MORE FRESHMEN TO LIVE IN MEN'S DORM NEXT FALL

Hodges Hall will open its doors to more freshmen than ever next fall, Dean of Men Lester Brailey announced Monday evening. Instead of giving the old residents preference as has been the rule in years past, only 60 old residents will be allowed to stay there next year, making room for 120 new freshmen.

The new policy of the administration has met with varied expressions from dorm men. However, it probably won't effect many of the present residents since approximately 60 will be graduating and others will either drop from school or be drafted.

IN MAKING this early announcement, Dean Brailey is giving the residents plenty of time to draw straws to see who returns in '49. Each dorm member has his choice of criteria as to how the remaining members should be chosen. Dean Brailey, the president of Hodges, and Mrs. Frances Burdette, hostess, will be on the committee to make the final decision as to who stays.

"Considering all angles, who needs the supervision and the social and educational guidance found in the dormitory—the upperclassmen or the 17 year old freshman?" Dean Brailey asked. "We asked ourselves that question and tried to answer it from the viewpoints of the student, his parent and the educator. Each time we got the same answer — 'the green freshman.' This line of thought has prompted us to change our policy for residence in Hodges Hall starting September, 1949," the dean of men concluded.

Student Has 'Guest' Role In Cafeteria

By JAMES KIRKPATRICK

"The added success being met in the cafeteria this year is due to the fact that we now consider students to be guests and to the better attitude of the employees," Miss Florence M. Leach, cafeteria manager and dietitian, said.

There was no comment as to what students might have been considered to be in the past.

"Our competitive buying system, under which we get price quotes from several companies before buying, has opened a road to better student satisfaction," she said.

"In keeping with our idea that a good public relations program is necessary we are offering special dinners to students this year," Miss Leach added, and gave the coming Thanksgiving "special" as an example. "It will feature either a buffet style or table service," she said.

The comptroller's office said that 1,175 meal tickets have been sold this year, with a few pay as you eat students not buying tickets.

Kamen Brings Film Of Chile To Forum

Clifford Kamen, world traveler and photographer, will present his full-length technicolor movie, "The Contrast of Chile," on the Community Forum program Tuesday, November 23 at 8:15 P. M.

Mr. Kamen became a world traveler when he was 12 years old and traveled in Egypt with his parents. Because his parents wanted him to be an artist, he attended the Academy of Fine Arts in Chicago and later went to the Chicago Art Institute. He also attended the University of California. In 1935 he was graduated from Northwestern University.

SINCE HIS trip to Egypt at the age of 12, he has been traveling continuously and has made journeys to Europe, the Mediterranean Lands, Africa, India, China, Japan, the South Seas, Latin America and most recently, to Peru and Chile.

His film, "The Contrast of Chile," was produced after extensive research with the cooperation of both the United States Government and the governments of the South American countries.

In Chile, Kamen visited areas which never before have been photographed in color. Obscure Indian tribes which are rapidly nearing extinction were sought out. In the film is described the present social structure, modern commercial opportunities and today's travel conditions.

Forum Artist Amazes Crowd By Portrayals

By KNOX DYE

A Community Forum audience was amazed Tuesday night at the versatility of Jacques Cartier, dramatist, who portrayed celebrated stars of the theatre and bits from great plays from 408 B. C. to the present.

Each scene, complete in itself, was done in colorful costumes and voice by Cartier himself.

The first scene, entitled "The Glory That Was Greece," depicted the God, Zeus and the mortal, Orestes. Next came "The Visit of the Spanish Princess" in the style of Francesco Andreini of the Gelosi Company.

CARTIER PORTRAYED the part of William Shakespeare in "The First Performance of Hamlet" then went on to play the part of Louis XVI in "Moliere Attends His Royal Patron the Sun King."

From "The Farewell Performance for Charles II" he played the part of Thomas Killingrew as Sir Fopling Flutter.

Cartier excellently portrayed parts of the brothers John Wilkes Booth in Washington on April 14, 1865 and Edwin Booth in New York on January 3, 1866.

The last skit entitled "The American Tour of Mel-Lan-Fang" told the story of "The Phoenix Goddess". In this the dramatist played the part of both the male and female roles.

