Senate Meeting Open To Frosh

All freshmen are invited to attend an open meeting of the Student Senate at 6:30 p.m. today in the Science Hall auditorium.

The purpose of the meeting is to acquaint new students with the work of their student government.

Ready To Shoot Again

ASIAN FLU SHOTS are available again at the Student Health Clinic, according to Dr. T. Craig McKee, university physician. The supply of serum was depleted last week and more was obtained from Cincinnati. Dr. McKee stressed that inoculations will continue as long as students request them.

Smoker Planned By Cavaliers In Science Building Tomorrow

The Cavaliers, men's independent social fraternity will sponsor a smoker tomorrow night beginning at 8 p.m. in the basement lounge of the Science Building.

The event will be highlighted by a brief address by the new Dean of Men, Stanley A. Shaw. Organizational topics will be discussed and entertainment provided at the gathering.

The Cavaliers, the only independent fraternity on campus, is entering its twelfth year of existence since they were founded in 1950. Since then chapters of independent groups have been formed at schools throughout the East.

Cavalier president, James Garrett, Washington, W. Va. junior, had this to say of the coming year:

"We intend in the coming year to strive for closer relations with other campus organizations and to participate in more activities. We feel that this may be the most successful year in Cavalier history."

Dr. Moffat Back After 25,000-Mile Trip

By SANDY O'SHEA
Feature Editor

Dr. Charles H. Moffat, professor of history, returned Sept. 9 from his Far East lecture tour. The tour was under the auspices of the Department of Defense and the lectures dealt generally with the American heritage. His itinerary included lectures in Japan, Korea, Okinawa and Hawaii.

Dr. Moffat was gone for 37 days and traveled some 25,000 miles by jeep, commercial jet, Military Air Transport jet, helicopter for his engagements in Japan, by small military plane in Korea, and also by automobile and boat in Hawaii.

During his tour Dr. Moffat delivered 34 public addresses to some 22,000 people. He gave two television interviews, one in Seoul which was broadcast over seven stations on an all Korean network, and the other in Okinawa. He was also interviewed by the "Stars and Stripes" — the servicemen's newspaper.

Among the places he spoke were Schofield Barracks in Honolulu; Fort Schafter in Hawaii (the headquarters of the U.S. Army—Pacific); Camp Zama, which was the old military college of Japan before 1945 and is now Japan's Army headquarters, and the Seventh Calvary in Korea, originally made famous by Gen. George Custer of the Little Big Horn. Dr. Moffat addressed not only officers and enlisted men, but also 350 English-speaking Korean University students in Seoul, Korea, for the U.S. Information Service; civilian employees of the Eighth Army in Seoul; and officer's wives clubs of the U. S. Army in Japan.

"The schedule was a rigorous one", Dr. Moffat said. "Because of changes in time in crossing the International Date Line, I had to go 48 hours without sleep and yet the schedule required that the lectures be given anyhow."

While in Okinawa, Dr. Moffat visited with Col. and Mrs. William B. O'Neal. Colonel O'Neal was the first commandant of the Marshall ROTC (1950-1953). Dr. Moffat saw a number of Marshall alumni on the trip, including Howard Sutherland of Matewan, in Tokyo; Major Samuel E. Kelly in Korea, a Marshall graduate and formerly with West Virginia State College, and Paul Wright of Huntington, now a naval officer in Honolulu.

In his travels Dr. Moffat went beyond Communist lines into North Korea. "The guards snarled, but I had a United Nations pass", he explained. He slept two nights in quonset huts near the demilitarized zone as a guest of the First Cavalry in Camp Casey.

Of his trip, the history professor commented: "It was a wonderful experience, one that money can't buy. It was especially important to a historian because it vivifies what one reads in a history book. Hawaii was the most beautiful, Japan the most interesting and exotic because it was the most alien to our way of life, and Korea the most revealing because I have never been in a backward country before."

Dr. Moffat said he found Korea to be a classical example of what a population explosion can do. "There are thousands of people roaming the streets with nothing to do."

"The Korean Army which boasts some 600,000 men, is a steady deterrent against the

Production Set For Nov. 8-10

"School For Scandal", a witty comedy of London high life will be the first production of the year for the University Theatre.

