CAGE SEASON BEGINS MONDAY

Big Green To Begin Bowl Drills

Marshall's Tangerine Bowl bound football team was about ready to buckle down for an extensive three weeks practice stretch today in preparation for its New Year's Night engagement with Catawba College of Salisbury, N. C., at Orlando, Fla.

Under the guidance of Assistant Coach Roy Straight, who will fill in for Coach Cam Henderson for this first post-season football contest in the history of the school, the squad will spend the early part of next week getting tuned up for the harder work ahead.

Word from the Athletic Department as to a travelling schedule will not be forthcoming for at least another three days. The problem of what to do with Norman Willey and Bob Koontz, the regular ends who are preparing for the Big Green basketball team's western excursion, was still up in the air.

Catawba, winners of 30 out of its last 34 games, scored a victory in the initial Tangerine Bowl offering last year. The game, sponsored by the Elks lodge of that city, will be played in Tinker Field, which seats 14,000 for football.

Hodges Hall Men Enforce Freshman Rules In Dorm

New rules for freshman residents of Hodges Hall went into effect Wednesday, Bruno Pais, president, said today.

Freshmen must now learn the names of all upperclassmen and must speak to them at all times. They must answer the telephone before the third ring if they are near it. If the call is during quiet hours, the freshman must personally summons the recipient of the call. Freshmen must also attend all house meetings.

Violators of the rules will be brought before a committee for punishment, Pais said.

MARSHALL COLLEGE STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Vol. 46

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.

No. 23

TWELVE WOMEN MAKE 'WHO'S WHO'

Twelve women were notified this week of their selection to represent Marshall in the 1947-48 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," Mrs. Veta Lee Smith, college secretary, announced Wednesday. No men have yet been recommended to fill the college quota of 23.

Based upon character, scholarship, leadership in extra-curricular activities, and possibility of future usefulness to business and community life, the 12 selected by the dean of women's office are as follows:

Betty Jo Blair, Virginia Blanton, Alice Carte, Ann Clark, Emma Jane Dunbar, Iras Rae Farley, Sally Gracie, Ruth Ann Jenkins, Marlyn Knotts, Lucy Ann McKenzie, Bonnie Walton, and Betty Lee West.

Yearbook Staff Promotes Sales

A plan to enable students to give a subscription to the Chief Justice as a Christmas gift has been completed, John Lair, circulation manager, announced yesterday.

Subscriptions for the Chief Justice will go on sale next week, Lair said, at the Student Union, Old Main and Chief Justice Office between 9 A. M. and 4 P. M. at $2.50 each. Further information may be obtained at the Chief Justice office in the basement of College Hall, Lair said.

Betty Jo Blair Is Crowned 'Miss Marshall'

Miss Betty Jo Blair, Huntington senior, was crowned "Miss Marshall College" at the Victory Ball Thanksgiving night at Radio Center as 1,000 students, alumni, and friends of Marshall celebrated the Herd's decisive 40-6 triumph over Morris Harvey's Golden Eagles in an afternoon contest at Fairfield Stadium.

Marvin Wetzel, Big Green full-back who scored three of the touchdowns made against the Eagles; and Dick Roberts, Herd end who caught a touchdown pass, were cited as the outstanding Marshall back and lineman of the day and presented gold footballs at the dance. Also honored with gold footballs were Claude Miller and Chuck Fieldson, who were selected as the most valuable Marshall players for the season.

Miss Blair's attendants at the traditional Victory Ball, sponsored jointly this year by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the college, were Miss Felice Jobe, junior representative; Miss Mary Jenkins, sophomore representative; and Miss Gloria Pack, freshman representative.

SCIENCE HALL BIDS OPEN

President Stewart H. Smith, Comptroller Fred R. Smith and President Raymond Brewster of the State Board of Education were in Charleston yesterday for the opening of bids on Marshall's new $1,500,000 Science Hall, Mrs. Ethel E. Martin, secretary to the comptroller, announced.

