Council Will Seek Okeh Of Budget

Student Politicians To Request $295 For Financing Of Year's Activities

Complying with a request of College Council, the Student Council last night drew up a budget whereby student government will be regulated, and will present it to the College Council at a meeting next week.

This movement was taken after the College Council had voiced its disapproval of student councilmen giving dances for profit. In the past profit from dances has been the only revenue to finance student government. If the tentative sum of $295 called for in the budget is appropriated for politics, dances will not be staged for profit.

The plan arranged by the council for financing politics calls for 10 cents each semester from each tuition. The State Board of Education will have to pass on the petition before it is officially passed. Larry Tippet, student president, will appear before the College Council next week and will explain the budget.

Budget Prepared

The budget prepared by the Student Council follows:

Freshman handbook, $60; freshman reception, $20; Homecoming expenses, including the purchase of silver loving cups, $35; Honorary keys for council members, $35; expenses for Student Federation, $17.50; furniture and fixtures, $45; stationery, $10; Council page in Mirabilia, $25; Student elections, $12.50; and contingency fund, $35.

Bob Bunch and Glen Hill were appointed by Tippet to investigate the possibilities of making successful a drive to secure $250 for the purchase of a bust of Chief Justice John Marshall, which would be unveiled on the campus this spring.

Centennial Gets Money

If the money is collected it will be presented to the statue committee as a contribution from students toward the Centennial celebration. One method of soliciting for the fund discussed by the council was to sell tags on the campus for a nominal sum. Nothing definite was decided, however, and the council will wait until Hill and Bunch report at the next meeting before making complete arrangements.

Elias Shelansky, junior representative, was granted permission last night to make arrangements for a square dance to be held in the gymnasium under the auspices of the Student Council. The dance will be held from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and admission will be 15 cents. The date has not been decided upon as yet.

Ed Spencer, business manager of the Mirabilia, attended the meeting and explained to council members the progress being made by the year book staff. He received from Tippet the promise of the council's support in making the yearbook publication a success.

A financial report from Tippet showed the treasury to be 15 cents in the clear. A profit of $16.95 from the last council dance covered the recent deficit of $16.80.

Science Hall Has Technical Library

A technical library for pre-engineering students has been established in Science Hall, room 111. The library includes many scientific magazines which may be taken out for a period of one week.

Approximately 35 students took the vocational interest test last Tuesday night at the Engineering Lecture Series meeting.

Randolph, Glee Club Feature Two Chapels

Representative Jennings Randolph, of the second Congressional district, will speak at a special assembly Tuesday at 10:00 o'clock.

Congressman Randolph was first elected to the House of Representatives in 1932, and since then has been reelected.

He was former head of the department of public speaking and journalism, and was director of athletics at Davis and Elkins college from 1926 to 1932. He is now a member of the West Virginia State Newspaper Council, National Press Club, and University Club of Washington. In 1931, he was Governor of the Lion's Club of West Virginia.

At the regular assembly period on Wednesday at 10:00 o'clock, the Glee club of West Virginia State college, of Institute, will be featured in a program of negro spirituals and classical numbers.

The program, under the direction of Theodore D. Phillips, conductor, will include numbers by the entire club and a quartet composed of George Boyd, Robert Stewart, Herman McCoy, and Edwin Richardson.

The first part of the concert by the entire Glee club includes "Dagger-Dance" from "Natoma" by Victor Herbert; "Summer Evening" by Palmgren, and "Travelin'" by Euders.

The quartet will sing "O Come

Dr. Donnelly Plans Meet

Former Department Head Directs New Mexico U. Conference

The department of political science has been recently informed of the work of Dr. Thomas C. Donnelly, former head of the department, in directing the New Mexico Conference of Business and Government, Dr. Paul K. Walp said yesterday.

Roy V. Banner, Marshall graduate of 1936, and at present a graduate student at the University of New Mexico where Dr. Donnelly is associate professor of government, forwarded a copy of the New Mexico Lobo, student publication of the university, containing complete details of the conference.

Dr. Walp indicated that his department may hold a similar conference.

Last Minute Cramming Is Confusing, Loemker Finds

By ELMORE MOSSMAN

"Throw your books away the night before an examination," says Prof. K. K. Loemker, of the psychology department. If a student is familiar with the subject he will be able to pass the examination; if he is not familiar with it cramming will only set up confusing associations.

"A good night's sleep," Prof. Loemker continued, "gives far better results than a night spent in cramming for an examination. Go to bed early and get up at least an hour and a half before time for the test. Better results are obtained if the student refrains from eating before an exam, although a cup of coffee may be used to stimulate mental activity." According to Dr. Loemker, coffee on an empty stomach is very effective.

When taking the test it is a good idea to first "warm up" with an easy question, then, after the mind

Panhellenic Council Holds First Annual Charity Ball

Marking the inception of a brilliant pre-Christmas custom the first annual Charity Ball, sponsored by the Panhellenic Council, will be held tomorrow evening in the Student Union building from 8:00 to 11:30 o'clock. Benefits will be shared jointly by the Salvation Army and by the Union Mission.

