High school media conference opens

By MARY Q. MONTGOMERY
Staff reporter

The 36th annual United High School Press (UHSP) Congress, the 30th annual meeting of West Virginia Journalism Teachers Association and the 17th annual meeting of the United High School Yearbook Association (UHSYA) of West Virginia begins here today with 22 schools in attendance.

Approximately 150 students and 20 advisors from high schools in West Virginia, Southeastern Ohio and Eastern Kentucky will converge on campus for a two day journalism conference, according to Miss Barbara Hensley, departmental assistant in journalism and conference director.

Individual critique sessions will be conducted for high school newspapers and yearbooks this afternoon by faculty and advisers of The Parthenon and Chief Justice.

Following the critique will be a workshop held by the American Yearbook Co. from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in Science Building auditorium.

A dance at 8:30 until 11 p.m. in Shawkey Student Union, with music provided by Bodyne Gutch, ends Friday's schedule.

A coffee hour begins Saturday at 8 a.m. for advisers, followed by a general assembly at 9:30 a.m. in Evelyn Hollberg Smith Recital Hall. Secretary of State John D. Rockefeller IV will speak.

Workshop sessions, instructed by faculty of the Department of Journalism, will be held at 10:30 a.m. until noon. Workshops include news writing, photography, copy editing, sports writing and editorial policy. Also scheduled a yearbook workshop with Taylor Publishing Co.

Noon business sessions will be held and officers will be elected for next year.

The conference will conclude with a luncheon for faculty and advisers to be held at 1:30 p.m. in the Tel Star Room of the UpTowner Inn. Featured speaker will be Prof. W. Page Pitt, executive secretary of UHSP

Pre-exam study period may go to student vote

A referendum on the pre-exam study period may be included in the March 24 student government election. Academic Planning and Standards Committee is currently discussing the issue.

The discussion was prompted after four students spoke at an open hearing Wednesday concerning the four-day study period.

All four of the students were in agreement about a new system. They all proposed to go back to the old five day final schedule and to have the last two days of the semester off to study.

Joe Lazear, Pittsburgh junior, said he was in favor of the study period but disliked the crowded final schedule. He said the study period causes less pressure on the students and helps them to relax. He also said that professors could be in their offices those last two days to help students who need it.

Michael Gant, Huntington junior and president of the student body, said the study period was invaluable and permitted the student to get caught up and complete this work.

Frederick George, Huntington senior, said the final schedule used last semester was an unrealistic hardship. He said things were just too crowded together. He also pointed out that no student could change his finals around unless he had four on the same day.

John Womack, Nitro sophomore, said night class finals on designated study days was wrong. He pointed out that professors often assign term papers around final time and this even more increases the pressure and confusion. He said, "The study period is needed. We have it and we should keep it."

A letter was read by Dr. Paul Stewart, chairman of the committee, which was from Gene Hughes, Ashland, who was married, worked at a part time job, and carried a full load. He favored the study period and said it was invaluable to him last semester. He asked for a vote by the students on the subject.

Forty-hour visiting policy to go to IDC

By SONDRA LWEIS
Staff reporter

A policy for extension of visitation hours will be drafted and presented at the next Interdormitory Council (IDC) meeting March 17.

The policy committee is made up of John Womack, Nitro sophomore; Bill Meador, Hinton freshman; Susan Pope South Charleston sophomore and Sally Vasta, Brunswick, N.J. freshman.

This policy committee intends to ask for an increase of visitation hours to forty a week, along with an increase of maximum guidelines for the policy, according to Womack.

Warren S. Myers, housing director and council advisor, presented to the IDC some of the problems they would be facing while trying to get the extension.

According to Myers, many students have not been able to handle the situation now. He said this in relation to studying, and especially concerning freshmen. He noted that an increase in visitation hours would probably not encourage the student to study.

Another problem the council may face is that some of the dorms are not using the 20 hours provided for them now, especially in the women's dorms.

"Most of the visitation hours now are scheduled on the weekends, if there were to be an increase, it would have to be during the week," said Myers. "Some of the girls may protest because they may feel their privacy is being invaded."

Visitation policy as it now stands was set up because students complained of having no place to go, he said. "Some of the dorms are misusing it, by scheduling visitation hours for an eight hour stretch."

Womack mentioned the fact that many of the better academic institutions are moving forward and establishing an open hour policy, while Marshall is standing still.

The proposal is to have visitation hours from noon to 11 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and noon to 2 a.m. Fridays and Saturdays. All dorms would be able to decide on how many of the hours they wished to have.

