Council Will Raise Funds For Statue

Bust Of Chief Justice John Marshall To Be Placed Near Victory Gong

The Student Council will finance the erection of a bust of Chief Justice John Marshall as its contribution to the Centennial program scheduled for this spring.

The bust will cost approximately $250, including erection, and will be executed in marble. It will be placed near the Victory Gong just under the brow of the bank facing the intramural practice field.

The Council decided in last night's meeting to make an appeal to the student body for aid in securing funds to finance the project. To do this the Council will collect from each student twenty-five cents in an effort to raise the necessary amount. During the registration period there will be a definite place set aside where the students will be able to deposit their contributions.

The council believes that by this method of financing the project each student will have the opportunity to aid the Centennial program and to play a definite part in Marshall's hundredth anniversary.

The bust is being done by a Federal Arts Project artist in Washington, D. C., and will be carved from arrara marble. The artist is paid by the government from WPA funds, and the pedestal, artist's materials, and money for the erection of the statue are to be paid by the college.

Tentative Leaves Given Professors Wright, Myers

Two members of the teachers' college faculty, Prof. E. E. Myers, of the art department, and Prof. Christine Wright, of the education department did not return to school after the Christmas holidays. Prof. Wright, according to Dean Otis G. Wilson, of teachers' college, remained in Sulphur, Oklahoma, because of ill health. She is on a tentative leave of absence, he said. Her classes have been taken over by Dean Wilson. Prof. Margaret Virginia Foulk, and Prof. Harriet B. Lyon.

Prof. Myers, also on leave, is at Sarasota, Florida, where he will remain throughout the month of January. Work had been completed in all his classes except one before the holidays.

Faculty Members Speak At Dinners

Following the regular monthly men's dinner at the First Presbyterian church tonight at 6:25 o'clock, Dr. James E. Allen will speak on "The Centennial Celebration," Prof. W. I. Utterback will speak on "Who's Who Among the Alumni," and Registrar W. N. Beetham will repeat his address on "Marshall Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow."

Prof. Otis G. Wilson, dean of teachers' college will preside during the program.

'Ceiling Zero' Opening Date Is March '12

The dates for the presentation of "Ceiling Zero," forthcoming production of College Theatre, have been changed from March 5 and 6 to March 12 and 13.

Tryouts will be held during the first week of next semester, and production will start the following week.

The following production committees were selected at the last meeting of the theatre: Sound—Morris Cunningham, Lovell Higgins, and Edwin Brown; stage—Jack Steelman, Roy Jones, and Fred Cody; costumes—Ruth Seeley and Elizabeth Stout; properties—Maxine McCarty, Mary Hart, and Maxine Mariani; make-up—Ruth Jones, Catherine Maurice, Martha Ann Armstrong, and Dema Lowe.

"Ceiling Zero" was written by Frank Weed, formerly a lieutenant commander in the United States Navy aviation corps, now retired. He has written many screen plays and stories, but "Ceiling Zero" is his first stage play.

The play was first produced by Brock Pemberton in 1935, and was later made into a motion picture. Many critics have acclaimed it as "the first successful dramatization of commercial aviation."

Publication Of Mirabilia Suspended By Advisors

Spencer Instructed To Close Books After Collapse Of Editorial Staff

By HENRY G. KING

Sounding the death knell of the 1937 Mirabilia the faculty advisory committee yesterday instructed Edward Spencer, business manager, to terminate the business of the yearbook and to close its books as soon as possible. Dr. J. T. Krumpelmann, chairman, announced yesterday afternoon.

This action, climaxing a hectic and uncertain existence for the short-lived annual, was taken by the committee after Spencer had reported to the committee that all his efforts to find a successor to Paul Willis, who resigned his position as editor-in-chief just four weeks ago, had met with failure.

Faced by the inevitable the committee had no choice but to instruct the business manager to wind up the Mirabilia's affairs, in view of his failure to name an editor and reorganize the editorial staff.

