Netters destroy W. Va. State

By LYNN HOBBS
Sports Writer

The men's tennis team will enter this weekend's matches with a winning record thanks to its 9-0 victory Wednesday against West Virginia State at the Gullikson Hall courts.

The one-sided victory extended the netters' mark to 6-5, the second time this season they have had a winning record. So complete was Marshall's victory Wednesday that it won all 18 sets played.

It was the second time this season the Herd had defeated State, having won the first meeting March 27 by the same score in Charleston. MU tennis coach Bill Carroll said State played better Wednesday than in the first meeting.

The singles scores were (first through sixth) Alan Greenstein over Greg Godby, 6-2, 6-2; Pat Clay over Jerry Pennell, 6-0, 6-0; Dana Russell over Gerald Hairston, 6-0, 6-1; Tom Dawson over John Wines, 6-1, 6-1; Mark Maher over Bill Duncan, 6-1, 6-2; and Dave Sisk over Art Powling, 6-1, 6-1.

The doubles scores were (first through third) Greenstein and Russell over Godby and Pennell, 6-0, 6-1; Clay and Dawson over Hairston and Powling, 6-1, 6-0; and Maher and Sisk over Wines and Duncan, 6-2, 6-0.

For Marshall, it was the squad's third win in a row. The first two came Saturday and Sunday when it defeated Southern Conference rival VMI (7-2) and Roanoke College (9-0). The loss dropped State's record to 2-4.

Marshall's weekend opponents are a mystery to Carroll, who said he is not familiar with any of the teams. The first of the three matches is Friday at 3 p.m. at Georgetown (Ky.) College.

The netters then travel to Danville, Ky. for a tri-match against Centre College (the host team) and Bellarmine College. Earlier this season, Marshall was originally scheduled to play Centre in Huntington March 24 but the match was canceled because of rain.

Marshall returns to its home courts on April 24 when it meets Morris Harvey for the second time this season. MU dealt with Morris Harvey 9-0 the first time the schools met.

Two more for softballers

By TAMMY TUPIS

Marshall's softball team evened its record at 5-5 Wednesday as it swept a doubleheader from West Liberty State, 10-2 and 10-9, at St. Clouds Common.

For the Green Gals, the double win marked the first time in their two-year history that they have reached the .500 (percentage) mark. Last season, Marshall was winless in 16 games.

"Marshall is making a name for itself," Coach Linda Holmes said. She added other teams are now "shocked" when Marshall beats them. Last season, West Liberty defeated the Green Gals twice by the score of 11-1.

In the first game, Marshall had six hits and collected 10 walks off West Liberty pitching. "The team had a good-hitting game," Holmes said.

West Liberty tallied single runs in the second and seventh innings off Rowland.

Debbie Hutton, Marshall's designated hitter, had three runs-batted-in, while shortstop Thea Garland added two more. Jill Rowland picked up the win for the Green Gals, surrendering only three hits and two walks while whiffing four.

Marshall scored seven runs in the first three innings of the game to put the contest away early.

Hutton scored in the first inning on a double steal and scored again as part of the four-run third inning.

"In the first couple of innings the team made too many elementary errors," Holmes said.

"However, the team played excellent ball. We were down and came back to win."

Junior Kathy Kensing started her first game of the season for Holmes and was credited with the win. "Kathy was apprehensive about pitching and her pitching was too slow in the first few innings," Holmes said. "As the game progressed, she gained control and pitched a good game."

The team that has recently discovered victory has eight days off before its next contest on April 19 at West Virginia Tech.

Team gets five school records

Gals win tri-team meet

By VICKI DEAN

Placing first in 11 of 15 events and scoring everyone entered in the competition, Marshall's women's track team won the three-team meet at Rio Grande College, according to Arlene Stooke, coach.

In the process, Marshall established five school records while scoring 92 points, compared to 61 from Rio Grande and six by Marietta College.

