Seek Fifth Straight Victory Tomorrow

By ERNIE SALVATORE

Marshall's revamped Big Green basketball team will return to the local court tomorrow night when it faces Concord State College of Athens, W. Va., at Radio Centre. Tipoff time has been set for 8 o'clock.

Fresh from an easy triumph over Morris Harvey's game Golden Eagles at Kanawha City Tuesday night, the Green will be seeking its fifth straight conquest and eighth in its last nine starts in tomorrow's tilt.

The Mountain Lions, rated one of the better teams of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference, was upset by Beckley College in its first league start Tuesday. In two games against Marshall last year, Concord was disposed of on both occasions.

Although unconfirmed at press time, Marshall's starting lineup against Concord was expected to be the same that was used against Morris Harvey. This means that Co-Capt. Bill Toothman and his new running mate, Dick Erickson, will get the nod for the forward posts with Co-Capt. Gene James at center. Jimmy Wilson, newest addition to the starting five, will be at one of the defensive slots alongside of sharp-shooting "Dandy Andy" Tonkovich.

This is the combination which ripped Morris Harvey to shreds before an impressed throng of 2,000 fans at the Owens-Illinois gym earlier in the week. Marshall was in front all the way with Toothman and Erickson pacing the offensive with 15 points each. Tonkovich dumped in 13 while Wilson, enjoying his best night of the season, hit for 11. It was his best offensive effort since returning to school.

Wilson is no newcomer to double scoring lures. As a forward on the 1941-42 five he dumped in 312 points in 21 games.

Since returning from the Pacific Coast, Coach Cam Henderson's team has racked up four straight wins over the following: Baltimore University, Indiana State College, Evansville State College, and the aforementioned Eagles.

Expected to see some action against the Lions will be the second five of Bob Koontz, Bob Wenzel, Jimmy Bakalis, Charlie Justice, and Bob Wright. Also having a chance for some work are Marion Newman and "Shorty" Lambert.

LOCAL ARTIST TO EXHIBIT WORK

By BILL KEARNS

Fifteen portraits, accompanied by landscape, flowers, and still life will be featured in exhibiting the works of a Huntington artist, Miss Alice Kershaw. The exhibit opens Tuesday, February 3, in the art gallery of the James E. Morrow Library. Marshall students and the public are welcome. Prof. Joseph S. Jablonski, head of the art department, announced.

Miss Kershaw studied here under Professor Jablonski and the late Prof. E. E. Meyers. "With Prof. Jablonski," she said, "I developed a serious respect for all art and the desire to paint fine portraits that will be convincing documents of the individual."

In addition to her study here Miss Kershaw studied at the Art Students League in New York and at the Art Academy in Chicago. Her home at 1212 10th St. serves as her present studio.

Featured in the exhibit will be an oil painting of Miss Catherine Martin, appearing in her costume from the prison scene of the last College Theatre production, "Joan of Lorraine."

The exhibit will continue through February 22. The hours are: Monday and Wednesday, 3 to 4:30 P. M.; Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday, 12 noon to 4:30 P. M.; and Saturday from 9 A. M. to 12 noon. Sunday hours will be announced later.

Art Department Gets New Supplies

The arrival of new study material in the art department has been announced by Professor Joseph S. Jablonski, head of the art department. The material consists of color reproductions by Chardin, Kokoschka, Vermeer, Corot, Guardi, Braque, and Renoir, Professor Jablonski said.

American Women--Kings English Are Difficult For Greek Student

By DICK WORKMAN

"American women are different from Greek women, but I don't have time to find out just how different. I came here to study," Peter Skamangus, pre-med student from Chios, Greece, said this week.

The 20-year-old Greek national explained that he came to the United States in June, 1947, and entered Marshall in July to study medicine, partly because the Germans had taken most of the equipment from Greek Universities. "Your language still gives me trouble," he said. "I studied English for five months before coming here, but my instructor used the King's English rather than the American variety, so at first I could hardly understand anything."

However, lack of understanding is not evidenced by Peter's grades.

PETER SKAMANGUS

which are considerably better than passing. Upon completion of his studies at Marshall, he plans to go to Philadelphia to take his degree in medicine at the University of Pennsylvania.

Having fought with Greek guerrillas during the German occupation, Peter finds that his 21 hours of class work are comparatively rugged, too.

