DEDICATION

Arthur Burke Koontz, L. L. B., of Charleston, West Virginia, to whom this volume of the Mirabilia is dedicated, is a graduate of Marshall College and of Yale University. Being progressive, energetic, and generous, Mr. Koontz has been one of the ablest and most successful business men in West Virginia. He has always been a loyal advocate of measures tending to advance the interests of his state and nation.
If the thirteenth volume of the Mirabilia is a real mirror into which outsiders may look for a reflection of our student life or if it serves as a preserver of the friendships and memories we have formed here, our efforts shall not have been in vain. Our greatest hope is that the records herein contained may be a source of pleasure to those who constitute our Alma Mater and uphold her ideals.

MORRIS PURDY SHAWKEY, President
Oberlin College; Ohio Wesleyan University, A. B., 1894; A. M., 1909; Ped. D., 1918

Although not a native of our great state Dr. Shawkey has proved that he can be a true West Virginian. He is known and recognized far and wide as a great leader in the educational field. From 1897 to 1905 he was assistant State Superintendent of Schools of our state. Following this he was elected to the West Virginia Legislature, later becoming Superintendent of Schools of Kanawha County. In 1909 he was elevated to the position of State Superintendent of Schools, which he filled most creditably. Marshall College is most fortunate in having him as its president. Few men in our state understand the needs of our school as well, since he has served on our Board of Education, has been Editor of our State School Journal, and has traveled extensively as an institute and commencement speaker. He is author of "A Geography of West Virginia," "The Story of West Virginia," and "West Virginia."

Dr. Shawkey is a member of the National Educational Association, the Rotary Club, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Beta Kappa, and Kappa Delta Pi.

THE SENIORS' FAREWELL

Marshall College, Alma Mater,
Thou hast seen the years roll by.
Four-score and eight those years have come and gone—
With every year a June.

'Tis June again; 'tis summer night in June.
The June we've longed for through the years
Has come at last—too soon!

'Tis June again, and o'er the western hills
The lowering sun sends out the red alarm
That day is done and night has come.

'Tis night for us, the night of our farewell;
So bend ye low, ye ancient walls,
And hold communion sweet with us
Before we go.

Our hands of flesh reach out
To clasp thy spirit's hand.
(The ancient walls look down,
They seem to understand.)

Our flesh is weak,
But thy spirit is strong;
So send us away with a smile—
A smile and a song.

—E. Turner Stump.

"But happy they, the happiest of their kind! Whom gentler stars unite, and in one fate their hearts, their fortunes, and their beings blend."

This tiny (?) senior found Marshall so lonesome that he took unto himself a life partner. Besides his duties as class president he has been an active participant in many of the College social activities. Berkeley is a well known student and can be depended upon to take care of himself in the great future. He will be missed in the College when he embarks on some daring engineering feat.

"We loved the fellow for his honest way."
In Dearman we have one of the best students of the Senior class. He came to us from Mason City High School and Valparaiso Prep School. We are proud of him. As vice-president of the class, he is always ready to do his bit, willingly serving on numerous committees and striving to make all our activities and social events a success. Our wish for him is "best o' luck."

"As the proverb says, 'a good beginning is half the business':
And 'to have begun well' is praised of all."
—Plato.

The past has had its great Websters but the immediate future holds forth even a greater figure in him who is well known for his "A's" and debating ability. No student is better equipped to leave Marshall to engage in life's complexities than he. Although he is very studious and for the most part is engaged in deep thought he still has time to give aid to many activities about the College. We shall not be surprised to awake to find Gilmer Chief Justice of the High Court or Dean of some law school.

We can only await the glad news.

"He serves his party best who serves the country best."

Some day we shall see his name at the head of a Teacher's College. We all know him to be a real class "A" student. Carl puts his whole heart and soul into his work and never lets up. He is only satisfied when standing before a class of anxious youngsters and smillingly but firmly inculcating those fundamentals which add to the glory of any nation. We need more such men.

"The heart to conceive, the understanding to direct, and the hand to execute."
A bigger and warmer hearted man is a rarity indeed. He has won scores of staunch friends and admirers from the excellent work done not only in class but extra-curricularly. His avocation has been to upbuild social conditions at Marshall, especially in the Y. M. C. A. When you want some real work done of a reliable nature call on Boylen. Anything attempted means properly finished with this "true blue" up-state lad. The fact is, you hardly ever find a more determined, busier, and at the same time jollier student than Carl. Don't be surprised to find our "old standby" in the next few years doling out justice to all who knock at his door. Success, Carl, is your portion of life's fortunes.

