Journalism Department Hosts UHSP Delegates This Week

The journalism department will be host to West Virginia high school journalists and their advisers this coming weekend for the 23rd Congress of the United High School Press of West Virginia.

Also convening will be the 19th West Virginia Journalism Teachers Association, and the sixth United High School Yearbook Association of West Virginia.

Highlights of the conferences, expected to attract approximately 300 persons, include group meetings on problems, the Huntington Chamber of Commerce luncheon, Marshall-Bowling Green football game, business sessions, exhibitions, and the Huntington Publishing Company banquet.

Two special features Friday afternoon and evening will be the annual theatre party for the delegates given by the Palace Theatre and an open house held by WHTN radio and television.

Registration of delegations will be held Friday from 1 to 6 P.M. and Saturday from 8 to 9 A.M. in the journalism department office. Miss Virginia Lee, associate professor of journalism, is in charge of registration.

Professor W. Page Pitt, head of the journalism department and founder of the UHSP, will address the group at the general group meeting Saturday morning at 9:30 in the Science Hall auditorium.

'Debutante' Run Marks Theatre's 32nd Season

By JUDY O'DELL

When the curtain opened last night in Old Main auditorium, College Theatre began its thirty-second season with a production of an English comedy, "Reluctant Debutante," by William Douglas Hume.

The play takes place in present day London during "Deb" season. Mrs. Sheila Broadbent, portrayed by Faye Murray, Milton senior, is trying to find a suitable escort for her daughter, Jane, played by Linda Gardner, Huntington freshman. Jane is a very "reluctant debutante."

Shelia's husband, Jimmy Broadbent, portrayed by Herbert Profitt, Spencer junior, looks upon the deb season as an unnecessary evil.

The play revolves around several mix-ups and misunderstandings about Jane's suitors. One of them, David Bulloch, played by Charles Ricketts, Huntington sophomore, is well accepted by Shelia as a possible son-in-law while David Hoylake Johnston is declared a "menace" to all the young debutantes. Bryan Compton, Huntington senior, plays David Hoylake Johnston.

Others in the cast are: Mabel Crosswaite, Shelia's "dearest" friend, Nancy Sparks, Charleston sophomore, who also has a daughter making her debut, Clarissa, played by Linda Henderson, Huntington freshman; and Mrs. Edgar, the Broadbents' maid, Jane Anne Garrett, Huntington senior. Miss Garrett is also assistant director of the play.

The play will run three more nights, starting at 8:15 P.M. Tonight, and Friday's cast includes: Kay Humphrey, Huntington sen-

Hechler Book To Be Released This Friday

Dr. Kenneth Hechler, former professor of political science, has announced the release of his book, "The Bridge at Remagen."

The book concerns the first crossing of the Rhine River in Germany during World War II, which occurred March 7, 1945.

According to Hechler, the book will be reviewed Sunday in the "New York Times' Sunday Book Review," which will make or break the book. Hechler began writing in 1953 and worked for two years.

Yesterday a copy of the book was presented to Brigadier General Andrew J. Goodpaster, who accepted it in the absence of President Eisenhower, by Alex Drabnik, who was the first soldier to cross the Rhine that day in 1945.

Continuation Of Blood Bank At Stake In Today's Drive

By DICK McHENRY

Continuation of the college blood bank is at stake today in the blood drive at the Student Union from 10 A.M. to 3 P.M. The drive is being conducted by the Huntington Red Cross Blood Center and the goal necessary for continuation of the bank is 200 pints.

"Unless this quota is obtained the blood bank will be discontinued," claimed Co-Chairman Gloria Brothers when asked how serious the situation was by this reporter.

A $25 savings bond will be awarded to the sorority and the fraternity which has the greatest percentage of blood donated in both of this year's drives. The minimum donation required to make an organization eligible for the award during each semester drive is 10 pints.

President Stewart H. Smith has released a statement from his office concerning absences during the drive. Anyone coming to class late because they donated blood will be issued a written excuse in the Union to be given to the instructor upon the student's arrival in class.