Record holders include Deana Carter, Proctorville, Ohio, freshman, who leaped 5'6" in only her second meet as high jumper.

Sherri Proffitt, Logan junior, for the third consecutive meet broke her own record in the long jump. Proffitt surpassed her old mark by two inches with a jump of 17'11".

Huntington freshman Janet Bassford set a record with her time of 5:34.1 in the one-mile run.

Nancy Gainer, Beckley sophomore, also broke a record in the two-mile run with a time of 12:42.

Lynda Nutter, Charleston junior, established a school record with a time of 1:09.2 in the 440-yard hurdles.

Robin Silman, Faber, Va., sophomore, was the top scorer on the team with two first-place and one second-place finishes.

Silman captured the top spot in the 100-meter hurdles (17.4) and the shot put (36'6"). She placed second in the high jump with a leap of 5'4".

In the relay events, the 440-yard team of Vicki Stroud, Gallipolis, Ohio, freshman; Tina Hale, Charleston freshman; Susan Williams, Glenville sophomore; and Carter placed first with a time of 50.4 in a close race, beating Rio Grande by only one-tenth of a second.

The mile-relay team also placed first, with a time of 4:15, consisting of Debbie Hall, St. Albans senior, Bassford, Carter and Williams. Carter again was a last-minute substitute for the injury-plagued Donna Nutter, Charleston sophomore.

Other first-place finishers included Hall in the 200-yard dash (26.8) and the 440-yard dash (62.0) and Bassford in the 880-yard run (2:33.4).

Susan Williams debuted as a middle distance runner in the 880-yard run, finishing with a time of 2:33.4.

880-yard run. Stooke said Williams ran the event for the first time and placed second with a time of 2:34.5.

Other second-place finishers included Lanita Wentzel, Parkersburg senior, in the javelin throw; Jean Silbaugh, Scott Depot sophomore, in the discus throw and the shot put; Karen Sprague, Bidwell, Ohio, sophomore, in the two-mile run; and Brenda Cunningham, South Charleston freshman, in the 440-yard dash.

Third-place finishers were Stroud in the long jump and 100-yard dash; and Hale in the 200-yard dash.

Fourth-place finishers were Silbaugh in the javelin throw; Rita Simmons, Winfield sophomore, in the discus throw; Megan Nardo, Weirton freshman, in the 100-meter hurdles; and Deanna Carter in the 100-yard dash.

Stooke described the meet as "very exciting" with many close races.

"The team members deserve credit—everyone contributed their best to the total outcome," she said. "It shows that everyone on the team was doing their part."

Marshall's next meet is a dual meet Saturday at the Tartan track, when they will host Asbury College from Wilmore, Ky.

Stu adds two more to 1979 recruit lists

The men's basketball team has added two more members as two high schoolers signed national letters of intent with Marshall.

Huntington High's David Wade and Powell Valley (Tenn.) High School's Barry Kincaid became the second and third members of the Herd's 1979 recruit class Wednesday.

Wednesday was the first day a basketball recruit could sign the national letter.

The two join 6-8 Mike Fennell as new members of Coach Stu Aberdeen's team. Fennell is a transfer from Baylor University in Waco, Texas. Fennell, who practiced with the team this season, will be eligible for competition in January, 1980.

Both Wade and Kincaid had signed non-binding letters with Marshall, Wade in December and Kincaid on April 3. Wade will be a back-up to starting left wing George Washington next year and Kincaid will have a similar role behind right wing James Campbell.

This season marks the second in a row that Aberdeen has signed a recruit from Huntington High.

Last season Larry Watson signed.

The Herd will sign only one more player at the most this season, according to assistant coach C.J. Woollum. Woollum said the Herd is searching for a quality big man.

"Right now we're involved with a handful of prospects," Woollum said. "We are going after quality players. We are not just going to sign a body."

Woollum expects he and the coaches will know by the end of April if they will sign any more recruits.

"Right now we are following through on some players," he said. "It will be a while before we know if we'll land one."

