ALMA MATER

All hail, Alma Mater!
Thy cherished name we sing.
All hail, gracious mother!
With love our voices ring.
Through glad days yet fleeting,
Through days that are to be,
We laud thee, O Marshall!
Our hearts sing to thee.

Thy walls rise in beauty
'Mid shade of vine and tree.
They shelter the children
And bind them safe to thee.
Thy spirit, O Marshall!
In every heart beats high.
Live on, Alma Mater!
Thy name ne'er shall die!

JAMES F. HAGEE - - - Editor-in-Chief
RALPH E. GRIMMETT - - - Business Manager
In the building of an institution,
And other grander schemes of civilization,
There does arise in the dim background
A power and a force, to whom we look--
Impelling and humane.
In the later growth of Marshall College,
And in the mind of West Virginian folk,
The executive ability and generous humankindness
Of Governor Howard M. Gore
Bespokes the merit of the man—-and man.
Foreword

There have been two principal changes made in the building of the Mirabilia for 1926: a more compact senior section, and the omission of all personal sentiment, more idealistic than actual. The first is inevitable with the increasing enrollment; the latter is the desire of the editors and the members of the staff. We hope that their inception may meet with approval.

To the Members of the Classes of 1926:

Greetings! Marshall College passes on to you each and individually a part in its traditions of nearly a hundred years. We cheerfully release you from the obligations assumed in your enrollment as students, but we trust you will not release yourselves from the bonds of interest that may hold you to the "old school." May you ever find strength equal to the tasks you assume.

"In the light of the silent stars that shine on the struggling sea,
In the weary cry of the wind and the whisper of flower and tree,
Under the breath of laughter, deep in the tide of tears,
I hear the Loom of the Weaver that weaves the Web of Years."

—Alfred Noyes.
Senior Class History

The graduation of the senior class of nineteen hundred twenty-six marks the passing of an historical epoch in Marshall College annals. It is the last class that has attended Marshall for eight years. Many of the members of the graduating class took their high school work in the old Marshall academy which was abolished four years ago due to the influx of college students demanding collegiate training. To more than any of the other classes that will follow, the present senior class is in point of years attending Marshall College the most Marshall of Marshallites.

One of the members of the class — Gladys Chambers — has the distinction of having attended Marshall from her kindergarten days. This is a distinctive feat no other person will ever have the opportunity to emulate.

The outgoing of the present senior class removes from the campus of the famous old Sixteenth Street institution a number of students who have made their imprint upon the institution by their distinguished records in the classroom, in literary and dramatic circles, and in almost every phase of college life.

The close of commencement activities will also see ushered to the close the scholastic career of Marshall's greatest all-around, all-time athlete — Frank "Red" Crist. For seven seasons in four sports, Crist has borne the colors of the Green and White on home and foreign fields. Nearly always fighting a battle against superior odds, Crist, nevertheless, has seldom failed to distinguish himself not only as an athletic performer of superior merit but a square sportsman who plays the game for the sheer joy he gets out of it. A college never has but one athlete like Crist, and he leaves a record unparalleled in length and attainment.

Earl "Duke" Farrington is another great Marshall man of might whom graduation removes from collegiate athletic circles. Carl Anderson, President of the senior class, is another athlete who goes out with the present graduating class. So is Page Hay.

Although Marshall has been and is yet primarily a professional college for the training of teachers, nevertheless, the present senior class has enrolled in its membership students who will go to other schools to complete their training in law, medicine, and engineering.

In their passing out from under the classic shades of Marshall it can be said as it has been said of their going through Marshall that the senior class has not only held aloft the standards of the college, but they have done more, they have raised them. And if the past is any index of the future it can be well expected that they will go forth to emulate the high ideals that they have had inculcated in them here.

Thus culminates the college career of the members of the Marshall College senior class of nineteen hundred twenty-six.

May they go forth into the world of men and affairs not for power and selfish gain, but with the determination to use their talents in the disinterested service of the needy.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

The sophomore class got off to a rush in September, electing Jack Hall to the presidency on an "Enforce the Freshman Rules" platform. Jack Morgan was elected Vice-President, and Nellie Kelly was Secretary-Treasurer.

The sophomore class has the distinction of being the most successful class in years in its enforcing of freshman rules, and on this it is to be congratulated. Freshmen riots and strikes in opposition to the rules were squelched by the sophomores with promptness and firmness that begets praise. In their actions, the sophomores were backed by the upper-classmen.

Another high spot in sophomore class history for the year was the abduction of the sophomore President by the freshmen at the annual sophomore class dance. Hall was fortunate enough, however, to get a ride back after he had been "ditched" miles from the bright lights.

