MARSHALL COLLEGE STUDENT NEWSPAPER

1837 — CENTENNIAL VOLUME — 1937

THE Homecoming celebration needs the support of every student. Build a float, decorate your house, do anything to make it the biggest and best in years.

Homecoming Celebrations Are Arranged

Women May Enter Race For Queen

Changes Made in Method of Selecting Queen, Typical Frosh

Changes were made by the Student council last night in the method used to select the beauty queen and typical freshman who will participate in the Victory Ball to be held on Thanksgiving at Vanity Fair.

Women who wish to enter the race for beauty queen may do so by submitting their name to the election board which will convene for that purpose at a date to be decided later. The women will then be voted on by the classes, and one candidate from each class nominated. No petitions will be required, Student president Larry Tippet said.

Freshman Select

Freshman men will be the sole judges in selecting a typical man to represent their class, the council decided. In this way the council expects to eliminate the vote of women who, they believe, are inclined to vote for the "cutest" man instead of the most typical. The selection will be made Thursday, November 19.

Tippet was appointed last night to fill the vacancy on the social activities board created by the resignation of Duncan Sturm. Another change in the board was made when Nathan Anderson was appointed to a vacancy made by the resignation of William Stevens.

Post Left Vacant

The council discussed the advisability of filling two vacant posts in the group. The last resignation received was that of Claude Berger, sophomore. Bill Durrett made the motion not to hold an election to fill the vacant positions, and it was seconded by Rae Poteet, and passed. The first resignation received was from Marie Kessel, sophomore.

Tippet gave an account of the convention held in Fairmont last week by the West Virginia Federation of Students. He commended the Federation for the work it is doing and urged council members who will be in school next year to take an interest in the organization.

25 Attend Meet

Seven colleges in the state sent about 25 representatives to the meeting, Tippet said. The meeting will be held in Salem next year.

Tippet informed council members that a wooden paddle had been presented to the council by the Mutual Life Insurance company of Columbus. It is suspended from the wall in the Student Union building and will bear a plaque with the name of each typical freshman who is elected from the freshman class.

Classes Dismissed For Convention

President James E. Allen announced yesterday that classes will be dismissed at noon Thursday of next week in order to allow the faculty to participate in the activities of the State Education association convention to be held here at that time.

Classes will not be dismissed for the game today unless a special agreement is made between professor and student.

Chapel Speaker

DR. C. S. BOUCHER, president of West Virginia university, will address the special assembly at 10:00 o'clock Thursday morning.

Boucher Will Be Speaker

President of W. Va. University to Address Special Assembly Thursday

Dr. C. S. Boucher, president of West Virginia university, will be the guest speaker on the assembly program Thursday at 10:00 o'clock. Dr. Boucher's topic has not been announced.

The regular Wednesday morning assembly has been changed to Thursday at 10:00 o'clock in order to accommodate Dr. Boucher, who will arrive Thursday for the S.E.A. convention.

To make up the classes regularly meeting at 10:00 o'clock on Thursday, these classes will meet on Wednesday at 10:00 o'clock.

Fraternity Donates New Victory Gong

Dr. Greenleaf to Accept Gift of Phi Kappa Nu Fraternity This Afternoon

Coming as a complete surprise to undergraduates who had long ago despaired of the replacement of the Victory Gong, the Phi Kappa Nu fraternity announced last night that a new gong has been procured and that it will be presented to the school this afternoon at appropriate ceremonies.

Dr. William E. Greenleaf, dean of the arts college, will accept the gong at 2:00 o'clock in behalf of the college. George Hopkins, vice-president of the fraternity, will make the presentation. The ceremony will take place at the frame where the gong will be hung, beside the walk between College hall and the gymnasium.

Tradition Dead Since 1934

The tradition of the Victory Gong, a dead one since the original gong was stolen two years ago, was inaugurated in the fall of 1933 by the Varsity M club. The plan was that the gong would be rung when teams representing Marshall were victorious in athletic contests. For one year the idea was carried out successfully. In 1934 the gong mysteriously disappeared on the eve of the Thanksgiving Day game. Since then numerous efforts have been made to secure a second gong but none have been successful.

Rung By Lever

The new Victory Gong, unlike the first, is a circular affair, measuring 15 inches in diameter. It is sounded by an attached spring lever.

NO PAPER TUESDAY

In preparation for the special Homecoming edition on Saturday, November 14, the Parthenon will omit the edition originally scheduled for next Tuesday.

The Homecoming edition will be distributed at the Homecoming game with Miami, at sorority and fraternity houses, dormitories, and in the downtown district.

Leads Singers

N. N. KEDROFF, founder and leader of the Kedroff Russian Quartet which will sing here Thursday evening on the second of the Centennial Artists programs.

