MARSHALL COLLEGE STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Vol. 54

FRIDAY, JULY 29, 1955

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.

No. 5

ROSCOE HALE, JR. and Larry Hite, show Dr. Stewart H. Smith, college president, the workings of an Army carbine during his recent visit to Fort Campbell, Kentucky where the Marshall ROTC men are spending a six weeks encampment. Dr. Smith, along with educators from 19 other colleges and universities made a two-day tour of the Camp, visiting training areas, ranges, and company areas to observe cadet training and inspect mess halls and living quarters.

Origin Of Old Buffalo Head Puzzles Summer Students

By J. L. DUNKLE

Know where the buffalo head in the Student Union came from? According to Don Morris, Student Union manager, it was awarded to the Big Green basketball team by the Rod and Gun Club of Huntington along with the Onized Club on winning the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament at Kansas City, Missouri in 1947. Marshall's basketball team, under Cam Henderson, won and played more games that year than at any other time in the history of the Big Green. The total for the season that year was 32 victories and five losses which included two tournament championships. The Big Green also won the Mid-West Tournament at Terra Haute, Indiana, beating out Xavier University of Cincinnati, Ohio. The Marshall squad beat Mankato, Minnesota State Teachers for the NAIB title.

Some sample comments about the origin of the head were: Paul Wright, Huntington junior, "I don't know where it came from but I am glad we have it."

Joe Kearney, Huntington

junior, "I haven't the slightest idea of where it came from."

Carolyn Campolio, Richwood junior, "No, I don't know where it came from but it is appropriate."

Lowell Anderson, Huntington senior, "I would guess that someone may have given it to the school but as to whom, I wouldn't want to guess."

Fred Henderson, president of the Onized Club, said, "It was given to Marshall in recognition of the tournament victory and for the success over the entire season. Burger Malmquist, president of the Rod and Gun Club, made the presentation and it was as much an honor for us to present it as it was for the Big Green to receive it."

Morris said, "the banner over the head was presented to the team by tournament officials of the NAIB, and a more suitable gift than the buffalo head would be hard to find since it is our school trade mark, so to speak."

"Many thanks are due to Mr. Malmquist and the others who were instrumental in giving Marshall this most appropriate gift,"

1,298 Students Are Enrolled For Second Six Weeks Session

BLANER'S program will consist of: Gavotte and Sonata in d minor by Scarlatti; Prelude by Bach; Sonata in c major, opus 2 and 3 by Beethoven; and Rondo Brillante by Mendelssohn.

Le Bal Matiniquais by Milhaud and the Second Hungarian Rhapsody by Liszt.

Bedroom Restyled By Local Student

By FANNY RUTH ROSS

Nancy Myers, Huntington junior, doesn't have to wait until she receives her B.A. degree in art to profit from her education. She is now using the skills she has learned in class, by decorating her bedroom at her home at 238 Fourth Avenue.

The color scheme in the bedroom is dark green, red, and white, accented with Oriental touches. The walls of the bedroom are green and white. Criss-cross white organdy curtains emphasizes the width of the double windows.

MISS MYERS has designed and made wood cornices for the windows. The cornices are padded and covered with the same red material that is used to trim the dressing table and stool.

The window design is reproduced at the dressing table with a white organdy skirt crowned with a red valance.

The walls are accented with oriental scene in oil to hang over her bed.

SHE HAS further carried out this accent by covering a chair with Oriental material.

Other Oriental touches are brought out with red lamp-shades and green potted vines in the room.

Miss Myers has drawn blueprints and is having maple bookcases made to match her maple bedroom furniture.

"DECORATING the bedroom myself has saved me a great deal of money," Miss Myers said. "If I had hired someone else to do the work it would have cost approximately $200. I did the work myself for $84.93. Some day I would like to design the interior and furniture of my own home."

VETERANS MUST SIGN

Veterans are requested to sign for their July checks in the registrars office before August 8.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Orders are now being accepted at the Student Union for commencement announcements, according to Don Morris, manager of the Union. Orders will continue to be accepted through July 29.