Repay Subscribers

Spencer said last night that all of the funds now to the credit of the Mirabilia would be used to repay approximately $0 early subscribers to the yearbook, most of whom were members of the 1936 graduating class. It will be possible to pay all but eighty cents on each of the $5.00 subscriptions.

Little of what happened at the advisory committee's meeting four weeks ago was given for publication other than that Willis had resigned, giving as his reasons the press of academic work. It is known, however, that Willis resigned after Spencer had assured the faculty advisors that he could completely reorganize the editorial staff and have it functioning within 48 hours.

Meeting is Show-down

This meeting became in reality a show-down between Spencer and Willis. In the end Spencer presented what appeared to be a definite guarantee of success and he was authorized to reorganize the editorial staff.

Yesterday, four weeks after the meeting, Spencer had still been unable to effect a reorganization.

In explaining the situation yesterday Dr. Krumpelmann pointed out that the delays which have resulted from the inexperience of the staff and from the difficulty encountered in effecting a reorganization have practically made it impossible to continue with publication plans. Spencer stated last night that any staff undertaking responsibility for the book would have only four days in which to meet the dead lines specified in the engraving and printing contracts.

Kitchen, Dining Hall Appropriation Asked

Building To Connect Two New Dormitories; PWA To Be Asked For $35,000

An appropriation of $44,000 as a sponsor's contribution toward a new PWA kitchen and dining hall connecting the two new dormitories has been asked of the state legislature. The state budget commission has approved the appropriation, according to John Baker White, president of the state board of control.

The amount to be asked of the PWA is estimated at approximately $35,000. If the legislature approves the appropriation it meets next Wednesday, the PWA will be petitioned for the allocation.

The original plans of the entire unit called for the kitchen and dining hall between the two dormitories but the dormitories were placed under construction before the plans for the dining hall kitchen were completed.

According to the rule set by the board of control, all boarding women, with the exception of those working for room and board, upperclass sorority women, and special exceptions must live in campus dormitories. With the closing of the part of College Hall over the Main building known as Suite G and the music section, there will be room for only 80 women in that dormitory next semester. The Annex, on the campus, and the Junior Annex at 1726 Fifth avenue, will not be reopened next semester, thus cutting off further rooming space, Miss Bacon said.

Dean Bacon said that residents of College Hall this semester must reserve a room as well as

Prof. Ranson Heads Committee To Present Programs To High Schools

Prof. A. Otis Ranson, head of the speech department, has been appointed chairman of a committee which will present programs before high schools in an effort to acquaint the students with the college. Other members of the committee include Prof. Buell Whitehill, and Dr. Harry E. Mueller. President James E. Allen made the appointments.

One-act plays, musical selections, and readings will be included in the programs. Many high schools in this section of the state are holding assembly dates open. Among the high schools which have requested programs are Charleston, Dunbar, Hurricane, Hamlin, Milton, Wayne, Ceredo-Kenova, and Parkersburg.

"This is an opportunity to present good, wholesome entertainment and to draw high school student's attention to Marshall," Prof. Ranson said. "The success of the programs this year will lead to a wider presentation of programs throughout the state in following years," he added.

Dr. William H. Taylor, of the commerce department, spoke to members of the Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting Wednesday. His topic was "The Corporation Surplus Tax."

Alas, Poor Yorick--

The decision at which the faculty Mirabilia advisory committee arrived yesterday, that of directing the Mirabilia business manager to close all accounts, brings to a tragic end an enterprise that seemed foredestined to a mighty conquest.

The Centennial Mirabilia was to have been a thing of surpassing beauty, a supplement to the Centennial celebrations, a worthy product of the Marshall student body, an added triumph for those seniors who are being graduated this year, and a remembrance of the alma mater unto time immemorial.

The theme was to have been the history of the college down through the first one hundred years of its existence. Purchasers would have had here, compactly placed between two richly bound covers, the dignity of old age and the exuberance of youth, the proudfest history of the past and the roseate dreams of the greater college to come.

