Students Favor Repeats In 'D' Grade Courses

By DICK WORKMAN

Of the 60 students, 15 from each class, polled by Parthenon reporters this week, 80 per cent believe students should be permitted to repeat courses in which they make a grade of "D."

Four seniors, one junior and three sophomores did not favor repeats, three sophomores believed "D" grade should be abolished and one senior was undecided.

TEN SENIORS, 14 juniors, 12 sophomores and 12 freshmen favor repeal of the college policy which prohibits students from repeating courses in which they receive a "D."

A resolution to revise the present policy will be presented in a general faculty meeting Monday by the campus AAUP chapter.

TYPICAL student comments were:

"Certainly we should be allowed to repeat. It's our time and money. If we wish to use them to get a better grade or a more complete understanding, that should be our business."

"NO, IF YOU'RE lucky enough to get a "D," you should be satisfied."

"Yes, repeats should be permitted. A grade of "D" reduces chances of acceptance to a professional school."

EDITORS NOTE: The above symposium was conducted by reporters Francis Schmid, Earl Kirker, Paul Williams, Dick Workman and the information compiled by Workman.

Expert To Speak, Display Equipment In Radar Exhibit

Dr. J. O. Perrine, assistant vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, will give a demonstration-lecture on radio, radar and microwaves tonight at 8 o'clock in the auditorium. Paul Osburn, president of Chi Beta Phi, the sponsoring organization, announced this week.

One of the nation's outstanding lecturers on electrical phenomena, Dr. Perrine is in charge of research for the company he represents, and has delivered scientific lectures and demonstrations relating to electrical communications to college groups, engineering associations and civic clubs in the United States and Canada, Osburn said.

Admission is free, and students and the public are invited to attend, Osburn added.

The families in Green Village who had to seek housing elsewhere because of the moving of five trailers to make way for the new science hall will soon be able to move back to their old homes. The trailers now at a new site are being wired and a sewer is being dug to ready them for occupancy.

FRAT OK'D BY PHI ETA SIGS

Scholaris, a local honorary organization for freshmen, has been approved for membership in Phi Eta Sigma, a national honorary fraternity, Walter S. Wilson, Gauley Bridge junior, who is president of Scholaris, announced.

The organization was approved by the Executive Committee and a majority of the approximately 60 chapters of Phi Eta Sigma, Wilson said. A meeting has been called for March 4 to discuss plans for joining the national organization.

Phi Eta Sigma is composed of freshman men who made a 2.5 average or better in their first semester in college.

MARSHALL SOCIETY:

'Forty-Niners' To Open Full Social Weekend

By LUCY ANN MCKENZIE

This weekend will introduce a very full and varied series of social events on the campus ranging from a tea to an open house.

The Phi Tau Alpha fraternity will receive an old tradition of pre-war days of having a "Forty-Niner's" dance. This idea is a steal from the '49 era and guests will wear costumes of that period. A bar-room scheme with gambling will be worked out and poker chips will be sold. The person with the most chips at the end of the evening will receive a prize. All proceeds will go to the Red Cross.

The dance will be tonight at the Spring Valley Country Club. Music will be by Clem Adkins and the Seven Nuggets of Rhythm. A committee of arrangements include Bill Adkins, chairman, Davie Hinnerman, John Copeland and Jack Stewart. Chaperones for the dance are Mr. and Mrs. Kellam Prickett, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Litchenstein and Mr. George Urian.

Tomorrow from 2 to 4 Laidley Hall will hold open house. Mrs. Grace Lauhon will preside assisted by the dormitory officers who are president, Alice Carte; vice president, Ann D'Antoni; and secretary and treasurer, Laura Kash. The women of Laidley Hall wish to extend a cordial invitation to each and every student and faculty member of Marshall College to visit them at this time.

THE FOURTH ESTATE, honorary journalism sorority, will have a dinner in the Bonanza Room

By ELMER TODD

In preparation for a tough battle with the Concord State Mountain Lions at Athens, W. Va. Saturday night, the Big Green will polish off practice today to be at their best.