The pledges of Alpha Xi Delta sorority will be working in the canteen today and Sigma Alpha Epsilon pledges will be loading and unloading medical equipment for the Red Cross workers.

Previously, trophies were awarded to the men's and women's organizations which donated the most pints of blood, but since the Cavaliers, men's independent fraternity, and Alpha Sigma Tau sorority retired the trophies last fall after winning for the third consecutive time, another award was appropriated. No awards were presented last semester.

Don Coyne, last spring's drive chairman, made it known shortly after his organized campaign that the drive would have been a complete failure if it had not been for the Reserve Officers Training Corps.

Last spring's drive ended with a total donation of 145 pints, 60 pints short of the drive one year ago, which totaled 205 pints.

Coyne placed the blame for less donations on the fact that no trophy or award was being given to the organization donating the most blood. The chairman further asserted that only a small percentage of women participated in the drive.

After asking Co-chairman Gloria Brothers whether she thought all women's organizations represented would be eligible for the awards, she answered, "not all of the sororities have been over the minimum mark set this year and if no enthusiasm is shown in this drive, these organizations will find themselves ineligible to receive the award."

The committee working on this semester's drive is composed of Co-chairmen Gloria Brothers and John Karickhoff and Publicity Chairman Betty Flo Bick.

FRENCH CLUB MEET

The French Club will meet this evening in the Honor Council room at 4 P.M., according to Pat Fannin, Ashland senior.

The program will introduce a new form of Bingo originated by Pat Fannin. The game will consist of French names and places instead of the usual numbers.

THE HUNTINGTON RED CROSS BLOOD CENTER is operating the fall semester blood drive with their own personnel and equipment today from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M. in the Student Union. A quota of 200 pints is needed to continue the campus blood bank.

Student Lured Governor Here In Young Republican Confab

By JIM GILREATH

Governor Cecil H. Underwood will appear here during the Marshall-Morris Harvey debate Thursday in Old Main due to the efforts of Tom Carter, Huntington junior.

In an interview Carter explained that he first met the governor during a Young Republican Club meeting in Huntington before the election, and discussed the future of the Republican party in West Virginia with him. After the election Carter wrote a letter of congratulation to Underwood and invited him to the campus. After much correspondence, the time and date were set.

The governor will accept an honorary membership into Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic society, during the convocation. Underwood was a member of Pi Kappa Delta during his college days at Marietta College where he was a history and political science major.

Marshall-Morris Harvey Debate 'Right To Work'

Governor Is Guest At Tomorrow's Convocation

Governor Cecil H. Underwood will be guest of honor at the convocation, featuring a debate between Marshall and Morris Harvey College, tomorrow at 11 A.M. in Old Main auditorium.

The question for the season's opening debate, according to Ben

W. Hope, associate professor of speech and forensic director, will be, "Should membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment be made illegal?" Marshall, taking the negative stand, will be represented by Tom Stafford, Huntington sophomore, and Tom Carter, Huntington junior.

Morris Harvey will argue the affirmative side.

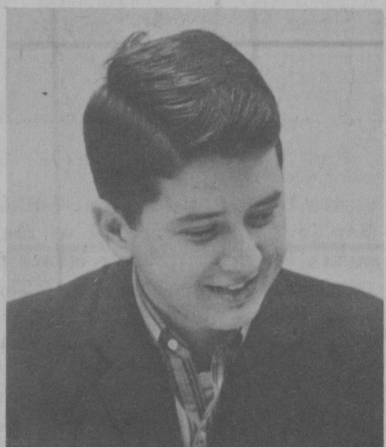

Governor Underwood, a member of the national forensic fraternity, Pi Kappa Delta, will be presented an honorary membership into the Marshall chapter of the fraternity.

There will be a luncheon for Pi Kappa Delta members, Governor Underwood and the Morris Harvey squad in the cafeteria immediately following the debate.

This will be the second time this year that Governor Underwood, has visited the campus.