Howard Jennings and his orchestra will provide the music for this most recent attempt at presenting a strictly formal all-student affair. At the same time the Panhellenic Council will be entering upon a new field of activity in raising funds for its annual contributions to Huntington missions.

Ticket Sales Heavy

Ticket sales, which have been in charge of sorority women only, were reported yesterday to have been unusually well received.

In expectation of one of the largest dance attendances in the history of the Student Union the entire building has been reserved, and elaborate decorations have been planned.

Small white and green Christmas trees will be set around in conspicuous places, and the center of attention will be a large tree near the arch bearing cellophane ornaments. On the mantel at the east end of the building will be placed white graduated candles which will be lighted by red electric bulbs, and banked behind them will be Christmas greenery. A large wreath will be hung over the center of the mantel, and the glow of a wood fire will be cast over the east room from the fire-place.

Programs On Tree

Leaves of holly will be placed in the windows and clusters of mistletoe will be suspended from ceiling and lights.

Inside one entrance of the building will be a tree on which are placed the programs which will be simply made up of white with "Panhellenic" written in gold. Cards will be arranged after the guests arrive.

Just preceding intermission, the high-light of the evening will occur when Miss Pauline Kincaid, president of Panhellenic Council, her escort, Mr. Arthur Chambers, Miss Lee Fairchild Bacon, dean of women, and her escort, will lead the grand march.

Miss Kincaid will wear black velvet cut in straight lines. The front of the dress will be relieved by a vestee of white Irish lace which continues into a collar. Trimming of the same sort bands the armholes. She will complete her ensemble with silver slippers and bag, and gardenias.

Committees for the dance are as follows: program, Misses Marguerite Miller and Edna Mae Lowe; ticket, Misses Imogene Hallanan, June Hartman, and Freda Evans; publicity, Misses Marie Herndon, Evelyn Schumaker, and Mattie McCorkle; and decorations, Misses Eunice Byrnside, Eileen Groves, and Eileen Staats.

"Moutheteers" Will Meet And Mouth In Main

An organization meeting of the "Marshall Moutheteers" will be held in the office of the political science department on the third floor of Main, Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

Anyone who can play a harmonica, or owns a harmonica, or even has the desire to own or play one is invited to attend and participate, according to Jack Steelman, temporary president of the organization.

N. Y. A. NOTICE

Dr. John T. Krumpelmann, dean of men, requests that all supervisors, turn in grades on N. Y. A. students according to their quality of work. This grading system is to be a large factor in determining whether or not a student will be kept on N. Y. A. next semester.

Dillon Gives Club's Plans

Open Panel Discussion Will Be Held Wednesday, December 16

Dr. Conley H. Dillon, of the political science department, announced today the tentative schedule of the International Relations club, for the remainder of the Centennial year.

The open panel discussion, to be held on Wednesday, December 16, at 7:30 o'clock in room 34, Main Building, will be conducted in a manner similar to previous panel discussions held by the club. The question of "Neutrality" will be discussed at the meeting. The response of the students, faculty members, and others to this meeting will determine future open forums.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows: one or more transcribed broadcasts over WSAZ on the Centennial Series during the month of January by a recognized authority on international affairs; and the appearance of an internationally known speaker at an assembly during February. Last year during a conference of the Ohio Valley International Relations clubs held here, the speakers were Dr. Otto Nathan, internationally known economist and Dr. Edgar J. Fisher, authority upon the New East and faculty member of the University of Rochester.

The Relations club was later host to Donald Grant, widely-known lecturer on international problems and organizer of the International Student Relief.

The last part of the schedule consists of a presentation of a film portraying foreign scenes of interest.

SCHEDULE REVISED

The regular publication schedule of The Parthenon will be revised next week, there being but one edition on Thursday, December 17.

Paul Willis Leaves Post On Mirabilia

Advisory Committee Accepts Resignation, To Become Effective Dec. 15

Announcement of the resignation of Paul Willis as editor-in-chief of the Mirabilia, effective December 15, was made yesterday by the faculty advisory committee.

Appearing before the committee yesterday Willis explained that work upon the college annual had been seriously interfering with his studies and he thought it best that he withdraw. He said that he stood ready to serve the committee and the book should his services be necessary.

The committee acted immediately and passed the following resolution accepting the resignation: "Resolved: that the committee reluctantly accepts Mr. Willis' request that he be relieved of his duties as editor of the Mirabilia (effective December 15), with the proviso that the committee feels free to call upon Mr. Willis at any time for any assistance he feels able to render."

To Reorganize Staff

Ed Spencer, business manager of the Mirabilia, was authorized by the advisors to reorganize the editorial staff and to submit his recommendations to the committee on Monday.

Following its action upon Willis' request the group introduced and passed a second resolution. "Resolved: that the committee appreciates the work Mr. Willis has done and wishes to commend him for his present attitude in offering to continue rendering assistance as long as the committee stands in urgent need of his assistance."

Faculty Pictures Taken

Willis said yesterday that all but three members of the faculty had posed for Mirabilia pictures and that art work for the division pages was completed Wednesday. The photographer will begin shortly to take senior pictures.