Military Academy Reveals Vacancies

In 1956, two vacancies are available from the Fourth District of West Virginia to the Military Academy at West Point, Congressman M. G. Burnside announced recently.

The Congressman may nominate a principal and three alternate candidates for each vacancy. The candidates must be actual residents from the constituency from which they are appointed and must not be less than 17 nor more than 22 years of age by July 1, 1956.

EACH APPLICANT is required to complete a Civil Service examination and a pre-physical examination. His office stated that the Congressman feels in this way he can give the nominations to the most worthy young men in his District.

Representative Burnside announced that he must submit his nominations no later than January 15, 1956. He said that because of this early date, his office is now accepting applications from any qualified young men from his District.

The Congressman further stated that in the Naval Academy class beginning in July, 1956, there are no vacancies. There will be vacancies to the Naval Academy in 1957.

Wyoming County Represented Here

Three graduate students and seven undergraduates are representing Wyoming County on the campus this summer.

Those in graduate school are Mary Lewis, a history major from Mullens who plans to teach in Fairborn, Ohio this fall; Jim Hogue, who is working on a masters degree in Secondary Education and will teach in Herndon High School; and Hershel Shumate, an Elementary Education major who teaches in Glen Rogers Grade School.

Enrollment Drops From First Term

Approximately 1,298 students are attending the second six weeks of summer term, according to Rogers McAvooy, assistant director of admissions. The figure represents a decrease of 555 students over the first six week's enrollment.

450 of the students now attending are enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences; 430 are in Teachers College; and 318 are in Graduate School. Last term, 549 enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences; 827 enrolled in Teachers College; and 477 were in Graduate College.

THERE ARE 641 male students enrolled now compared to 777 enrolled during the first six weeks. Female students outnumber the males with 657 enrolled this term. 1076 were in attendance during the last six weeks.

Of the 1298 students attending the second six weeks, 1117 are full-time students and 181 are part-time.

Graduates Select Teaching Location

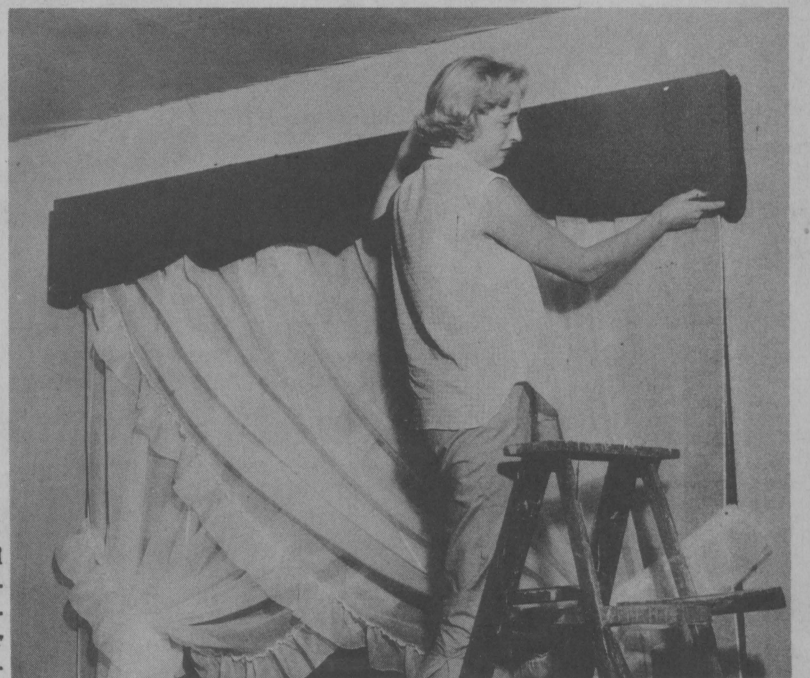

Three graduate students will teach in Fairborn, Ohio this year. Mary Lewis, Mullens History major who will receive her Master's Degree this August, will teach in Fairborn High School. Miss Lewis says, "I think it is good to make a change because I have taught only in the town in which I grew up—and, then there's a matter of salary."

