Crowd Helps Revive Spring Carnival

STUDENTS AND TOWNSPEOPLE enjoyed themselves Saturday at the Spring Carnival booths in the Women's Gymnasium. There were various activities including caricature drawings, old time movies, pie throwing, ringtoss, a pastry stand and others. Barbara Shinn, Sparta, N.J., junior and co-ordinator of the Spring Carnival Commission, said since this year's carnival was a success the tradition would be continued next year.

President Seeking Federal Funds To Build New Women's Dormitory

President Stewart H. Smith has revealed plans for a new woman's dormitory and said that the basement of the structure could house a fallout shelter thus salvaging plans for a shelter on campus.

The building is to be constructed between the University Dining Hall and Lucy Prichard Hall, freshman woman's dormitory. This site was originally planned for a prototype fallout shelter which has received many financial set backs in the past few months.

President Smith said a preliminary application for a $600,000 loan to construct the dormitory was submitted last week to the Philadelphia office of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency. The state is to provide matching funds of $600,000 expected to be available next March.

Construction on the woman's dormitory is expected to begin sometime in the coming year.

President Smith said that tentative plans call for the structure to be from seven to eight stories and house from 290 to 305 students.

He said that in the near future he and Dean Lillian Buskirk are going to Ohio State University to inspect a new concept in building there.

The structures are designed in such a manner so as to cut down on construction costs.

When asked why the building is to be built on a campus area that would put it so close to two other buildings he remarked that this is not a new concept, many other institutions do it and we don't have extra money to buy additional land.

He said that it is cheaper to build a tall building than two or three shorter ones that will hold the same number of residents because it saves on roof and foundation costs.

The decision to include the fallout shelter in the new dormitory was one of three recommendations President Smith submitted last week in an effort to solve the finance problem of the shelter.

The recommendations were made after a recent conference with a Department of Defense official and Huntington Architect Robert L. Brown. The proposals were incorporated into a four-page letter and sent to the Department of Defense.

Dr. Smith said his second alternate recommendation is that another attempt be made to secure additional federal or state funds and construct the shelter as originally planned.

His third alternate recommendation would "drastically reduce the size of the project to bring it within available finances." Dr. Smith said he has, "certain reservations" about this third proposal since the value of the shelter to the institution would be seriously reduced.

Construction of the fallout shelter hit a snag when bids on the job exceeded the $250,000 in federal funds allocated for the project. The Department of Defense later turned down a request for a supplementary grant of $70,000.

In other action the president announced that a final application for $200,000 was sent to the HHFA last week. This loan is being sought to convert two buildings at University Heights campus into living quarters for married students.

A preliminary application was approved March 5.

Student Government Posts Open

Applications are now being taken for positions on the 1962-63 Student Government staff, according to Student Body President Gary McMillan.

Applications may be picked up at the Student Government office and must be returned by May 1. The appointments will be announced shortly after this date.

Positions open include Business Manager, Secretary of Academic Affairs, Secretary of Athletic Affairs, Secretary of Publications and Public Relations, Secretary of Social Affairs, and Secretary of Student Government Affairs.

Coordinators of the various commissions will also be appointed, including those commissions administering the Blood Drive, Cheerleaders, Et Cetera, Freshman Activities, Freshman Orientation, Hospitality, State Awareness, Student Directory, and Who's Who.

In addition to these positions others such as those for Book-of-the-Semester and Parents' Weekend will be filled next fall.

Action Will Become Effective September 1--President Smith

By LARRY ASCOUGH
Staff Reporter

Fourteen faculty members have been promoted effective Sept. 1, 1962, according to President Stewart H. Smith. President Smith's recommendations were approved by the West Virginia Board of Education April 6.

Faculty members and their promotions include:

Dr. Marvin O. Mitchell, associate professor of English to professor; Dr. O. Norman Simpkins, associate professor of sociology to professor; Dr. Donald D. Cox, associate professor of science to professor; Dr. Michael B. Josephs, associate professor of physical education to professor.

Mrs. Carolyn Dwight, assistant professor of business administration to associate professor; Mrs. Irene Evans, assistant professor of business administration to associate professor; Wayne W. Warnke, assistant professor of English to associate professor; Miss Joanne Drescher, assistant professor of music to associate professor; Walter Felty, assistant professor of education and social studies to associate professor; Leo V. Imperi, assistant professor of music to associate professor; Wilbur Pursley, assistant professor of music to associate professor.

Lewis A. Walker, instructor in chemistry to assistant professor; William G. Cook, instructor in economics to assistant professor, and Mrs. Elizabeth H. Czompo, instructor in mathematics to assistant professor.

