College Acts To Meet Food Complaints

The newly organized food committee met for the first time Friday afternoon in the council room with President Stewart H. Smith.

The committee consists of President Smith; Comptroller Fred Smith, chairman; Dean Lester G. Brailey; Dean Lillian Helms Buskirk; Miss Margaret Gray, home economics department; Earl Kirker, Hodges Hall representative; Lucy Ann McKenzie, Laidley Hall representative; and Frank Springer, cafeteria manager.

At the beginning of the meeting Dr. Smith outlined his program and explained why the committee was formed. His program consists of two measures. 1. The committee members are to get the information gripes and constructive ideas, for improvements from the students and the students will be informed of the committee's progress by the members. 2. General improvements are to be made on what there is (in the cafeteria) immediately.

Comptroller Smith then compared the cost of board at Marshall with that of other colleges in the state and recommended that an increase of fees be made to increase the quality of the food. This was put into a motion and carried. All students eating in the cafeteria will vote by ballot on this issue this week. This increase was estimated at approximately forty dollars and with the cost of food steadily rising there can be no guarantee that the food will improve. Another motion which the students will vote upon at the same time will be the continuation or discontinuation of the Sunday evening meal.

Recommendations for improvements received from the Health Department were discussed and acted upon as follows:

- (1) A booster tank to raise the steam to 180 degrees which would insure cleaner dishes and dispense with handling of dishes, will be ordered immediately.
- (2) Sanitary dispensers for sugar were bought last week.
- (3) Large lavatory for washing

Contest Opens Monday For 'Rec' Hall Name

Christening of Marshall's new recreational hall which opens tonight at 7 o'clock in the basement of the cafeteria will take place next Wednesday night, October 22, after names submitted by students have been judged by a committee of four students and the social deans, the social activity committee announced this week.

Nominations for an appropriate name will be received beginning next Monday in the Shawkey Student Union, offices of the social deans, and in Student Council office 104 of the Engineering Building. The contest will close at noon Wednesday and the winner will be announced at intermission of the mid-week mix, Wednesday night, October 22.

ODK Looks Over Field For Leaders

Considerations for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership honor society for men, are now being made, Secretary Lester G. Brailey of the Beta Lambda circle, said yesterday.

"Only campus leaders of the highest calibre are eligible for this honor society," Brailey said. "Those who qualify with high standards in character, leadership and service in campus life, scholarship, fellowship, and consecration to democratic ideals should inquire concerning the possibilities of membership."

Membership in ODK is awarded on the basis of character and specified eligibility, irrespective of membership in other organizations. The local circle was installed May 23, 1947 with the following charter members:

Luther E. Bledsoe, Lester G. Brailey, Charles Connor, Carl Fisher, Maurice Flynn, Mervin Gutshall, Raymond E. Janssen, Kenneth K. Loemker, William Mason, Fred Moore, Walter Oppenheimer, Robert Perry, W. Henry Pitman, III, W. D. Preston, Lowell Sammons, and Dr. Stewart H. Smith.

At the installation dinner Dr. R. C. McDaniel, national president from the University of Richmond, told new members:

"Never was there a time when the type of leadership that colleges produce today so urgently needed. ODK represents this type."

VA OFFERS BOOKS

The Veterans Administration office has several text books to issue any veteran who needs them, William J. Vinson, Veterans Administration training officer, said today.

Free admission to all mixes for the rest of the year (with date) and a box of candy to the girl, or carton of cigarettes to the boy, who wins will be given as a prize, the committee added.

Schedule for the recreational hall will include week night hours of 7-10 P. M., Saturday hours of noon-12 P. M., and Sunday hours of 2-10 P. M.

The committee announced the following rules would be in effect for the contest:

1) Names may be submitted in the union, offices of the social deans, and Student Council office, 104 of the Engineering building, beginning Monday, October 20. Contest closes at noon Wednesday, October 22.

2) The name, address, and phone number of each contestant must accompany each entry.

3) Not more than 500 entries may be made by any one person.

4) Judges are to be Alice Carte and Bruno Pais, president of Laidley and Hodges Hall, respectively; Charles Proctor, president of the senior class; Charles Connor, editor of The Parthenon; and Social Deans Lillian H. Buskirk and Lester G. Brailey.

Student Polls Featured On Radio Program

"Man on the Campus," a 15-minute program consisting of interviews with students and faculty members, is recorded in the Shawkey Student Union on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 1:15 P. M. by WHTN, local radio station.

The program, conducted by Milton "Suppy" Supman, Huntington junior, includes informal questions and answers designed to reflect student opinion of the college and the city.