The Centennial Mirabilia was born in the wishful thought of a very few, nursed carefully through its infancy, and protected from the onslaughts of petty factionalism through the supervision of a faculty advisory committee. The appointment of a staff gave life to its veins, and the staff's initial labors appeared for a time to be destined to reach fruition in a fine yearbook.

But, as is the case in many such undertakings, there were those in high authority on the staff who could not see the time-destroying range of this piece of work for the feeble candle-glare of individual aggrandizement. The Mirabilia was sacrificed to their shortcomings.

Requiescat In Pace.

RESEARCH...

After many questionings we herewith present the following report: Our findings confirmed our belief that a good old American custom had fallen into decay. The custom of which we speak is the practice of giving Xmas ties to people of your acquaintance--not necessarily a pleasant acquaintanceship--you merely have to know and thoroughly dislike a person, then you present him with a Christmas tie. An Xmas tie requires distinction. It must be given at a certain time of the year, must be donated by someone you hardly know and whom you are not concerned about knowing, must put a bird of Paradise to shame, must droop and wrinkle at the slightest provocation, must have cost no more than a quarter and must be given to the janitor immediately after unwrapping. He in turn gives it to the garbage man, and he in turn gives it to his boss who is a practical joker and passes it on to you next Christmas, thereby completing a vicious circle.

How we established the fact that this custom is falling into decadence is that of all the people we questioned only three admitted wearing an Xmas tie. These gentlemen we now proudly present to a fawning public. Following the fanfare they appear. They are Carter Wilde, rare specimen, Henry King, equally rare, and rarest of all--Bill Dep-pen. Deppen is peculiar to the species. His Xmas tie is a polka-dot bow job of the already-tied variety. Tuesday Mr. Deppen proudly wore his museum piece about the campus. Why he should risk losing such valuable property is a mystery. Collectors desire to show their most valuable pieces, probably...

Rumor, thou ubiquitous person! How dare ye bear to our ears the tale that Maxine Davis and Harry Watson are wed? It is not so or thus Harry and Max proclaim. But thou, foul rumor, doth still repeat that they are one. Ye give them no respite from thy soft whisperings. Ye may be wrong at times, Rumor. Yet often ye are bedded deep in fact, and who are we to question thy many tongues?

Congratulations to Dick Voce and Donna Gene Miller. It was ever thus, the way of man with maid. Too, sincere good wishes to Floyd Anderson and Connie Gowan on their engagement. That is also ever thus.

INQUIRY...

Things we would like to know: Where do you put used razor blades? What would happen if someone suddenly entered the Library study room at a particularly busy hour when the faint hum of many studying students rose to the roof and if that someone softly crawled upon the nearest study table and gave vent to a yell that would make Tarzan sound like the purr of a cat? What the yellow brick building at Fifth ave. and about Twenty-fourth st. at the railroad crossing is for? It has the state seal on the front. The only activity we have seen in three years at that place is two or three cars parked in front.

BUZZINGS...

We were sadly disappointed with Shep Field's Rippling Rhythm. Very mediocre.... Col. J. H. Long is making all the traveling squads of the Buckeye conference basketball teams this year so far. If we remember correctly Wilkie Freeman made them last year.... Society note: Ten young men from Dayton U. and Marshall college dined sumptuously on tea and scones at Vanity Fair Tuesday nite. The tea began promptly at eight o'clock and decorations were carried out in black and blue strawberries. Guests remarked that the decorations were in season.... "Tony" Hickerson wore an Xmas tie Wednesday and some one put the razz on him-- he took it off. Charley Hickerson is the right name, but we knew him best as "Tony." There is quite a bit of difference between catching a cold and catching opossums. And we still think that the third citizen who pulled Benny and Eddie out of the river is named Pinson. Fairly well known about these parts as "Froggie".... With that enough....