Top-heavy favorites to win over the Mountain Lions tomorrow, the Big Green nevertheless is going into the game at Concord gym with the determination of playing their best to protect a good season record of 19 games won and nine lost, previous to the Salem game.

The Big Green have a tough opponent that ranks high in the West Virginia Conference. In the first tussle between the two teams, the Big Green managed to win going away, 88 to 53. However, the score does not reveal the outstanding play of the Mountain Lions before going down to defeat.

The battle for the Herd's high scoring seat is still being fought between Co-Captains Bill Toothman and Gene James, and guard Andy Tonkovich. With James missing the Kentucky Wesleyan game because of a bad back, Toothman has forged into the lead.

After tomorrow's game the Big Green will have a week's rest before tackling a tough Dayton quintet, then jumping to Kansas City for tournament play on Monday.

FABIEN SEVITZKY

Symphony To Play For Series Tuesday

By ALICE CARTE

The Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, one of the major American orchestras and under the direction of Fabien Sevitzky, will appear here as the third Artists Series program of the year, Tuesday, March 2 at the Keith-Albee Theater. Students will be admitted, by activity cards, to the 3 P. M. performance. No cards will be honored during the night concert.

FORUM BILLS DRAMA CRITIC

Student listeners will share "first night" experiences of New York dramatic critic George Freedley at the next forum in the auditorium Monday night at 8:15. Admission will be by activity cards and regular season tickets.

Besides being dramatic critic of the New York Morning Telegraph, Mr. Freedley is also Curator of the Theatre Collection of the New York Public Library, all of which well qualifies him to speak with familiarity of theatrical history, traditions and personalities.

His latest book, "A History of the Theatre," has now gone into its third printing and is considered a theatrical text book. He has written others, among them "Theatre Handbook and Digest of Plays."

George Freedley was born in Richmond and started attending the theatre regularly, with his parents, at the age of six. Later, they brought him to New York to see each season's outstanding plays. Since 1928, when he came to New York City to live, he has seen almost every play on Broadway.

Valid Certificates Available To High School Teachers

Any person holding a secondary teaching certificate is eligible to a first class provisional elementary school certificate valid for one year upon the recommendation of the county superintendent wishing to employ such an individual, Dr. D. Banks Wilburn, dean of Teachers College, said this week.

Such certificate shall not be renewed but may be renewed for one year by meeting the following requirements:

- (1) Completion of one year of successful teaching in the elementary schools.
- (2) Completion of not fewer than six semester hours.
- (3) Recommendation of the county superintendent to the State Board of Education.

COMPOSED OF 85 members, the Indianapolis Symphony has been famous for promoting American music. During the last ten years they have been heard in 95 different cities. Now on tour, they recently played at Carnegie Hall. A regular feature of several prominent radio networks, they are also engaged for 90 short-wave broadcasts.

Fabien Sevitzky, Russian-born director and conductor, has been with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra for 11 years, but has guest-conducted the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, the Philadelphia Philharmonic, the National Symphony Orchestra and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

SEVITZKY'S interest in the development of American music and musicians has been prompted, he says, by his desire to repay a debt of gratitude to the United States, which gave him a home here 25 years ago. Not only is he an American citizen, but an American at heart and in outlook. From the time he first read Russian translations of "The Last of the Mohicans" and "Hiawatha" he never stopped wanting to be an American.

Promising to be of particular interest to students is soloist Nicola Moscona, Greek-born bass-baritone, who has made 26 appearances under the great Arturo Toscanini. Many times he has appeared in Carnegie Hall and on tour, but always he especially delights college students.

Wilburn Calls Special Session For Teachers

A special assembly for Teachers College students will be held March 11 at 10 A. M. in the auditorium, Dr. D. Banks Wilburn, dean of Teachers College, announced yesterday.

The purpose of the assembly is to discuss activities which are related to the profession of teaching in public schools and the requirements for graduation.

Dr. Wilburn said he would discuss scholarships and all students in Teachers College should attend.

Chief Justice

Subscription sales for the Chief Justice soared above the 500 mark this week thereby culminating a successful drive which began last November.

