Returning To Ministry Is Reason; President Seeking Replacement

By LARRY ASCOUGH

Dean of Men David Kirk has turned in his resignation effective June 30, according to President Stewart H. Smith. Later in the summer Dean Kirk is going to West Virginia University as campus pastor for the Wesley Foundation.

Referring to his job here Dean Kirk said, "It's been a rewarding experience but I want to return to the ministry." He explained that he liked to work with students from the religious point of view.

Dean Kirk was a 1958 graduate of Marshall with a major in philosophy and a minor in religion. Last June he received a B.D. degree from the Duke University Divinity School with his major area of study in ministry and a minor in counseling.

He previously was pastor-in-charge of the Orange Methodist Church in Chapel Hill, N. C. He was also in charge of youth work at several churches in North Carolina.

While at Marshall Dean Kirk was Student Body President in 1957-58, president of the Junior Class, and a member of the varsity basketball team. He also was a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership fraternity, and Sigma Phi Epsilon, social fraternity.

Concerning a new dean, President Smith said that he was looking for a replacement. "We are interested in a man that has had previous experience either as a dean or assistant dean of men," the president added.

Annual Maypole Dance At Laidley Hall

THE WOMEN OF LAIDLEY HALL had their third annual Maypole dance last Saturday in front of the dormitory. The dance was only one of the many activities of Parents Week-end which was held Saturday and Sunday and attracted over 1,000 parents. Approximately 125 people witnessed the dance which began at 4 p.m. The week-end was highlighted Sunday by the annual Mother's Day Sing which was attended by nearly 2,000 persons.

Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon Take Honors In Mothers' Day Sing

By JOHNNY HINES
Editor-in-Chief

In 89 degree heat under the shade of campus trees, some 2,000 persons watched Sunday as Sigma Kappa sorority and Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity took top honors in the annual Mothers' Day Sing.

All sororities were dressed in blue choir robes and Sigma Kappa sang "Loyalty Ode" and "Liebestraum" to win the first place trophy in the women's division.

Dean of Women Lillian H. Buskirk made the trophy presentation. Suzi Hall, Millstone junior, directed the Sigma Kappa's and she was accompanied by Mary Puskas, Mt. Hope junior.

The men of the SAE's were dressed in farm hats, "jeans" and sport shirts. They sang "My Fraternity" and "Oklahoma" to take top spot in the men's division.

Placement Director Robert Alexander presented the winning trophies. William Kingsbury, Huntington senior, directed the SAE's and accompanist was Ted Wiley, Lewisburg sophomore.

The two runners-up were Alpha Xi Delta and Pi Kappa Alpha.

The Pikes were dressed in straw hats, bow ties and carried canes. They sang "Down in Old Virginia" and "Coney Island Baby". The director was David Hammack, Elkview junior, and the accompanist was June Patton, Huntington freshman.

The Alpha Xi's sang "Quest" and "Clap-a Yo Hands." They were directed by Mary Bernard, St. Albans junior, and the accompanist was Mary Margaret Abruzzino, Shinnston junior.

The Sing was sponsored by Panhellenic Council and the Interfraternity Council. All greek organizations participated with the exception of the Kappa Alpha Order.

A spokesman for the fraternity said that at the last mom-

Judges for the Sing were from area schools.

Professor Asks Leave

Thomas Bauserman, professor of mathematics, has applied for a leave of absence to teach throughout the state next year on an Inter-Service Training Program sponsored by the National Science Foundation and the West Virginia State Education Department.

Under the program he will instruct junior and senior high math teachers throughout the state new concepts in mathematics teaching and how to use new math programs. The training program will be held at four centers; Charleston, Beckley, Wheeling, and Parkersburg.

Mr. Bauserman came to Marshall in 1955. He had previously taught at West Virginia University for eight years. He received his bachelor's degree from West Virginia Institute of Technology, his master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh and his Ph.D. from Washington State University.

Graduation Information Announced

By FRAN ALLRED
Assistant Campus Editor

Baccalaureate and commencement exercises will be held Sunday, May 27, on the campus west of Prichard Hall, Luther E. Bledsoe, registrar and director of admissions, announced.

All May graduates are required to attend both baccalaureate and commencement programs or request "in absentia" graduation in writing from the dean of their college, he said.

