VOL. 56

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.

NO. 13

Solon Paul Douglas To Be On Forum

Senator Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) will face a distinguished press panel on "Break the News," on the Community Forum program at 7:45 Monday, October 7, in Old Main auditorium.

Interviewing the Senator will be Kenneth G. Crawford, top Washington news analyst, and William H. Stringer, Washington Bureau Chief of the Christian Monitor. John C. Metcalfe, editor of "Background," Washington Newsletter on World Affairs, will act as moderator for the discussion.

According to Curtis Baxter, forum director, this program will be similar to the television program "Meet The Press."

Senator Douglas was first elected to the United States Senate in 1948, and re-elected in 1954. He is a native of Salem, Massachusetts, and served as professor of economics at the University of Chicago. He holds a B. A. degree from Bowdoin College and a Ph.D. from Columbia University. He also studied at Harvard.

Mr. Crawford is also a radio and television news commentator and serves as senior editor for National Affairs of "Newsweek Magazine."

Mr. Stringer is probably best known for his "Washington Scene" column, which appears in the Christian Science Monitor.

This forum will feature a question and answer period, similar to the one used at the last Forum program. Also, another $10 prize will be awarded to the best question asked by someone in the audience.

Senator Douglas has an impressive war record and also a notable political background. He served in the city of Chicago and the Illinois state political scene before going to Washington. Mr. Douglas was congressman-at-large from Illinois in 1945-47.

Students will be admitted by showing their student activity cards.

Scheduled to appear on the next Forum program is the Right Honorable Anthony Nutting, distinguished British diplomat and former Minister of State of Foreign Affairs.

Men Up, But Women Jump

Women students outgained the men registered for the first semester this year by 104 students, or 6.9 percent. The record enrollment stands at 3,672 students, according to Luther E. Bledsoe, registrar and director of admissions.

For the 1957-58 first semester the total enrollment increased by 2.8 per cent over the first semester of last year, which had an enrollment of 3,573 students. Men still outnumber women on the campus, however, 2,064 to 1,608.

In the College of Arts and Sciences the enrollment is 1,639 full-time, and 304 part-time students. Teachers College has 1,041 full-time, and 374 part-time students. Graduate School totals 31 full-time, and 374 part-time students.

The breakdown in student classifications is as follows: 1,184 freshmen (including second semester students); 806 sophomores; 60 juniors; 405 graduates; and 103 unclassified students.

College Theatre Announces Cast

Cast of William Douglas Home's British drawing room comedy "Reluctant Debutant," has been selected, announced Clayton Page, associate professor of speech. All parts with the exception of the male and female leads have been double cast in order to allow more students to participate in College Theatre.

The cast includes Fay Murray, Milton senior, as Shelia Broadbent; Herbert Profitt, Spencer junior, as Jimmy Broadbent; Carol Compton, Huntington senior, and Nancy Sparks, Charleston sophomore, as Mabel Cross-waithe.

Kay Humphrey, Huntington senior, and Linda Gardner, Huntington freshman, as Jane Broadbent; Nancy Robinson, Huntington freshman, and Linda Henderson, Huntington freshman, as Clarissa Cross-waithe.

Court Is Hold-up Factor In Frosh Class Election

STAFF STORY

Freshmen will elect a class president and four senators in today's election, being held in the Student Union basement until 4:30 P. M.

The Student Court postponed the Freshman Election from Wednesday until today because a hearing for the reinstatement of two possible candidates had to be held Wednesday night.

Twenty Freshman Get Four-Year Scholarships

Twenty freshmen have been awarded scholarships by the County Boards of Education in West Virginia, according to Luther E. Bledsoe, Director of Admissions.

This is an increase of 13 over the total reported last week by the State Superintendent of Schools. A total of 77 scholarships have been granted throughout the state.

These scholarships are worth $500 a year, and will continue for four years. After graduation, the recipients must teach for four years in the state of West Virginia.

Students receiving the scholarships are:

Mary L. Bias, Salt Rock; Judith A. Blackshire, Richwood; Hughes Booher, Moundsville; Joan V. Brand, South Charleston; Katie M. Burgess, Blair.

Emma A. Carroll, McFarlan; Phyllis M. Clay, Ona; Lowell H. Dawson, Crum; Joyce P. Evans, Lenore; Freda J. Martin, Fayetteville.

