Funeral Services Held In Virginia For Student

Funeral services were held yesterday in Bland Va., for Muncy Kegley, 22 years old, a junior in the arts and sciences college. He died early Saturday morning in a local hospital after a brief illness.

Local funeral services were held Sunday at 1 o'clock at the Reger funeral home. The Rev. E. B. Mowers, rector of the St. Peter's Episcopal church, officiated at the services. Immediately following the services the body was taken to Bland, Va., where additional services and burial followed.

Kegley was a graduate of Huntington high school in the class of 1933. He entered college a year later to specialize in journalism. Last year he served as news editor of the Parthenon, and was elected managing editor to serve this year. Press of other duties forced him to resign, however. Kegley was a pledge of Phi Kappa Nu fraternity and was active in intramural sports.

He is survived, in addition to his parents, by a brother, B. Byron Kegley, of Elkins, W. Va., and two sisters, Mrs. W. F. Dunlap, of Tunkhannock, Pa., and Miss Anne Gayle Kegley, at home.

Independent Progressives Will Present Arguments In Favor Of Motion

By FRED CODY

Following the action of the Student Council Thursday night in passing a resolution providing for the filling of four vacant positions through appointments by the class presidents a petition calling for consideration of the amendment by the court will be presented today.

The petition will be presented by Ben Hermann, sophomore class president. William Nunley, Independent Progressive secretary, will submit the arguments in favor of the resolution. An open meeting of the court will be held so that all opinions on the resolution can be heard.

Little Opposition

A heated controversy has been in progress between fraternity and independent factions concerning the method of filling the vacant positions. At the meeting last Thursday night the fraternity group did not offer direct opposition to the amendment but confined their arguments to the constitutionality of the measure.

The council membership now stands 5 to 3 in favor of the Progressivts. Should they secure three positions, a two-thirds majority will be held by the Independents. The fraternity group needs to clinch all four posts to give them a majority.

Strength Divided

With two class presidents Progressives and two fraternity men, it would seem that there would be little question of the outcome. However, class presidents have been the most popular men on the campus for the last few days, and it is doubtful if anyone can predict on which side the appointments will fall.

Gifts Increase Law Library

Donation From Lawyer's Estate Increases Total To More Than 500 Volumes

A donation of more than one hundred books from the estate of the late J. S. Shaffer, attorney, raises the total of volumes in the newly established Marshall Law Library, to more than 550 volumes. The library was established recently by the Cabell County Bar Association in the Morrow library building.

Dr. Maurice G. Burnside, of the political science department, announced last week that a valuable 1913 record of the Virginia vs. West Virginia tax controversy would be among volumes included in the donation.

Other reports would be among volumes included in the donation.

Other reports obtained recently are editions of Senate and House journals; geological surveys of the various states, and many other out-of-state legal bindings.

Donations may be placed in the hands of the official librarian, or to Dr. Dillon or Dr. Burnside, of the political science department. They will be called for upon request, however, Dr. Burnside said.

Ah, Democracy

This week the Student Court will be called upon to decide whether or not the Student Council remained within the bounds of the constitution in delegating to the class presidents the power to appoint four members to fill the council seats left vacant by withdrawal and ineligibility.

If the Court passes favorably upon the Council's action, the last link will be forged in a fore-destined cycle of political events. The Independents organized last year to combat the domination of fraternities in political affairs. Through increasing toil they managed to organize a strong clique of workers, and through their efforts to win a sizeable number of campus positions in the past several elections.

They have five men on the council; the fraternities have three. They elected two class presidents and the fraternity men elected two. If the Student Court upholds the action of the Council, these class presidents will appoint councilmen, and if there is such a thing as loyalty in politics, the presidents will appoint men from the factions which elected them.

The final count will then be: Independents, seven, Fraternities, five, but there is a joker in the deck. The new appointees must be ratified by the Council, and the Independents, having a majority, need not ratify the appointment of a fraternity man if such action does not suit their plans. They can, in fact, hold out until all four men appointed are favorable to their cause, in which case they will have a two-thirds majority and be able to pass any and all amendments which suit their purposes.

The cycle will then be rounded out to completion; the fowntrodden minority which performed yeoman service as a healthy opposition will have become a tyrannical majority subject to no limitations.

For sound, progressive, representative government there is certainly nothing like the constitutional democracy.