"We have set a goal, and if we are fortunate, we will sign a big guy," Woollum said. "However, we are not in a state of panic. We feel secure with our big men now, especially with Fennell," he said.

Track team faces Appalachian State Men to compete in dual

By SCOTT BARTON
Sports Writer

One of the toughest conference track teams, Appalachian State, will come to Huntington for a dual meet Friday at the Marshall track.

Field events start at 2 p.m., and track events at 3 p.m.

MU coach Rod O'Donnell said, "Appalachian State is a super team. I would have to say they're almost as good as VMI (Virginia Military Institute)."

VMI is the conference track power. It won the outdoor title last year and has already won this year's indoor meet.

Appalachian State finished second in outdoor track last year and finished third in this year's indoor meet.

O'Donnell said he had been worried that many of the Herd's top competitors would miss this meet due to injuries, but at this time only sprinter Mike Bailey should miss the meet. Terry Blankenship, a middle distance runner, is questionable.

"We're not 100 percent ready, but we're a lot farther along than I thought we would be," O'Donnell said.

O'Donnell said to beat Appalachian, Marshall would have to match them point for point throughout the meet. He said the key would be getting super scoring from the distances and the weights.

Appalachian State has good depth and someone who is a conference contender in every event, O'Donnell said.

Appalachian's top performers are Lafette Jordan in the 400-meter dash, David Ward in the pole vault, Mel Hubbard and Bob Terry in the high jump.

Jordan is the conference record-holder in the 400-meter with a time of 46.93. That time is also the Marshall tartan track record, set in last year's conference meet.

Hubbard is another tartan track and conference record holder. Hubbard jumped 7'0" winning last year's conference meet.

The other high jumper, Terry, has personal best of 6'10", while pole vaulter Ward has a personal best in the pole vault of 15'6".

Last year Appalachian won the meet 87-75 in Boone, N.C.

Marshall will also be running against Western Carolina Monday at 3 p.m.

O'Donnell said Western Carolina was not as deep as Appalachian State, but he was expecting a good meet.

Last year Marshall won 84-70 in Cullowhee, N.C. O'Donnell said Western Carolina has good sprinters and usually is strong in the jumping events.

O'Donnell said the two dual meets would be important, not only because they would be conference meets, but because it would be a win-loss situation. Marshall has competed in three non-scored invitationals.

Although these are conference meets, they are not the Southern Conference championships. Anything can happen when you get nine teams together for a meet, O'Donnell said.

Now comes Miller time.

Students face extra requirements

Foreign enrollment declines

By PONG YOUNG HEILIAN
Reporter

Foreign student enrollment will decline because of restrictions and the number of undergraduate prerequisite courses for international students, according to Judith Miller, international student adviser.

Miller's files show that at the end of last semester, 62 foreign students either graduated or transferred to other schools, while this semester 34 new students enrolled, bringing the total foreign student enrollment to about 300.

The requirement of the $5,500 enrollment deposit at Marshall Financial Aid Office at least 30 days prior to expected registration will cause prospective students to hesitate when they have the opportunity of choosing among different schools.

According to the Admissions Office such a requirement is necessary to guarantee that foreigners coming to Marshall will have no problem in paying their tuition and fees, living expenses and the purchase of necessary textbooks and supplies.

Miller explained that delays in the arrival of checks from abroad prompted this requirement.

In addition Marshall does not issue an I-20 Certificate of Eligibility, a necessity in obtaining a United States visa, until the $5,500 deposit is made at Marshall.

For this reason, some foreign students will be unable to come to Marshall because their governments will not negotiate currency exchange for them without an I-20 document from their expected schools, Miller said.

The deposit requirement does not apply to students on scholarships from governments or other recognized agencies.

The other reason for the reduced number of foreign students coming to Marshall is job restrictions.

International students may work on campus without having to obtain authorization from immigration officials, but campus jobs are few and far between, Miller said.