Pre-Meds Join Council

Epsilon Delta Accepts Bid to Inter-Fraternity Membership

A sixth member was added to the roster of the Inter-Fraternity council Tuesday when Epsilon Delta, honorary pre-medical fraternity voted to accept the council's bid to membership in the organization.

Up to the present time, Epsilon Delta has pledged men who were members of social fraternities, but under the council's constitution, the pre-med group will no longer be permitted to continue this practice. In the future, Epsilon Delta will abide by the council constitution and by-laws, although it will not attempt to become a social fraternity.

Last Monday night, representatives of Epsilon Delta visited the various fraternity meetings, and asked for cooperation in a move to establish the honor system here.

Elaborate Plans Made By Council

Legislators Increase Number of Homecoming Day Activities

Realizing the opportunity of staging the greatest Homecoming Day celebration in the college's history, the Student council last night mapped out its activities and appointed committees that will begin work immediately to make this year's observance a success.

Gaily decorated floats, a campus displaying welcoming signs, parades with the band blaring, good-will songs, and a general show of enthusiasm and spirit by the entire college is the ultimate aim of the council.

Requests Issued

Councilman Elias Shelansky reported that all campus organizations have received a personal request to enter the float contest. All fraternities and sororities, he said, are enthusiastic about the celebration and plan to enter floats.

"We want all organizations on the campus, including clubs, to enter the float parade if possible," Shelansky said. "It will be one of our best ways to add color to the festival."

Parade Planned

Student president Larry Tippet told the council that he will try to procure the band for a parade through the downtown section, with all the floats driving behind. This will be staged Saturday morning before the game. Another feature of that day will be a costume parade by the men of the freshman class. They will trail through the streets carrying signs and giving the customary college yells. A prize will be awarded the man with the most original costume and sign.

The Student council will take an active part in decorating the campus, and Tippet requests that any organization desiring to take part in this activity, or having suggestions to offer, make them known at once.

Another feature of Homecoming Day will be a smoker-thuse to be held in the Student Union building the night preceding the Miami-Marshall game. Talks by Head Coach Cam Henderson, the football players, and other campus figures will be featured. A complete program of entertainment will be arranged later.

Committees Appointed

The committee appointed last night to work on campus decorations consists of Bill Durrett, Emily Raies, Rae Poteet, Jack Bates, Albert Hull, Tippet, and Shelansky. Any surplus derived from tonight's council dance will be spent for decorations, Tippet said.

Thousands of people are expected to visit the campus during the Homecoming celebration period. Alumni, friends of the college, and educators from all over the state will be here at that time.

After the game Saturday, the Alumni association will give a Homecoming dance at Vanity Fair that night. Jess Hawkins and his orchestra will be featured. The Alumni association is in complete charge of the dance, and is arranging it to accommodate the large crowd that is expected here.

Prizes Offered

Three silver loving cups will be awarded to winners in the float and house decorating contest. The organization sponsoring the best float will get one cup, and one sor-

Delegates Will Attend Conference

Scholar

DR. Y. G. CHEN, president of the University of Nanking, China, will be the featured speaker at the Ohio Valley Regional conference of the International Relations clubs.

Internationally Known Speakers to Address Relations Club Meeting

Tord Malmquist, Sarah Brobeck, and Orville Cobb, will represent Marshall at the annual regional conference of the Ohio Valley International Relations clubs to be held at Kentucky State Teachers college, Richmond, Ky., on November 13 and 14.

Dr. C. Douglas Booth, an internationally known speaker, and Dr. Chen Yu-Gwan, for the last nine years president of the University of Nanking, will be the principal speakers at the conference.

Since 1933, Dr. Booth has spent some months each year in the United States, where in addition to the study of economic and political problems here, he has visited some 200 International Relations clubs in colleges and universities in all parts of the United States. Dr. Booth's subject at the Conference is "Great Britain's Foreign Policy in the Light of the Present International Crisis."

Dr. Chen was graduated from the University of Nanking, after which

Record-Breaking Audiences Acclaim Theatre's Production

By HENRY G. KING

Showing last week-end before audiences which broke all attendance figures for the past two and a half years College Theatre's first production of the season, "Accent On Youth", matched its financial success with performances which brought enthusiastic applause from its patrons.

Prof. Buell Whitehill directed the group in Samuel Raphaelson's fast-moving comedy centered about the love of a young secretary for her 50-year old playwright employer. Louise Hart and Eph Jacobs were co-starred in the leading roles.

Miss Hart and Jacobs upheld their parts with sincerity and stability. Miss Hart was well suited for her role, repeating the same type of sophisticated performance that won praise for her last season in "Holiday". However, she was disappointingly unconvincing in her love-making, and such scenes suffered accordingly.

