Domestic, Foreign Policy Issues Debated On Community Forum

President Eisenhower's recommendation that Congress grant him special powers to deal with Soviet-backed aggression in the Middle East drew praise from a Republican member of the United States and a note of warning from a Democratic senator on the Community Forum last night.

The speakers were Senator Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb.) and Senator Mike Monroney (D-Okla.). They were debating the subject "Peace and Prosperity—How Long?"

Senator Monroney criticized the "lack of a foreign policy on the part of the United States," and said, "No policy is going to succeed unless it assures that no aggression (in the Middle East) will be permitted, that there will be no attack of neighboring Arab states against each other."

In reference to the president's request for power to deal with "Soviet-backed aggression," the Oklahoman said, "It doesn't seem quite moral to me to be interested in only one type of aggression, one that we consider Soviet-inspired."

Monroney also advised, "I think we had better take a long and careful look at this proposal for special power."

Senator Curtis described the administration's foreign policy as a success.

Turning to the president's request for special powers, Senator Curtis drew a parallel between the stand Eisenhower took when a Communist invasion of Formosa seemed imminent and the situation now in the Middle East.

The senators debated both domestic and foreign policy issues before about 200 Community Forum members.

Pilfering? A sophomore girl was caught pilfering by President Everett Derryberry on campus during a noon hour recently. The embarrassed opportunist tried offering part of the loot to the president as a bribe, but he declined, saying, "No, thanks. I'd feel safer eating them from cans."

The loot: mushrooms.

The penalty: a delectable meal.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young engineer pioneers new ways to use x-ray

A new x-ray inspection system which intensifies an x-ray image more than 10,000 times in brightness and transmits it to a conventional TV screen has been developed recently by General Electric. When perfected, it may enable medical specialists to perform "long-distance" diagnosis on patients in remote areas.

One of the principal men who developed x-ray television — called TVX for short — is Dr. John E. Jacobs, Manager of the Advanced Development Laboratory of General Electric's X-Ray Department in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Jacobs' Work Is Important, Responsible

As an electronics specialist, Dr. Jacobs' work in the past has been devoted to the study of photoconductors—substances whose properties change under the influence of radiation — and the use of x-ray in industrial inspection. This in turn led to his development of the x-ray-sensitive camera tube used in TVX.

His present administrative duties with the Advanced Development Lab allow him more time for teaching others what he has learned. He now teaches the second-year graduate course at Northwestern in vacuum-tube networks, and has recently been named McKay Visiting Professor for 1957 by the University of California at Berkeley, where he will give a two-week series of lectures on photoconduction.

27,000 College Graduates at General Electric

Since his youth, when he was a licensed radio "ham," John Jacobs has been devoted to the study of electricity and electronics. Like each of our 27,000 college graduates, he is being given the chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: when fresh young minds are given the freedom to develop, everybody benefits — the individual, the Company, and the country.

Educational Relations, General Electric Company, Schenectady 5, New York

DR. JOHN E. JACOBS joined General Electric full time in 1950, after receiving his B.S. in electrical engineering in '47, his M.S. in '48, and his Ph.D. in '50, all at Northwestern Univ. He served in the Navy in World War II, and worked part time at General Electric while in college.

If successful writers are successful teachers, then Dr. Sam Clagg, associate professor of geography, is well qualified for his job.

Dr. Clagg, who just recently resigned as football line coach to teach full time, has written several sports articles, five of which have been published in national magazines.

"The Athletic Journal" carried three of these and "Scholastic Coach" has published two. The articles that have appeared in the Athletic Journal are "The Psychology of Teaching An Offensive Number System," which has a two-part article running in successive editions, and "The Coach's Guidance," which was the first

"Most of my writing is done because I feel that a certain subject needs to be emphasized," Dr. Clagg said. "As a matter of fact, right now I am working on a story on wrestling, which I feel needs more college support."

Dr. Clagg will continue his duties as wrestling coach and scout for the athletic department, although he has given up football. He has been the head coach of the wrestling team since it was added to the college athletic curriculum in 1953.

Edeburn Warns Bird Hunters To 'Watch That Trigger Finger'

The hunter who shoots at the first bird he sees with no regard for whether it is protected by law came under attack recently by a college faculty member who is an authority on bird life.

