University Christian Mission February Plans Completed Program Gives Youth Religious Understanding

Plans for a "Life Planning Week" February 18 to 22 were made Thursday at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the University Christian Mission, E. S. Maclin, chairman of the executive committee said.

The National University Christian Mission Committee was set up by the American Council of Churches to furnish speakers and guidance to colleges desiring to have "Christian Emphasis Weeks." Marshall is one of the 105 institutions accepted by the committee from among the 500 that applied for its services this year.

THE PROGRAM will consist of talks by nationally-known speakers, round-table discussions, classroom talks, and religious services. Speakers will be supplied by the National University Christian Mission Committee and will be free except for expenses. The college has agreed to pay part of the expenses.

The purpose of the program, according to Maclin, "is to draw in the young people and help them to acquire a clear understanding of what religion means."

PLANS FOR the "Life Planning Week" began during spring semester when representatives of various campus organizations met to discuss the project with a representative of the national organization.

All faiths will participate in the program.

Community Players Annual Scholarship Award Given To Kearns For Speech Work

Bill Kearns, Huntington senior, was awarded the eighth annual Community Players scholarship Saturday.

The award, given for all around excellence in speech and dramatics, provides tuition for one year and is presented annually during the membership drive of the Community Players.

Kearns is president of the Marshall Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics fraternity, and is also its state president. He is currently a member of the cast of the College Theatre's coming production "John Loves Mary."

Last year he appeared in "John of Lorraine" and "Antigone," and earlier he was in "Village Green" and "George Washington Slept Here."

JOHNNY LONG BRINGS COLLEGES' FAVORITE ORCHESTRA HERE

By BOB SMITH

Few of the name bands of today can claim to hold much of their popularity with the college students of America. Actually only three or four top orchestras can play more than twenty proms a year for the leading universities. Tops in college requests is Johnny Long, who brings his orchestra to Marshall's Homecoming Dance, Sat., Nov. 6. Johnny has played for the students at almost every big institution coast to coast. A graduate of Duke University, he always had directed his efforts to pleasing fellow students and has continued that practice today. This year Johnny will play for the graduation proms at the United States Military Academy, University of Alabama and other leading schools. He also plays for the Sigma Nu convention in New York.

JOHNNY'S THEME SONG "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" is a great collegiate favorite. It assures him of a happy crowd from the first downbeat and has been responsible for much of the interest that he received when first starting on the road to fame and fortune via music. He recorded the song some years ago for Decca and will do it again later this year for the Signature label.

THOUGH HE annually plays for the students at many schools, none thrills him more than his annual return to Durham, North Carolina, site of the Blue Devils' lair. No matter where he might be, or what date Duke decides to hold its prom, Johnny always manages to return and play for the graduating class. That's one of the big reasons why Johnny Long is the colleges' favorite band.

MARSHALL SOCIETY Many Teas To Follow Smokers

By CELIA SMITH

Pan-Hellenic Council's opening rush tea is attracting the attention of women eligible for sorority rushing this weekend, and the last of the fraternity smokers will be during the week. Put these with a benefit bridge tonight, and a hayride and weiner roast Saturday, and we have a really active week on tap. To commence:

Pi Kappa Alpha had its rush smoker last night at the fraternity house, 1517 Third Avenue. Speakers were Professor Juan C. Fors of the Spanish department, Professor Swede Gullickson and Assistant Coach Herb Royer of the athletic department. Dana Campbell, Tom Pritchard and Woody Withers were in charge of arrangements for the party.

Pi K. A. has six new members in its chapter here. October 2 Jim Walls, Jim VanZant and Bob Anderson, actives, and Dr. Rank O. Dawson and E. R. Patton, Charleston alumni, were initiated. Monday night John Frecka was also initiated into the fraternity.

Alpha Sigma Phi will have its smoker tonight at 8 P. M. in the Baronet Room of the Hotel Frederick. Frank Childers, vice president, is in charge of all arrangements.

Also tonight is the Pi Kappa Sigma benefit bridge in the Shawkey Student Union from 7 till 9. Pat Brothers is chairman of the arrangements committee, assisted by Pat Beatty and Romona Fotos. Featured at the event will be door prizes and a raffle, with prizes donated by the downtown department stores.

Pan-Hellenic Council will have its semi-annual rush tea Sunday, (Continued on Page Two)

Board Releases Biennium Budget Recommendations; Marshall Allotted $835,000

The State Board of Education disclosed Saturday that it is asking $835,000 for major alterations at Marshall during the next two years. This amount will come from the $8,070,450 asked by the board for all state colleges.

These figures are not final however as they are subjected to alterations by the budget director and the Board of Public Works before going to the legislature. This proposed building program would provide at least one new (Continued on Page Two)

Metropolitan Baritone Here Tomorrow

By KNOX DYE

Hugh Thompson, Metropolitan baritone, will be featured in a special assembly tomorrow at 10 A. M. in the college auditorium.