A fee of $10 must be paid by May graduates if they cannot attend or if they are not excused, Mr. Bledsoe said. None of the events will be rehearsed.

GRADUATES TO REPORT

Graduates will report to the following places at 9 a.m. for baccalaureate services and at 1:15 p.m. for commencement exercises so they can be placed in the academic procession by the faculty marshals.

Teachers College seniors will meet at the northeast entrance to Old Main opposite Main Annex. Frederick A. Fitch, professor of physical education, and Robert L. Britton, professor of geography, will be the marshals.

Arts and Sciences College seniors will meet at the northwest entrance to Old Main opposite Main Annex. Vernon D. Jolley, professor of business administration, and N. Baynard Green, professor of zoology will be marshals.

MEET AT STEPS

Seniors in the College of Applied Science will meet at the front steps of Old Main, 16th Street entrance. Samuel T. Stinson, associate professor of engineering, will be marshal.

Candidates for the master's degree will form a line beginning at the bust of John Marshall in front of the 16th Street entrance of Old Main. Dr. A. Mervin Tyson, professor of English, and Charles S. Runyon, professor of education, will be marshals.

Caps and gowns may be secured at the bookstore between May 21 and May 26. The bookstore will close at noon on May 26.

The Rev. Chalmers Coe, minister at the First Congregational Church in Columbus, Ohio, will be the guest speaker at the baccalaureate.

The speaker for commencement exercises will be Dr. Paul Miller, president of West Virginia University.

Committee Set To Investigate Discrimination

Senate Speaker Walt Cosby has appointed a special committee to study the problem of equal rights for all Marshall students.

Cosby's action came after Phil Carter, Clarksburg sophomore, addressed the Senate and charged that Negro students in Huntington do not receive the same opportunities that white students do.

Carter pointed out that while the University itself doesn't practice any form of discrimination, the negro student doesn't receive equal treatment from the stores, theatres or other businesses in the local area.

Citing the recent picketing at a local theatre as an example of the negro's attempt to obtain equal rights, Carter asked that the student government join in this movement. He commented that student government must speak for all Marshall students, not just a few.

The study committee consists of Carolyn Karr Huntington graduate student and chairman; Senator Bill Calderwood, Charleston junior; Aubrey King, Iaeger junior, and Tom Stafford, Huntington junior.

BREAKFAST TOMORROW

Alpha Xi Delta will have its annual Strawberry breakfast tomorrow at the chapter house, 1645 Fifth Avenue, from 7 to 11 a.m.

Student prices are 75 cents and adults are $1.

English Qualifying Exam Dates Set For Summer

By JOAN FAVORITE
Teachers College Journalist

The Qualifying Examination in English Composition, required for graduation by all University students, will be given this summer, according to Prof. A. Mervin Tyson, chairman of the English Department.

Dates for two summer examinations are 9 a.m. Saturday, June 23 and Saturday, July 28, Professor Tyson said. He added that they will be given in the Science Auditorium. The same basic requirements as for previous examinations are in effect. This is the first time the examination is being offered in the summer.

Students are eligible to take the exam in the summer if they have acquired 68 or more semester hours at the end of the current semester; if they have just attained junior status (58 or more semester hours); and if they have just acquired 45 or more semester hours in a two-year program.

Professor Tyson reported, "Students previously declared exempt because they had more than 80 hours in the Engineering program or more than 70 hours in the other four year programs at the beginning of the first semester 1961-62, are not required to take the examination." Also exempt are students who had A or B in the "A" sections of English 101 or 102, and foreign students for whom English is not a native language.

Students who were assigned to take the examination previously and who did not do so may take it during the summer, Professor Tyson said. Students who have failed the examination are required to complete the composition clinic before retaking it.

Those completing the clinic at the end of the current semester are eligible for the examination in the summer, Dr. Tyson said. No assignment lists will be prepared for the summer exam.

SUZANNE TAMPLIN, Racine senior, was named Pi Kappa Alpha "Dream Girl" at the fraternity's "Dream Girl Dance" last Saturday night at the Governor Cabell Hotel. Miss Tamplin, pinmate of Jim Lee, Sharples senior, was the Pi Kappa Alpha nominee for district "Dream Girl" last year.