Dr. Ralph M. Edeburn, professor of zoology and co-author of a recent report on "Birds of the Lower Ohio River in West Virginia," said that many hunters are quick to lose control of their trigger finger when they see a large bird spread his wings.

Another hunting season has ended with many protected birds dead at the hands of thoughtless hunters.

"Too many hunters," said Dr. Edeburn, "thinks all hawks should be killed. They think of a hawk as a soaring bird only. The fact is that the big-wing soaring hawks which often are fired upon by hunters are useful to man and are protected by law. Their principal diet consists of mice and rats. The small-wing, non-soaring hawks, which eat chickens and birds, are not protected."

"Hunters," he observed, "are not much attracted by the small, dashing hawks which may be legally killed. They much prefer to fire away at the protected big fellow soaring above."

West Virginia law permits the killing of three hawks—sharp-shinned hawk, Cooper's hawk, and goshawk. Others are protected by law.

Fall is the migrating season for hawks, and those coming from the north follow the ridges of the Allegheny mountains. Protected birds in these flocks often become victims of hunters out looking for rabbits, squirrels or other game.

"Careless hunters," Dr. Edeburn said, "are fond of shooting anything big. A frequent victim is the white heron, which is fully protected by state and federal law and by treaty between the United States and Canada. The bald eagle, which is also protected, is often killed."

Dr. Edeburn said that the whooping crane, which migrates each year from Canada to Arkansas and Texas, is nearing extinction. The last count showed only 27 of these birds still living. The gradual disappearance of this bird is due partly to careless shooting by hunters and partly to the difficulty these birds have in finding compatible mates for reproduction. The whooping crane has never been able to reproduce in captivity.

Dr. Edeburn has two bits of advice which he hopes hunters will remember in 1957:

1. Hunt only when it is permitted by law.
2. Do not shoot birds which are protected by law.

INTRAMURALS . . .

By BOB LYNN

Five fast running quintets kept on the unbeaten path Monday and Tuesday to maintain their league number one spots and perfect slates.

The TKE No. 1 squad held onto their half game lead in the "A" League by weathering a last quarter rally by the SAE's No. 1 team, winning 41-37, their fourth straight victory. A 16 to 7 point third period put the game out of reach for the losers. The TKE's scoring was well balanced with Jim Harrick netting 12, John Wells and Strat Douthat 10 each. The game's top scorer was SAE's Maurice Cottle with 19 points. He was aided by Gene Cunningham with 11.

Grabbing their third victory in four starts by slipping past the KA No. 1 team 59-50, the PK No. 1 quintet stayed tight on the heels of the TKE's in the "A" League. The Pikes, trailing by 9 points after the first half, outscored the KA's 38 to 21 in the next two quarters to send the losers down to their third loss in five outings. Pike's Bob Hart put on a one-man show in the second half by pouring in 22 points to personally outscore the KA's and ended the evening with a season high of 32 points. Bill Alexander added 12 for the winners. Leading the KA's was Bob Elkins and Bill Capehart with 12 each and Bill Bales and Phil Harold contributing 11 apiece.

The "F" League remained a two team scramble with the Misfits and Cook's Hall rolling to their fourth consecutive wins. After the first few minutes the Misfits led all the way to outclass the RTC No. 2 squad 56-30. The pace-makers for the winners were Jack Wallace with 15, Bill Christie 11, and Linden Mead 10. Charles Starkey had 8 for the losers.

Cook's Hall started out slow but gained momentum as the game progressed to trim the PKA No. 4 cagers 50-32. Jerry Keaton led the winners with 12 points and was helped by Meyers with 10 second half points. Bob Egnor, the game's high scorer, and Bob Lynn paced the Pikes with 16 and 12 points respectively.

In the "B" League the VM Little Green stayed out in front by half a game by sacking the Sig Ep No. 2 team 66-43 to gain their fifth win in a row. Ray Crisp and Howie Barrett powered the VM with 22 and 21 points respectively and Tom Biederman added 10. Bob Parsons flipped in 10 for the losers.