Josephine N. Miller, Kenna; Mary F. O'Conner, Hinton; Josef C. Skaggs, Hico; Janica P. Smith, Kermit; Judy Swope, Huntington; Sandra L. Talkington, Clarksburg.

Emma R. Turner, Charleston; Shirley R. Kincaid, Huntington; Wilma Christian, Fort Gay; and Marjorie M. Preston, Monaville...

"Reluctant Debutant" concerns the annual race of British mothers' attempts to out-manuever each other in trying to get the most eligible noblemen for their daughters. The play will be presented November 13, 14, and 15, in Old Main auditorium.

Staging is under the direction of James A. McCubbin, assistant professor of speech, and his play production class.

'Sergeant' Tabs Are Available Until 4 P. M.

Today is the last day students may secure tickets for either performance of the comedy hit, "No Time For Sergeants," which will be presented at the Keith-Albee Theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday.

This is the second Artist Series program of the year and is one of the four that all students may attend, according to Curtis Baxter, director of the Artist Series. Starting time both evenings will be 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Mount will be in the corridor of Old Main until 4 P.M. this afternoon. Tickets may be obtained for either performance.

Written by Mac Hyman and produced by Maurice Evans, the play is an uproarious story of an amiable Georgia plowboy whose good nature nearly wrecks the peacetime Air Force. The Evans production, in association with Emmett Rogers, has been adapted by Ira Levin from Hyman's novel.

Charles Hohman plays Will Stockdale, a role he acted for more than a year in New York. Rex Everhart is his beleaguered sergeant, a career man who has the misfortune of having Will and his scrawny buddy, played by Tucker Ashworth, assigned to his classification center.

Howard Freeman, Royal Beal, and James Milhillim play key features roles.

GERMAN CLUB ELECTS

Officers of the German Club for the 1957-58 year are: president, Jim Hamm, Tams junior; vice-president, Charles Turner, Huntington junior; secretary, Pat Shumate, Flatwoods, Kentucky, junior; treasurer, Nancy Myers, Huntington junior; publicity chairman, Jack Wells, Huntington junior; and sergeant-at-arms, J. W. Laing, Huntington senior. Faculty advisor to the group is Dr. Walter Perl, professor of German.

Movies will be shown at the meeting of the Club, Wednesday, October 15, at 7:30, in the Science Hall auditorium. All members, German students and interested persons may attend.

The two defendants, Steve Meadows and George Hanna of Huntington, both senatorial candidates, had been disqualified from the ballot because they did not attend a compulsory meeting of all candidates which was held Friday at 4 P.M. in the Student Government office.

The two men then appealed their cases to Student Court, advancing reasons for their absences. A hearing was set Tuesday at 9 P.M., but no action was taken at that meeting because neither man showed up. An investigation showed that neither had been informed that he was supposed to be there, according to Chief Justice Al Wheeler.

The Court then declined to judge their cases, feeling that no defense could be presented for the defendants in their absence. The Court felt it was in error, too, as the men had not been properly informed of court procedure in the notification of their hearing.

The rescheduled hearing was set for 9 P.M. Wednesday, and The Parthenon could not find out whether or not the two men would be on today's ballot.

Here is the list of other candidates: For president: Forrest "Beanie" Jones and David Downey, of Huntington; Allen Hicks, Corning, N. Y.; and John "Tod" Bishop, Atlantic City, N. J.; Rich Nedrow, Weirton.

Seeking the senatorial positions are: Susan Daugherty, Jack Wortman, Jennie Windsor, and Charlotte Dudderar, Huntington residents; Mary Carol Bailey Sand Lick; Ronald Tags Meredith, St. Albans; Tom Adkins, Williamson; Bill Kahler, South Charleston; Russell "Russ" Currey, Charleston; and Bobbie Jean Spry, Bradshaw.

Voters' rules are as follows:

1. Each student must be a first semester freshman, must not be on social or academic probation, and must be a full time student.

2. Students will not be permitted to loiter in or about the polls.

3. Student lists provided for the election shall be new and will have no markings previous to their use for the election.