Every Organization Wants Own Newspaper As Four Are Added In Past Year

Four newspapers of organizations and dormitories have appeared on the Marshall campus during the past year and another will be added next week.

"The Sigs Phinal", newspaper of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity, will appear on campus Monday, November 22. Its slogan is "For a better fraternity and for a better college." This six page paper will appear every other month with national and local fraternity news and campus news. John Lair is editor, and George Fiorletta is sports editor.

The first "Allen Coudier" was issued last month with Curtis Cunningham as its editor. The purpose of this mimeographed newspaper is to inform the residents of Allen Court of news from their student government and the college administration.

"Tri Zeta", Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity newspaper, has as its (Continued on Page Four)

'Give Us Clothes Lines Rid Us Of Rats.' Cry Donald Courters

By JAMES SHIRLEY

The old maxim of "If you can build a better mousetrap, people will beat a path to your door" was brought to light again this week as Donald Court residents voiced their chief complaint.

Lunda Griffith, mayor of the housing unit said, "Clothes lines, rats and roaches are the main problems confronting us now." "So many occupants have complained," the mayor added, "that something must be done before we are all carried away hook, line and sinker."

As for the clothes lines, Mrs. Dan Robinson remarked, "Either we get more lines or the mayor will be hanging out my laundry."

"At the present time the rats have a strong plurality but with a little cooperation we hope to regain control of our own homes," Griffith said. With the situation growing worse some of the students have been forced to use bear (Continued on Page Four) traps, shoes and other self improvised methods.

"I have invented a 'better mousetrap'," the mayor revealed. "Basically my trap is sound but the rats just don't seem to be holding up their end of the bargain."

Even with the pesky rodents, life goes on just the same. Mrs. R. D. Andre remarked, "I think it is just wonderful for the college to have facilities for students and their families."

Residents are now awaiting the decision of college officials to open a non-profit grocery store. Since the quarters were painted recently there has been considerable praise for the maintenance department. "The college is on the right track with their timely painting and their consideration for the welfare of the students here," added Byrd Finley.

Lauritz Melchior will not appear for a matinee performance here. From the day this news was released there have been continued howls of anguish from the student body. Such an uproar has been raised that President Smith and Professor Baxter were obliged to call a special assembly which was to have met yesterday to discuss the situation.

It is not our purpose at this time to criticize or praise the people responsible for the Artist Series. However, we do feel obliged to mention that Mr. Arthur Bliss Lane, a 30 year veteran of the United States Diplomatic Corps, spoke here recently and there was barely a handful of students present. Furthermore, it is extremely doubtful that there would have been any protests if he had not appeared at all.

Mr. Lane is a one-time ambassador to Poland. He saw Poland betrayed. He wrote a book on that subject which became a best-seller. Mr. Lane has been on duty in practically every country in Europe and has seen first-hand the workings of one Joseph Stalin.

In the light of all this, it would be natural to think that the leaders of tomorrow, as college people are often called, would have been at least mildly interested in what Mr. Lane had to say. Yet the auditorium was only half filled. Nearly 3,000 "future leaders" stayed at home.

Admittedly Mr. Melchior is a stellar attraction and it is not a good thing that students should be deprived of his performance. They have been very prompt to say so. Their rights have been violated. This is much like the man who can't find time to vote, but would be the first to demand his constitutional rights if the privilege were denied him.

While the Artist Series is a valuable entertainment feature of the college program, it is still a sad commentary on students when they refuse to attend an important educational lecture but feel privileged to protest if they are deprived of a program which is designed purely for cultural purposes.

At any rate, it is certain that Arthur Bliss Lane would far outclass Lauritz Melchior in the matter of preparing us to meet the problems of the world.

Protest as long and as loud as you please, but first attend the forums and earn the right to do so.

Band To Provide Jazz And Popular Tunes For Game

Marshall College's band will end its season of maneuvers for the football games with a rousing precision show Thanksgiving. For the first time this year, the band will turn to popular tunes and one jazz number.

Using "Rain" as their theme, the 48 musicians will begin the show with the forming of an umbrella while playing "I Get The Blues When It Rains" in march tempo. The usual conservative band will turn to being "hepcats" in opening the umbrella and jazzing "A Fellow With An Umbrella". Next a sun is to be formed on "Wait Till The Sun Shines Nellie." After completing the sun, the band will form a rainbow and play "Over The Rainbow."