LUCILE ELLIS COOK

"A pleasant maid with a pleasant smile."
Lucile is another merry little maid who left us in mid-winter. Having finished her course at Welch High School she went to Broadus College, thence to Bluefield College, from there she came to dear old Marshall, where by her untiring diligence she finished the race a whole semester ahead of most of her class. Now she's gone home. For what, we wonder, was all the haste? Her friends love her, but there are those we've heard, who aspire to be more than friends.
We wish you a happy future.

"Hospitality sitting with gladness."
Gladys is hospitality sitting with gladness. Everyone has a friend in Gladys.

She will be remembered a long, long time by all the chemistry students, as she was a "shark among sharks" in that line. Mr. Campbell had better beware, or the chemistry department will be presided over in the future by a young lady. However, she is a resident of the Practice House of Marshall, and you never can tell what fate may have in store for her.

"Joy is the ray of sunshine that brightens and opens those two beautiful flowers, Confidence and Hope."

Crossing the Ohio must soon be a thing of the past, but Marshall must at the same time lose an excellent student, who wears a smile of sunshine and a warm welcome for all whom she meets. These are the kind we miss from the College Halls. However, we can rest assured that her absence will not be in vain, for there is a noble work and a bright future for our own Elizabeth Lee.

"Great fortunes are not made by physical labor; he'll be a millionaire."

"Art" is one of the quietest boys in school but he is also one of the best students and one of the best athletes. Everyone knows "Art's" performance at "short" on the baseball team for the last three years, and as a basketball player he can't be beat.

But best of all, "Art" is a good fellow and is liked by everyone in school. Good luck!

Fi Batar Cappar, Football '23, Baseball '22-'23-'24-'25.

"Describe him who can
An abridgement of all that was pleasant in man."

"Shorty" is surely one of the most popular members of the Senior Class. Always pleasant, courteous and smiling he has won for himself many friends. He takes an active part in the social life of the school as well as in athletics. He was one of our tennis champions of 1923 and he also plays baseball. Our sincere wishes for success go with him as he leaves Marshall to begin his career in the business world.

"One only hope my heart can cheer,
The hope to meet again."

Here’s a jolly student who is a great pal of all true Marshall-ites. Although she wandered off to several colleges she decided that a degree from the home college was best after all, but Lillian doesn’t regret this experience for she has thus made friends far and wide. We can easily picture her in the pedagogical field, but would not like to say how long it will be till she receives the commonplace degree.

May happiness greet you all the way.

"Wisdom and goodness are twin-born, one heart

Truma has not devoted all her time and energy trying to pull down “A’s.” She has always displayed a keen interest in letting herself be known in the social activities of the College as well, which should be a part of every successful college career. As a student she has been very successful and we hope that she will be as much so in her chosen profession of teaching.

"The little lady lodged a mighty mind."

At history she's a shark! Girls at history she's a shark! And who can say but that some day we'll find her occupying a chair in the History Department of Marshall College? Do not get the idea that she is limited to the history arena, however, for Vivian is a good all-around student and a loyal Marshallite with a sunny smile for all. Our sincere wishes follow her as she leaves the halls of Marshall, and may her successors in the days to come be as good and as true as she.

"One day with life and heart,
Is more than time enough to find a world."
—Lowell.

After attending Battle Creek College, Mich., and the University of Virginia, "Gib" finally decided to file her name with the senior race of '25; and we can only say, "the fates have dealt kindly with us" for no one has been received into our midst with greater sincerity, considering the short length of time we were permitted to know her. She has been a loyal supporter of all college activities and has done valuable work in the physical training department. When "Gib" says, "Mark time! Forward, march!" we know it will be to victory, for she will be successful in anything she undertakes.

'Tis not what man does which exalts him,
But what man would do."

Alvin spent three years of his college life at Morris Harvey College. Hearing of the superiorities of Marshall he joined the Senior Class last September. He is an earnest student and has made an excellent record at Marshall. We extend the warm hand of welcome to any student of Alvin's rank. We prophesy that he will become one of our great educators.

"But while listening, Senators hang upon thy tongue,
Devolving through the maze of eloquence
A roll of periods, sweeter than her song."

There are two kinds of men: those who take room, and those who make a difference. Othniel truly personifies the latter. He is a student par-excellence, with vim, determination, and leadership which will surely carry him on to great achievements and honor. Few students in the College have a greater interest in school activities or more to do with worthwhile organizations than he. To the services of man he goes forth from our midst—to whose gain we shall long mourn our loss. We could wish you success O. D., but we know it is yours for the asking.

“Gentle of speech, beneficent of mind.”