"Only four or five college students out of 100 are interested in justifying their beliefs and it is upon those few students that professors should center their remarks."

Formal announcement, of the advent of a new political party along with its platform will be made during assembly hour Wednesday.... "Regress with us, join the Dependent Regressive party" is the motto adopted by the group.... Of course we wouldn't know who it was with the name "Beat Parrow, general chairman".... Ed Conley has been signed to it.... Some of the platform promises made by the party are "all graft equally divided; P. A. System for William Wunley; We've strung you, now string along with us".... And so on into the night.... Laidley Hall isn't foolproof yet! They have been forced to put more bells on the doors because the gals have been doing a bit of sneaking in and out.... The last one's caught however, were put on the carpet.... Better watch.... Jack Moses with a weeks' growth of beard reminded me of "Father Time".... The Bob Early-Ruth Raiguel romance has hit the rocks....

Ed Conley has been afraid of ghosts ever since he went home one night to find one in his bed.... There is considerable secrecy cloaking the reason that Margaret Hill is being called "Daisy".... Jerry Moore has received several scenic sketches from 'one of the gals' around school.... She calls him the "Admiral".... he used to be a member of the 37th pursuit squadron in the army.... Evetett 'the Boot' Elkins is making much headway with a miss by the name of Parsons.... I haven't found out her first name yet!.... When my grandfather heard that Zip Brubeck was in school again he said he thought he would go back.... Joke.... Laura Neal Hemp made Don Burns' heart flutter at a basketball game last week.... Virginia Brandum is preparing to middle-aisle it with Chester Lynkins.... Iron Jaw has gone.... The death of Muncy Kegley last week leaves us with much regret.... He had as many friends as any other person in school, and they all appreciated his good nature and keen wit.... The Interfraternity dance to be given in March will be the largest formal ever given by a Marshall group.... a dozen different coeds asked me how I found out about them when in column last week it was mentioned about two of them having a party at a downtown hotel.... They all had guilty consciences.... The Kings of Swing band played like big-timers at the Student Mix last week.... Practically all of them are college boys too!.... Don Cornwell and Bill Barringer, two popular alumni, were in our midst last week.... and so to hide....

Phi Taus Begin Rushing Tonight

Phi Tau Alpha fraternity will open its second semester rushing with a smoker to be held tonight at 7:30 at the chapter house, 1650 Sixth Avenue. This will be followed by another smoker Thursday night at the same time.

An open house is planned for Friday night, also to be held at the chapter house. Guests will include the active chapter and their dates, and the rushees and their dates. Chaperones are Dr. and Mrs. John T. Krumpelmann, Dr. Charles Hoffman, and Mr. John Stender.

Bids will be given out Saturday night at another smoker. Bob Early, Richard Hill, and Bill Matney are in charge of rushing.

National Religious Body To Observe Brotherhood Day

The National Conference of Jews and Christians will meet in an observance of Brotherhood Day in the City Auditorium on February 18, at 8:00 o'clock. The conference was founded by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, Newton D. Baker and the late Rev. S. Parkes Cadman for the promotions of a better understanding among the religions of the United States and the perpetuation of democracy and free speech.

Principal speakers at the meeting will be Father Stevens, from Richmond, Va., representing the Catholic faith; Rabbi Morris Lieberman, Baltimore, Jewish; and Dr. A. W. Gottschall, of the First Christian Church of Baltimore, speaking for the Protestants.

The local meeting will be one of 2700 held throughout the country. It will include as special features a chorus of one hundred voices and the WPA orchestra. There will be no charge for admission.

Hall Used By Nazi's Causes Frats To Leave Smoker

Two University of Newark fraternities withdrew from an Interfraternity Council Smoker when it was discovered that the hall engaged for the smoker was used in connection with Nazi activities.

Investigation by Robert Met-sky, Sigma Beta Chi, failed to reveal any connection between the hall and Nazi groups, however, a later report from Dr. William S. Kalb, president of the New Jersey division of the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League, verified the suspicion that the hall was a center of Nazi activities.

Irving Rosenbaum and Fred Feinswog, presidents of Sigma Beta Chi and Beta Sigma Rho respectively, made it clear that their fraternities were withdrawing from the Smoker because of the hall's Nazi affiliation. Three other fraternities, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Delta Sigma Pi and Glove and Stick also withdrew, but declined to state whether or not it was because of the Nazi problem.