UPPERCLASSMEN REGISTRATION SET

Juniors, seniors and full-time graduate students will begin registration Wednesday, December 10, and continue through noon Saturday, December 20, Luther E. Bledsoe, registrar, announced yesterday.

Following the plan adopted this year to facilitate registration, seniors will register with their academic deans, juniors will register with the heads of their major departments and graduate students will register in the office of the chairman of the graduate council.

Detailed plans concerning the registration of sophomores and freshmen will be announced in The Parthenon Wednesday, December 17.

This plan gives priority to seniors and should enable them to enroll in the courses they need for graduation, Mr. Bledsoe explained. It will also eliminate the necessity for the formal registration in the library that has been used in previous years.

FOUR REPRESENTATIVES TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Four students will represent Marshall at the convention of the Student Government Association of West Virginia Colleges on December 12 and 13 at West Virginia Wesleyan, Don Loudermilk, student president announced. Representatives selected are Huntington seniors Charles Proctor and Don Loudermilk along with Don Williamson, Huntington freshman and Pat Foley, Waverly sophomore, Loudermilk said.

Toothman, James To Lead Green

By ERNIE SALVATORE

Marshall's National Intercollegiate Basketball Champions will raise the curtain on its lengthy 1947-48 schedule Monday night when it hosts the perennially strong Morehead State College Eagles at Radio Center.

A capacity crowd of 5,000 fans is expected at the downtown arena to see the Big Green in action for the first time since it electrified the basketball world in March with a spectacular triumph in the NAIR marathon at Kansas City.

Missing from the lineup will be All-American Bill Hall who poured 550 points through the nets during '46-47 and Mervin "The Clutch" Gutshall, the nerveless little guard who more than once connected with points when they were desperately needed in the Kansas City classic.

Six familiar faces will be in uniform, however. Back again are Andy Tonkovich, Gene James, Bill Toothman, Dick Erickson, Bob Wright, and Jimmy Bakalis.

Coach Cam Henderson announced this morning that Toothman, the fancy dan ball handler, and James, the stone faced, elongated center, will co-captain this year's quintet. James, an All-American last year, tallied 403 points for the title squad while Toothman, an Second team All-American closed fast to register 281.

No starting lineup was forthcoming from Coach Henderson but indications were that James, Toothman, Tonkovich, and Bob Koontz, the footballer and ex-East High star, would be in there at the start. The remaining slot is a toss-up among Erickson, Wright, Charlie Justice, Harold Owens, Charlie Ward, and Jimmy Wilson, the great pre-war star who is back for two more years.

Student Council Schedules Mix

Students will get in the pre-Christmas swing next Wednesday night when the Student Council opens the doors of The Greenhouse, at 7:45, to admit couples to the fourth general mix of the year.

The Bison-aires, composed of campus musicians, will play from 7:45 until 10:00. Admission prices will be 25 cents per person.

NOTICE!

In view of the number of requests being made by students for permission to be absent from classes immediately preceding the Christmas vacation, it seems desirable for the College to clarify its position with respect to absences:

1. A student is expected to be present at all class sessions.
2. Unavoidable absences, such as those due to health, death in the immediate family, or similar causes should be reported promptly to the instructors concerned. In such cases and whenever possible, the instructors will provide an opportunity for the student to make up work missed.
3. When a student misses classes for reasons other than those stated above, he does so at the risk of jeopardizing his academic standing.

The Chief Justice

We took a jab at The Chief Justice earlier this year with the hope that those parties to be placed in charge of production would respond sufficiently to give Marshall the type of yearbook our college deserves. Action taken since that date by the Student Council and those they placed in charge—Editor Richard Barton, Associate Editor Virginia Williams, Circulation Manager John Lair and a total of six former editors of high school annuals—indicates that we'll have an annual that will go down among our best.