MR. THOMPSON is the son of the New York Sun's music critic, Oscar Thompson. Majoring in music at the University of Washington in Seattle, he received a five year fellowship at Julliard Graduate School, where he found no difficulty in securing leading roles in Julliard operatic productions. His work there led to engagements with the Chautauqua Opera Association, with which he has sung every summer since 1939.

In 1941 he sang the important role of Ford in the Chicago Opera Company's production of "Falstaff." The following year he joined the New Opera Company and remained with it for two years, singing leading roles on Broadway in "Pique Dame", "Fair at Sorotchinsk", "Secret of Suzanne", and scored a success in last season's production of "Helen Goes to Troy."

HE MADE his New York debut in the performance of the Bach B Minor Mass with the New York Oratorio Society in 1942. In 1943 he was a guest star with the New York City Center Opera Company (Continued on Page Four)

Library Report

Mr. Alfred M. Githen, library architect from New York City, is spending the week on the campus to observe activities and to make suggestions concerning further expansion of the James E. Morrow library.

Mr. Githen's presence on the campus is the result of Mr. Charles E. Rush's report of May, 1946 concerning the library. After listing the various deficiencies of the library, Mr. Rush suggested that the college acquire the service of Mr. Githen to improve the layout of the building.

Mr. Rush, in his report, said the building was adequate but it was poorly arranged, inadequately shelved and badly lighted.

Fifty per cent understaffed and fifty per cent understocked defects have been corrected. New books have been continually arriving. The staff has been increased seventy five per cent.

The most outstanding fault, poor arrangement, is being corrected as Mr. Rush suggested. The college has engaged Mr. Githen to survey and make the necessary recommendations to alter this existing condition.

The classrooms must be moved from the library. The arrival of Mr. Githen is punctual with the new science hall construction. The present departments now housed in the library can be moved to the Northcott Science Hall, which will be converted into class rooms. With these departments leaving, Miss Oliver, head librarian, will have the sole use of the building.

BOARD RELEASES BIENNIUM

structure for each of the colleges except Marshall, where a new science building is now under construction.

The $385,000 the board asked for Marshall includes $400,000 for equipping the science building and $435,000 for renovating and repairing the old science hall and Main Building.

In addition to the $835,000 capital outlay, the Board of Education recommended for Marshall for the coming biennium:

For personal services: $129,610 for the first year of the biennium and $1,130,000 for the second year. For current expenses: $1,000,000 for each year of the biennium; for repairs and alterations, $60,000 per year for each of the two years; for equipment, $75,000 for each of the biennium.

Women will attend as many first and second parties as they can, and two third parties. After, this, they must turn in a preference slip to the Dean of Women's office, where it will be tallied with lists received from the different sororities. Thus goes sorority rushing! Representatives from the sororities to the Pan-Helenic tea will be Sigma Sigma Sigma, Margaret Ann Snyder, Sid Justice, Marge Ferguson, Pat Luky, Sue Ruffier, Mary Jo Riggs; Pi Kappa Sigma, Mary Jenkins, Betty Rader, Phyllis Gallimore, Dorothy Reddington, Betty Ann Williams, Pat Beatty.

Delta Sigma Epsilon, Sally Rhodes, Felice Jobe, Lois Zimmerman, Barbara Barney, Pat Morris, Xylpha Whitley; Alpha Sigma Tau, Dorcas Haight, Connie Hastie, Doris Dorsey, Gaynelle Workman, Rita Copperstone, Sally Ann Robinson, Mary Alice Chandler; Theta Rho, Mackay Wallen, Helen Vincen, Flo Troutman, Audra Davis, Bobby Lou Pauley, Gayle Dick.

Alpha Sigma Alpha, Ruth Carter, Betty Jane Graves, Jo Ann Hood, Helen Clovis, Jean Wright, Wilda Rogers.

Delta Sigma Epsilon will have a hayride and weiner roast Saturday evening at Ann Stevenson's farm. Pat Morris and Ann Stevenson are in charge of the arrangements. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Lichtenstein, Mr. Philip Caplan, and Mrs. Veta Lee Smith will chaperone the outing, and Mrs. Josephine Bradey, sorority house-mother, will be a guest.

Rosemary "Sid" Justice, Charleston junior, was selected to fill the unexpired term of vice president for Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority at a recent meeting. She succeeds Teddy Milligan Moore.

Helen Lee Vincen, Mann junior, was elected to the post of treasurer for Theta Rho sorority. She is replacing Gloria Williams.

Leveria Oswald Verlander, operator of the college switchboard, wishes to thank all the students, members of the faculty and members of the administrative staff who were so thoughtful of her during her recent illness. She has returned after a four month absence as a result of a fall from a stepladder in her home.

FLYERS PROVE TOO

power as the Flyers flashed impressive ground and aerial attacks to humble the Thundering Herd in the eleventh game of a series that started in 1932.

