Congresswoman To Air Issues At Last Forum

By ALICE CARTE

Helen Gahagen Douglas, California congresswoman and actress-singer wife of Hollywood's Melvyn Douglas, will speak on "Major Issues Before Congress" at the Community Forum finale Monday night. Students will be admitted to the auditorium at 8:15 P. M. by activity card.

When Mrs. Douglas was scheduled to make a 15-minute address to the Democratic party's national convention in 1944, she was immediately called the Democratic counterpart of Republican representative Clare Boothe Luce. Both candidates objected, but "the comparison was inevitable, for both are svelte, beautiful, and slick as all-get-out." Both had illustrious and distinguished backgrounds in the theatrical world.

When she had completed two years at Barnard College of Columbia University, Mrs. Douglas and Alis de Sala wrote a play, "Shadows on the Moon." Her performance in this opened her career on the stage and she appeared in "Shoot," "Manhattan," "Dreams For Sale," "Fashions For Men," "Chains," and many others. She became recognized as one of the twelve most beautiful women in America.

Despite her success as an actress Helen remembered her mother's dream that one day she would be an opera star. She gave up her six-year-old stage career and promptly began to study opera. She sang as successfully as she had acted, and soon turned from opera to musical comedy, appearing in "The Cat and the Fiddle," in San Francisco.

One of her concert tours took her through Europe, where she found Nazism all about her. Robert Armstrong, writing in Colliers, said that one official delicately suggested that Helen do a bit of spying for the Nazis in her own home land. These facts, and other observations convinced the star that Nazism was an evil force to be fought relentlessly. She began to throw herself into relief work and joined every anti-Nazi organization she could find. "I got into politics step by step," she recalls. "I always meant to stop. Offers kept coming from the theater and pictures, and I couldn't accept—there was always something more pressing."

Bagby Heads New C of C Directors

Ben Bagby, Huntington senior, was elected president of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce at its first meeting. Alice Ballenger, Piney View sophomore was elected vice president and Helen Frasher, Chesapeake sophomore was elected secretary and treasurer, Bagby announced.

PLANS GIVEN FOR CARNIVAL

Queen of the Spring Carnival will be chosen by popular vote this year, one ballot being given with each ticket purchased, Dick Shuck, Carnival committee chairman revealed yesterday.

Fifteen or more fraternities and independent organizations will have shows in the April 23 event, and fifteen or more candidates for royalty are expected to be entered by various organizations.

The shows will begin at eight P. M. and conclude at ten. While the booths are being knocked down, two instructors from the Arthur Murray school will demonstrate the tango and other modern dances. Guy McComas will play for dancing until 1 A. M.

Prizes from Huntington stores will be given to the queen and to the winners of jitterbug and fox-trot contests, and a trophy will be awarded by the Student Council for the best booth.

Space will be marked off for each organization and decoration and construction of booths will begin at noon Friday.

Shuck promises that the Carnival, an all-campus affair sponsored by the Student Union, will afford no dull moments.