Trailing 2 points after one quarter the PKA No. 2 team moved into high gear to smother the KA No. 2 team 56-30 and stay a step off the pace set by the Little Green. Three Pikes hit the double figures with Bob Morris swishing in 15, and Jerry Cook and Warren Tomlinson hitting for 14 each. Anderson tallied 11 for the KA's. A battle between two undefeated "E" League squads saw the VM Wreckers nip the Rascals No. 2 quintet 53-52 and move into a full game lead. The Rascals fought back from a 11-point half-time deficit to make a game of it. Will Miller and Earl Browning sparked the winners to their fourth straight triumph with 23 and 12 points respectively. Del Preston paced the Rascals with 20 points and June Hall canned 12.

The VM Pussy Cats closed in to within a half game of the idle KA No. 3 cagers by pulling down their fourth win in five games with a 64-27 rout of the Sig Ep No. 3 squad. The VM had four men in the double figures led by Tom Lamb with 18, Adams 61, and Gillespie and Gardner with 10 each. Sig Ep Joe Shaffer pitched in 10.

Outscoring the LXA's in every period the Sig Ep No. 1 quintet streaked to a 74-23 victory and third place in the "A" League scramble. The winners in picking up win number three in five starts were paced by Paul Jones and Alex Lawrence with 21 and 19 points and George Lambrose with 10. The LXA's Bill Billips dropped in 10.

The Sig Ep No. 4 team rallied in the second half to edge the Veterans 32-31 and even their record at 2-2. The winners' six fourth quarter points were all scored by Jim Pisarick to better the Vets' five points and break a third period deadlock. Pisarick led all scorers with 20 points and Bill Jones rimmed in 10 for the losers.

Wrestlers Open Slate At Cincinnati

By LOWELL CADE
Sports Editor

Wrestling coach Sam Clagg and his 1957 grapplers open the season tomorrow afternoon at Cincinnati when they tangle with the Bearcats of Cincinnati U. at 2 P.M.

Returning to the team from last season's varsity will be 120-pound Jack Young, 130-pound Lee Smith, 137-pound Ken Adkins, 147-pound Don Willis, 157-pound Don Adkins, 167-pound Charlie Tanner, and 177-pound Ivy Wilson.

Replacing last season heavyweight and team captain, Bill Harris, will be either Jim Simpson or Dick Hawkins. Both men are sophomores and are giving a try for the first time. Wrestling at the eleven starters were regular starters the full season last year. They were: Willis, D. Adkins and Tanner. Three men, Young, Smith and F. Adkins, were not eligible until the second semester. Ivy Wilson wrestled as a heavyweight part of the season last year when Harris was out with an injury.

Charlie Tanner was named captain of the 1957 squad. Tanner is a senior and has the best record of any man on the team. He has never been pinned in the two seasons that he has wrestled and has lost only three matches by a decision.

The Big Green grapplers wrestled in a round robin tournament here earlier in the year and made a good showing regardless of the fact that they dropped two of the three matches they wrestled. The team will leave for Cincinnati at 1 P.M. today and will spend the night in the Hotel Sinton.

Coach Clagg indicated that he had no idea as to what the Bearcats would send against his men. He went further to point out that it was the first match for C. U. and that the Green might have the advantage of the tournament. There will be three freshman exhibition matches before the match.

Big Green, Toledo Cagers In MAC Tilt

By LOWELL CADE
Sports Editor

Toledo University, boasting the leading scorer, percentage wise, in the Mid-American Conference, plays host to the defending champions tonight as the Big Green cagers travel to Toledo.

Coach Eddie Melvin's Rockets have not produced an impressive record thus far this season. They have won only one game while dropping seven as of Wednesday. They are 0-3 in the conference, losing to Miami by a slight one-point margin, 68-67; Western Michigan, 81-75; and Kent State, 82-75. Wednesday night they met Bowling Green at Toledo, however the results of that game were not available at press time.

Their only victory was an overtime triumph over Niagara U., 91-89. Guttman paced the Rockets that night with 37 points.

Murry Guttman is a 6-3, 190-pound senior guard. He has connected on 63 of 136 field goal attempts for a percentage of .463 and 25 of 40 free throw attempts for a total of 151 points. Guttman's 18.9 average per game is equalled only by Wayne Embry of Miami and is one percentage point higher than our own Cebe Price, who is averaging 18.8.

Second to Guttman in Toledo scoring is Al Vann, a 6-2 sophomore, who is averaging 11.3 points a game. Others in the scoring are Gene Cook with 9.6, Ned Miklovic with 9.0 and Jerry Eitzman with 7.7.