President Smith pointed out that recommendations for promotion must originate in the individual departments. The head of the department must first approve the recommendation. The individual school dean then must pass it and give it to President Smith for final approval before it goes to the State Board of Education.

'62 Frolic Is Termed A Success

This year's revival of the Spring Carnival was termed a tremendous success by Barbara Shinn, Sparta, N.J., junior and co-ordinator of the Spring Carnival Commission. Miss Shinn said that approximately 600 people attended the Friday night mix and that many townspeople as well as students enjoyed the 18 booths that were set up Saturday in the Women's Gymnasium.

At the mix, Bob Herrema, Rochester, N.Y., junior and dance chairman, presented Spring Carnival Queen Judy Cipoletti and gave her a ticket to the Saturday night dance at the Riverside Club in Chesapeake, Ohio.

GET ROYAL ESCORT

Saturday, Miss Cipoletti escorted three judges, Dr. Donald Cox, associate professor of science; Dr. A. E. Harris, Dean of Graduate School, and Dr. Eugene Hoak, chairman of the speech department, on a tour of the booths. The judges selected the booths that would receive the first and second place trophies at the Spring Carnival Dance. The senior class booth, which presented takeoffs on old time movies, won the first place prize. Second place trophy was presented to Sigma Sigma Sigma, social sorority, for their pie-throwing booth.

The booth that made the most money was constructed by Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary. The senior class booth and Sigma Sigma Sigma's were close runners-up. Complete receipts have not been tabulated but all booths showed a profit over expenditures.

QUEEN HONORED

At the dance, which was held from 9 p.m. until midnight, Miss Cipoletti was given roses and a loving cup by Student Body President Gary McMillan. Her parents also attended the dance and gave her a necklace.

Proceeds from the dance and mix will go to the Student Government. They will also receive one-fifth of the money received by the individual booths.

Members of the Spring Carnival Commission, in addition to Miss Shinn and Herrema include:

No Parthenon Friday

The Parthenon will not publish Friday because of the Easter vacation which begins at noon tomorrow and ends at 8 a.m. Tuesday. Publication will resume Friday, April 27.

ACADEMY TO MEET

The College Academy of Science will meet at 7:30 p.m. April 26 in Room 213 of Science Hall. Dr. Ernest H. Ern, assistant professor of geology, will speak on the Teays Valley River. The officers of the West Virginia Academy of Science are invited.

University Hall Trophy Winner

University Hall has been awarded the first scholarship trophy donated by the Inter-dorm Council. Jan Strickland, St. Albans senior and president of the dormitory, and Mrs. Golda E. Daken, University Hall hostess, were presented the trophy by Dean Buskirk at the mix last Wednesday.

The winning dormitory averaged 2.65. Laidley Hall was second and Prichard Hall was third with 2.57 and 2.47 respectively.

The 36-inch trophy will be awarded each semester to the highest academic average. The date, name of the dormitory, and the grade average will be engraved on the trophy.

This is a new project of the Inter-dorm Council. The Council hopes the competition for this trophy will establish unity within the dormitory system and encourage scholarship.

The Inter-dorm Council was established three years ago to offer a chance for cooperation and provide inter-dorm social activities. Each residence hall on campus has three representatives to this Council.

Federal Team Reviews Marshall Battle Group

The annual Federal Inspection was held Friday for the Marshall Battle Group in the gymnasium of the new Men's Physical Education Building.

The inspection of Marshall's ROTC unit started with a briefing by Lt. Col. Thomas M. Ariail and Cadet Group Commander Paul Beckett. The main purpose of this briefing was to enlighten the inspection team on the history and advancement of the University and the ROTC unit. The inspection team was composed of Col. Richard J. Bestor; Lt. Col. Cecil G. Dansby; Maj. Robert N. Weaver; Capt. Edward L. Queeney; M/Sgt. John A. Simchick; and Sfc. Clive E. Bowen.

Shearing Slated To Give Show

George Shearing, jazz pianist and his Quintet will present this season's final Artist Series program at 8:30 p.m. April 24 at the Keith-Albee Theater. The program will be entitled "A Touch of Genius."

Since his arrival in America in 1947, the blind pianist has been voted number one pianist in a dozen nations, including Japan, Australia, Germany, France, and South Africa. The Quintet has headlined major supper clubs in the United States and has appeared at Madison Square Garden, Carnegie Hall, and the Hollywood Bowl.

The British pianist, who became a United States citizen in 1956, has appeared on the Steve Allen Show and the Ed Sullivan Show. Each year he performs with the Rochester, Cleveland, Sacramento and Lubbock, Texas Symphony Orchestras, appearing as both classical and jazz soloist.

The quintet was born in 1948 when they recorded eight sides for Discovery Records. The arrangements consisted of Shearing's piano, bass, drums, vibes and guitar. In 1949 the group recorded several selections for MGM.