Jacobs gave a vivid portrayal, speaking his lines skillfully, demonstrating surety in his actions, and giving his role a dignity that placed it far above any other offered. He continues to be the Theatre's outstanding star.

Lovell Higgins, appearing for the first time in a College Theatre show, had a decided handicap imposed upon him in that he could not fill the "physical culture magazine" qualifications ascribed to him by the script. However, he responded well to coaching and saved the part from total loss. It was unfortunate that his debut found him miscast as the juvenile lead. His acting indicated that he can perform to better advantage in some other type of role.

Kenneth McCallister as Flogdell, the butler, gave the part little more than his own personal charm. Maxine Mariani lifted the minor role of Genevieve Lang from the rank of mediocrity with sheer talent. This year or next should see her in starring roles.

Others who completed the cast were Lila Ruby Dunfee, Fred Cody, Henry White, and Robert Hastings.

The set, designed and created by Jack Steelman, was a compliment to the resources with which he was provided.

ority and one fraternity a cup. Last year Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority and Phi Tau Alpha fraternity won the cups for the best houses and Kappa Alpha fraternity for the best float.

If an organization wins the cup three consecutive times it gains permanent possession of the trophy. Judges for the contest will probably be appointed early next week, Tipsett said.

Lucky for You

—It's a Light Smoke!

Guard that throat!

Block that cough...that raw irritation...reach for a light smoke...a Lucky! Whether you're shouting, and cheering the team, or just talking and singing and laughing at home, there's a tax on your throat you can hardly ignore. So when choosing your smoke, it pays to think twice. Reach for a light smoke...a Lucky...and get the welcome throat protection that only Luckies offer—the exclusive protection of the process, "It's Toasted." Next time you go places, take plenty of Luckies. They not only taste good, but keep tasting good all day long...for Luckies are a light smoke—and a light smoke leaves a clear throat—a clean taste.

Good Prospects

Instead of suffering the bitterness of a financial flop with the sweetness of an artistic success as has so often proved to be the case in the past few years, College Theatre opened its current season last week-end with a production which actually cleared the expenses of royalties, set, tickets, and incidentals.

The two audiences which attended the plays brought back memories of the packed houses which cheered and whistled for the stars of yesterday. It was then that the Theatre took full advantage of its success, financially and artistically and staged plays which in set and scenery, would not have been possible had the revenue been less. The result was an extended period of "hits" which packed the crowds into the auditorium.

Without the reliable flow of coins through the ticket office it is doubtful whether the old stars of the Theatre, who since have been held up as models of excellency, would ever have reached such lofty positions. Their success rested upon the parts which they played, and the box office was responsible for making possible such good roles.

For the past few years the Theatre has struggled through pretty discouraging times. Its audiences have been slim, the receipts have been lean, and the fate of the group has been somewhat in doubt. Without better support it was impossible to stage shows which even remotely lived up to the former standards. Complex sets were out of the question because there were no funds to provide for them. "Big" plays were almost impossible because the royalties were too great.

Offsetting the dismal outlook now is the splendid reception of the opener, "Accent On Youth." With such support throughout the entire season the Theatre may soon emerge from a trying situation with flying colors, and with continued support may return once more to the days of glory.

Quotable Quotes

"College courses in fiction writing are undoubtedly valuable. I entered one myself at the University of California and derived a great many benefits. But that training in itself is insufficient. The neophyte writer must expect a long period of unrewarded effort. Just as the violinist realizes that concert work cannot be his forte before a five-year interval of practice. Many a potential success has lost his chance for recognition through lack of persistence and confidence in his abilities. The primary interest, however, is interest in other people." Kathleen Norris points out the longest short-cut to success in writing.

Bee Lines by Phil Bee

ON ASSEMBLY....

One like Wednesday's deserves a mention. Headlines should blazon, "Entire student body jams auditorium." That my friends is a rarity. We know of one person in school who didn't hear, at least, part of the program. She is Miss Fanny Burgess, geography professor. It is a safe bet that the drummer man in the band could swallow his nose. Too bad the cound apparatus was out of kelter. Front row sitters say that the gal vocalist is good. And did Pres. Tippet pep up the house for a big weekend, Homecoming, with SEA and all....

PROPOSITION....

For any gal in school. A marvelous opportunity. A grandiloquent scheme for her to make many shekels. A chance to gather unto herself vast riches and at the same time to store up for herself great glory. To add materially to the greatness of her Alma Mater. All kidding aside, the publicity plans for the Centennial call for some fifteen women to help put them across. Also, the remuneration is nothing to be sneezed at or gaze upon with disdain. If you are interested please come to the Recreation Room in Main at 10:00 Saturday morning. This is your opportunity to make, in one way, the Centennial a success.