Gym Class Forms NEEDED Pep Group

PROFESSOR OTTO "SWEDE" GULLICKSON'S physical education class gave the football team a royal sendoff to Miami last Friday afternoon. The gym students evidently stepped in when a certain "pep-producing" organization on campus found, for some unknown reason, that it could not conjure up a pep rally. No one knows why this organization didn't function in its self-appointed duty, but reasons would be of little consequence. Action, not excuses, is need to curb apathy. Tch, tch, tch," Back the Marshall 11 in '57," and all that rot, you know. Besides that, no cheerleaders or band . . .

Told To Interview VIP, Student Sees Governor

By JOHN MURPHY

Ron Lester, a student in speech 260 (Radio and TV) and Huntington senior, fulfilled his assignment for an interview with an important person in a grand manner as he went to the top and interviewed the chief executive of West Virginia, Governor Cecil H. Underwood.

During Underwood's campaign for governor in 1956, Ron, who is a technical director at WSAZ, assisted with the audio (sound) portion of some of the chief executive's campaign films. Doubtful if the governor would remember him, Ron called his secretary and asked for an appointment so he could interview him for about five minutes. The secretary told him she would notify him later. Finally, Ron was informed that his appointment was at 2 P.M., Friday, November 8.

Ron walked into the governor's reception room in time for his appointment only to be informed by his secretary that the governor was about half an hour behind in his appointments but would see him later. When the half hour was up, Ron walked into the governor's office and immediately started to set up his equipment as he knew the governor was behind in his schedule and had given the preceding appointees only about 3 minutes. Ron's purpose in trying to interview the governor, "was to see if it were possible for a student to see the governor for a classroom assignment." When the interview, lasting 45 minutes instead of the intended 5, was over, Ron had his answer.

College To Receive Scholastic Inspection

The college has been selected for evaluation this year by the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities.

President Stewart H. Smith announced Saturday that the college was included last week in a random list of institutions to be visited during the first year of the program drawn up at a meeting he attended at Oberlin College.

Evaluations of the programs and practices of all member institutions of the association will be made in the study, which will take eight years to complete.

Reviewing committees consisting of from three to five members will conduct the inspections.