'South Pacific' Called Success

"South Pacific" was a complete success, both artistically and financially, according to John Sayre, director of development and alumni affairs, and Prof. Eugene Hoak, chairman of the Speech Department.

Professor Hoak said there was full co-operation and consistent effort from members of the cast and stage crew. "There was no appreciable difference between the first and last performances. It was all well done."

Although it will probably be the last of the month before any definite figures will be available, the four performances will definitely be in the "black" Mr. Sayre said.

He said that an estimated 3,100 persons attended the musical, which is expected to gross about $4,000. With an overhead of approximately $2,100, a substantial profit is expected.

Attendance was greater this year than last, he said. Four performances of "Annie Get Your Gun" were attended by 2,100 persons. Mr. Sayre said that last year's success was great promotion for the "South Pacific" production. Attendance was tripled for this year's first performance. There were turn-away crowds the third and fourth nights, and 61 extra seats were set up Saturday night.

Whirlwind Tour To Far East Awaits Moffat

A whirlwind 37-day tour awaits Dr. Charles Moffat, professor of history when he leaves Huntington on Aug. 4 on a Defense Department speaking engagement.

He'll cram 62 lectures—as many as three a day—into the itinerary which includes Hawaii, Korea, Japan and Okinawa.

Dr. Moffat will travel by commercial jet to San Francisco, then board a Military Air Transport (MAT) plane for the flight to Honolulu, Hawaii. On Aug. 6-8 he has speaking engagements in the newest of the 50 states. On Aug. 9 he departs for South Korea where he's scheduled to talk on Aug. 13-17 and Aug. 20-24.

Then the airborne lecturer visits Japan for talks on Aug. 27-30.

On the homeward leg of his halfway-around-the-world mission, he'll stop in Okinawa for lectures on Sept. 3-6.

The weary traveler should arrive home—via Hawaii and San Francisco—on Sept. 9.

Sigma Phi Epsilon elected the following officers: Bob Herrema, Rochester, N. ## Where Do They Go To Study Prior To Final Exam Week?

Final examinations are close at hand—next week, to be exact—and some Marshall students have that "I want to be alone" feeling.

But The Parthenon's photographer, Charles Leith, intruded on them long enough to portray the sanctum sanctorum that they found.

This pictorial feature story came to The Parthenon's attention when students in Journalism 101—taught by Virginia Lee, associate professor—noticed that some of their friends were disappearing from the campus scene in order to prepare for the fateful week.

Five of the journalism students turned detectives and this store resulted. The "detectives" are Paul Butler, Jon Lipps, Alice Lambert, Mary Lynne Nuzum and Joseph Krensavage.

These sleuths turned up students studying in some unusual places—a clothes closet, a bus station, in an automobile, in an elevator, and on a fire escape.

MAC Tourneys Soon; MU Competition Ready

The 1962 spring sports schedule is nearing its completion as the golf, tennis and track teams are looking forward to the Mid-American Conference Tournaments while the baseball team has two games remaining this season.

Concerning this year's golf team, Coach Whitey Wilson stated that he didn't feel the team improved particularly but that "they started out winning and they are still winning."

The Big Green golf team compiled a record of 20 wins and one loss making this season's record the best ever at Marshall. The closest record previous to this year's was in 1957 when the MU golfers rolled up a 19-3 record.

"I think that the Mid-American Conference championship will be decided between Marshall and Ohio University but Bowling Green and Western Michigan may be the dark horses in this year's tourney", replied Coach Wilson when questioned on his team's chances.

The tennis team under Coach Ray Cumberledge has a record of seven wins and six losses with the final match being played on Monday (after The Parthenon's press time).

Cumberledge stated that the team "played pretty consistently and we have a fair chance of scoring some points in the conference".

The conference is probably more even this year than in the past and Cumberledge feels that the title will be a toss-up.

Concerning track the Big Green cinder team has rolled up one victory over West Virginia State while falling to Morehead, Concord and Fairmont.