Pi Kappa Sigma Celebrates Silver Anniversary Tonight

By LUCY ANN MCKENZIE

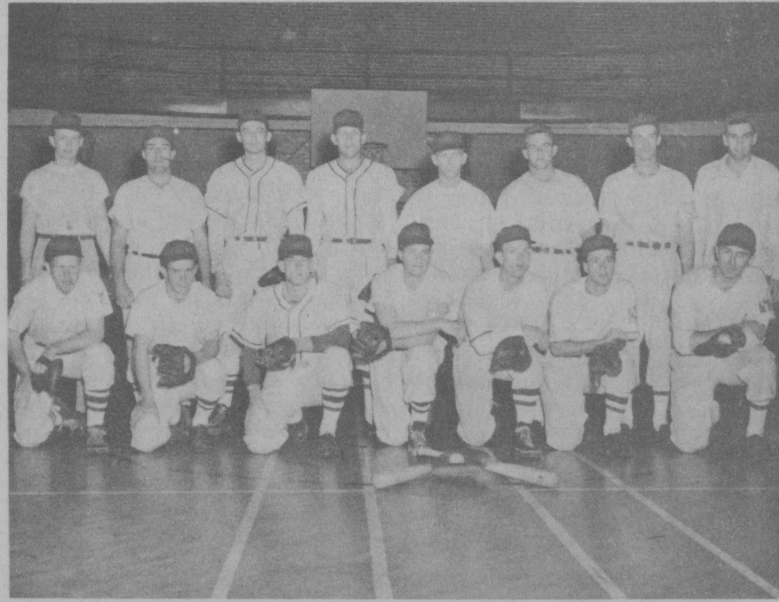

Omicron chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority will celebrate their Silver Jubilee this weekend, festivities beginning tonight with a formal dance at the Hotel Governor Cabell from 9 to 1. Music for the dance will be by Guy McComas and his orchestra. Dorothy Reddington is in charge of the dance arrangements. Chaperones for the dance are Mr. and Mrs. Kellam Prickett, Mr. John Behnke, Professor and Mrs. Juan Fors. Shirley Fries, Delores Drake, Jenera Edwards and Barbara Wells are in charge of decorations.

Tomorrow night the Huntington Alumni will sponsor an open house at the chapter house, 1344 Third Avenue from 8 to 10 P. M. Beverly Hyatt and Marilyn Knotts are working with the alumni committee.

Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 the chapter will give a faculty tea at the chapter house. Mrs. C. R. Vose, housemother, Miss Marjorie McCloud, faculty advisor and Mr. Kellam Prickett will act as chaperones. Janice Pension and Sally Grace are in charge of the tea.

MRS. CHARLIE GIBSON, grad president of Pi Kappa Sigma, will be here for the week end and guest of honor at the festivities.

THE BIG GREEN BASEBALL TEAM will begin action today when they meet the Cedarville nine.

DRAMA FESTIVAL TO OPEN TODAY

Band Dresses Up For Spring Debut

The band's new uniforms have arrived and will be worn for the first time at the spring concert, April 29, Dr. Harry E. Mueller, head of the music department, has announced.

The concert will be given during an assembly period. It was scheduled both to give the students a chance to hear the concert band and to give them a chance to see the new uniforms, Dr. Mueller said.

Big Green '9' Hosts Cedarville At Inco

By ELMER TODD

Playing host to two schools and being guests to two others, Marshall College will open their spring sports schedule with more than a resounding bang today.

The Big Green Baseball team will open this afternoon at INCO Field where they entertain the Cedarville College nine and then hopping to Richmond, Kentucky, to meet an Eastern Kentucky team tomorrow. The tennis team will make their initial home appearance tomorrow when they meet the Ohio University netters and the track team opens at Kentucky University tomorrow.

Baseball Coach Joe Binns, not being saddened by the unending rain, expressed the belief that his team was ready and that he was anxious to see how they would stack up against major competition.

Since this is the first outing for the baseballers since the war, Binns as yet doesn't know the potential power of his starters. However, to offset any disadvantage in this department he has been welding a very good defensive team.

HOLDING THE possible answer to his problems are five pitchers who have been showing great stuff lately. Bob Trowbridge, Lowell Sammons and John Jefferson, have displayed enough ability to prove they can win, and Charles Simmons and Paul Baker have been improving steadily.

Binns, plans to start either Sammons or Jefferson against Cedarville and follow up with Trowbridge against Eastern Ky.

The tennis matches are to be played at the college courts at 1:30 P. M. tomorrow will feature six single matches and three doubles. In case of rain the matches will be played at the 27th Street Courts.

Lined up for the number one spot for the tennis singles is Churchill Hodges. However, Hodges twisted his ankle several days (Continued on Page Four)

Suggestion Week Plans Completed

Plans for the first annual Marshall Student Suggestion Week were completed today and President Stewart H. Smith said that contributions would be accepted starting Monday.