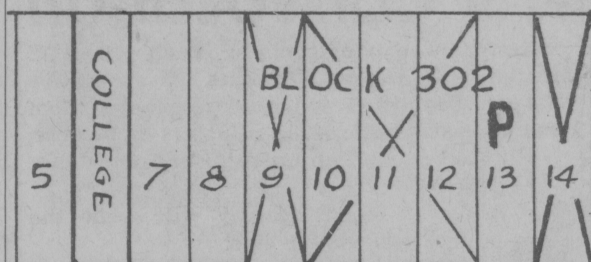

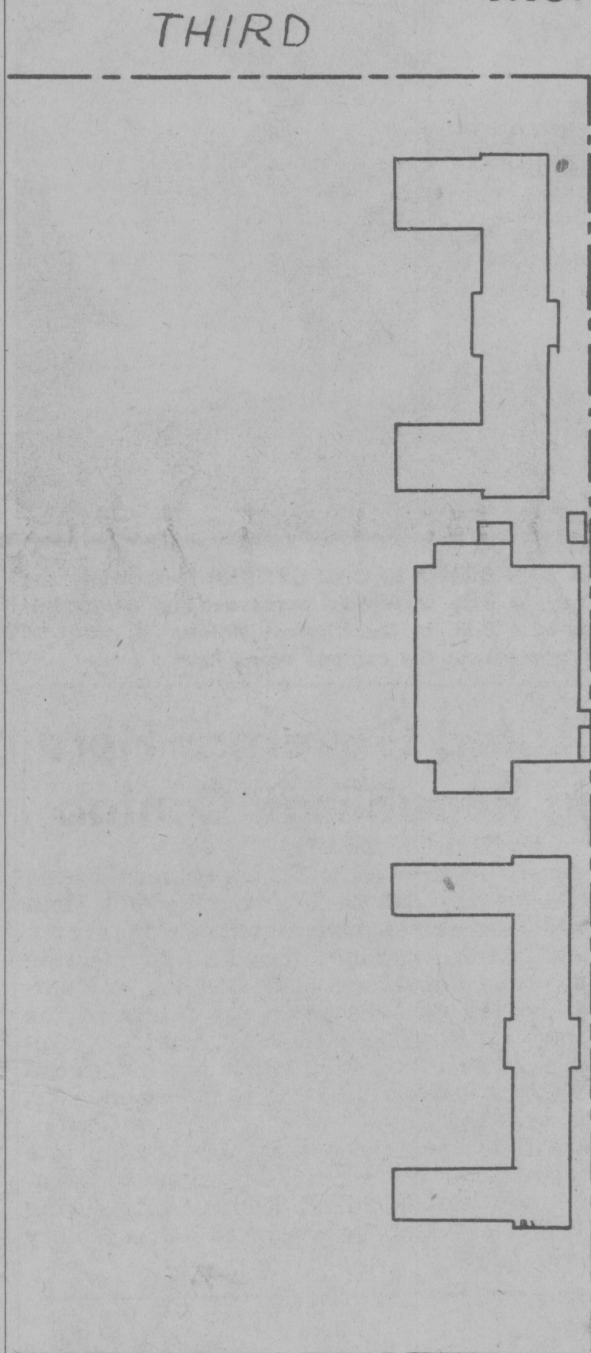

Marshall will be visited sometime between February 1 and April 1, 1958, President Smith said.

More College Expansion

FIFTH AVENUE
TWENTY-FOUR MORE PIECES of property have been authorized for college purchase by the state Board of Education since The Parthenon ran this diagram October 2. Fifteen of the properties will be condemned and nine will be purchased by regular means. This second group of lots on which the State Board took action are marked either "P," if they are to be purchased, or "C," if condemnation proceedings will be enacted upon them. The lots first authorized for purchase are marked "X," on the above diagram; there are 17 of these original lots. As soon as the purchases are completed, the college will begin destruction of the present buildings on these lots, as the first step in the carrying out of the new building program. The money for the purchases comes from the $600,000 appropriation voted the college by the 1957 legislature. The college has until March, 1960 (three years after the appropriation was made), to buy the land, the price of which will not exceed the $600,000. Future plans for the use of the land include the construction of outdoor physical education and ROTC facilities and possibly the construction of a men's dormitory on this site. This general area is located back of Hodges Hall and the college cafeteria. (Diagram by Emil Notti.)

'Rivalry' Will Portray Lincoln-Douglas Saga

Raymond Massey, Agnes Morehead, and Martin Gabel—three of America's foremost actors—will appear in person Wednesday, November 20, at 8:30 P.M., at the Keith-Albee Theatre in the new Paul Gregory production, "The Rivalry."

The program will be the fourth Artist Series presentation of the year, and all full-time students may attend.

"The Rivalry," written and directed by Norman Corwin, comes here for one performance in its short tour before opening on Broadway.

The play is the story of the rivalry that existed between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen Douglas. Raymond Massey will appear as Abraham Lincoln, the instigator of the rivalry. Martin Gabel plays the role of Stephen A. Douglas, who opposed Lincoln and fought to his death for what he sincerely believed. Agnes Morehead will be seen as Adele Douglas, the woman who stood between the two great men.

Paul Gregory, the producer of the play, is nationally known for his productions of "Don Juan in Hell," "John Brown's Body," "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," and "Three For Tonight." All of these plays have been featured on the Artist Series.

Massey is famous for his many screen roles but before coming to Hollywood he starred on Broadway in "The Doctor's Dilemma," "Candida," with Katharine Cornell and "Pygmalion," with Gertrude Lawrence. He has appeared in Gregory's production of "John Brown's Body."

Miss Morehead has also appeared in a Gregory production previously. She starred in "Don Juan in Hell."

