Herd, Morris Harvey Meet Saturday Night

Play Cast Chosen For Initial Show

By PAT COOPER

Three women will take the same leading roles as "Lizzie Curry" in "Rainmaker," a Broadway hit of last year, which will be presented by College Theatre as its first play of the season, November 2, 3, and 4. The women will each play the lead on the three nights of production in Old Main Auditorium.

Each of the three leading ladies has had previous theatre experience. Fay Murray, Milton sophomore, has had parts in the previous College Theatre productions of "An Inspector Calls," and "Dear Ruth," and has worked as student director. Anita Shahan, Grafton freshman, has worked in summer stock, but is a newcomer to campus theatre work.

Nancy Snodgrass, South Charleston junior, has been active in college theatre since her arrival here. Miss Snodgrass has taken part in three plays, "Pursuit of Happiness," "Dear Ruth," and "An Inspector Calls," both as stage manager and student director. She has had previous experience with the University of Florida Players.

COMPLETING the cast are six male roles. Lewis Yeager, Parkersburg freshman, a newcomer, will take the part of "Bill Starbuck."

Homer Ratcliff, Logan junior, who has had experience at Marshall and in California and Colorado, will play "H. C. Curry."

As "Noah Curry," will be Pete Williams, Columbus, Ohio, junior, a newcomer to campus theatre.

DAVE Humphreys, Huntington senior, will play the character "Jim Curry." Humphreys is a newcomer to College Theatre.

John C. Ray, Kenova senior, will act the part of "File." Ray is well-known both in Huntington Community Players and College Theatre. On campus he has played in "Lilliom," and "Pursuit of Happiness."

"Sheriff Thomas" will be played by John Charles Barbour, Huntington junior, who appeared in "Pursuit of Happiness."

A ROMANTIC comedy, the "Rainmaker" is the story of how "Lizzie Curry, a wholesome but plain and sweetheart-less ranch-girl, is taught to dream out loud. Her teacher, who appears out of nowhere, is Bill Starbuck, the rainmaker.

After Lizzie manages to drive away the young suiters, whom her sympathetic father and brothers have persuaded to come calling, Bill Starbuck, loud braggart and glib con-man, promises the family much-needed rain, for a fee.

LIZZIE resents Starbuck because he sees through her pretenses and finds a lonely girl; and only part of the family is convinced of the rainmaker's sincerity.

When her brother, Noah, coldly and realistically tells Lizzie that she must face the fact that she is an old maid, she turns to Starbuck.

Surprisingly, Starbuck loves and understands Lizzie, and seemingly with magic, transforms the plain girl into a woman of beauty.

HIGHLY commended by such critics as William Hawkins of the New York World-Telegram and ASA MEADOWS of Huntington became the first candidate for Freshman Class president when he registered in the Student Government office Wednesday. Betty Lou Cornett, Northfork junior and executive secretary supervised the procedure.

Marshall Holds Twenty-Two Victories Over Golden Eagles

By STEVE POSTI

Parthenon Sports Editor

Morris-Harvey's Golden Eagles will try for their fifth win in 28 years tomorrow night against Coach Herb Royer's Thundering Herd when the two squads meet at Charleston's Laidley Field. The Eagles—Marshall's greatest West Virginia rival—first appeared on the Herd's schedule in 1906 and since then have been able to salvage but five victories. The two teams have played tie games on two occasions. Marshall owns 22 wins over M-H in their long records of meetings.

Cafeteria Opens New Dining Room

The college cafeteria opened its new dining room addition at noon, Wednesday, reports Mrs. Marie Smock, head dietitian at the cafeteria.

The new dining area is located in the basement of the present cafeteria building and occupies the space formerly known as "The Greenhouse".

WORK ON the addition began in May, 1955 and was completed last week. 200 students can be accommodated in the area, which raises the overall seating capacity of the cafeteria to more than 600.

The new dining room is divided into two separate areas. One section is designed for use for social functions, and the other will be used for the serving of meals.

According to Mrs. Smock, the cafeteria and its new addition, will serve approximately 2,000 meals daily.

A complete staff of servers, food handlers, and kitchen personnel will be on duty at the serving line while meals are in progress. The serving line is completely equipped with its own coffee urns, serving trays, and ice tables.

R.O.T.C. PHYSICAL EXAMS

R.O.T.C. students are scheduled to begin taking physical examinations at the College Clinic today at 9 A. M.