The sophomores played a conspicuous part in school life, many of them winning honors in literary, musical, and athletic spheres.

All in all, the present sophomore class has played a prominent part in the Marshall College life for the past year, and has played it with honor and distinction to themselves and to the school.

In point of social activities, the freshman formal dance was without parallel. And the thrilling capture of the freshman President by the upper-classmen on the day of the dance, and his mysterious recapture by the loyal freshmen is now a classic episode in Marshall College history.

The days of registration for the 1925-26 term saw the enrollment of the largest freshman class in the history of Marshall College. More than 450 were wearing the green and white symbols of their new dignity. Never had a freshman class entered Marshall with such numbers, such enthusiasm, and such vigor of spirit and action. For the first time, "thuses" and parades were held before important athletic contests; and for the first time in the college history were all athletic encounters and student activities so well supported by freshmen.

In point of social activities, the freshman formal dance was without parallel. And the thrilling capture of the freshman President by the upper-classmen on the day of the dance, and his mysterious recapture by the loyal freshmen is now a classic episode in Marshall College history.

On the Intercollegiate Debating Team, Morgan, Shafer, and Goodwin starred for the freshmen. But freshman interest was not on scholastic honors alone, for among those to win fame for themselves and their Alma Mater on the gridiron, on the basketball court, on the baseball diamond, and on the cinder track were such redoubtable freshman athletes as d'Auito, Walkup, Toler, Blaine, Green, Page, Sheets, Meadows, and Haws.

PRE-LAW DEPARTMENT

The Pre-Law Department was organized in 1924 under the direction of Dr. A. S. White. The department has grown rapidly since its inception and is now one of the largest departments of the college.

The department is not intended to do the work of a law school, and makes no pretense to teach law; but it endeavors to prepare students for entrance and work in the leading law schools of the country. The courses of study are so organized and presented as to give the student a background and a point of view that will enable him to handle more easily and efficiently the work of the law school. To this end, most of the courses given deal with the origin, nature, and source, and purpose of law; an effort is made to acquaint the student with legal phraseology and terminology, and to give him a preliminary introduction to the juristic method of thought and procedure.

The courses are valuable not only to the student looking forward to the study of law, but, from a cultural point of view, they are valuable to all students. Every one lives under the law, and finds most of his behavior and life somewhat molded and conditioned by it. The courses of study that acquaint one with the social aspects of law and give him a broader view of its nature and purpose modify his attitude of thought and his orientation toward life. It is for these reasons that many students who may never study or practice law are getting much valuable training in the Pre-Law Department.

The Pre-Law fraternity, Pi Alpha Beta, is an outgrowth of the Pre-Law Department.
PRE-MEDIC DEPARTMENT

The Pre-Medic Department was organized in September, 1920, under the direction of Professor W. I. Utterback. Only ten pre-medic students were enrolled at the start; now there are fifty-seven — a great gain over last year. Many have graduated from our two-year course and are now doing well in such leading medical colleges as Jefferson, Richmond, Louisville, Cincinnati, and our State University. Some of our graduates have received the coveted M.D. and have started successful practice. Seven of our number have received their A.B. from Marshall and others intend to follow their example. For the last two years certificates of graduation have been granted by the College; this year there are eleven eligible candidates for graduation.

Our motto has been "Preparation for Production" and we have been endeavoring to lay down a firm foundation in the brick and mortar of chemistry, physics, and biology. The facilities which have been placed at our disposal are the best that can be found anywhere for this very valuable preparatory work. In addition to the well equipped laboratories we are glad to have a departmental library in the Director's room where information can be secured on the latest work in medicine, surgery, etc., and where, too, we may learn concerning the requirements of the leading medical colleges and work to that end.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

The Department of Commerce, under the direction of Professor L. A. Wolfard, is rounding out its fifth year of purposeful service. During this time, the course of study has grown from a few classes until now there are many varied subjects in the field of Commerce.

No matter what line of work a student is preparing for, business subjects offer very valuable training. This year there was so much enthusiasm shown that night classes were organized for the business people of Huntington and public school teachers. Such new courses as Salesmanship, Secretarial Training, and Psychology in Business have been introduced with great success.

Secretaries and office workers are efficiently trained. Those who desire to take the four-year course get a wider field of subjects and a thorough scientific preparation in modern business. Then, too, they have the opportunity of training for the standard collegiate degree which enables them to teach in high school commercial department.