Miss Morehead became a star with her roles in "Scarlet Pages," "All the King's Men," "Soldiers and Women," and "Candlelight." Her role in the movie, "The Magnificent Ambersons," brought her an Academy Award nomination for the year's outstanding supporting performance. She also was given the New York Critics' Award for the best actress of the year.

She has more recently been nominated for an Academy Award, and she played an important role in the current movie, "Raintree County."

This is Martin Gabel's first appearance in a Gregory production. He has acted in the current Broadway hit, "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" and "The Reclining Figure," which he also co-produced.

Gabel is known throughout the country for his frequent appearances on the television program,

Fors Granted Leave To University Of Barcelona

Professor Juan C. Fors of the Spanish department has been granted sabbatical leave beginning in January of 1959.

Professor Fors will visit the University of Barcelona, where he received his Ph.B., the Universities of Madrid, Sevilla, and Salamanca, which is the classical university of Spain, according to Mr. Fors.

This is the first sabbatical leave granted Mr. Fors in his 25 years of teaching.

During his travels he will make a survey of Spanish literature from 1936 through 1957.

"There has been some good literature written during this period," said Mr. Fors, "but it has not reached the United States because of Spanish censorship.

"The literature I will study will reveal the social, political, and economic aspects of this period."

Mr. Fors plans to be gone the second semester of 1959 and possibly part of the summer. "If I finish my work in time," he added, "I would like to visit France and Italy."

'Debutante's' Reluctance Caught By Camera's Eye

College Theatre opened its thirty-second year performance in Old Main by presenting the first night performance of "Reluctant Debutante," a British drawing room comedy. On this page are shots from many of the scenes in the play, which is double cast and will run through Friday night. Clayton Page, associate professor of speech, is director of College Theatre. James A. McCubbin, assistant professor of speech, is in charge of production. Students do the rest of the work, as is shown on this page. See the play's review by reporter Judy O'Dell in Friday's Parthenon to see how it all turned out.

(Pictures by Charles Leith.)

LINDA GARDNER, as Jane Broadbent, seems rather glad that her father, Jimmy Broadbent (Herb Profitt) has a convenient refill in the hot water bottle. (Note glass behind Jane.) Opened doors reveal much in the play.

EVERYONE'S LOOKING at Linda Gardner (Jane Broadbent—far right), but she seems intent on the ceiling. Onlookers are, from left, Norman Keyser (David Hoylake Johnston), Faye Murray, Linda Henderson, Nancy Sparks, Charles Ricketts. Note cocktail glasses in hands of all except Miss Gardner; this day typifies English society. See the play and find out what Miss Gardner sees on the ceiling.

JOE BORADAILLE (David Bulloch) seems to be getting but nowhere with Miss Gardner. Maybe if he changed that uniform for one from "Damn Yankees," he could get to first base. Note cossack hat in lower right hand corner. That belongs to Bulloch; see the play and find out why he's frowning.

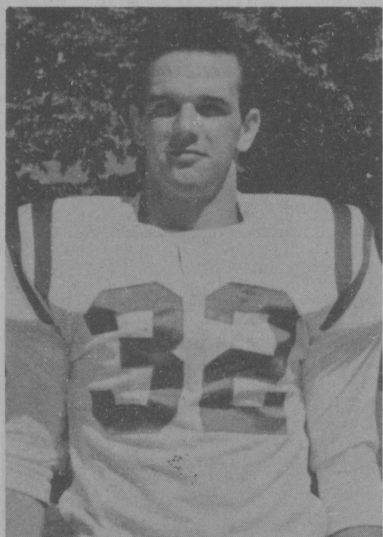

WONDER WHAT Kay Humphrey sees through this open door. Whatever it is, Norman Keyser seems most delighted.

Big Green 'Can Play Along With Any Of 'Em' Says Herb

"We can play along with any team in the loop, including Miami," was Coach Herb Royer's statement after the Herd held more than its own but still lost to Miami University, 25-13, in the MAC grid showdown at Oxford, Ohio, Saturday.