This witty farce, by Richard Brinsley Sheridan, has been acclaimed the best comedy of manners in the English language. The play was produced off-Broadway in New York last season and a London production of the comedy is being readied for a Broadway opening in January.

Tryouts for this season opener, directed by Clayton R. Page, director of University Theatre will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, September 26 and 27 in Old Main Auditorium at 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. Roles for ten men and five women will be filled.

The plot concerns itself with the efforts of a handsome young hypocrite named Joseph to win the love of his aristocratic uncle's extravagant young wife. His attempts to woo the beautiful young heiress are foiled however by the appearance of another kindly uncle who proceeds to test the character of his two nephews, the aforementioned Joseph and his warm hearted, spend thrift brother Charles.

The other members of the cast are students of the "School For Scandal", a group of gossips that create the spell binding world of illusion so common to entertaining theater.

Production dates are set for Nov. 8, 9 and 10. Student admission will be by activity card.

Professor Page has urged all students interested in the extra curricular dramatic activities of University Theater to attend the try-outs.

Band's Theme Is Announced

The West Virginia Centennial will be the theme of the Big Green marching band at the Marshall-Louisville game at Fairfield Stadium, Saturday at 8 p.m. Half-time activities will be highlighted with a gala fireworks display.

The band, under the direction of Thomas S. O'Connell, associate professor of music, has 60 members and more are needed. Professor O'Connell said, "Although two-thirds of the members are music majors, anyone may join."

Plans for the future include a trip to the Ohio University game and participation in the Homecoming Parade.

First Convocation Slated Tomorrow

Dr. Harold E. Walker, Vice President of Academic Affairs, will be the speaker for the first convocation of the academic year at 11 a.m. tomorrow in Old Main Auditorium. Dr. Walker will speak on "The Search for Security."

The Symphonic Choir will sing "Let All the World in Every Corner Sing", under the direction of Lee W. Fiser, associate professor of music. Organ music will be by Wendell English, Bluefield sophomore, and Professor Fiser will direct the singing of "Lead On, King Eternal" and the Alma Mater.

An Editorial

Hazard To Students?

Last week, a student on her way to class was injured when a storm drain cover gave way and she fell into the opening. The student, Joyce Akers, Mullens junior, bruised her right foot and leg and the injuries could have been much worse.

The Parthenon investigated the scene of the accident in the alley behind the Student Union. Concrete around the drain is broken and the entire foundation seems to be in danger of collapsing.

resumption of Communist aggression," he said. "R.O.K. (Republic of Korea) is greatly esteemed by the American Eighth Army and a high degree of collaboration between the two has been effected."

Dr. Moffat believes that "instead of being contemptuous of the Koreans, we should realize that they are really more vigorously anti-Communist than the Japanese and are perhaps our most dependable friends in the Orient."

In Okinawa, Dr. Moffat visited a missile depot, the Voice of America Relay Station, and spoke to a Cloak and Dagger

Unit that is soon to be sent to South Viet Nam to combat Communist guerrillas. Dr. Moffat terms Okinawa, which looks a lot like the U.S.A as the "military keystone of the Pacific".

"Tokyo", he said, "is feverishly building and preparing for the 1964 Olympic games. The din of sledge hammers and pile drivers can be heard above the noise of the traffic everywhere."

Dr. Moffat also commented that Seoul is making progress, too. "It shows virtually no scars resulting from the Korean War and it has at least a score of very impressive new public buildings."

Debate Team To Make Plans For Out-Of-State Tournaments

The Debate Team will meet at 4 p.m. tomorrow in Room 13 of the Science Building.

This year's squad is expected to be made up largely of first year debaters. Returning from last year's varsity team are Walt Cosby, White Sulphur senior; Tom Dunfee, Huntington senior; Ruth Fuller, Huntington senior; Aubrey King, Iaeger senior, and Stuart Thomas, Hurricane senior.

The team plans to attend a debate each month this season. They will journey to tournaments in West Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and possibly North Carolina.

The national intercollegiate debate proposition for 1962-63 is: Resolve, that the non-Communist nations should establish an economic community.