BUZZINGS....

Rumor has it that there will be no school Thurs. and Fri. of next week due to the SEA. That has just been going the rounds. There is no verification.... Dick Fredeking and Buddy Dunbar are in school at Cumberland U. They are in town this week end for the game. They are taking one of that school's famous law courses.... We have an erstwhile roommate in school at Heidelberg U., Germany. We correspond in yearly intervals. Will pass the dope on Hitler right on to you. That is, if the dope is complimentary. Censorship and such cramp the style in the Fatherland, we are told.... Study in contrast—Hearst, "war in Europe is remote". MacFadden, "Europe is seething and on the verge of war." For those two estimable gentlemen a fig.... Did you notice how the election returns from the Press-Radio Service were worked into the script of Edgar A. Guest's program Tues. night. Very clever.... The very ritzy Esquire has come out with a toned down version of itself. It costs less (35 cts.) and is much less blatant. It is called Coronet and it has the drawings of Gilbert Bundy and Petty and E. Sims Campbell. And did you know that Campbell is a negro? But can he turn out the figures of femmes.... Runt Haeberle reports: There is a man in this town who has a row of cotton in his garden. Runt had a boll in class the other day to prove it.... Personal Nomination for the best program on the air—Phillips Lord's We, the People, Sun. evenings at 5:00.... Duncan (Dorothy Dix) Sturm, the man with the love lorr coksms. Tell him your story; let him heal your wounds. Duncan, thou mender of broken hearts.... Has anyone or has everybody noticed the conservative restraint exercised by Ed Aldridge here of late? Better watch W & L.... America's premier World War hero Sgt. Micheal Donaldson, received thirty-two medals for one feat of bravery. The highest awards from all the Allied nations. His voice is mild, soft; not at all as you would expect.... Another issue is passed and Goldie Sutherland hasn't done anything spectacular enough to make the print.... Eunice Burnside, Pi Kap, is a great smeller of mice. The Sestern decide to honor her with a birthday party or some such affair and she doesn't show up for the festivities. Studious she, she remains all the P. M. in the Library and in the evening she goes to a seven to nine class....

New courses in art metal, book-binding, and ornamental cementing are being offered this semester by the industrial arts department of North Dakota State college.

What! No Beards? Alas, Centennial May Prove Flop

By PAUL BECKER

Reports from Alfred university last spring stated that eight professors had agreed to raise sideburns, whiskers, goatees, and "divers kindred tonsorial accoutrements" to give the university's Centennial celebration the air of a century ago. Some undergraduate wisecracks have since added that many professors give that impression without the sideburns or goatees.

Marshall is also preparing to celebrate a Centennial this year. Huge plans are in the offing—a pageant, nationally known speakers, and various kinds of artificial stimuli intended to arouse a feeling of hoary respect for the alma mater.

There have been committees formed, sub-committees appointed, plans formulated, sums of money appropriated, and countless other indications that our Centennial will really be an event to remember. But something seems to be lacking; there is a dire presentiment floating about that the whole celebration will be as flat as a radio comedian's wisecrack.

It seems that our faculty is not entering into the spirit of the thing.—they are giving no evidence that they intend to lend a flavor to the festivities, as have their colleagues at Alfred. I, personally, have never heard of Alfred, but from this time, henceforth and forever, I bow to the mighty intellectuals who will give their all for a three-day university celebration.

On our poor campus there is not even the semblance of a faculty goatee—the best we can offer is a mustache or two, and scraggly ones at that, seeming in truth to apologize for their very presence on austere upper lips. Yet, countless blue-stubbled chins roam the halls and campus paths sneering at the Centennial through their very nakedness.

Had we only professors with the features of Apollo, this sad state of affairs might be condoned, nay even perhaps forgiven, human vanity being what it is. But such is not the case, alas. We, too, have our quota of crooked upper lips, shrunken chins, and hollow cheeks fit only to be hidden behind a hairy growth.

To be outwhiskered by a parcel of upstarts from Alfred! Fie, fie, for shame! To allow our Centennial to become a mockery for lack of sufficient leavening hirsute adornment! Should this come to pass, it would require another hundred years to wipe out the stain upon the honor of this college.

All is not yet lost, however; there is still time enough to right this grievous wrong. If only our faculty will get into the spirit of the thing, and begin cultivation immediately, I am sure that any loyal son of Marshall will be willing to wager upon the luxuriance of the resultant undergrowth, as compared to that under cultivation at Alfred, even with its six months start.

On to the fertilizer, then, and let us have maximum crop yield from every square inch of faculty facial epidermis. Our honor is at stake, so spare neither the plow nor the seed. And, when the results begin to appear, snick not a single whisker until the objective is gained. Then in that hour of triumph, let every undergraduate bow to the hairy mask of glory, the sign of true Centennial supremacy in 1937.