“Betty” came to us from Davis Elkins College. A more valuable student could not be found, both in her ability to make excellent grades and the fine personality of being able to do well anything she undertakes. Her executive ability as president of the Student House Government won for her the admiration of her fellow students and faculty members as well. She has proved herself worthy of all respect for her fine noble spirit and lovely womanhood. We wish her great success in her work and will place her in the pages of our memories as one who rendered service to others.

“I laugh, for hope hath happy place with me,
If my bark sinks, ’tis to another sea.”

Oh yes, here is a jolly good girl whom we are glad to have in Marshall and one who will be missed so much. Half of her life is playing a prank on someone, but how did she get “all those grades”? She didn’t seem to ever study either. Well, if you would have gone to one of her classes, especially history, you would have found out. If being an “all-around student” indicates anything, Helen will be one of the few teachers hard to beat. Maybe if she likes pedagogy, some day she’ll decide to correlate her historical philosophy with a young teacher’s interest in geographical influences in history.

"The intellectual power through woods and things, Went sounding on a din and perilous way!"
—Wordsworth.

The girls are all crazy over "Red." He is manly indeed and seems to take life so pleasantly that envy is heard from many a tongue. He hails from Kentucky and very quickly found his position in the student activities of Marshall College. From athletics he has now turned to pedagogy. "Red" also has a hazy notion that the arena of law holds forth for him much glory and fame.

"Ever loyal, ever true,

From the regions of Gassaway comes Florence to add her dignity and intellect to the Senior Class. Worries (certainly not over much envied grades) seem to occupy small space in her life and she is ever ready to lend a helping hand to the "other fellow."

History? well I should say! Knowledge of factors and events historical, lie at her tongue's end—or for that matter most any other information desired.

A loyal, highly respected Marshallite, we can wish her no more than the success and happiness she deserves.

"Deep sighted in intelligences, Ideas, atoms, and influences."

Alice is a jolly good student and at the same time takes an active part in the organizations of the school. She is a real leader among the girls physically and socially. She seems to enjoy work in the pre-law department and has developed a very active mind. Just such women become outstanding political leaders and aid in bringing about proper adjustments in the institutions of the world. Alice is the kind to take hold and solve the problems of the day.

that possibly possess. She is characterized by her loyalty to personal ideals and principles.
When she takes the initiative in a complicated matter we know that it's "going over."
She has made a record in the hearts of many friends that can never be felt long after she has left Marshall.

Knowing her ability and industry we could only

A more lovable, loyal Marshallite than

"The earnestness of life is the only passport to true satisfaction of life."

It is commonly said of such a man, "he knows his stuff." The fact is, John can get "AA" most any time he half tries. He is famed for having a fine modern library in his home, but more than this, he is a noted pedagog who really earns his "dough." He is rather quiet and unassuming, yet he is known far and wide for his attainments and abilities. We shall not in the least be surprised to find him very soon the President of some college or university. Marshall is greatly honored in having such intellectual sons.

"It's the songs you sing and the smiles you wear that's making the sunshine everywhere."

This world would surely be a monotonous turmoil if it were not possible to meet with folks like Mildred occasionally. Her gaiety and wit play a part in her own way of causing folks to love her.

She is one of the most active members of the class of '25, and has the unique ability to be able to divide her time for doing unusual class work and entering into various college activities. May fortune smile on her efforts in life.

Brenda has not much weight with scales

"It sounds like stories from the land of spirits,
If any man obtain that which he merits,
Or any merit that which he obtains."
—Coleridge.

His name betrays him for there has been no abler all-around "man" in the life of Marshall. When there is something to do, "Cy" can do it and do it right. Not many can spend so much time in the activities of the school, in helping others, and at the same time make a goodly supply of "AA's."
The only consolation to be gained from this true scholar's absention will be his destined fame in the surgical field—thus automatically scattering the greatness of Marshall. The glory of the College cannot on firmer and truer foundations be laid.

The world will not find her unprepared for the solving of its problems.

Our College would not be complete without all professions. This Congregational minister is right at home in his profession. He says it pays to be an all-around man. Just read one of his short stories or a bit of his poetry. If there is anything he enjoys it is debating. He simply can't get enough of it, and has gone to coaching debating and oratory. Sophomores
SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

At some future time when Marshall College shall have become the University of Southern West Virginia and the prowess of her athletes and the intellectual feats of our students shall be the wonder and admiration of all, some proud school historian shall record the date of the present Marshall Renaissance as September 1923. And the reader shall ask himself why? The ready answer shall be that in that month President Shawkey and the present Sophomore class took charge of the affairs at Marshall.

We were a typical Freshman class, "green and eager to learn." With this as our motto we have progressed rapidly. In the classroom we were to our professors sources of great joy—and pain. In the latter respect our Sophomore year has been more successful than our Freshman year.