CONFERENCE TITLE FOR BIG GREEN?
... 'Could Be,' Golf Coach Wilson Says

Depth, Record Make Team MAC Golf Crown Favorite

By GEORGE ARNOLD
Sports Editor

The outstanding performances of Marshall's fourth, fifth and sixth members of the golf team have erased almost completely a severe handicap which has crippled its chances for a championship season in past years. That handicap has been a lack of depth. This season the Big Green has found it in such abundance that it has compiled the best record (20-1) in the school's history and as a result Coach Neal (Whitey) Wilson's team will enter the all-important Mid-American Conference Tournament at Kent, Ohio, tomorrow in an unaccustomed role as the favorite.

"Last year, and in years past, the first three players couldn't afford to lose a point or the match was gone right there," team co-captain Jim Ward said Sunday.

'EVERYBODY SCORING'

"You couldn't count on a single point from the fourth man on down. If the top three couldn't carry the weight then the match could be forgotten . . . it was lost. Now the pressure is off because everybody is scoring points," Ward continued, "and with the tournament experience that Pete Byer, Harry Hoffer, Chip Woodring and I have had I believe we are going to win the conference championship."

Ward isn't alone by any means in predicting an MAC title for Marshall. Arnold Browning, host pro at Guyan Golf and Country Club where Marshall practices and plays its home games, was quick to jump on the Big Green bandwagon.

"I definitely feel that Marshall should be the top-seeded team in the tournament," Browning said. "I have a lot of confidence in the players and I'm picking them to win it."

BROWNING AGREES

Browning, who has given many precious hours of his time in advising and working with the university's golf teams over the seasons, echoes Coach Wilson's statement that depth has been the secret of success this season.

"The play of Woodring (No. 4 man), Dave Whipkey (No. 5) and Bill Spensky (No. 6) has made the difference," Browning said. "They have given Byer, Ward and Hoffer a big boost and they have had a big effect on the team's morale."

"All the fellows have worked real hard this year and I think they've all shown a lot of improvement—even Ward and Byer who were certainly fine golfers before this season. And Hoffer is better. He's a good thinker and when you're a good thinker you can play the game the way it should be played. The same goes for Woodring, Spensky and Whipkey. They're coming along all right."

TOUGHEST FOES

Browning believes defending conference champion Ohio University, rated by some as a co-favorite, and Bowling Green will present the strongest opposition. Wilson goes along with those two choices and adds Western Michigan and Toledo to the list.

The Big Green has beaten every team in the conference at least once. Only one, Ohio U., has defeated Marshall. The tournament will be a 36-hole affair with 18 holes being played Friday and 18 more on Saturday.

Ward, a veteran of several state amateur tournaments—he went to the quarter-finals last year—says the MAC battle will be tougher than ever before but adds that the Kent course is easier than Marshall's home grounds at Guyan.

"It's a par 32-37-69," Ward said, "but of course they'll shift the pins and move the tees to make it harder. We played there last weekend and our top five players averaged 69 under summer rules. OU played there two weeks before and average 69.3 under winter rules which are easier."

The Big Green defeated Kent 19½ to 4½ and Western Michigan 14-10 at Kent Saturday in a tri-angular match. Last Friday Marshall topped Toledo 15-9 and Western Michigan 14-10 at Toledo.

Baseball Needs Listed For Better Team In '63

"A big improvement in the pitching staff and the ability to hit with men on base are two of the main obstacles next year's baseball team will have to overcome if it is to be a success," says Coach Alvis Brown.

"This year's ball club lost too many ball games by leaving men stranded on the base paths and by the rusty pitching of some of our good hurlers. If we are to win games these vital mistakes will have to be corrected," Brown added.

Only two games remain on the Big Green schedule this season and one of them has been postponed. A Tuesday game with Morehead was postponed but Brown hopes to replay it later in the week. The other game is with West Virginia Tech this Friday.

The overall record up to date is 3-10 but Brown hopes to better this record in the coming season with the help of his younger prospects.

"The boys were a little younger this year but next year they should be a little more experienced. We have a lot of young boys returning next year including two of our leading hitters, Mickey Sydenstricker and Rusty Wamsley. Sydenstricker leads the team in hitting in overall games but Wamsley leads the team in the conference," Brown continued.

Along with Sydenstricker and Wamsley are returning regulars Dale Lynd, a pitcher, Zeke Myers, catcher, and Dick Filmore the second baseman.