The debating team of 1961-62 won second place at the Marietta College tournament and first place for the best affirmative team at the West Virginia intercollegiate contest.

Highlights of the season will be the West Virginia Intercollegiate Tournament and the national Pi Kappa Delta tournament at the University of Southern Illinois next spring.

2 Movies, 2 Mixes

Dr. Harper Delegate At Citizenship Parley

Dr. Charles P. Harper, director of the Marshall University Americanization Program for the training of immigrants seeking citizenship examinations, recently attended the 17th National Citizenship Conference in Washington.

The theme of the conference was: "What Can I Do for My Country in a Changing World?" Dr. Harper was selected by Judge Carl B. Hyatt, conference director, as the leader of one of the discussion groups. He has attended the past 13 annual conferences in

New York and Washington as a state and university delegate under appointments of West Virginia governors and Marshall President Stewart H. Smith, and has served as leader of a discussion group at the past two conferences.

His selection as delegate and leader has been in recognition of the university's Americanization Program, which is now in its 16th year with a total enrollment of nearly 1,300.

This "home study" program, the only one of its kind for West Virginia immigrants, has had students in all of the 55 counties, the largest numbers being in Cabell, Kanawha, Logan and McDowell.

The immigrants now enrolled, —most of them "war brides" of servicemen—come from 23 foreign countries. Seventy-one are living temporarily in 32 states. Several are living overseas and two in the District of Columbia. Students have lived in 42 of the 50 states, including Alaska and Hawaii, since Dr. Harper became director of the program in 1947.

Staff Reporter

WMUL-FM, West Virginia's pioneer educational radio station with studios in the Science Building, begins its second season of broadcasting Oct. 1 with a revised program schedule featuring several new presentations and popular holdovers from last year.

The new schedule will encompass the fields of classical, jazz and popular music with particular emphasis on works of the great masters. "Night Class", a program of symphonic highlights will be presented each week night from 7 until 10 p.m.

The WMUL staff will hold a meeting at 4 p.m. today.

Speaking of the new season, station manager Roy Lee Collins, Huntington senior, said:

"We are looking forward to another highly successful year of broadcasting. I think more people are now aware of our existence and that we will have a steady audience increase. I would also like to point out that we always welcome new members for our staff and that freshmen are invited to stop by, see our studios and perhaps, be added to our crew."

Campus Parking Regulations Cited

New campus parking regulations cite the following violations: parking in fire lanes; no parking permit; parking in prohibited space; improper parking in permissible space; blocking drive-ways or doors; speeding or reckless driving; parking after 11 p.m.; and driving the wrong way on campus streets.

University's Budget Request Is Pared $468,791 By Board Of Education

The West Virginia State Board of Education has approved $3,203,704 of Marshall's four-category budget request for 1963-64. The request was for $3,672,495, University President Stewart H. Smith said.

The State Board approved totals of $2,688,907 for personal services, $289,000 for current expenses, $83,903 for repairs and alterations and $141,894 for equipment.

The University had asked for $3,053,688 for personal services, $276,683 for current expenses, $126,021 for repairs and alterations and $216,103 for equipment.

The recommended budget is now being reviewed by the State Commissioner of Finance and Administration. After this, it will be reviewed by the Board of Public Works; then to the Legislative Finance Committee and finally to the State Legislature. The Legislature should get the budget sometime in January, President Smith said.

The budget recommended by the Board of Education for 1963-64 is almost half a million dollars larger than the 1962-63 budget.

In the past, according to President Smith, the Board of Public Works has disallowed any budget increases, despite approvals of the Board of Education. Instead, he said, it has been left up to the state legislature to determine how the state will obtain income to allow any possible increases.

The Board of Education passed Marshall's proposed $5,877,000 capital improvements program on to the Board of Public Works for approval.

Included in the capital improvements program is $4,000,000 for a new classroom building and $1,500,000 for an addition to the University Library.

Major alterations and repairs included in the capital improvements program include $92,000 for the Engineering Building (the old Kroger Store property, $125,000 for the correction of fire hazards and other structural repairs to Old Main, $150,000 for the replacement of the heating and plumbing systems in Old Main and $10,000 for the installation of a fire and smoke barrier in the Women's Physical Education Building.