On returning to school for our Sophomore experience, we found that many lines of endeavor had drawn heavily upon our talent, but although our ranks were somewhat depleted this was more than offset by the great increase in enthusiasm. The class re-elected amiable Bob Goff as its President; Tom Lowe, Vice-President; Lucile Mecham, Secretary-Treasurer, and Edward McGrath and Lillian Ripley, representatives to the Student Council.

With these officers in charge the Sophomores soon showed a conquering spirit, and in every branch of school activities they were to be found at the head of things. No class has done more to bring Marshall to the forefront as a leading educational institution of higher learning. No class has been allowed to surpass us in our devotion and loyalty to Marshall College, and her democratic traditions. In fact we feel sure that if any student besides a Freshman, Junior, or Senior should write a school history, he would record the name of the present Sophomore Class high above the rest.

Therefore, "Ye mighty look upon our works and despair."

During the first week of the 1924-25 term more green caps could be seen on the campus and more green hair ribbons in the dormitory than ever before in the history of the college. The freshman class of twenty-four, numbering approximately 375 members had arrived. Even the green trees bowed their heads in humiliation for those who had become their rival in splendor.

When it came to student activities, the “rats” were all there. The varsity debating team went into action with Walter Young and Donald Pollit included in the line-up; and on the mast head of the Parthenon were listed the names of William Sayre, Charles Wiltse, Walter Young, Archie Robertson, Billy Abernethy, Charlene Morgan, Alderson Frye, John Hamilton, and Hal Curtis.

Socially speaking, the “Frosh” rang the bell with a Freshman mix unparalleled in the history of the class, the most successful dance of the season, and a wholly original musical comedy on the list of assembly program.

Coach Meredith’s first call for volunteers was answered by such athletes as Stealey, Glenn, McCaffrey, Nichols, Campbell, and Kitts. The Big Green eleven went through the season with three freshmen regulars and two more as first string subs—all pig skin artists that Marshall fans will not soon forget, while four of the eight men on the varsity cage squad came from the ranks of the class of twenty-eight.
And here we have a funny gink
Who claims he hardly sleeps a wink.
He won't indulge in the slightest doze,
But why he does it God only knows.
DEPARTMENTS
DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Marshall College, in accord with its progressive policy, four years ago founded the Department of Commerce for the purpose of giving those who wished it a business course. This department has steadily advanced in favor and standing in the college, until now it has attained all the importance of a major, and covers a wide range of subjects. Do you wish to be a stenographer, an accountant, a private secretary, or a teacher of commerce in our state high schools? Or perhaps you would rather prepare for a law school, or to be a banker, or an office worker. You may get your training here, and as we turn out only the finished product with recommendation, a position can not only be obtained, but retained.

In this respect we consider ourselves particularly fortunate in having a Professor who is active and very much aware as to the affairs of the day. Professor L. A. Wolfard makes each student feel that he is personally interested in his welfare and accomplishment, which furnishes such an incentive that the student finds he delights to work, and so makes possible the attainment to the higher aims and achievements in education. He instills within us by his teachings and his own life those principles of efficiency which tend toward perfection of process, which is in itself efficiency. Thus he trains his pupils to become the proficient men and women in the business world of tomorrow.

A few facts will show the increase of the popularity of this department. Four years ago only sixty-six students enrolled in the classes of the department. This year the total class enrollment in this department reached two hundred and sixteen, one Saturday morning class for Huntington teachers having one hundred and three students enrolled. Many of the students are majoring in Commerce and so getting their A. B. degrees. Most of these expect to teach, and Marshall will soon have its commercial representatives scattered to “the four ends of the earth.”

“Service” is our watchword. We lend our aid whenever possible to help the other departments in anything which we can do. We are proud of our department and its work, and in the future it is destined to become one of the real colleges of our University-to-be, and as such it will broaden its scope and strengthen its influence and mould those within its doors into finer and better-trained business men and women.

—J. C.
DEPARTMENT OF ENGINEERING

The Department of Engineering is less than three years old but during this short time the enrollment has grown until there are now a large number of students taking the work. New courses are added, more apparatus installed, and additional instructors employed from time to time to take care of the rapid growth. Huntington is a center of engineering activity and the students of the department are fortunate in being brought into close contact with those practicing the profession.

The picture on the opposite page represents less than one-third of the enrollment in the department during the present school year. The names of those appearing in the picture are as follows:

THE PRE-LAW DEPARTMENT

The Pre-Law Department was organized in 1924 under the direction of Dr. A. S. White. In the early part of 1924 the decision was made to organize a Pre-Law department, and to announce the course for the year of 1924-25, but due to some oversight the announcement failed to appear in the catalogue. However, the department was organized at the beginning of the term, and work was begun.