Spencer said last night that advertising is now being solicited from local merchants, and that a subscription campaign will begin immediately after the Christmas recess.

Four Leave For WVIP

Prof. Pitt Will Lead Discussion on "Newspaper Management" At Conference

Four members of the journalism department will leave this afternoon for the fifteenth annual convention of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Press association to be held at Morris Harvey college, at Charleston, today and tomorrow.

Attending from here will be Prof. W. Page Pitt, head of the department, Prof. W. C. Tucker, instructor in journalism, Henry G. King, editor of the Parthenon, and Paul H. Becker, managing editor.

Prof. Pitt will lead a round table discussion on "Newspaper Management" during a session of the conference. The meeting opened at 9:30 o'clock this morning and will continue through tomorrow.

Among the journalists who will speak are Max Fullerton, of the Associated Press; Burke McClanahan, of the Charleston Daily Mail; J. Raiford Watkins, of the Raleigh Register, Beckley; Robert H. Horner, of the Daily Mail; W. H. McGinnis, of the Charleston Gazette; Sol Padlibsky, of the Gazette; and Robert H. Bull, of the Daily Mail.

Quick Work

Gratifying was the alacrity with which the Student Council last night took up the probability of conducting a campaign to raise funds on the campus to defray the expenses of the John Marshall bust.

The committee appointed to investigate the proposal should find every indication that such a campaign is certainly to be commended as a worthwhile project for the Student Council. We are of the opinion that this opportunity to perform such a welcome service for the college should not be overlooked.

The matter of time may at present seem not particularly important. However it should be borne in mind that on action can be taken by the Council until its first meeting following the Christmas recess, a matter of one month.

We would suggest that the Council committee appointed to investigate the feasibility of sponsoring such a campaign should be ready to report upon its findings at the earliest possible date.

In explanation to those who wrote letters both condemning and praising the recent review of "Candida," we wish to say that the difference of opinion has been so marked and at times so bitter as to arouse more controversy than the matter warrants. We have therefore thought it best to refrain from publishing these communications, although we appreciate them none the less.

Quotable Quotes

"The sought-after college teacher is one whose scholarship is sound and of quality, whose interest in students is human, and whose method of presenting material is stimulating." Dr. L. Hekhuis, dean of the college of liberal arts at the University of Wichita, pictures the ideal instructor.

"College training is no outstanding benefit to a radio or motion picture career; success in these fields depends upon ability, personality, and outward appearance. I cast no aspersions upon Whittier college, my alma mater, because I feel my four years there to be invaluable in personal contacts and friendship acquired." Donald Novis, famous singer, isn't trying to discourage radio and film aspirants.

"We need more of the type of person who gives a dollar's worth of work, whether the dollar comes from private sources or the public till. There is too much of the time-saving idea. Another thing we want to get away from is the philosophy of bigness, whereby every boy believes he is destined to become president of the United States." Dr. William Mather Lewis, president of Lafayette college, points out that we usually have only one and don't like him after we get him.

THE WANDERER OF LIVERPOOL

By John Masefield
Masefield, the British poet laureate, needs no introduction. His "Salt Water Ballads" are known to all the world. Many of his poems and plays have a nautical flavor which is not strange, considering that his early years were spent before the mast. Love of the sea and delight in a beautiful ship is in his blood.

The Wanderer was such a one. She was laid down at the Liverpool yards in 1890. Competition between sailing ships and steamers was then at its height. When finished, the Wanderer was lofty and heavily rigged. She was the strongest and most beautiful ship afloat, the last word in sailing vessels. Masefield compares her to a stallion trembling with eagerness to gallop the sea. In realistic verse he describes the launching when this "queen of the water went out to her kingdom."

Still, she was unlucky. She was nearly wrecked on her first setting forth, and each of her ten voyages was attended with disaster. She killed her captain, men fell from aloft and overboard, she took charge of her tugs, her cargoes shifted, she was on fire once, and ashore four times, and at last she was sunk.

Nevertheless, the Wanderer achieved immortality because she was the last of her kind—the last and the best. Even her end was glorious. The poet describes her fate in exultant measures, yet full of pathos. The wrecks of other famous vessels speak from their watery graves to remind the proud Wanderer that:

"The sea grants a truce, not a pardon; ships may not live long. Ships tread on an uncovered grave and their last port is death."

Altogether, this is an unusual book, half prose, half poetry. There are long narratives in free verse, shorter lyrics, and ballads. The whole is a salt-water saga, with something of a Hemerick ring.

"We live in a noisy world. Our lives are noisy because of our discontent. One of the great problems of today is to learn how to reduce our restless lives to the quiet which will bring real happiness. Before we can escape the curse of modern, disorganized life, we must practice being alone with ourselves." Professor Lisgar R. Eckardt of DePauw university thinks we should get used to ourselves enough to be able to stand communing with ourselves.

Library Fines Total Almost Four Hundred Dollars Yearly

By VIRGINIA DANIEL

Students have contributed $391.66 to the college treasury in one year through fines charged on over-due library books, Miss Rosa Oliver, head librarian, disclosed yesterday.