4. No ballot will be presented to a student until signed by two poll workers. It is to be signed at the time of issuance following the word "Signature." It must also be stamped and initialed by the faculty advisor on duty at the polls. The signatures shall not be affixed until the poll workers check the activity card and ID card of the voter.

5. When a ballot has been issued the student's name shall be crossed out with ink on the official list of names.

6. It shall be the responsibility of the persons working at the polls to contest any vote at the time it is cast.

Mooney Out

(Remember Wednesday's Editorial?)

Art Mooney's band, originally contracted to play for the Homecoming Dance, cancelled its contract and will not be here, Homecoming Chairman Charlie Kesmodel learned Wednesday afternoon.

At 4 P.M. that day Kesmodel received a wire from agent Chuck Campbell of General Artists Corporation in Cincinnati, which Campbell had just received from the firm's New York office. It read as follows: "(To Campbell) Art Mooney has been held over an additional eight weeks. Forget all dates. Signed . . . New York."

Kesmodel said he then called Cincinnati and Campbell offered him two lesser-known bands, Chuck Cabot and George Williams, but Kesmodel turned them down, asserting that the students (he thought) wanted a front-liner.

Later, at 6:15 P.M., Kesmodel received the following wire of explanation from Campbell: "(To Kesmodel) Hold everything. We cannot deliver Art Mooney although he was sold to you in good faith. When bands are sold to night clubs or hotels they go in with an option clause on their contracts and manager of the Royal Nevada Hotel in Las Vegas has picked up Art Mooney's option until December 15. Sorry, am doing everything I can to get you another top-flight band to take his place and you can rest assured it will be a good one. (Signed) . . . Campbell."

Kesmodel said, however, that he was going to send night letters to various agents in the country tonight and make calls tomorrow morning to get a big-name band. —RCC—

An Open Letter

Freshmen and Rules Enforcers:
... We, the Freshman Activities Committee, now feel you have had sufficient time to adjust yourself to Marshall...

(Last) Saturday night, the upperclassmen defeated the freshmen at a tug of war at the Morehead game. Due to this defeat, the Freshmen will be required to wear their beanies and name-tags until October 26, the Ohio University game (Homecoming). When Marshall scores their first touchdown, you will throw your beanies into the air...

My last point is concerning Freshmen men. I personally will see to it that all men wear their beanies and name-tags, plus you will all meet at the stadium on our side of the field for the Kent State and Ohio U. games twenty minutes before the games start—to run around the track in a body.

The Enforcers are going to crack the whip, so to speak, consequently I recommend your speaking to everyone on campus, along with wearing your beanies and name-tags. If you lose your beanie or name-tag, you must buy another from the Student Government office from 1:00 until 4:00 (on any weekend).

Sincerely yours,
ALAN C. EARLS, Chairman
Freshman Activities

Hagan Announces Plan For Vaccine Distribution

By BOB LYNN

Asian flu vaccine will be administered to students and faculty upon its arrival by way of an alternate inoculation plan which enables ten persons to receive shots from the same amount of serum originally used for one person, according to Dr. Charles H. Hagan, college physician.

The plan calls for the use of 1/10 cc per person given intradermally (between the skin layers) rather than the desired one cc being given subcutaneously or intramuscularly. Although the original plan is recommended whenever possible the alternate plan is considered only slightly less effective, according to Dr. Bruce H. Pollock, Director of Cabell-Huntington Health Department. The original plan is approximated to be 70 per cent effective.

The possibility of using the alternate plan came to light nationally in an article appearing in the September 21 issue of the Journal of American Medical Association magazine summarizing the findings of Dr. Hillman, physician at Walter Reed Hospital.

If an epidemic should sweep the campus, President Stewart H. Smith said he would follow the advice of Dr. Hagan concerning the closing of the school. Dr. Hagan said, "If the number of students and faculty infected would reach the 20 to 30 per cent mark constituting an epidemic, school might as well be closed."

Concerning the slow release of the vaccine, Dr. Pollock said, "The holdup is possibly due to the epidemic raging in Louisiana and the east coast of Texas, and the 6,000 cases reported in the Chicago area."

The college's order was placed the first week of school through the State Purchasing Department, and according to Comptroller Fred Smith, Marshall has top priority in orders placed with them because it was the first order received.