Chief Justice Subscriptions Due Feb. 1

Deadline for subscriptions for the 1948 Chief Justice has been set for February 1, and students desiring a copy should subscribe for the few remaining copies as soon as possible, John Lair, managing editor, announced yesterday.

Only 500 copies of the year book will be printed and the first students to subscribe will receive the annuals, Lair said. There will be no sales without subscriptions.

Saturday noon will be the last opportunity for students to have their picture made for the annual. Students do not need an appointment, Lair added, and pictures are being made by Hendershot Studios, 419 Ninth Street. The studios will be open from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M. and from 10 A. M. to noon tomorrow.

ALLEN COURT OPENS SNACK BAR

By PAUL DAVIS

"The Red Shack," a snack bar and recreation room located at Allen Court opened Monday, January 19. The project, co-promoted by the project, said that business is picking up rapidly, and that the place is filled every evening.

Blevins said the "Shack" is equipped with a juke box, cigarette machine, "coke" machine, and pinball machines. It offers candy, coke, coffee, sandwiches, peanuts and other items for sale.

Ralph C. Simpson, Handley junior, president of the Allen Court executive committee, has re-enlisted in the Army as staff sergeant and will report to Camp Slocum, New York for duty on February 10.

Simpson is slated for a commission after completing a course in Officer's Training School, and he will be stationed at Thunderbird Field in Phoenix, Arizona. He is a member of Lambda Chi fraternity.

He spent two and a half years in the army during World War II, 10 months of which was spent in the European Theater.

PAY INCREASE MAY BE OBTAINED THROUGH VA

Veterans who want their GI subsistence increased next semester due to changes in academic schedule, should report to the Veterans Administration office, Music Building 212, February 5 or 6, according to an announcement by the VA.

'Pierre Patelin' Showing Ends Play Series Today

By EARL KIRKER

THE GREENHOUSE CHANGES HOURS

Clubs and organizations using The Greenhouse for meetings must do so before 7 P. M. Lester G. Brailey, dean of men announced.

"To keep The Greenhouse open for group meetings and increase its utility," he said, "it becomes necessary to revert to the original hours. Therefore The Greenhouse will be open to the public from 7-10 P. M. Tuesday through Thursday, 7 P. M. -12 on Friday nights, and noon to midnight on Saturday."

"Clubs and organizations may use The Greenhouse for meetings till 7 P. M.," he added.

Curtain time for "Pierre Patelin," the last of a series of one-act plays being produced by students in acting and play direction classes, has been announced for 3 P. M. this afternoon. Under the direction of Nan Osborne, "Pierre Patelin" will feature the performances of Ruth Ann Jenkins, Emery Price, John Harbo, Gerald Ferguson and William Desmond.

It is a speech department feature and customary requirement for students in the two classes to undertake the one-act plays as part of their class work. The student directors make the various play selections, conduct tryouts and do their own casting and directing of the students enrolled in acting class. Usually no advance publicity is given the plays, other than announcements which are made to all speech students who wish to attend the performances.

The first production, "The Impotence of Being A Roughneck," was under the direction of Alice Carte. Members of the cast were Don Waggoner, Kaleen Tobin, Jack Nolan and Jack Thaxton.

"The Man Who Died at Twelve O'Clock," directed by Bob Tamplin, included the performances of Bonnie Walton, Jack Osburn and Bill Kearns.

Joyce Scott, Ann Holland, Donald Mayne and Sterrett Neale were cast for parts in "Tooth or Shave," directed by Madge Gohld.

Margaret Sexton directed the cast of Forrest Plants, William Tudor, Audra Davis, Joanne Shivel and James Reynolds for "The Bishop's Candlesticks."

"The Dear Departed" included Mary Daugherty, James Hyden,

More To Parthenon Than Meets The Eye Teachers Decide

The Parthenon was just a college newspaper that appeared on the campus every Wednesday and Friday to the students in Journalism 328, a Teachers College class in high school journalism, until they took over the editorial duties of the regular staff to put out The Parthenon Wednesday. In addition to learning something about newspaper publishing, they found that it was a lot of hard work. As Dick Ratcliff, sports editor for the issue said, "Most people don't realize the long, difficult process of putting out a newspaper." Ratliff, a Russell, Ky., junior has had previous experience in college newspaper work.

A four-hour session of copy reading and rewriting to prepare the news for the printer was the first step in the evolution of the paper. Rewriting, "boiling down," and insertion of material were required to make the news copy printable and in the style of The Parthenon. Society Editor Genevieve Raikie, Point Pleasant senior who also did much of the rewrite work said later, "I don't think I'll ever criticize The Parthenon again after seeing what they have to go through twice a week."