Royer, who made it known he was disappointed in the outcome of the game, related that it was just "bad breaks." "I'm just second guessing, but I feel that the fumble they didn't call could've meant all the difference in the world. Going by the way we were moving before, I think we could have marched on down and scored if they had ruled the ball to us."

Royer said he talked with the official at halftime and the ref said that the forward progress of the runner was halted before the fumble. The "fumble" occurred on the Big Green's 30-yard mark when Marshall held a 7-0 lead. Miami scored their first touchdown two plays later and went on from there for three more TD's in five minutes.

Royer said he felt that Xavier was a better team than the champion Redskins. "There are no powers this year in the MAC," said Herb. "We feel that we are one of the best in the loop this year, and will be next year, but you never can tell."

"We lose fewer seniors than anyone else and Miami and Bowling Green will be the heaviest hit."

Asked to predict the outcome of Saturday's final against Bowling Green, Royer kept himself off the limb by saying, "We're pretty much even. The team that wants second place the most and really wants to win, will do so."

Bowling Green is the conference's defending champions and they must defeat the Herd Saturday in order to tie for second spot. If the Big Green is victorious or even ties the Falcons, the loop will wind up with Miami first, Marshall second and Bowling Green third.

Talking about the Falcons, Royer went on to say, "Bowling Green had everybody back from last year's team and they were supposed to be the class of the loop this year." In explaining their downfall, Herb stated, "they had too many good men and some had to ride the bench and I believe they ran into a little bit of dissension."

Getting back to the Miami game, Herb was asked why he didn't pass more in the second half when his team was three touchdowns behind. He replied:

HERB HESS
Injured in Showdown Game

"They were expecting long ones and laying back. I figured we could go just as fast on the ground."

Quarterback Jim Maddox, spelling the injured Bob Wagner, also took a viewpoint similar to Royer's. Jim stated that "All our good pass plays come off running plays with the use of fakes and in order to work them successfully we sorta have to run two and throw one."

He also added that on the pass plays where he throws from a protective "cup" made by other backs and linemen, that he was rushed too hard. "The receivers hadn't even turned around when I was forced to throw. I don't know where they (Miami linemen) came from."

Royer was very pleased with Maddox's performance in the second half where Jim directed the team to one score and came within eight yards of another.

"I always knew if Wagner was unable to play, that Maddox would be able to do the job," said Royer. He proved my point Saturday.

Royer also had words of praise for Bob Wilson. Wilson, 5-11, 191 pound sophomore from Pomeroy, Ohio, had a big hand in both of the Herd's touchdowns. On the first drive he caught one nine-yard pass from Wagner and in a clutch situation on third down he rambled around end for

TeKes Grid Champs; Defeat Rascals, 14-6

Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity's football team defeated a stubborn Rascal squad 14-6 to win the championship in the intramural football league.

The TeKes will begin a year-long reign, taking over from last year's champion Varsity "M" squad.

The Rascals won the toss and elected to kickoff. The TeKes received and ended a 50-yard TD drive with Barry Myers catching Jim Harrick's heave in the end zone. Both teams threatened but failed to break over for a score and the half ended with the TeKes ahead.

The second half was marred by penalties and the game bogged down considerably in the third quarter. The TeKes had three touchdowns called back in the last half.

The first play in the fourth quarter provided a score as Dick Mayberry flipped a long pass to Barry Myers in the end zone.

The Rascals got into the act when a Walt Schroder aerial to Warren Whittaker clicked to cap a 90-yard scoring drive. The gun went off as the Rascals kicked off to the TeKes and the TeKes became champions by an eight-point margin.

The TeKes and the Rascals gained the finals last week by defeating the Sig Eps, 26-14, and the Vets, 62-21, respectively.

The Sig Eps took an early lead with Bunny Naum engineering the Sig Ep offensive. Naum passed to Kenny Jones for the first score and hit Alex Lawrence for the second. Naum converted both extra points.

