MARSHALL COLLEGE STUDENT NEWSPAPER

VOL. 51 HUNTINGTON, W. VA WEDNESDAY, FEB. 4, 1959 NO. 37

Meadows Asks Aid Of Marshall Student Body

Student Body president Asa Meadows made an appeal to all students Monday to contact their state legislators in behalf of the College.

Meadows offers two solutions to make the state legislators aware of the financial needs of Marshall. He suggests (1) "that a group of student lobbyists be selected to personally inform the legislators of our situation." And, he suggested (2) "that parents and students be encouraged to write a personal letter to their respective representatives explaining the present conditions and suggesting possible solutions for their consideration."

A bulletin prepared by the student government states that our facilities and staff are not keeping pace with our ever increasing enrollment due to the lack of funds. It also states that we, at present, are receiving proper training but our fellow students of 1960 will not.

Here are five reasons given in the student government bulletin why the proper training needed by the class of 1960 will not be received.

1. We do not have additional classrooms available for our peak hours. Marshall has the fullest utilization of its buildings of any college in the state.

2. Our accrediting association (North Central Association) states that we are in danger unless funds are provided.

3. Due to a 5% cut we are forced to drop a summer term. This is discouraging those teachers already in service who need to meet certification requirements as well as making it impossible for students to graduate on schedule.

4. Our faculty and administration are seriously overloaded.

5. Unless facilities and funds are provided, our future enrollments will have to be cut drastically. We can extend our present facilities no further.

Asa Meadows states in his letter that it is the responsibility of the student to help alleviate our current problems. He says that "it is obvious that our college administration is favoring improvement, but their hands are tied because these matters are handled entirely by our state legislature."

Meadows says that our state representatives must realize that the future of our state depends upon better educated persons.

TV Physics Course Set

The second semester of Continental Classroom, a television course in physics, will begin on Wednesday, February 11, and will run through Friday, June 5, over WSAZ-TV.

The prerequisite for the course in atomic and nuclear physics will be credit in the first semester TV course in basic physics or credit in a college course in General Physics. Additional courses in mathematics will be helpful.

The class will be handled as an extension class by Marshall and will require the payment of the regular extension class fees of $22.50 for residents of West Virginia and $45.00 for out-of-state residents.

Registration for the course will be held at Marshall from 7 to 9 P.M., and Saturday, January 31, from 8:30 A.M. to 12 noon in the Registrar's office.

The textbook to be used in the course, Semat's "Introduction to Atomic and Nuclear Physics," is now available at the bookstore.

The lesson synopses for the course are available at .50 per copy from Dr. Donald C. Martin, Department of Physics and Marshall coordinator for the TV course.

Twelve Graduates Honored

Twelve of the 54 graduates in Teachers College will receive their degrees with honors, Dean D. Banks Wilburn has announced.

Honor graduates for the Bachelor of Arts degree in Teachers College include Jean Browning, Magna Cum Laude; Kathleen Smith Chambers, Magna Cum Laude; Dorothy Gaynette Davis, Magna Cum Laude; Sandra Anderson Strom, Magna Cum Laude; Jean Cropper Waybright, Cum Laude, all of Huntington.

Joan Fisher Adkins, Barboursville, Magna Cum Laude, Honors in Spanish; Donald James Armstrong, Elm Grove, Magna Cum Laude; Carol Cox Crum, Mount Nebo, Magna Cum Laude; Betty Anne Eder, Mount Hope, Cum Laude; Claudette Roberts Hutchison, St. Albans, Cum Laude; Lois Richey Watts, Weirton, Cum Laude; and Nancy Morgan Young, South Charleston, Cum Laude.

Candidates for degrees who achieved special distinction in academic work are recognized at commencement by having printed on their diplomas first, second or third honors as determined by their quality points: Summa Cum Laude (3.85 and above), Magna Cum Laude (3.6 to 3.85, Cum Laude (3.3 to 3.6).

Wanted! Men! For College Theatre. (Need not be veteran actors.) Application for position is made by attending try-outs at 3 this afternoon and 7 tonight in Old Main auditorium.

The plays selected temporarily as possibilities for the spring production of College Theatre have casts comprised mainly of men and only a few women, according to Clayton Page, Associate Professor of Speech.

Any full time student is eligible to tryout.

Student Senate To Aid 'Et Cetera'

By TED McCLURE

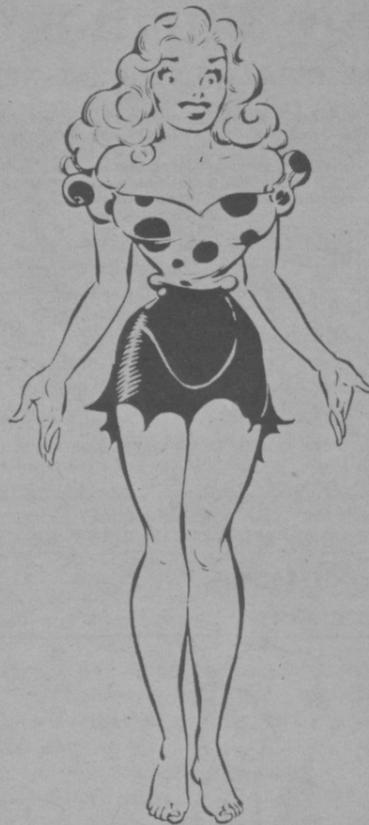

The Student Senate has voted to provide approximately $225 for one publication of "Et Cetera," campus literary magazine, according to Asa Meadows, Student Body President.

"Et Cetera" has usually be published bi-annually; however, due to the lack of funds this year, only one publication is possible. The magazine will be printed by the Marshall College duplicating department.

This issue will be considerably smaller than past issues, although not particularly in number of contributions. Contributions may be placed in the "Et Cetera" box in the Dean of Men's office. All manuscripts should be type-written and double-spaced. They become the property of "Et Cetera."

There will be prizes given for the best short story and the best poem, if they are deserving manuscripts, according to Miss Marilyn Putz, faculty advisor of "Et Cetera."

Yokum Family En Route

The citizens of Al Capp's Dogpatch come to visit us next Monday and Tuesday evenings in the form of the hit Broadway musical "Li'l Abner."

