Fishbein Will Speak At Forum Tuesday

By KNOX DYE

Dr. Morris Fishbein, author, lecturer and editor of the "Journal of the American Medical Association" will be presented on the Community Forum Tuesday, December 14 at 8 P. M. in the college auditorium.

Dr. Fishbein has always been a strong and voluble opponent of "socialized medicine" in any form. When the American Medical Association's Committee on the cost of medical care drew up a set of principles for medical care in 1937 beginning with the proposition that "the health of the people is a direct concern of the government," Dr. Fishbein was one of the leading A. M. A. members who "rejected it with enthusiastic unanimity" and was in the forefront of the movement which led to the ousting of the committee.

He received his B. S. degree from the University of Chicago in 1910 and his M. D. from Rush Medical College in 1912. Since 1912 he has been editor of the "Journal of The American Medical Association," "Hygeia" and the "Bulletin of The Society of Medical History of Chicago."

For many years Dr. Fishbein has contributed articles to medical and popular magazines, pointing out the evils which he believes inherent in an system of dispersive medical care other than that by which the average American doctor practices.

He is the author of 15 books, one of which, "Medical Adviser," sold over a million copies. He writes 15,000 words a week and reads 3,000 manuscripts submitted annually. Daily he scans 30 to 40 medical magazines.

Dr. Fishbein's solution to the problem of the people in this country who cannot afford medical care is the exercise of a little common sense economy by the average man and the support of hospitals from the motive "which makes the care of the sick a high moral objective."

Vet's Waiting Lists Shorter As Housing Is Available

Housing for veterans is definitely on the up this year according to Dean of Men Lester Bralley. Last year at this same time there were approximately sixty families on the waiting list for veteran's housing and they could expect to wait four or five months before being placed. Now there are twenty-two families on the waiting list, which includes students who will want housing for the summer term only, second semester only, and those students wanting larger units due to increases in families. At present there are two vacancies suitable for a couple with no children at Donald and Allen Courts.

Bryan Named To Board By Mademoiselle

By CELIA SMITH

Margaret Bryan, South Charleston sophomore, has been named to Mademoiselle magazine's College Board for 1949. Entrants in the contest for these positions wrote a trial report on any phase of college life on their respective campuses, and Margaret chose to tell about the cultural program at Marshall, including the Artist Series, Community Forums, and assemblies.

Just a month after sending in her entry, Margaret received a letter informing her of her appointment to the board. Members of this College Board will now be sent three assignments, due at different specified dates, and prizes will be awarded for outstanding entries. The 20 women doing the best work on all three of their assignments will win trips to New York, with pay as guest editors of the August Mademoiselle issue.

Margaret is a member of Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority, secretary of Lambda Delta freshman women's honorary, and society editor for the Wednesday Parthenon.

Sig Eps To Have Christmas Party

A Christmas party for underprivileged children of Huntington will be presented Saturday, December 11, in The Greenhouse, under sponsorship of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, it was announced last week by Hubert Neely, Mullens sophomore, chairman of the committee on arrangements. He also said that the party is tentatively scheduled for 9:30 A. M.

This party is one of the projects of the Sig Ep pledge class, and offers the underprivileged children an opportunity for recreation and entertainment each Saturday morning.

REGISTRATION SET FOR JUNIORS FROM DEC. 13 THROUGH 17

Advance registration of juniors will begin Monday, December 13 and continue through Friday, December 17. Juniors may start pick-up their registration books, schedule of courses, and instructions for registering today at the registrar's office, Luther E. Bledsoe, registrar, announced this week.

Today is the last day of advance registration for seniors. Those seniors who have not registered previous to 4 o'clock this afternoon must wait until February 2 to do so, Mr. Bledsoe added.

Registration of juniors will follow the same procedure as did the registration of seniors, Mr. Bledsoe continued.

Registration will be in the Greenhouse during the hours of 9 A. M. to 12 Noon and 1 P. M. to 4 P. M. daily. At the registrar's office when the student picks up registering materials, his name will be checked to see if he has the prescribed number of semester hours to be a junior and his name will be checked off the list. At the Greenhouse, his class schedule will be checked, and if he is registering during a class period the student forfeits his right to register until February 2, Mr. Bledsoe continued.

Veterans will complete their registration in the Greenhouse. Non-Veterans will take the Treasurer's card to the Finance office to pay their fees, he concluded.