Shirley Green, an Elementary Education Major from Mt. View, will teach in the Fairborn Elementary School. Miss Green will finish her graduate work next summer. When asked why she chose Fairborn, she said, "My friends are going there, and it is a very nice place."

Pat Lerner from Hartford, W. Va., will teach in the same school with Miss Green. Miss Lerner will finish her graduate work this summer. She was once a native of Ohio and comments, "It will not be a new experience for me and, at the present time, I find conditions there more satisfactory."

STANDING LEFT TO RIGHT, Sylvia Ohlson, Columbus, Ohio, junior and Judy Heninger, Chesapeake freshman, wonder where the buffalo head in the Student Union came from before it was given to Marshall by the Onized Club, and exactly how big the animal was before he (or she) was separated from the head.

NANCY MYERS, Huntington junior, puts the finishing touches on the window cornices she made in her summer projects of redecorating her bedroom at her home, 238 Fourth Avenue.

Student Collects Miniature Articles

While browsing through a Smithers, W. Va., florist shop in November, 1953, Janet Thompson, 1684, Fourteenth Avenue junior, became fascinated with a miniature wrought iron stove.

She hurried home and told her mother about the stove and her mother promptly went out and bought it for her.

"THIS INCIDENT started a very pleasing hobby for me," said Miss Thompson.

After receiving the miniature stove, she began collecting other wrought iron pieces. She decided to collect articles for various arrangements. Through her own buying and gifts from friends, Miss Thompson today has many arrangements.

"My favorite grouping is one I have called "Old Times", she said. "In this setting I have put the stove, a coal bucket, an iron stand, and a rocking chair."

HER COFFEE table arrangement is used functionally and consists of a match box, ash trays, and a candy dish. In the dining room she has candle holders and plates.

SEVENTY MINGO County students are represented here this summer, but only a handful turned up for the photographers. Six of the Mingo representatives are working on their masters degree, while the others are working on a bachelors degree. Most of them teach in consolidated schools in Mingo County. The wife and daughter of the Superintendent of Schools and the wife of the Assistant Superintendent are among the Mingo representatives.

JANET THOMPSON, Huntington junior, explains to Fanny Ruth Ross, Parthenon reporter, the way she selects articles for her "Old Times" wrought iron arrangement.

THREE TEACHERS who are going to teach in schools at Fairborn, Ohio, are from left: Pat Lerner, Shirley Green, and Mary Lewis.

WOMEN AREN'T the only ones interested in learning to arrange flowers as proven by the large enrollment of men in the flowering arranging workshop which ends today. The workshop has been in session for two weeks and is taught by Mrs. Leo Storey. Students furnish their own flowers and may keep the arrangements they make.

Basketball Takes Spotlight In Summer 'Mural Program

By JOE MAYNOR

The intramural basketball race got into full swing last week with five games being played. The season started with the PiKAs taking a forfeit over the Rascals. The game went into the books as a 9-0 victory for the Pikes.

The Smugglers took a 56-48 decision over the KAs in the second game. Joe Hunnicutt dumped in 23 points for the winners to lead all scoring. Cooper scored 13 and Brown got 10 for the Smugglers to aid in the victory. Dave McLane was the big gun for the KAs by dumping in 20 points. He was followed by Lane with 15.

THE FACULTY scored a 50-48 decision over the LXA. Rivlin was high for the Faculty with 16 points. Templin and Clagg broke into double figures by scoring 15 and 11 for the winners.

DeSilva lead the losers with 16 points followed by Wilburn and Sydenstricker with 14 each.

The KAs romped over the Rascals in the fourth game by a score of 62-35. The score was tied at half-time at 18-18, but the KAs came back strong in the final two quarters to walk away with the victory. The KAs were led by Dave McLane who scored 26 points and Lane with 24. Simpson scored 19 for the Rascals.

IN WEDNESDAY'S game the Daltons, led by Hal Greer, ran over the ASP to the tune of 54-26. Greer dumped in 22 points to lead all scorers. He was aided by Lewis who got 14 points, and Lee with 13 points. Peece scored 13 points for the ASPs. The Daltons held the ASP to only 7 points in the first half, while dumping in 29 for themselves.