All of the illustrious characters of the famous hill town, both animal and human, will appear looking as though they had just stepped out of Mr. Capp's comic strip onto the stage. Li'l Abner, Daisy Mae, and the entire cast, including Salomey the pig, will romp through a performance that has been dubbed a "gay, colorful, lavish musical extravaganza."

The musical is the last of the special student programs of the 1958-59 Artists Series season. All full-time students may attend on either Monday or Tuesday evening. Tickets may be obtained in the front hallway of Old Main tomorrow and Friday. Mrs. Mount, secretary-treasurer of the Artists Series, will be there to distribute tickets from 8:30-12:00 and 1:00-3:00 on both days. Performances of "Li'l Abner" will begin at 8:30 P.M. at the Keith-Albee Theatre on both Monday and Tuesday, February 9-10.

The entire cast of the 75 member road company of "Li'l Abner" has won unusual acclaim for its spirited performance wherever it has appeared. The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette has commented:

"Everybody, front and back, is happy at his work. Broadway musicals which have run a long time often settle for potluck on the road. Not so 'Li'l Abner.' The leading players are an engaging lot, the singers can be heard and the dancers dance their feet off. As a matter of fact, they are overwhelming."

"Li'l Abner" is presented exactly as it appeared during its two-year run on Broadway, where it received the unanimous approval of the New York critics. After its two night stand in Huntington, the company will go to Cincinnati for a week's engagement.

Lyrics for "Li'l Abner" were written by Johnny Mercer, veteran songwriter who has written such favorites as "Lazy Bones," "That Old Black Magic," and "Autumn Leaves." The musical score was written by Gene de Paul, composer the tunes for "I'll Remember April," "Mr. Five by Five," and many others.

Enthusiasm Mounts As UHSP Congress Nears

Reservations for the 24th United High School Press Congress February 13-14 have already started to pour in.

Prof. W. Page Pitt, founder of UHSP and chairman of the Marshall journalism department, said Saturday that the appearance of James C. Hagerty, press secretary of President Eisenhower, has created considerable enthusiasm among the high school journalists and advisers.

In response to requests, the 24th Congress was opened to high schools in the outlying Tri-State area of Ohio and Kentucky. A number of such schools have already indicated that they are sending groups of students.

Some 300 to 500 high school journalists are expected for the 24th UHSP meeting, 20th convention of the West Virginia Journalism Teachers Association, and 7th meeting of the United High School Yearbook Association of West Virginia.

Advance registration for the three meetings, all running concurrently, will close Friday, February 6. Reservations for the Hagerty luncheon and press conference will be made on the first-received-first-served basis.

Miss Virginia Lee, associate professor of journalism and convention registrar, is now accepting reservations. She may be contacted at the college.

The February 14 luncheon will be held at the Hotel Prichard. Due to the capacity of the hotel's ballroom, no seating trouble is expected but schools have been urged to make reservations now, Prof. Pitt said.

Hagerty, who will make one of his rare public appearances before the West Virginia high school students, will talk first of journalism as a career.

A press conference will follow Hagerty's opening address. He will conduct the conference in a fashion similar to those held at the White House. Only the high school students will be allowed to ask questions.

Dr. Levitt To Speak At Forum Tomorrow Night

Dr. I. M. Levitt, scientist-astronomer and director of the Fels Planetarium in Philadelphia, will speak on the Forum at 8:00 P.M. tomorrow in Old Main auditorium.

Dr. Levitt's topic is "Future in the Sky." He will supplement his lecture with demonstrations and films of rocket launchings.

In his lecture he will discuss some of the unknown and unsolved problems to be dealt with before humans can venture from the earth. He has been doing original research on space travel and is one of the strongest advocates for starting man's conquest of outer space.

Dr. Levitt is known, not only as an astronomer and inventor, but also as a scientist with the rare ability to translate into simple terms the most complex scientific subjects. He has gained a large public by explaining the mysteries of the universe and newly made discoveries about the world we

Few Local Job Opportunities Exist For Business Graduates

By FRANCES GEORGETOWN

A large percentage of 1959 mid-term Marshall business administration graduates may not be able to find the jobs they want in the Huntington area.

According to Robert P. Alexander, Marshall placement director, local job opportunities are at a minimum, and that they are normally fewer at mid-term than in May.

Nineteen business administration seniors graduated at the end of the first semester, and, according to Alexander, only two have definitely accepted full-time employment locally. Some of the others have indicated that they plan to continue part-time employment in which they engaged as undergraduates.

Alexander points out that even though opportunities in business administration are scarce, positions in the sales field are "wide open." He added that, in his opinion, many graduates shy away from the selling field because they "fail to realize the career opportunities that selling offers."

He also said that there is a greater demand for accountants in larger metropolitan areas and areas of expansion than locally.

As for the lack of openings at the present time, Alexander points out that many companies have training programs beginning each June for new employees, therefore they are reluctant to hire new personnel at mid-term.

He also said that most companies prefer to have the larger graduating classes in June from which to select new employees.

Alexander pointed out that many students wait too long to begin looking for employment. He stressed the importance of registering with his office at least early in the student's senior year. Many company representatives visit college campuses only once each year, he said, and if students aren't registered and available for interviews they miss any opportunities they might have had.

The 19 graduating seniors were divided among the business fields as follows: Business management, seven; accounting, seven; retailing, three; and advertising, two.

Accounting majors who have accepted employment are Leonard Mickler, who has joined Somerville and Company, of Huntington, and William Lane, who will begin a training program with the General Shoe Corporation in Cincinnati soon.

Another accounting major, George Heslep, will continue a teaching position at Century Business College in Huntington.

Brad Wilson, a business management major, plans to enter Marshall's graduate school.

STATE SPEECH FESTIVAL

Marshall will be represented by one woman and one man in the radio announcing at the State Speech Festival at Jackson's Mill.

Stephen D. Buell of the Speech Department has requested that any students interested in a try-out are to contact him at his office.

Student Named Editor Of Hospital Newspaper

Psychology plus journalism equal editor of the "Huntington State Hospital News" for a Marshall College senior.

Fred George, 1126 Ninth Street, a Marshall journalism major and psychology minor, was appointed editor of the mental hospital's weekly newspaper the first of this year. Working at the hospital as a recreational aide, he had been writing for the paper and helping with its layout.