'Dame Fashion' Pushed Around In Campus Poll

Fashion designers are more unpopular than a tax collector these days and the new fashion in long skirts is the cause of it, as evidenced by a symposium conducted by The Parthenon this week. Of 119 students polled, 81 favored the shorter, more revealing skirt, 18 liked long hemlines and 20 people had no opinion or liked the long skirts, with reservations. The poll was conducted as a result of a request by Ted Malone, whose radio program "Between the Bookends" is heard daily over a coast-to-coast broadcast. Mr. Malone selected Marshall as one of a small group of representative colleges for his survey, the results of which he will present to the Fashion Group in New York.

Comments were brief and bitter among the ranks of the LBK (Little Below the Knee) group. Eddie Neal, Gauley Bridge sophomore, one of the 59 out of 72 who don't like long skirts said, "They are an obstruction to the most beautiful view on the campus." William "Boo" White, Richwood sophomore, said, "I've seen a lot worse, but it was in a nineteenth century fashion review." Johnny Potter, Huntington junior, was more abrupt. "They're indecent," he said.

There was a majority of women who disliked the "New Look." Of the 47 women questioned, 22 felt, with Mary Florence Black, Huntington freshman, that skirts "should be right below the knee." Carolyn Eaton, Chesapeake, Ohio, sophomore went a step further, "Long skirts should not be worn, they're sloppy looking," she exclaimed. Pat O'Connor, Charleston sophomore, thinks civilization is marching backward with the lengthening of hemlines.

"I think the new styles are horrible!" deplored Huntington senior Joanne Pinckard.

There were those who championed the cause of the longer skirts, however. The group was small, though, only 18 in 119. Five of the 72 men answering reporters' queries liked the "New Look," but for different reasons. One sophomore from South Point, Ohio, Charles Stevens, thinks it is high time something is done to hide the "bony knees" around the campus. Johnny Bess, Saint Albans junior gave his qualified approval. "I think they're really great," Johnny said.

Women who like the newer style constituted a larger percentage than men of the same opinion. There were 13 of the 47 who spoke in favor of the latest fashion in dress. Betty Ann Williams, Huntington junior and Lehoma Short, junior from Kermit think the new style looks better, and

Freshmen Elect Officers Today From 10:30 to 2

The freshman class will elect officers today in the west room of Shawkey Student Union from 10:30 A. M. until 2 P. M., Don Loudermilk, student president, announced following a meeting of Student Council Monday.

Because some freshmen were not aware of the petition method used to obtain candidacy, voters will be permitted to "write in" candidates. If a candidate's petition does not have the required 125 names, his name will not appear on the ballot, Loudermilk said.

Positions for editor and business manager of the Chief Justice, year book, for the coming year are open. Students interested are asked to attend the Student Council meeting Monday at 8 P. M. in the auditorium.

Sadie Hawkins Day activities officially start on the campus Friday, November 7, at 2:30 P. M., Loudermilk revealed.

A committee, composed of Art Blevins, John Taylor and Leslie Kinner, has been appointed to audit the Student Council's books.

Carl Fisher, Betty Jo Blair, Bob Burford and Bonnie Walton were appointed by the Student Court to serve as justices along with three faculty members, Loudermilk said.

The Council announced the election of William Dawson, Huntington junior, at a try-out Monday to fill the vacancy in the cheering squad created by the resignation of Medley Parks, Huntington junior.

The financial report of the Student Council is as follows: Expenditures: National Student Association delegation, $140; Freshman Week dance, $140; checks written by the 1945-46 Student Council, $38.57; and a $35.96 balance.

Marines Organize Engineer Reserve

The 14th Marine Reserve Engineer Company of Huntington has been organized and is in the process of recruiting members, Capt. Paul Ward, commanding officer, has announced.

Men from 17 to 32 years of age are eligible for enlistment and may obtain information about the organization at 14th Company Headquarters, located in the east end of the Cabell County Court House basement, any day except Sunday, Capt. Ward said. Meetings are held at this location Wednesday nights at 7:30.

Membership in the Organized Marine Corps Reserve entitles one to pay for weekly drills and summer training; authorization to make purchases at Marine Corps Post Exchanges, and other advantages, Capt. Ward added.

OFFICIALLY opening the sorority rush season Sunday afternoon, the Pan-Hellenic tea, pictured above at the height of its festivities, was held by sorority representatives for eligible women at the Shawkey Student Union.

You Name It!

Miami has its "Huddle," Bowling Green its "Falcon's Nest," and Iowa State sports a "Hall of Fame." Other schools throughout the nation have cleverly named their campus hang-outs, club houses, or recreational halls. Now we have the chance.