Morrow Library Presents

I WORKED FOR THE SOVIET

By Countess Alexandra Tolstoy

Another book on Russia. This one is of special interest because the author is a daughter of the great Tolstoy. Like him, she was a friend of the people. After the Revolution, when the aristocracy left the country, she stayed in Russia, trying to continue her father's educational work among the peasants but it was a thankless task. The new order was suspicious. She was insulted, persecuted, and imprisoned.

However, these hardships are not unduly emphasized. The author accepted all her trials in the spirit of adventure; she worked in the fields rode in cattle cars, stole firewood at night, and sold family heirlooms for horsemeat. Life became a game of chance—today a commissar, tomorrow in jail. Even there she could laugh at the antics of her fellow inmates.

As a criticism of the Soviet government, the book is biased but no bitter. It simply states the facts. The reader gets a vivid impression of Bolshevik Russia: the peasants bewildered and cowed, the intelligentsia killed or imprisoned by a proletarian government still in its experimental stages.

Apple pie is the most popular food at New York university, according to Miss Noles, dietician of the commons lunch room.

Collegiate World

The bell rings, the class is ended, but the lecturer lingers on with "We must not forget that the Hopi Indians are intensive farmers; the Navajos do but little farming, living a pastoral life." The clock clicks past the technical deadline, but the professor drones on disregarding rattling seats and reminding coughs.

An alert reporter at the University of New Mexico recently recorded one-sentence interviews from people, taken at random, while filling out of a lecture hall. What did they think of professors in this category?

"They are inhuman and abuse their authority."

"It makes me madder than heck."

"It's flattering to the students."

"They are good professors, but they shouldn't forget the clock."

"It is very unjust."

"They are o. k."

"I don't think much of them."

"They are a swell bunch of fellows."

"They haven't been brought up correctly."

"Censored...."

"I believe that they are selfish and cause a lot of inconvenience."

"I have never developed any feeling against them."

"They ought to be tarred and feathered."

Sally Elsie Young, the "Lightning-learner" of Broadalbin, New York, explains that she has put on the education-brakes to get more social breaks.

A freshman at State college for Teachers, Sally says, without a trace of egotism:

"I started school when I was six, did the second and third grades in a year and the seventh and eighth in half a year. High school took three and a half years, and I didn't have much time for anything except studies and church activities." She was salutatorian of her graduating class with an average of 92.66.

"I'm going to take things easier in college. I want to dance and play tennis this year." Good idea. And that last serve, Sally... it was a dandy.

"Stuff is a beautiful word," writes Henry Rago in the DePaulian, "because it means everything and nothing. Stuff is what elf-wings are made of, and cobwebs, and moonlight when it tangles in a baby's hair. Stuff is what makes a man stand up in the ring for fifteen rounds when his eyes are full of blood. Stuff is what is in the Encyclopaedia Britannica, what is in the rings of Saturn, and what causes a comb to pick small pieces of paper when you get through combing your hair." Yes, this word certainly has the stuff.

Informal Affairs Mark Week-End's Activities

Campus organizations are more or less inactive this week as they complete plans for the festivities of Homecoming next week-end. A few informal parties, two elections, College Hall dinner, and the Student Council dance complete the week-end calendar of social affairs.

A fudge party will be given for the pledges of Theta Rho sorority at 7:00 o'clock Tuesday night at the chapter house. Informal games will be played throughout the evening. In charge of the affair are Misses Mary Jo Grass, Lenore McComas, and Mildred Tschop.

Sorority To Hold Formal Pledging

Delta Xi Delta will hold pin services for seven pledges Monday night, 7:00 o'clock, at the home of Miss Grace Ball. These ceremonies will be formal, the informal, or ribbon service, having taken place at the close of rush season. Those who will be formally pledger and receive their pledge pins are Misses Lois Davidson, Margaret Dudley, Nellie Hoback, Angeline Fulk, Mary Jane Raabe, Agnes Kerns, and Myrl Thompson.

Hall Residents Are Guests at Dinner

Mrs. Edith Wilkinson, dietician at College Hall, had a special formal dinner party for residents of the Hall last night. Halloween decorations were used on the tables and throughout the rooms. Favors carrying out the Halloween idea were given to each guest. Miss Lee Fairchild Bacon, dean of women, was guest of honor at the dinner.

A special attraction of the affair was the novelty of having waiters instead of waitresses. Phi Kappa Nu preps held these positions for the evening.

Fourth Council Dance Given Tonight

The fourth in a series of dances sponsored by the Student Council will be held tonight at the Morris P. Shawkey Student Union building.