The story of Saturday's game was very similar to that of Marshall's recent encounter with Miami University. Great reserve strength enabled the Flyer regulars to rest at brief intervals and accounted for their ability to make the most of offensive opportunities.

FOR THE FOURTH consecutive week, the game brought together teams whose coaches specialized in different offenses. It was Coach Joe Gavin's Flyers who relied on the "T" formation to wash out Marshall, while Coach Cam Henderson had hoped his single wing assortment would pay off handsomely.

SHADBURN'S SIDELINES

HAVE YOU EVER read of football players calling their own shots? Or, have you ever heard your favorite radio sports commentator tell stories about grid stars who boasted of future accomplishments and then made good their promises of outstanding performance?

Perhaps so, but just how many of you have ever experienced the same? We did this past week end at Dayton, O., and it turned out to be one of the highlights of our young sports writing career. Here's how it all happened:

It was Friday afternoon and the Big Green had just arrived in Dayton for Saturday's annual clash with the Flyers. As soon as the Thundering Herd had donned uniforms and pads, they proceeded to the practice field near the northeast corner of the stadium where they began their pre-game practice session.

THE LIMBERING-UP drills were hardly under way before spectators began lining the sides of the field to watch "Crafty Cam" Henderson put his Big Green gridders through their paces.

Among the most enthusiastic onlookers were a couple of college-age boys who seemed intensely interested in the proceedings. There was an unassuming air about the lads as they watched every bit of action.

It was only a matter of a few moments before the larger of the two approached us and asked if we were from Marshall. When we answered in the affirmative, he proceeded to inquire as to whether the boys taking part in the practice session composed the entire Marshall team. For the second time our reply was yes, and it was then that he expressed the belief that the Herd would not even score on the highly touted Flyers.

WE LAUGHED scornfully at the chap's effontery, but our laughter was soon interrupted by another boast on the part of the slightly-built lad. "Why, I wouldn't be surprised if we scored five or six touchdowns on those boys," was his comment. Believing the fellows to be no more than interested freshman observers, we didn't give the happening another thought.

We were reminded of the incident on the following day, however, when we saw the same two boys a second time. Imagine our surprise when the "interested freshman observers" trotted onto the gridiron clad in Dayton uniforms. The larger of the two was wearing number 96 and the other, number 25.

A quick glance at the day's program told us that the boys were Francis "Killer" Kilbane and Joe Zaleski respectively. Neither was listed in the starting lineup and for a few minutes our fears subsided.

STILL, ironically enough, the boastful pair did get into the game and in doing so made quite a name for themselves. It was Kilbane, a 210-pound defensive center from Cleveland, O., who time and time again came in from his secondary position to make more than his share of hard-driving tackles. Too, it was Zaleski, a 175-pound quarterback from Tiltonsville, O., who sparked numerous drives with his outstanding field generalship. Forward passing by Zaleski and pass interceptions by Kilbane also figured in the Marshall defeat.

The unusual experience proved the thrill-of-a-lifetime for us, but as far as we're concerned, we'll be content to read and hear about such hereafter.

PiKA's Are Newly Established Favorites In Mural Grid Play

By ED PIERCE

The intramural touch football league finished first-round action Thursday after having produced another tourney favorite, a tie and a couple of close contests. The Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity moved into the favorite roll by trouncing the TEP fraternity 27-0 and boosting their season total to 58 points. The PiKA's have yet to be scored on.

The Big Green Grill team bottled up the offensive of the Big Sandy Boys last Thursday to win 15-7.

THE KA fraternity and PTA teams battled to a 13-13 tie Thursday. "Lefty" Ward and Riggs scored in the first and last periods for PTA. Alexander and Dunkle each scored for KA.

Captain George Peraldo of KA fraternity became the first casualty of the league when he suffered a broken nose on a pass play in the last half.

Double-threat John Frecka and Jim Van Zant led the way for the PKA fraternity in their 27-0 romp over the TEP fraternity.

MIAMI IS WINNER, BIG GREEN SHOWS IN THREE-WAY MEET

Miami University's cross country team inaugurated the 1948 season Saturday at Oxford, O., by capturing first place honors in a triangular meet with Ball State Teachers and Marshall's Big Green harriers. Miami was runner-up in the national meet last year.

Mike Stavole, outstanding Miami distance runner, missed his own record over the three and one-half mile course by only 33 seconds but led the field by 150 yards as the Redskins scored 29 points to 30 for Ball State, another Mid-western cross country powerhouse. Marshall finished last with 74 points.

First five finishers for each team were:

Miami—Stavole, Fuller, Woznicki, Conway and Burtch. Time: 19:20.

Ball State — Hughes, Wood, Gradeless, Broman and Brown. Time: 19:54.

Marshall — Dudley, Artrip, Tomblin, Caldwell and Casto. Time: 20:43.