Kershner to conduct conference

By SUE CASALI
Staff reporter

Dr. Frederick D. Kershner, representing Operation Greek, will be on campus this weekend for a leadership conference being sponsored by Greek Council, according to John Hammat, Huntington senior, and council president.

Operation Greek, with its headquarters located in Denver, Col., is an organization dedicated to promoting the Greek system. As its director of counseling, Dr. Kershner has spoken at many fraternity and sorority national conventions, state days, leadership schools, Greek Weeks, and IFC/Panhellenic workshops.

Dr. Kershner, who is chairman of the History Department at Columbia Teacher's College, New York, is the author of numerous articles for national fraternity and sorority magazines. He is currently writing a book, The History of American Fraternity Ideas.

Well-known in the Greek world for his concepts in pledge education and chapter and campus leadership, Dr. Kershner is responsible for innovating "the chapter of the future" concept for Greek systems.

The leadership conference will begin at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house with a meeting between Dr. Kershner and all fraternity and sorority presidents.

At 7 p.m. there will be an Encounter session at the Zeta Beta Tau house for all those who will be attending the Saturday workshops.

At 8 p.m. there will be a reception for alumni and advisors at the Phi Mu house.

Saturday's workshops will be from 9 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 4 p.m. in Smith Hall Room 532. During these sessions Dr. Kershner will work with fraternity and sorority members on problems which face their groups.

"He doesn't tell the group what's wrong, but he leads them to discover their own weaknesses and problems and helps them find their own solutions," said Hammat.

"The sessions are open to all Greeks. There is no charge."

Are students indifferent to election?

Do you know who the candidates running for student president are? If so, you are in the minority. Thursday, The Parthenon interviewed approximately 60 students concerning the campus election to be held in two weeks.

The comments received varied from, "I don't know anything about it" to "It really doesn't matter what I think" or "Why should I be interested?"

Comments from those who did have opinions ran contradictory. "From what he says, he's done a great job and I support him," said Beverly Richardson, Caretta freshman, concerning Mike Gant.

"What has he done? We need less talk and more action. I will not vote for Gant," said Bob Johnson, Summersville sophomore.

"I don't see how Joe Drummond can do an effective job, since he is married, is carrying a full class load, and is working nights," commented Raymond Wolfe, Moundsville sophomore.

"Joe would work for the good of all the students. He has been in the military service and I believe he is a good administrator," said Francis Compaleo, Welch freshman.

The Student Government will hold a "Meet the Candidates Night" March 22 at 7:30 p.m. in Shawkey Student Union. This may help to bridge the gap between student apathy and their government.

Faculty wives to sponsor dinner

Marshall University Faculty Wives Club will sponsor "An Italian Street Scene," Friday, March 19 at 8:00 p.m. Twin Towers Dining Hall.

On the menu is Italian spaghetti with meat sauce and meat balls antipasto salad with assorted dressings.

Cost of dinner is $2.50 per person and all faculty and wives or husbands are invited. If anyone wishes, they may come dressed Italian style.

Reservations are to be returned by Monday through campus mail to Brad Wideman.

Squad competes

Marshall's Debate Squad will compete today and tomorrow in the Virginia Intermont College Forensics Tournament in Bristol. The tournament is a combination of individual speaking events and a debate tournament.

Letter to the editor

TO THE EDITOR:

In reply to the letter to the editor, by Jim White, Beckley junior, printed in The Parthenon, March 11, 1971, p.2:

First, in reply to Mr. White's letter, let me explain that I am speaking in an ex officio capacity for the University Judicial Board Chairman, Mr. Lee Oxley. Secondly, it is not my intention to present merely a rebuttal case, but also to alleviate some of Mr. White's misinformation and/or ignorance.

No one is denying, Mr. White, that an incident did occur on the afternoon of Nov. 13, 1970. Nor is anyone denying that the incident was an altercation between black students and white students. We also admit that at least three students were injured in the fracas.

However, under the American system of justice, Mr. White, one of the beginning, working premises is that a man is innocent that is, without guilt-until his guilt is established by the prosecution-or, in the case of the incident of Nov. 13, 1970, those who were injured.

Therefore, from this premise, we can examine the facts of the Judicial Board hearing in question.

Three students were charged with a violation of a specific section of the University Code of Conduct. The students, who happened to be black, were brought to a hearing-it is not a trial-on the charges cited.

The "prosecution" in such a case must prove that beyond a reasonable doubt, the guilt of each individual on each specific charge cited against him.

On this basis, Mr. White, using established student conduct hearing procedures, the board heard more than seven hours of testimony by both the "defense" and the "prosecution," it was the feeling of the board that guilt had not been established, that the prosecution's testimony was both inconclusive and contradictory, and the "defendants" cases were dismissed, and found "not guilty."