The Hayes Brothers' Orchestra will play from 8:45 until 11:45 o'clock. Chaperons will be Professor and Mrs. Otto Gullickson, Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Navarre, and Professor and Mrs. H. G. Toole.

Sorority Pledges Hold Election

An election of officers was held by the Pi Kappa Sigma pledges Monday night. The officers are Miss Cecelia Wagner, Elkins, president; Miss Marjorie Tidman, Huntington, vice-president; Miss Dorothy Jane Adams, Huntington, secretary; and Miss Lucille Smith, Huntington, treasurer.

Fourth Estate Has Meeting

Fourth Estate, honorary journalistic sorority, met last night at the Theta Rho chapter house, 628 Sixteenth street. Miss Betty Garrett was hostess to the members.

Sorority Alumnae To Have Luncheon

Local alumnae members of Alpha Sigma Alpha will have an informal luncheon, 1:00 o'clock, Thursday, at the Langfitt tea room, for the purpose of honoring the visiting alumnae who will be in the city for Homecoming celebrations and the State Educational Association meeting. Active and pledges have also been invited to attend the affair.

Rushes Honored At Semi-Formal Party

Gamer Gummer, mock sorority, will have an after-dinner party tonight for six rushes who have been extended bids to the organizations. The affair, which will be semi-formal in nature, will be given at the home of Mrs. James Jones, Ritter Park apartments, at 7:30 o'clock. Formal pledging services will be held for those rushes who attend the party. Afterwards informal entertainment will be furnished by the members. Mrs. T. Phillips Allen has assisted the hostess in making arrangements.

Those invited are Misses Anna Carolyn Seiber, Evelyn Schumaker

Ann Stanley, Katherine Proctor, Eleanor Hardman, and Audrey Burgess.

Mock Sorority Elects Officers

New officers of Sigma Tau Phi mock sorority were elected last week. They are Miss Esther Jean Miller, president; Miss Rhoda Mitchell, vice-president; Miss Eleanor Jenkinson, secretary; and Miss Margaret Dudley, treasurer.

Miss Willa Barbour Is Married

Miss Willa Barbour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Barbour, 364 Norway avenue, was married to Mr. Paul White of this city, October 17 in Catlettsburg. Mrs. White attended Marshall for two years during which time she majored in art. She was a member of Delta Xi Delta sorority, and last year was an officer in the organization. Mr. White was graduated from Logan high school, and is at present employed by the Ohio Valley Electric Railway company in this city. The couple are now residing at 1103 Washington avenue.

Pi Kappa's Honor President

Pi Kappa Sigma house residents had an informal birthday party for Miss Eunice Byrnside, president of the sorority, Wednesday night at the chapter house. The dining table was decorated with fall flowers, yellow candles, and a large birthday cake. Approximately fifteen active members attended the party.

Sorority Has Pledging Ceremonies

Pi Kappa Sigma sorority held formal pledging services for Miss Kathleen Bailey, Matoaka, Monday night at the chapter house.

Miss Hankla Has House Party

Misses Eunice Byrnside, Pauline Kincaid and Mary Lou Geary, were members of a house party at the home of Miss Louise Hankla in Bluefield last week-end. Misses Jane Deaton, Julia Chamber, and Juanita Tinsley, alumnae of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority, were also among Miss Hankla's guests.

PERSONALS

Misses June Hartman and Olga Lipscomb were guests of Miss Beverly Fleck in Charleston last week-end.

Miss Georgia Nenni spent last week-end at her home in Matewan.

Miss Lucille Lane spent the week-end in Beckley with Miss Betty Garrett.

Miss Lucille Bryant is seriously ill at the home of her aunt, Mrs. T. M. Wyatt, 309 Twelfth avenue.

Classical Group Gives Latin Play

The Classical association will present the Latin play "Braggart Soldier" by Plautus, at a luncheon to be held at the Prichard hotel November 13.

The cast for the play is as follows: Pyrgopolinices, Mary Woodworth; Artotrogus, Lillian Sumner Palesrio, Omaha Mae White; Sciledrees, Lillian Sumner; Philcomatium, Shirley Young; Periplocomenus, Mary Hart; Acrotelutium, Betty Woods; Melphidippa, Frances Bachtel; Plevsicles, Marguerite Grady.

The play, to be directed by Dr. Lucy Whitsel and Prof. Lucy Prichard, of the Latin department, was translated into English by Violet Maynard, 1934 graduate.

Big Green Sportlites

By Bill Keesler

With three more games to be played, we find the Big Green thundering down the home stretch out in front for the first time in history. The present team has a chance to do what no other Green team has done, gain at least a tie for the Buckeye championship....That is providing they beat the Miami Redskins on November 14.

Coach Henderson has nursed the gridders along for the past few weeks, and under his careful scrutiny and never tiring endeavor the Big Green has become the highest scoring machine ever assembled at Marshall.