In 18 Months

Although real ground has not been broken, work has already been started on Marshall's $1,943,-568 Science Hall which will take approximately 18 months to complete.

Stakes have been driven to begin the initial phase of the buildings' construction, that of digging the sewer, water and gas lines. The recent cold weather and snow temporarily has halted further work but it will be resumed as soon as the weather permits.

TIME OUT
ERNIE SALVATORE

Our desk is cluttered with a score of small items which should be cleared up pronto since there will be no Parthenon next week because of the finals. Incidentally, this is our last effort as sports editor.

Miss Louise McDonough announced Wednesday that plans are being made for a female swim meet. All interested co-ed natators have been requested to contact her or Marty Putoff . . . Gene Hager, the Beverly Hills bard, will be initiated into B. P. O. Elks 313 soon . . . Ray McCoy, Jack Nolan, Janice Calloway, and Don Morris will be guests on this afternoon's WHTN Sports Shop broadcast . . . Jimmy Ward and George Conley, two baseball prospects, are spending their winter months doing some basketball officiating. Conley, former Big Green cager, also plays with the Portsmouth Legion cagers . . . Paul (The Glasses) Probst, ex-Huntington High track star, will do his graduate work at Pitt next January.

Outgoing editor Charlie Connor will toil for the classy Charleston Daily Mail as a city side reporter . . . Dan Wickline and Dave "Red" Evans, Big Green football players, are whipping themselves into shape for the coming Advertiser Golden Gloves tournament . . . Keith Taylor is heading for West Virginia University next semester . . . George Surgeon sent us a nice card of congratulations. Thanks, buddy . . .

Gentlemen Reach Second High Score In Intramural Basketball For Season

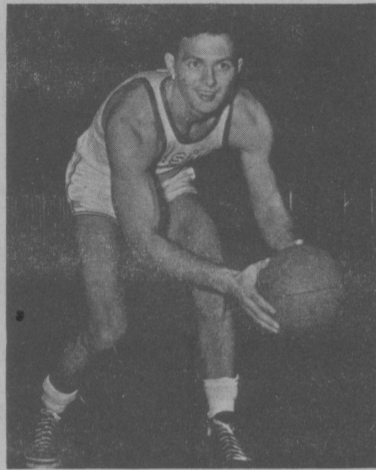

The Gentlemen of the Flight "E" league rang up the second high score of the season Monday, when they downed the Hodges Hall Firsts 82 to 21. The Gentlemen hitting the basket from all angles, and displaying good floor work were led by Bob Young who counted 26 markers.

Other scores in intramural play were: Barbourville 49, Screwballs 34; Aces 49, Southerners 13; Varsity M 52, Hodges Hall Seconds 19; Jeeps 53, Herd 30; Madison Independents 33, Hamlin 22; Phi Kappa Nu Firsts 56, Phi Tau Alpha Firsts 29; Allen Court 80, Panthers 15; Phi Tau Alpha Seconds 47, Slick Chicks 28; Flying Discs 28, Bookstore 23; Lambda Chi Alpha Firsts 24, Kappa Alpha Firsts 22.

Two sharpshooting forwards, George Conley and Dick Allen, led the way for Barbourville in their 49 to 34 triumph over the Screwballs. Conley and Allen scored 18 and 15 points respectively. Bailey with 15 counters was high man for the losers.

Hodges Hall Seconds held a 5 to 4 advantage over the Varsity M at halftime, but the Varsity M led by high scoring forward Don Gibson countered 48 times in the second half to give them a 52 to 19 victory.

Showing great defensive skill the Aces held the Southerners to a lone field goal in the second half to breeze in with a 49 to 13 triumph. The Aces almost had a record but center Beazely tallied a field goal from out court to keep his team from being held scoreless.

CIGARS, PLEASE:

BORN—To Prof. and Mrs. W. Page Pitt of 1502 Norway Avenue, a son, William Colston Pitt, at 10:06 A. M. Thursday, Jan. 22, at St. Mary's Hospital. Weight at birth eight pounds, nine oz.

Parker was high point man for the Aces with 16 points.

The Phi Kappa Nu Firsts had no trouble at all in their 56 to 29 win over Phi Tau Alpha Firsts as Ron Hall with 20 points and Jimmy Van Zant with 11 led the way. Hamill hit the bucket for 15 markers for the losers. This was the first loss in five starts for the Phi Tau's, and the fourth win in six starts for the winners.