Entries should be in the form of a personal letter, Dr. Smith said offering the student's suggestion for a change or addition of any nature concerning present rules, regulations, and policies in force here.

All suggestions must be signed by the student, the President said, or they will be disregarded.

Those deemed meritorious will be presented to the college administrative cabinet for further consideration. All approved suggestions will then be put into effect by the cabinet. In honor of the students making the suggestions, all changes will be written into the college rule books bearing the students names.

Deadline for suggestions, which should be addressed to President Smith, has been set for 4 P. M. postmarked, next Friday, April 16.

President Smith said that he will give each and every letter full consideration and pointed out that students need not fear retribution.

"All letters will be kept in strictest confidence," he concluded.

SAC Discusses Policy Changes

Revision of policies and standards of the Student Activity Committee, the Student Handbook, and the improvement of bookkeeping procedures were discussed Monday when the presidents and treasurers of 41 student organizations met with members of the Student Activities Committee, Dean Lester G. Brailey, chairman of the committee announced.

A committee was formed to investigate the possibility of providing educational and advisory assistance to treasurers of student organizations to help them keep their books straight. The committee is writing other schools to find out what system they are using, Dean Brailey said.

Members of the committee are Kayleen Tobin, Huntington freshman; Margaret Ann Snyder, Huntington junior, and Joan Goldston, Mount Vernon, N. Y., junior.

Morris Harvey

A mixup in playing dates for the 1948 football season recently resulted in the temporary termination of the grid series between Marshall and Morris Harvey. This is a sad occurrence since the student bodies and alumni of both institutions have long cherished this friendly and colorful rivalry.

According to word received here in Huntington, efforts will be resumed in the near future to re-establish the series with the Golden Eagles in time for the 1949 season. The sooner this is done the better most people will like it.

The only bad spot of the mix-up, due for the most part because of an unannounced verbal agreement between Coaches Henderson and King, is the manner in which the sportswriting wolves of Charleston handled the story. They wandered aimlessly from the subject and went deep into the past and—you guessed it—dug up some of those Davis and Elkins Indians that Coach Cam Henderson was associated with.

Another tack used by that not too tactful sports writing gentry was to hint at possible personal difficulties in our athletic department. Mind you, they were reporting the break between Marshall and Morris Harvey and did so by employing tangents.

As for the Indians, Mr. A. L. Hardman, we think that has been overplayed. The more you dig that one up the less bite it has. We realize fully the woes of filling a column, and we'll wager a goodly sum that you're glad Cam Henderson is still on the sporting scene because whenever something goes wrong here it gives you a chance to fill that column of yours with tales of the Haskell Indians. Incidentally, how many years did "Rat" Rogers and "Greasy" Neale play at West Virginia University?

As for the difficulties between personalities in our athletic office, they have not come out in the open as yet. What goes on behind the doors there, during hours, no one knows, Mr. Dick Hudson. But, since rumors are circulating around Charleston—perhaps a little checking is in order up there..

It's time that these little civil wars between various quarters in the state ended. Marshall and Morris Harvey had a little mixup this year, that is true, but does that mean we must all drag out baseball bats, Indians, and veiled innuendos and start beating each other over our respective skulls?

Marshall and Morris Harvey, despite the gimmicks thrown into the relationship by Charleston writers, are still on good terms. If we know President Smith, a man with much more foresight than most of the people we've been talking about, they will continue to be good—long after most of us have been returned to dust.

Cabell County's Recreation Commission is still hard at work formulating plans and ironing out details for the long awaited construction of Memorial Field House. Sticking by an earlier prediction, members of the commission continue to maintain that if it is mechanically possible the arena will be ready for the 1948-49 basketball season.

