Thanksgiving Day Game

You Realize The Importance of Beating Morris Harvey? Scores Of This Game in Former Years.

On Thanksgiving Day our gridders have the annual clash with Morris Harvey. Apparently few Marshall students realize the supreme importance of winning this contest. Because of the nearness of the two schools, Morris Harvey and Marshall have been bitter rivals for years. Every old Marshall alumnus will be more interested in the outcome of this game than in any other on the schedule.

The data obtainable on games between these two schools in football is as follows:

1907—Marshall 12, M. H. C. 5.
1908—Marshall 5, M. H. C. 0.
1910—Marshall 0, M. H. C. 0.
—Marshall 8, M. H. C. 6.
1913—Marshall 0, M. H. C. 7.
1914—Marshall 33, M. H. C. 7.
1916—Marshall 55, M. H. C. 0.
1917—Marshall 7, M. H. C. 7.
1919—Marshall 76, M. H. C. 0.

In 1910 the first game was played at Barbourville, and the second at Marshall Field. Morris Harvey lost this game, and the feeling was so bitter that athletic contests between the two schools were abandoned for a period of three years. Morris Harvey has won only once, in 1913, but this year they are figuring on winning again, and it is up to the student body of Marshall to so support the team as to once again the Purple and Old Warriors will return to Barbourville to eat their turkey in the bosom of defeat.

Judging from the "dope," Morris Harvey has a stronger team this year than we have. Kentucky Wesleyan defeated us 14-0, but was defeated by Morris Harvey 21-0.

Miss Ruth Roche Visits Student Volunteers Here.

Last Monday and Tuesday a traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions, Miss Ruth Roche, of Wellesley College, was visiting the Volunteers in school. Miss Roche intends to take up medical work in Turkey when her period of training is completed, and her visit was an inspiration to the supporters of the movement here.

So far there are but two Student Volunteers in Marshall, but the prospects are bright for an increase of 100 per cent within the present year. As soon as the football season is over, classes in Mission Study will be started, and a definite program arranged.

Club Luncheon

Charter Members Gather in Cafeteria Friday.

Last Friday the first of a series of luncheons of the new Green and White Club was held in the Cafeteria downstairs. After the eats were disposed of, plans for the enlargement and development of the club were discussed at length.

As soon as the organization is settled on a sure basis, it will begin to exert a powerful influence upon the student life of Marshall.
Keep your eyes open for the growth of this new and vigorous organization.

Planning Pageant

Tercenary of Landing of Pilgrims Will Be Celebrated in December.

Model school children are preparing to stage a pageant early in December in celebration of the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims. This pageant is to be a three-fold celebration, including the Mayflower compact and the first legislative assembly of America.

Children are writing their own lines. Seventh and Eighth grade pupils will have the leading parts in the productions. Dialogue parts are being worked out by boys and girls in the Seventh and Eighth grade English and history classes under the direction of their critic teachers, Mrs. Carl G. Campbell and Miss Esther Cundiff.

The play is being staged for the benefit of the children themselves, for the training they will receive and for the aesthetic development for which such a production makes provision. The main idea is not so much to make money or to put on a successful drama as to broaden the children in this sort of work.

Robin Hood times in Ye Olde Englande, 300 hundred years before the Pilgrims came to America, will be portrayed in the first episode. The second episode will include scenes in Holland, America and England, just previous to the sailing of the Pilgrims. America, after the Pilgrims came in 1620, Colonial times in 1720, plantation life in 1820, and America in 1920, will be a series of scenes in the second episode.

Hallowe'en Party

Annual Festivities Successful; Stella Christian Wins Costume Prize.

As has been the custom at Marshall for several years, the whole school celebrated Hallowe'en together last Friday evening. The faculty, student body, alumni, and friends of the school were all represented in the merry crowd of masquers. The halls, auditorium, class rooms, and parlors were decorated in true Hallowe'en style.
Shiny pumpkins, jack-o'-lanterns, autumn leaves, and crepe paper were everywhere in evidence.