To this end, Mr. White, that end being justice, your rhetorical questions hardly serve the cause of justice.

On the contrary, they are offensive, prejudicial and begin with the assumption that you know what you are talking about. I seriously doubt the latter.

Abortion Information

(212) 271-4401

We believe that if you think you are pregnant, you should be able to find out what to do.

We believe that if you have confirmed your pregnancy, you should be able to call someone to help you decide what to do.

We believe that if you want an abortion, only the most qualified board approved gynecologists should perform it.

We believe that you should have the right to decide whether your abortion will be performed in a hospital or outpatient facility.

We believe that in all cases, the facility used should be perfectly equipped and staffed.

We believe that you should understand exactly what an abortion procedure is.

We believe that transportation arrangements to New York should be made for you, as well as accommodations if they are needed.

We believe that all of these things should be done at the lowest possible cost to you.

We believe you feel the same way. We know we can help you, even if it's just to talk to someone.

Greek Exchange

Ξ Ο Π Ρ Σ Τ Υ Φ Χ Ψ Ω Σ Α

Usually my column is filled with the Greek social events of the weekend. Yet being a Greek should involve more than just TGIF's, formals and house parties.

This weekend Greek Council is sponsoring a Greek leadership conference. Its purpose? To promote leadership among the Greeks; to unify the Greek system; to solve problems facing our Greek system, and to help the Greeks make their system more relevant to today's college campus.

Several people have worked hard to make this weekend a success--Jocelynn McCall, John Hammat, Pat Farrell, Nora Horton and Fran Grantham.

They have gone to a great deal of trouble and expense to bring Dr. Frederick D. Kershner, an expert on Greeks, to our campus to help us strengthen our system.

Now it is up to the Greeks as a whole to show their support for the conference. If the Greek system is to survive, if it is to move ahead and leave behind its old image of existing only for partying and drinking, members of the system must show their interest in such worthwhile activities as this.

The conference is open to all campus Greeks. It costs nothing to attend. It takes one hour Friday and five on Saturday. So if you as a Greek consider the system worthwhile, prove it by attending this valuable conference.

Sigma Sigma Sigma will TGIF with Kappa Alpha Order 3 to 5 p.m. today at the Draft Board.

Zeta Beta Tau will have a house party 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. today.

Sigma Kappa will have an informal 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Hullabaloo. Evil will provide the music.

Lambda Chi Alpha will have a house party 10 to 12 p.m. Saturday.

Alpha Sigma Alpha will have a house party 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday.

Delta Zeta will activate 12 coeds at 8 a.m. Sunday at their house. Then they will attend church together at the First Methodist Church. At 1 p.m. they will have a banquet at Gateway Inn.

Pi Kappa Alpha will TGIF with Phi Mu 3 to 6 p.m. Sunday at the Draft Board. Today at noon they will have a balloon throw in front of Shawkey Student Union. The cost will be 25 cents for three throws.

West African scholar will visit MU on tour

By MARQUITA ENGLISH
Staff reporter

Professor Sillaty Kemoh Dabo, Fourah Bay College, University of Sierra Leone, Freetown, Sierra Leone, West Africa, will be visiting the Marshall University campus March 14-20, according to Dr. Robert P. Alexander, Advisor for International Students.

Dabo is the Regional Council for International Education (RCIE) Scholar-in-Residence for 1970-71, visiting throughout the year on 33 member campuses of RCIE.

Professor Dabo, a specialist in African literature in both French and English, fluent in both languages, will discuss such topics as: "The background history of modern African writing in English and French. Traditional and Western-type education in Africa. Euro-Christian influence in Africa. The Isolated Elite. African Nationalism. African Literature as an academic subject, the role of the critic, and What is African Literature?"

Professor Dabo will have his headquarters in the Dean's office of the College of Arts and Sciences where he will be free to talk with students.

Dabo was born in Gboyama, Wunde Chiefdom, Sierra Leone, in 1937, and is a citizen of Sierra Leone and the Commonwealth.

In 1961 he received the Diplome d'Etudes Francaises-Universite de Montpellier, France; 1962 B.A. in French and Latin-Hull University, England; 1963 Dip. Ed. in French-University of Oxford, England; and 1966 the B. Litt. in African Literature in English and French-University of Oxford, England.

Dabo has also been experienced in University Lectureship at Birkbeck College, University of London, where he worked at the Language Research Centre in experimental work on the teaching of modern languages, and at Fourah Bay College, University Sierra Leone, where he participated in curriculum planning and development for the teaching of French. He also serves as advisor to the African Musical and Dramatic Society.