This year the Department of Commerce graduates eight A.B. students who are prospective teachers. These alumni, going into the various high schools of the state, will soon be making valuable returns to Marshall.

The growth in enrollment has produced a corresponding growth in the uniformity of the size of classes. Even in the advanced courses there are a large number of students enrolled. It is evident that in a very short time, due to the increase in enrollment and in the work offered, a staff of associate professors will be necessary.

This year, the commercial section of the State Education Association designated Marshall College as the center for the state typewriting contest, and Professor Wolfard as the manager. Thirty-five schools participated. This is only the beginning in this phase, for plans are under way for shorthand and accounting contests.

The Chamber of Commerce of Huntington has asked the Department of Commerce to make an industrial survey of the city. This task is now under way by the class in Business Administration. The data and conclusions will be of great value not only to the city but also will afford great returns in the way of experience to the students.

As we look back and see the rapid advancement made in our Department of Commerce, we see the gradual realization of a great project in the future,— the development of the Department of Commerce into the Marshall College School of Commerce.

SQUARE AND COMPASS

Fifty-two Active Chapters

Marshall Square Established, 1926

Square and Compass aims to arouse an interest in the fraternity of Masonry among all Master Masons on the campus; to provide a college organization where members of the student body and faculty can and will meet upon the level; to create an interest in the history, symbolism, jurisprudence, and philosophy of Freemasonry, and to promote their study by the members of the fraternity; to increase fraternalism upon the campus, not only among our members, but among the other organizations and throughout the whole student body; and to do everything possible for the upbuilding of the craft, offering assistance to the local lodges in any useful service.

Marshall Square of Square and Compass is the successor of the local Masonic Club. Steps were taken during the summer of 1925 toward securing a charter for a Square of Square and Compass on our campus. The charter was granted early in January, and Marshall Square No. 52 was installed with twenty charter members on February 13, 1926.

DEBATE

Increased interest was manifested this year in intercollegiate debating at Marshall. The tryouts for places on the varsity squad were marked by an unusually large number of contestants.

Hal Curtis, Merrill Brammer, and Thomas Donnelly were the trio chosen to make up the affirmative team, with Frank Shafer as their alternate.

Walter Young, Joe Stewart, and Paul Morgan, with Robert Goodwin as alternate, won the berths on the negative squad.

Mary Beckmeyer and Edna Wright were the members of the girls' affirmative team, while Hilda Haskell and Josephine Herold were the negative speakers. Alta Carpenter and Helen Harlow were the alternates for the respective teams.

Four debates were held, all with Concord. Both of the boys' teams won their contests, and the affirmative team of the girls was also successful.

The remainder of the scheduled debates with Morris-Harvey, Davis and Elkins, Marietta, and West Virginia University were canceled at the request of these schools.

The teams were all unusually well balanced. From the standpoint of oratorical ability and debating skill, they compare favorably with any that have represented Marshall in recent years.

Much credit is due to Professor E. Turner Stump for his excellent coaching and drilling of the different teams.
EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The Student Council is more representative of the student body than any other organization in Marshall College. It is a means by which the student can adequately express his opinion in matters of general College interest. It has been demonstrated in the past year that the Student Council has handled the affairs of the students in a fair and just manner and settled them to the satisfaction of everyone concerned.

A new constitution has been drafted by the present Council. It was submitted in May to the student body. This constitution provides for a representation of the students on the various committees which heretofore have been composed of only faculty members; such committees as the Social Activities Committee, Athletic Committee, and the Assembly Committee.

The President of the Council must be a senior, and is elected by the student body at the close of each year to serve the following term. At the beginning of each year the various classes elect two representatives to serve on the Council.

The Girls’ Athletic Association was organized October 19, 1922, with the purpose in view of promoting and stimulating an interest in good, clean athletics among the girls of the College.

At first the Association was a local organization, but is now on the basis of the National Girls’ Athletic Association.

The Association has a point system whereby the girls may win pins, letters, and sweaters. The following girls have received letters: Helen Thompson, Nellie Gray, Laura Williams, Mary Schultz, Inez Hilton, Christine Hoylman, Genevieve Gardner, and Ruth Ice.

Among the various activities in which the members of the Association participate are swimming, hiking, volleyball, tennis, basketball, soccer, and hockey. Hockey was a new addition to the activities of the Association this year. Excellent equipment was secured and class teams were formed. This sport met with the unanimous approval of the girls of the College.

A class in lifesaving has been formed and the lifesaving emblems will be awarded to those who meet the qualifications of the standard test. Marshall has some of the best girl swimmers in the state.