There have enrolled in this department forty-eight students—five girls and forty-three boys—who have declared their purpose is to study law and become active practitioners. Without assuming that all these students will become lawyers or will even carry out their intention of studying law, the enrollment is encouraging to those who are laboring to build up the department. The library necessary for this work is growing rapidly; it already contains many of the best books of law journals and magazines available.

This department is not intended to do the work of the law school, and makes no pretense to teach law; but endeavors to prepare students for entrance and work in the leading law schools of the country. The courses of study are so organized and presented as to give the student a background and a point of view that will enable him to handle more easily and efficiently the work of the law school. To this end, most of the courses given deal with the origin, nature, source, and purpose of law; an effort is made to acquaint the student with legal phraseology and terminology, and to give him a preliminary introduction to the juristic method of thought and procedure.

The courses are valuable not only to the student looking to the study of law, but, from a cultural point of view, they are valuable to all students. Every one lives under the law, and finds most of his behavior and life somewhat molded and conditioned by it. The courses of study that acquaint one with the social aspects of law and give him a broader view of its nature and purpose modify his attitude of thought and his orientation toward life. It is for these reasons that many students who may never study or practice law are getting much valuable training in the Pre-Law Department.
The Pre-Medic Department of Marshall College was organized in September 1920, when Professor W. I. Utterback was appointed Director. Only ten pre-med students were enrolled at the start; now there are forty-four. Many have been graduated from our two-year course and now they are doing well in such leading medical colleges as Jefferson, Richmond, Louisville, Cincinnati, and our State University. One of our old graduates has already received his M. D. Four of our number have received their A. B. from Marshall and others intend to follow their example. Certificates of graduation were granted for the first time at the last Commencement when nine were graduated; this year there are thirteen candidates for graduation.

Our motto has been "Preparation for Production" and we have been endeavoring to lay down a firm foundation in the brick and mortar of chemistry, physics and biology. The facilities, which are placed at our disposal, are the best that can be found anywhere for this very valuable preparatory work. In addition to the well equipped laboratories we are glad to have a departmental library in the Director's room where information can be secured on the latest work on medicine, surgery, etc., and where, too, we may learn concerning the requirements of the leading medical colleges and work to that end.

Pre-Medics not in the picture are: Willis Abernethy, Leland Anderson, Claude Carpenter, Rembert Curry, Elsie Grimm, Jack Hall, Ivan Harwood, Dorsey Ketchum, Carroll Kitts, Cyrus W. Mann, Meredith McComas, George Nilan, Perle Perry, Wm. Porter, James Post, Bruce Pollock, Hunter Powell, Curtis Power, Kerwin Somerville, Elizabeth Sowards, Kemper Stewart, Veronica Tierney, Clyde Thompson, Irvin Utterback.
THE SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

As a subsequent growth of the college enrollment, a new department was added in the fall of 1924. This, The School of Pharmacy, offers a two year course in pharmaceutical work that is equivalent to such a course offered in any recognized school of like work. The course has been outlined in accordance with that of the State University, changing only as deemed better suited to meet the requirements of present day drug store conditions.

The presentation of such a course offers a vast opportunity to those who desire to become registered druggists, as the State Board of Pharmacy recognized such work as credit towards the required four years experience.

Organized under the handicap of a last-minute addition to the already crowded curriculum, the enrollment was even greater than could be expected. The total enrollment for the first semester was thirteen.

Organization of the class and election of officers took place soon after the beginning of the semester’s work. The office of President is filled by Lester Coon, his official title being USP, taken from the abbreviation of United States Pharmacopoeia. Vernon Curtis was elected Vice-President, his title being NF, taken from the abbreviation of National Formulary. Mrs. Hazel Bates holds the position of Secretary-Treasurer, her title being CP, taken from Chemically Pure.

Bound together with a common interest, the relationship between the individuals of the class has been such as to produce maximum harmony and good feeling. Exchange of ideas and experiences of each promotes interest in the work of the classroom. Practically all the students work after school hours in drug stores in Huntington. This means that a close correlation between the practical and theoretical work is had.

Plans are under way for application to membership in a Greek letter fraternity of pharmacy.

The object of the Epsilon Delta is to promote education for head, hand and heart as related to medicine. Those who are eligible to membership are the men of the Pre-Medic Department who show evidence of good scholarship and fellowship after having completed one semester's work.