Our new recreational hall in the basement of the cafeteria needs a name for its christening next Wednesday night, October 22, at the student mix. Elsewhere in this issue may be found details of a contest announced this week by the social activities committee which will award the student submitting the best name with free admission (along with date) to all mixes and a box of candy (woman) or carton of cigarettes (man). The contest opens next Monday and closes Wednesday noon.

The social activities committee is calling upon all of us bright lads and lassies to think of something that may be worked into appropriate decorations for the hall. They fervently hope that our present clever student body will come up with an ear-and-eye-arresting title that not only we but later generations of Marshallites will like and consider part of the campus scene. In short, they'll welcome a name that will lend itself to campus tradition.

So it has to be good. That's where we come in. Put it down on your agenda for discussion with your friends, with your sorority, fraternity, or tonight's date. Yours may be just the name we need.

Willis And Cupp Take Honors

William E. Willis and Paul M. Cupp, Huntington seniors, have been accepted by the Honors committee for Readings for Honors in political science, Dr. Conley H. Dillon, head of the political science department, announced Monday. Both men are political science majors and both expect to receive their degrees this spring.

Willis is taking his honors course in Political Theory, Dr. Dillon said, and Cupp's course is in Constitutional Law and Theory.

Sigma Sigma Sigma, organized since 1922, is the oldest sorority on the campus.

An average of 126 calls are handled per hour at the telephone exchange in Old Main.

THE HOME ECONOMICS Club is sponsoring a party at 7 P. M. tonight in the Nursery School at 1650 Fifth Avenue. New members of the club will be presented to the old members in the first social affair of the season.

The Pre-Law Fraternity met last Wednesday, October 8, and the following temporary officers were elected: Eugene Elkins, West Hamlin senior, president, Lem Chadwick, Huntington junior, vice president; Carolyn Gough, Beechhurst, Long Island senior, secretary-treasurer. The fraternity has 20 members at present and it is open to all students interested in pre-law or political science, regardless of classification. Regularly scheduled meetings have been planned for every third Wednesday. The next meeting will be October 29, at 7:30 P. M. in Room 116 in Old Main.

THE CLASSICAL Association, under the direction of Dr. Lucy A. Whitsel, has made plans for a party to be held next Tuesday. Ruth Blackburn, chairman of the program announced plans to have The Ancient Ghost Tale as told by Pliny given at the meeting.

Eileen Sparlock of Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority announced her engagement to Tom Hackney, Phi Kappa Nu, with the traditional box of candy.

Pi Kappa Sigma sorority will have its traditional colonial rush party from 3 to 5 Saturday, October 18. Betty Jo Thomas is in charge of arrangements.

Alpha Sigma Tau sorority has completed plans for their rush parties. The first tea will be held Sunday, October 19 in the Laidley Hall lounge. The second informal party will be held in the parlor of the Hotel Governor Cabell on Wednesday, October 22. The third party will be a formal party to be held in The Governor Cabell. Hilda Oxley, rush chairman, is in charge of the parties.

The Saint Joseph parish chapter of Catholic Daughters of America will entertain the Newman Club with a reception at their home on Sixth Avenue. All Catholic students on the campus are invited and urged to attend.

Alpha Theta Chi fraternity had a rush party at the Hotel Governor Cabell Friday night.

Mural Football Enters Third Week

Phi Tau's Slaughter Teps, 66-0

By CHARLES OPPENHEIMER

Chances of the mural pigskin races cooling off stood at 100 to 1 in the negative today as the race for the title moved into its third week of play with previously unbeaten squads falling by the wayside in the redhot scramble.

Monday the Barboursville herd counted their second victory in an air tight battle with the previously unbeaten Portsmouth six, 21 to 18, while the Wolves, victims of Barboursville in an earlier outing, jumped into the win column with a 39-0 triumph over the twice beaten Madison Independents.

Lambda Chi Alpha boarded the victory bandwagon in a Friday tilt with the once beaten TEK gridders by a 14 to 0 win over that club. On the second end of that bill the Bombers trounced the Stinkers, 26 to 6. Thursday's play saw the Phi Tau Alpha Firsts take the unbeaten Teps for a gridiron hayride, 66-0, and Flight A Phi Kappa Nu Firsts, major contenders for the lead in that bracket, turned back the Newman Club, 25 to 13.

Aerials were the keynote of the Barboursville - Portsmouth meeting as the former moved in three plays to paydirt the first time they got their hands on the ball. Stallo pitched one to Powel for a score. The second Barboursville marker was another Stallo flip to Conley who raced 25 yards crossfield for the tally.