The way things stand now the commission is attempting to garner industrial guarantees for revenue. Mr. Max K. Jones, chairman, said the group must raise $30,000 each year for 10 years from Huntington industries before the bonds can be floated. If this guarantee can be made for the 10-year period, construction will begin.

A meeting of the commission will be held in about two weeks after which another statement will be issued. The members know that the entire population of Huntington is anxiously awaiting new developments and they are going to try to keep everyone posted.

When the field house becomes a reality, a new basketball era will dawn here. Its planned seating capacity of "well above 7,500" will make it possible for Marshall to meet big name teams before home floors as has been the practice for many years. With such a large capacity, the guarantees demanded by the major colleges can be met without fear of financial losses. No doubt about it, friends, the field house will be the answer to many prayers.

Several months ago, at the direction of the commission, a prominent local editor composed a brochure of the field house plans. In it are pertinent facts regarding the building as well as illustrations showing what the place will look like.

According to the brochure, the first floor plan calls for two basketball courts, each running north and south. For major games, a main court running east and west would be used. When major games are billed, roll away bleachers on the first floor would accommodate 1,650 spectators. These could be rolled back into the wall.

The balcony floor, free from all post obstructions, would have permanent seats capable of holding 5,600. Add an additional 180 folding seats in the band shell of the first floor and you reach the "more than 7,500 capacity" with ease.

Nationally Known Firms Schedule Senior Interviews

The second employment interview day for seniors graduating in June or August will be held April 15, according to Mrs. Alive Dornworth, associate professor of business administration. Interested seniors should schedule interviews in the office of the dean of men at once.

Among companies sending representatives will be National Cash Register Co., Standard Oil Co., Wilson Meat Co., and Goodrich Stores.

The first interview day was held April 6 in Dean Brailey's office, where about 50 seniors were interviewed. The companies represented were International Business Machines Corp., General Store Fixture Co., Federal Security Agency, Investors Syndicate, and Swift & Co.

Marshall Association of Retailing Students will meet next Thursday, April 15, in Main 120, at 7:15 P. M. The speaker will be Nick Carter, advertising and display manager of M. D. Angel Co.

Maitland Schwab, Catlettsburg junior, was accepted by the medical school at the University of Louisville.

A recreation program for underprivileged children in the vicinity of Marshall is being undertaken by the pledge class of Sigma Phi Epsilon, national social fraternity, it was announced by pledge president Vic Vanaman, Chester senior.

The purpose of the program is to "provide and direct a constructive form of recreation for underprivileged children," Vanaman said. Recreation periods for the children will be two and a half hours each Saturday morning, Vanaman explained, and will be directed by three pledges and two actives of the fraternity. Films will be shown in The Greenhouse, he disclosed, and the gymnasium and the swimming pool will be available to the children.

At the end of the pledge period on May 15, Vanaman said, a picnic will be held for the children.

Vanaman also announced the initiation of an old clothes drive throughout all the fraternities. He disclosed that he is making an attempt to get all the fraternities on the campus to collaborate in this effort. April 19 is the deadline for the drive and the clothes will be distributed on April 24, he added. Any organization, fraternal or independent may contribute, he said.

THE MURAL SCENE

By JOHN SHADBURN

Distracting thoughts of mid-semester examinations and Spring sports crept into our mind as we poured over a type-writer in the sports studio of The Parthenon and futilely attempted to produce a column.

Uppermost in our thinking, however, was the recollection of having recently dug out of the mural archives for the first time, the touch football all-star selections as made by Prof. "Swede" Gullickson and members of the Mural Board. The underlying factor which made the discovery such a notable one was the fact that announcement and publication of the all-star combine had been completely overlooked in previous days.

Since elsewhere in today's sports section there may be found a companion story concerning all-star basketball selections, we have decided to devote some of the space in our column to the job of making known the names of players who were adjudged to be the outstanding performers of the 1947 grid campaign.