Coach Melvin has indicated that one of the biggest drawbacks has been their poor showing at the foul line against exceptionally fine foul shooting by the opposition. The Rockets have outscored three of the teams that have beaten them but their poor showing at the charity line brought their downfall.

Last season the Big Green swept both games of the home and home schedule. The men of Rivlin rolled to an astounding 92-

AL VANN

53 victory at the Field House but were held to a 78-70 verdict at Toledo.

There will probably be no changes in the Marshall lineup tonight with Cebe Price, Jack Freeman, Hal Greer, Dave Kirk and Leo Byrd getting the call.

Rivlin's cagers have four men averaging in the double figures and they are placed among the top twelve men in the conference. Price leads the quartet with an average of 18.8; Leo Byrd, 16.9; and Paul Underwood, 14.9. Price's 169 total points scored is also second to the pace-setting total of Wayne Embry, who leads the loop with 189.

The lone conference leader is Hal Greer, who is leading the MAC rebounders in percentage. Hal has grabbed 121 rebounds off the boards, which is third in total recoveries.

Next week the Green travels to Bowling Green in another important conference game.

Baseball Drills Start With Eleven Lettermen Returning

By SAM STANLEY

With the basketball season not quite halfway gone and with the talk of football games on New Year's day still in the air, the 1957 edition of the Big Green baseball team is holding their first practice sessions.

With eleven letterman back this year, four of which received mention on the All-Mid-American team last year, Coach Bill Chambers is optimistic for a good season this spring.

Last year, in his first year at the helm, the Big Green nine compiled a 7-9 mark. Only one of these victories came in MAC play in which the Herd lost eight games. Their only loss outside the conference was to Morris Harvey.

Paul Underwood, Clarence York, Stan Malecki and Donzil, all of whom made the MAC second team last season, along with John Mayberry, who received honorable mention, are the big names back this year.

Underwood led the MAC in earned run average last year. York, an outfielder, was second in the league in hitting as he bettered the .400 mark. Third baseman Hall, Malecki—who alternated at third and centerfield—and shortstop Mayberry all hit over the .300 mark against MAC competition.

Other lettermen back are: first baseman Hal Greer, second baseman Gary Wolfe and Jerry Cook, outfielder Lufe Parsley, catcher Sam Smith and pitcher Pat Paden.

The team opened with a light workout yesterday at the National Guard Armory, where their huge batting net has been installed. According to Chambers, the team can practice hitting, pitching, infield, sliding and almost anything but fielding fly balls while indoors.

Chambers, a former professional pitcher himself, expects some forty candidates to report for the team when the second semester gets under way. Practice will be light until then, so the players can concentrate on grades.

CHEERLEADING SQUAD has that new male look—with the addition of three men to the squad. The Student Senate appointed Jerry "Rat" Bernhart, Huntington senior, Don Lawrence, Wheeling junior, and Jim Pisarcik, Marshall junior. Jim has not been able to cheer yet because of work.

The New Look In Cheerleading; Three Males Are Added To Squad

By DICK MOORE

According to observers, one important element has been lacking at the home games of the Big Green basketball tilts in the past few years: The hearty and virile voices of the men among the student cheering section.

Recently the Student Senate took steps to correct this error by appointing three men to the Big Green cheering squad. Says Jerry "Rat" Bernhart, Wellsburg senior and one of the new appointees, "The senate's strategy is beginning to pay off. The men are beginning to yell."

At leadership camp last summer, the subject of male cheerleaders was brought up by George Templin, who also reasoned that if other big colleges had them, why shouldn't the MAC Conference champs? Templin again brought the matter to the attention of the senate and the word went out for prospects. The result were the appointments of Bernhart along with Don Lawrence, Wheeling junior, and Jim Pisarcik, Marshall junior.

Bernhart said that at first the appearing the men on the cheering squad seemed to be a novelty to most students and the men are beginning to take heart. The Ratt added, "If you're going to print this stuff, tell those big mouth guys to give out with some noise, and if they don't know the cheers, they can ask their girl friends."

UNLIKE MOST OF HIS FELLOW BISON, Marco, the Marshall emblem does not object to an occasional face-cleaning. Here "Fred," Student Union custodian wields a brush energetically in an effort to clear away dust which has collected in Marco's ample hair.