Most students employed on campus are in the work-study program, which is federally funded and requires U.S. citizenship and qualifies.

According to the U.S. Immigration office, a foreign student cannot work off-campus without a working permit, which is difficult to get from the immigration office.

The other limitation on foreign students is that the foreign graduate students have to make up undergraduate prerequisite courses.

TKE reconstruction continues

By PATRICIA STANEK
Reporter

Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity came another step closer to completing its reconstruction program with the election of new officers.

All the officers elected are new members to the TKE organization. The top four positions have been filled by Adrian "Butch" Haynes Jr., Welch junior, president; Mickey Porter, Milton sophomore, vice president; Brent Martin, Roanoke, Va., sophomore, secretary; and Mike Hubbard, Martinsburg sophomore, treasurer.

"The new members are very eager to make Tau Kappa Epsilon the number one fraternity on campus," according to Bruce Carter, public relations man for the fraternity. "They are trying to get organized by themselves.

"The new officers want to become the backbone of the fraternity and are going in on their own," Carter said. "They will, however, rely on advice from the alumni and national headquarters."

The reconstruction program is coming along just fine, according to Carter. "Time is the only factor going against us now," he said. "The summer break will be coming soon and then everyone will be leaving for home."

Carter said the main concern now is rewriting the bylaws of the fraternity's charter. "The decisions are being made by the new members and they are going in the direction they want to go," Carter stated. "The new members are working well with the old members and there is no rivalry."

Even though there was no pledging of new members allowed for the first semester, a lot of interest was generated when new members were being sought. The main attraction was since there was no pledging, the members became active immediately.

Carter said they didn't refuse anyone but were selective in the type of person they asked to join their group. They actively recruited those they knew were willing to work hard and whose help the fraternity needed. The fraternity consists of 16 new members and 15 old members.

During the probationary period, the fraternity will be involved in public service activities and fund-raising campaigns. According to Carter the fraternity has an event or project scheduled for every weekend this month. This Saturday it is having a car wash and its Spring formal is later this month. It is also sending a team to the IKE softball tournament in Lexington.

Plans for reconstruction extend even into the summer with a restoration job scheduled on the house. The fraternity plans to have the wiring and plumbing replaced and the members who live at the house want to paint and fix up the inside, Carter said. "The board of trustees are helping us with trying to obtain a loan from the bank to fix the house this summer," according to Carter.

Last day to donate blood to Red Cross

By PAM THOMPSON
Reporter

The Red Cross Blood Drive sponsored by Student Health Programs and Marshall Student Government continues today in Memorial Student Center Multi-purpose Room. The drive will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Competition for this drive will consist of dorm floors and wings from both men and women's residence halls and Greek organizations.

All groups will be counted equally by both numbers of people donating and percentage of the possible number of people able to donate.

The Greek organizations will have the fraternity with the largest membership paired with the sorority having the smallest membership and vice versa.

One overall winner from all competing groups will be selected. The winner will receive a TGIF with the time and place to be designated later, according to Pamela E. Paugh, Charleston sophomore and chairperson for the Blood Drive competition.

One new aspect for this blood drive, Paugh said, is every successful donor will receive what is called a "donor packet." The packet will consist of things such as discount coupons donated by local businesses.

For this drive, the Red Cross is striving for 300 pints of blood, said Paugh. She said the last blood drive had a good response because the Student Government sponsored it and there was competition between campus groups.

The Red Cross uses over 300 pints of blood a day for the Huntington area alone, said Paugh. She said if the Red Cross ever runs short of needed blood, it must contact the nearest station, which is in Kentucky, and have more blood driven or flown in.

There is a new blood committee being formed by the Health Programs Office, Paugh said.

When completed, the committee will become a standing committee with two members from each Greek organization and all interested residence halls and campus organizations. Members will remain on the committee until graduation.

Two qualify for speech competition

Marshall University qualified two additional slots for national competition at the 1979 Qual-Prep Speech tournament Saturday.