Green Quintet Host To Cincy Tomorrow Night

Herd Cagers Open Buckeye Sked With Win Over Dayton University Flyers

Bolstered by their 51-35 Buckeye win Tuesday night over the Dayton Flyers, the Big Green quintet will taper off drills today in preparation for the invasion of the crown-holding Cincinnati Bearcats tomorrow night at Vanity Fair.

Cincinnati, defending co-champs along with Ohio Wesleyan, lost their opening circuit meet to Ohio university Tuesday night, but it was administered on the Ohio floor and the victor's margin was only four points.

Ohio, rated as a top-heavy title favorite, could do little with the Cincinnati defense. An extremely strong offense, led by Iliff, sophomore forward, was featured by long passes for closeup shots under the basket.

The invaders will bring with them one of the inest centers in the Buckeye Conference last year. Capelle is the name and his work in the games last year rated him an all-conference berth.

Hensel and Kamp at the two guard posts are regarded as two of the best all-around guards ever to play for the Cincy outfit.

Their lineup is filled out by Orr at the forward opposite Iliff. A host of high-class substitutes will accompany the team to Huntington.

During the season last year Marshall met and was decisively defeated by Cincinnati on two occasions.

Tuesday night's Herd-Flyer contest was practically dominated by Buster Vest, who tallied a total of 26 points to lead the Big Green scoring. George Ayresman played a sensational floor-game, and scored three beautiful shots from the half-way line which brought the capacity crowd to its feet.

Forward Bache was the visitor's main cog with seven goals from the field and one free throw to his credit. He was followed by the little Mexican guard, Garcia, who tallied seven points. Sullivan was the only other Daytonian to score as much as two goals from the floor.

The Big Green took the lead from the opening gun, and it was only once, during the early stages of the first quarter, that the visitors were in the lead, and then by only two points. After overcoming this the Marshall team gradually increased the lead until at one time they were 23 points ahead of the Flyers.

Bragg Stars As Beckley Topples A. K. Pi Quintet

Wolfpack, Black Knights, A. O. X. and Buffaloes Also Winners

Scoring at will Beckley ran up a 45-15 victory over a weaker Alpha Kappa Pi No. 1 team last night with Nelson Bragg out-scoring the entire losing team with a total of 20 points.

Both teams started out playing a cautious brand of ball but Beckley gained a 13 to 8 advantage at the half time. As the second half started Bent and Huffman found the range to bombard the basket for 25 markers and Beckley out-played their opponents from thereon in every phase of the game.

In the other games played last night Wolfpack won from the Greyhounds 30-25, Phi Kappa Nu lost to the Buffaloes 26-15, the Black Knights overwhelmed Epsilon Delta 34-14, and Alpha Theta Chi ran rough-shod over Kappa Alpha to the tune of 53-5.

Three Groups To Present Annual Mid-Winter Dances

A variety of scenes will be furnished to week-end dancers as two sororities and one fraternity hold their annual winter dances. A tropical scene, a section of a bowery district, and a silver and green setting will be used by the groups.

These are the first formal dances to be presented by Greek organizations this semester, but will be the last until the week-end of registration. For the next two weeks the social calendar will be closed to all formal affairs, as students complete semester work and prepare for examinations.

Phi Kappa Nu

The second annual Bowery Ball of Phi Kappa Nu will be held tonight from 9:00 until 12:00 o'clock in the gymnasium. Informal dancing will take place to the music of Hayes Brothers' orchestra. The hall will be decorated bowery style with numerous old signs placed at raucous angles throughout. Those attending will not be admitted unless in costume.

The general committee in charge is composed of Leroy Phillips, George Hopkins, Max Simmons, Ralph Brabbons, and Herbert Ford.

Delta Sigma Epsilon

Delta Sigma Epsilon will present its winter formal tonight at the Morris P. Shawkey Student Union building between 9:00 and 1:00 o'clock. Howard Jennings and his orchestra will furnish music for dancing. Chaperons for the affairs will be Miss Ruth Flower, Miss Irene Glazik, Mrs. M. E. Hammon, and Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Toole.