Under the supervision of the recreation department and William P. Davis, recreation director, the "News" is being reorganized to accomplish three purposes. "First, we want it to act as therapy for the patients," George indicated.

"We will teach the patients how to do most of the writing and layout themselves. They will be encouraged to write stories of their own illnesses. By accepting and facing their illnesses, they have won a big part in their battle for recovery."

Second, the staff intends to use the paper as remotivation for the patients. "We have some very intelligent patients at the hospital. We hope that this will give them something constructive to do with their time and will teach them a trade that they will be able to follow when they recover," George said.

Plans are also being made to gather the reports of the research of other mental hospitals for publication in the "News."

George hopes that by printing their research ideas, the "News" can pass mental health developments on to other hospitals and can develop a greater awareness of mental health problems in the general public.

About 500 copies of the "News" are now circulated weekly, but an increase in circulation is expected. Issues will be sent to daily newspapers, radio and television stations, and other mental hospitals.

The patients anticipate their weekly paper, and are disappointed when it does not come out on time, the new editor indicated. "They react toward their paper just as the public reacts toward daily papers. When it comes out, they criticize it, but if it isn't

VETS' MEET

The Veteran's Club will meet tomorrow morning at 11:00 A.M. in the Science Hall Auditorium, according to Bob Nelson, president of the organization. The business meeting will include further revision of the club's constitution.

PROFESSOR WRITES ARTICLE

The current issue of "The Western Political Quarterly" contains an article written by Dr. Elizabeth Cometti entitled "Trends in Italian Emigration." An abstract of the article will appear in "International Political Science Abstracts," published in Paris for the International Political Association, with the help of UNESCO and the International Committee for Social Sciences Documentation. Dr. Cometti is a member of the Marshall College department of history.

READING TRYOUTS

Miss Kathleen Robertson, professor of speech, has announced that poetry and prose reading tryouts will be held in late March for students to represent Marshall at the State Speech Festival at Jackson's Mill later in the semester.

Interested students are to contact Miss Robertson.

printed on time, they are disappointed."

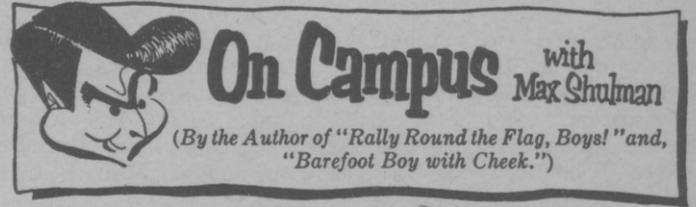

The 24-year-old George plans to make this a beginning of a full-time career. He said "Since our society has to support mental hospitals, it should be closer to their problems. I plan to get a masters degree in psychology and integrate the two fields so as to help present those problems to the public."

FRESHMAN DORM NEWS

Freshman Dorm's officers for 1958-59 are president, Ruth Anne Meadows, Charleston; vice president, Jane Ann Wilson, Chelyan; secretary, Harriett Fulkes, South Charleston; treasurer, Linda Hatfield, Williamson; chaplain, Mary Marshall, Parkersburg.

Spring dances are being planned by Laidley Hall for March 20 and Freshman Dorm for April 10.

Freshman Dorm, College Hall, and Laidley Hall have approximately 15 new residents for the second semester.

IS STUDYING NECESSARY?

Once there were three roommates and their names were Walter Pellucid, Casimir Fing, and LeRoy Holocaust and they were all taking English lit. They were all happy, friendly, outgoing types and they all smoked Philip Morris Cigarettes as you would expect from such a gregarious trio, for Philip Morris is the very essence of sociability, the very spirit of amity, the very soul of concord, with its tobacco so mild and true, its packs so soft and flip-top, its length so regular or long size. You will find when you smoke Philip Morris that the birds sing for you and no man's hand is raised against you.

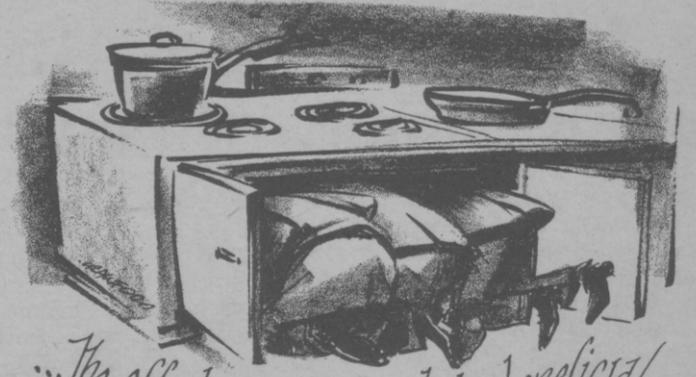

Each night after dinner Walter and Casimir and LeRoy went to their room and studied English lit. For three hours they sat in sombre silence and pored over their books and then, squinty and spent, they toppled onto their pallets and sobbed themselves to sleep.

This joyless situation obtained all through September and October. Then one November night they were all simultaneously struck by a marvelous idea. "We are all studying the same thing," they cried. "Why, then, should each of us study for three hours? Why not each study for one hour? It is true we will only learn one-third as much that way, but it does not matter because there are three of us and next January before the exams, we can get together and pool our knowledge!"

Oh, what rapture then fell on Walter and Casimir and LeRoy! They flung their beanies into the air and danced a schottische and lit thirty or forty Philip Morrises and ran out to pursue the pleasure which had so long, so bitterly, been missing from their lives.

Alas, they found instead a series of grisly misfortunes. Walter, alas, went searching for love and was soon going steady with a coed named Invicta Breadstuff, a handsome lass, but, alas, hopelessly addicted to bowling. Each night she bowled five hundred lines, some nights a thousand. Poor Walter's thumb was a shambles and his purse was empty, but Invicta just kept on bowling and in the end, alas, she left Walter for a pin-setter, which was a terrible thing to do to Walter, especially in this case, because the pin-setter was automatic.

Walter, of course, was far too distraught to study his English lit, but he took some comfort from the fact that his roommates were studying and they would help him before the exams. But Walter, alas, was wrong. His roommates, Casimir and LeRoy, were nature lovers and they used their free time to go for long tramps in the woods. One November night, alas, they were treed by two bears, Casimir by a brown bear and LeRoy by a Kodiak, and they were kept in the trees until mid-January when winter set in and the brown bear and the Kodiak went away to hibernate.