The TeKes also scored twice in the first half but failed to convert after their second score and trailed 14-13 at the half. John Unrue hit paydirt on an aerial from Harrick and Myers ran 45 yards for the second Teke TD.

In the second half the Teke defensive unit was the difference, holding the Sig Eps scoreless throughout the period. Barry Myers ran up his TD total to three as he took two passes from Harrick that were good for scores. The two TD's in the second half clinched the game for the TeKes.

The Rascals led 34 to 7 at the half to take a four touchdown lead and were never threatened seriously. Hal Greer, Tom Arthur, and Bill Bias shined for the victors.

Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity is leading in the race for Otto "Swede" Gullickson's intramural trophy with 69 points. The PKA's with 51, Independents with 42, Varsity M 41, SPE 41, KA's 22, and the SAE's with 19 follow in that order.

The cross country meet, which has been postponed for the last two weeks, will be held today at 3:00 P.M. at Fairfield Stadium.

Intramural basketball and soccer begin this week.

The Horseshoe singles will be played off Thursday afternoon at 3:00 P.M.

Little Green Has Bright Spots Despite Loss

There were some bright spots in the freshman game Friday afternoon at Fairfield Stadium despite the Little Green's loss to Xavier, 45-2.

"We thought the center of our line did a good job," said Coach Bill Chambers. "They didn't hurt us much through there. It was around the end and through the air that most of the damage was done."

Quarterback Ron "Tags" Meredith was cited by both coaches as doing a fine job.

"That boy who quarterbacked the team, what was his name? Meredith? He will certainly be an asset to next year's varsity," said Ed Bailes, coach of the Little Musketeers.

"There was another boy out there who was giving our linemen fits. I don't know what his name was but our fellows mentioned him to me."

According to Chambers, Bailes may have been referring to Norman Mullens, Lathan Wilson or Fred Lewis.

"Those boys did a fine job as did Lester Little at center post," said Chambers.

Both coaches agreed that with a little more practice for the Green and White, the game would not have been as one-sided.

"Our freshmen work as a separate unit down in Cincinnati," said Bailes, "where here your frosh work with the varsity three days a week. That plus the fact that you had been hit by flu and injuries for the past two weeks was evident.

"Of course we think down at Xavier that we have one of the best yearling teams ever in the school's history. There are a lot of boys out who are going to give our varsity a battle for starting positions next year. All three of our quarterbacks can throw the ball."

The frosh got their only score when a host of Green linemen swarmed over Phil Long in the end zone for a safety.

Team Needs Field House For Basketball Practice

By LOWELL CADE

Last season the basketball team got only 20 practice sessions in Memorial Field House before opening game; this season they set 17.

Although Coach Jules Rivlin cannot say what he would like to about the whole situation, he did say, "This has hampered our situation to the point that is it not only affecting our conditioning program but it is also hurting the team mentally, knowing that they will have to get in shape again."

Athletic director Robert A. Morris said, "They can tell us when we can practice and when we can't."

In a letter to Mr. Morris, Field House manager Harry D. Keith said, "As you recall in discussion of practice dates for the basketball team, these dates were all set up as tentative and subject to any other scheduled events or needs of the field house during that time."

In this same letter he gave the following dates as free and open to the team for practice: From November 18 through December 25; January 2 through 22 and again from January 28 through 30; February 1 through 19; and from February 23 on until the end of the season.

"However I would like for you to keep in mind at all times that in the event we schedule some activity or event at the request of some City or County group or entertainment which would produce revenues for the field house, it would be necessary for us to cancell any tentative practice sessions which might have been set for your team."

Last year it was the hockey team that conflicted with the team's practice sessions, this year it is ice again but public skating instead of the men of the flying puck.

According to Mr. Keith, he has received many letters for the people of Huntington requesting public ice skating and the period before Holiday on Ice was the best time since ice would have to be on the floor for the show.

This time had been previously given to the basketball team for practice sessions and as it stands now, we could lose other sessions although it is not foreseen.

More grey hair appeared in Rives head because of the ailing Dick Hall.