We were certainly glad that the game last Saturday was with the Wasps instead of a Buckeye opponent.... The Green must have been thinking of the Bishop game. Before they knew that the Wasps were even on the field two touchdowns had been scored, and not by the Herd.... The boys from down in the old Dominion used the oldest football known to score twice and lead the Green.... a spread formation.... Three men out for passes in the flat zone. This is certain suicide football, but the Big Green couldn't get the hang of it until the second quarter.... Mark Kegley the elusive Wasp back made the Green secondary and front line look a little foolish during the first period....

The Big Green soon gathered momentum though, and before long the score was 21 to 12 in their favor, from there on in the game was just a breeze for the Hendersonmen.... Johnny Bates made the fans sit up and take notice with his 80 and 47 yard jaunts.... Let's see more of this green flash.... Herb Royer was the stuff—still passing the pigskin like he didn't have any to waste....

The Big Green will be handicapped by weather this week and from the looks of last Saturday's performance the tussle tomorrow won't be as much of a breeze as they think. The gridders from down in Tennessee are coming to Fairfield stadium with a big, husky team and an outstanding back in Vaughn, who is their principal ground gainer and the talk of the campus in Lebanon....

Gossip....

The election was tough on the Republicans all the way through the game.... quarterback Landon was forced to kick from behind his own goal line on every play.... Well, my grandmother said that football and politics never mix.... no wonder they lost.... Boy, are the sport scribes tearing around this season.... All the teams going nowhere and trying to keep the other teams from even starting.... Marshall Goldberg.... the Pitt flash, was once on his way to play for the "Crafty One", but his parents decided Pitt was the place, so he is strutting his stuff for another cause.... His mother is part Irish; maybe that has something to do with it.... Mark Kegley.... the Emory Henry do-or-die griddier was offered a chance to go to greater heights with a better team.... but he said he only played football for football....

ODD FACTS....

Monk Meyer, Army's flashy back weighs only 147 pounds, but on his weight chart the figures show 180.... He marked his own chart and was afraid the coaches would say he was too small to play when he reported.... He didn't have to make them change their minds.

"A woman is a good influence on a football player just so long as he doesn't get that 'far-away' look in his eye when he's on the field. Marriage isn't much of a handicap. The University of California's Coach Leonard "Stub" Allison wishes his men would stay near-sighted.

Over a million students entered institutions of higher learning this fall. Thirty-three of each hundred of the 1936 high school graduates are now college freshmen.—The Johnsonian.

Starts Against Bulldogs

"BATTERING BUCK" JAMISON, line smasher supreme, and one of the foremost Big Green offensive threats, will fill the fullback post in this afternoon's game against the Cumberland Bulldogs.

Introducing The Herdsmen

By BILL KEESLER

One of the prime factors in the success of the Big Green forward wall is... Chub Watson.... sophomore center.

Chub is one of the good examples of football taught by Coach Henderson. He never had a football suit on until he reported to the freshman squad last year. Since then he has developed into the first string pivot man and an outstanding defensive player. He is an alert student of the game, and plays wide-awake ball whenever he is on the field.

His home is in Jane Lew, and he is a graduate of Jane Lew high school where he starred in basketball and baseball. He broke the intramural basketball scoring record last year, playing with the Freshman All-stars by scoring 32 points in one game. With the closing of football season he will be found on the hardwood, where he is as much at ease as on the gridiron. Chub is also a catcher of no mean ability, and has an excellent chance of becoming one of the Green's three letter stars.

He is 19 years old, stands six feet two inches tall and tips the scales at 190 pounds. Always wearing a smile, Chub has accumulated a host of friends around the college.

Heading the list of the Big Green's colorful sophomore pigskin carriers is J. B. Russell, the galloping ghost from Portsmouth, Ohio.

J. B. has been watched since his frosh playing last season, and much to the delight of Big Green followers he has come through in every department of the game. He has one of the most unique styles of running of any man on the squad.... He gallops, and when in the clear is a very hard man to bring down. His hard line plunging is one of the reasons the Green has such a powerful offensive.

Coach Henderson rates him as

"Now you boys take your 20¢ cigarettes and run along. I'm dancing with Arthur because we both prefer TWENTY GRANDS."

The first publication of the Bulletin, college alumni bi-monthly newspaper, will be sent to all graduate students today, William C. Estler, alumni executive secretary, announced last night.

Activities of Associated Students of the University of California last year showed a net profit of $159,872.02.—The Davidonian.

A professor at New York university was discussing sensation. He told of the colored boy in the late war who lost his bayonet and used his razor instead. He met a Hun. Sambo swung.

the strongest and most outstanding defensive backfield man he has coached, which is saying a whole lot in a few words. His long spectacular jaunts have made it possible for many of the Herd's touchdowns. At the rate he has been traveling this season he is sure fire material for the All-Buckeye in the future.