Mr. Shearing's composition, "Lullaby of Birdland," has been recorded more often than any other song with the possible exception of "Stardust."

HONORARY GIVES BASKETS
Members of Kappa Omicron Phi, home economics honorary, will present Easter baskets to 28 children at the Cerebral Palsy Council of Cabell County. Members and pledges of the honorary will hold a work party this week to make and fill the baskets.

SALE TO CONTINUE

Orders for senior announcements will continue to be taken at the Student Union office on a first come—first serve basis until the supply is gone.

The inspection team, after attending the early morning briefing, dispersed into various groups to inspect the various components of Marshall's Battle Group.

Afterwards the team proceeded to the Physical Education Building where the cadets passed in review. This review was originally scheduled to be held on the parade grounds in back of the Main Annex, but due to weather the review was moved indoors.

After the formal review the Federal Inspection Team, the Marshall ROTC faculty staff, and President Stewart H. Smith attended a luncheon in the Student Union. Following the luncheon the inspectors continued checking the Battle Group.

The final analysis showing the deficiencies and the good points of the Marshall Unit will not be available for several weeks.

MU Fraternity Elects Officers

Gamma Theta Upsilon, geography honorary and professional organization, elected new officers and introduced new members at a recent meeting.

Guest speaker was Charles Stephen, geography professor at Morris Harvey College, who told of his experiences at graduate school at Ohio State University.

Charles Lieble, South Charleston graduate student, was elected president; Wilfred Dingess, West Hamlin graduate student, vice president, and Mrs. Wilfred Dingess, secretary-treasurer.

New members of the organization, all graduate students unless otherwise designated, include Steve Riddel, St. Marys; T. Bates, Huntington; Wilfred Dingess; Robert D. Baily, Charleston; Jim Chapman, Huntington; John Kincaid, Huntington senior; Joe Van Faussien, Prichard; Fred Stienbrecher, Huntington, and Jim Call, Barboursville.

The next meeting of the organization will be May 2 in Science Hall 111. Charles Lieble will give an illustrated talk on Yugoslavia.

HONORARY TO MEET

Kappa Delta Pi, professional educators honorary, will have a meeting at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the North Parlor of Old Main.

Cadets Perform For Inspection

ORIGINALLY SCHEDULED for the parade grounds behind Old Main Annex, the Annual Federal Inspection of the Battle Group was moved to the gymnasium in the Men's Health and Physical Education Building because of bad weather. The inspection was held last Friday to determine the adequacy of the Marshall cadet units.

Big Green Golfers Win 10 Straight

By JERRY REED
Sports Writer

The unbeaten Big Green golf team lengthened its winning streak to 10 last Saturday by defeating the University of Kentucky 15-12 at Tates Creek Country Club in Lexington, Ky.

Marshall's victory came over a Kentucky team considered to be one of the best in the school's history as it topped the Wildcats in the best ball division, 6-3, and ended the foursome play with a 9-9 tie. The Big Green also came up with the medalist of the day as Chip Woodring shot a 69.

PLAY MONDAY

Over the Easter vacation period the Big Green golfers will go into competition twice as they meet the University of Cincinnati at the Guyan Golf and

Country Club Saturday, and on Monday afternoon they are scheduled to travel to Morehead, Ky., to challenge the Eagles.

In a tennis match last Saturday the Big Green netters emerged as victors against the netters from Morehead State Teacher's College as they won 8-0 at Marshall.

SINGLES VICTORS

In the singles matches Bill Price defeated Jim Rose, 6-3, 6-3; Bill Jefferson won over Ron Lykins, 6-2, 6-3; Bill Carroll topped Tom Combs, 6-0, 6-1; Don Wassum defeated Danny Burke, 6-3, 6-3; Buddy Duncan defeated Stuart Keminsky, 6-3, 6-1; and Hughes Booher won over Lee Hamlin, 10-12, 6-3, 6-4.

In the doubles matches Jefferson and Carroll defeated Rose and Lykins, 6-8, 6-1, 6-3; and Price and Wassum won over Burke and Combs, 6-1, 6-3. This win left the Marshall netters with a record of three wins and two losses.

Another match was scheduled with the Falcons of Bowling Green on Monday at 2 p.m. at the Marshall tennis courts. The Falcons won 6-3.

MU Baseball Team At Home Against Golden Bears Today

By LARRY MULLINS
Sports Writer

The university baseball team will try again this afternoon at St. Clouds Common to get in a complete ball game against the West Virginia Tech Golden Bears. Game time is 3:30 p.m. The Big Green has two Mid-American Conference games scheduled this weekend with Miami University at Oxford, Ohio.