So when the three roommates met before exams to pool their knowledge, they found they had none to pool! Well sir, they had a good long laugh about that and then rushed to the kitchen and stuck their heads in the oven. It was, however, an electric oven and the effects were, on the whole, beneficial. The wax in their ears got melted and they acquired a healthy tan and today they are married to a lovely young heiress named Ganglia Bran and live in the Canal Zone, where there are many nice boats to wave at.

Write Your Legislator!

A MESSAGE FROM THE 4,000 STUDENTS AT MARSHALL

Our College is in need of your help. It is not so much for us that we ask this, but for the student of Marshall a few years from now that your immediate action is sought.

Marshall facilities and staff are not keeping pace with our ever-increasing enrollments. Reason...Lack of funds!

The college student of today is the leader of the future only if he has the proper training. We 4,000 students of Marshall are receiving this needed training, but our fellow students of 1960 will not. Why? Here are the reasons:

1. We do not have additional classrooms available for our peak hours. Marshall has the fullest utilization of its buildings of any college in the state.
2. Our accrediting association (North Central Association) states that we are in danger unless funds are provided.
3. Due to a 5% cut we are forced to drop a summer term. This is discouraging those teachers already in service who need to meet certification requirements as well as making it impossible for students to graduate on schedule.
4. Our faculty and administration are seriously overloaded.
5. Unless facilities and funds are provided, our future enrollments will have to be cut drastically. We can extend our present facilities no further.

This is a brief picture of our urgent needs. Our only hope is for the state legislature to realize our situation and provide the necessary funds. With this in mind, we ask you to contact, either personally or by letter, your legislators. You should explain that:

1. Marshall needs a classroom building. Three of our buildings have been declared "unsafe" and in some instances "fire traps".
2. We need additional faculty and administrative personnel.
3. Our College NEEDS the amount stipulated in the original overall budget that was presented to the State Board of Works.

It is true that Marshall has expanded, but this expansion has been only a token to what is needed by this great state. We are interested...and we know that you too are interested...but interest alone is not enough...We need to act! We ask you to help us by either writing or talking to your legislators. They need to know how you feel!

Dean Harris Tri-Sig Man

MYSTERY OF THE EVENING at the recent Tri-Sig Mystery Ball, held at the Hotel Frederick, was the awarding the title "Tri-sig Man" to Dean A. E. Harris, dean of the graduate school. Dean Harris is shown above receiving the award from Alicia Elkins, Mt. Hope junior and sorority president.

FOUR GRADUATE STUDENTS in history have been awarded cash awards of $100 each for attaining outstanding scholastic averages. From left are Dr. Gresham Toole, history department head; Sam Lee, Nitro; Dr. Hershel Heath, professor of history; Roscoe Hale, East Lynn; Dr. Elizabeth Cometti, professor of history; Fred Barkey, Charleston; Dr. Charles Moffat, professor of history; John Wittenberg, Huntington; and Mrs. Richard Van Zandt, representing the Colonial Dames, sponsor of the awards.

An Appeal To Students

Marshall Students:

As students of Marshall we should all be definitely interested in our colleges' present problem areas. It is our responsibility to see that something is done to alleviate these problems. It is obvious that our college administration is favoring improvements but their hands are tied because these matters are handled entirely by our state legislature.

I am confident that each student wants to see his "alma mater" grow and expand so that it can accommodate future enrollments. It must be realized then, that we can't sit back with a do nothing policy hoping that something will be done. With this in mind, we must let our state representatives know that we as students need additional educational facilities. They must be led to realize that the future of our state depends upon better educated persons.

President Smith, in a recent conference with our Student Government, stated that the students could help the college in two ways. First, a group of student lobbyists should be selected to inform the legislators of our situation. This is now being taken care of by the Student Government. And, secondly, parents and students should be encouraged to write a personal letter to their respective representatives explaining the present conditions and suggesting possible solutions for their consideration. If these two projects are carried out successfully, we will certainly have done our share.

Now, we encourage you to do one of two things:

1. Send the facts home so that your parents can contact your legislators either personally or by mail; or
2. Write the letter yourself.

We know that too few students are aware of our urgent needs, so we have prepared information which should be included in your contact. You will find this information sheet at all Parthenon boxes. Pick up a copy and use it for your college!

Sincerely,

Asa Meadows,

Student Body President.

National Teacher Examinations Will Be Given Here Saturday

National Teacher Examinations will be given to approximately 15 prospective teachers from this area Saturday, February 7, Luther E. Bledsoe, registrar and director of admissions, announced recently.

The annual tests will also be given Saturday in centers throughout the United States.

Candidates for the Common Examinations, to measure knowledge and ability, must report to the examination center at Marshall at 8:30 A.M. Saturday and will complete these examinations at 12:30 P.M.

The Common Examinations include tests in Professional Information, General Culture, English Expression, and Non-Verbal Reasoning.

Candidates for any of the eleven Optional Examinations will return to Marshall at 1:30 P.M. Saturday. Those taking only one Optional Exam will finish at about 3:15 P.M., and those taking two Optional tests at about 4:40 P.M.

The Optional Examinations are designed to demonstrate mastery of subject matter in the field of elementary education or in subjects commonly taught in high schools.

Bledsoe will supervise the administration of the tests, which are prepared annually by Educational Testing Service in Princeton, N.J.

Most of those taking the National Teacher Examinations are college seniors preparing to teach or teachers applying for positions in school systems which encourage applicants to submit their scores on these tests along with other credentials, Bledsoe said.

He pointed out, however, that some candidates may be taking the examinations because of their interest in discovering their own strengths and weaknesses with respect to such teacher qualifications.

HISTORY AWARDS MADE

Four graduate students in history have received awards for superior work in their field by the National Society of Colonial Dames of America. Each received $100 from Mrs. Richard Van Zandt of Huntington, representing the society. Receiving the awards were: John P. Wittenberg, Huntington; Samuel P. Lee, Jr., Nitro; Frederick Allen Barkey, Charleston; and Roscoe Hale, Jr., Wayne. All four plan to continue graduate studies.