"Mr. Dabo comes to us through the Regional Council for Education in the United States and specifically in the Eastern Section as a visiting scholar representing the RCIE," Dr. Alexander said.

"It is a real honor to have such an outstanding scholar with the versatility of Professor Dabo to be visiting our campus.

"In setting up programs we have made every attempt to show the students of Marshall maximum exposure to this outstanding scholar," said Dr. Alexander.

"All of us here at Marshall are anxiously awaiting his arrival."

For information concerning Professor Dabo's schedule contact Dr. Alexander and watch The Parthenon.

Student office filing ends today

Filing for offices in Student Government Election is scheduled to end at 4 p.m. today, according to Election Coordinator Glenn Allen, Huntington sophomore.

According to Allen, NOW party presidential candidate, Joe Drummond, Huntington senior, is the only candidate to file for office as of 12:30 p.m. Thursday.

"I would not urge anybody to file late on the pretense that there might be an extension," said Allen.

Any student interested in working at the polls may contact Glenn Allen at 529-3867.

Allen also commented on the "Meet the Candidates" program at 7:30 p.m., March 22 at the Shawkey Student Union.

—THE GEORGE H. WRIGHT CO.—

BUSY wife and mother, Mrs. John G. Barker fumbles for change for the mailman during a hectic morning.

PLAGUED with the problems of other homemakers, Mrs. Barker says her busy husband has been unable to hang the painting, at left, since their move.

President's lady leads active life with family

By LINDA CREWE
News editor

"My family is the most important unit in my life. I want to maintain a close relationship with my daughters, and being with them as much as possible is my goal."

Mrs. John G. Barker has devoted her life to her family. While she has many outside activities including art, music, and sewing, Mrs. Barker said she always tries to be at home when Adrian and Chris come in from school.

"By talking we get to know each other better. Children leave home so quickly and when they do, they are on their own and it isn't the parents responsibility to actively interfere."

The Barker family extends to include a miniature dachshund called Runzel and a blue-point Siamese named Fu. While Mrs. Barker talked about her personal life and activities, Runzel and Fu curled in her lap and watched the proceedings with the equanimity of family pets.

Beyond her family interests, Mrs. Barker is vitally interested in the students on campus. She is concerned that they not be afraid to visit in the President's home.

"We want the students to think of us as people. We want them to feel free to visit in our home at any time." She invited students to just drop in to talk, mentioning at the same time that Dr. Barker was interested in meeting and talking with students.

Through this closer relationship, the Barkers hope to get to know the people of Marshall University better. They feel communication can be promoted in this way.

Mrs. Barker has been busy getting settled in their new home on Fifth Avenue. The three-story house is partially furnished by the State, but much of the furniture is the Barkers. Mrs. Barker remarked she never realized they had so much to move until they started moving in.

The task is almost finished now although there are still some boxes left to be unpacked. "I'm still trying to get John to hang my pictures above the fireplace, but he just hasn't had time," said Mrs. Barker.

Being almost settled, Mrs. Barker is turning her interests to art and music. She sculpts when she gets the opportunity because it's "fun to be messy. If I make a mistake, I can just smash it together again and start over."

In addition to her sculpting, Mrs. Barker also plays the piano and in the past has taught lessons. She said both her daughters could play, but neither has expressed a definite interest in piano.

Painting is another of Mrs. Barker's hobbies and in addition to her own painting, she also collects. Once told by an instructor not to buy paintings for their colors, Mrs. Barker laughingly answered, "But it won't go with my color scheme."

Mrs. Barker said that her sewing machine had been closed for the first time when they moved, but it is open and ready to go now. Not only does she sew, but her daughter Chris also does.

Mrs. Barker plans to take some classes at MU in pottery or other art fields. She wants to be in small, informal type classes so she can get to know the students better.

With her family and her hobbies, Mrs. Barker still finds time to be active in church work, especially choir. She enjoys being with other people and just talking.

Laughing as she talked about her family and their experiences, Mrs. Barker appeared to be at ease in her new surroundings. She said they had all adjusted well and although remembering names was difficult, she felt they were succeeding in making Huntington their home.

Mrs. Barker expressed pleasure over the warmth of the people and related that both daughters enjoyed their new schools.

Mrs. Barker hopes to become better acquainted with the area people as well as the students, but she does not want these activities to detract from her family life.

The Barkers are a close knit family group, but anxious to establish those lines of communication vital to the life of a university president.

Mrs. Barker concluded her warm interview with an invitation to come again and then she quickly went to the kitchen to prepare lunch for daughter Adrian.