The average fine paid for books is from 25 to 45 cents, she said. However, at the present, one person owes $4.65 and five others have passed the dollar mark.

"A lot of the fines are due to absent-mindedness," declares Miss Oliver, who went on to say that after the students had come to school without the books they could not return home for them. Students who live out of town and forget to return their books before they go home also contribute much to fines.

During the winter months the fines usually average close to $50. In the summer months the fines are closer to $10. April, with fines amounting to $58.45, brought in more money than any month this year. The explanation for this was that preparation for the final examinations takes place in this month and books are kept until they are finished, especially if the

Collegiate World

Until recently it seemed that the novel idea of a half-blind, tottering gentleman who died in the Ozarks of Arkansas last spring would pass along with him.

He suggested that someone erect a 130-foot-high pyramid, fill it with modern products, and seal it hermetically.

"This civilization is going to the dogs," he said, "and when the year 8113 rolls around, the people can open the pyramid up and see just what was wrong with the people back in 1936."

Now Oglethorpe university has adopted the idea. With the co-operation of Scientific American it plans to build the pyramid and stock it with everything from a sound film record of greetings from the president of the United States to the citizens of 8113 to samples of present day brands of chewing gum.

Before a certain Purdue university professor accepted a bet challenge on the outcome of the Indiana-Purdue game, sent to him by a fellow professor at Indiana university, he dug up statistics showing that Purdue had won the majority of games, he watched the team at practice, and consulted with athletic directors.

Feeling sure that Purdue would win on the basis of all the substantiation, he mailed his acceptance to the Indiana professor.

When the game ended in a tie, both professors breathed more easily and re-pocketed their respective nickles.

Dr. Alfred M. Nielson, professor of economic geography at New York university, has an aversion for chewers of gum. Here is how he classifies them:

"There are five types of gum-chewers. First, the type which chews with a gentle, oscillating motion, like a contented cow. Next, the type which chews to the rhythm of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers. Thirdly, the kind known as the 'railroad chewer'. They produce noises like the 'clickety-click' of a train.

"Then come two types of synchronizers. First, those who synchronize their mouths with their pencils, and, secondly, those who time the movements of their jaws with the speed of the lecturer."

W. A. Mann, University of Texas law student, is sick of hearing his own voice.

He wagered his roommates that he could better the late Huey P. Long's filibuster record of 16 hours. When they took him up on his boast, he launched into a non-stop monologue time and again as lengthy as any that Cornelia Otis Skinner has ever given.

Talking on astronomy, religion, politics, economics, his life history and many other things, Mann lasted 16 hours and 10 minutes—10 minutes longer than Long.

number of copies is limited.

Most of the library staff agree that books used as the basis of tests are more often kept out overtime. More fines are paid on books on reserve than those upstairs.

Last year a rule specified that no fine over 75 cents should be charged for over-due books, but this year, much to the students' regret, there is no such provision.

More Publicity by Request...

Senior Notice: There will be a skating party at Biggs Armory Monday night. Seniors please come. Also please come heeled, at least, to the extent of two-bits worth. Also pass around the word to all the class....

Dunbar...

In Pol. Science class there was given an example of plurality. It follows: Dunbar has a plurality of 5 percent of the school. Yet in the Freshman election it controlled the class; in the Beauty Queen contest it put in three of the queens. And yet their plurality is but 5 percent of the student body. (We only heard)....

Ways and Means...

The situation on the campus is a two-sided affair. Boiled down we get the Senior situation and the "Candida" conflict.

The way to kick those corners around, get things straightened out and let the student body go peacefully back to sleep is: let the Senior class turn all their monkey business over to one honest, hard-working, God-fearing individual who will carry out all the necessary things a senior class must do in just the way he wants to carry them out. And then allow all seniors to stay away from all class meetings and rest their vocal cords, or else exercise them on the King and Wally. Now for the "Candida" business. The review was good, comment proves that. A play is supposed to be reviewed and if not good it gets some criticism. As a general thing people insist on the truth, and that is what they got, or at least, we think so. If you stick your neck out someone will surely step on it.

But this is just what we think. Anyway we sure can solve a lot of things....

Buzzings...

"L'Affaire Simpson split wide open the staid reserve of the English press. It leaves nothing sacred from the prying eyes of a nose reporter. And the English must have something to which they can point with pride and view with adoration akin to worship. But it seems to us that American journalistic methods cracked down on all they held holy. Fred Bonfils and Harry Tammen could hardly have asked for more.... We did intend to make a few apt remarks (we hope) concerning the play, "Candida." In view of things already said we had best lay off and not even try to be apt.... Personal nomination: for the top rung of the ladder in the sorority group: the Tri Sigs. (will we never learn the fine art of diplomacy?) Will get around to the rest another time.... Henry (Gasnouse) Harrell has been much in the public eye here of late, especially of evenings at dances.... It was impossible to purchase one of the new Life magazines at any of the newsstands Sunday. Life's new publishers are really putting out a good mag. (the publishers of Time are doing it). Where are those guest artists? This jit could stand a little rejuvenation. And you will be more than welcome....