Elsewhere in intramurals, Bill Tweel of the PiKA won the checkers tourney by defeating Goodman of the ASP 2-1.

In the Croquet singles Dave Riffe of the Cavaliers beat Ron Keaton of the PKAs by a 2-1 score.

Hager won the horseshoe singles over Riffe by a 21-8 score.

Rivlin Returns To Campus To Secure Masters Degree

By PAUL MORRIS

Marshall's one time basketball "great" Julius Rivlin has returned to his alma mater to work on his Masters degree and to coach basketball. Rivlin became Marshall's basketball coach after Cam Henderson's resignation became official July 1.

Rivlin paced the Big Green to three successive Buckeye conference championships in 1937, 38, and 39, in addition to being named on the all-conference teams two of those seasons and becoming the nation's second individual scorer in 1938 with 434 points.

IN 1942 Rivlin left Marshall and enter the service. While in service Riv coached the Fort Warren "Soldiers" for two years and took them to the semi-finals of the National AAU tournament in 1943.

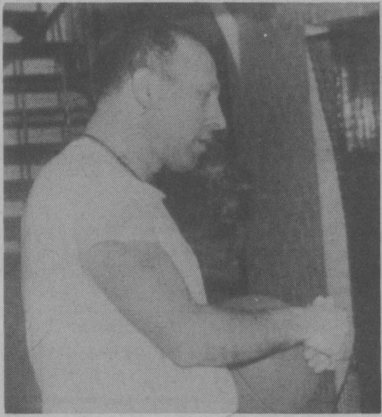

After his discharge from the army in 1946 Riv played for and coached the Toledo Jeeps for two years and was voted the most valuable player in the world's professional tournament at Chicago. He then joined the Wheeling Blues in 1948-49 and stayed for four years.

Last year Riv again started coaching, this time at McKinley Vocational High School in Wheeling.

RIV HAS HAD a look at his Marshall team and he said "they lack depth but I think we can go all the way to the N.C.A.A. in New York."

Riv says "we have a good schedule, but it could be better. I think the M.A.C. is one of the best conferences in the country, but underrated".

Rivlin has long range plans for Marshall which include playing such teams as La Salle and Duquesne. "I know the coaches of these teams and they would like to play Marshall".

LAIDLEY ALL RESIDENTS who are to receive their Bachelor's degrees in August are from left, Hazel Davis, Lucille Wilson, Dreama Williams, Clesta Dickinson, Gladys Nelson, Janet Morrison, Geraldine Reams, Jackie McCormick Alexander, and Lois Young.

RESIDENTS OF LAIDLEY HALL who are to receive their Master's degree in August are Zena Cremeans, Hazel Smith, Nancy Thorne, Gretha Casto, Mary Lewis, and Pat Lerner.

Along The SPORTS CIRCUIT

By STEVE POSTI

Huntington's Leo Byrd was operated on at St. Mary's Hospital and is recuperating from the surgery performed on his elbow. Byrd has already made known that he will head for the Big Green campus come September.

Big Green basketball coach Jule Rivlin and his wife recently became proud parents of a little baby girl. This was the Rivlins' third child. Congratulations Riv...

Ken Sydenstricker — Big Green golfer — has now turned his talents to umpiring baseball. Ken is now working in the industrial League and is a freshman in the ranks of umpiring. From all indications, Sydenstricker may be one of many Marshall students to compete in the West Virginia Open.

Western Michigan — at Kalamazoo, Michigan — has replaced Miami University as the headquarters for the Mid-American Conference News Bureau. The news bureau is responsible for supplying statistics and data for newspapers, radio, and television. MU's Bob Howard headed the bureau and did a remarkable job in keeping the various media supplied with information. Sorry to hear that Bob had to give it up.

Marshall's grid hopes have been strengthened with the returning of Len Hellyer who has just finished a stretch in the U. S. Marines. Len is a tough defensive back and can also lug the leather. George Thompson may also return to the Green forces when fall practice begins on September

I'm quite sure coach Herb Royer would like to have the services of the pair. Hellyer will definitely play while Thompson — an end — has indicated that he may play.