The Grand March began at 8:30 in the halls near the Dormitory.
The long double line of masquers, led by Garry Eckard and Daisy Collis, marched through the shadowy halls to the Auditorium, where the class stunts were to hold sway. Three classes gave stunts here, while the Sophs and Juniors had continuous performances in their respective booths elsewhere.

First, the Freshmen were represented by Mildred McDaniel in a dance, and then Nora Sayre told fortunes and answered questions by consulting the mystic crystal ball. Thus some very valuable information was imparted to the audience.

The Seniors had been caught in the maelstrom of activity preparing for the general features of the party, and had had no time in which to prepare a separate stunt.

The Senior Secondary class, being ambitious and having an abundance of material, presented two stunts. In the first, Clyde Sowards and Herman Berry, as two gentlemen of color, had some mis-adventures with a ghost (Walter Brewer) and came off second best. In the other, Edith

The change of size in The Parthenon has been contemplated for some time, but accidents in the printing office delayed the execution of the plan. Now the Paragon Printing Co. has again consented to do the work, and the larger size is assured for the remainder of the year.

Another plan has been put in operation that it is thought will tend to better the paper. The editor, Russell Morris, will edit the alternate numbers, while Erville Sowards, the editor of last year, will edit the other half of the time. This plan gives more time for preparation and the working out of different ideas. With the co-operation and support of the student body, a good paper this year should be expected.

Enthusiasm

Enthusiasm is a great factor in broadening and enriching one's life. Never in all your life will you have a greater opportunity to show the amount of enthusiasm you possess than while you are in Marshall College.

One may be enthusiastic in many things; it may be in business, school, religion, athletics, or along many other lines. In all these lines, however, success depends largely upon enthusiasm. If you have chosen a profession, you cannot make a success of it unless you become enthused over it.

The minister should be enthused over his sermons, putting forth great effort to give his congregation the best. The orator must be enthused before he can deliver a great oration. The doctor, to be truly successful, must be enthusiastic and greatly interested in his work, thus giving the best service possible. The lawyer, if pleading a case, must be filled with enthusiasm to make an impression on his hearers. The teacher must be enthusiastic over his teaching. If he isn't, he cannot make a success of training the boys and girls of today. If the teacher is enthused, naturally the students will get the spirit.

First, let us be enthusiastic about our studies. When you are doing a thing, put your whole soul into that one thing, and do it well. Be an enthusiastic member of the literary society and of the various other student organizations whose work interests you.

Marshall has a football team that has well represented us on the gridiron against overwhelming odds this season. They need our support in the gloom of defeat even more than in the glow of victory. Shall we continue indifferent, or give them our full support?

The basketball season will soon open. Are we going to stand by our team? Make a resolution at the beginning of the season not to miss a game, and give our boys your unswerving support.

Marshall has a splendid faculty this year. It has an unusually large enrollment of talented students.

To make good in school, one must be earnest, faithful, and loyal. Are we as a student body asleep? Are we parasites? A few students cannot make the college year a success. Let's all awake. Let's all pull together for the most successful school year old Marshall has ever known.

Let's let the city of Huntington know that Marshall College has an enrollment this year of peppy, enthusiastic, wide-awake students. Let's have them commenting on our classy school paper, our literary ability, our spirit of alertness, our unity. Let's get into the spirit of everything that makes ideal college days.

STUNG AGAIN

He met her in the meadow When the sun was sinking low,
And they walked along together, In the twilight's after glow.

She waited while, gallantly He lowered all the bars, Her soft eyes bent upon him,
As radiant as the stars.
But she neither smiled nor thanked him,

Because she knew not how,
For he was a farmer laddie,
And she a Jersey cow.

The Soft Side of L.A.G. Hard Knocks

Marshall College is very fortunate in being a college that stands for clean athletics. The team now representing the Green and White is one of rare fight and sincerity. In spite of the fact that thus far Marshall has made no score, the work of the team is to be admired.

The schedule which was arranged last winter was intended for an eleven of weight and experience superior to that representing Marshall now. Coach Cramer has shown that there are no cold feet connected with his team and is playing out the schedule despite big odds. Every team Marshall has met thus far has been of superior weight and experience, and has acted accordingly.