Within seconds of halftime Frecka, of Portsmouth, took an aerial just across the line of scrimmage and with some downfield blocking travelled 60 yards to the goal line. Frecka-knotted the score on the opening play of the third quarter kickoff as he took the ball on a reverse and sped past the Barboursville safety to score. Allen set up the third Barboursville tally, taking the ball on a pass off and hurling a 45-yard aerial to Powell who was tagged at the 10. Two plays later Conley passed to Griffin over right end or the marker and Allen converted. Portsmouth threatened to tie it up again as Carson pitched crossfield to Williams who uncorked a 40-yard toss to Frecka for the potential tying touchdown but Portsmouth failed to convert and the totals stood at 19 to 18 in favor of Barboursville.

The final tally of the contest came as Corrbelt drew back for a toss for Portsmouth and was tagged as he stepped out of bounds for a safety.

Scoring in every period, the Wolves tallied first on a Bess to Reynolds aerial and later, with Bess again doing the pitching, this time to Law for the tally. Conway made it three markers for the Wolves when he intercepted a Madison heave and raced 20 yards for the score. Bess returned to his aerial game with passes to Maynard and Law for third period Wolf markers and then scored himself on a toss from Curry. All three extra points were Bess pitches.

LOST

Brown wallet containing $13, driver's license, discharge, and student activity card, bearing the name Thomas B. Workman. Finder may keep the money, but is requested to return the wallet and the cards to the office of the dean of men.

THINGS WERE HOT at the pep thuse Saturday night, just prior to the Green-Canisius grid clash, the Dad's Day feature. Look at that bon fire ! But the turnout was sparse and a lot of good effort was wasted.

GREEN TO LEAVE FRIDAY FOR EVANSVILLE TILT

By ERNIE SALVATORE

The Big Green eleven was in the middle of preparations today for its fifth start of the season Saturday against Evansville, Ind., State College. The contest, a night affair, will be played in the new Evansville stadium.

Luther R. Poling, Athletic Director, said today that the 31-man Marshall squad would leave the campus by bus early Friday morning for its first invasion of the midwest this year.

In losing to a superbly coached Canisius team last Saturday night, 25-10, the Big Green was not disgraced. Better than 9,000 fans were in the Fairfield Stadium stands roaring in approval for what has been called "the best postwar college game in Huntington."

The Griffins found a weakness in the Herd pass defense midway through the second period and exploded with awesome swiftness for three consecutive scores. Nailing touchdown passes were Jim Naples and Al Chorny while Chet Kwasek ambled 40 yards for the third. The clincher came with three and one-half minutes of playing time left and culminated an 80-yard advance. Kwasek went over from the two. Howie Willis made good his only conversion after the first score.

Marvin Wetzel capped a 55-yard Herd march in the first period by driving over from the one yard line. Bobby Hartley failed to convert.

Charlie Fieldson thrilled the crowd in the second with a sparkling 70-yard touchdown run, featured by a fine Hartley block. Hartley converted.

Hartley put the Green in front in the third session when he finished a 70-yard march with a three-yard sprint into paydirt. He converted successfully.

Starting for the Green: Bob Koontz and Norman Willey, ends; Summers Jarrett and Bob Sang, tackles; Claude Miller and Dan Clark, guards; Ivan Henthorne, center; Don Gibson, Bob Hartley, Charlie Fieldson and Marvin Wetzel, backs.

WAA Schedules 16 Activities For This Year

The Womens Athletic Association has launched its intramurals program under the supervision of Miss Louise McDonough with 16 activities on slate for this year.

Two sports now in play are tennis and horse shoe singles. In the most recent tennis singles games Carolyn Gough defeated Heath McIntosh, Janice Callaway defeated Mary Kay Mackey, Laura Kash defeated Marie Copley, and Anna Slater defeated Bobbie Lee.

In the horse shoe singles, play is in the third round. Monday afternoon Ann Hesh defeated Theresa Del Cont, Nancy G. Woodson defeated Chris Foster, and Mary Pyles defeated Lucy Ann McKenzie.

The badminton entry sheets have been posted with the deadline set next Tuesday.

Other activities slated for this year are hockey, hiking, aerial darts, volley ball, ping pong, bowling, handball, basketball, baseball and tennis doubles. Mixed activities include volley ball and badminton. Plans are underway for a swimming meet in March and a Play Day in May.

'DAME FASHION'

Huntington sophomore Jean King showed definite sympathy with the long skirt cause when she said.

"I wear long skirts and I love 'em."

Twenty of the entire number of students polled liked the long skirts on some girls, but not on others. Eighteen men fell into this "neutral" division, one of whom, Wheeling senior Andy Tonkivitch voiced his opinion with, "I think they're terrific on tall, 'slanky' girls. Short girls—short dresses." Charles Morris, a sophomore from Logan thinks a long skirt "becomes a tall woman."