Coveted first team berths were won by the following players: Ends — George Hontos, Screwballs, and Dink Allen, Barbourville. Center—Louis Wilcox, All-Stars. Backs—Jim Campbell, Phi Kappa Nu; John Sayre, Screwballs, and John Gatewood, All-Stars.

Named to positions on the second team were: Ends—Gil Harris, Allen Court, and Elbert Gutzwiller, Screwballs. Center — Frank Disco, Logan Indians. Backs—Tom Hamill, Phi Tau Alpha; Bill Simms, Hodges Hall, and Sam Haworth, Baptists.

In addition to the 12 gridders named to the choice representative combine, an identical number received the ranking of alternates, and 46 players were awarded honorable mention.

In summation, a total of 252 contests were played during the season involving 360 masculine participants.

Before score sheets and record books are laid away and basketball steps down from its place of prominence in intramural athletics, we would like to offer congratulations to Mural Manager George Surgeon and his assistants, Jim Van Zant, George Brackman, and Bill Carter for the efficient manner in which they conducted intramural court play during one of its greatest seasons at Marshall. The latter three men not only helped run the mural leagues but took an active part, performing with the phi Kappa Nu, Greenbrier, and Varsity M quintets respectively.

Although Surgeon did not engage in active participation, he made up for it in a measure by serving as president of the Men's Physical Education Association.

For a job well done, we'd like to say, "Thanks, boys."

All-Intramural Basketball Selections Total Fifty-Seven

By JOHN SHADBURN

Ten players were named to the All-Intramural Basketball team this week by Prof. Otto A. 'Swede' Gullickson, Intramural Director, and members of the Mural Board, following completion of the annual playoffs for the hardwood title. Fifty-seven other performers won places on the honorable mention list.

Approximately 670 men took part in this year's play which embraced six leagues and 58 teams. Out of necessity, the board decided to award 10 places on the first team rather than attempt to divide the players into two or more teams.

The following won berths on the first team: Forwards—Arch Griffith, Scattered Herd; Ronnie Hall, Phi Kappa Nu Firsts; Herb Hoskins, Lions; Summers Jarrett, Gentlemen. Centers—Bob Young, Gentlemen, and Bill Cravens, Bears. Guards—Dink Allen, Barbourville; Francis MacPherson, Green Village; James White, Barbourville; Bill Kennedy, Blue Devils. All the aforementioned players with the exception of Hoskins, Jarrett, and Young are hold-overs from last year's all-star com-

HONORABLE mention winners by flights were:

A Flight—Hamill, Phi Tau Alpha; Lapole, Lambda Chi Alpha; Ward, Sigma Phi Epsilon; White, Alpha Sigma Phi; Peraldo, Kappa Alpha.

B Flight — Fioreletta, Alpha Sigma Phi; Stone, Phi Tau Alpha; McClung, Lambda Chi Alpha; Sheppe, Kappa Alpha; McCoy, Phi Kappa Nu.

C Flight—Black, Phi Tau Alpha, Tucker, Phi Kappa Nu; Ketz, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

D Flight — Zeke Wilder, Phi Tau Alpha; Shadburn, Bombers; Thompson, Lightnings.

Track Team At Kentucky

The Big Green cindermen opens its season tomorrow when it travels to Lexington to meet the U. of Kentucky. Forming a squad from previously inexperienced players, Coach Luther Poling will be pleased with just a fair showing.

However, the all-around ability of Jack Sonneborn and Noel Duling, plus the sparkling hustle shown by Don Shuff, Dick Davis and others could turn the track men into a dangerous bunch.

Faculty Attends Annual Meeting

A total of 135 teachers, supervisors and principals of schools from 10 counties of West Virginia and Lawrence County, Ohio, attended a social study meeting held on the campus on April 2, Dean D. Banks Wilburn of the Teachers College announced.

The purpose of the meeting was to coordinate views of social study for teachers throughout the area served by Marshall, and to discuss problems of teaching as related to social studies, Dean Wilburn said.