THE MURAL SCENE

A few brevities picked up from campus chatter: Bill Dudley, cross country runner and track man, is a second cousin to Bill Dudley of football fame.—The Physical Education Department receives a new major next semester when James Shirley transfers from Arts College to Teachers. — The Bob Youngs are expecting. Glad to see Bob isn't dropping from school. WHAT THE OWL SAW?

Marvin Wetzal, footballer, is working part time at Brackmans, while waiting for spring football practice. Paul Smouthers is a new member of the chain gang.—Ditto for Jim Roberts, one time Big Green star now coaching at Hamlin.

Eugene Joseph, hails from Martins Ferry, Ohio, the same town as Alex Groza, University of Kentucky cager. By the way, Joseph was recommended to the crafty one by the one and only Jules Rivlin. — Jimmy Van Zant, former Big Green cager, is tops in officiating, says "Swede" Gullickson.

BROWN GUEST SPEAKER

Coach Paul Brown of the professional Cleveland Browns will be guest speaker at a football banquet honoring the 1947 Big Green eleven at the Hotel Prichard Friday, Feb. 6. The banquet is being sponsored by the American Business Men's Club of Huntington.

KIDDER KONNOR'S KORNER

MOST PEOPLE

Couldn't believe that anyone could have "Kidder" for a middle name, but we do and we're not too ashamed of it. There was a Lord Kidder of London a few centuries ago, a gay blade about town who seemed to have a rather fine time of it kidding the local lassies about one charm or another. We haven't followed in his footsteps, exactly, because we are not kidding when we say that the big date looms as

FEBRUARY 7

And only one local lass is involved. It scares us, and for moral support we'd like all of our friends to feel free to drop in on the ceremony at Fifth Avenue Baptist Church that night. A couple of cheers from the balcony might be in order as one more bachelor loses sight of his precious freedom. But, that's life!

OTHERWISE

This is our last issue as editor of The Parthenon and we're going to miss it, particularly the zany characters who somehow or other always flock together to put out a newspaper. We'll never forget Ken Baylor's prize greeting, "Well, it WAS a nice morning," or any of the other idiosyncrasies among the staff—really a great gang!

MEMORIES BRING

Scads of names to light, and many satisfying experiences which make Marshall the revered institution it is for all of its graduates. We can point to the Big Green's 16-6 conquest of mighty Wake Forest as our biggest Saturday afternoon, to this year's Homecoming Day dance as one of our best, to an 8 A. M. "History of the South" course from Dr. Moffat as being most worthy of that grey hour (you all's welcome, suh!) and to the many evenings at The Parthenon's printing establishments as the finest times of all.

A COLUMN

Just isn't enough to take care of the many things we'd like to say about Marshall and the friends we've found here, but this will have to serve as our farewell. We are not going to be gone for good and we are going to keep our eyes on the old school and its progress, that's for sure.

IN THE MEANTIME

You can forward our mail care of The Daily Mail in Charleston. There dwell such former Parthenon greats as Jack Maurice, Chuck McGhee, Rex Woodruff, Bob Crumpler, and Johnny McClung. You can see we won't be too lonely because we'll be among friends and you can't beat a Marshall gang.

WELL . . .

That's all for now. 'Bye.

IN EIGHTEEN MONTHS

Every man and woman enrolled at Marshall should realize the terrific fight that preceded the final granting of funds to construct the building. In a special trip to Charleston to appear before the State Board of Public Works, President Stewart H. Smith and other loyal college supporters did miraculous work before additional funds were granted to construct the building as originally planned. In the words of President Smith, it was "the unanimous support of the Board of Education for the project and the relentless fight they put up for its construction that assured its success."

Bledsoe Predicts A Student Body Of 7,000 In 15 Years; War Babies

By GENE BRAKE

The next 15 years may bring an increase in enrollment to 7,000 according to a prediction by Registrar Luther E. Bledsoe.

Mr. Bledsoe expects the present increases in enrollment to level off in two or three years, then remain the same or decrease slightly until about 1960. At that time the influx of "war babies" into colleges is expected to raise enrollments everywhere, and Mr. Bledsoe estimates that Marshall's enrollment will reach 7,000 at that time. Colleges must spend the time between now and then in preparing to meet the needs of this large enrollment, Mr. Bledsoe said.