Intramural Sports Program Readied; Marks 33rd Year

Marshall University's intramural program began its 33rd year of activity Monday when touch football opened a schedule which will include over 140 activities. Intramural Director O. A. "Swede" Gullickson, professor of physical education, announced that four new sports and 15 renewed activities will be added to list of contests held this year.

Leagues will open in October in touch football, soccer, speedball, volleyball, aerial darts, cageball and cross country. Tournaments will be staged in tennis, golf, croquet, ping pong, horse shoes, football punt, drop kick, place kick, forward passing, bridge, hearts, billiards, and others to be announced later.

Marshall's intramural program dates back to 1930 when the original director "Swede" Gullickson, joined the faculty. At that time, he said, there were only eight sports and about 34 participants. Last year the program included 22,525 contestants who played 5,172 games in 140 different sports ranging from checkers to girls four wall handball doubles, according to Professor Gullickson.

was shooting basketballs with a group of gym students. He swished shots and made rebounds that left his fellow players in awe. Hal Greer was home again.

One of Marshall's greatest basketball players and an all-time campus favorite revisited the university before practice started with his professional basketball teammates on the Syracuse Nationals. Greer spent most of three days working out and getting in shape for the grueling season. He said he has high hopes for his team and himself during the approaching N.B.A. season.

That's the way it is with Hal—the team always comes first. He walks with ease and self confidence now but it hasn't always been easy for him. He said that the greatest thrill of his career was not his 45-point performance against Boston last year, not his 22-point per game scoring average, not even his selection to the N.B.A. All-Star team last year.

Hal's greatest thrill, he said, was just coming out for basketball. The fact that he was the first of his race to play basketball for Marshall still is his biggest thrill.

On the subject of college players making the transition to the professional ranks, the former

All-American gave three changes that he realized. The first is the emphasis placed on the man-to-man defense used in the pro ranks versus the zone employed by Marshall.

The next is the concentration on defense which is necessary to stop the offensive talent found in each N.B.A. player while the average college team has only one or two high scoring players. The third is the longer schedule and the heavy traveling that's required.

Concerning the chances of his own ball club, Hal feels that the Nats will be greatly aided by the addition of rookies Len Chappel of Wake Forest and Chet Walker of Bradley.

As far as a prediction for the season was concerned he hoped for the best, but wasn't open to any prediction. Los Angeles and Boston are the two teams Greer feels will provide the toughest competition in the league, and he adds that Bill Russell of Boston and L.A.'s one-two punch of Elgin Baylor and Jerry West are the main reasons.

Hal hopes that he can compete 10 years in the rugged pro ranks and then take a public relations position and continue his work with youth.

Players Review 48-6 Thrashing

The Big Green football team, still wondering how many teams they went up against last weekend, look to the Louisville game this Saturday night after being soundly beaten by a rough and tough Bowling Green team last Saturday afternoon by a score of 48-6.

According to Big Green linemen Richard Turner and Mike Hicks, depth was an important factor against Bowling Green.

"They were running six and seven guys in and out all the time. I don't think one tackle on my side played the entire quarter against me. It seemed like there was always a new face in front of me," Turner said of the Falcons who also played a total of 25 backs.

"They knew and ran their plays well. Their depth was almost unbelievable. We played with almost two teams but their fresh players hurt us. They played a complete four teams plus eight or ten others. Their linemen were not too big to move but they were always fresh. They executed their plays well and their backs were real fast. We're not going to get beat that way again if we can help it," Hicks said of his Saturday afternoon foes.

The Big Green were first to draw blood on a twenty-two yard pass play from quarterback Bob Hamlin to sophomore end Jim Cure. The extra point try failed and the Big Green led at the end of the first quarter, 6-0.

Bowling Green then came back to score three times in the second quarter and went to the dressing room at halftime with a 21-6 lead. They added three more tallies in the third period and one in the fourth for their total of 48 points.

Bowling Green headed the Big Green in first downs 24-3, 366-40 yards rushing and 148-57 in passing for a total of 514 yards for Bowling Green to 97 for Marshall.