He did his high schooling at three schools. Charleston, Huntington, and lastly Portsmouth, Ohio, where he was graduated. J. B. is one of the Big Green's most versatile players; he can fit in most any position.

Hill-And-Dalers Prepare For Meet

Ten men started training Wednesday for the annual cross-country race, to be held November 16 over a two and one eighth mile course. They will work out daily in physical education classes or after class until the day of the race.

The course starts at Fairfield Stadium. From there the runners turn into 14th Street and run to Washington Boulevard. They then circle Ritter Park and travel along Enslow boulevard until they again reach 14th Street. The track leads from there back to the stadium where they circle the football field to the finish line.

Those who have entered the race are: Norman Hedrick, Arty Franzello, Charles Dunlap, Joseph King-ton, Charles Herndon, Levi Dean, Oren Poague, William Snyder, and Garland Gross.

The last cross-country race held by the intramural department was in 1934. The event was won by John Rowsey, Alpha Theta Chi, in 12 minutes, 34 seconds. There were 26 contestants entered.

The W. P. A. Adult Evening school at Ohio State university has attracted 1,224 students.

Muddy Field Awaits Green, Bulldogs Today

Big Green Will Be at Full Strength to Repulse Cumberland

By BILL KEESLER

After being handicapped by the adverse actions of Old Man Weather for the past week, the Big Green will stack up against the invading Cumberland university Bulldogs at Fairfield stadium this afternoon.

The Bulldogs, champions of the Smokey Mountain conference last year, will make their first appearance on the Big Green's schedule. They represent a big and tough assortment of football players and are sparked by the elusive Jimmy Vaughn, 144 pound touchdown maker in the backfield. This is Vaughn's first year in college, and he is fast making the folks around the Bulldogs' fort forget the loss of McDonnell, who paced the Lebanon gridders to the championship last year.

Bulldogs Unscouted

The Big Green will go into the game this afternoon knowing that their opponents have not been scouted. With the knowledge that the Wasps were not scouted last week, they will be on the alert for anything that may resemble the upset that almost struck them at Bluefield. Due to the fact that Coach Henderson's gridders have had only two actual practice sessions this week, the odds are considerably lower on the Green than they were at the beginning of the week.

After the smoke had cleared away from the battle at Bluefield last Saturday, Coach Henderson reviewed his troops, and, counting noses, found that they were all intact and ready for tomorrow's contest. J. B. Russell, hard-running halfback, is the only one on the doubtful list. Although he played some in the Wasp encounter, he is still nursing a lame shoulder, and without his defensive ability the Big Green will be a little weaker in the secondary.

ondary. The rest of the team is in tip-top condition, and will be in full array to keep their undefeated home field record this year intact.

Lineup Unknown

As usual the starting lineup is as yet unknown, but from past games, the same team that started the Emory and Henry contest last Saturday will line up against the Bulldogs this afternoon. Johnny Bates, the flashy middleweight speedster from Barboursville, will no doubt see plenty of service due to his excellent showing in last week's game. Bates has come along fast this year but because of his lack of weight has been used sparingly against the heavier Buckeye opponents. Jim Provance, the husky griddler who has been battling tooth and nail with Chub Watson for the pivot position, will also probably see a lot of action; he is one of the best defensive men on the squad.

Volleyball Teams Set Swift Pace

Wolfpack "B" and Alpha Kappa Pi No. 2 Win Close Contests

Two fast contests marked the men's intramural volleyball tourney yesterday afternoon as the Wolfpack "B" and Alpha Pi won their games over Phi Kappa No. 2 and Alpha Theta Chi No. 2.

The Wolfpack aggregation, playing with a four man lineup, rang up 14 points in their first game to leave their opponents in the lurch and insure victory. The second game was a repetition of the first, with the Pack taking the encounter by the score of 21 to 10.

The Phi Kappa Nu, Alpha Theta tilt was one of the most interesting that has been played in the tournament to date. The Phi Kappa Nu's due to their more consistent and

We all agree on this... cigarette paper is important. For Chesterfield we use the best paper that we can buy. It is called Champagne Cigarette Paper. It is made from the soft, silky fibre of the flax plant. It is washed over and over in clear, sparkling water.

A lot of the pleasure you get in smoking Chesterfields is due to our using the right kind of cigarette paper. Chesterfield paper is pure, and it burns without taste or odor.

Remember this... two things make the smoking quality of a cigarette—the tobaccos and the paper. The Champagne cigarette paper on Chesterfields is tested over and over for purity, for the right burning quality. Another reason why Chesterfield wins.