Kyle, Woods Head SCA For Semester

By TOM ROSS

Rev. Richard Kyle, Huntington junior and pastor of Crossroads Baptist Church, has been elected SCA president for the coming semester. The vice-presidency has been filled by Sharon Woods, Mullens sophomore, recording secretary is June Spencer, Mason City sophomore; corresponding secretary is Charlotte Damron, Point Pleasant sophomore; and historian, Dixie Stenger, Huntington sophomore.

Rev. Kyle has served as moderator for many SCA programs. He has also been active in Radio Club, International Relations Club and Debate Team. A speech major, he is married and the father of two children, Kelly, 11, and Dale, 7.

Huntington churches would be more closely connected to Marshall's SCA under a proposal to be considered by next semester's officers. The new officers will study a plan to correlate SCA with each denomination's fellowship. They would set up a council of SCA officers and representatives of each church's college group. The council would benefit all groups if the plan is adopted. The idea was suggested by Mr. David Sageser, Executive Director of the Department of Campus Christian Life of the National Council of Churches, during an October visit to Marshall.

The Student Christian Association is Marshall's largest organization with over 300 members. It was formed in 1950 under the leadership of a group of concerned Huntington ministers. At one time, it had only fifteen members.

The purpose of the SCA is the encouragement of each student's personal religious beliefs. It does this through weekly meetings for study and worship, early morning devotionals in "prayer groups," theology discussions, semi-annual retreats, and a publication for ministers and students, "The Campus Chimes."

SCA's history is very colorful according to Rev. Lander Beal, ious counselor. As SCA grew its sponsor and Marshall's religious meeting place was shifted around the campus. It first met downstairs of the cafeteria in what was then the Green Room for recreation. When the Green Room was converted into a Dining room, the SCA migrated to various rooms of the Science Hall. For a period it met in the gym of the Laboratory School. At present the Science Hall Auditorium is being used, with occasional shifts to Old Main Auditorium if the nature of the program demands it.

The need for a regular meeting place for SCA has inspired its biggest project—the building of the Student Christian Center Building and Chapel. The $250,000 structure, to be erected at

10 Grads Working In Area

Figures released by the U. S. Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance under the Social Security Administration reveal that 10 Marshall College alumni are working in the bureau's Region III.

The region covers Kentucky, West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Three Huntington residents are among the ten. They are Garnett T. Henderson, claims representative; Hugh L. Clark and William C. Goad, both field representatives.

Others are Miss M. Jane Hughes, Charlotte, N. C.; James D. Bowyer, Charleston; Mrs. Barbara Goad, Ashland, Ky.; Thomas L. Read, Welch; and Charles L. Carper, Frankfort, Ky., all field representatives.

Two Marshall alumni in assistant manager positions with the bureau are William Vinson, Wheeling, and Adrian Hatfield, Corbin, Ky.

Interviews Open To College Grads

Former Marshall College students are encouraged to participate in the job interview program of the Placement Bureau, Placement Director Robert P. Alexander said that all former Marshall students are eligible to schedule an appointment through his office.

Interviewers scheduled through January 22 include the Philadelphia Naval Ship Yard; Proctor and Gamble Company; Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co.; George Washington Life Insurance Co.; Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.; Sandusky, Michigan Community Schools; Arlington, Virginia Schools; and the Aetna Casualty and Surety Co.

Information and application blanks for positions with several other firms can be obtained from the Placement Office. Firms included in this category are Chevrolet Division of General Motors; Inter-Ocean Insurance Co.; the Mellon Institute; International Co - Operative Administration; Volunteers for the United Nations; United State Steel; George A. Hormel and Co.; several positions with the National and State Civil Services, and several teaching positions in West Virginia and other states.

The Placement Bureau published a weekly bulletin listing the job interviewers and positions offered Marshall students and graduates by employers. Corporation and company representatives have been scheduled through April now and many will be added later, according to Alexander.

In a special note to graduating seniors, Alexander stated, "these company 'recruiters' are fully aware of their needs and intend to have them filled early by their college recruiting. May is not the time to begin to look for employment. The time is now."

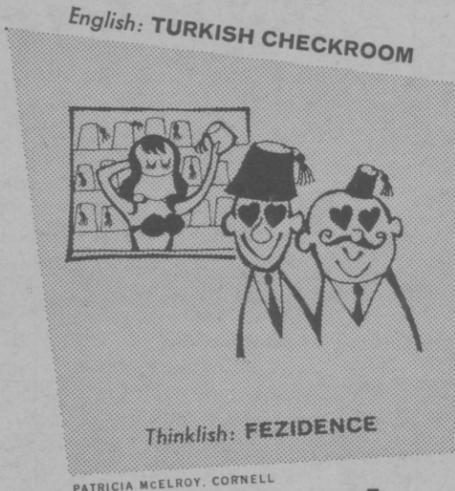

For those interested in part-time and summer employment, positions may be acquired through the Placement Bureaus. Interested persons should register at the Placement Office in Old Main.

Fifth Avenue and Seventeenth Street, will provide meeting space, rooms for overnight guests, work rooms and offices. The money is being raised by pledges from churches, corporations and individuals. Approximately $190,000 has been raised so far. The chapel will deepen the religious atmosphere on campus.

STATE SPEECH FESTIVAL

Marshall will be represented by one woman and one man in the radio announcing at the State Speech Festival at Jackson's Mill.

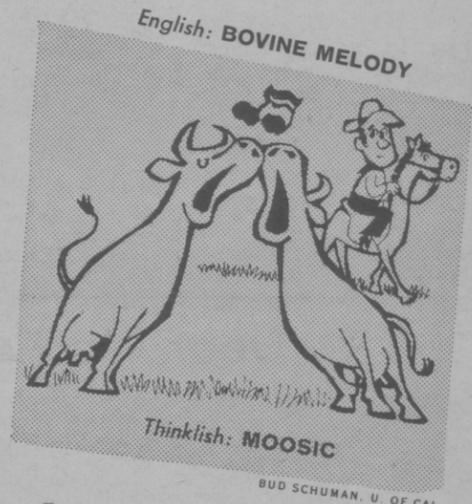

Stephen D. Buell of the Speech Department has requested that any students interested in a try-out are to contact him at his office.