According to Nemens, the benefit will be shown on closed-circuit television from the field house to some 100 colleges and universities

SAE chapter at Kentucky gives $6,804

By LARRY MOYER
Staff reporter

How did a fraternity chapter at the University of Kentucky raise nearly $7,000 for the Marshall Memorial Fund? The brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon collected door to door contributions, collected on street corners and at the University of Louisville-Drake University football game, and sent letters to their chapter alumni.

The drive, which began a week before Thanksgiving, netted $6,804.06. The chapter was assisted by the fourteen sororities on campus and the Lexington Fire Department.

The radio and television stations in Lexington broadcasted the news and details of the drive. The Lexington newspapers also carried the news.

A check for the amount was presented by the chapter to John Henry Stone, personnel director of the First Huntington National Bank. Stone was the guest speaker at the chapter's founder's day celebration. He brought the check to Huntington and presented it to John Calles, coordinator of the memorial fund.

The chapter hoped the money would go to the orphans of the tragedy. The drive was initiated by brothers Richard Gibson and Steve Morguelan.

A spokesman for the fraternity said "The brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon are very appreciative of the people of the Lexington area. Everyone thought it was a very worthy cause and gave generously. The brothers would like to thank the organizations, the mass media, and everyone responsible for making the drive a tremendous success" east of the Mississippi. It will be a two-to-three hour show.

Nemens said it will consist of four groups—a major group, a major black performer, a major female performer, and an additional act which will possibly be a male performer.

"The show will be planned through the assistance of Murray Becker and Gerard W. Purcell Associates in conjunction with General Electric and Teleprompter," said Donna R. Gassaway, chairman of the Student Center Program Board.

"It is intended to give students the opportunity to contribute to the Marshall Memorial Fund," Miss Gassaway continued.

The purpose of the fund is to assist families of the 75 victims of the chartered jetliner crash last Nov. 14.

According to Nemens,

Science fair to be held

The annual Marshall University Regional Science Fair will be held in Gullickson Hall March 12-13.

The fair will feature exhibits from 225 participants representing 37 high schools and junior high schools in the tri-state region. Dr. Richard B. Bonnett, assistant professor of geology, is serving as director of the 1971 fair.

Exhibits will be judged in the following categories: chemistry; earth science, physics, mathematics, engineering, and biology. Senior and junior high school students will be judged separately, and awards will be presented for first, second, third and fourth places, as well as for "best of show", including one male and one female senior division winner.

The public may view the exhibits Friday evening from 7:30-10 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The awards ceremony will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Additional presentations will be provided to the fair by the Navy, Army, Air Force, NASA, the Southern West Virginia Pharmaceutical Association, the Association of Medical Technologists and the Pickett Slide Rule Company.

price and exact time will be decided soon by the student government.

The Feb. 27, 1971 edition of "Billboard" magazine said "the cost to schools to cover all technical and artistic fees will be $8,000 for a color broadcast and $7,500 for a black and white."

The magazine said a lesser cost will be involved if "the school uses its own equipment for the broadcast."

Combination is suggested for memorial

By SANDRA LEWIS
Staff reporter

Possibilities of incorporating a fountain with a sculpture in front of the new Student Center as a memorial to the victims of the November 14 plane crash is under consideration by the Memorial Committee.

Architect Keith Dean, who designed the Student Center, met with the committee to discuss the site of the memorial. It was generally agreed upon that "the site should be on Marshall's campus and in a prominent place where there is a lot of traffic," said Dr. Hoak.

Dr. Hoak said the committee took the suggestions of the art department for consideration. It also was suggested the sculptor be a faculty member of the art department at Marshall.

"This is only a recommending committee," said Hoak. Townspeople, students, administration, faculty and staff are all represented. Nothing is definite, though all decisions made by the committee will be reported to the University administration."

The memorial committee will meet again March 22 and will continue to meet until a unanimous decision has been made by the committee, according to Dr. Hoak.

GUITARIST SCHEDULED

Danny Cox, folk-rock singer and guitarist, will appear May 12 in a Mini Concert in Old Main Auditorium. Cox has performed on such television shows as "The Danny Kaye Show", "The Bog Hope Chrysler Theater" and "The Upbeat Show."

Legality of Judicial Board questioned

By WAYNE FAULKNER
News editor

The Judicial Board of Marshall University handed down a decision Tuesday concerning alleged disturbances between two campus organizations—Black United Students and Kappa Alpha Order.

This comment is not to say, whether or not the decision announced by the board was true, right, just or whether it was foolish, full of loopholes or anything else pertaining to this one case.