NOTICE

The attention of all sophomores of the College of Arts and Sciences is called to the following statement which appears in the current bulletin of the college: "Students who have completed two years of work with a quality point average of less than 1.0 may not take courses in advance of the 200 series."

This is interpreted to mean that any student who passes his fifty-eighth hour of credit during the present semester must have an academic average of C. to register for courses beyond the 200 level. Faculty advisors and heads of departments are being supplied with the names of all students who will not be eligible for courses in the 300-400 series and the students will be denied admittance.

J. F. Bartlett
Dean, College of Arts and Sciences

urday morning.

The children will be given gifts of candy, fruit and other delicacies. Clothing contributed to Sigma Phi Epsilon by generous Huntington citizens will be distributed to the needy children and movies will be shown by "Santa Claus," Neely said.

CHARGES AGAINST COURTMEN DECLARED IMPROPERLY MADE

By JOHN HENRY SHADBURN

"After careful study, we find that here is no official protest," Dr. Stewart H. Smith said yesterday in reply to charges that three Marshall basketball players are ineligible.

Dr. Smith referred to the WVIC constitution which specifies that protests must be lodged with the conference immediately after the alleged offense and a copy of the charges sent to the college concerned. Dr. Smith deplored the bad publicity that has been circulated throughout the state because of the release of advance information to various newspapers before the actual filing of the claim.

A protest against further use of Gene James, Norman Willey and Jim Bakalis was presented earlier this week at the regular meeting of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference in Charleston. The protest had been mailed early this month by Morris Harvey Coach Eddie King to Jasper Colebank of Fairmont State, head of the conference eligibility committee.

THE PROTEST hinges on the trio's alleged appearance in an independent basketball tournament at St. Albans last year, a violation of a conference rule.

DEFENDING Marshall's position in the matter, Dr. Smith offered reassurance that this institution would continue its membership in the conference despite the fact that in recent years it has been a member in name only.

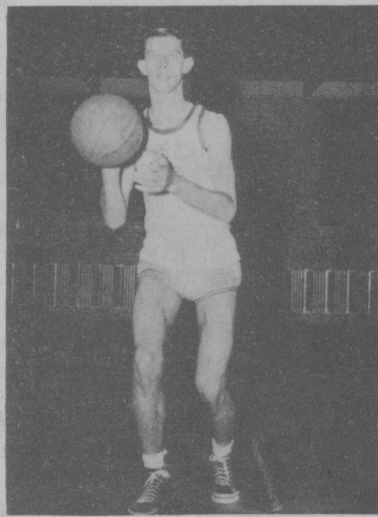

Upon learning of the protest, Dr. Smith said he would like to "counter-protest." "I can assure this conference," Dr. Smith said, "that it is the intention of Marshall College to abide by the rules of this conference."

"I do know that we are honestly maintaining eligibility," the president asserted, "and I will put it up against the eligibility you (other conference members) are maintaining."

The rule under which King has claimed James, Willey and Bakalis ineligible was adopted several years ago with the intention of being rigidly enforced. It prohibits conference players from taking part in independent tournaments but does not prevent them from participating in alumni contests.

IN THE MEANTIME, Coach Henderson and his Big Green cagers turned to the task of preparing for tomorrow night's invasion of Radio Center by Emporia, Kan., State Teachers College. The proceedings are scheduled to get under way at 8

Clinic Treats 500 Ailments Each Term

An average of 500 colds and other minor ailments are treated at the Marshall clinic each semester, according to Dr. Thomas B. Baer, one of the two college physicians.

"Usually," he said, "the greatest number of colds show up at the beginning of cold weather, but this year we reached the peak at the beginning of the semester. We are still treating around 125 students a month," he added.

To the question of what the clinic was prepared to take care of in the way of illnesses, Dr. Baer said, "We are able to take care of and treat all the things which any physician could in his own office."

Our largest group of patients are from the physical education classes—they report mostly cuts, bruises, burns and occasionally broken bones.

"No. We don't expect any epidemics here, but if we should have one, I believe that we could handle it as well as anyone. We have ample provision for hospital beds.

"We in the clinic have only one complaint: that is, students report to us for treatment, but won't follow our instructions. Then they blame us if they have trouble later on," he concluded.