When and as the supply comes in, the student body will be notified by information sheets distributed through the faculty information boxes. The press, radio, and television will be notified. Dr. Hagan expressed the desire to inoculate those persons that will be exposed the most.

SENATE APPOINTS

The Student Senate okayed the following appointments at its Wednesday night meeting: senior class president, Alex Lawrence; senior senator, Cecil Jividen; junior senator, Alan Earls; alternate junior senator, Mary McKinney. These selections filled all but two of the vacated seats in the Senate, those being the seats of runner-up to the senior class president and alternate senior senator.

Sorority rushing is going full-speed ahead. Innocent bystanders can sit back, relax and enjoy the mad scramble.

Fraternity smokers also started this week.

One of the non-alcoholics on campus, when asked if he expected egg in his beer, replied "No, thank you—but I'll take nutmeg in my milkshake!"

If your day started out wrong, if you fell out of bed, got up and tripped over the rug, hit your head on the doorknob, brushed your teeth with shaving cream, washed your face with the towel and tried to hang up the soap—and especially if you drank the toast and ate the coffee—here's a little unsound advice: Don't worry—Brood! After a morning like that why be difficult, when, with a little effort, you can be impossible.

Much Ado About Nothing

Reporter Analyzes Underwood Talk

By TOM MILLER

Interviewing Governor Underwood is like an electric charge. You think you have something as you listen to him paint the optimistic picture of West Virginia's future, but after you consider what he has said, you suddenly realize he has said very little.

A packed house listened to the Governor when he appeared on the first program of the 1957-58 Community Forum. Many were impressed by his youthfulness and vitality. But the content of his speech was only a list of figures and statistics.

The question and answer period proved to be very interesting. Several good questions were asked by the combined townspeople and student audience. Richard Nedrow, Weirton freshman, won the $10 prize for the best question asked with his inquiry on how well the state is equipped to handle the problem of mental health.

In answer to this, the governor asked for sympathy from the audience when he explained how he was blocked from hiring a capable mental health director by legal technicality.

The Governor outlined his speech into three categories which he said must be expanded if the state is to grow. These Immediately Tom Carter, one of the panel members, wanted to know how the Governor planned to carry this out in view of the fact that the state legislature didn't seem to back his suggestions.

Suggestive of how the Governor answered delicate questions was his reply to this: "If my program is as good as I think it is, no legislature could refuse it, no matter what they believe." He did not say how good he thinks it is.

Mr. Hugh Stillman, another panel member, lost no time in presenting his interest when he asked, "Governor, what do you think of the University of Southern West Virginia?" Before the Governor could answer, a large ovation from the capacity crowd approved the question. In view of this, Underwood said nothing of significant importance on the issue.

In an interview with the Governor conducted by this reporter, the same political double-talk prevailed. On one question, however, he very definitely picked Milwaukee to win the World Series, and he was probably wrong there too.

All in all, the Governor's crystal ball must have been very cloudy as he gazed into the future of our state. He did little to enlighten the audience on the state's future. Painting only a dismal picture of the sad state of affairs of West Virginia. Practically everyone is aware of the current status.

He expressed a "keen interest" in the expansion program here. A Governor should.

One thing enjoyed by the audience was the quote he used in referring to the future, "the road ahead is difficult, especially on West Virginia State Roads."

Dean Of Men Offers Job Placement Service

By GAIL TABOR

A wide variety of high-paying jobs awaits Marshall graduates if the efforts of 39 industries interviewing Marshall students are any indication. High-paying jobs are now being made available to student with the help of a Student Employment Service located in the college.

The Student Employment Service was started by Dean Harold L. Shutt in 1950 as a means of obtaining part-time employment for students. Since that time the Service has expanded to handle both part-time and full-time students, and the number of companies seeking employees from Marshall has grown to 70.

The Employment Service is presently supervised by Dean of Men Harold L. Willey and is located in the Dean of Men's office in Old Main. Willey is aided by Mrs. Dorothy Bigley, assistant student employment director, and Miss Ann Moss, secretary to the Dean.

Although there are no actual records of students employed, Mrs. Bigley estimated that approximately 400 students were placed in part-time jobs last year. Approximately 100 persons were placed in full-time jobs, either before or after graduation.