Athletics Financed By Mixes

By BETTY HARBERT

Have you ever wondered where the twenty-five cents you sometimes pay to attend a student mix goes after it leaves your pocket?

Your quarter along with others often goes into the $600 needed each year to finance Otto "Swede" Gullickson's intramural program. The duty of raising this sum belongs to the Intramural Finance Board.

The board is composed of Swede, a president chosen by him, the business manager of the student senate, and the three intramural managers. Members of the board which meets bi-monthly are: president, Bruce Moss, St. Albans senior; secretary-treasurer, Bob Cooper, St. Mary senior (and senate business manager); Larry Payne, Man junior; and Carl Hickey, Huntington junior. The third member of the board has not been chosen for second semester.

The Intramural Board sponsors two paid mixes per semester to finance the program. In past years the student senate allotted $100 from its budget each semester, but the second semester budget this year allots only $50, along with $100 from first semester. The remainder is donated by men's social organizations on campus. According to Bruce Moss, president, $300 of the fund has been raised so far

The combination of Mercer and de Paul on the "L'il Abner" score has produced an assortment of bouncy, appealing songs. Several of them have become quite popular throughout the nation through the media of the juke box and radio and television musical programs. Among them are: "If I Had My Druthers," "Jubilation T. Cornpone" and "Namely You," from Act 1; and "Oh Happy Day," "Love In a Home," and "The Matrimonial Stomp," from Act 2.

Critic Danton Walker calls "L'il Abner" a "mad, merry, musical melange, with the fastest dancing ever seen on a local stage." Michael Kidd, who did the choreography for "Finian's Rainbow," "Guys and Dolls," and "Can-Can," created and directed the fast-moving and unusual dances for the original production of "L'il Abner." George and Christy Reeder, choreographers for the road company, have followed Kidd's conception.

Robert Kaye, a native of Ohio, plays the lead role of L'il Abner, and Patricia Northrup plays Daisy Mae. "Variety," show business newspaper, says that Kaye fits the part of L'il Abner "like a custom-made glove," and that Miss Northrup is "first rate" as Daisy Mae, "all peaches and cream."

Kaye has spent much of his stage career in Los Angeles and Las Vegas. While in the Army, he toured for several months with Eddie Fisher's overseas show. After his discharge, he went to the west coast where he played the role of "Mack" in "Annie Get Your Gun."

Before coming east to join the national company, Kaye played the L'il Abner role at the Sands hotel in Las Vegas.

Miss Northrup has had much of her acting experience on Broadway. She first appeared there in "South Pacific," then as the ingenue lead in "Pal Joey," and last season in "Visit to a Small Planet."

Taking the role of Marryin' Sam is Dean Dittman, who created the part of "Herman" in the original production of "The Most Happy Fella." Dittman is a recipient of the Lawrence Melchior award and was selected to sing for President Eisenhower at the opening of National Music Week in Washington, D. C.

The gruff role of Earthquake McGoon is handled by Peter Costanza. A native of Brooklyn, New York, he is a veteran performer with the famed Provincetown Playhouse, and toured in the national company of "Kismet."

"L'il Abner" is produced by Lee Guber, Frank Ford and Shelly Gross, in association with Norman Panama, Melvin Frank and Michael Kidd.

Panama and Frank wrote the book which Danton Walker calls "the wittiest political satire since 'Of Thee I Sing.'" As producers, writers and directors, they have been responsible for such film successes as "Knock On Wood," "The Court Jester," and "That Certain Feeling."

"L'il Abner," which features its own traveling orchestra, will be the first full-fledged Broadway musical to appear in Huntington since "Oklahoma" was here some years ago, according to Curtis Baxter, manager of the Artists Series. Orchestration is provided by Philip J. Lang.

During the Summer the library was remodeled and re-arranged to give the students the benefit of a faster mode of operation. New equipment was purchased and installed and even now work is still going on, installing this new equipment.

The circulation desk is relocated on the first floor along with the Reserve reading room and the Librarian's Office. Also located on the first floor are Cataloguing, Audio Visual Aids Rooms, and other offices.

On the second floor the old circulation desk is now the reference desk. The entire Reading Room is for studying and reference work except for the Southeastern corner, which is for periodicals.

To study in the six floors of stacks located throughout the library, you must have a stack permit, which is given to those in graduate school or to undergraduates by special permission.

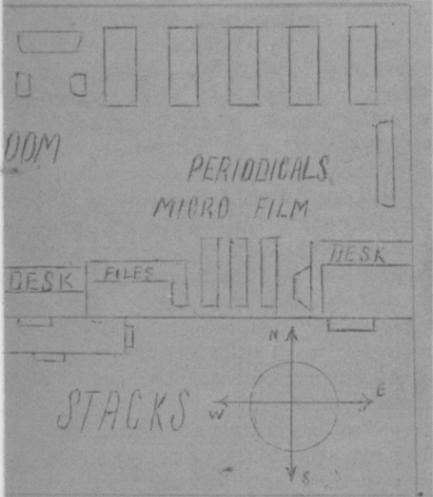

The Journalism Department occupies the basement with two class rooms and a newspaper room and the department offices.

West Liberty Fraternity Pledges Visit Campus

THREE FRESHMAN fraternity pledges from West Liberty State College visited the campus last weekend. Their assignments included obtaining a picture and the autograph of this year's Homecoming Queen; the securing the Leo Byrd's autograph; President Stewart H. Smith's autograph and information concerning the Science Building. Due to the fact that Leo Byrd was en route to Kent, Ohio, for Saturday's game, the pledges were given an officially signed statement verifying his absence. They took three booklets containing information about the Science Building. From left, they are Alan Ransom, Steubenville, Ohio; Craig Heck, Weirton; and Jim Dickey, Chester. They are pledges of Beta Gamma social fraternity. Presenting booklets to the pledges is Miss Jean Bias, receptionist for the information office.

New Course Set In Radio And TV

Vernon Scandola, Weirton junior and student radio engineer, has announced that any person now a member of the Radio Club or presently taking a course in radio and television is invited to attend a course of instruction in radio technique. The course, offering no college credit, will be conducted by Scandola.

The purpose of the course is to familiarize the student with the operation of the control panel, turntables, and the production of sound effects. Hours of instruction are posted in the air lock of the Radio Studio in the Science Hall.