Tomorrow the band will follow the football team to Cincinnati and will present the "Rain" show for the Xavier homecoming game.

Library Holds Portrait Of Our Oldest Student

By RAYMOND GEOUGE

A 69-year-old former dean is now a student in the graduate school of Marshall College. He is James B. Shouse, who was dean of Teachers College for a total of 11 years from 1924 to 1935, the longest service any dean has ever had here.

Mr. Shouse is auditing philosophy 321 through the courtesy of the college and the State Board of Education. He has returned to school "not to spy", he says, "but to further my own personal interests." "Besides," he added, "I like the atmosphere."

He first came here as head of the educational department in 1920, and held the first chairmanship on the old graduate council. He was retired in 1945."

Since his retirement, Mr. Shouse has worked for the Veteran's Administration as vocational adviser, taught philosophy for one semester at the University of Mississippi, and contributed a number of articles to leading educational magazines.

At the time of his retirement graduate students of Marshall had his portrait painted and had it hung in reading room of the James E. Morrow Library. He is the only person, of all those whose portraits are hung there, who is still active here.

Mr. Shouse says, "I have the greatest respect for the scholarship of the Marshall faculty."

Library hours to be observed during the Thanksgiving holidays were announced today by Miss Rosa V. Oliver, librarian. These hours are as follows:

Wed., Nov. 24, 8:30 A. M. to 9 P. M. Thurs., Nov. 25, closed Fri., Nov. 26, 8:30 A. M. to 4:30 P. M. Sat., Nov. 27, 8:30 A. M. to 1 P. M.

SHADBURN'S SIDELINES

WE ARE IN complete agreement with John R. Brown, former Marshall student journalist, now sports editor of The Huntington Advertiser, when he pens in his daily column, "The Sportscope", that in these problem days of high prices, housing shortages and the like, it does everyone good to look at the brighter side of things once in a while.

Brownie points out in this particular column on "The Lighter Side of Sports, Or, Why the Reader Goes Nuts," that this is particularly true in sports and proceeds to illustrate the point with several humorous sports anecdotes.

We'd like to follow suit today by listing a couple of our favorite sports stories, and if you're like ourselves and haven't anything better to do, spend the next few minutes reading these tales.

How's this one for a laugh?

"The record established by Head Football Coach Fielding 'Hurry-Up' Yost during the 25 years of coaching at the University of Michigan will never be equalled. His teams there from 1901 to 1905 were the greatest and most destructive in gridiron history.

Besides being a genius as a coach, 'Hurry-Up' Yost was a master at dressing room oratory. His fiery words often inspired his players to perform heroic deeds.

On one occasion during a famous half-time address, 'Hurry-Up' pulled out all the stops in a fervent plea for victory. The players sat in the dressing room completely entranced. Yost reached the final grand climax of oration.

'Go out that door,' he screamed, 'go out that door to victory!'

So carried away was he, that Yost pointed to the wrong door.

Officials: Jake Schultz, referee; Jim Geverts, umpire; Lou Hoferer, head linesman, and John Durkin, field judge.

Time of game: 2:30 P. M. (EST). Place: Xavier University Stadium, Cincinnati.

His obedient players, stirred by emotion and blinded by tears of rage, jumped up as their coach finished, and with an animal roar, stampeded furiously through the door indicated—and into the swimming pool. Some of the players were almost drowned before they were fished out."

Post Scripts: While voicing agreement with the views of fellow sports scribblers, we cannot help commenting favorably on a recent bit of philosophical writing by Lou Smith, head man on the sports desk of the Cincinnati Enquirer. Lou writes:

"Did you ever notice the incongruity in football? During the season, the players are heroes. The coach is criticized when the team loses. The fans, many of them at least, make nuisances of themselves in the stands on Saturdays and in conversation the rest of the week. Game officials are called all kinds of names for what some believe are misinterpretations of the rules—or just plain misses. Then all the rest of the year the so-called "tramp athletes" are blamed for all of football's ills."