Bartlett Says Waiting Is Not Official Ruling

By GENE BRAKE

There is no official college rule that says a class should wait 10 minutes for a late instructor and 15 minutes for a late professor, Dr. J. Frank Bartlett, dean of the college of arts and sciences, said this week.

"That is not a rule but a tradition that has been in existence since, I would say the year one," Dean Bartlett said.

THE COLLEGE has never taken an official stand on the matter, some other points.

Dean Bartlett said. Speaking personally he said he thought students should wait a reasonable time — and fifteen minutes is probably a reasonable enough time under ordinary circumstances.

"If the students know definitely their instructor will be there, they should wait longer," he said. "If they are certain he will not be there, there is no use for them to wait at all."

Dean Bartlett also explained

Committees

In view of recent comments
some students have made concerning the inadequacy of the present hospitalization plan, their inability to attend matinee performances of the artist series, and the advisability of setting up a "gripes committee," we feel that the student body as a whole should be reminded that Marshall College is more democratic in many more ways than is generally realized.

Students are actively serving on eight different committees, along with various members of the administration, which determine many important policies. Currently students serve on the Commencement, Student Personnel, Student Union Corporation, Fire Hazards, Community Chest, Cafeteria, and Public Relations committees and the Athletic Advisory Board. Two students will be appointed to the Artist Series committee shortly.

Representation on nine different committees and through a strong student council makes it possible for students to present their cases adequately, in our opinion. Obviously, these facilities should be used as effectively
as possible because only the student stands to lose.

As long as these privileges are not abused and are used efficiently, the students can expect to have an increasingly active part in the administrative activities which govern the college as a whole.

Maclin Says Night
School Growing

"Night school is now larger and better equipped than ever before and plans are being made to enlarge even further," Edward S.
Maclin, head of the evening program announced. Mr. Maclin said
"There are many people in this area that do not have the time to continue their studies after work, but many classes have been moved into the plants and offices during working hours so more people will have the chance to profit by the advantages of education." At the present there are over 450 students enrolled in night school and hopes are even greater for a larger and better evening program
next semester.

CHRISTMAS FORMALS HEADING
PRE-HOLIDAY ACTIVITIES

By MARY JENKINS

Only fifteen more days until Christmas and everyone is getting that old feeling we call the "Christmas Spirit"! Dances and parties (and there are plenty of them) are the center of attention and add to the excitement of the coming holidays.

Pi Kappa Sigma sorority will have its annual "Snow Ball" at Camden Park in the Cabaret Room
tonight from 9 to 1 with Guy Mc-Comas and his orchestra. Decorations will be based on the yule season with Christmas trees.

Each sorority on campus has entered a candidate from whom a "Snow Queen" will be selected and Dean Lillian H. Buskirk will crown her at intermission. The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Barbara Wells and Phyllis Gallimore. Chaperones are Chester E. Ball, James R. Taylor and Joseph M. Lichtenstein.

Guests are Dean Burkirk and Miss Mildred Heller.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON fraternity will celebrate its first anniversary on campus with a formal "Anniversary Ball" tonight at Hotel Frederick from 9 to 1 with Howard Jennings and his orchestra. The committee of arrangements consists of Joe Auciello, James Reedy, Ted Peters,
Bob Branham and Nick Kuskstel.
Chaperones are Charles Scrivner
and Frank White.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI fraternity
will have its formal "Evergreen Ball" tomorrow night from 9 to 1
at the Spring Valley Country Club with Guy McComas and his orchestra. Chaperones are Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Green, Mr. and Mrs.
Gary Bobbitt and Dr. and Mrs.
Conley H. Dillon.

CLASSICAL GROUP
TO GIVE YULE PARTY

The Classical Association will hold their Christmas Party December 14, at 3 P. M. in room 319
in Old Main, according to Dr.
Lucy Whitsel, faculty advisor.
Ann Blethen, Huntington senior,
is in charge of the program which will be a skit representing how the Romans spent their "Saturnalia" period, very similar to our Christmas season. At the party, the pledges of the association will become active members.

BIBLE SAVANT WILL SPEAK TO STUDENTS

Doctor James B. Prichard, Professor of Old Testament and Literature at Crozer Theological Seminary at Chester, Pa., will visit the campus January 10, 1949 to interview students that are interested in theology and those who are studying to become ministers.