The campaign was a colorful one and it was certainly effective, as sales figures will reveal. One of its features was the releasing of balloons carrying free subscriptions. Another was the placing of grave markings in front of the student union, each labeling Huntington or student organizations and connoting the fact that community and campus spirit was dead. This seemed to be stretching a point too far and it caused a lot of uncomplimentary mutterings from parties that do support this school's ventures. Fortunately, the markings were removed after a short time.

Generally speaking, then, the yearbook staff did a good job of selling its product. Results show that the 1948 sales will almost double those of 1947, which is a good batting average in any league.

Reporting The News

It is the job of a student paper, such as The Parthenon, to report news concerning its institution and to reflect, as much as possible, student opinion and views.

Limited space, due to a shortage of newsprint, makes the selection of stories a bit difficult at times. This semester has seen several innovations in this publication which are designed to give more space and time to as many things as possible.

However, no matter how effective these innovations are, stories are going to be left out due to the distressing paper shortage. Sometimes they are held over for the next edition with an eye towards the "breaking period" of the story.

Thus far, complaints have been few and the compliments many. We thank you for both and pledge that we shall continue to do our utmost to achieve our end of complete campus coverage.

Abner Markin, Iron-ton senior, recently had a conference with school authorities at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, preparatory to entering the School of Dentistry there this fall.

This recent fraternity-intramural squabble caught a lot of people off guard and was certainly the best news break to come down the pike in six months.

Members of The Parthenon staff discovered the story and worked overtime to present an accurate account of its facts. An editorial appeared in Wednesday's paper supplementing the stories and it lauded the Intramural Board for its decision to meet fraternity proposals as well as mentioning the sincerity of the Greeks.

Now we receive word where several fraternity men felt that use of the story was "in bad taste" and they tossed in a few slams at this paper, to boot. Which just goes to prove that no one knows what constitutes a news story except those who work on newspapers.

Personally, we do not intend to let a few digs from a minority of the fraternity population bother us but we do intend to trace every single story that breaks on this campus down to the hilt with preference given to no one. That is what we are in existence for.

So you want to write advertising? Take a look at the following bit of lyrical huckstering which appeared in a local paper this week:

"The fog is now heavy so don't be a dope,

"A pair of good fog lights and you won't have to grope—

"Now that winter is over and your upholstery is beat, and the springs are coming through to hit you in the seat—

"A good looking set of covers will keep them all down at prices so low that you won't even frown."

Rose Murphy, the talented and rotund chee-chee baby, has a list of 26 recorded songs that will be released in six-week doses, which ought to make some people happy and others sad.

Martin Will Teach First Radio Class

A class in radio is being offered this semester for the first time in the history of the college, Dr. Donald C. Martin of the physics department said this week.

The class, taught by Dr. Martin, is a study of radio wave circuits, transmitters and receivers using amplitude modulation, radio propagation and antennas.

CAMPUS Briefs

A conference of the Public Relations Institute was completed yesterday at the Huntington Library. Sponsored by the Community Welfare Council, it ran for two days and was featured by a lecture on house organs by Chester Ball, instructor of journalism; and another on publicity and public relations by Mrs. Veta Lee Smith, college secretary.

Miss Katherine Jarrett and Warren Adams will be married in April. Both are former Marshall students.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Ross Kinner of 1414 Marcum Terrace have a son, Larry Inlow, born February 3 at a Huntington hospital. Mr. Kinner is a senior majoring in psychology.

Nancy Curwood, Charleston sophomore, is in Memorial Hospital under medical observation.

Faye Sheppard, wife of Ben F. Sheppard, Lenore sophomore, now residing in Green Village, is recuperating in St. Mary's Hospital after a brief illness.

Mr. Charlie Collins, superintendent of buildings and grounds, said Monday that the quonset hut east of the Music Hall which has been a "blackeye" to the landscape for over a year will soon be removed, thus eliminating a "sore spot" which was never used.

Pat Cowgill, Kenova freshman, has been elected to the post of secretary-treasurer of the Pre-Law fraternity according to Eugene Elkins, president.

The new proposed conference to include colleges of the tri-state, if propagated, would operate much in the same manner as a rich man feeding the poor.