From a charter membership of six, Epsilon Delta has reached that of fifty. Under date of March 14, 1924, the Secretary of State granted the organization a charter to become a national Greek letter fraternity, with the authority to initiate chapters in colleges of this and other states. The incorporators were: Clarke Furbee, Scott Ford, Cyrus W. Mann, William Porter, Carl G. Campbell.

"Men shall not live by bread alone."

The Zeta Phi Fraternity was the first strictly social fraternity on the campus. Its members belong to all classes and departments of the college. The honor student, the athlete, and the social leader are alike welcomed to membership.

The purpose of this fraternity is to promote good fellowship and to further the interests of social and scholastic life. The present Vice-President of the Pan-Hellenic Association of Marshall College is a Zeta Phi member, and next year’s president will also be a member of this organization. The Zeta Phi basketball team was entered in the intramural league, and made a good showing, winning four of the seven games played.

The fraternity was organized with a membership of six men, which has grown to twenty-one at the present time. More members will be added before the end of the year, bringing the list of active members up to approximately thirty.

PI ALPHA BETA

Colors: Black and White  Flower: Pansy

For the fourfold purpose of fostering law and order; providing opportunities for student cooperation; promoting worthy student activities; and, to promote the general warfare in and around Marshall, the Pi Alpha Beta, a Pre-Law Fraternity was organized, 1924.

During the past year the membership has been nearly doubled by the admission of several worthy pre-law students. In extending “bids” for membership this fraternity places special emphasis upon character and scholarship. “Quality not Quantity” is the motto of the organization.

The order has high hopes for a great future as Marshall grows into the largest college in this section of the United States and establishes a full legal department for several hundred students. There are a number of projects and problems which the group as a whole are determined to undertake and solve. They have faith and pluck with it, and when a group of legal students of the type admitted to this fraternity decide on a course nothing can be too complex and irresistible for them to master.

The Classical Association was organized in 1908 with the aid of Miss Harriett Dale Johnson, for the purpose of encouraging more interest in the study of Greek and Latin in Marshall College. Through this organization students become more familiar with the customs of the people of Greece and Rome.

For many years this association has had a representative in the National Association. This year it has the distinctive honor of claiming the office of Vice-President.

For the past term the Association has had a large and flourishing membership which has presented, besides the annual public production of Christus Parvulus in December, many other interesting programs such as the following:

September—Explanation of Classical Hall Decorations.
October—Observance of Vergil's Birthday.
December—Christus Parvulus.
January—Celebration of Saturnalia.
February—A Latin Valentine Party.
March—Dramatization of Proserpene.
April—Dramatization of Caesar's Ghost.
May—Roman Life.
DEBATE

After a lapse of five years without participating in any intercollegiate forensic activities, Marshall students have shown a renewed interest in both debating and oratory with a spirit that deserves commendation.

Three teams have worked diligently and loyally during the year to uphold the standards of Marshall. The first debate was a dual contest with Concord College held on the evening of February nineteenth, on the question, Resolved, That Congress should be given power to override decisions of the Supreme Court. Walter Young and O. D. Hall upheld the affirmative side at Athens while Miss Reva Burks and Gilmer Bobbitt defended the negative at home. The honors were divided equally in this contest between Concord and Marshall, the affirmative losing and the negative winning in each case.

The next was a triangular debate with Morris Harvey and Salem, held February twenty-sixth, to discuss the question as above stated, but limiting the power of Congress to override only such decisions of the Supreme Court as affected the constitutionality of laws. The same teams participated as in the first debate. Marshall’s affirmative opposing Morris Harvey on our own platform, and the negative team meeting Salem College at Salem, Marshall losing in both contests.

Donald Pollitt and Raymond Thompson deserve much credit for their efforts as alternates of the affirmative and negative teams respectively. Although they had no opportunity to appear before the public, their interest and willingness in assisting the regular speakers in their preparation is very commendable. Mr. E. Turner Stump also deserves much special credit for his earnest efforts and valuable suggestions in the coaching of the teams. Mr. Stump served patiently and efficiently as Assistant Coach and the success of the teams was, to a large degree, due to his help.

Our third and last attempt was with the West Virginia State University team that became so well known through its tour to the Pacific coast, debating some of the most prominent colleges of the West. This contest took place in the Marshall auditorium April second with Gilmer Bobbitt, O. D. Hall and E. Turner Stump defending the negative side for Marshall, on the same question as with Salem. Again the laurels of victory came to Marshall and the victory is one of which Marshall should feel justly proud.

While the forensic activities have not been supported by the attendance of the student body as well as they should have been, it is hoped that a greater interest will be manifested another year. The debaters and those who tried out for the teams, however, deserve special credit for their efforts to bring Marshall to the front in forensic affairs.