Radio Club meetings are held at 4 P.M. in the Radio Studio on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Geology Adds New Gems

The geology museum has taken on a new glitter. Gems, from rubies to rhinestones now dot the display case. The department has recently been able to purchase enough gems to complete its collection of modern jewelry, according to Dr. Raymond E. Janssen, head of the geology department. The gems are presented in their natural state as well as the finished product.

Included in the exhibit are also facet cuttings of gem stones illustrating the different shapes which may be obtained in cutting the gem.

Precious metals are also on display, although they are not classified as gem stones, they are used in the mountings for these gems.

Marshall's intramural program lists 78 different activities and is the most comprehensive program of any college in the nation.

Methodist Educational Dept. Picks Student For Country Tour

Paul Smith, Newton junior, has been chosen as one of fifty American college students to take an evangelical tour of the country next summer. The selection was made by the national educational department of the Methodist Church.

The tour will run from late June to mid August. A ten-day training period will precede it. Following the training period, the fifty students will be divided into teams of two and dispatched to tour a certain region of the country. The teams will visit local churches, address rallies, aid in organizing youth work, and take part in many church activities.

Smith, a pre-ministerial student majoring in speech, is assistant pastor of Seventh Avenue Methodist Church and a member of SCA. A naval veteran, he plans to become a chaplain in the Navy following his graduation from Wesley Theological Seminary in Washington, D. C., where he is pre-enrolled. Paul holds a local minister's license in the Methodist Church and has written articles for Methodist journals.

Kent Knocks Green Out Of Second Place

State Wins 79 To 61

By WALT LEONHART
Sports Editor

Coach Jule Rivlin's Big Green basketballers dropped out of second place in the Mid-American Conference Saturday night when it fell before the Kent State Flashes in Kent, Ohio, 79-61.

Kent broke the game open in the second half. The Flashes had a three-point lead just after intermission but the Green got cold and Bill Bertka's men started hitting. With the score 40-37 at halftime, Ivan Mielke opened the scoring in the second period with a field goal after 2.48 had been played. Mielke got the next Big Green basket, but only after 8:20 had elapsed. Meanwhile Kent had been busy and midway through the second period took a commanding 13-point lead.

It was Kent's first victory over Marshall in eight games. The last time Kent downed the Big Green was on the Kent floor and it was the second game of the 1955 season.

Leo Byrd was held to his lowest scoring performance of the year. Leo hit for 19 markers, ten points below his 29 point average. Byrd's lowest total before the Kent tilt was a 20-point outburst against Western Michigan at Kalamazoo.

Second in scoring for Marshall was Ivan Mielke. Ivan played a good game despite the fact that he had just learned of the death of his father in Comfrey, Minn. Coach Rivlin had told Mielke that he did not think that under the conditions he should play, but the big center said that he wanted to go on. He scored 11 points and pulled down eight rebounds.

Last week in Huntington the story was different. Marshall played host to Kent and came out on the long end of an 84-83 score.

Byrd led the scoring in the game in Huntington by tossing in 30 points. John Milhoan helped out with 24 markers and Mielke and Hall pitched in with 14 and 12 respectively.

Marshall got back into action last night at Morehead, Kentucky, when it went against the Morehead Eagles, but the results were not known at Parthenon publishing time. The Big Green's next game will be at home when it entertains the strong Falcons from Bowling Green in a Mid-American Conference contest.

Coach Rivlin Talks To Seniors

Big Green Baseballers For 1959

Freshmen Lose 4th, Bow To Kent State Yearlings, 84-67

If the two games played between Marshall's Little Green and Kent State's freshman are any indication of what might take place in the future, it looks like a rough road ahead for Coach Jule Rivlin's Big Green varsity.

On January 25th Kent State's frosh came to town and met Coach Mike Joseph's Little Green in a preliminary contest to the Kent State-Marshall varsity encounter. The results were not good. The roof fell in and the Little Green absorbed a 89-62 trouncing. Last Saturday the Little Green traveled to Kent with a chance to get revenge. But things didn't happen that way and again Kent emerged the victor, 84-67.

The first loss to Kent was only the second defeat of the season for the Little Green. It's first defeat was a three-point loss to Cincinnati's yearlings. A tie game with Ohio University's frosh was the only other blot on the Little Green slate.

After the trouncing by Kent at Memorial Field House Coach Joseph's crew racked up a win over previously undefeated Greenbrier Military School and it looked like the Little Green might begin to start rolling again. But this wasn't to be. The next night after the Greenbrier win the Little Green lost a 64-62 decision to Pikeville. Marshall had beaten Pikeville earlier in the season by 40 points.

After the loss at Pikeville the Little Green rested and then moved on to Kent Saturday night where it took its fourth defeat of the season.

The taller Kent frosh followed the same pattern Saturday night as it did two weeks ago and took the lead from the start and pulled out to a big halftime advantage. In the two team's first meeting Kent held a 13-point lead and last Saturday it was ahead by 14 at intermission.

The Little Green will be back in action Saturday night in a preliminary game to the Marshall-Bowling Green contest when it hosts the freshmen of West Liberty. The yearlings also played the Morehead College freshman team last night in Morehead but the results were not known at Parthenon publishing time.

Bridge, Archery Titles Decided

Final examinations interrupted intramural play, but it got back into full swing last Monday night with five basketball games on tap for the second semester opening.

Carom billiards, pocket billiards, and chess tournament championships will be decided this week.

Don Hensley and Bob Wheeler, TKA's, teamed up to win the intramural bridge championship, defeating E. Jones and H. Gray, SAE's, two rubbers to one. Hensley and Wheeler won out over 30 contestants for the title.

They advanced to the finals with wins over R. Pickets and Joe Varacalli, TKA's; Eliot and Olsen, SPE'S, and Cain and Isaac, SAE's.

Scoring 414 points out of a possible 486 points enabled Richard Allen, Varsity "M," to capture the intramural archery championship over 22 other entries.

Taking second place was Robert Burgess, Independent, with 394 points. Lefty Majher, Varsity "M," with 390 points, took third place.

A meeting to set up an intramural bowling league will be held at 3:15 today in the Varsity Room of the gym. Five men teams will be arranged with a trophy going to the winning team. Also individual medals will be presented to the top five bowlers. The tournament will be held at the Spot Bowling Lanes.