Whether this conference is begun, lies in the fact whether two of three schools will join. They are Louisville, Xavier or Marshall. The other schools who have agreed that they are interested are Murray, Eastern Kentucky, Western Kentucky, and Morehead, all teachers colleges, and Morris Harvey.

The fact is plain as to the reason for wanting at least two of these three larger schools to become members of this proposed conference. To carry the burden. These teachers colleges have no seating space and do not have the drawing attraction the larger schools produce. These colleges are located in small towns and do not have large enrollments. Therefore, it is clear that they wish someone to carry the burden as far as capital is concerned.

We grant that a conference for the tri-state is needed but we feel that Marshall is in the process of becoming a larger school, and will not wish to become affiliated with a teacher's college conference.

For our own pleasure, we have jotted down a group of schools that we feel would make a great conference, both in basketball, football, and baseball. They are: Marshall Morris Harvey, Louisville, Indiana State, Dayton, Xavier, Miami, Ohio U. and Akron.

These nine schools have no affiliations and we think would be very glad to become members of a conference where the schools are of practically the same calibre. With these teams we could have a sectional rivalry, such as—Marshall and Xavier—Louisville and Indiana State—Miami and Ohio U.—and Dayton and Akron. All of these schools have football stadiums that could seat more than 10,000 patrons and all are very prominent in athletics. If any of these teams would come to Huntington, we are sure the house would be packed to capacity.

In the event that Marshall should lose the first game of the NAIB tournament, the team will not stay the rest of the week. The excuse will be because of studies. —John Carroll is booked for football November 6 at Fairfield Stadium. — Since a field house is promised by next winter, look for Marshall to come up with one of the strongest home basketball schedules in years.—Rumors say that Hamline, Beloit and Miami U. of Ohio are already scheduled for home games next year.—Bill Craens used a periscope in garnering his 46 odd points in intramural play this week.—Paul Probst has been buying cigars lately waiting for the day to arrive.— In the game of table tennis, what does the term "rest" mean? Ans. The period during which the ball is in play is termed a "rest." — The NAIB program will show a team picture of this year's and last year's basketball squad. Incidentally the front cover will feature a picture of Andy Tonkovich.

Phi Kappa Nu First

Lead Flight 'A' Play

By JOHN SHADBURN

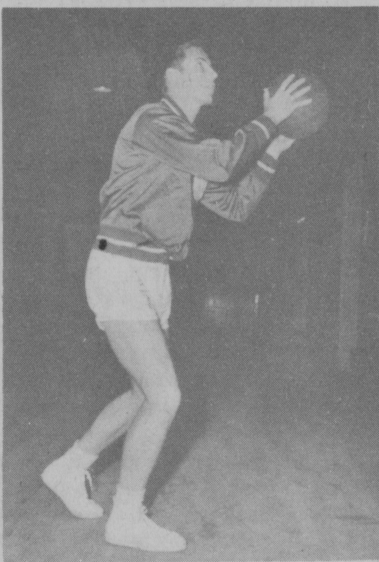

With all indications pointing toward a 32-team basketball championship playoff, mural cage combines thundered down the stretch this week with only a few teams showing advance indications of "tournament fever." Scores recorded were as follows:

Bears 86, Lightenings 50; Faculty 50, Phi Tau Firsts 33; Deamons 38, Sigma Phi Epsilon Seconds 26; Deacons 37, Phi Tau Alpha Fourths 36; Tigers 52, Newman Club 25; Bombers 1, All-Stars 0 (forfeit).

In a contest that turned out to be a scorekeeper's nightmare, rangy Bill Cravens nabbed unofficial season scoring honors for one game as he coined 46 tallies in leading the Bears to an 86-50 win over the game but outclassed Lightenings.

The Phi Tau Alpha Firsts found the Faculty Five too tough to reckon with in their final meeting and emerged on the short end of a 50-33 count. Bill Prout and Clarence Morrison, the Faculty's high scoring duo, tallied 16 and 14 markers respectively. Max Cupp was best for the losers with 10.

The Deamons had little trouble in shading the Sigma Phi Epsilon

BOB KOONTZ, all state basketball and football player at East High School is being groomed by coach Henderson to fill the high scoring post left open by the departure of Bill Hall. Bob, a freshman, has contributed over two hundred points to the Green cause.