Walt Crowthers is the cleanest person we know. When he and Mr. Gulf get together they can sure remove a lot of dirt, and no mistake. Especially when they do it with the aid of the local gendarmes. For Mr. Crowthers we can only say that "Cleanliness is next to the police station." You can't get inside the pearly gates via the soap and water route. Or was it the lack of soap? Ask Brains, he should know....

College Hall Gives Annual Christmas Dinner-Dance

The annual dinner-dance of College Hall will take place tonight in the College Hall parlors between 7:00 and 12:00 o'clock.

The dinner will be served buffet style from the main dining room with tables being decorated with red and green candles, and with flowers. A special table will be set for Miss Mary James, president of the Hall, her escort Mr. Lawrence Tippet, and for the chaperons, Dean and Mrs. J. T. Krumpelmann, Dean and Mrs. W. E. Greenleaf, Miss Lee Fairchild Bacon, dean of women, and Mr. Sam Metzger.

Dinner music will be played from 7:00 until 8:30 o'clock by Hershel Cortez and his orchestra, who will later play for the dance. There will be a half-hour intermission between dinner and the dance, after which those accepting representative bids are expected to arrive.

The orchestra will be situated in North parlor, and near it will be a Christmas tree bearing lighted ornaments. The other rooms will be artistically decorated with cedar boughs tied with red and green crepe paper.

Two colors of programs have been selected for the guests, one in green for the men, and the other in red for the women. The program is made folder type with the program card on the outside, and a Christmas greeting inside.

Special guests which have been invited include President and Mrs. James E. Allen, and Dean and Mrs. Otis G. Wilson.

Misses Rosalea Johnson and Mary James have been in charge of general arrangements, while programs have been planned by Misses Lucy Nowlin, Rebecca Blizzard, and Ina Lee Simpson. The committee in charge of decorations consists of Misses Ann Louise Harris, Maxine Davis, Eleanor Mapes, Virginia Batton, and Mary Galzerano.

Epsilon Delta Begins Initiation

Epsilon Delta, honorary medical fraternity initiated six new members Tuesday night in Science hall.

The ceremony Tuesday night was only the first degree. Those participating were Messrs. Albert Ward, Jim Farley, Tom Farley, Gordon Stalaker, Jack Bowen, and Ralph Lusher. They will receive the second degree, which will be a hell-hike, tonight.

Those in charge of the proceedings Tuesday night were Messrs. Kenneth McKown, president, Broods Drake, treasurer, William Von Pechy, prep master, and Marshall Williams, historian. In addition, the active members present were Messrs. Bill Smith, Homer Lusher, Malcolm Tabor, and Everett Smith.

Kappa Tau Phi Compliments Pledges

Kappa Tau Phi, honorary sorority, entertained pledges of the organization with an informal party recently at the chapter room, 1660 Third avenue. Monopoly and bridge were the games played throughout the evening, and refreshments were served.

Miss Marjorie Yeager was in charge.

Two Are Pledged Recently

Mr. LeRoy Phillips, president of Phi Kappa Nu fraternity, has announced the pledging of Messrs. Dick Hunter and Forrest Underwood.

Delta Sigma Epsilon Entertains Guests

Miss Irene Glazik of the commerce department was a guest for dinner at the Delta Sigma Epsilon chapter house Monday night. She spoke to the chapter at the meeting later on the subject, "Manners in the Business World."

Miss Glazik and Mrs. Josephine Brady, former house mother of the chapter, attended the concert given by the Miriam Winslow dancers after the meeting, as guests of the sorority.

Miss Stark To Give Pre-Dance Supper

As a pre-Charity Ball courtesy to new members of Sigma Sigma Sigma, Miss Julia Ann Stark will entertain actives of the sorority and their dates at a formal buffet

Fourth Estate Pledges Three, Holds Dinner

Fourth Estate, honorary journalism sorority, pledged three women last night and complimented them later at the organization's annual Christmas dinner party.

The pledging ceremony was read at the Pi Kappa Sigma sorority house for Misses Elizabeth Foster, Marie Fisher, and Virginia Daniel.

At 7:00 o'clock the actives and pledges dined informally at the New China restaurant. The long table had a center-piece of a white artificial Christmas tree decorated with bright ornaments. Underneath, gifts in brightly colored packages were attached to black and silver cellophane ribbons which ended in a semi-circular bow at each place. A grab-bag effect was gained since each woman took the gift attached to the ribbon at her place. Two white candles in black candlesticks were placed at each end of the table.

Those present were the honored guests, Mrs. W. Page Pitt, and Misses Virginia Lee, Mary Lou Geary, Betty Garrett, Mary Virginia Rowley, Laura Wallace, Estelle Bellanger, Margaret Williamson, and Marian Snyder.

First Of Senior Events Set For Monday Evening

Yale's President Says Relief Cold

New York, N. Y.—(ACP)—Pointing out the social, economic, and political significance of the recent election at the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce of the state of New York, President James Rowland Angell of Yale university stressed the need of replanning the whole program of modern philanthropy.