Mrs. Bigley also said that graduates who may wish to try for better positions, or who may desire a chance in scenery, may be interviewed for employment, as well as students now in school.

Diversity of jobs offered is one of the most outstanding features of the service. For students majoring in geology, engineering, chemistry, biology, all branches of business administration, and many other fields, opportunities are unlimited. For those with restless souls and gypsy feet, overseas work is available through oil companies and the American Red Cross. Huntington firms also apply for interview dates, offering positions for students who prefer to stay in their home-town.

Salaries offered by companies vary. However, according to estimates by Dean Willey, a graduate holding an AB degree in engineering usually has an average starting salary of $450 to $600 monthly; chemists earn from $400 to $425 monthly, and graduates in the field of business administration have a monthly income ranging from $350 to $450.

The placement service also has summer counseling jobs available for students who excel in outdoor work. An example given by Dean Willey was Carbon Carbide and Chemical Company in Charleston, which sends its recreational director to Marshall for summer camp counselors. Students working in this capacity have traveled as far as New York.

Industries wishing to apply for interviewing dates at the college make their application to the service. The date is confirmed and each qualifying senior is notified of the interviewing date. Each student wishing to be interviewed signs a time sheet to indicate when he is free. An appointment is then made with the company's representative.

Companies prefer to have the students work through the employment office. If they are unable to do this, they may write directly to the companies themselves. Dean Willey said many of the department heads place their own people after graduation, although they encourage them to work with the service if they wish.

So far this year, 39 companies have made appointments for interviews. The first interviewer was a representative from the Internal Revenue Department of the United States Treasury, who was on the campus yesterday.

Evidently, the work done by employees obtained through the service is more than satisfactory. Dean Willey said he has had no adverse news but lots of praise concerning students placed.

The students who are chosen are not picked in a lackadaisical manner. "These companies," said Dean Willey, "are very selective."

He explained that before a student was hired, the interviewer considered his potentialities from all angles. He said the well-rounded students is in much demand and usually has a better chance of employment than the straight-A anti-social bookworm. "If you're lopsided," he said, "they don't want you."

The personnel folder, a record of each student kept in the Dean of Men's office, contains the academic record, extra-curricular activities, leadership abilities, 3 faculty recommendations, personal record and history, and residence hall compatibility. The company representative carefully studies this folder, and after selecting a student, sometimes invites him to make an expense-paid trip to their home office. There they may observe him in office surroundings.

Dean Willey accounts the growth of the service not only to the outstanding jobs of placed students, but also to making the industries aware of the service. Belonging to a national organization, "Career," also gives wide recognition.

The companies and scheduled interviewing dates for this year are as follows: Procter and Gamble, October 9, 15, 16; Wheeling Steel, October 22; Ohio Inspection Bureau, October 25; Owens-Illinois, October 28.

FRESHMAN RULES

Freshman rules will continue until Homecoming, October 26, as the result of the tug-of-war at the Morehead game Saturday. Upperclassmen who participated in the event defeated the freshmen participants.

The rules include wearing of beanies of campus, wearing of name cards, and the carrying of handbooks. The Freshman Rules Committee announced early this week to The Parthenon that until now the enforcement has been lax, but that Committee members will be "cracking the whip" until Homecoming.

The old parade route marked by arrowed line, started in Government Square, on Fifth Avenue, and then continued east up Fourth Avenue to the

The old route was changed for two reasons, one to eliminate the awkward left turn floats had to make to enter the stadium (at X) and the other was to run the parade through a more desirable section of town. Homecoming Chairman Charlie Kesmodel said the City told him this was the best parade route the college ever offered the city. (Diagram by Emil Notti.)

A Cappella Has Openings

A final invitation to Freshmen men on the campus is being made this week by Professor R. Wayne Hugoboom associate professor of music and director of choirs, to join the A Cappella Choir.

The choir is designed as a transition choir from high school to college level work and provides an opportunity to get vocal training and sufficient reading to prepare for entrance in either Men's Concert or Symphonic Choir.

The A Cappella Choir meets Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 3 P.M. and with the other choirs on Wednesday at 12 noon to form the Choral Union which presents one large choral work each semester. Plans for this December include selections from Handel's "Messiah" and Haydn's "Lord Nelson Mass." The choir will appear as a unit in concert on the campus and in the Huntington area during the semester.