Freshmen enrolled in R.O.T.C. who have already completed their College entrance physicals will not be required to take another.

Frosh Campaigning For Class Offices

Candidates for the offices of freshman class president and freshmen senators have filed in the office of the Student Government.

Filing for the office of president were Buddy Graham, Alicia Ann Gose, Norris Tennant, and Asa Meadows.

Candidates for senator, of which four will be elected, are Fred Hymes, John Murphy, Jackie Hines, Gary Adams, Dennis White, Sandra Potter, Alfred Ferguson, Tom E. Carter, and Mary Kate Harris.

Freshmen will go to the polls Wednesday, October 5.

STUDENTS WAIT in line to be served in the new addition of the College Cafeteria which opened Wednesday. Opening of the new dormitory plus the increased enrollment necessitated the enlargement of campus eating quarters.

Thus far this season, Eagle coach Eddie King, a one-time Marshall star under Cam Henderson, has been unable to guide his squad to a win in two tries and like Royer will be looking for his first win of the young campaign. Middle Tennessee and the University of Tampa (Florida) both own close decisions over the Kingmen while Ohio University emerged winners over the Herd in their lone tilt.

KICKOFF time for tomorrow's tilt is set for 8 P. M. and students unable to make the trip to the Capitol City for the game can hear a play-by-play description over Radio station WSAZ with Jim Thacker at mike-side.

Royer and his aides began working early in the week in preparing the Herd for the M-H encounter. Following the O.U. game, pass defense and offensive maneuvers were being heavily concentrated on by the Marshall coaching staff. The Herd looked "under par" in these two departments in absorbing their 13-6 loss to the Bobcats.

There also were some indications that there may be a change in Saturday's starting line-up. Back George Templin, Martins Ferry, Ohio, junior, may receive the starting berth at fullback after his strong performance last week. Templin scored Marshall's lone touchdown last Saturday night and picked up considerable yardage as did starter Dyke Six. Both are hard-driving backs.

VETERAN back Len Hellyer, just out of the service after a two year hitch, may be starting at right half. Hellyer, a Logan junior, revealed his hard running ability against the Ohioans last week and is exceptionally strong in defense.

The only probable change in the line may be end Campbell Platt, North Plainfield, New Jersey, junior, who may get a starting post at one of the terminals. Platt showed plenty of defensive strength last week.

Meanwhile, King, who last year coached his squad to the Cigar Bowl in Tampa last season, has a well-experienced squad this season. King lost only 3 men from last year's squad that finished the regular season with an 8-2 record. However, these three players played an important role in last year's action. Fleet-footed halfback Jim Car, who sparked M-H's offense, received his sheepskin and is presently playing professional football with the Chicago Cardinals. In addition to Carr, King lost linemen Fauster Vittone, 1954 team captain, and end Bob Spenick.

RETURNING to King this year are quarterback Bob Maxwell, halfbacks Tommy Dixon and Ray Jones, and veteran fullback Eddie Coffman. These four will proba-

Chambers Unveils 'Baby' Herd Today In Opener Against Greenbrier Military Cadets

By JOE MAYNOR
Parthenon Sportswriter

The Marshall College freshman football team will get their first test of strength today when they meet the Cadets of Greenbrier Military Academy. The yearlings, under the guidance of Coach Bill Chambers, will inaugurate the season at St. Clouds Commons at 3:30 this afternoon.

The squad has dwindled from 42 to 31 men since practice started two weeks ago. Two of the men are out on injuries. Halfback Richard Jackson suffered a broken arm in a scrimmage game with the varsity last Tuesday, and tackle Ray Crisp received a broken leg earlier in the season.

"One of our biggest problems now is the short time we have had to prepare our boys," Coach Chambers said. "We have been too pressed for time for our boys to get all of the training they should have."