Dr. Angell stated that a new situation exists which requires more serious and thoughtful study, as the result of the re-entering of the government on a large scale into the process of relief.

Referring to government welfare work, Dr. Angell asserted that the personal touch which the private agency offers cannot and does not come from the government clerk.

"To rob our communities of the element of voluntary giving on the part of the intelligent, generous, and socially minded is to destroy one of the most precious of human values and to substitute cold, mechanical procedure for the warm-hearted out-pouring of humane impulse," he said.

Goode, Hill Win Ping-Pong Doubles Title

Woods, Hiner Lose To Champs In Four Games

Greater Experience of Winners Is Deciding Factor In Title Games

By DALLAS C. HIGBEE

The college ping pong doubles crown is resting on the heads of Ernest Goode and Richard Hill today after their powerful offensive game proved superior to that of Pembroke Woods and Ben Hiner Wednesday afternoon. The Goode-Hill combine won three out of four games by the scores of 21-16; 21-16; 23-25; and 21-15.

Both Hill and Goode have made names for themselves in recent ping-pong singles tournaments, each having advanced to the semi-finals of the last match. Goode won the ping-pong singles championship two years ago.

It was a fast match from the opening serve. Goode and Hill ran up a huge lead in the first game and took it with little effort. The second game proved a little more difficult and was tighter defensively up until the last few points when the champions surged ahead for their second win.

A desperate attempt to rally in the third game brought fruit and the Woods-Hiner team eased through for a 25-23 victory. This rally proved futile, however, and the crown holders ran up an early lead and coasted through to win the game and set.

Goode and Hill advanced to the final round by defeating Elias Shelansky and Joe Pease 21-4 and 21-13, and a team of Bastianelli-Lee by the scores of 21-13, 21-17, 3-21, 19-21, and 21-17 in the semi-final round.

Woods and Hiner battled their way through B. Donat and C. Lloyd 21-10, 8-21, 21-16 in the second round and Chambers and Cowden by the scores of 18-21, 21-16, 21-13, and 21-19 in the semi-final round.

The tournament, started Tuesday afternoon, was under the direction of Dick Chambers. Eleven teams competed. Teams eliminated in the early rounds besides the combines which played the champions and runners-up were: Burger-Morris; Fletcher-Aldridge; Rivlin-Hage; Wilcox-Boone; and Harry Clarke and partner.

Big Green Sportlites

By Bill Keesler

"Colleges are frankly out for the dough," says John R. Tunis in the November issue of the American Mercury. They have given up the simon-pure pretense and admit they want the real money. He continues that, "for years there has been no chance for an intelligent person to argue about professionalism in college athletics. Yet in some intstitutions of higher learning, football is a racket run by a bunch of thugs and fringed by gamblers and gangsters; in others, the sport is conducted by the timid gentry who would like to make it a financial success as the gamblers do, but haven't the nerve."

"It has been an open secret that for years certain highly professionalized college teams, or rather one or two members of these teams have been reached by gamblers. Are games thrown? Yes, sometimes. Everybody knows it and admits it—except for a few sportswriting ostriches, adolescent alumni, or those who stamp the name Graduate Manager of Athletics, beneath their signatures."

"Every intelligent American educator," Tunis says, knows that football is likely to have unpleasant effects on his job and the intellectual life of his institution." Dr. Charles J. Turk, Centre college, Kentucky, declared recently that the victory of Centre college over Harvard in 1921 was the worst thing that could have happened to his college. Only 32 of the 134 freshmen that attracted to the institution by the victory, graduated.

We think that he excerpt by Mr. Tunis is only the beginning of a lot of more forthcoming articles on the idea of more pay for the college athlete. Are the college graduates the only ones to remain blind to the situation? We say let the football players of the professional colleges be paid openly and above board. Let's have a minimum wage for the athlete. One thing that might tend to lighten the burden of this would be to let the so-called amateur teams fight out the titles of their own leagues, conferences, Rose Bowls, Sugar Bowls, Cotton

Bowls, and Wash Bowls among themselves. Put an end to the disguises and subterfuges of the present situation.

We all know that such a move would make football and all athletics what we try to make ourselves believe they aren't—a tremendous business with tentacles over the whole educational world. It would be undeniably honest and consistent with educational ideals. What we are trying to say is: let's use a little logic!

Gossip....
The Big Green is stepping into the midst of one of the hardest basketball schedules ever scheduled by any court team in the nation Tuesday night. All in all, Coach Henderson seems to be a little pessimistic about the Christmas tour. He stated that he didn't think the team would win any of its games, but would gain a lot of experience. We hope the team is still able to take over some of the Buckeye opponents... One thing in Coach Henderson's favor. He will no doubt run into the same style of play in the east that he himself employs. That of a fast break, with a middle man to take the ball into scoring position... The idea of feting the football team at a banquet Monday night should turn out to be a tremendous success... Indiana university trounced the University of Cin-

A.O.X. Is Second With 100 Per Cent

Alpha Theta Chi fraternity is the second intramural organization to show 100 per cent participation in intramural sports for the year, according to Professor Otto Gullickson, of the physical education department, who is in charge of the intramural program.