On football — Fullback George Templin and center Randy Scott have already begun conditioning for the coming season. The veteran pair are usually seen on the intramural field preparing for fall practice.

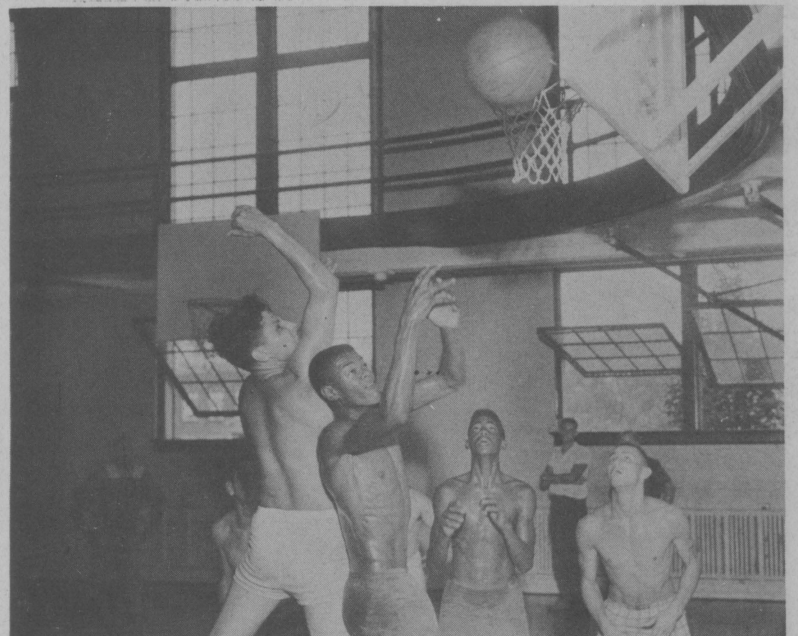

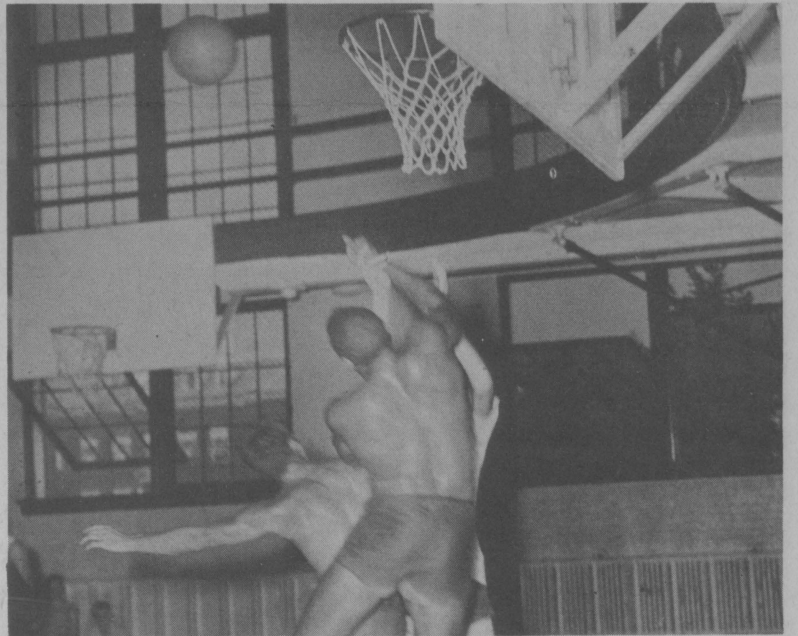

Cebe Price has joined the forces of the Savage Construction squad in the Wheeling Outdoor Basketball League and joins teammates Paul Underwood, Charlie Slack, and former Big Green star Dave Robinson.

At last report, the Savagemen were in a tie for second place with Tot Rod Hundley's Stobbs squad. The league leaders are the Poles' A. C. who are currently being sparked by Maryland's Bob O'Brien and Rich Yankovich. Yankovich has never played college basketball but may choose to do so this year. It could be that he might land at Marshall. Jule Rivlin thinks highly of Yankovich.