Principal speaker of the meeting was Dr. Edgar B. Wesley, professor of education at the University of Minnesota, who was introduced to the session by President Stewart H. Smith.

Three members of the faculty, headed by Dr. A. E. Harris, chairman of the graduate council, attended the annual spring meeting of the Association of Higher Education of West Virginia held at West Virginia Wesleyan College April 2-3.

Dr. Harris was elected chairman of the Council of State Supported Colleges. This council is composed of one faculty member and one administrator from each state college and the university. The council is the policy forming agent of the state supported colleges within the association.

Faculty members accompanying Dr. Harris were Miss Virginia Foulk, associate professor of education, and Miss Frieda Starkey, instructor in English.

Engineers Change Summer Schedule

Due to a shortage of classroom space and instructors this semester, a second six weeks term will be offered by the engineering department this summer, Dr. E. S. Maclin, coordinator of engineering, announced.

The schedule for the second term is not listed in the summer bulletin but the courses to be offered are Engineering 306 and Suvering 201. This should help relieve the amount of work for next fall and allow some students who have been unable to carry a full semester load to make up the gap, Dr. Maclin said.

NO. TWO SPOT Gordon Williams; No. three, Bud Harris, No. four, Norman Ekeland, No. five, Jim Pyles, and in the number six spot will be Lou Carson.

The doubles, to be played immediately following the singles will find Hodges and Williams as the number one team, followed by Harris and Ekeland and Pyles and Templeton.

TIME OUT

"At the extreme left (of the first floor) are heating and ventilating facilities, also kitchen equipment," the brochure reveals. "Ticket booths are conveniently located near Fifth Avenue entrances. Toilets and lockers and showers on the right would be reserved for daily occupants of the field house. Private lockers could be installed in rented spaces on the mezzanine floor. Lighted marquees over Fifth Avenue entrances would give protection in bad weather and provide spaces for announcements of current or coming attractions."

Which shows that nothing is to be spared in the building of this much needed arena. It will be second to none in the country. Cabell County's Recreation Commission is to be lauded for their continued work towards the realization of this objective. They are, indeed, providing the community with a wonderful service.

Side Shots: B. P. O. Elks 313 of Huntington have invited Marshall students to participate in their weekly duplicate bridge tourneys. Experience is not necessary. Tourney nights are Friday at 8. Welcome to the high school drama festival!

Teachers Get New Courses

Teachers College will offer three new courses in its summer sessions, Dr. D. Banks Wilburn, dean of Teachers College, announced.

A new workshop for supervisors will be given from July 1 to 16 and a workshop in the teaching of reading will be offered from June 14 to June 30. A student can receive six hours credit by enrolling in the first term, Dr. Wilburn said.

Education 495, clinical practice in reading instructions, is designed to help prospective teachers to deal with students who need work in reading.

Home Economics 340, nutrition in the home and school, takes up management of the school lunch room and other problems of nutrition, Dr. Wilburn said.

Graduate Record Exam Will Be Given May 3-4

Students planning to enter graduate schools next fall should register for the Graduate Record Examination to be given May 3 and 4, Luther E. Bledsoe, registrar, announced yesterday. Registration deadline is April 15, he said.

Most graduate schools require students to take the test as part of their entrance requirements, according to the registrar.

He urged that interested students take the examination at this time since the next scheduled examination will not be until August 2nd.

CAUSE FOR AMERICAN PRIDE...

JEFFERSON'S ROUGH DRAFT OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

A Declaration by the Representatives of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA. in General Congress assembled

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's god entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, & to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles & organising its powers in such form, as to them shall appear most likely to promote their safety and happiness.

Part of the original manuscript of the Declaration of Independence, written by Thomas Jefferson. It is now on display aboard the "Freedom Train." The revisions shown were included in the document finally presented to the Continental Congress.