Kappa Alpha was the first to report a perfect record in this department, having had 100 per cent activity during the touch football schedule.

cinnati Bearcat court team last week by a lopsided score... Yet the Bearcat coach said the team looked good.

Odd Facts....

Professor "Swede" Gullickson, intramural director, must pack an awful punch. He broke one of his fingers playing handball recently. Coaches Rowsey and Underwood, of the intramural boxing squad, say the crop looks much better than the one they had last year... Which may mean another feather in the cap for someone.

Chess Tourney Reaches Second Round Of Play

Jack Smith, Norman Hazeldine, and R. C. Coakley opened the first round of the intramural chess tournament this week by winning from Forrest Carter, Bob Nortemann, and Daniel Boone respectively.

The tournament, the first of its kind ever held in the intramural department of the college, is being sponsored by Prof. Otto Gullickson, intramural director, and held at the Student Union building. Prof. Gullickson chose chess as one of the new sports undertaken to promote a more extensive program in the sports parade of the college.

The rules governing the tournament are: For the first two rounds each match shall be decided by playing until one player has won two games. In the semi-finals and finals the first player winning three games is the winner of the match. All disputes shall be reported to Prof. Gullickson. If at any time during a game either player refers to any written material concerning chess, that game shall be forfeited to the other contestant. The "touch and move" rule need not be enforced unless the players wish it.

Herd Places Three On All-W.Va. Eleven

Huffman, Royer, Smith, Honored In State Poll

College Sports Editors Place Five Bobcats On First Combine

By JIM WALKER

Note: This team was chosen by the sports editors of the member colleges of the W. Va. Football conference, with the aid of some coaches, publicity directors and the West Virginia Wesleyan Pharos.

The sports editors of the member colleges of the West Virginia Football Conference present their 1936 All-Conference football team. It is thought that the team picked by these sports writers would be as fair a one as could be picked, inasmuch as they have an opportunity to see every player in the conference.

The West Virginia Wesleyan Bobcats and the Big Green captured the majority of places on the all-star first team, placing five and three men respectively. West Liberty, Salem, and Davis-Elkins each placed one man on the first team. The members of the Big Green who were honored on the first eleven were Frank Huffman, at one of the tackle posts, Bill Smith at one of the ends and Herb Royer at the fullback position. Dick Hunter and Nelson Bragg were placed on the second team and Wayne Underwood was placed on the third combine. Nelson Peterson, elusive halfback of the Bobcats, was unanimously named the outstanding player of the conference in the poll.

The balloting was nip and tuck throughout and the second and third teams compare very favorably to the first string eleven. The second and third string lines were exceptionally strong except for the tackle positions.

Rangers, Knights Score Victories In Court Games

Phi Tau Alpha and Kenova Are Winners In Wednesday Nights Tilts

The Rangers continued their winning ways in the intramural basketball league last night, defeating the Kappa Alpha No. 2 team by the score of 36 to 10.

Thornbury led the victors with 17 points to his credit. He alone scored more points than all five of the losing Kappa Alpha team.

In the other loop contest played last night, the Black Knights No. 2 team went on a scoring spree to trounce the Rambling Wrecks 41 to 10. The Wrecks were never in the ball game literally speaking, as the Knights flashed mid-season form all the way through the encounter. Smith was high for the winners, garnering 12 points.

Phi Tau Alpha fraternity won its second straight game of the year Wednesday night defeating the Greyhounds 24 to 14. The fraternity quint was paced by the versatile Freddie Jasper, who scored seven points. In the other game played that night, Kenova handed Alpha Theta Chi No. 1 its first defeat by the score of 42 to 24. Morrison was the big gun for the winners with 18 points, while Walt Crowthers ran his total points in two games to 29 by scoring 17 points for the losers.

Other intramural games: K. A. No. 1, 33; Beckley Club, 22. P.K.Nu No. 2, 14; A.K.Pi No. 2, 39. Five Aces, 45; Buffaloes, 18. Wolfpack 'A' 39; Black Knights 10.

CO-ED SPORTS

Dorothy Auten defeated Betty Mead 21-7, 21-10 in the third match of the women's intramural ping pong tournament, Wednesday.

Two quarter-final matches are scheduled for Saturday, when Virginia Power and Mary Flannagan, who drew byes in the first round, are to meet. Rowena Fisher, who has defeated Agnes Kerns will meet Ethel Kries, who also drew a bye in the first round.

The revengeful Greens chalked up a victory over the Whites by winning 19-14 in a close basketball game last Tuesday night. This is the second encounter between the Greens and the Whites, the Whites having won the volleyball game, which was the first encounter.

Kappa Tau Phi was defeated by College Hall 55-29 in the first women's intramural volleyball game of the season. With 16 points to her credit, Helen Friel, College Hall player, was high scorer for the game.