The Big Green is having trouble playing games this season because of bad weather. It has played only one of six scheduled contests. Last weekend two more games were called off with MAC foe Toledo because of wet grounds. Coach Alys Brown said that the games would not be replayed and could hurt the Big Green in the final MAC standings.

COULD HURT

"We could be hurting in the final standings because this makes the fourth cancelled game of the MAC season," Coach Brown said. Two games with Bowling Green were cancelled two weeks ago.

"Miami split a doubleheader with Ohio University this weekend by 5-4 scores and OU is pretty tough," Coach Brown commented, "I knew that this Miami bunch would have a good ball club. You just can't forget about them."

Brown plans to use Charles Brown on the mound against West Virginia Tech while saving Dale Lynd and Jim Gallion for the weekend games with Miami.

TO USE GALLION

"I'll probably use Gallion in the Friday game and Lynd in the Saturday game. There is one thing I'm sure of, we've had plenty of rest," Brown added.

The track team also had a meet postponed last weekend but the weather was not at fault. Coach Charles Kautz announced that the meet was postponed due to the lack of boys. Many of Coach Kauntz' trackmen are taking part in spring football drills.

The next track meet will be April 27 and the postponed meet has been rescheduled for May 9.

CRAM COURSE No. 3: ENGLISH POETRY

Final exams will soon be upon us. This is no time for fun and games. Let us instead study hard, cram fiercely, prepare assiduously.

In this column today let us make a quick survey of English poetry. When we speak of English poetry, we are, of course, speaking of Byron, Shelley, and Keats. Some say that of the three, Keats was the most talented. It is true that he displayed his gifts earlier than the others. While still a schoolboy at St. Swithin's he wrote his epic lines:

*If I am good, I get an apple,
So I don't whistle in the chapel.*

From this distinguished beginning, he went on to write another 40,000 poems in his lifetime—which is all the more remarkable when you consider that he was only five feet tall!

I mention this fact only to show that physical problems never keep the true artist from creating. Byron, for example, was lame. Shelley had an ingrown hair. Nonetheless, these three titans of literature turned out a veritable torrent of romantic poetry.

Nor did they neglect their personal lives. Byron, a devil with the ladies, was expelled from Oxford for dipping Elizabeth Barrett's pigtales in an inkwell. He thereupon left England to fight in the Greek war of independence. He fought bravely and well, but women were never far from his mind, as evidenced by this immortal poem:

How splendid it is to fight for the Greek,

But I don't enjoy it half as much as dancing cheek to cheek.

While Byron fought in Greece, Shelley remained in England, where he became court poet to the Duke of Marlborough. (It is interesting to note in passing that Marlborough was the original spelling of Marlboro Cigarettes, but the makers were unable to get the entire word on the package. With characteristic ingenuity they cleverly lopped off the final "gh". This, of course, left them with a "gh" lying around the factory. They looked for some place to put it and finally decided to give it to the Director of Sales, Mr. Vincent Van Go. This had a rather curious result. As plain Van Go, he had been a crackerjack director of sales, but once he became Van Gogh, he felt a mysterious, irresistible urge to paint. He resigned from the Company and became an artist. It did not work out too well. When Van Gogh learned what a great success Marlboro Cigarettes quickly became—as, of course, they had to with such a flavorful flavor, such a filterful filter, such a flip-top box, such a soft pack—he was so upset about leaving the firm that he cut off his ear in a fit of chagrin.)

But I digress. Byron, I say, was in Italy and Shelley in England. Meanwhile Keats went to Rome to try to grow. Who does not remember his wistful lyric:

*Although I am only five feet high,
Some day I will look in an elephant's eye.*

But Keats did not grow. His friends, Shelley and Byron, touched to the heart, rushed to Rome to stretch him. This too failed. Then Byron, ever the ladies' man, took up with Lucrezia Borgia, Catherine of Aragon, and Annie Oakley. Shelley, a more domestic type, stayed home with his wife Mary, and wrote his famous poem:

I love to stay home with the missus and write,

And hug her and kiss her and give her a bite.

Mary Shelley finally got so tired of being bitten that she went into another room and wrote Frankenstein. Upon reading the manuscript, Shelley and Byron got so scared they immediately booked passage home to England. Keats tried to go too, but he was so small that the clerk at the steamship office couldn't see him over the top of the counter. So Keats remained in Rome and died of a broken heart.

Byron and Shelley cried a lot and then together composed this immortal epitaph:

Good old Keats, he might have been short,

But he was a great American and a heck of a good sport.

© 1962 Max Shulman

Truth, not poetry, is the business of the Marlboro makers, and we tell you truly that you can't find a better tasting, better smoking cigarette than today's Marlboro.