BILL CHAMBERS
Unveils "Baby" Herd Today

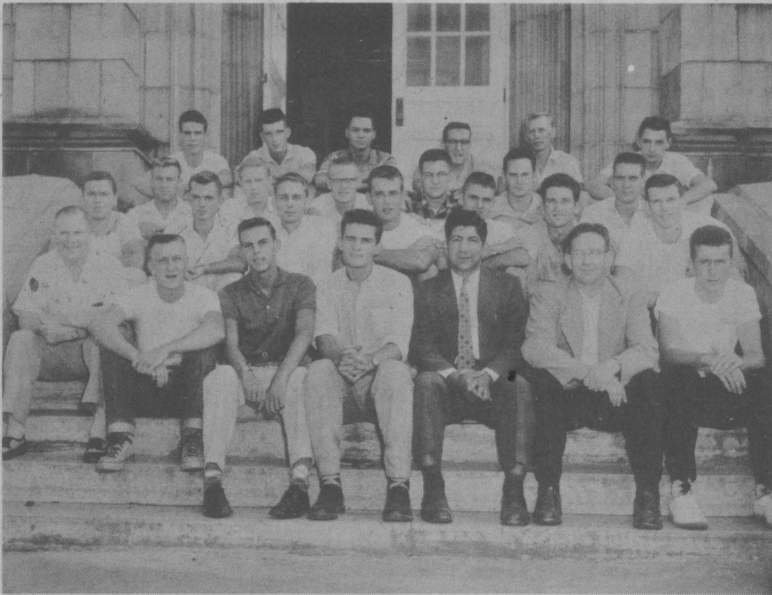

This year the Little Green has two men over the 230 mark. Davis, who is holding a tackle position, tips the scales at 257, while Jackson, the largest man on the squad, weighs 240. Wagner, a quarterback, is the squad's smallest man at 160.

After today's contest, the frosh will have three more games remaining on their schedule. In addition to their small four game slate, the frosh gain valuable experience by serving as opponents for the varsity squad for coming games that the Thundering Herd will play.

Jule Rivlin has been working with the ends while Bill Caverlee, who played at West Virginia Tech under Herb Royer, is handling the remaining linemen.

Parthenon sports editor Steve Posti indicated that there will be many prizes for competing students to win. Included among the prizes are theater passes, food certificates, and cigarettes.

"We certainly hope that the students and faculty of Marshall will show more interest in the "Pigskin Pickin'" contest than in our earlier contest," said Posti. Men Behind The Scenes . . .

HARD WORKERS—For every football squad there are men behind the scenes that are largely responsible for the appearance of their respective squads. These men are known as managers. Marshall's Thundering Herd has three managers that they are rightfully proud of this season. The trio—left to right—are Jim Fraley, Huntington sophomore, Ken Adkins, Charleston sophomore, and head manager John Ridenour, Princeton junior. Managers are an important factor in the fielding of a neat appearing squad such as the Herd.

Student Acquires New Name For Job As Home Economist

Women usually do not change their names until they get married but Lucille Mullins, Williamson senior, acquired a new name and kept her single status while doing so.

When she accepted a position as home economist for a local kitchen and plumbing store, Miss Mullins was given the name, Mary Kitchen, for professional reasons.

Miss Mullins is a home economics major and she says that her job is the most practical experience she could possibly get as it deals with all phases of home-making. She has been working as a home economist since May. Her main duty is on-the-spot demonstrations of appliances for the various customers.

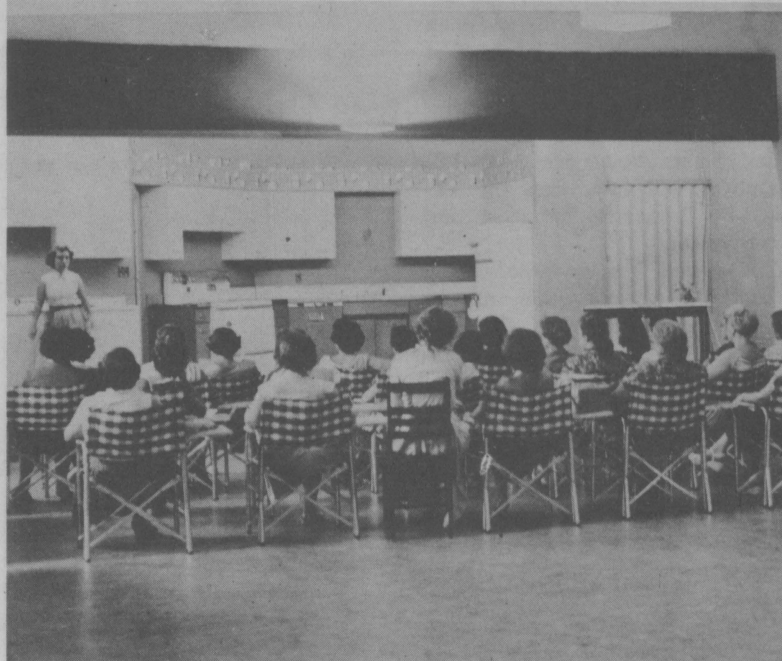

Last summer, Miss Mullins attended a kitchen planning and designing school at St. Charles, Illinois, where she learned how to decorate, design, and plan kitchens to suit the individual customer's needs.