The staff promises that everyone's picture will be in this year's offering. Sitings are already underway. Two page layouts for sororities and fraternities and other campus organizations are in the production schedule. A king-sized feature is a recording of "Alma Mater" and the "Sons of Marshall" enclosed in a special jacket, something worthwhile not only to disc jockey fans but to all students as a memento to keep for years to come.

Aerial balloons were released last week with free Chief Justice subscription blanks enclosed (so far unheard from), and plans for a Balloon Ball are now being made at which time a few additional free subscriptions will be enclosed in a shower of balloons to be released during the dance. All the ballyhoo that accompanies a well-planned publicity campaign has been drummed up by alert staff members.

But to date only 10 annuals have been sold.

Despite this pitiful showing the staff is not downhearted but is digging in with tremendous effort to give Marshall students a worthy mirror of their college life.

The staff guarantees that this year's yearbook will be twice as thick as last year's, and in a 9 in. by 12 in. format, physically larger than last year's 8 1/4 by 11 in. production.

All of this indicates that twice as much will be given for our money, yet the bargain mounts even greater because the subscription price has been cut to $2.50

Editor Richard Barton said this week that the faculty is giving The Chief Justice a terrific amount of support, but that the full backng of students is yet to come. A slambang subscription campaign with circulation booths in the Student Union and in Chief Justice offices in Old Main is now underway. The circulation department is working toward a goal of 1,000 subscriptions from a student body of over 3,400. They hope to reach this goal because the more annuals they can

Speech Class Plans Recital

The first of two reading programs of Christmas stories will be presented at 4 P. M. Sunday, December 7, in Main 120 by students of the Oral Interpretations class, Miss Kathleen Robertson, instructor in speech, announced this week. Janice Calloway will read R. N. Alden's "Why the Chimes Rang" and Doris Wonn will read Van Dyk's "The Other Wise Man."

Presentation of the second Christmas program, a cutting of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," will be Sunday, December 14, at 4 P. M., with Nell Kenaston, Bill Kearnes, Milton Supman, Howard Bond and Don Loudermilk taking part.

Scholarships Open To Grads

Pepsi-Cola Scholarships are open to college seniors who can qualify and care to do graduate work in either the United States or Canada. These 26 three-year graduate fellowships will be awarded to outstanding college seniors, Dr. J. Frank Bartlett, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, announced.

To qualify a student must be graduated from an accredited college or university in the United States during the 1947-48 school year and enter graduate work not later than the fall of 1948.

The main restriction is that the students applying must be in need of financial aid.

"Any student can get full information from this office," Dr. Bartlett said.

Betty Lee West.

Faye Davis was elected as Theta Rho prep mistress. The Theta Rho preps will sponsor a rummage sale at Rankins Transfer Co. on 6th Avenue Saturday at 10 A. M.

THE INDEPENDENTS will meet at 7 P. M. Tuesday in Room 200 of the Engineering Building. The meetings have been changed from Monday to Tuesday night.

The pre-holiday season is ringing wedding bells as well as tidings of joy with announcement of the engagement of Parthenon Editor Charles K. Connor to Miss Nancy Ellen McGrew, the forthcoming marriage of Jane Dunbar to Glen Fitzsimmons on December 21 at Charleston and the approaching marriage of former student Lucille Bowman to John Garret Callihan, Jr., on December 20 at Danville, W. Va.

THURSDAY, December 11, the English department will have a luncheon in the college cafeteria in honor of Dudley Glass, Australian lecturer.

SENIORS NOTE!

Individual pictures of all graduating seniors are scheduled to be taken for the Chief Justice Monday, December 15, Wednesday, December 17 and Thursday, December 18. Pictures will be made at the Henderschott-Ostoski Studios.

Seniors are asked to make arrangements for these pictures as soon as possible at the Chief Justice office in the basement of College Hall. It is necessary that this picture schedule be completed by December 12. Local students may make special arrangements to be photographed during the Christmas holiday.