The Association has other abilities besides athletics. It has sponsored exhibitions of dancing, circuses, social dances, and many other entertainments. The members of the Association have also won the prize on stunt night for the best stunt for three successive years.

The Girls’ Athletic Association is the largest organization at Marshall College and has all the possibilities of continuing to hold this enviable record.

Director,

The dramatic club was slow in getting under way this year. However, three one-act plays, "Frosh," "The Stolen Prince," and "The Bishop's Candlesticks," plays of high merit, were produced. The club's annual three-act play, "A Mennonite Maid," did much to secure a finer appreciation of the drama — the aim of the organization.

Harlequin Club is rapidly becoming the most popular organization on the campus; and many things are promised for 1926-27.
SPANISH CLUB

At the beginning of the second semester the Spanish Club, which had been inactive for some time, was re-formed by a group of students interested in the subject. The following officers were elected:

Phyllis Pierce .......................President
Lillian Koplowitz ..............Vice-President
Betty Barth ..............Secretary-Treasurer

The name chosen for the association was "El Club Español Virgenise." The meetings have shown how many students are vitally interested in the Spanish language, and the customs and habits pertaining to the Spanish-speaking peoples of the world. The programmes showed that the club was rich in talent; and in that talent lies a promise for a larger and more alert club in the coming year.

The Marshall College Orchestra is a musical organization of small proportions. It plays only classical music of the popular type, including marches, overtures, serenades, and idyls. The rehearsals are held each Monday and Wednesday, giving adequate time for study of the construction, as well as the execution, of each composition.

The orchestra performs at the weekly assembly, regularly, aside from the engagements at luncheons of the various civic organizations.

As an organization it is well known not only on the campus but throughout the city and state, having given several outstanding productions, and having appeared on various occasions before city clubs and different state organizations.

Programs were presented at the Baptist Temple, the State Educational Association meeting, the convention of Women’s Clubs of the Southern District, and the convention of the State Federation of Music Clubs. One of the most popular programs of the year was the opera “Sylvia,” presented commencement week.

The club is affiliated with the State Federation of Music Clubs, which automatically associates it with the National Federation.

Continuing a policy successfully inaugurated in 1924-25, and with practically the same staff, THE 1925-26 PARTHENON was a potent influence in campus life at Marshall. Every bit as good as THE 1924-25 PARTHENON, which won the state-wide contest for college papers in December, this year's publication enjoyed the good opinion and estimation of the college newspaper circles of the state. Frequent commendations of THE PARTHENON editorial policy appeared in various college publications in West Virginia.

Intrinsic merit in news policy and an independent editorial policy gave THE PARTHENON this year an unprecedented popularity with the student body. It was generally recognized as the one independent organ of student opinion on the campus, a recognition it has held for two years.

The state champion college newspaper in 1924-25 and the predicted state winner for 1925-26 — that is the record of THE PARTHENON.
Parthenon Judged Best Paper In State
The standards of Marshall athletics are in the hands of the Athletic Committee, the court of last resort for matters athletic for the Green and White. Composed of members of the faculty, student representation being yet unknown, the committee has complete charge of Marshall participation in inter-collegiate competition.

Schedules, standards of eligibility, and staging of sectional tournaments are among the activities of the Athletic Committee.

A determined attempt to place Marshall College athletics on a higher basis has been evident this year. Better schedules, the joining the West Virginia Athletic Association, in an attempt to place state colleges on a cleaner basis in athletic competition, and steps to meet the standards of the North Central Association of Colleges have been the accomplishments of the committee during the 1925-26 season.

BASEBALL

At the start of the 1925 baseball season the prospects appeared very bright for another winning nine. Captain Douthat, Crist, and Davidson were all letter men, and Bragg had played on the 1923 team. Besides these veteran players there were a number of promising youngsters to take the places left vacant by Pitsenberger, Furbee, Smoot, Perdue, and others of the 1924 team. However, eligibility rulings and injuries left several weak points in the lineup before the season opened.

On the whole, the 1925 team did not compare in strength with most of the diamond outfits that Marshall has turned out. Most of the players were inexperienced youngsters, and they showed an alarming tendency to blow up at critical moments. At times the Big Green team would settle down and play the brand of baseball they were capable of playing, and on these occasions they showed amazing strength by sweeping everything before them.

The season opened with a rush, and Captain Douthat on the mound for Marshall in the opening game with Morris Harvey simply toyed with the Villagers. This was followed by a still more brilliant exhibition against the strong Wesleyan nine. Nichols pitched a splendid game against the Bobcats, and he was given excellent support by his teammates. Then came a four to three victory over Rio Grande, after which the Big Green slumped badly, losing four games in a row. Marshall came back strong in the third game against Morris Harvey, and Douthat again pitched the Methodists dizzy for a 5 to 1 win.