Those who wish to make appointments may do so by contacting either Dr. Jennings or the dean of men.

SHADBURN'S SIDELINES

THOUGH FOOTBALL has faded from the local sports picture with the opening of the 1948-49 basketball season, we were reminded this week of the past grid campaign by Co-Captain Chuck Feildson of the Big Green who asked for an opportunity to say another good word in behalf of Coach Cam Henderson and his Marshall gridders before the football books are closed for the last time this year.

Since much unfavorable comment on the 1948 football team, both verbal and written, has been circulated about the campus in recent days, Feildson was desirous of a chance to show that much credit was due Coach Henderson and his charges.

Putting his feeling into writing, the co-captain handed us a note which he claimed expressed the sentiments of all members of the Varsity M Club of which he is vice-president. It is because our sympathy in such a matter rests with the team that we have agreed to print certain excerpts that show Feildson's stand as well as that of the Varsity M.

"It has been said," Chuck writes, "that Coach Henderson's methods and systems of football are out of date. In that case Michigan, Harvard, North Carolina, SMU, and Pennsylvania just to mention a few, are also out of date. Basically, they are all alike. The main thing to make a system go in football is the material on hand.

"Much has been written about the coaching staff not getting along with the boys. This is definitely not true. Some individuals get just what they want. That is, a nice safe place in the grandstand. Coach Henderson would like to have more men on the football squad, but at the same time he wants men who want to play.

"Here is where we have our greatest difficulties. There are certain things that have to be considered that limit our squad. You can't have football teams with peanuts. It takes more stable stuff. We just don't have the facilities. Of course, we have ways of taking care of a few more if they want to try. Our football squad is not a limited organization.

"As far as I am concerned, the 'Old Man' is tops. I am not alone in my thinking, since I am writing this for the Varsity M Club. To us he is the greatest coach in the

VM Sharpshooters Still Undefeated

By LEONARD CAMPBELL

The Kanawha County Kids spoiled the Parthenon Bombers initial appearance of the season in intramural basketball play by thrashing the Bombers, 53-19. The Bombers, playing without substitutes, tired in the last half and KKK rolled up the big margin.

Campbell, tall center for the Kids, scored 29 points. Shadburn and Buchanan, with six points each, were high for the newspaper men.

THE VARSITY M Flutters scored the most decisive victory of the season by swamping The Horrible Handful, 57-9. L. Gibson and Roberts fluttered around the court to score 17 and 16 points respectively.

The Varsity M Studs kept pace with their "Fluttering Brothers," defeating the Flying Disks, 47-22. Hartley ripped the net with 20 points for the winners. Taylor was high for the losers with nine counters.

THE GHOULS snowed Hodges Hall Sports under by a score of 60-22. Crouch caged 22 markers to lead the Ghouls in their victory. Black with six points was high man for the dormitory lads.

The Deacons overtook and defeated the Schmoos, 43-33. Brookover's 15 points were high for the Deacons. L. Johnson tossed in 12 counters for the Schmoos.

PRE-MED MEETING

A meeting of all Pre-medical, Pre-dental, and Pre-veterinary students has been called for Tues., Dec. 15, at 10:00 A. M. in the auditorium. This includes freshmen, sophomores and juniors. Seniors are welcome. Matters of utmost concern will be discussed, one of which is the Selective Service Deferralment Program. Any student who is unable to attend this meeting should contact Dr. Edeburn, Pre-medical advisor, sometime before the Christmas recess.

'Justice' Deadline Extended A Week Russell B. Smith Added To Faculty

The subscription drive for Your 1949 Chief Justice has been extended to December 18 according to John Lair, Managing Editor. Any student who purchases a book by that date will receive a 50 cent reduction in price of the book. Any student can reserve a yearbook by paying $1 as a deposit and the balance of $2 when the book comes out next May. Subscriptions may be purchased from the office of Your Chief Justice, the deans of men and women, Hendershot-Ostoski Studios and any member of the C J Staff, Lair added.

Dr. Russell B. Smith, head of the department of education at Albright College in Pennsylvania, has received the approval of the State Board of Education for the appointment to the Marshall College faculty, President Stewart H. Smith said Wednesday. An increase in college dormitory rentals was also approved, President Smith continued, because the current rental rates for the dormitories do not provide sufficient revenue to cover the salaries of hostess and maids or the costs of maintenance.