SENIORS SEEKING WORK SEE DEAN WILBURN

Teachers College seniors who expect to graduate at the end of this semester and who wish to seek employment through the college should call at the dean's office and fill out forms necessary to complete a record of their credentials, Dr. D. Banks Wilburn, dean of Teachers College, said yesterday.

S.A.C. Approves Organization Of New Clubs

The Social Activities Committee has approved the recommendation of the College Council for the organization of the Men's Physical Education Association and the German Club, Mrs. Veta Lee Smith, college secretary announced.

The Men's Physical Education Association, made up of majors and minors in that field, is headed by George Surgeon, Huntington senior, and Mr. F. D. Fitch, Jr., associate professor of physical education, faculty advisor.

The German Club is composed of students studying German. Presiding is Edward Kiska, Carlisle, W. Va. junior, with Dr. Edith B. Weiss, associate professor of German and Spanish, and Dr. Julius Lieberman, associate professor of German, as advisors.

WEAR ONLY 'M's' VARSITY ASKS

Only Marshall "M's" should be worn on the campus, the Varsity "M" club announced today, in asking that all other athletic letters from high schools and colleges be stripped from sweaters to comply with Marshall tradition.

President Arthur Blevins said that no compulsory action would be forthcoming but that letter winners from other schools should out of common decency comply with Marshall tradition while a student at this college.

'Foreside' Resets Closing Date For Contest

Entry deadline for "The Foreside" contest has been extended two weeks, W. D. Oppenheimer, secretary-treasurer of The Washington Manufacturing Company, sponsors of the contest, said yesterday. Seventy-five dollars in cash prizes will be awarded for the best letters not exceeding 100 words telling why the "Foreside" pocket is better than conventional pockets.

Entries should be mailed to the company at 210 Twentieth Street.

MAIL EARLY !

Only five days remain for mailing Christmas cards and packages that are sure to be delivered by December 25, Huntington Postmaster Fred Lunsford informed The Parthenon Wednesday. In setting next Wednesday, December 10, as a "Mail Early" deadline, Mr. Lunsford pointed to overloaded facilities and slower holiday transportation as reasons why Christmas mailing should be done now.

2,000,000 school - age children are not attending school—either because there is no school to go to, because of laxly enforced school laws, or because the school program lacks interest, vitality, and even educational value.

So far no indication of such support has been forthcoming. For our own good and that of our Chief Justice, we'd better start thinking it over. It'll really be our own tough luck if we fail to back our Chief Justice.

Screwballs Whip Stars For Mural Grid Crown

By CHARLES OPPENHEIMER

A good slogan for luring high school athletes to Marshall would be, "Join the Big Green and See America First!"

Not many colleges in America can claim the distinction of having its basketball team compete in a national holiday tournament at the same time its football team is playing a bowl contest.

The fact that such a situation exists here is a perfect testimonial to the teaching genius of Coach CamHenderson and his assistants, Roy Straight and Joe Pease.

Frank Gatski, ace center of the Cleveland Browns, once said, "I really appreciated my playng days under Mr. Henderson the first day we had a scrimmage at Cleveland. All those big stars that Eddie Ulinski (also of Marshall) and I were playing against were strictly from hunger on a lot of fundamentals that were taken seriously while playing at Marshall. Jim Pearcy of the Chicago Rockets will tell you the same thing."

Catawaba College, Marshall's Tangerine Bowl foe, has not been held scoreless in 72 consecutive games and are currently the 20th team in the nation, according to the Associated Press.

Claude Miller and Charlie Fieldson, heirs definite to the 1948 co-captaincies, were the two best choices for the most valuable lineman and most valuable back awards.

Marvin Wetzel and Dick Roberts were likewise 14-carat choices for outstanding back and lineman in the Morris Harvey Turkey Day encounter.

It was especially gratifying to see Roberts come in for his chunk of glory. His hard work, his untiring determination, finally paid off.