I wonder what ever became of the proposed track circling the intramural field. Work began in May and nothing has happened since. All work previously done has nearly been washed away...

Rex Barney — former relief pitcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers — once said, "I would really be tough if I had only one pitch — a "strike."

That's it for now...

THE DALTON'S and Alpha Sigma Phi battle it out in the torrid summer basketball league. The two teams engaged in a thrilling, fast-breaking contest, with the Daltons winning. The Daltons were paced by former Douglass High School standout, Harold Greer, with 26 points. The game was the fifth of the current summer cage season.

Education Class Takes Part In Off Campus Activities

Bringing laughter to those who need to laugh would seem to be a fitting motto for the 32 students enrolled in Dr. Michael Josephs' 118 Education course. Students taking this course are required to spend a minimum of 35 hours on an outside activity working with children at local camps, playgrounds, nurseries, YMCA, and YWCA.

Sexton, freshman; and Eleanor Midkiff, freshman; all of Huntington completed their activity last week by serving as counselors at the West Virginia Elk's Camp for Cripple Children. The camping site was the Cabell County 4-H grounds.

THESE STUDENTS, said Josephs, "were only required to spend certain hours at the camp, but they enjoyed their work so much that they spent all their time there coming in only for their 7:30 education class."

While at the camp, the Marshall Students helped take care of approximately 60 youngsters, ranging in age from 3 to 15, and in directing the swimming, archery, and other games and crafts that were offered to the children.

"This type of program was started about 18 years ago by Lindley E. Vanderzalm, associate professor of education," said Josephs. He also stated that "we try to get out students to work with the children, and they usually have had any experience in this type of work."

"THE DIRECTOR of the activity rates each individual student, and his report is averaged in with the class work for the student's final grade. Students receive no payment whatsoever for their work," he said.

The Elk's Camp is under the direction of three Marshall graduates. Tom Orr of Logan is the head director of the camp, and his wife, the former Bea Nelson, is recreational director. The assistant director of the camp is Bob McDermott of Logan.

The camp is under the general supervision of Don Morris, manager of the Student Union and vice-president of the West Virginia Elks. Orr is now principal of Sharples High School, and McDermott is a teacher at Logan Junior High.

"TIME TO EAT," says Earl Browning as he rings the dinner bell. The children and counselors don't have to be called twice as meal time was a happy time for all the campers.

Lenore Group Commutes 160 Miles Daily To Attend College

By HAZEL DAVIS

John B. Newsome and his two sisters, Mrs. Marie Turner and Miss Lucinda Newsome, travel 80 miles every morning to attend summer school.

The group leaves their home at Lenore, W. Va., at 5 A. M. each morning to make it to class on time.

COMMUTING great distances seems to be a tradition in the family. Edna Evans Hensley and Audra Mahon, aunts of the Newsomes, formerly traveled the same distance to attend summer classes.

Mrs. Ida Newsome, mother of the trio, received all of her college work here.

John Newsome is working toward his A.B. degree in secondary education. Miss Newsome and Mrs. Turner are working toward A.B. degrees in elementary education.

TWO OTHER students, Ray Curry and Gaynell Starr, also ride with Newsome. Curry is a teacher at Goodman School and is working toward his degree in elementary education. Miss Starr is a freshman majoring in elementary education.

THESE LITTLE CAMPERS spent most of their time trying to keep cool on the hot days while camp was in session by enjoying a dip in the pool. Counselors Rosalie Madison, Barbara Sexton, and George Bickar cast longing eyes at the "cool campers" who have "Beat the Heat." These three counselors of Dr. Josephs' 118 Education class.

"HANG ONTO YOUR HAT, and get ready for the big dip." The children enjoyed the many different toys that were available for them at the Elks camp. Counselors Eleanor Midkiff, Barbara Sexton, Lois Hale, Bob McDermott, George Bickar, and Rosalie Madison keep a watchful eye on one camper as he rides on the roller coaster. Awaiting their turns are a few of the 60 children who spent a week at the camp.