All men interested may contact Mr. Hugoboom in Room 201, Music Building, or come to A Cappella at 3 P.M. Delayed registration in choral units will allow anyone to sign for choir through this week for full credit.

Men are also invited to attend rehearsals of either Men's Concert Choir at 12 noon daily or Symphonic at 4 o'clock daily to hear what the choirs are doing and get on idea of the aims of the choral organizations.

COLLEGE HALL ELECTS

Eleanor Godsey, Fayetteville junior, has been elected vice-president of College Hall. She replaced Wilma Trusley, who was elected last year but did not return to college.

Other officers include Nadine Glass, Petersburg senior, president; Elaine Sheppard, Petersburg senior, secretary; and Donna Thomas, Ronceverte junior, treasurer.

ENROLLMENT

With the college's enrollment at an all-time high of 3,672 students, figures were recently released breaking the total enrollment down into six groups. According to Mrs. Helen Harlow, statistician, the freshman class has the largest enrollment with a total of 1,184 students.

A breakdown of the other groups shows a total of 806 sophomores, 610 juniors, 564 seniors, 405 graduates and 103 unclassified students.

SIG EPS INITIATE THREE

Three men were initiated into the active chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity Sunday.

Following the initiation ceremony, the chapter attended church with Mrs. Beatrice Terry, their new housemother.

A SCENE which may well become more familiar to more freshmen is the one pictured above, which offers visual proof that wayward freshmen must face judgment as consequence for violation of their class rules which will be strictly enforced until Homecoming. (See open letter on Page Two.)

Herd On Road For Conference Opener

Broncos Furnish Opposition

By SAM STANLEY

The Thundering Herd opens its Mid-American Conference schedule tomorrow afternoon with a trip to Kalamazoo, Michigan, home of the Western Michigan Broncos.

For the third straight week, Coach Herb Royer's Herd will be going into the game as favorites, but tomorrow's game with the Broncos will probably furnish the first "real" test for the Green and White.

The Big Green looked better in last week's encounter with Morehead and even more improvement will be needed if the team comes home with a victory from their trip to Michigan.

Western Michigan has never defeated the Herd in three games since the first two met in 1954. Royer's eleven was victorious that year by the tune of 47-13, and they have picked up 28-0 and 13-0 victories the last two times.

The Broncos, coached by Merle Schlosser, had a 2-7 mark last year and a 1-4 MAC mark, compared to the Big Green's 3-6 overall record and 2-4 in the MAC.

Powerful Miami opened the Broncos' conference slate last Saturday and whitewashed them, 20-0. However, Coach Schlosser's gridders looked very good in their opening tilt by trouncing Central Michigan, 33-0.

The Western Michigan captain and quarterback, Bob Mason, is expected to be ready for the first time this season against the Herd.

Five sophomores may get starting assignments for the Broncos, who are in a rebuilding process.

On the Thundering Herd's side of the picture, a rash of minor injuries has hit the first team and Royer may really need his 'depth' for the first time this year.

Three first team linemen, Co-Captain and center Jim Simpson, guard Dick Allen and end Bill Ray won't be at full strength tomorrow. Simpson is suffering from three cracked ribs, Allen has a sprained ankle and Ray has a twisted knee.

Royer expressed confidence that Allen and Ray would be ready but called Simpson's status uncertain. "We might be able to tape him up," Royer said. "If not, Dana Kirk will start at center," he added.

Two newcomers, and maybe three, will break into the Herd's lineup. Royer said that Rudy Columbo has won a tackle berth from John Beiletti, and that Olen Jones, for the first time this year, will be ready at an end position. The third spot, at the other flanker opposite of Jones, has Toddy Fugate and Ray competing for the first call.

Fugate has looked sharp in the last two games and may move into the starting eleven.

Donzil Hall, injured in the opening game, is still not in top shape and the veteran end's services may be limited.

Guard and Co-Captain Hess and tackle Vernon Howell will again hold down the other two line positions.

The backfield will probably be the same, with the exception of one halfback slot. Roy Goines is expected to get the call over Dick Jackson at halfback. Goines was labeled a starter last week also, but at the last minute Royer

RAMON DUNLAP
Leads Marshall and MAC scorers with 18 points.