Decorations will carry out a silver and green color scheme by the use of balloons. Programs will be made of green parchment paper with an etching of the sorority house on the front.

Misses Norma Rollins and Mary Hart are arranging programs while Misses Dorothy Correll, Frances Snyder and Betty Reckard are in charge of decorating.

Pi Kappa Sigma

The Pi Kappa Sigmas and their guests will "go South" for their midwinter formal tomorrow night, as they revel in a balmy atmosphere created by a southern moon and swaying palm trees. Dancing will take place from 8:00 until 11:45 o'clock to the music of the Hayer Brothers' orchestra in the Student Union building.

Myriads of balloons will be strung from the lights, while silver stars will be hung around the moon. The background for the orchestra will consist of palm trees and willowy ferns. An amber spot-light will be used.

In the receiving line will be Miss Eunice Byrnside, president, her escort, Mr. William Berfield, of Louisville, Professor and Mrs. J. C. Fors, President and Mrs. James E. Allen, Miss Lee Fairchild Bacon, Dr. Carl Finch, Mr. and Mrs. Cam Henderson, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Long.

At 10:00 o'clock, immediately preceding intermission, the annual grand march will take place. Led by Miss Byrnside and Miss Bacon, the entire assemblage will form two lines and cross diagonally between the palm trees.

Committees for the dance include Misses Cora Lamb, Pauline Kincaid, Elizabeth Flynnne, Sarah Gibson, for decorations, and Misses Mary Lou Geary, Anna Carolyn Seiber, Betty Woods, and Louise Womach for programs.

Miss Geary, Mr. Spencer Entertain Pi Kappa Sigmas

A buffet supper will precede the Pi Kappa Sigma formal dance tomorrow night as Miss Mary Lou Geary and Mr. Edward Spencer entertain fourteen couples. The dinner will be given at 6:00 o'clock at the home of Mr. Spencer, 921 Fifth avenue.

Red and white will be used as the decorative colors. In the cen-

Fourth Estate Holds Meeting

Alpha Sigma Alpha To Compliment Officer

Miss S. June Smith, National Extension officer of Alpha Sigma Alpha, will be presented to the faculty, to a representative of each sorority, and all the house chaperons this afternoon at a reception between 4:00 and 5:30 o'clock in College Hall.

The receiving line will be composed of Miss Mattie McCorkle, president of the sorority, Miss Smith, Miss Lee Fairchild Bacon, dean of women, Miss Irene Glazik, faculty adviser and Mrs. Edna Mae Thomas, president of the local alumnae chapter. Mrs. B. Lewis, and Mrs. Roy Kyle.

Miss Smith, who will inspect the local chapter of the sorority while she is here, will remain in Huntington until Saturday night.

Engagement of Miss Rechsteiner Announced During Holidays

The engagement of Miss Kathryn Rechsteiner of Gainesville, Ga., to Mr. Edgar Allen Ward, Jr., was announced December 27.

Miss Rechsteiner is a sophomore in the teachers college, and is the niece of Professor Otto Gullickson. Mr. Ward was graduated from Huntington High school, and attended the Grand Rapids School of Design in Grand Rapids, Michigan, and is now president of the Ward Displays, Inc. in Huntington.

Baylous-Gardner

The wedding of Miss Margaret Baylous and Mr. Ralph Gardner took place New Year's eve at the Greenbrier hotel in White Sulphur Springs.

Mrs. Gardner was graduated from Marshall last year from the arts and sciences college. She was a member of the Parthenon staff for several years and in her senior year was society editor. During the past summer she made a tour of Europe with her mother, and on her return to the States, remained in New York City, where she was employed by the Macy company.

Mr. Gardner attended Ohio Wesleyan, and is now manager of a brokerage office in White Sulphur Springs, where the couple will reside.