And in conclusion, a salute to the other wearers of the Green: Norman Willey, Bob Koontz, Charlie Snyder, Bob Sang, Danny Clark, Bill Whitehead, Ike Henthorne, Joe McCoy, Jim Rockwell, Chasey Wilson, Don Gibson, Bob Hartley, ad infinitum, ad infinitum.

Side Shots: John Roten will enter George Washington in February . . . Sheffer Clark is attending WVU's Law School . . . Lenny Nelson will marry in Washington, Conn., December 27th . . . Wayne University of Detroit may be a 1948 home grid foe . . . Charlie Snyder has been approached by the Pittsburgh Steelers with a better than fair offer . . . "Babe" Mazza and Marge Byrne are heading for the eternal knot . . . Let's beat the drums for the sports pep assembly next Friday morning in the auditorium!

Climaxing one of the most keenly contested mural football races in the school's history, the Flight D Screwballs emerged victorious, 14-9, over the All Stars to walk off with the pigskin championship in the season's finale Tuesday.

A crowd of 200 fans was on hand to see the Stars take the lead in the second quarter when George Brackman and Phil Bardwell charged through to block John Sayre's punt and tally a safety. Moments later, with the All Star aerial offensive clicking, Johnny Gatewood tossed to Lew Wilcox who lateraled back, and Gatewood hustled 35 yards down the sidelines for the score. Brackman looted the extra point.

The Screwballs came back with a marker of their own n the closing seconds of the second frame as Sayre shovel-passed to Elbert Gutzwiller and then cut through the All Star secondary to take a 15-yard flip and go over for the touchdown. Sayre was also on the end of a toss for the extra point.

With six minutes to go in the closing chukker, the Screwballs jumped into the lead when Sayre uncorked a 20-yard aerial to George Hontas who crossed the goal. Gene White passed for the extra point.

CAROLYN GOUGH, Beechurst, L. I., senior, recently won the woman's singles badminton championship when she routed Phil Edleman, Charleston junior, by scores of 11-0, 11-1.

Cancellations Mar Pool Inaugural

Twenty-two postponements marred the opening of the annual pocket billiards tournament at the Keith-Albee Recreations Wednesday evening. Only three first round matches were completed.

In the three matches played Tom Hamill, Phi Tau Alpha, defeated Baker, 25-10; Joe D. Schweitzer defeated Jack Keatley, 25-15; and Bill Rader edged Phil Garber, 25-24.

Phi Kappa Nu's Runaway Triumph Highlights Mural Cage Competition

The basketball campaign entered its third week of play Monday with the following results: Deacons 19, Big Sandy Boys 42; Tartans 22, ASB 21; Ceredo Bank 37, Newman 38; Greenbrier 30, Geeks 38.

Allen Court 33, Alpha Theta Chi 13; Phi Kappa Nu Firsts 85, Horrible Handful 17; Phi Kappa Nu Seconds 23, Wolfpack 35; Slick Chicks 15, Lions 40; Phi Tau Alpha Thirds 59, Phi Kappa Nu Thirds 10; All Stars 26, Highlanders 15; Scattered Herd 35, Presbyterians 22.

In the Phi Kap Firsts 85-17 win over the Horrible Handful, the biggest score recorded thus far this season, Hall dropped in 21 points and Van Zant 20. John Lowe flipped 25 markers through the cords

CANARY CURE LAUDED

HARTFORD, Conn., (AP)—A canary, when it is "down in its warbles," needed a "throat-opener," says Mrs. Catherine Grasso, canary breeder and judge, but even then it shows a lot more sense than some human beings.

Mrs. Grasso said here at the first canary show in Connecticut history that a "drop of whisky or a bit of gin" was the best thing for restoring the canary's warbles, "but the cure never makes it drunk."

"Men are in the habit of taking the cure before they get sick," she added. Then, sometimes, they need eye-openers, she said.