Dunlap, Goines Among Leaders; Team Second In Total Offense

Ray Dunlap, hard running senior halfback, is among the four men tied for first place in the race for the Mid-American Conference scoring honors.

Dunlap, along with Jim Hilles of Ohio U., Ron Fowler of Kent State and Lovell Coleman of Western Michigan, have each scored 18 points on three touchdowns in the two games played by each thus far.

Another Big Green halfback, Roy Goines, is among the leaders in the rushing column. He is second to Fowler in total yardage with 140 in 21 carries, but has a better average at 6.7. However, Vic DeOrto of Bowling Green leads in averages with 7.4.

As a team the Big Green copped second place honors in total offense behind Miami. The Green has rolled up 715 yards on the ground and in the air, which is the best two game total in the loop. This figure averages 257.5 yards per game. Miami ran up 389.0 yards in its only game with Western Michigan.

Others representing the Green inserted Jackson in the starting eleven.

Ray Dunlap, with three touchdowns in two games, will be at the other halfback slot and Sony Sirianni will be at fullback.

After last week's sparkling performance, Bob Wagner will again get the call at quarterback, but Royer still says Wagner and Jim Maddox are about even and both will see plenty of action.

are Dick Jackson, fourth in pass receiving, and Bob Wagner, third in passing.

By SAM STANLEY

Even though the West Virginia State game is now almost two weeks in the past, a letter which this week landed on my sports desk reminds me of the Herd's opening grid encounter.

This letter comes from Earl Slater, sports editor of The Yellow Jacket, the school newspaper at State. It reads like this:

On behalf of the student body of West Virginia College, I wish to express the heartfelt thanks of everyone from here for the excellent treatment that we received while at Fairfield Stadium witnessing the first sports encounter between our two schools. We sincerely hope that this past meeting is only the first of a new era in sports in West Virginia.

The student body has spoken to me about the fine treatment, the very excellent sportsmanship, and the courtesy displayed by the Big Green Student Body.

Even though we lost the game to a better team, we feel that we have won something and that is the friendship of Marshall College. This friendship means more to us than anything found in the won-and-lost columns.

As you can see the letter speaks for itself and I felt it was my duty to relay the message to the student body.

Each year the Big Green teams seem to land more and more of the state's better athletes. This is not only a tribute to the athletic prestige that we have gained in the past decade, but also to the many academic opportunities which are offered.

The most recent example of this is the football player named Ronald "Tags" Meredith. "Tags," the most talked about high school player in the state two years ago, chose this campus because of its nearness to home (St. Albans), and because Marshall is a school where he can major in his chosen field—pre-dentistry.

"Tags" had offers from three big southern schools, North Carolina University, William & Mary, and Virginia Military Academy. He was packed and ready to go to VMI when he decided he didn't want to go to a military school. So he came to Marshall.

Last year the soft-spoken "Tags" was at Hargrave Military Academy in Chatham, Va. There he won more acclaim for his grid feats than in high school.

I, for one, am glad Mr. Meredith picked the Big Green and probably the only one who will disagree will be our grid foes in the next three years.

Even though we are in the midst of the grid season, the sports spotlight on campus this week is on the World Series. A poll of The Parthenon staff showed that the Milwaukee Braves are the "favorites" by a close vote of 9-7.

The nine that stuck their necks out were given a sudden jolt after the Yankees had won the opening game, 3-1. The seven, including yours truly, who went along with the champs, are at the present time very boastful.

Bob Cole, Parthenon editor-in-chief, along with all three of the sports staff—Lowell Cade, Strat Douthat and myself—tabbed Casey Stengel's boys, and you just can't top the experts.

FRESH GOLFERS CALLER

Whitey Wilson, golf coach, has asked that all freshmen interested in the Big Green links squad report to him in the athletic office in the gymnasium anytime Monday.

Those interested in turning out for the team will begin practice next week with the varsity. The varsity is in a fall practice session at the Guyan Golf and Country Club.

Frosh Gridders Lighter Than 1956 Team But Show Spirit

By LOWELL CADE

"We won't be as heavy this season as we were last, but we will be as fast or faster," said coach Bill Chambers, referring to early summer of the Little Green freshman football team.