Dr. Moore Speaks To Pre-Medics

Dr. Halleck Moore will speak to Epsilon Delta, pre-medical fraternity, tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Student Union building.

Dr. Moore will talk on the eye, ear, nose and throat. After the lecture, a few of the scenes of the football game between Marshall and Cincinnati and Marshall and West Virginia Wesleyan will be shown.

The meeting is open to all pre-medical students.

In the last few days a number of meetings have been held to dope out the Progressive policy on this matter. Policy seems to be definitely settled although another meeting was called yesterday to consider the matter.

To Present Arguments

In a statement last night, however, Nunley clarified his view of the situation and revealed what line he intends to follow tomorrow. "There is a law in the constitution which states that anyone can present a brief before the court regarding the constitutionality of a cast under consideration. I intend to submit such a brief and be sure that this petition gets a fair trial. I shall present this brief orally if allowed."

Clinton Karr, president of the Independent Progressives and a member of the Student Court, could not be reached for a statement.

In the meantime, Ray Hage, leading the fraternity group, has been engaged in an effort to get as many appointments for his cohorts as possible.

Following the ruling of the court and the actions dependent upon its decision will come the climax of the struggle. When the smoke of battle has cleared away, the winner will be declared, the double-crossers sized up, and a general postmortem held.

Herd, Victors Over Bishops, Face Bobcats Tonight

Quintet Leads Buckeye Race, Ohio Is Second

Grover Is Confident Big Green Will Topple When Combines Meet On Athens Floor

By DALLAS HIGBEE

Its those Bobcats again!

Tonight, at Athens, the Ohio university and the rampant Big Green, undefeated in the Buckeye basketball scramble, lock horns in the first game of another crucial cage series.

Just a year ago this month the same two teams clashed in a series to determine the 1937 championship of the conference. Each combine won one game and they shared the title. This time the Herd is farther out in front, Ohio U. being tied in second place with Miami university with four wins and two losses. The Big Green has five ins and no losses to their credit.

Only Beginning

The Ohio fracas tonight is only the beginning as far as games for the week are concerned. The schedule for the week takes the Big Green to Cincinnati Friday and to Miami on Saturday.

Lining up with practically the same team that has set the loop on fire for the past two seasons the Bobcats are considered one of the most dangerous teams in the league. They lack the spark and scoring punch of the past seasons but there is always the possibility that they may hit their old stride.

Grover Is Hopeful

Brandon T. (Butch) Grover, coach of the Ohionas, is hopeful that his potentially strong team will wake up and smear the Herdsmen in the opening game of the series.

He will probably open up the crucial encounter with the veteran George Hood and the towering Nick Lalich, who ranked high in league scoring last year, at forwards.

At center he will start Chick Peoples, only newcomer to break into this year's lineup. Gene Rinta and Johnny Malokas, two of the best guards in the conference last year, will open up in the backcourt. Rinta, Malokas, and Lalich, were All-Buckeye last season.

Coach "Crafty" Cam Henderson will probably start the same lineup that trampled Ohio Wesleyan Saturday night. Julius Rivlin, the leading scorer of the Buckeye, and Louie Wilcox will probably start at forwards, Chub Watson at center, and George

Plans For Cage Tournament Made By Intramural Board

Protest Of Kappa Alpha-Phi Kappa Nu Cage Game Is Shelved By Group

Details of an elimination tournament in which the four high teams of each intramural basketball league will play for the title in the last week of March were completed yesterday afternoon at the Intramural board meeting in the gymnasium. Final plans for boxing and wrestling tournaments were also approved by the group.

The elimination tournament will be necessary because Prof. Otto A. Gullickson, director, revealed that it would be impossible to complete the league schedules. However, games will continue to be played and the four highest teams of each league will be selected on the basis of the standings the latter part of March. Prof. Gullickson will set the exact date soon.

Gloves Are Barred

When the question of boxing was discussed, it was agreed upon to bar from competition anyone who had participated in Golden Glove Tournaments. Boxing and wrestling, as well as badminton, water polo, plug casting, and trick, will be held the last week of March and the first two weeks of April.

The protest of the Phi Kappa Nu-Kappa Alpha game of February 9, has been shelved until a later date.