The closest game of the entire group was played between Theta Rho and Delta Sigma Epsilon. After the lead see-sawed back and forth between the two teams the final score was 33-35 for Theta Rho. Betty Diehl and Margie Ramsey tied for high scoring honors in the game, each scored 12 points.

Edna Leonard lead the Annex team with a score of 9 points in their game with the Tri Sigs. The final score was 31-9 in favor of the Annex players. However, the Annex bowed in turn to the Independents who defeated them 41-35 as a come-back after their 47-9 loss

Big Green Quint Preps For Game With Lincoln U.

Coach Henderson Fears Power Of Invading Tennessee Combine

The Big Green quint will probably be on the short end of the score when the final whistle is blown in the game against Lincoln Memorial university, Tuesday night. Coach Henderson reports that the visiting college emphasizes basketball and that their cagers began practice early in the fall, consequently they have a formidable court aggregation. Another point in favor of the visitors is that since the Herd has been concentrating on the season ahead, instead of in preparation for the opening game, they will probably not be very well organized. Less than a week of scrimmage will be all that Coach Henderson will have with which to place the various individuals in the positions at which they can perform to the best advantage.

After two weeks of preliminaries, the Big Green basketballers held their first scrimmage, Wednesday afternoon at Vanity Fair. Fundamentals, especially foot-work, and the various passes and shots, have been particularly stressed by Coach Henderson. The work-outs have been limited to the college gymnasium and the Herd will continue their practice sessions there until the new year is ushered in.

The squad is in good condition physically and mentally, and Coach Henderson attributed this to two main factors: first, that the boys are working hard in order to make the holiday trip up through New

Boxers Prepare For Tournament

According to Coach John Rowsey, the intramural boxing squad is shaping up better than the one that reported last year. Several of the newcomers show plenty of class and are being groomed for possible intramural Buckeye material.

The men have been working out regularly for the past week, and will be more than ready to put on one of the best intramural boxing tournaments ever held by the department.

York; and secondly, since the majority of those constituting the basketball squad performed on the gridiron during the past season.

The legal tender required to gain admittance to the Big Green games will probably be the lowest admission charged by any college in the state—60c and 40c. The game will be officiated by the coach of Ironton high school, Dick Gallager. Coach Henderson stated that all home games would start at 8:00 o'clock for the convenience of the students who had to be in at a early hour.

Harvard Sports Gain Financially

Cambridge, Mass.—(ACP)—Harvard university's sport program for 1935-36 showed more than a $2,000 gain over that of 1934-35, it was announced in the annual report of the Harvard Athletic association.

The profit of $4,746.59 for the last college year is the largest in the last three years, contrasting with the surplus of $2,306.18 for the preceding year and a deficit of $32,881.78 for the year ending June 30, 1934.

Panhellenic Has Contest

Three New York Trips Are Offered As Prizes In Competition

"Does New York Represent the American Scene?" is a question which the Panhellenic House association of New York asks to be answered in its third annual essay contest for college undergraduates.

A choice of one of three titles is offered in the contest this year. They are: "Does New York Represent the American Scene?" "Is New York a Vital Part of My Culture?" and "Is New York a Place to Launch a Career?". The essay must be limited to 1,000 words, and must be sent to the Panhellenic House Association Contest Office, Beekman Tower Hotel, 3 Mitchell Place, New York City, before March 31, 1937. An entry blank, which can be obtained from the Parthenon, must accompany each essay.

Prizes this year include: first prize: $100 and a two-weeks' all-expense visit in New York City; second and third prizes will include cash awards of $25 and $15 respectively, and an all-expense stay of one week in New York. In addition, 15 honorable mention awards will be given.

Diet Expert Hits Old Food Values

Kansas City, Mo.—(ACP)—Speaking to a Kansas City audience, Dr. Milton A. Bridges, diet expert of Columbia university, knocked the foundation from under common theories about food.

"It has never been recognized that nature or man has been able to produce anything such as a reducing food," he said.

"The efficacy of fish as a brain food, onions to cure a cold, parsley to increase fluid output, broth for strength, port wine and rusty nails for blood-building, celery to soothe the nerves, skim milk and bananas for reducing, and last but not least, an apple a day to keep the doctor away, have been proved without foundation."

Professor Views Failure Causes

Athens, Ga.—(ACP)—Physical and mental diseases are not major causes of student failure, according to Dr. A. S. Edwards, professor of psychology at the University of Georgia.

Dr. Edwards has recently published a pamphlet, "Aetiology of Student Failures in the University of Georgia", based on eight years of experimentation and compilation of data. The pamphlet explains that most of the students who get failing grades get them in courses which do not interest them.

Kiwanis Meeting Hears Dr. Dillon

Speaking before the Kiwanis club at its regular weekly meeting, held last Tuesday, Dr. Conley H. Dillon, of the political science department, recommended several changes in the present manner of handling the city police court, for the consideration of Mayor George S. Stammers.

Each member of the Kiwanis group spoke at the gathering on a topic relating to the conduct of city government.

"Is that the English department of the college over there?"

"Yes, that's our chamber of commons."—Harding Bison.