The freshman team, where starting varsity players are born, has been working out at St. Cloud Commons every day that the varsity works out.

Under Chambers, starting his third season as head frosh coach, and former Big Green starters Jim Conard and Phil Fisher, the Little Green has spent most of the current campaign working on fundamentals and supplying the varsity with both offense and defense.

It is the main concern of the frosh the week before each varsity game, to play the role of the opposing team on Tuesday and Wednesdays.

Tuesday the Little Green will use the defense of the varsity's weekend foe and Wednesday it will run an offense in the like manner.

Thursdays and Fridays are spent working on the offense and defense familiar to the Big Green teams. the wing T.

Commenting on Tuesday's practice session, Chambers said, "They really gave the varsity a hard time, which goes to show they are coming along well and improving."

Although it is early and the first Frosh game is three weeks off when the Little Green visits Athens, Ohio, and Ohio U.'s Bob-kittens, Chambers can see the prospects of a scrappy club.

"A team can have the necessary requirements — size and speed—but if it lacks the scrap and desire to win it won't be successful," says Chambers.

There are several unseen factors that have to be taken care of before a club is ready to go, and with a group of freshmen, working together for the first time, a lot of practice is necessary.

Chambers pointed out such things as timing, line change, adapting to the changing defense and play numbers that differ from those previously used are only a few of the unseen factors that must be improved during the freshman year.

It is too early to talk about starting lineups, but Chambers did mention this year's squad would be strongest at quarter-back.

Four men are competing for the starting call. Heading the list is Tags Meredith, much talked about young man from St. Albans; Vic Quintet, also of St. Albans; Bob Burchaea, of Marion, Virginia, and a newcomer to the squad this week, Wesley Brown.

Brown was here under Pete Pederson and played service ball. Chambers added, "He has handled the ball this week as well as the others have who have been out here since practice began."

SPORTLETTES HAVE PARTY

The Sportlettes' first rush party, "A Crazy, Mixed Up Party," will be held Tuesday, October 8, at 7 P.M., in the Honor Council Room. Janice Calda-baugh, McMechen junior, president, announced the party will be over in time for freshman girls to be in the dormitories by 8:30.

SAE's Grab Forfeit Victory In Mural Loop

Tuesday afternoon the SAE No. 1 team got their easiest victory of the season when the LXA's failed to show up for the scheduled game.

The ROTC took the missing LXA's place in a "no contest" game, and the SAE's defeated the Cadets 25 to 13 mainly on the strength of Charles Carney's passing and Gene Cunningham's fine receiving. Hilton Duckworth led the losers with aeri-als to Charles Duckworth and Sam Stone.

The Fill Ins whipped the ROTC 13 to 0 in the second contest of the day. Leading the Fill Ins was Bob Force, who passed to Ted Schroder for 1 yard for the first score and again hit Schroder with a 55 yard aerial for the final TD. The extra point from Force to Del Adkins completed the scoring.

Otto A. "Swede" Gullickson's fall intramurals schedule is running smoothly. In the tennis singles a field of 42 is entered, with 23 matches being played up to date. Jack Fors and Terry Kouns are the top seeded players.

A field of 42 has also entered the horseshoe tourney, 22 first round matches have been played this far. Bobby Watson and Marsh Wick are top seeded in this division.

Bill Tweel, who has been ranked among the top ten players in the nation, and Joe Krulich are seeded one and two in the table tennis tournament, with the first round yet to be completed.

Those interested in entering the pocket billiards and the carom billiards tourneys should sign up at Swede's bulletin board in the Student Union.

All first and second round matches in each tournament must be played by Wednesday, October 9.

RAYMOND BROWN, Welch sophomore and member of the Cavaliers, men's independent social fraternity, waves his hat in a gesture of victory as he rides by the cameraman during the Marshall-Morehead gridiron contest. Brown, wearing the traditional Cavalier garb, paraded around the field throughout most of the contest.

Chapel Committee Working Car Lot

The Robe, men's leadership honorary, has turned over the duties of maintaining the Chapel parking lot to the Chapel Fund Committee, according to Warren Reeser, Huntington sophomore, president of the Chapel Fund Committee.

The Robe's main job was to alleviate parking problems and the money made on the parking lot was to be turned over to the Chapel Fund.