The Girl's Athletic Association was organized October 19, 1922, with the purpose in view of promoting an interest in good, clean athletics among the girls of the College. A point system was adopted, which awards a letter to all members earning fifty points. Thus far letters have been awarded to the following girls: Mary Schultz, Laura Williams, Nellie Gray, Helen Thompson, Ruth Ice, Genevieve Gardner, Christine Hoylman, and Marie Massey.

This year the constitution has been revised and put on the basis of the National Girl's Athletic Association. Heretofore letters were the only awards given but this year it is possible for the girls to earn sweaters.

HISTORY

The Marshall College Masonic Society was organized early in February, 1923, with the following students as charter members: Hugh Day, A. E. Dearman, Earl B. Evans, Scott Ford, Harold Sayre, Alexander Spradlin, and Garland S. Stewart. On February 23 a constitution was adopted; and thus the first Masonic Society of Marshall College was organized on a permanent basis, for the purpose of fostering among the Masons of the College the spirit of fraternity.

Not long after its organization the society elected the Masons of the college faculty, Messrs. Derbyshire, Franklin, Heltzel, H'ron, Roudebush, and White, to honorary membership. Since the early days of the organization the following active members have been received into the society: Edward M. Dobbs, E. R. Dorsey, Harley Pyle, Narcissus Roberts, A. S. Williams, E. Van Dorsey, Hunter Powell, E. T. Stump, and Curtis Power. Messrs. Beetham, Bowers, and Meredith, new members of the faculty, were elected to honorary membership in 1924.

The Society has served efficiently the purposes which its charter members conceived for it when they founded it. It has exerted a quiet, steady influence for good; for it has proved a source of inspiration to the brother Masons of the College, and has nurtured among them the great principles of Masonry, the principles of friendship, morality, and brotherly love.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

More representative of the Student Body than any other college organization is the Student Council. Into its care is given the control of student affairs throughout the year. The reins of student government are handled quietly and with little public display by the Council yet its decision in matters within its supervision are final and far reaching in their results.

The council this year has perfected its organization so that in the future it may work more efficiently in the management of student activities.

According to tradition the President of the Council must be a senior and is elected by the student body at the close of each year to serve the following term. At the beginning of each year the various classes elect two representatives to serve on the Council.

SUMMERS COUNTY CLUB

The Summers County Club enjoys the rare distinction of being the first county club organized on the campus of Marshall College. When school started in the autumn of 1924 a group of young people conceived the novel idea of organizing a county club. At the first meeting Cy W. Mann was elected president, Reba Light, Vice-President, and Margaret Hill, Secretary. Weekly meetings were held throughout the year. Delightful socials and picnics were frequently enjoyed by the club. A bond of social acquaintanceship was built up between the members that is rarely seen in a county group. Not only was there created a collective patriotism for Marshall but a "loyalty to the old home county" as well. In this loyalty some of the members of the club were very outspoken, never failing when opportunity arose to sing praises to "good old Summers County."

The purposes of the club are threefold. First, to provide a certain amount of good fellowship and social life to its members; second, to act as a unit in supporting any measure tending toward a better and a more progressive Marshall College; third, to keep the "home fires burning" and boost for Summers County.

Treasurer - - - - - - Una Schoppert

The Treble Clef Club has been established in Marshall for four years. As an organization it is well known not only on the campus but throughout the city, having given several outstanding productions, and having appeared on various occasions before the city clubs and before different church congregations. The club always takes part in the commencement exercises.

During the first semester of this year the club was under the supervision of Miss Mary L. Walker, of Chicago, during the absence of the regular director. The main accomplishment of the club during that time was a concert given in the Marshall auditorium early in December. Miss Cundiff resumed her direction of the club the second semester. The club has federated with the State Federation of Music Clubs, this automatically making it associated with the National Federation, expecting through this to broaden its field of usefulness.

Programs were presented at a monthly musical evening of the First Presbyterian Church and at the April open meeting of the Woman's Club. One of the most popular things of the season was the annual vaudeville which has become a yearly feature of the commencement activities. The club also participated in the National Music Week.

The Parthenon this year far surpassed any student publication that has ever been put out at Marshall in all its history. It is also generally recognized by leading critics as being the finest college paper in the state.

Contrary to the general run of college publications, The Parthenon this year pursued an independent policy free from any supervision whatsoever on the part of the faculty. None other than staff members read a line of Parthenon material until it appeared in the printed publication.

The paper enjoyed an unsurpassed popularity with the student body this year not only because of its strong independent policy, but because of its intrinsic merit as a school paper.