Bowman Signs MU Basketball Grant

The university basketball team has signed another player for the coming season. He is Bob Bowman of Bluefield High School who was a class AAA All-State choice in West Virginia, averaging over 30 points a game. He was one of the most sought after players in the area.

Bowman is the second player to be signed this year. Damon Cooke of Huntington High was signed

16 Students Have Parents Teaching On This Campus

By SANDY O'SHEA
Feature Writer

What is it like to attend the same school where one of your parents is a teacher? Sixteen of the students on the Marshall campus who fall into such a category were interviewed on the subject.

Among those students who have a parent teaching here are: Mary Moffat, sophomore, daughter of Charles H. Moffat, professor of history; Clayton Page, freshman, son of Clayton R. Page, assistant professor of speech; Barbara Beck, senior, daughter of R. Lloyd Beck, professor of philosophy; Jonathan Brown, junior, son of Jack R. Brown, professor of English; Peggy Fors, junior, daughter of Juan C. Fors, professor of Spanish; Donna Darbes, sophomore, daughter of Alex Darbes, professor of Psychology.

Marilyn Dwight, junior, daughter of Mrs. C. E. Dwight, assistant professor of business administration; Bill Kingsbury, senior, son of C. Lawrence Kingsbury, professor of music; Tom Virgallito, junior, son of Mrs. V. A. Virgallito, instructor of English; David McWhorter, junior, son of Allen Blumberg, associate professor of education; David Groves, freshman, son of David F. Groves, assistant professor of engineering.

James Harper, junior, son of Charles P. Harper, professor of political science; James Lichtenstein, freshman, son of Joseph M. Lichtenstein, associate professor of education; Jerry Morris, freshman, son of Woodrow Morris, professor of education; Dorothy Ritchie Thompson, sophomore, daughter of Charles C. Ritchie, assistant professor of education and Carolyn Wilburn, freshman, daughter of D. Banks Wilburn, dean of teachers college and professor of education.

The majority of those interviewed said that being on campus with their father or mother was a disadvantage. Most all the students feel that other teachers expect more of them and that they in turn have to be more responsible. Bill Kingsbury, a language major, comments that "any professor's son or daughter is marked and watched more closely upon entering a class. I think it is a definite disadvantage." However, Jerry Morris, physical education and art major in teachers college, considers the same situation an advantage. "I guess it could work either way though," he said.

"Through my father I knew many of the teachers before I actually came to college and as a result I felt more at home here" says Barbara Beck, a major in Home Economics. Advantages cited by Donna Darbes, Biology major, include access to the elevator, the use of her father's office for on-campus studying, and the privilege of teaching some of his classes when he can not be present. Carolyn Wilburn says she has a definite edge when it comes time to register and make out schedules.

Mary Moffat, majoring in elementary education says: "I think that having my father right on campus makes me feel a little worse than other students when I do poorly on a test."

Jonathan Brown and Peggy Fors were able to go with their parents when they took sabbatical leaves to England and Spain, respectively. They both said that this was a special advantage as they are majoring in their father's teaching field. Jonathan felt that being around books all the time was a definite influence on his choice to major in English. In 1958 Jonathan went to England with his father and attended school there.

Miss Fors, who spoke Spanish before English, said that her trip to Spain renewed her interest in the language. She left with her family for Spain in 1959 and they stayed for seven months.

Most of the group have at one time or another, overheard someone speaking about their mother or father as a teacher. Some prefer to ignore the comments regardless of whether they are good or bad, while some let the conversation continue, until, at its close, they identify themselves and "enjoy seeing the reaction". A few of the students prefer to actually join in the conversation employing double talk until the involved party discovers their identity.

If at all possible the students wish to avoid taking a class from their parent. Tom Virgallito said: "I think it would be unfair to us both if I had my mother in class' and this seemed to be the consensus.

THESE THREE STUDENTS also have parents who are teaching at Marshall. They are (left to right) Mrs. Dorothy Ritchie Thompson, whose father is Charles C. Ritchie, assistant professor of education; Jim Lichtenstein, whose father is Dr. Joseph Lichtenstein, associate professor of education; and Marilyn Dwight, whose mother is Mrs. C. E. Dwight, assistant professor of business administration.

TILL WE MEET AGAIN

This is the final column of my eighth year of writing for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and this year, as in every preceding year, when I come to the last column of the season, I come to a problem.