However the local eleven showed what they could do when they held the West Pointers to a comparatively small score of 38-0 in face of an advantage of twenty pounds to the man in favor of the Army men.

No doubt this series of drubbings is going hard with the team and is sowing seeds of despair in the hearts of some of the students. The latter should not be the case because every game, won or lost, is just adding to the Big Green's experience and building it into a stronger team. Every knock is a boost for the team, and with such a fighting aggregation there is no room for doubting that we will soon have a team that will hold its own in any contest.

On paper the odds in the coming fracas with Morris Harvey Turkey Day would seem to be in favor of the Barbers. They carry more weight, and according to their battle with Kentucky Wesleyan they boast more style. Figures may be figures on paper, but on the football field the battles are won by the cleverest fighters. Marshall is going in to win, and will win in spite of all odds.

Rio Grande Added to Schedule; But Two More Home Games.

Saturday our team plays Ironton Y. M. C. A. on the home field.
Morris Harvey defeated this aggregation to the tune of 14-0, and it is up to us to better this score.
Our boys have had a rest now, as there was no game scheduled last week, and are in good condition for the fray. Since there is but one more home game this year—that with Morris Harvey Thanksgiving Day—Marshall students who want to see their team in action had better come out Saturday and get in practice yelling for the next home game.

Rio Grande has been added to the schedule to fill the open date of November 13; the game will be played there. Their team walked over Huntington High in the beginning of the season, and if they have improved much, will give us a good fight.

Student Summer Conference at Eagles' Mere, Pa., gave a very interesting report of the conference.
The discussion was instructive, and the inspiration derived there will exert a profound influence in Christian activity in Marshall this year.

The Y. W. hopes to send at least six delegates next summer, and all energy is to be bent toward this end. At the last conference, Marshall was the only school having but one delegate. We should send a large delegation to Eagles' Mere, and one to the Y. M. conference at Silver Bay, New York next year.

Many a time before in the history of the two schools the "dope" bucket has been kicked over, and the Morris Harvey game is never won until the last whistle has blown.

The winning of this important game will depend to a very great extent upon the loyal Marshall rooters. When Morris Harvey invades our territory, they always bring the peppiest bunch of rooters that ever visit our field. Loyal Marshallites, are we going to allow the rooters from this, our ancient rival school, to outclass us in rooting on our own field? Let's see every one out Thanksgiving Day pulling with all their might for our team to win, and encouraging our team members to forget for four quarters that they have any bones. WE MUST WIN! Then we can go home and enjoy our turkey with satisfaction.

HERE AND THERE

Interesting Bits Of News Around School

The young alligator Mr. Utterback received from Florida has attracted a great deal of attention since its arrival. He may be seen at any time in the biology department on the second floor of Science Hall.

Did you know that Prof. Campbell, of the Chemistry Department, was born on the west coast of Africa, the son of a missionary? Such is the case, though few in school know it.

When Vice-President Marshall was in Huntington recently, Prof. Utterback was on the receiving committee to welcome the distinguished speaker to Huntington. Mr. Utterback performed the same duty on a similar occasion in Spokane, Washington, a few years ago. They are both alumni of the same school.

Last week when the Mexican who was robbed by some negress in Huntington was brought to court, Mr. Derbyshire was called in to interpret, as the Mexican was unable to speak English well enough to be understood. As Mr. Derbyshire has lived among the Spanish-speaking people in the Philippines, he readily understood the language of the unfortunate Mexican.

Mr. Soupart, the one in charge of the construction of the new gym for the State Board of Control, has been commissioned by European buyers to secure several million bushels of coal for export. Some idea of the magnitude of the task may be gained from the fact that one company wanted the buyers to deposit $8,000,000 in a New York bank as a guarantee.

The Dorm girls are taking their new duties as citizens very seriously. A large number turned out to hear Governor Cox speak. The Seniors were pressed into service as chaperons, and did noble work in the emergency. They are to be commended upon their bravery.

Ovr fifty Dorm girls attended the Huntington Theatre to see the production of Robert Louis Stevenson's "The Master of Ballantrae."