ATHLETIC COMMITTEE

J. E. R. BARNES

PROFESSOR C. E. HEDRICK  PROFESSOR R. I. ROUDEBUSH

With Athletic Director Barnes (Chairman) and Professors Hedrick and Roudebusch acting as the College Athletic Committee rests all the athletic activities, both intra-mural and inter-collegiate concerning Marshall. To these faithful members, we the student body owe our thanks for the splendid schedules and remarkable success of the various varsity team throughout the year.

Recently the policy for athletics has been invigorated by the determination to raise our standard by scheduling with the larger colleges and universities at every opportunity, instead of withholding our progress in the athletic department by playing only the small colleges of the high school type as it has been in the past.

Since "Marshall Field" has been elevated and graded, we have one of the best athletic fields in the state and each year we anticipate a great increase in both the quality and quantity of men participating in the games on the field, which must automatically bring success and fame to the "Green and White."

The Marshall gymnasium with its modern equipment of every description and its large basketball floor and ample seating space is a great incentive to indoor athletics.

At the present time Marshall produces both male and female athletic teams in all the more popular sports. The list of activities includes football, basketball, track, baseball, and tennis. Besides the regular varsity activities there are a number of intra-mural activities which afford an opportunity for all students to engage.

At the beginning of the football season of 1924, Coach Russell D. Meredith of West Virginia University took charge of athletics at Marshall. Besides a football team with a record of four victories, three defeats, and one scoreless tie, and a basketball team winning thirteen of eighteen contests, he has brought to the supporters of the "Big Green" teams a feeling of security—a knowledge that if the "goods" is there, "Russ" will bring it out.

The 1924 Baseball team ranks as one of the best diamond outfits Marshall has turned out in recent years. The schedule was altogether inadequate for the needs of the team, and so the players hardly received the credit due them. However, they made the most of their opportunities, and closed the season with seven wins of nine starts for an average of .777. The strength of Marshall's team is shown by the fact that only one run was scored against them during the entire three last games. One of the features of the season's play was the triple play which was unreeled in the second Kentucky Wesleyan game, and which was engineered by Furbee, Smoot and Crist. At the close of the season Lyell Douthat of Huntington was elected captain for 1925.

Tennis is a sport whose popularity at Marshall is growing. It has long been a pastime for eds and co-eds, but in the spring of 1923, with the match on May 10, with Salem College, it passed into the realm of inter-collegiate athletics. The Marshall Tennis Team of 1924 played three matches. They easily won the two scheduled with Morris Harvey College, but lost the third one. The ease of losing the third match may be realized when it is learned that the opposing team was that of New River State, whose phenomenal success throughout the state could easily foretell the result of the match with so young a team.

ONE HUNDRED NINETY-SEVEN
Marshall promises to have one of the best track teams in this section of the country, judging from the various and excellent material that prevails in the college. As yet, however, the other sports tend to smother this department of athletics. Hence there must be a severe struggle before track will seriously compete with any of the more popular sports either in financial or public support. The prediction is that Marshall will send some record breakers into the world events in the near future. She already possesses men who are likely to surpass world records at any time, in such outstanding men as "Racing Queen," "Long John" Wolfe, Anderson (who took an airplane in order to win the Marietta meet for Marshall), Campbell, Hamrick, Berry and Shein.

WHEN IT'S LARGE

It's very, very, large.
The smart hat for spring favors extremes.
Either it is very tiny with just a hint of a brim, or it's as large it often follows the style of this illustration.

BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE
Just as the artisan builds on a firm foundation, so must the young man or woman build a successful career on the basis of economical independence.

But, like all the good things of life, economical independence is possible only when one realizes that to succeed one must save.

This Big, Friendly Bank will welcome you and give you every possible help in the building of your career.

- STELLA E. BOOTHE BUSINESS SCHOOL -

The school is now located in its new building and is equipped with every modern convenience necessary for a complete business course.

A knowledge of bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting is an asset to one in any line of business. Why not take advantage of this while you have the opportunity?

There are classes morning, afternoon and evening for those who desire special instruction. We have dormitories for out-of-town pupils, in which one may secure room and board at reasonable rates.

BUILT TO SERVE —

Not a fantasy, not a play for showy pretense, this new store of ours, but an immense and glorious work of fine intelligence. It rises from deep foundation; tier upon tier of stalwart, imperishable steel and concrete, clothed in the refined and enduring garb of modern stone and brick. It is a temple of the god of industry; created that a willingness to serve might find the greatest expression in serving. Here you may come, sure that the same thought that reared a mighty building has entered into every detail of its service and equipment. Here you will find the finest and best of everything straight and clean, founded on concrete principles. We invite the public's support.