Baseballers Start Grind

Coach Bill Chambers and his Big Green baseball team opened practice Monday in the Biggs Armory.

The team will use a large net for batting practice until the weather permits it to go to its home field at Inco.

The schedule has not yet been released but Chambers figures it will number about 26 games.

For the first time in history a Marshall baseball team will go south. But not for spring training. The squad will go on a four game swing, playing games at Camp LeJeune, N. C., battling the Marines twice and two other colleges once each.

Since the Big Green has no freshman team Chambers plans to have his frosh hopefuls work out with the varsity.

Coach Chambers calls his 1959 schedule "the strongest I have had." He said his training plans include "twice as many intra-squad game as before, if the weather permits, and more concentration on hitting."

The diamond squad lost some fine players through graduation. Gone are two-time all-conference third baseman Donzil Hall; short-stop John Mayberry; center fielder Charlie Carney; relief pitcher Ed Michael; and reserve right fielder Bob Stover.

Back this year and hoping for big things are two of last year's top pitchers. The two are Lefty Majher and Hugh Reynolds. Both are top-flight hurlers and both can come through at the plate. In fact, Majher ended up second in conference hitting last season with a .374 batting average.

Green Matmen Cop 1st Match

Alpha Mayfield, making his first appearance, sparked Coach Ed Prelaz's Big Green wrestling team to its first victory of the season Saturday at Fairmont, 16-14.

Marshall's opponent, Fairmont State, was ahead 14-0 at the half-way mark, but Prelaz's crew came back strong and avenged a previous loss to State.

Marshall's Buddy James got the Big Green rolling in the 157-pound class when he pinned Fairmont's Ronnie Wolfe. The time was 2:35 of the first period. This made the score 14-5. Bill Gillispie followed in the 167-pound event and won by a fall over the Falcons' Brady Moore for five more points and pulled Marshall to within four points.

Bob Wilson then decisioned Fairmont's John Monts in the 177-pound class for three points to make it 14-13 in favor of Fairmont. This set the stage for Mayfield to wrap up the Green victory.

Mayfield decisioned the losers' Mike Fugera for a three-pointer to sew it up.

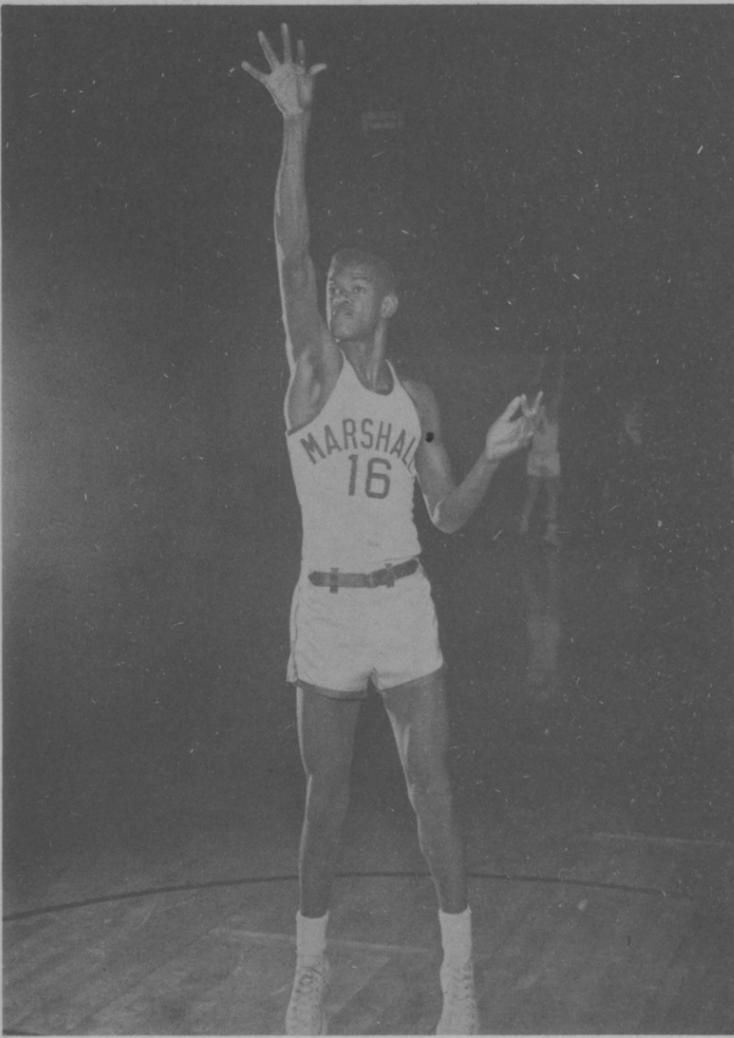

Marshall's next meet will be at Finley, Ohio next Saturday. The Green will close out the season in a home match against Miami of Ohio, Saturday, February 14. The Big Green's record is now one win against six defeats.

Psychological Group Names New Members

Five instructors and eighteen students have received membership into the newly formed Huntington Psychological Association. The purpose of the association is to advance psychology as a science, as a profession, and as a mean of promoting human welfare.

The Association held its first meeting last month. Meetings are held on the third Tuesday of every month. The next meeting will be February 17.

Three faculty members were elected to offices. They were: Dr. Alex Darbes, president; Dr. Mary Lyon Sutton, vice president; and J. D. Perry, secretary-treasurer. The other two members of the faculty to receive membership were Dr. K. K. Loemker and J. M. Lichtenstein.

The following Marshall students received membership into the association: James W. Adkins, Huntington senior; John Charles Barbour, Huntington graduate; Luella Hoke Bauer, Huntington graduate; Gloria Brothers, Huntington junior; Kay Campbell, Huntington senior.

MARRYIN' SAM will conclude Sadie Hawkins Day at dooms day.

DAISY MAE, PATRICIA NORTHROP, AND MARRYIN' SAM, DEAN DITMAN, seem happy over something. However the same event seems to be something less than joyous for Li'l Abner, Robert Kaye.

PAPPY YOKUM AND MAMMY YOKUM will brighten the evening with their mountain wit and repartee.

HAIRLESS AND HIS KIKAPOO JOY JUICE will be in local competition here when he attempts miracle cures with his wonderful healing waters.