At the close of the season, Lyell Douthat was re-elected captain for 1926.
TENNIS

It was only a few years ago that tennis was not considered seriously as a college sport, but it has steadily increased in popularity during the last year. While there is not the same glamour or excitement that is found in many other sports, tennis will always have its circle of devoted followers.

The 1925 team compared well in strength with the teams of other years. Captain Young, Farrington, and Queen were all veterans, and Jack Morgan proved to be an extremely valuable addition from the freshmen ranks. In addition to these first four players, Harmon, Archer, Crist, and Wookey all took part in one or more matches with other colleges.

Morris Harvey again proved to be very easy picking, the Preachers dropping the first match 6 to 0, and the second 4 to 1. The feature of the season's play was the double meet staged on May 14. While the first four players were holding the powerful New River State team to a 3 to 3 score, Harmon, Archer, Crist, and Wookey were drubbing the Morris Harvey team at Barboursville by a 4 to 1 count. The difference between the results of the first New River State match and the second contest with that school was largely due to the peculiar playing court found at the Montgomery school.

TRACK

Track was restored as a varsity sport at Marshall only a few years ago after a long period of decline. After rather a slow start the cinder sport has apparently won its way back into popular favor, and at the present time it seems to be well established. It is generally conceded that the 1925 team ranks as one of the strongest, if not the strongest, in the history of the sport at Marshall.

In the triangular meet held at Bluefield on April 25 the Big Green was forced to take second place. However, there is little doubt but what Marshall would have taken the meet had not the managers of the affair refused to run off the high and low hurdles as well as the relay, events in which the Green and White were especially strong. Marietta and Muskingum were victims by rather large scores.

Marshall presented a well balanced team with such consistent scorers as Captain Queen, Carl Burns, Yost, Wookey, Crist, and others. Queen and Burns were the leading point getters, although Yost was almost certain of a place in the 440.

ROASTED IN HUNTINGTON
"A KISS IN THE DARK"

The train had just come out from a long tunnel. The shiek, who had seized the opportunity to steal a kiss from his inamorata, leaned over to her triumphantly.

"Now what have you to say to that?" he asked.

"I'll say," was her indignant reply, "that I do not approve of your underground methods."

CAFETERIA REMEMBRANCES

A lock of hair will often bring
Sweet memories like a flash,
But it brings more than memories
If you find it in the hash.

A part of the service the public expects from the intelligent merchant is information regarding their needs, whether it be comforts, necessities, or luxuries.

THE WRONG Me
Unfortunate Autoist: "Are you a mechanic?"
Mac: "No, sir, I'm a McCormic."

Nursing bottle directions—After the baby has finished drinking, unscrew it, scald with hot water, and place on a shelf to dry.

"I heard your son was an undertaker. I thought you said he was a doctor."
"Not at all. I just said he followed the medical profession."

One Hundred Eighty-four
THE INNER MAN

When Dr. White returned from a Y. M. banquet, where someone had pinned a menu card on the back of his coat, he was asked by his wife what it meant.

"Ah," said he, as he removed the card, "only a table of contents, my dear."

Mabel had her hair cut,
Bob got sore;
Now Mable doesn't like
Her Bob any more.

WHAT AN INFLUENCE

Co-ed: "Do you really love me?"
Pre-Med: "Yes. The mere sight of you sets up violent cardiac disturbances, superinduces dryness of the palate, epiglottes, and larynx, and brings on symptoms of vertigo."

"I call my dad a fisherman because when he takes me to the woodshed it's a whaling expedition."

I felt the beating of her heart,
So close was hers to mine;
We could not wrench ourselves apart,
Her presence was like wine;
But still, the girl I couldn't win,
So near, and yet so far—
For that's the way with strangers
In a crowded trolley car.

"When I was in the Insane Asylum I slept in the cellar and all the women were wild over me."

Familiarity breeds attempt.

Husband: “Can you tell me of my wife's whereabouts?”
Butler: “Perhaps you'll find them in the laundry.”

One Hundred Ninety-one
I hit her on the cranium,
Yes, I biffed her on the head,
For she was the old alarm clock,
And I was still in bed.

Waiter: “Anything else, sir?”
Groom: “Yes, a honeymoon salad.”
Waiter: “And what may that be, sir?”
Groom: “Lettuce alone.”

It isn’t so much that she wouldn’t but she hates for you to think she would.