What alarms The Parthenon and what we feel should alarm all students in West Virginia is the fact that this "court" can be run—with students members—without the audience of students or even the audience of the student press.

It is true that this judicial board is not a court of record and this implies that the press cannot print names of those involved in hearings without proving the verity of their guilt or innocence. (This is at the risk of libel action to the publication.)

However, under the West Virginia law of reporting, the name of a person over the age of 18 could be printed since the charges made against a person under the judicial board do not pertain necessarily to civil law, but to the breaking of rules set up for campus conduct—the West Virginia Board of Regents Student Code and the Marshall University Student Code.

What all the above amount to, is that the West Virginia Board of Regents in establishing the Student Conduct Code and the subsequent creation of the judicial board has created and sanctioned a new and unconstitutional court system in the state of West Virginia—one dealing solely with on-campus student violations. It has created a court that exists without access by the press, by lawyers, or by the public as all constitutional courts have been set up.

So what we have in our midst—not questioning the personal motives of those on the J-board or those who created and supported it—a potential kangaroo court, one that could conceivably be loaded, one having the power to recommend punishment or expulsion of a student.

In the recent proceedings of the board, witnesses were interviewed, facts were examined, and a decision was made without any press officials or other students to examine the proceedings. This was not even the case with Judge Julius Hoffman.

We are not advocating or opposing the recent decision of the judicial board. What we are doing is questioning its legality.

OLD MAIN EMPTY AFTER BOMB CALL
Students await their return to class

Official speaks out on bomb call inaction

"Why apprehend the callers when nothing is done about it?" said Deputy Chief Herbert L. Earl of the Huntington Fire Department.

Earl was commenting on the bomb scare in Old Main Tuesday afternoon. "The fire department feels that it is useless to catch the callers who threaten bombings when they are released without any punishment. Even now, the University has not expelled the callers who are disrupting their classes."

According to Earl, the calls can be traced by the telephone company which uses a number of different devices as a means of catching people who call in bomb threats.

Voice prints, which can identify a person almost as accurately as fingerprints are not in use now, according to Earl. Another source, who wished to remain anonymous, stated that voice prints are currently used only in relation with FBI cases.

David Vaughn, assistant manager of the C and P Telephone Co., said, "We use a variety of equipment to help catch those responsible for annoying calls or bomb threats. We try to co-operate with the legal authorities, but that's all we can do. It then goes into the hands of the police and if charges are filed, they are done so by the police."

Vaughn also said the number of threatening telephone calls is on the rise and is becoming a community problem.

"I feel that callers are depriving thousands of students of the education that they are paying for," said Earl. He went on to say that he feels that the full extent of criminal punishment should be enforced upon them.

"If we don't use someone as an example and make them pay the full penalty, people will keep right on calling."

Women's team in AAU tournament

By CARYN SCHAFER
Sports writer

Marshall's women's basketball team will participate in the Region 6 AAU tournament at Yorktown, Ind. this weekend.

The tournament will include six other teams besides Marshall, they are from the Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, central Illinois and Kentucky areas.

The women's team is the first team in West Virginia to go to an AAU tournament and participate in a team event.

"This tournament will be good experience for the girls because they will be playing against teams that are real competition for them", said Coach Donna Lawson, instructor of physical education.

Teams competing in the tournament are older and are not necessarily college teams according to Miss Lawson.

Winner of the tournament this weekend will be entered in the National AAU Tournament in Iowa.

Members of the basketball team that will go to the tournament are Miss Lawson, instructor of physical education; Jackie Knight, Gallipolis, Ohio graduate assistant; Barbara Crews, Pineville senior; Gloria Taylor, Huntington freshman; Brenda Warren, St. Albans freshman; Sally Leimkuhler, Hadonfield, N.J. sophomore; Marsue Burroughs, Marmet freshman; Marjorie Harcher, Monaca, Pa. freshman; Karen Pauley, Holden senior; Joan Sims, New England freshman; Beverly Duckwyler, Charleston junior; Jody Farley, Beckley freshman; Delores Morrow, Williamson senior; and Jody Lambert, Kenova sophomore.

The starting line-up for the Marshall team will be Barbara Crews, Sally Leimkuhler, Karen Pauley, Jody Lambert, and Beverly Duckwyler.

Following this tournament the team will travel to North Carolina for the National Intercollegiate Tournament, March 24-27.

'Give us a chance,' AD asks MU faculty

By CAROL PITTS
Staff reporter

Athletic director Joseph McMullen has called on the faculty to give him a chance to establish a proper direction, emphasis and perspective for the athletic program at Marshall.