Herd Invades 'Queen City' For XU Homecoming Game

By JOHN HENRY SHADBURN

Xavier University's mildly successful Musketeers and Marshall's oft trampled Thundering Herd will lock horns tomorrow in what promises to be one of the outstanding grid duels of the 1948 season. The contest, a homecoming affair for the Muskies, will be staged at the Xavier University Stadium in Cincinnati. Proceedings are scheduled to get under way at 2:30 P.M.

Coach Ed Kluska's Musketeers, smarting from three successive defeats at the hands of Dayton's Flyers, the Quantico Marines and John Carroll's Blue Streaks, are indeed victory-hungry and would like nothing better than to get back into the win column at the expense of Coach Cam Henderson's Big Green gridders. Marshall's record of one win and seven losses speaks for itself.

MARSHAL - XAVIER football relations were inaugurated in 1926 with the Muskies copping the initial encounter, 20-6. Of the remaining contests in the six-game series to date, the Big Green has been able to win two while losing three. Marshall's last victory over Xavier was registered in 1940 when the Hendersonmen turned the trick by the score of 41-0.

Xavier's current outfit boasts a formidable array of talent. Average weight of the 1948 grid machine is 190.2 pounds. Total weight for the 38-man squad is 7,280 pounds or 3.6 tons. Corresponding Marshall figures show that the Big Green line averages 179 pounds and the backfield, 182 pounds. The Marshall team average is 180 pounds.

The Musketeers are sparked offensively and defensively by their able co-captains, Fullback Bob Conway and Quarterback Bob McQuade. The Big Green continues to be paced by the line play of Co-Captain Claude Miller and the fleet footwork of backs Chasey

Wilson, Bob Hartley and Dave "Red" Evans. Tomorrow's game will decide which is the stronger.

COACH HENDERSON put his 25-man squad through its final home drill yesterday afternoon before departing via chartered bus for the "Queen City." While in Cincinnati, the Herd will make its headquarters at the Hotel Sinton.

Meanwhile, Coach Swede Gullickson and a six-man Big Green harrier squad departed this morning in private cars for Pittsburgh where the Marshall runners will take part in the Allegheny Mountain Association's AAU senior cross country meet tomorrow at Schenley Park. Starting time will be 11 A. M.

Members of the team making the trip include Captain Bill Dudley, James Artrip, Jim Byrd, Dave Caldwell, Bob Keyes, Fred Tomblin and Manager Tom Edmundson. The Marshall harriers will be quartered at the Hotel Henry during their stay in the "Smoky City."

MURAL MANAGERS TO MEET

Representatives and captains of basketball teams entering intramural competition this season must be present for a meeting Monday at 3 P. M. in the little gym.

Failure on the part of team managers to attend this important hardwood planning session may result in disqualification for their entries, Gullickson added.

GREEN GRILL GOES AGAINST VARSITY M IN PIGSKIN FINALE

By LEONARD CAMPBELL

The Big Green Grill was to furnish the opposition for Varsity M in the intramural touch football playoff final yesterday on the mural field. The Grill boys won a thrilling 13-7 decision over Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity Wednesday when Nunley Powell made a circus catch of a touchdown pass in the third period to establish a game-winning margin.

A pass from John Monnig to "Bunk" Hatfield gave the winners an early 7-0 lead. The PKA's tied the count when John Frecka intercepted a pass and ran the length of the field to score. This set the stage for Powell's great play on a pass from Johnny Gatewood.

AMIDST THREE PKA pass defenders he leaped high and speared the ball to set the stage for his teams' hard fought victory. The strong defense of the winners proved too much for the fraternity men. Rex Sparks' play continually bottled up the PKA speedy backs.

Varsity M, heavy tournament favorites, roared to a 41-0 victory over hapless Alpha Sigma Phi. The hard blocking of the Varsity M line paved the way for the overwhelming score. Robert Callihan and Jason Riggins led the scoring parade with two touchdowns each. A little extra excitement was added to this game when the Alpha Sigma Phi disputed a touchdown scored by the Varsity M.

Big Green Grill entered the semi-finals by defeating the defending champion Hodges Hall Screwballs by a score of 6-0.

The leave policy allows unbroken subsistence payments to all student-veterans. Under the plan, a veteran receives payment for the full enrollment period certified to VA by the college he attends, providing there are no more than 15 days between terms.

Time spent on leave—between terms and at the end of the school year—is charged against the veteran's educational entitlement.