New Playoffs

In minor sports on the giant intramural card, the three-ball billiards tourney has reached the quarter finals with Castle, Baker, Fox, and Massey the remaining contenders for the crown.

Handball doubles and pinochle competition has been postponed until Monday when the tourneys will get under way at 10 A. M. and 3:15 P. M. respectively. However, the mural hearts tourney got under way during the past week with matches being played at the convenience of the participants.

Meanwhile, square dancing which was postponed last night because of the Marshall-Salem basketball encounter, will be resumed Thursday at 7 P. M. in The Greenhouse. John Click and his College Hillbillies, a popular four-piece musical aggregation, has been engaged to play for the dancing which will be in continual progress until 9 o'clock.

SPRING SPORTS

BEGIN IN APRIL

When old man sun takes some of the dampness out of the "Old Sod," many aspirants will answer the call for their favorite spring sport. A star-studded program is in the making for Marshall College this spring in such sports as tennis, track and baseball.

The track men, getting a head start on their fellow sports in their return to pre-war popularity, offered a cross-country team last fall and were successful in winning two meets while losing only one.

The runners, coached by John Stender, outpointed Bradley University of Peoria, Ill., and Xavier University of Cincinnati, while dropping one meet to Miami University of Ohio.

Although a little early for the schedules to be completed, a total of 10 tennis matches, 7 track meets, and 14 baseball games are on tap this spring.

All three sports will begin action during the weekend off April 9. This means that an average of two basball games per week will be played.

Featuring this star-studded

Art Department Features Exhibit From 18th Century

By PAUL DAVIS

"The Age of Enlightenment," a photographic exhibition of eighteenth century culture in France, will be shown in the James E. Morrow Library from March 1 through March 21, Prof. Joseph S. Jablonski, head of the art department, said.

The exhibition was prepared by the editors of Life Magazine and appeared in a recent issue of the magazine. It is a part of the series of essays on the development of western culture which are currently being published in Life.

Many of the ideas and institutions which we take for granted today were due to the brilliant thinking of a small group of scientists and philosophers living in France during the eighteenth century, Professor Jablonski said and the display contains much of the best work of this group.

Organized under three main sections (Versailles, Paris, and Age of Crisis) exhibition presents a pictorial analysis of one of the great epochs in the advance of western culture.

Among the artists whose work is included are Boucher, Fragonard, Nattier, Rigaud, Watteau, Moreau le Jeune, David, Drouais, Debucourt, Greuze, Ledoux, Delaunoy, and Soufflot.

Hodges Begins Library Project

A project is now underway to provide a library for the men in Hodges Hall. A committee of Ray Hamon, Louis Copenhaver, Joe Hesch and Gale Berry are working to obtain books and magazines for the lounge. Most of the books have been donated by people of Huntington and the residents, which includes reference, fiction and non fiction. One of the committee will act as the regular librarian to check out the books.

Plan For Jobs Formulated By Brailey

Possibilities of summer jobs for men are being investigated by the dean of men's office, Lester G. Brailey, dean of men, said yesterday.

Letters have been sent to several summer camps and resorts in this area, requesting information about job possibilities, Dean Brailey said. One resort, the Toledo YMCA's summer camp, has already replied, reporting two openings available, he said. He suggested that students interested in such summer jobs should file an application in the dean of men's office about March 1.

Part-time jobs are more scarce than they have been in the last year, Mr. Brailey said. Commission selling and special - skilled jobs are available, but not many students want or qualify for these kind of jobs, Dean Brailey said, and about a hundred unfilled applications are on file in his office.

Miss Pat Blanchfield, Pine Grove junior, recently joined the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Wolfard Given National Post

Prof L. A. Wolfard, head of the business administration department, was elected vice-president of the National Association of Business Teacher Training Institutions at the association's annual meeting last week in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Other Marshall representatives at the meeting were Mrs. A. F. Evans and Miss Eva L. Miller, both instructors of business administration.

Dr. Peter L. Agnew of New York University was elected president of the association.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. George Camp, Huntington senior, a girl, Brenda Gail, at St. Mary's Hospital, February 14.
