced that Miss Edith M. Hazlett, a traveling secretary for the Student Volunteer Movement, would address a joint meeting of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. Later word from the headquarters of the movement state that Miss Hazlett was unable to fill the engagement, and that Miss Carolone Sandborne will visit here in her stead March 9-10. Accordingly, the joint meeting of the two Associations has been postponed until Tuesday, March 9.

Miss Sanborne, it will be recalled, is the energetic secretary that incited Marshall to do the impossible and unheard of task of sending three delegates to the Student Volunteer Convention at Des Moines. It is hoped that she will "start something" equally as "impossible" this time.

Every student is cordially invited to be present Tuesday at 6:45 to hear Miss Sanborne speak, for it goes without saying that she brings a message worthy of our best interest and attention.

Le Cercle Francais

March 8th, at 6:45 in Room 39; Mr. Soupert To Speak.

The next meeting of the Cercle Francais will be held Monday in Miss Cundiff's room on the second floor. The First Year College French Class has been invited to this meeting, and a most interesting program has been prepared. A farce presented by les mademoiselles, a talk on life and customs in Belgium by Monsieur Soupert, and a talk on France illustrated by stereopticon views are some of the numbers on the program. Monsieur Soupert is eminently fitted to discuss his subject, as he was born and

Now that we are fairly on the way to being a real college, it is high time that we begin to live up to a collegiate standard in every way.

Breadth of vision, high ideals, a tolerant and sympathizing understanding of social and economic problems, and moral courage to face present day conditions are characteristics required of every college student today. We are here for a definite purpose—to fit ourselves for more complete living after we leave Marshall. Every wasted opportunity now will detract from our social efficiency when we are called upon to take our place among the workers of the world. Are you improving your opportunities here?

MRS. GOODLEY, RUTH MARTIN. A professor's wife and one knowing how to take care of her husband.

ALVINA STRLIGHT, MARIE LLOYD. An old maid with all her thoughts for her Bishop whom she has never seen.

HELMIA, MARION BURT. A Swedish maidservant and always on her job.

Seats will be reserved for the play, and will cost 50 and 75 cents, no war tax. The sale of seats will open Friday at one o'clock. Be sure to get your two early, so you can secure a nice quiet seat where you can enjoy the play to the utmost.

32 semester hours in Education
10 semester hours in English and Literature.

Each student will be required to select some subject called a major, for which he wishes to prepare especially, and two other subjects known as minors. The minimum for a major is twenty semester hours, and the maximum, forty. The minimum for a minor is nine semester hours, with twenty as a maximum. The minimum of nine semester hours for a minor will be accepted only when two units of high school work in the same subject have been offered for entrance. All students will be required to take two hours a week of physical education throughout two years of the course, unless excused on a physician's certificate showing physical disability.

South American

Social and Economic Problems to be Investigated by Boys' Study Group.

South America is a continent of almost unlimited opportunity, and one which is practically unknown to the average student. Since the United States will soon have so many commercial and industrial relations with the progressive republics to the south, the Boys' Study Group has decided to give the vast and undeveloped continent a chance to get acquainted. This class meets every Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in Mr. Hedrick's room. If you are interested in the acquisition of an intelligent grasp of the fundamental problems of this country, join the group and learn some things worth while.

SHALL HE GIVE UP?

How is this for courage? A certain young man of our school asked a certain young lady for a date last Tuesday—she had to break it on account of a toothache—he asked for one for Friday—she had to break it because she had to take care of the children (?) and still courageous he asked for one Saturday and alas she had to break that for she had the "mumps"—was he discouraged? Has he given up hope? Let's wait and see.

I will tell you—I am sure she won't care—she has been on a long journey and now you would hardly recognize her—she has become thoroughly modernized. Aunt Minerva has left her throne of wisdom on Mt. Home Economics

An Inviting Field to Enterprising Workers;
Marshall Offers an Excellent Course in This Subject.

(High School graduates and Seniors will find here another interesting letter of the series published especially for them. For those interested in Home Economics, Marshall offers a splendid course, as the catalog shows. A four-years' course here will enable one to teach these subjects in any high school in the state—besides its practical value if Cupid interferes with one's plans for teaching, as is sometimes the case.)

My Dear Sue:—

I have been intending to write to you for some time to tell you of the wonderful opportunities that Marshall offers to her students. I hear you are to finish the high school course this year, and I know you are contemplating going to college next year. I feel sure that you will make a wise choice by coming here, for Marshall will, after this year, be a degree-conferring institution.

As you are especially interested in Home Economics, I will tell you about that course. This department has commodious quarters in the new Science Hall, where a cosy classroom, a well-equipped kitchen, a beautifully furnished dining room, and a large sewing room give ample opportunity for us to study intensively. Students get practical experience by cooking and serving dinners to invited guests once in a while. You just ought to see some of the dinners we cook and serve under Miss Heuser's supervision. It's really a pleasure to work in the kitchen where you have practically everything you could possibly want.

If you want to specialize in this course, you can take Domestic Science and Domestic Art through the your years of college work, and then be able to teach in almost any high school. There is a rapidly growing field for Home Economics teachers now too. With your work in Education and the elective subjects, you ought to make a fine high school teacher, and we certainly are needing hundreds of good teachers with new high schools going up all over the state every year.

I certainly hope you will decide to come to Marshall and be with us next year.

Yours for a wise choice,

G_____H_____ '23.