My contract with the makers of Marlboro calls for me to write a humor column and, truly, I do the best I can—all things considered, I am not, I should explain, a jolly man by nature. Why should I be? First of all, I am shorter than everybody. Second, there are moths in my cashmere jacket. Third, I work in television.

All the same, when it comes time to write this column, I light a good Marlboro Cigarette, put aside my trauma, and try with all the strength in my tiny body to make some jokes. Sometimes it works better than others, but on the last column of the year, it just flatly doesn't work at all.

Even in the very beginning this was true—and that, you will recall, was eight years ago when I was relatively young and strong and had not yet developed that nasty knock in my transmission. Well do I remember sitting down to write the final column of my first year. Day followed barren day, and not a yock, not a boff, not a zinger did I produce. I was about to give up humor and take a job selling mechanical dogs when all of a sudden, in a blinding flash, I realized why I couldn't think of any jokes!

I leapt up from my typewriter and ran as fast as my little fat legs would carry me to the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and I tugged my forelock, and I said, "Sirs, I am well aware that you have engaged me to write a humor column, but today, as I approach the final column of the season, I am far too misty to be funny, for the final column of the season is, after all, a leave-taking, and when I think of saying goodbye to my audience—the swellest audience any columnist ever had—the college students of America—wonderful human beings, every man and woman of them—wise but kindly—astute but compassionate—perspicacious but forbearing—when, sirs, I think of saying goodbye to such an audience, I am too shook up even to consider levity, and so I ask you, sirs, to let me, in the final column of the year, forego humor and instead write a simple, dignified, straightforward farewell."

Then I took out my bandanna, wiped my eyes, ears, nose, and throat and waited for a reply from the makers of Marlboro.

They sat around the polished board room table, the makers, their handsome brows knit in concentration, puffing thoughtfully on the Marlboros in their tattooed hands. At length they spoke. "Yes," they said simply.

I never doubted they would say yes. People who make a cigarette as good as Marlboro must themselves be good. People who lavish such care on blending tobaccos so mild and flavorful, on devising a filter so clean and white, on boxing a flip-top box so flip-top, on packing a soft pack so soft—people like that are one hundred percent with me!

And so from that day forward, the final column of the year—including the one you are, I devoutly hope, now reading—makes no attempt to be funny, but is instead a simple thank you and au revoir.

Thank you and au revoir, makers of Marlboro. The memory of our eight years together will remain ever fresh in my heart, and I would like to state for all the world to hear that if you want me back again next year, I shall expect a substantial raise in salary.

Thank you and au revoir, college students of America. May good luck attend all your ventures. Stay well. Stay happy. Stay loose.

Small Max has said it all. We, the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, can only add a heartfelt second chorus: Stay well. Stay happy. Stay loose.

Cheryl Skidmore, South Charleston freshman; Carolyn Sue Allen, Oak Hill freshman; Thomas Dorworth, Parkersburg freshman, and Rebecca McDaniel, Huntington freshman.

The Interdisciplinary Honors Seminar is scheduled to begin operation in the fall semester of 1962. The Seminar will meet one evening a week from 6:30 to 9:00 in the Campus Christian Center and will be concerned with the exploration of great issues

The students asked to participate were chosen on the basis of a 3.5 academic average or better and also, says Dr. Rollins, by certain other vitalizing characteristics such as intellectual curiosity, imaginative vision, patience, reliability and tenacity.

QUESTION: Do you believe a student should take anything to keep awake in order to study for final examinations?

Carolyn Reed, Huntington senior.

No, I don't think a student should take anything to keep awake when studying for finals. They only give you a fuzzy mind and the last thing you need to face a final exam is a fuzzy mind!

Waldo E. Rash, Wharton freshman.

I believe it is up to the individual. Some people have to take pills if they want to stay up all night. I have taken a few, but as a rule I really don't need to take the pills to stay awake.

Barbara Lowe, Smithers senior.

Dick Wildt, Parkersburg junior.

No. I don't think you should take something to stay awake because staying up all night you can't possibly do well on your finals. Anyway, you can't cram a semester's studying into one night.

No, because I believe there is ample time during the semester to do their studying and keep ahead of their work. Staying up late and cramming for an examination just makes me forget.