She conducts demonstrations of kitchen and laundry appliances for clubs or social groups in the demonstration kitchen and auditorium which was decorated by her and Mrs. A. M. Foose, associate professor of home economics.

During the summer, Miss Mullins, or Mary Kitchen, was hostess to three home economics classes from the college.

She has been very active in college affairs and is currently president of Kappa Omicron Phi, home economics honorary, and represented them at their national convocation this summer, which was at the University of New Mexico.

Miss Mullins is past-president and now vice-president of Sportettes, a member of Fagus, senior women's honorary, Student Christian Association, and the Home Ec Club. She served as a freshman guide and is scholarship commission chairman for the Student Government.

LUCILLE MULLINS, Williamson senior, demonstrates the electric appliances in the demonstration center at The Fair, kitchen and plumbing store, where she is employed as a home economist. Miss Mullins acquired the name of "Mary Kitchen" when she accepted the position as home economist.

Four Students Selected For Elkins State Forest Festival

Marshall will be represented by four women at the Mountain State Forest Festival in Elkins, October 6, 7, 8.

The highlight of the festival will be the crowning of the Queen which will take place on the campus of Davis and Elkins College. The girls will appear in the court of Queen Sylvia XIX, Miss Mary Ann Power of Martinsburg, who will reign over the three day festival. Miss Power, a graduate of West Virginia University, will be crowned by William C. Marland, governor of West Virginia.

FOLLOWING the coronation, the school children of Elkins will present a pageant, "The Hills of West Virginia" which depicts the importance of natural resources in West Virginia. Thursday afternoon, the Queen and her court of 38 princesses will be introduced to West Virginia officials at a tea and reception.

Marshall's princesses will be Judith Flint, Huntington sophomore, a member of the Alpha Xi Delta social sorority; Pat Queen, Wayne senior, a member of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority; Mamie Jane Galloway, Kenova sophomore, Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority; and Joanne McClellan, Huntington sophomore, Pi Kappa Sigma sorority.

MEMBERS OF FAGUS, women's honorary society, display the green and white shakers that they sell annually at football games. Displaying the shakers are: Barbara Thabet of Charleston, Nancy Williams of Hurricane, Nancy Arnett of Packsville, Lucille Mullins of Williamson, and Barbara Taylor of South Charleston.

ROTC Students Here Can Receive Military Benefits

Extra military training and financial benefits will be offered to freshmen R.O.T.C. cadets under the regular army reserve training program, according to Major J. L. White, commander of the local Second Army Reserve Unit.

Some of the benefits offered are a full days pay for each weekly two-hour reserve meeting; automatic promotions from buck private to master sergeant; an expense paid, two-week summer school in which the reserve can select his own subject while receiving full army pay.

Cadets who take advantage of the reserve training program will, upon acceptance of a second lieutenant's commission, receive $296.00 instead of the regular $222.30 a month.

Major White expressed the personal opinion that a cadet with four years experience as an enlisted man would make a more competent army officer.

Cadets interested in the opportunities and benefits which the army reserve can offer may obtain additional information at the Second Army Reserve Headquarters, Twenty-ninth Street and Third Avenue.

Magazine Accepts College Applicants

Mademoiselle magazine is now accepting applications from undergraduate women for membership on its 1955-56 College Board.

Mademoiselle's College Board Contest offers a chance for the freshman as well as the senior to win one of the twenty Guest Editorships — a month on the staff of Mademoiselle — or to place as one of the fifty runners-up. All seventy of these top girls in the Contest get a head start on their careers.

Winners will do two assignments during the college year. Assignments will cover features about life on their campus; the submitting of art work, fashions, features, and fiction or promotional ideas for use in the magazine.

November 30 is the deadline for applying for College Board membership. Choose ONE of these four ways to apply. (1) Write a brief critique of the August, September, October, or November Mademoiselle;

(2) Draw a cartoon series on any phase of campus life or illustrate at least one article or story published in Mademoiselle during the past year;

(3) Describe and illustrate an ideal weekend wardrobe for a girl at your own college;

(4) Do layout or copy or both for at least one promotional piece encouraging students to enter the College Board Contest.

For further information see an August, September, October, or November issue of Mademoiselle.