McMullen, in a letter Tuesday to the faculty, referred to the March 2 meeting of the MU Chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

He commented he never intended his remarks to include the entire A.A.U.P. group or the entire faculty family. "It was my desire to hear Dr. Mininni's entire report before making any remarks."

McMullen said a prior commitment could not be postponed, but that he could not leave the meeting without voicing his objections to "such a report based on rumor."

"My remark (that has been overgeneralized according to several faculty people) left out one word. If this is the opinion of the faculty (I did not mean to infer it was, is, or will be), then I'll deal with the students in the future. I know there may be a few others who might share some of Dr. Mininni's sentiments. My hope is that all will give us a chance to establish a proper direction, emphasis and perspective for our Athletic program."

"Dr. Mininni does owe an apology to several people."

McMullen said he was looking forward to working with all "the Marshall family."

"We know we will not please all with our decisions. However, we do plan to develop a program of respect and one that will strive toward excellence within the framework of the rules and the spirit of the rules and in harmony with the total educational aims of our University."

Wrestling team finishes fourth

By DON BROOKS
Sports writer

Youth and inconsistencies were the ingredients that lead Marshall's grapplers to a 6-10 record this season according to wrestling coach Mike Sager.

The MU wrestling team ended its 1970-71 campaign in Chicago, Ill., by finishing in fourth place with 37 points in the Mid-States Intercollegiate Wrestling Tournament March 5 and 6.

In capturing fourth position Marshall recorded victories over the University of Chicago, which finished fifth in the meet, and the University of Wisconsin, finishing sixth.

Cleveland State claimed first place honors for the two day event while Cincinnati and Akron captured second and third respectively.

The Thundering Herd had three grapplers who recorded second place finishes during the meet: Pat Riggs, 142 pound class; Roger Diederich, 167 pound class and Chuck Wright, 190 pound event.

"One of the highlights of our season," Sager said, "was defeating Chicago and Wisconsin."

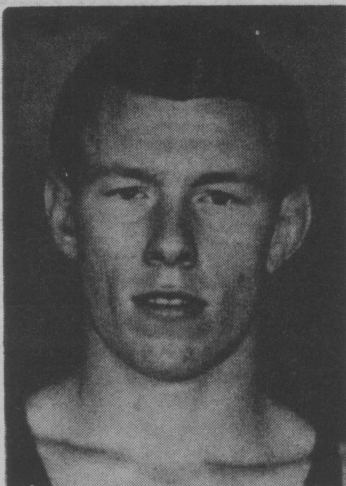

Bill Archer avenged an earlier season loss by defeating Jeff Burkoff of Cincinnati 11-2. Archer also lead Marshall in the won-loss department this season by posting a 12-5-1 record.

In scoring this season Coach Sager's grapplers were lead by Pat Riggs with 47 points while Roger Diederich added 44 points and Greg Archer and Bill Archer contributed 37 points each.

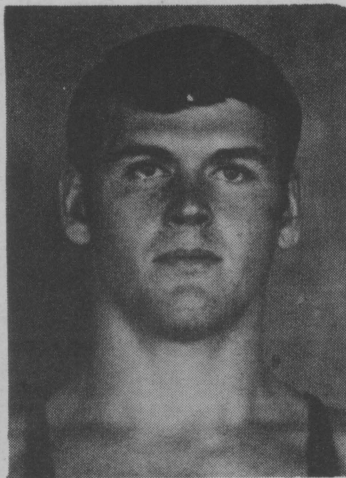

The wrestling squad, during the 1969-70 season, posted 2-8 record and in doing so suffered seven losses by at least 25 points each. During this season MU matmen went down to defeat only three times by such scores while posting victories by that margin on seven occasions.

"In reviewing a season which has been marked with misfortune and disappointments, I am satisfied to a degree with what we have done," Sager explained.

Marshall had eight wrestlers above the 500 per cent mark this year as compared to one individual who accomplished this task one year ago.

Track team ends season with records broken, tied

Nine of the 25 listed Marshall records were either broken or tied by the 1971 indoor track team.

"We're making progress towards building a program that the whole community can be proud of," said Coach Marvin Fink. "The proof of this is that three-fourths of our indoor records were broken in the last two years."

"We still don't have a full squad so we can't go into a meet aiming for a team victory. Our athletes are competing on individual pride."

The leaders of the team in record performances were Ed Main, Middletown, Md. sophomore, Chuck Marshall, Ruffsedale, Pa. sophomore, and Dave Pugh, Mount Hope freshman.

Main tied the 50 yd. dash record with a time of 5.8, equaling the mark set by Jeff Ternes in 1969. The 880 yd. relay team composed of Main, Pugh, Larry Guio, Weirton freshman, and Bill Tracy, York, Pa. freshman, covered the distance in 1:40.1 for a new MU record.

Other record performances turned in by Pugh were in the 50 yd. low hurdles with a time of 7.6 and a 7.1 in the 50 yd. high hurdles, tying Phil Parson's timeset in 1969.

Distance specialist Marshall broke the 880 yd. run with a time of 2:03.4 and the three-mile run with a 16:09.8. His 3000 meter steeplechase time of 10:15.4 was also the best ever turned in by a MU athlete.

"Chuck Marshall and Ed Main consistently gave a good effort and could be counted on to go all out," said Fink.

"Another athlete who people will be hearing a lot about in the future is Ed Vaughan."

Vaughan, a St. Mary's freshman pole vaulter, broke the school record in his event with a vault of 13 ft. 6 in. and places Fink in field events.

"Considering the factors of a lack of facilities and equipment, weather conditions, and transportation problems, the team did respectably well," said Fink.

"We've got the nucleus of a strong team with good young men who have the desire to compete and be successful," said Fink. "We have a lot to look forward to in the future."

Strittholt leads frosh in scoring

Jerry Strittholt, averaging 16.1 points a game, was the leading scorer for the Little Herd this season. He was followed in scoring by Andy Frederikeson, averaging 14 points, Greg Imperi, with 11.2, and Lyle Monroe, with 10.2 points a game.

The Little Herd ended their season last Saturday by defeating Bliss College 95-91 to finish up with a 5 and 16 won-lost record.

Frederikeson led the frosh in both rebounding, with 10.4 a game, and in field goal percentage as he canned 117 shots of 259 attempts for 45.2 percent.

In comparing the Little Herd to its opponents, the frosh shot 39.1 percent from the floor to 41.8 per cent for their opponents. At the line the Little Herd hit 63.5 per cent to 70.8 of the opponents.

The frosh were out-rebounded 1181 to 1167. Opponents average 87.8 points a game while the Little Herd averaged 77.7.

Saunders happy with 4-9 season

To many coaches, a 4-9 season record is not a very pleasing experience, but swimming coach Robert Saunders is more than pleased.

"This has been my most satisfying experience in coaching on a collegiate level," said coach Saunders. "It was worth all the work that went into it."

"The boys have been practicing hard since October and they have never let down even with the illness that hit several of them."

Marshall swimmers broke all but three school records in competition against some of the best swimming teams in the country.

"I might have been too ambitious in scheduling this season," said Saunders. "We played a lot of big schools, but it really inspired the boys to work in preparation for the meets."

Saunders feels lack of depth was a major factor in many of the teams losses.

Saunders said "Our swimmers are as good as most of the swimmers they faced this season. We just didn't have as many people as the larger schools."

Saunders said the larger schools had as many as 25 swimmers, while Marshall only had eight. This forced the Herd to not compete in some events.

'King' film will be shown

"King: A Filmed Record... Montgomery to Memphis," the widely acclaimed documentary film about the struggles of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. for equality and justice from 1955 to 1968, will be shown at 7 p.m., March 24, in Old Main Auditorium by the Campus Christian Center and the Student Relations Center.

"King," shown to over half a million people in 300 cities across America, recreates an era, with such scenes as the Montgomery bus boycott of 1955, the March on Washington in 1963, the Memphis sanitation workers' strike, and

Dr. King's death.

Admission is $1.50. All proceeds go to the Martin Luther King Foundation, Inc.

'Big Dime' profits near $1,500

"Big Dime," a March of Dimes benefit show drew approximately 950 people Wednesday night to the Keith-Albee Theatre as Marshall students "did their thing."

Community ticket sales totaled $1,400, with campus, box office and concessions totaling $750, with the total increasing still, according to Philip Beuth, WSAZ General Manager.

Beuth said expenses ran some $600, thereby making a profit of approximately $1,500.

Special guest star for the night was Don Smith, local automobile dealer. He was his true self saying "come in today, don't delay, drive one away at 440 Fourth Avenue." Virgil Hanshaw, Mr. Peanut and Lewisburg graduate student said the audience "really enjoyed Don."

He also said the show was fantastic and very entertaining. He specifically cited the original film by Bob Campbell, Charleston sophomore.

Hanshaw said the film carried with it the impact of what is going on in the community and left a subconscious impression on one's mind.

He said one band, Soul Searchers, well portrayed the theme -

"It is time we all came together, quit hating our brother, we are all human beings, make life more enjoyable."

Hanshaw added ticket sales and audience participation were very good. He said it was great seeing all people working together, hand in hand, to get the show on the road and keep it there.
